The South's Standard Newspaper

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

The Sunday Constitution Leads in Home Delivered, City and Trading Territory Circulation!

A. P. Service United Press N. A. N. A.

VOL. LXVII., No. 264. ONLY MORNING NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN ATLANTA ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1935. Entered at Atlanta Postoffice As Second-Class Mail Matter. Single Copies: Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c. Daily and Sunday: Weekly 20c; Monthly 90c.

VENIZELOS JOINS SPREADING REVOLT IN GREECE AS LOYAL AIR FORCE ATTACKS MUTINOUS NAVY

British Pound Plunges Sharply to Two-Year Low

DELIBERATE WAR ON DOLLAR, FRANC FOR TRADE FEARED

Wall Street and Bourse Apprehensively Study Whether Decline Is Directed Attack or Merely an Exchange Flurry.

GOLD, SILVER RISE ON LONDON MARKET

Reports From London, However, Indicate That Huge Equalization Fund Has Been Called Into Use.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—The world's chief monetary measuring sticks were jumbled like jack straws today as the British pound fell to a record low in Paris and to the lowest in more than two years in New York.

World financial and trade centers anxiously sought to learn whether it was merely a flurry in the foreign exchange markets, or whether England had started a deliberate program of depreciation in search of a new advantage in world trade.

Reassuring word came from London late in the day, in the form of reports from London's Wall Street that the British equalization fund had at last stepped into the foreign exchange market to halt the plunge of the British currency.

The huge British fund, created to guide the course of the pound after it was catapulted from the gold standard three and a half years ago, shrouds its operations in greatest secrecy but best informed financial circles usually have a fair idea what it is doing. And the reports from the city tended to set at rest fears in leading money centers that a "war" of depreciation between the pound and the dollar might be engendered.

The decline of the English money unit was accompanied by a sharp rise in the price of the two chief monetary metals—gold and silver—in the London market. The British capital is the chief free market for gold, and the yellow metal there touched an unprecedented price of 146 shillings, 10 1-2 pence, equivalent to $35.37 an ounce. This reflected chiefly the decline in the value of the English currency in terms of gold.

But silver, affected by other factors as well, advanced in leading markets around the world, rising a full cent in New York to 57 7-8 cents an ounce, the highest in seven years.

France Worried.

The pound declined four cents in New York to $4.77 1-2, making a decline of some 10 cents in little more than a week, and more than 16 cents since the first of the year. It has recently been holding around 4.86 5-8, its old parity with the dollar before either was devalued, leading to hopes that the two currencies might be definitely stabilized at that level.

The decline in the British money has been of most concern to France and

Continued in Page 11, Column 3.

Dump Truck Lifts Home Six Inches From Base

ELDON, Mo., March 2.—(AP)—Imagine Mrs. Charles Caldwell's surprise when her home started to tip over and dishes crashed to the floor.

It wasn't an earthquake.

Her husband had started the engine of his dump truck in the basement garage, not realizing the hoisting apparatus was in gear. The house was lifted six inches off its foundation.

U. S. PUBLIC DEBT HITS RECORD HIGH OF 28 1-2 BILLION

Treasury Faces Dual Problem of Mounting Deficit and Sinking Pound; Silent on Latter

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—A dual problem confronted the treasury tonight—a mounting federal debt on the one hand a sinking British pound on the other.

Officials would say little about the latter, but the month-end statement of the department spoke volubly about the former.

It said that the government had taken in only 50 cents for every dollar expended during the first eight months of the present fiscal year. During this time a deficit of $2,249,923,235 has been established, increasing the gross public debt to an all-time high of $28,525,994,303.

This is equivalent to a personal debt burden of $226.39 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Although they were silent, department heads were closely watching the British currency situation. The English pound dipped to a new low in the foreign exchange market. There were many reports and rumors.

Officials who refused to be quoted declared, however, that the weakness which has caused the pound to sell off sharply in the New York market was not a part of any movement looking to the ultimate stabilization of international currencies.

Observers said, however, that the fall of the pound might eventually lead to a situation similar to that which caused the United States to go off gold.

Treasury officials received without comment reports that the British stabilization fund was being used to bolster the pound. Whether the United States intended to try to adjust the relationship of the currencies with its own $2,000,000,000 fund was not revealed. Secretary Morgenthau said recently, however, that the fund was used when uncertainty over the gold decision had caused the value of the dollar to rise. He said it would be used whenever necessary.

Baby Bond Sales Pass $5,000,000 First Day

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Reports to the treasury today indicated that more than $5,000,000 in purchase value of the new "baby" bonds were sold yesterday on the first day they were offered to the public.

Forty leading cities reported a total of $1,500,000 had been disposed of. Treasury officials explained these cities were responsible for about 40 per cent of all postal activities in the country. The $25 and $1,000 denominations proved the most popular in the first returns.

COUNCIL SANCTION OF MOSQUE DEAL SEEN BY LEADERS

White Predicts Body Monday Will Instruct Savage To Work Out Legal Details of Transaction.

Approval of the proposal to purchase the Shrine mosque-Fox theater properties for use as a municipal auditorium was predicted Saturday by Councilman John A. White, chairman of council's public buildings committee.

Negotiations for acquisition of the properties, which cost $2,880,000, for a total $725,000 and on a self-liquidating plan, will be the major matter before council at its meeting Monday afternoon.

White forecast a "comfortable majority of both the council and the aldermanic board," asserting a "majority of both bodies realize that Atlanta was never offered any proposition which can compare to this."

Other Matters Slated.

Among other important matters which council will consider will be the following:

1. Proposal of Councilman White to reduce the Atlanta water rates 20 per cent beginning July 1.

2. A proposed charter amendment providing for a sewer service charge of 25 per cent to be added to the bills of all Atlanta water users. Under the plan all water rates will be hiked 25 per cent to make sewer improvements. The program is a compromise and is offered in lieu of a proposal to establish a metropolitan sewer district.

3. Action on a unanimous adverse report of the charter revision committee on a request that the Georgia legislature permit Atlantans to vote on establishment of a city manager form of government for this city.

Resolution To Be Offered.

A resolution bearing the unanimous approval of the public buildings committee and favored by the finance committee to instruct City Attorney Jack C. Savage to confer with attorneys representing principals in the trade to work out a legal means of

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

BANDITS GET $300 IN ROBBERY SERIES

Man Shot in Hand, Woman Knocked Down in Attempted Holdup.

Hold-up men preyed on Atlantans Saturday night in a deluge of small robberies during which one man was shot, and a woman knocked down. Bandits netted more than $300 in the wave of hold-ups which followed the war the "yegg squad" has waged against safecrackers and burglars here for a week.

A negro bandit entered the Kepp and Rife cat and dog hospital at 420 Edgewood avenue early Saturday night and holding a pistol on Dr. J. W. Thome, resident veterinarian, and E. J. Pass, attendant, robbed the former of $10.05.

Two white men entered the grocery store at 1180 Fair street, S. E., at 10 o'clock Saturday night, one of them herding the manager, H. L. Sparks, his wife; J. S. Dawkin, a customer, and Hugh Chester, a clerk, into the back of the store where he robbed Dawkin of $22 while his companion was rifling the cash register and safe of more than $200, according to police reports.

Man Shot and Robbed.

John Reeves, 53, a medicine salesman, of 63 Cain street, N. E., was shot through the right hand on the Morehouse College campus Saturday night by one of three negro bandits who ordered him to hold up his hands. They robbed him of $12. He was treated at Grady hospital and dismissed.

R. E. Rider, of 926 Hampton street, and J. W. Busby, of 103 Williams street, Griffin, reported to Hapeville police that two men in a new sedan forced their car to the side of the Macon highway near the railroad overpass, on the outskirts of Hapeville. One of the men, armed with a pistol, relieved Rider of $62 and then robbed Busby of $6 and his watch.

Dr. J. Fowler, operator of a drug store at Clarkston, reported to DeKalb police that two men who attempted to hold him up Saturday night as he started to walk to his home from the drug store, fled when he pulled a pistol out of his pocket and began firing at them.

Wall Robbery Foiled.

A man who gave his name as W. A. Morgan, 32, of a Briarcliff road address, was being held by police Saturday night on suspicion of attempted robbery following what Mrs. Ora Wall, manager of the Wall Dry Cleaning Company, described to police as an attempt to rob the plant of the company at 1060 St. Charles avenue, northeast.

The man, Mrs. Wall told police,

Continued in Page 11, Column 5.

11-Year-Old To Succeed Prajadhipok as Ruler

Nephew of King Prajadhipok of Siam, 11 years old, who may succeed his uncle to the throne of Siam, is Prince Ananda, son of the king's late brother, Prince Mahidol, now in Lausanne, Switzerland.

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press.)

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, March 2.—Prince Ananda, schoolboy heir presumptive to the Siamese throne, is going to classes here unaware that he may be the king of ten million subjects before his next birthday.

Nobody has told him his uncle, Prajadhipok, has decided to abdicate and hand the crown to the little prince unless he has his own way with the government at home.

A slender, sloe-eyed, sober-faced youngster of 11, who wears knickers and pullover sweater as casually as any American boy, Ananda has barely started his western education which his family considers essential for any modern-day prince of the east. He has been at an exclusive school in Lausanne for two years.

The boy's mother's solicitude for his health is responsible for his Swiss schooling. While he is described as robust enough for his age, the mother thought the Alpine air was better than that of other European spots for the young oriental.

Incognito since their arrival, the prince and his mother, who is the widow of the late Prince Mahidol, King Prajadhipok's brother, have not been available to would-be interviewers.

His teachers say the lad is "bright, clever and industrious."

If King Prajadhipok finally abdicates, young Ananda is expected to stay in school until he completes his education, like little King Peter II of Yugoslavia. A regency thus would rule Siam until Ananda's majority, when he probably would have an elaborate coronation.

KING IS DETERMINED TO QUIT THRONE

CRANLEIGH, Surrey, Eng., March 2.—(AP)—Siam's enigmatic little king, unruffled at the realization that his golden throne fast is slipping from under him, enjoyed his customary stroll over the broad acres of his estate today.

Queen Rambai Barni strolled with him, likewise apparently unworried at

Continued in Page 10, Column 1.

TAXES AND REPEAL CENTER INTEREST IN LEGISLATURE

Presiding Officers of Both Houses Pledge To Clear Calendars by End of Session.

Tax reform and prohibition repeal continue to hold the center of interest in legislative affairs as the general assembly prepares to begin the eighth week of its current 10-week session with Senate President Charles D. Redwine and Speaker of the House E. D. Rivers promising action before the session ends March 23 on all the hundreds of bill dumped into the hoppers of both houses.

Interest in major matters before the assembly has shifted from the house to the senate, although the lower branch has not yet completed action on the general tax act which eventually may carry a sales tax proposal sponsored by Speaker Rivers to provide revenue which he hopes will be eliminated through adoption of his constitutional amendment exempting homesteads from an ad valorem taxation.

The prohibition issue is nearing a showdown. The house has passed a bill submitting repeal to the people and also has approved a beer legalization bill. Both of these matters are with the senate temperance committee which will have a public hearing on them Wednesday afternoon.

Calendars in Good Shape.

Speaker Rivers announced Saturday he plans to ask the house to hold morning, afternoon and night meetings for the balance of the session and President Redwine announced the senate has only one bill which has not been acted upon and added he expected the upper branch of the assembly to likewise act one way or another on every bill and resolution before it.

"We have everything important out of the way except the general tax act and I expect when the gavel sounds at midnight on March 23 this house will have acted on every matter presented to it," Speaker Rivers said. "We do not want any member to go home and tell his people he put in such and such a bill and could not get it acted upon."

Senator Redwine was likewise confident the senate would dispose of by

Continued in Page 4, Column 7.

Con Conrad Changes Name to Con Conrad

HOLLYWOOD, March 2.—(AP)—After using the name of Con Conrad for 25 years, Con Conrad, the song writer, decided to change his name legally to Con Conrad.

His real name was Conrad K. Dober, but he adopted the other as a professional name.

Conrad was co-writer of the song, "The Continental," winner of an award voted this week by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

LOW RELIEF FUND IS USED AS LEVER ON REBEL SOLONS

Victory Not in Sight But White House Hopes Strategem Will Defeat McCarran Clause.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—The row over the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill tonight had settled into a state of siege with administration forces still endeavoring without apparent success to make supporters of the McCarran amendment surrender.

Despite predictions from both sides today that the White House would win in the end, the deadlock will not be broken until next week—if then.

Negotiations were off for the week-end apparently with Senator Wagner, the chief conciliator, confined to his hotel with a severe cold.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the democratic leader, somberly told reporters "there are no developments" and said he did not expect any until next week.

Senator Byrnes, who is regarded by some senators as a Roosevelt spokesman, said the administration was determined not to be put in a position of compromising the issue on the McCarran prevailing wage amendment. It plans to outlast the McCarran group, which has held numerous conferences in an effort to effect a settlement satisfactory to the White House adherents.

White House Adamant.

Both Byrnes and Robinson, who denied that the administration has proposed a compromise, said any conciliatory proposal would have to come from the McCarran group. Overtures made by Senator McCarran, democrat, Nevada, thus far have been rejected by the administration.

Democratic leaders were certain to have additional grief over the measure. Even if they win the wage fight, they said today another contest would be waged on the amendment proposed by Senator Adams to reduce the total in the bill to $1,880,000,000. This would scrap the work relief program, and continue the present "dole" system. In addition, Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, is proposing that the cost of the $4,000,000,000 program be paid in greenbacks.

Funds Vanishing.

With available direct relief funds fast vanishing, the federal emergency relief administration allotted $56,576,574 for relief during the first half of March to the various states.

The scarcity of available relief funds and money for the continuation of the civilian conservation corps is a lever in the pressure the administration is applying to the 21 democrats who voted for the McCarran wage amendment.

In particular, these centered upon: Wagner, of New York; Black, of Alabama; Lonergan and Maloney, both of Connecticut; Reynolds, of North Carolina; O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, and Truman, of Missouri.

Over in the house, a group of republicans discussed with Representative Snell, of New York, their leader, the possibility of getting action on his resolution to appropriate $880,000,000 for direct relief.

After the conference, Snell asked, "You don't think we republicans have a chance of getting it up, do you?" He said Speaker Byrns would not permit the republican proposal to be acted upon.

HOLMES FIGHTING BRAVELY FOR LIFE

Physician Says Former High Court Jurist "Holding His Own."

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(UP) Fighting tenaciously for the life he has loved so well, Oliver Wendell Holmes lay seriously ill of pneumonia tonight.

From his great colleague, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, down to Margaret Cottingham, his elderly housekeeper, his host of friends and admirers watched the brave fight of the 93-year-old man and marveled at his courage.

An almost imperceptible weakening in Holmes' condition was noted, although his physicians still said he was holding his own against the terrific odds which pneumonia lays on a man of his age.

But Holmes once said that if God told him he had only five minutes to live he would say:

"I'm sorry you can't make it 10 minutes."

Holmes' Attitude.

And it was that attitude, attendants indicated, with which Holmes was meeting the crucial illness. Every effort was being made to conserve his strength. Nurses said Holmes cooperated willingly in his treatment, though on occasions making a humorous sally in his familiar and salty style.

Oxygen was administered at frequent intervals to aid Holmes in the effort of breathing under the bronchial congestion. Four new tanks of oxygen were delivered today and at least three already had been used. It was understood about one tank was used each 12 hours.

Hughes visited the little red brick house at 1720 I street, which has been almost a shrine to those who placed Holmes first among the nation's liberal thinkers.

Shaken by Emotion.

He emerged, visibly shaken by emotion, to comment on Holmes' amazing viality.

Margaret Cottingham, the housekeeper who found the house on I street for Holmes when he came to Washington to assume his supreme court post, more than 30 years ago, wept openly after a short visit.

"I'm sure he is going to pull through," she said. "He is such a marvelous man.

But physicians were gravely concerned over the outcome.

The windows of the old-fashioned second-floor room where Holmes lies ill remained open during the day, admitting the warm March air and sunshine. Traffic rumbled outside but the noise did not disturb the justice.

FORMER PREMIER TOSSES IN HIS LOT WITH REVOLUTION

Entire Country Placed Under Martial Law as Premier Warns Malcontents Planes Will Resume Bombardment

FIVE SHIPS FLEE TOWARD CRETE

But Bombs Rake Their Decks; No Report of Casualties Given; Throne Pretender Involved.

ATHENS, March 2.—(AP)—Former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos, "grand old man" of Greek politics, threw his strength behind a swiftly executed revolt tonight as darkness brought a halt to a running battle between five rebel warships and the loyal air force.

Venizelos, who has been living in retirement in his native Crete since his unsuccessful attempt to defeat Premier P. Tsaldaris at the polls, declared himself in support of the rebels in a violent anti-government speech at Crete.

The five bomb-scarred warships were steaming down the Aegean tonight toward that island, presumably to pick up Venizelos.

More Bombs Today.

A government demand for surrender climaxed the day of fighting by sea and air. Tsaldaris warned that unless the rebels capitulated they would be subjected to an intense bombardment tomorrow.

Three bombing planes were prepared for a takeoff at dawn armed with 1,000-pound bombs. Fortresses at Crete were ordered to open fire on the warships if they showed up there.

Three changes in the cabinet were announced following the resignation of the minister of the navy. Government troops were poured into Athens and Greece was under martial law.

The possibility of revolt in Crete, despite the apparent failure of the uprising last night in the Athens area, caused alarm in government quarters.

A request for time to consider an offer of mediation was the last word from the rebel warships. There was no estimate of the dead and wounded.

The commander of airplanes which attacked the fleet at sea issued a report claiming two direct hits were made on the warship Averoff and that a destroyer apparently was disabled and was being towed by the Averoff.

(Dispatches from Spain indicated Prince Eugene Lascaris, pretender to the Greek throne, had known a revolt was brewing and had been in touch with rebel elements since yesterday.)

Views Demanded.

Reports from Crete said the governor of the island had demanded that Venizelos, who has been living in retirement there, declare his attitude toward the revolution.

Premier P. Tsaldaris telegraphed a direct appeal to Venizelos to keep clear of the revolutionaries.

The rebel fleet, which fled from the Athens harbor after government forces had recaptured Salamis arsenal, was reported this evening off the island of Melos, some 700 to 100 miles east of the extreme southernmost point of Greece.

In this vicinity government planes

Continued in Page 10, Column 8.

City Owes $475,664, Overdue, for Supplies

B. Graham West, city comptroller, Saturday announced payment of $141,671.48 to merchants for supplies sold to the city for April, May and June, 1934, and asserted the city still owes $475,664.74 for similar supplies purchased in subsequent months.

Interest amounting to $4,965 was paid on the amount, retired Saturday because of the issuance of merchants' scrip which bears interest.

VIOLATION ON DAM CHARGED BY ICKES

Boulder Dam Constructors' Records Seized for Investigation.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(UP) PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes tonight said "evidence of violation of law by the Six Companies, Inc., constructors of Boulder dam, has reached such proportions" that he has ordered his chief departmental investigator to take personal charge of the case.

The chief investigator, Louis Glavis, will leave next week for the site of the $47,025,000 power and irrigation project on the Colorado river.

Thousands of Violations.

Ickes asserted that "according to special agents who have examined pay rolls of the Six Companies, Inc., they show many thousands of violations of the law which prohibits contractors from permitting anyone to work more

Continued in Page 4, Column 1.

GOVERNOR FAVORS BEER REFERENDUM

Talmadge Says Brew Is in "Same Category as Hard Liquor."

Governor Talmadge Saturday called for a referendum on the beer legalization bill as that measure and the proposal to submit state prohibition repeal to the people neared a showdown in the senate temperance committee, with a vote by the committee in prospect after its public hearing on the two measures at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

In a statement to newspapermen the governor said he believed beer should be voted on and revealed it was at his suggestion Representative Roy V. Harris, of Richmond county, the house floor leader, sought in vain to attach the referendum to the bill before it passed the house last Tuesday.

The public hearing on the beer and

Continued in Page 4, Column 6.

2,314 Gallons of Week-End Liquor For Atlanta Seized in So. Georgia

Atlanta's week-end corn liquor supply—nearly 2,500 gallons of it—failed to reach its destination as a result of a series of raids staged in the Big Bend district of south Georgia by a group of alcohol tax unit operatives led by W. K. Johnson, inspector in charge.

The raiding squads visited four homes, arrested 14 men on charges of possessing whisky on which the federal tax had not been paid and dumped 2,314 gallons of corn liquor. Those seized in the raids, all residing near St. George, Ga., were:

Thomas Crawford, T. E. Sikes, Harold Legg, Willie and Jesse Rowe, Emery Howard, Jeffrey Batton, Lee and Charles Raulerson, Harold Crawford and Harold Thomas, all white, and Robert Roberts and Sewanee Harris, negroes.

At the Sikes home the investigators found 702 gallons of whisky and took Sikes and Legg into custody. Thomas Crawford's home yielded 200 gallons and he and Harris were arrested. Hidden in the Rowe home were 385 gallons, which resulted in the arrest of the Rowes, Howard and Batton. A search of the barn at the Raulerson home netted 575 gallons and the Raulersons, Harold Crawford and Lambert were apprehended. Those arrested are being held in bonds ranging from $1,000 down to $500.

The confiscated liquor was destined for consumption in Atlanta, Investigator Johnson said, being brought here by truck. As a result of the raids alcohol tax unit officials predicted a temporary rise in the cost of corn whisky to the consumer.

DOCKSTADER OPTICAL CO.

Good-looking glasses perfectly fitted.

Ask your doctor. 16 Peachtree St. (Adv.)

The News at a Glance

Clip this each day and make your scrapbook a thumbnail history. March 3, 1935.

LOCAL:

Council approval at Monday's session of negotiations leading up to city's purchase of Shrine mosque property predicted by Councilman White. Page 1-A.

Governor Talmadge calls for referendum on beer legalization bill, as that measure and prohibition repeal neared showdown in senate temperance committee; governor puts brew in same category as hard liquor. Page 1-A.

Crushed bodies of Harry Russell, 30, and Elmer Little, 26, both of Chattahoochee, found beneath wreckage of automobile in creek near Bolton road. Page 4-A.

Tax reform and prohibition repeal continue to hold spotlight as general assembly prepares to begin eighth week of 10-week session; leaders of both houses promise action on all bills presented before session ends March 23. Page 1-A.

Nearly 2,500 gallons of corn liquor, slated for the week-end market in Atlanta, seized by United States agents in south Georgia; 14 men arrested. Page 1-A.

Adelaide Howell, Atlanta girl, sings with Paul Whiteman's orchestra here, scores hit with big audiences. Page 2-A

Mayor Key sets 1 a. m. on April 28 as time and date for setting up of Atlanta clocks under new daylight saving time. Page 5-A.

City detectives continue investigation of more than 30 safeblowings and burglaries; to seek indictment against seven men arrested at Friday's session of Fulton grand jury. Page 5-A.

Agnes Scott College will have handsome new library and science hall, if campaign for $233,000, which will be augmented by $217,000 from general education board, is successful. Page 7-A.

STATE: (Georgia news in Page 6-A.)

MACON—Georgia Education Association will hold annual session here in April.

LAGRANGE—Showdown in textile strike here will come Monday, labor leader says.

HAWKINSVILLE—Two men, citizens of Ohio, killed here when their auto struck river bridge.

AUGUSTA—Plans are being made here for observance of 200th anniversary of founding of city.

ROME—Rites for Dr. Stockton Axson, brother-in-law of President Wilson, held here.

DOMESTIC:

NEW YORK.—Break in British pound jumbles the world's chief monetary indicators; London acts to halt plunge. Page 1-A.

WASHINGTON. — Government spent twice as much as it received during first eight months of fiscal year. Page 1-A.

WASHINGTON. — Deadlock over $4,880,000,000 work relief bill remains unbroken. Page 1-A.

PINEHURST, N. C. — Accident theory discarded in death of Statler heiress; now believed "murder or suicide." Page 5-A.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary Ickes orders ace investigator to examine alleged working hour violations at Boulder Dam. Page 1-A.

FOREIGN:

ATHENS.—Five rebel warships engage loyal air force in running battle; former Premier Venizelos joins revolt. Page 1-A.

BUENOS AIRES.—President of Chile suggests South American nations intervene to halt Chaco war. Page 10-A.

HAVANA. — New alarmist campaign begins amid roar of bombs; President Mendieta resists demands for resignation. Page 10-A.

The Weather

ATLANTA	GEORGIA
Fair Warmer	Fair Warmer

WASHINGTON.—Forecast: Georgia—Fair, slightly warmer Sunday; Monday mostly cloudy.

Highest temperature	62
Lowest temperature	42
Mean temperature	52
Normal temperature	48
Rainfall in past 12 hrs., ins.	.00
Deficiency since 1st mo., ins.	.20
Deficiency since Jan. 1, ins.	4.18
Total rainfall since Jan. 1, ins.	5.76

	7 a.m.	Noon	7 p.m.
Dry temperature	39	59	56
Wet bulb	36	51	50
Relative humidity	76	58	67

ATLANTA—One year ago today, (Sunday, March 4, 1934): High, 63; low, 56; raining.

Weather forecast for all cotton states may be found in market pages.

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER	Temperature 7 p.m.	Temperature High	Rain 12 hrs. Ins.
Atlanta, clear	56	62	.00
Augusta, clear	58	66	.00
Birmingham, clear	57	..	.00
Boston, clear	42	50	T.
Buffalo, cloudy	40	42	.00
Charleston, clear	53	..	.00
Charlotte, clear	54	..	.00
Chattanooga, cloudy	60	..	.00
Chicago, pt. cldy.	48	52	.00
Denver, cloudy	52	56	.00
Galveston, clear	62	68	.00
Havre, clear	40	46	.00
Helena, pt. cloudy	46	50	.00
Jacksonville, clear	60	72	.00
Kansas City, pt. cldy.	60	70	.00
Macon, clear	60	68	.00
Memphis, pt. cldy.	66	70	.00
Miami, cloudy	70	72	.00
Minneapolis, clear	30	38	.00
Mobile, clear	58	64	.00
Montgomery, clear	62	68	.00
New Orleans, clear	60	68	.00
New York, cloudy	52	56	.00
Oklahoma City, cloudy	70	76	.00
Phoenix, cloudy	58	60	.44
Pittsburgh, pt. cloudy	56	58	.00
Raleigh, clear	56	66	.00
San Francisco, clear	58	60	.00
St. Louis, clear	66	70	.00
Savannah, clear	56	68	.00
Tampa, clear	64	74	.00
Thomasville, clear	58	68	.00
Vicksburg, pt. cloudy	66	72	.00
Washington, clear	54	62	.00

Turn to the Want Ads

In the WANT AD PAGES of The Constitution you'll find interesting reading. You'll discover many opportunities to either buy or sell at a profit and your time will be well spent by investigating. Turn to them now.

RUSSELL VOICES JOB BILL DEFENSE

Georgian Tells Nation F. D. R. Protects Pay of Employed.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Senator Russell, democrat, Georgia, said tonight President Roosevelt "has done as much or more for labor than any man who has ever lived on this continent."

This was the Georgian's answer, voiced in a radio address, to his fellow members of the senate whose insistence upon a provision to compel payment of prevailing wages on work projects over the president's objection, stalemated the $4,880,000,000 works bill.

"Not only is this a labor bill," Russell said, "providing funds to be administered by a true friend of labor, but it is a recovery measure, to stimulate re-employment throughout the nation.

"It is being supported in the interest of the unemployed to provide work instead of dole, a sense of security instead of a spirit of despair, of self-respect and good citizenship to replace soul-destroying charity."

Russell described the works bill as "a concentration of all of the great powers of government and the resources of this nation to strike one final mighty blow at unemployment and to wipe out forever the dole system.

"As a matter of common sense," he said, "it appears to me that a man regularly employed at a security wage sufficient to maintain himself and family in a respectable manner, even though he receives less than the prevailing wage, is a far less menace to the jobs and wages of those now at work than the man who has no job at all, but who is living from hand to mouth on grocery orders of a weekly pittance.

"The great menace to the prevailing wage structure in this nation today is not a work relief program which will give regular employment to three and a half million citizens now idle. If the existing wage structure is destroyed and torn down it will be by the three and a half million unemployed who are now on relief, whose circumstances are such that they will accept a job at any wage.

"If they are at work, this danger is removed."

Russell was author of an amendment inserted by a senate committee to direct the president, in event of adverse effect on the prevailing wage of any locality, to raise the work relief pay.

He voted against the McCarran amendment to require the prevailing wage on all work projects.

FORMER ATLANTAN HONORED IN ISSUE OF W. & L. DIRECTORY

In the recent issue of the Washington and Lee University directory, entitled "Washington and Lee Men in Journalism," Clifton H. Tupper, now a prominent citizen of San Antonio, Texas, and a former Atlantan, is given prominent place.

After graduating from Atlanta's Boys' High school, Mr. Tupper entered Washington and Lee University from which he graduated in 1905.

He now conducts the Clifton H. Tupper Advertising Agency, of San Antonio, has written several books and takes an active interest in civic and business matters in San Antonio.

In 1907 he married Margaret Stanley Wright, noted as a painter. They have two children.

Mr. Tupper is a brother of Mrs. C. V. Hohenstein, of Atlanta, and is one of a number of children of the late Rev. T. C. Tupper, well known in Atlanta, having been for years rector of St. Philip's Episcopal church.

Medicine Show Nets $40 for Pickpocket

The ballyhoo of the medicine man held T. N. Carney, of Tate, Ga., enthralled Saturday afternoon as he paused in front of the medicine show on Broad near Marietta street.

So enthralled was Carney that he did not feel his purse containing $40 being extracted from his pocket, he reported to police. He suspects a pickpocket.

FOUR MURDER CASES ON DEKALB CALENDAR

14 Robbery Charges, Three Big Civil Suits Also on Court's Full Docket.

A full calendar, including four murder cases, 14 robbery cases and three civil suits aggregating $215,000, has been prepared for the March term of the DeKalb superior court, which opens Monday in Decatur.

Approximately 35 felony cases will be considered by the grand jury which convenes Monday and which also will consider a charge of involuntary manslaughter against Lee Carter, negro, who allegedly figured in an automobile accident in which David Howard III, another negro, was killed.

Murder charges to be considered include those of Thomas E. Warren, charged with the killing of Hope Ramey, at Montreal; Edwin Wellmaker, negro, charged with killing Jake Carter, another negro; Henry Perry, negro convict, charged with killing Robert Gathier, another negro convict, at the DeKalb convict camp, and Otis Landon, negro, charged with killing Nathan Phillips, negro, at Avondale.

Indictments will be presented against George Gray, George Bronson and Frank Miller, who were captured on Snapfinger creek after a machine gun battle with DeKalb police.

The Georgia Power Company was named in three suits resulting from a street car-automobile accident on the Stone Mountain line in which Mrs. Annette Walker Vose, sister of former Governor Clifford Walker, was killed.

Suit for personal damages for $100,000 was filed by Alice Walker Field through her mother, Mrs. Irene Walker Field, who seeks $100,000 for personal injuries and an additional $15,000 for loss of her daughter's services.

House Will Vote On Tax Publicity

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Although the deadline for filing income tax returns is less than two weeks away, the swelling numbers of letter writers opposing publication of the tell-tale pink slips may still win out in congress.

House leaders speeded action as the letters continued to pour in—every batch advancing one or more new reasons why the pink form, new to this year's batch of papers in John Taxpayer's envelope from the treasury, should not be protected from the public gaze.

Prompted by a subcommittee's approval of legislation to repeal this publicity provision in last year's revenue law, Chairman Doughton, of the ways and means committee, prepared a measure to accomplish this. The full committee, however, will be busy Monday and Tuesday with bonus hearings so the plan is to act on Wednesday, along with a bonus bill, and shoot them along to the rules committee, which is all primed to give them a passport to the floor.

Speaker Byrns said if the income tax bill can be reached this week it probably would be sent to the senate without delay.

N. Y. CRACKS DOWN ON POLICY RACKET

Big Shots in Number Game Flee City as La-Guardia Speeds Drive.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(UP)—New York, shocked out of its usual tolerance by revelations of a ramified policy game with a $100,000,000 annual "take," tonight turned the guns of officialdom on the lucrative but illegal venture and promised that the closely allied bail bond, vice and narcotic rackets would be in the line of fire.

"Big shots" of the policy racket—the bankers and not the collectors or players—warned by Mayor F. H. LaGuardia's orders to investigate possible police connection with the thriving business and fearful that District Attorney William D. Dodge's clean-up campaign would be in full force Monday, were reported fleeing the city.

Coupled with the movement was an announcement from the district attorney's office that the names of the overlords of the city's vice network may be revealed Monday through questioning of two white slavers now in Tombs prison.

To emphasize the drive police late today sped into Harlem and in a series of quick raids arrested ten negro policy collectors and seized their books. It was described as one of the "largest hauls" ever made in the district.

Dodge—his crusade prompted by disclosures at the bail bond inquiry conducted by Commissioner of Accounts Paul Blanchard—proposed a scheme which he prophesied will "keep the big shots scared all the time."

A "department of justice" will be created in his own office to wage the war on crime and vice, he said. Youthful attorneys, seeking a foothold in the legal business, will be invited to serve without pay in the prosecution of racket cases.

"It is possible now to form such a group," he explained, "because many brilliant young attorneys are unable to make headway in their profession because of the depression."

"It's going to go pretty hard against any captain who knowingly lets a policy game run in his precinct," Mayor LaGuardia said. "The fur will fly as fast as we catch them."

Valentine reported back to his superior that he had investigated charges of police connivance preferred by the Rev. George Drew Egbert, crime prevention society head, and had found them groundless. The "big shots" of the racket, he added, were already scurrying out of the city and seeking office space in the "preferred" sections of Jersey City, Hoboken and other near-by communities.

Fifteen prisoners were taken by police last night in a tour of the Harlem policy belt. One of the suspects who police said had 288 policy slips in his possession, was said to be an operative for Arthur (Dutch (Schultz) Flegenheimer, the policy king.

Woman Shot in Chest Reported Near Death

Shot in the right chest Friday afternoon when a rusty .44-caliber pistol her husband was cleaning was accidentally discharged, Mrs. Jennie Parker, of 491 Third street, N. W., was in a precarious condition Saturday night at Grady hospital.

Mrs. Parker told hospital attendants shortly after she had been admitted to the hospital that the gun was fired when her husband attempted to breech the pistol to extract the cartridges. Police reported their investigation indicated that the shooting was accidental.

Adelaide Howell Scores Hit With Whiteman's Orchestra

Miss Adelaide Howell, of Atlanta, who scored a tremendous hit with Paul Whiteman's orchestra Saturday afternoon at the Erlanger theater. Miss Howell appeared again Saturday night at the Whiteman dance at the Shrine Mosque. Staff photo.

By YOLANDE GWIN.

Adelaide Howell's husky tones singing "Sweetie Pie" literally brought down the house Saturday afternoon at the Paul Whiteman's concert at the Erlanger theater before one of the largest audiences ever gathered in the Peachtree house. Singing in the deep "blues" voice which has gained for her outstanding success in New York and on the air waves, the Atlanta belle received the plaudits of success from her own home city, where she was appearing in star role for the first time since her departure for New York for a singing career more than two years ago.

Prior to her appearance in the second half of the program, Miss Howell received Atlanta friends in her dressing room backstage. In the room gathered a score of local admirers who called with a word of welcome and to compliment her on her rapid rise to fame. Flowers of all color and variety banked the room, which formed a picturesque background for the slender Atlanta singer who was becomingly gowned in a handsome imported model of gold lame cloth. A large shoulder bouquet of deep purple orchids were sent her especially for the Saturday performance by Ruth Dodd, of New York and Atlanta, who wired them from Miami, where she is listed among the fashionable Atlanta colony.

Mr. Whiteman was high in his praise of the Atlanta star and predicted a success of the highest order for her. Miss Howell, however, gives credit for her present appearance to a fellow Georgian, Luke Reeves, formerly of Clarkesville, now president of the Reeves Sound Studio on Broadway, who introduced her to the famous "Goldie" of the Whiteman ensemble, who, in turn, arranged for an audition with the famous leader. Miss Howell will continue with the orchestra on the remainder of its southern tour, which includes appearances at the Mardi Gras festivities in New Orleans next week.

Opening with the famous "Rhapsody in Blue," Mr. Whiteman devoted the first part of his program to waltzes and the more sentimental numbers while the latter half, following intermission, was featured by the radio entertainers made famous by Whiteman on his radio programs.

Ramona, listed as "Queen of the Keys," was one of the highlights of the program as was Bob Lawrence, "King of Note," both of whom were encored time after time.

Miss Howell sang a group of songs, gaining additional applause and fame with each husky note. Equally as popular were the other radio stars featuring Jane Vance, princess of song; The King's Men, lords of the chords; Johnny Hauser, jester to his majesty; Roy Bargy, prince of the keys; Jack Teagarden, lord of high C's; Mike Pingatore, knight of banjo; Goldie, king's 14-karat klown; Bud Linn, prince of song.

LONG TO RESUME ATTACK ON FARLEY

24 New Laws Completed as Long's Fourth Special Session Ends.

BATON ROUGE, La., March 2.—(AP)—Senator Huey Long tonight headed for Washington to resume his attack on Postmaster-General Farley as his special legislative session ended with 24 new laws of his dictation completed.

Before leaving he heard the public service commission order a general reduction in telephone rates.

Long burst one bombshell in his otherwise dull legislature halls by announcing that he expected to run for governor as the successor to his political ally, Governor O. K. Allen, who succeeded Long in the office when he went to the United States senate.

The gubernatorial election falls in January, 1936, the year political circles also look for Long to campaign for president on his "share-the-wealth" platform.

The special session—the fourth since August—was concluded in an atmosphere of calm altogether different from the previous hectic meetings which made sweeping changes in the state's administration and set up Long's state "dictatorship."

23 Laws Passed.

The senate met for a little more than three hours this morning to pass 23 measures, adopt several resolutions and confirm three gubernatorial appointments. The house met briefly to concur in senate amendments to the 23 bills and to pass a single senate bill. Both houses then adjourned sine die.

Long came back to Louisiana from Washington a week ago with the announced purpose of directing the public service commission's investigation of telephone rates.

Acting as counsel for the commission, he directed hearings for two days, then set about the business of a special session of the legislature which met Tuesday night.

The telephone rate reductions ordered today represent a total saving of telephone users of approximately $600,000 a year, the commission said.

Throughout the session national guardsmen, with bayonets fixed to their guns, stood guard at the house and senate doors and in the chambers. Last night, for some unexplainable reason, they were additionally provided with riot guns and steel helmets.

Martial law is still in effect in East Baton Rouge parish, although the number of militiamen here has been martially decreased. There are at present not more than 150 guardsmen on duty.

The senate today confirmed three appointments made by Governor Allen.

Senator Hugo Dore was named to a seat on the court of appeal, first circuit, to succeed Julian Mouton, of LaFayette, who resigned because of his advanced age. Dolsy Guillory, of Mamou, was named senator to succeed Dore. The other appointment confirmed was that of Judge J. D. Womack as a member of the Baton Rouge district court to succeed the late George K. Favrot.

Governor Allen this afternoon suspended collection of four cents of the five cents oil refining tax by proclamation in accordance with authority vested in him by concurrent resolution of the special legislative session ended today.

Collection Suspended.

The governor suspended collection of four-fifths of the tax for a period of eight months dating from the date of the tax act's effectiveness. The suspension is until August 9.

The tax, which became effective in January, precipitated a storm of protest in Baton Rouge, where the huge refinery of the Standard Oil Company is located. Citizens made two armed demonstrations and on one occasion were routed by militiamen in a skirmish which left one man unexplainably wounded.

After martial law was declared and more than 600 soldiers brought to Baton Rouge, Long announced a compromise had been reached with the oil company to rebate four cents of the tax on condition the company used more Louisiana-produced oil.

The concurrent resolution adopted at this session authorizes the governor to suspend four cents of the tax, and in addition allows him to suspend the occupational license levy on all manufacturers.

There were several "revenge" and "dictator" measures in the batch of bills rushed through to passage this week, but the session was tame compared with the cycle of meetings which started last August and culminated in the "power-grabbing" legislation of last December.

East Point Revue

Don Johnson, left, and Dolores Cochran, two of the talented children who will take part in the kiddie revue which will be staged at the city auditorium, East Point, at 8 o'clock Friday night under the direction of Mrs. Helen Johnson, and which is sponsored by the Colonial Hills P.-T. A. Among other children who will take part are Annette Adams, Frances Johnson, Bobby Callaway, Warren Crawford, Louise Upchurch, Frances Adams, Frances Wheeler, Mitzi Couch, Cecelia Scoggins, LaRue Paris, Ruth Jansen, Josephine Wynn, Charlotte Bishman, Lee Gilner, Laurie Lassiter, Joanne Carroll, Barbara Nix, the Waikiki players, LaVerne Curtis and Pittman Corry.

RARE COLLECTION OF LITHOGRAPHS ON VIEW TODAY

The Woolford collection of historic lithographs will be shown for the first time as a collection this afternoon at Rhodes Memorial hall, when Miss Ruth Blair, state historian, keeps open house for the general public.

These charming and valuable pictures have been collected during the past year and presented the state's pictorial collection at Rhodes hall by T. Guy Woolford. Included in the collection are two by S. Lipschitz & Son of London and Hamburg, whose firm flourished in the 1830s, one of which represents Charley Wesley preaching to the Indians on St. Simons island and the other John Wesley preaching from his father's tomb in England; one by Currier & Ives picturing the Battle of Jonesboro September 1, 1864; one by Henry C. Eno depicting the heart of Atlanta with the city hall and two churches in the background just prior to the burning by Sherman; three by Kellogg showing various sections of Atlanta in 1864; and 18 by Kurz & Allison representing battle scenes of the 1860s. All except those by Lipschitz are in colors.

Lithography or the art of writing or drawing on stone and the process of printing therefrom antedates photography by nearly half a century. The inventor was Aloys Senefelder, who developed his work in Munich and whose general methods are in use today, though his death occurred in 1834. The best lithographic stone, limestone of porous texture, found in America is that quarried in Brandenburg, Ky.

Exhibition hours this afternoon are 2:30 to 5 o'clock. Officers of James Edward Oglethorpe Chapter, D. A. C., will be joint hostesses with Miss Blair.

JOHN F. O'SULLIVAN DIES AT HOSPITAL 48

John F. O'Sullivan, World War veteran, died Saturday at the United States Base Hospital No. 48, after a short illness.

A native of New Orleans, Mr. O'Sullivan had resided in Atlanta for eight years and was well known in business circles. He was a clothing salesman. The body will be taken by H. M. Patterson & Son to New Orleans for funeral rites and interment. He is survived by his wife; three brothers, I. L. O'Sullivan, who is connected with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company here, and Joseph F. and T. A. O'Sullivan, of New Orleans; and three sisters, Mrs. D. B. Smith, Mrs. Mary Morgan and Mrs. Kenner Baetyer, of New Orleans.

MARCH 'CITY BUILDER' IN MAIL ON MONDAY

March issue of City Builder, official publication of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, will be mailed to its subscribers Monday. The issue is of more than average interest, containing the text of the address of Wiley L. Moore, president of the organization, made at the annual meeting of the chamber.

Mr. Moore is now serving his second consecutive term as president.

The publication also carries the information that 56 new business firms have established headquarters or branch offices in Atlanta during the past month.

There is an attractive page devoted to women city builders, dealing chiefly with garden clubs and their activities, while another page is devoted to the celebration of National Business Women's Week by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Atlanta.

ATHOS MENABONI TO PAINT MURALS FOR SAPELO HOME

Athos Menaboni, well-known artist, has been awarded the contract to paint murals on canvas on the walls of the ballroom, indoor swimming pool and bowling room of the R. J. Reynolds' home on Sapelo Island, the work to start immediately.

Unusual features of the murals will include a real circus tent in striped red and white canvas in the ballroom, with opening on three sides to reveal the Man on the Flying Trapeze, the Fat Lady, the Strong Man, and other circus characters.

All flora and fauna native to the coastal region are to be portrayed in natural settings about the walls of the indoor swimming pool. And the historical old pirate and buccaneer, Blackbeard, will again come to life with his companions on canvas murals in the bowling room.

Mr. Menaboni is a member of the faculty of the Academy of Fine Arts, in the Red Rock building.

INSURANCE COMPANY LOSES "SUICIDE" CASE

An insurance company must definitely prove a claim of suicide by a policyholder in order to avoid payment of double indemnity insurance, the court of appeals ruled Saturday.

The court affirmed a verdict of the Hart superior court in awarding a total of $6,000 to Mrs. Maude Burson, of Hartwell. The insurance company paid Mrs. Burson $3,000, but fought payment of the second $3,000, claiming her husband had killed himself. The superior court held the company did not prove suicide and the high court upheld the verdict.

BISHOP TO PREACH AT ST. LUKE'S TODAY

The Right Rev. H. J. Mikell, bishop of the Atlanta diocese of the Episcopal church, will preach at the morning services of St. Luke's Episcopal church today. A large class will be presented at this time by the Rev. John Moore Walker, rector of the church, for confirmation.

The Young People's Service League of the church meeting at 6:30 o'clock tonight will present Ray W. Frampton's play, "When the Wife's Away." The cast is under the direction of J. A. Carlisle.

TREASURY TO KEEP SILENCE ON BONUS

Department Officials Not To Testify on Issue Unless Asked.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—The treasury today indicated that for the present it would keep out of the congressional fight over the $2,000,000,000 bonus bill.

Although hearings on some 30 bonus bills will start Monday before the house ways and means committee, treasury officials informed democratic leaders they would not testify unless asked to do so.

The reasons, said some democratic leaders, were these:

It is generally understood that the treasury and the president oppose bonus payment in any form. If a treasury witness should appear before the ways and means committee he might be asked point blank which of two major bills he thought "the lesser of two evils"—the Patman bill, under which new currency would be issued, or the American Legion-Vinson bill, which simply authorizes an appropriation without saying how the money should be raised.

A house vote is in sight later next week. There were renewed indications that neither administration nor bonus spokesmen would propose a compromise. The president, it was generally understood, intended to sit tight to see how the house and senate vote.

Speaker Byrns predicted indirectly that the house would vote for bonus payment, for he told newspapermen "We ought to give the bonus bill right-of-way and send it to the senate."

Other leaders agreed.

The ways and means committee's calendar of witnesses for the hearings has not been completed. Chairman Doughton, democrat, North Carolina, said he still intended to make the hearings "very brief."

U. S. Home Loan Bank Pays Large Dividend

Dividends amounting to $242,000 have been earned to date by the Federal Home Loan bank, of Winston-Salem, N. C., serving eight southeastern states, according to Ivan Allen, Atlanta businessman and chairman of the bank's board of directors.

The loan bank, which serves federal savings and loan associations by discounting their mortgages, is sponsored by the government, which shares in its earnings. Of the $242,000 in dividends, the United States treasury received approximately two-thirds.

The fourth district, comprising the southeastern states, ranks second in the amount of dividends earned, Mr. Allen said. The Atlantan serves as "public interest" director of the bank, being appointed in Washington.

City Clerk of Decatur Weds Former Official

Surprising their many friends, Mrs. Mortie Stanley, of 234 Superior street, Decatur, popular city clerk of Decatur, and R. P. Christian, of 704 Sycamore street, Decatur, formerly city auditor of Decatur, were married Saturday.

Following the wedding, the couple left on an automobile tour of Florida and will return to Decatur in about ten days, they told friends.

GEORGIA COMMITTEE TO MEET LONG HERE

A committee from Georgia "share-the-wealth" clubs, sponsored by Senator Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, will confer with Senator Long here today on an expansion program, it was announced Saturday. Senator Long, en route from New Orleans to Washington, will stop 30 minutes at the Terminal station this morning for the conference.

The committee to confer with Long is composed of Representative T. V. Williams, of Coffee county; Pat Avery, of Lawrenceville, messenger of the Georgia house of representatives, and J. E. B. Stewart, Atlanta lawyer.

Zoo Fund Hits 30,691-Dime Mark As Club Women Act To Aid Drive

The campaign to raise 150,000 dimes to build homes at Grant park for all the animals and birds that Asa G. Candler has offered to give the city—his entire Briarcliff zoo collection—has passed the 30,000 mark, Lewis F. Gordon, treasurer, announced that a total of 30,691 dimes had now been deposited with him.

Mrs. Oscar Palmour, president of the Atlanta Federation of Woman's Clubs, announced Friday that a resolution urging all members of all clubs in the federation to contribute to the Zoo Fund, had been adopted by the executive committee of the clubs.

The resolution urgently requests all clubs to contribute as generously as possible to the fund, since this is a worthy project and would prove a real asset to Atlanta. It was drawn up and adopted in executive session of the federation officers recently.

A group of little children in Morningside had a splendid idea to help the fund and in a letter to The Constitution suggest that other children who would like to assist might do something similar.

They persuaded their grandmother to make some popcorn candy balls and then went out and sold them to their neighbors and friends, realizing 45 dimes for the fund.

The children who did this are Barbara Calvert, Elinor Calvert, Carolyn Stephens and Helen Hubbard.

Returns from the campaign conducted by the children in the city schools began to come in Friday and Saturday when the I. N. Ragsdale school children sent in 147.3 dimes and 136 dimes were received from the William F. Slaton school. The George W. Adair school sent 140 dimes and 193 were deposited by the Morningside school.

Twelve new groups were listed in the 100 per cent honor role on Saturday, meaning that every individual in their organization had contributed at least one dime to the Zoo Fund. They are listed in another column.

Contributions to the fund, which must reach the 150,000 mark before Mr. Candler's gift can be accepted and the animals moved to Grant park, should be sent to Lewis F. Gordon, treasurer, at the Citizens & Southern National bank on Marietta street, or to any of the three Atlanta newspapers.

Zoo Fund Honor Roll

New names of business houses, classes, schools and other groups which were added to the 100 per cent givers' list for the Grant Park Zoo Fund on Saturday included:

Georgia Power Company estimating section employes.

Georgia Baptist Orphans' home.

National Life and Accident Insurance Company District No. 1 employes.

Star Provision Company employes.

Southern Belting Company employes.

Standard Oil Company, Atlanta office employes.

North Avenue P.-T. A., Hapeville, Georgia.

Citizens & Southern National Bank building employes.

Stone Baking Company employes.

Regenstein's Peachtree store alteration department employes.

Burroughs Adding Machine Company employes.

Hawthorn Garden Club.

Mrs. Cummings Is Dead, But Jury Doesn't Think So

PITTSBURGH, March 2.—(UP) Everyone believes Mrs. Cummings is dead, except a skeptical jury.

Even the attorneys defending Thomas Cummings, acused of slaying his wife, don't doubt that she is dead and buried. Blood-soaked bed clothing was introduced in evidence and Cummings himself attended the the funeral.

But the three women and nine men on the jury are independent souls. After deliberating more than 22 hours, they filed back into the courtroom.

"We can't reach a verdict," said the foreman, "because some of the jurors don't believe she's dead."

Judge S. A. Carver gasped.

"Well," he said, "nobody doubted it before. An undertaker buried her."

The jury was still deliberating tonight.

YOUR DOCTOR AS A

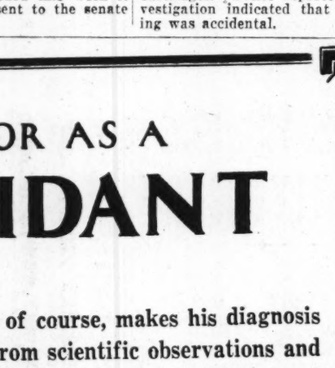

CONFIDANT

THE DOCTOR, of course, makes his diagnosis of your illness from scientific observations and analysis, and his background of experience and study of the human body.

However, a patient can do much for himself and his doctor by being frank and honest in his statements, when the doctor is going into the history of the case. Confidential information is safe with your doctor.

You will also find your doctor very understanding and helpful, if you will be frank about financial matters. The doctor knows you wish to meet your obligations to him, and he should understand just how you are situated financially.

He can often make suggestions and adjustments that will establish and maintain that fine feeling of "family friend" that should exist between you and your doctor.

YOUR DOCTOR WANTS TO KEEP YOU WELL

LANE DRUG STORES

Filling Prescriptions is the Most Important Part of Our Business

Wanted: Executives and Junior Executives!

who want to increase their earning possibilities quickly and surely

LEARN Advertising AT HOME

Advertising knowledge is vitally necessary to business profits, and has become of primary importance because of recent legislation.

Business once demanded legal training; now it insists upon advertising and selling leadership. Prepare yourself by studying advertising and merchandising, under nationally-known experts.

Write today for the free booklet, "Advertising Makes Millionaires." Let the story it tells inspire you and lead you to success.

VINCENT EDWARDS
ADVERTISING COURSE
360 Tremont Street Boston, Mass.

CABLE PIANO COMPANY
84 Broad St., N. W.
Largest Display of Pianos in the South
MASON & HAMLIN
CHICKERING
AMPICO
CONOVER
FISCHER
CABLE
ESTEY
Open Evenings
BY APPOINTMENT
Easy Terms
Brand New BABY GRAND $295

Men's and Ladies' Felt Hats —CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED. 25c
Men's Suits, Cash & Carry.
PRIMROSE
Original Economy Cleaners
JA. 2406

Convention Boards Appointed For Peace Officers' Meeting

J. Gordon Hardy Completes Organization of Committees; Convention Opens Here May 9.

J. Gordon Hardy, Fulton county deputy sheriff, who has been appointed by the association president as general chairman for the Atlanta Convention of the Georgia County and Peace Officers' Association, to be held May 9, 10 and 11, with headquarters at the Ansley hotel, announces that all committees have been completed, with the following additions: Dr. C. R. Adams, chairman county commissioners; Edwin F. Johnson, chairman county police committee; Ed L. Almand, chairman public works, as additional members of the entertainment committee; Al Martin added to the transportation committee. He said he was unable to place all the officers of Fulton and surrounding counties on the committees as he felt that smaller committees would accomplish more and be easier to get together at the call of the convention chairman.

Invitations will be extended to Attorney-General Cummings and J. Edgar Hoover, of the department of justice, in addition to other prominent speakers, to address the convention meeting, Chairman Hardy said. A huge barbecue, dance and entertainment and other features are expected to bring out the largest attendance any annual convention of the association has ever had.

The Georgia County and Peace Officers' Association, organized 16 years ago by James I. Lowry, sheriff of Fulton county, the first president, with the chairman, J. Gordon Hardy, as the first secretary, has made great strides with its legislative program for law enforcement and co-operation among the county and peace officers of the state. The association is the result of the merger in 1929 of the Georgia State Sheriffs' and Peace Officers' Association and the Georgia County Officers' Association, and all sheriffs, police, ordinaries, clerks of court, tax collectors and receivers and state oficers are eligible for membership.

One of the highlights of the annual convention is The Atlanta Constitution award to the peace officer of the state who performs the most meritorious piece of law enforcement work during the year. Clark Howell Sr., editor of The Constitution and chairman of the president's commission on aviation, will make the presentation.

"For the past seven years," Chairman Hardy said Saturday, all association legislative and convention activities have been financed through advertising in the official publication, The Southeastern Peace Officer, published quarterly in Atlanta and mailed to the peace officers in the southeast and to the county officers in Georgia. Some of the highlights of this publication was the recent December issue, carrying the speech of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the department of justice, before the attorney-general's crime conference, December 11, 1934, in Washington, D. C. It is the only publication I know of which carries a complete list of all Georgia sheriffs, chiefs of police, ordinaries, clerks, tax receivers, tax collectors and school superintendents, for the benefit of its members. Free space is given to any law enforcement agency for the advertising of any wanted criminals, and articles of interest to the officers are featured in each issue."

Blast Kills Negro.

MERIDIAN, Miss., March 2.—(AP) The explosion of a boiler at the J. H. Williams hardwood mill at Macon today killed Corn Stowers, the negro fireman, and badly damaged the mill. The watchman's body was torn to bits by the force of the blast.

Mothers! Bring the children to see DAVISON'S MOVIE, "BYE-BYE BUTTONS," Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 11 a. m., 2 p. m. and 4 p. m., in the Infants' Department, Third Floor.

"Self-Help" Clothes

The "self-help" idea in children's clothes is now one of the cardinal principles in child psychology. It develops self-reliance at a tender age and gives children a feeling of freedom from adult supervision.

BUTTONLESS BROTHER AND SISTER OUTFITS. Made of seersucker, broadcloth or pique with zipper fasteners. Dresses, 2 to 6. Suits, 2 to 5. Each ——— 1.98 and 2.98

"Self Help" Pajamas of broadcloth or printed crepe. Sizes 2 to 10. 1.25 to 1.75

"Self Help" Vanta Unions of knit cotton. Sizes 2 to 6 ——— 79c and $1

Every Child Visiting Davison's Infants' Department Will Be Given a Picture Book of Nursery Jingles!

INFANTS' DEPARTMENT, THIRD FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA --affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Davison's presents a second group of authentic

Elderly Silver

Collectors' pieces of Georgian and Victorian sterling and silverplate, dating from 1800 through 1890). On display for a limited time only.

A distinguished group of silver, direct from England. The scores of people who missed Davison's last exhibit and sale will welcome this opportunity to select from these important pieces. Typical pieces are:

Tea and Coffee Services	59.50 to $135
Tea Kettles	39.50 to 69.50
Candlesticks and Candelabra	14.95 to 89.50
Sterling Punch Ladle	14.95
Pepper Mill	6.95
Small Serving Pieces	1.98

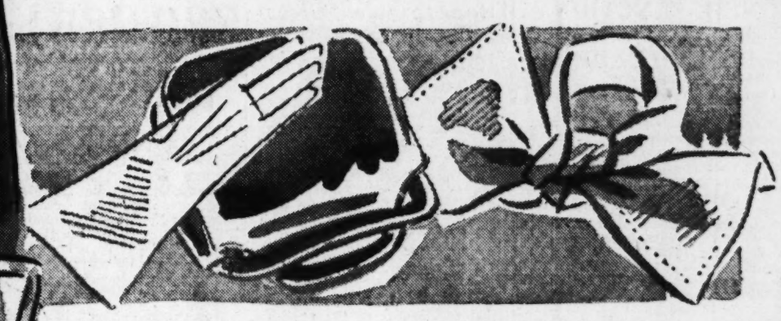

SILVER, STREET FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA --affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Vogue has assembled for DAVISON'S A Complete Spring Wardrobe!

This is a Vogue and Davison Spring coup! The dream of a planned wardrobe, pictured on pages 76 to 80 of your March 1st Vogue comes true at Davison's! The costumes are new and chic. They are also balanced and complete to the last extra pair of gloves. But don't think they are inflexible. The coat, the suit, the dresses lend themselves to endless variations. They are distinguished clothes, but planned to fall into a middle price range, and each of them is worth every dollar it costs. We don't expect you to swallow this whole wardrobe like Jonah's whale. But do check it carefully before you plunge into into Spring shopping. It will probably save you countless footsteps and regrets!

White Pique Pull-Ons contribute a refreshing note to the navy blue coat. Easy to keep pure and white ——— 1.50

Satin-smooth Calf Bag in original new shape. Carry it by its newer-than-new interlocking handles 10.50

White Pique Scarf, a versatile bit of neck-gear that may be tied at least four ways ——— $1

There is probably no better foundation for Spring than this pencil-slim navy coat with blue grosgrain scarf ——— 69.50

Molyneux navy toque of shiny straw with bumper brim and white pique band and bow to match pique scarf ——— 16.50

Envelope Bag of blue calf-skin with a curved top that scoops up under your arm. Exquisitely fitted inside ——— $10

The Upturned Breton has navy straw brim with facing and crown of white linen. It was born to wear with dark print dresses, $15

The Forward-Heading Hat (topping the print dress) is of stitched straw fabric—very daring ——— 18.50

A jewel of a dress-with-sleeveless-jacket costume. In navy blue with the new inflated sleeves and bird-in-flight print, $45

Natural Pigskin Slipon Gloves. A casual note for the country costume shown right ——— 3.98

Sturdy Pigskin Bag with leather lining and belt-buckle closing—very sporting for the rural scene ——— 12.50

If you want to be utterly gay and mad, choose the cherry-red string crochet gloves to wear with knits —or with navy ——— 2.50

A Vagabond-ish Beige Felt with pinched-in crown, longer-in-front brim and brown grosgrain band ——— $10

The Three-Piece String Knit Suit is as a country suit should be—casual, classic. Don't miss the brown hazlenut buttons. $25

A Squashy Evening Bag of shirred black taffeta—exquisitely jewel-like inside and out. In black ——— 16.50

Rhinestone and Crystal Bracelet to give glitter to Spring evenings. It repeats the buckle on the dress ——— $10

The Frock, as lovely as a Spring night, is made of sheer, crisp navy marquisette sprinkled over with lighter blue velvet dots. With a swooping, billowing skirt ——— $55

ACCESSORIES, STREET FLOOR — DRESSES, SUITS, HATS, THIRD FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA --affiliated with MACY'S, New York

WARD SLASH BILL NEAR ENACTMENT

Governor Expected To Sign Measure Reducing Atlanta Council.

Legislative action completing enactment of the Atlanta ward, council and school board reduction bill will be taken Monday or Tuesday and the measure is expected to reach Governor Talmadge's desk for the approval of the chief executive not later than Wednesday.

The measure, sponsored by the Fulton and DeKalb county delegations in the house and senate, reduces the number of wards in Atlanta from 13 to 6, the number of councilmen from 26 to 12, the number of aldermen from 13 to 6 and the membership on the board of education from 14 to 6. The chairman of the school committee of city council will not be an ex-officio member of the board of education, as at present.

It is known that already a number of persons, some of them school board members and councilmen, have appealed to Governor Talmadge to veto the measure, but it is generally expected the chief executive will approve the bill.

The governor's policy on local legislative matters has generally been to approve without hesitation all bills in which the delegations of the affected areas are in accord, providing they are constitutional. All members of the local delegation, Senators Millican, of Atlanta, and Vaughn, of Covington, and Representatives Hartsfield, Almand and Ramsey, of Fulton county, and Lindsay, Guess and Ansley, of DeKalb county, are in accord on the council reduction bill and have aided in putting it into final shape for passage.

The bill is now before the senate, where an amendment, taking the school committee chairman off the board of education, is being formally agreed to by Senator Vaughn and Senator Millican. It will be given its third and final reading Monday or Tuesday.

VIOLATION ON DAM CHARGED BY ICKES

Continued From First Page.

than eight hours a day on government projects."

The companies office records were seized early this week by the United States district attorney for Nevada, who alleged the firms had been maintaining two sets of pay rolls, one for examination of PWA auditors and one for their own use.

Ickes announced at the time that he and Glavis had turned the case over to the department of justice after former employes of six companies complained to him that federal labor laws were being violated.

To Direct Probe.

Ickes decided tonight, however, to send Glavis to Boulder City to direct the investigation.

Glavis will leave for Las Vegas, N. M., early next week after going from here to Chattanooga, Tenn.

The investigation into Boulder dam came just as a special federal grand jury was completing an inquiry into alleged irregularities on another PWA irrigation project in Willacy county, Texas.

Evidence was presented to the jury regarding an alleged unauthorized change of specifications so as to require use of some 500 miles of wooden pipe on the project, which originally called for no pipe at all. Hearing of testimony has been completed and an early report is expected from the jury.

TENNESSEAN KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 2.—(AP)—Will Wade, 45, a merchant and truck operator of Moscow, Tenn., was killed almost instantly early today when the Memphis-bound truck in which he was riding was struck by the Memphis Special of the Southern railway, near Forest Hill, about 20 miles from Memphis.

Views of Assembly Hall and Reception Room of Beautiful Shrine Mosque

The beautiful Shrine mosque assembly hall and ballroom is shown in the picture at the left. The room will seat 1,500 persons. At the right the reception room, which can seat about 600 persons. These halls are in addition to the Fox theater, which has a seating capacity of 5,100 persons and another room which can care for another 800. Council Monday will be asked to take action looking toward acquisition of the Shrine mosque and Fox theater for use as a municipal auditorium. Councilman John A. White predicted Saturday that council will take favorable action.

COUNCIL SANCTION OF MOSQUE DEAL SEEN BY LEADERS

Continued From First Page.

acquiring the properties over a 20-year period will be offered.

The resolution, however, is expected to be the first test of strength of the proposal and proponents and opponents will have their inning.

After the proper papers have been prepared, the real battle will be waged, but Monday's balloting is expected to be a guide for future action on the purchase.

"I am confident that the Atlanta council and the aldermanic board will approve the Shrine purchase," White said Saturday. "Atlanta has no other way of acquiring auditorium facilities. This plan offers a building which will greatly improve its claim to conventions, and we should not allow ourselves to pass up this opportunity.

"If after a trial, we find that we have made a bad bargain, we can always dispose of it for what we paid for it. There is no reasonable argument which can be advanced against it."

Considerable detailed information as to the advantages of the Shrine property for convention purposes, and as to the need of a new city auditorium, has been presented to the members of the city council since the suggestion of the purchase was first made by Mayor Key. This has come from a special committee of citizens named by the mayor to look into the feasibility of the purchase.

Says "Doubtfuls" Convinced.

Hugh Couch, chairman, Saturday said:

"It is now apparent to council members, who at first were doubtful, that the property will be self-sustaining, that it will carry its own financial obligations, and since it has been shown the city will not have to put up any money at present, the way is much clearer to take over the property.

"Another thing that has caused some opposition was the argument that the city ought to build a new auditorium—that such a move would give needed work to hundreds of artisans. Of course, that would be fine, if it were at all possible. But it has been shown beyond any doubt that the city has not the money to do this, nor could it possibly borrow it from any source at this time.

$2,000,000 Expense Impossible.

"It would cost more than $2,000,000 to build a new auditorium, and not only the impossibility to secure the money has been made clear to the original opponents of the purchase, but it is acknowledged that the city could not stand now—nor at any time soon—even the interest payments on such a financial deal, much less be able to repay any on the principal.

"With an investment of only $725,000 for this property—which cost nearly $3,000,000 as it stands—with loyal citizens who harken back to the days of the old 'Atlanta spirit' willing to put up the first payment of $100,000; with a period of 20 years in which to clear up the entire debt with total annual payments of about $54,000 a year, but with more than enough income from the property to meet this, and with a number of large and beautiful halls for convention purposes added to the beautiful and adequate theater unit, it appears now that Atlanta cannot—and will not—pass up this excellent opportunity to secure a handsome and suitable place to house the many conventions that will want to come to Atlanta during the coming years."

Bridges Urges Purchase.

Russell Bridges, president of the Alkahest Celebrity Bureau, who has brought many celebrities, speakers and concerts to this city, speaking of the possible purchase of the Shrine property, said:

"Atlanta has missed seeing and hearing quite a number of the celebrity type of attractions during the last several years because of no suitable place here in which to present them. If the city bought the Shrine auditorium and made it available for such features at a satisfactory rental, we could guarantee $5,000 or more per year to the city in rentals.

"Many artists will not consider coming to Atlanta under the present conditions. For instance, recently when I took the matter up with Paul Whiteman about coming to Atlanta with his orchestra and the radio stars, he replied that he had 'sworn off' ever appearing in the old city auditorium again."

McDonald Backs Move.

"It is imperative that Atlanta have a new auditorium immediately, otherwise the city's cultural and civic activities will suffer materially," said Marvin McDonald, manager of the All-Star Concert Series, who has brought some cultural events to Atlanta in the past.

"The old city auditorium which we have had to use," continued McDonald, "has been so frightfully cold that it has caused a great amount of sickness, and has kept innumerable people away from many of the cultural and artistic events we have sponsored. This was due entirely to the defects in the building and its heating plant.

"Few people realize to what extent Atlanta serves Georgia and its surrounding states by presenting world-renowned artists and musical attractions here. Very few of the attractions presented here through the All-Star Concert Series have other engagements in the southeast, and they attract many hundreds of people to Atlanta from a radius of 250 or more miles. Also hundreds of students from the educational institutions of Atlanta and Georgia attend these musical programs.

"In comparing the Fox theater with the possibility of a newly constructed auditorium, its assurance of good acoustics is a decided asset. We need a new auditorium—we need it now—and the Fox theater would provide us with the best in the south."

White To Seek Water Cut.

White will ask that water bills of the city be reduced in line with reductions made by other public utilities. He will offer the measure Monday and will ask council to take the matter under advisement seriously in order that it may be made effective in the July finance sheet.

"I will not attempt to push the matter, effective at once," White said Saturday, "because I do not wish to wreck the present finance sheet. We should, however, make it effective in the July sheet and I propose to fight for it."

He cited figures showing that the waterworks system is valued at $15,000,000, and that its replacement value is carried at $12,792,851.97. Receipts for 1934 are listed at $1,744,509.46. Operating expenses were $402,634.65, while sinking funds and interest on waterworks bonds was $285,012.05 for the year and depreciation was $299,397.31. After these deductions, the waterworks showed a profit of $757,465.45, he contends and that is too much.

Wife of President Gives $36,000 to Philanthropy

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—The wife of the president disclosed today that she had turned into philanthropy from her commercial radio broadcasts alone almost half as much money as the government paid Mr. Roosevelt for a year's work.

Answering questions put to her as a review of two years plentifully filled with activities no first lady ever did before, she gave an itemized account of $36,000 paid the Friends Service committee for her radio talks between May 14 and December 31, 1934. The presidential salary is $75,000.

Siamese Chicks.

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Two Plymouth Rock chicks, joined in siamese twin fashion, were hatched from an egg at Wolfe's poultry farm. Both chicks are normal and healthy otherwise.

SWELLING REDUCED

And Short Breathing Relieved when caused by unnatural collection of water in abdomen, feet and legs, and when pressure above ankle leaves a dent. Trial package FREE.

COLLUM MEDICINE COMPANY
Dept. 287, Atlanta, Ga.

$30,285 Lindy Ransom Still Unaccounted For

By PAT McGRADY.

(Copyright, 1935) by the Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—The ransom phase of the Lindbergh case remains tonight, three years and one day after the actual kidnaping of the child, only "two-fifths solved."

Of the $50,000 paid by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to a ransom collector in a Bronx cemetery April 2, 1932, only $19,715 has been accounted for.

Somewhere—either in a hidden place, in actual circulation still, or perhaps destroyed by the treasury department—there is $30,285 of the currency which Dr. John F. Condon, the Lindbergh intermediary, handed over to the ransom collector.

Where is it?

Some authorities who have been active in the investigation of the crime of the Sourland hills believe Bruno Richard Hauptmann, under death sentence for the murder, has the money in a hidden place.

Others believe Hauptmann succeeded—despite the fact that the numbers on each bill were listed and known to all banking houses—in putting it into circulation.

Passage "Impossible."

One official of the federal reserve bank, however, used tonight the word "impossible" as regards a theory that the ransom bills could have been passed through the banks unrecognized to be finally destroyed or stored in the old money vaults of the United States treasury department.

The internal revenue department, on the other hand, holds that much, if not all, of the $30,285 which is still unaccounted for must have passed through the federal reserve banks and been finally destroyed.

"Either this," observed Hugh MacQuillan, special agent in charge of the New York division of the internal revenue department, "or the bills are still in circulation.

"There are probably quite a few of the bills still being used or stored away by the public, but a large part of it must have slipped through the banks into the treasury department."

An official of the Federal Reserve bank in New York, who has worked on identification of the Lindbergh ransom money, said that either of these possibilities would be "out of the question."

"There is one possibility of the money getting past us," he said, "and that is very remote."

Life of Bills.

With regard to the bills remaining in circulation, he said, "the life of a $5 bill ranges from six to eight months. During this period they become so used that they are returned to the treasury department and replaced by new bills.

"The life of a $10 bill is considerably longer. They circulate less, but they are returned to the banks more frequently.

"A $20 bill comes back to the bank usually before it has circulated a month. It is not so much used as the $10 bill, but it shows up for scrutiny more than twice as often."

$50,000 RANSOM "ACCOUNTING" MADE

Here approximately is what happened to the Lindbergh ransom:

Lindbergh ransom	$50,000
Still missing	30,285
Hauptmann had	14,600
Hauptmann admitted having spent (about)	100
"J. J. Faulkner" exchanged (May 1, 1933)	2,990
Exchanged at Manufacturers Trust Co. (April 28, 1933)	500
Exchanged at Chemical National bank (April 26, 1933)	500
Appeared outside New York city (about)	80
Turned up in New York city business houses (about)	945
	$50,000

In prosecuting Hauptmann, New Jersey's attorney-general, David T. Wilentz, contended that Hauptmann, and Hauptmann alone, kidnaped the baby and collected and spent the ransom.

He said Hauptmann disposed of $49,986 of the money as follows:

In brokerage accounts, $16,942.75.
In savings accounts, $9,073.25.
For one mortgage, $3,750.
Gold coins found in home, $120.
Ransom money in Hauptmann's garage, $14,600.
Advance to Isador Fisch for furs, $5,500.
Total, $49,986.

This accounts for sums of money traceable to Hauptmann, but does not, except by implication, attempt to account for the actual currency in the ransom bundle.

The only part of the ransom payment definitely recovered is $19,715—less than two-fifths of the total ransom—and it is accounted for as follows:

Found at Hauptmann Home.

Found in tin can in Hauptmann garage:
492 $20 gold certificates, $9,840.
390 $10 gold certificates, $3,900.
Found in hole in plank in same garage:
84 $10 gold certificates, $840.
Found on Hauptmann's person:
1 $20 gold certificate, $20.
Found in banks between April 4, 1932, and October 12, 1934:
434 $10 gold certificates, $4,340.
115 $5 bills, $575.
4 $20 federal reserve notes, $80.
6 $20 gold certificates, $120.
Total money accounted for, $19,715.

So far as authorities have disclosed, none of the $5,000 in federal reserve notes nor of the $10,000 in $5 bills included in the ransom bundle has been traced to Hauptmann.

Wed at St. Luke's Church

Mr. and Mrs. Erroll Baldwin Hay Jr. are pictured leaving St. Luke's Episcopal church following their wedding which was solemnized at an impressive ceremony at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Hay is the former Miss Charlotte King, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preston King. Story in society section. Staff photo.

Allotment Shows Cotton Grown in Illinois, Kansas

CHICAGO, March 2.—(AP)—A government allotment of 722 bales today reminded Illinois citizens that cotton planting figures in the state's huge agricultural scheme.

Farmers have been raising the crop in the state since the Civil War, the Illinois Agricultural Association pointed out, but it is virtually confined to a scattering of farms in Pulaski, Alexander and Union counties down at the state's southernmost tip.

The association said several score families raise cotton in the bottom lands along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and in the uplands of that district.

TOPEKA, March 2.—(AP)—It may not be in the sunny south, but Kansas boasts of a cottoh crop, however small.

F. K. Reed, federal agricultural statistician for Kansas, said today 1,500 acres of cotton, most of it in Montgomery county near the Kansas-Oklahoma line, were planted in the state last year by an estimated 75 farmers.

GOVERNOR FAVORS BEER REFERENDUM

Continued From First Page.

prohibition repeal proposals was called Friday by Senator John McGehee, of Talbotton, chairman of the senate temperance committee and considered the leader of the dry bloc in the senate, after it had been agreed to by Senator David Atkinson, of Savannah, leader of the wet forces.

Both bills have been approved by the house which voted down the proposed referendum on beer but which it may accept as an amendment now that Governor Talmadge has revealed he believes the referendum important. The liquor proposal carries a statewide referendum to be followed by county option elections in the event the state votes to repeal the present law.

Taxes in Beer Bill.

The beer bill carries a tax of $1,000 on manufacturers, $250 on wholesalers and taxes from $25 to $100 on retailers, depending on the size of the community in which they operate. In addition there is a state tax of $2.50 per 31-gallon barrel on all beer sold in the state. There is a strong movement on foot in the senate to reduce the latter tax.

The hard liquor proposal carries a 10 per cent sales tax for the state and a $1,000 manufacturers' license tax, a $500 wholesalers' license tax and a $250 retailers' license tax for the municipalities or county governments.

Under an amendment sponsored by Speaker E. D. Rivers, of the house, 95 per cent of all state taxes collected from beer will go for the purchase of free school books for the pupils of common schools.

As passed by the house the prohibition repeal bill provides that municipal or county governments may operate liquor stores if their officials so desire, but there is a strong movement in the senate, headed by Senator John Beasley, of Glennville, to eliminate this provision. Senator Beasley has announced he will present a substitute for the house bill, the substitute eliminating the local government liquor store plan.

Under the constitution all state taxes from the sale of liquor go to the common schools.

Silent on Attitude.

Governor Talmadge declined to say whether or not he would sign the repeal bill Saturday. All he would say in connection with the general repeal movement was that he felt the beer bill should carry the referendum.

"Beer is in the same category as hard liquor only less intoxicating," the governor declared. "It ought to carry the referendum."

The governor said the referendum might be held the same day prohibition repeal is voted on if the latter comes to pass but stressed the fact such a statement would by no means indicate he has made up his mind on either bill.

"I never consider a bill until it is passed by both houses and laid on my desk," he said. "Therefore I cannot say what I will do with these or any other measures in the process of enactment."

Senator McGehee has announced his committee will hear unlimited arguments on both bills Wednesday afternoon but Senator Atkinson has made it known he will ask that arguments be limited to an hour to each side.

In addition to Senator McGehee and Senator Atkinson, who is vice chairman, the temperance committee of the senate is composed of Senators Almon, Clark, Crawford, Cooper, Duncan, Evans, Goodwin, Johnston, King, Lester, Milhollin, Millican, McGinty, McWhorter, Ragan, Rawlins, Scott, Simmons, Skelton, Smith, Strickland, Thomas and Vaughn.

MISSISSIPPIANS HELD FOR TRAPPING QUAIL

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., March 2.—(AP)—Charged with interstate transportation of quail, two men docketed as Brandon Coulter and Thaxton Mooney, both of Collins, Miss., were held in county jail here tonight in lieu of $500 bonds fixed by United States Commissioner S. H. Sprott.

They were arrested near Cuba, Ala., in Sumter county, Friday by a squad of seven officers, including Hunter Kimball, state director of conservation for Mississippi. Officers charged the men had 296 quail, which had been trapped in Covington and Jeff Davis counties, Mississippi.

TAXES AND REPEAL CENTER INTEREST IN LEGISLATURE

Continued From First Page.

adoption or defeat every measure before it.

"Our own calender is clear and we have committee reports on a number of major house measures," the senate president said. "We are ready to work day and night for the balance of the session in order that the assembly may dispose of every matter before it, regardless of the importance of that matter."

Exemptions Before Senate.

In addition to the prohibition repeal and beer legalization bills passed by the house the senate has before it the Rivers plan for exempting homesteads from taxation, exemption of a portion of personal property, the Grayson old-age pension plan and other matters, including the biennial appropriations bill which was passed by the house late Friday afternoon after considering it in less than two days.

Another important matter before the senate is the chain store tax which has been approved by the house and on which a subcommittee of Senator J. M. Simmons' finance committee will hold a public hearing at 7:30 o'clock Monday night at the Henry Grady hotel. This bill, designed to yield about $750,000 annually, is sponsored by the Richmond county delegation in the house.

When the tax exemption proposals reach the floor of the senate the Rivers plan will be amended to exempt only $2,500 worth of real estate. As approved by the house the measure carried a $5,000 exemption. The house also approved a $500 personal property tax exemption but the senate committee on constitutional amendments reduced this to $300. A fight for the higher figures is being planned on the floor of the senate, Senator W. W. Larsen Jr., of Dublin, strong advocate of the Rivers plan, announcing Saturday he had polled the senate and found a majority in favor of the higher exemptions.

Puts in Sales Tax.

It was Speaker Rivers' plan to submit the homestead and personal property exemptions to the people in the next general election and put through substitute measures at the next session of the general assembly providing they were approved. However, when senate leaders demanded to know what form of taxation the speaker planned to produce revenue lost by the exemptions he put the sales tax proposal in the general tax act.

As approved by the house Friday the appropriations bill carries the following grants to the various departments and agencies of the state for the next two years:

	1936	1937
Agriculture	$ 200,000	$ 200,000
Auditing	65,000	65,000
Banking (funds allocated by law)
Comptroller general	156,000	156,000
Education (common schools)	4,250,000	4,250,000
Entomology	45,000	45,000
Forestry and geology	50,000	50,000
Game and fish (allocated by law)
Governor's office	103,500	103,500
Emergency fund (governor)	140,000	75,000
Insurance reserve fund (governor)	100,000	100,000
Highways (allocated by law)
Industrial relation	9,000	9,000
Law department	30,000	30,000
Library (operating costs)	10,000	10,000
Library (printing books)	10,000	10,000
Library commission	10,000	10,000
Military (operating costs	60,000	60,000
Military (riot duty)	100,000	100,000
Naval stores (allocated by law)
Prison commission (office)	42,000	38,000
Prison commission (Baldwin county farm)	85,000	85,000
Prison commission (Tattnall county farm)	15,000	15,000
Public health	150,000	150,000
Public service (allocated by law)
Revenue commission	324,000	324,000
Secretary of state (x)	25,000	25,000
Treasurer (office)	26,000	26,000
Treasurer (retire university debts)	200,000	200,000
Supreme court (costs)	73,000	73,000
Court of appeals (costs)	74,000	74,000
Judges' and solicitors' superior courts	206,000	206,000
1937 general assembly		192,000
Unpaid pensions to veterans	425,000
Veterans' service office (allocated)
Eleemosynary institutions	1,800,000	1,800,000
University system	1,343,000	1,343,000

THOMAS PREDICTS U. S. BOND CRASH

BOSTON, March 2.—(AP)—Senator Elmer Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, today predicted a government bond crash greater than the stock market panic of 1929 if the present governmental bond selling, borrowing and spending continued.

His prophesy far overshadowed an informal debate between him and Dr. O. M. W. Sprague, former executive assistant to the secretary of the treasury, on the present monetary situation. They spoke before a luncheon meeting of the Boston branch of the Foreign Policy Association.

Senator Thomas asserted the banks already held between $15,000,000,000 and $16,000,000,000 in government bonds. "A decline of 10 points would wipe out $1,500,000,000. It would wipe out the capital stock of most banks in the United States.

"The 'baby bond' issues are a sign that the government is already desperate in its financing. I hope they sell a lot of them but I am afraid they won't."

You Are Invited

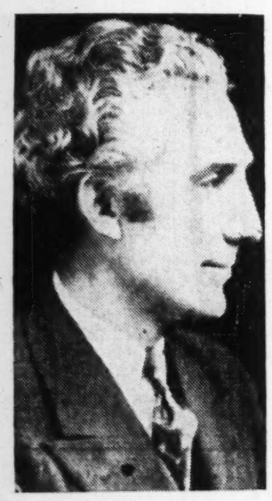

to Hear Three FREE Public Programs, at the Wesley Memorial Building, 63 Auburn Avenue, beginning Monday Night, March 4th, 8 O'Clock

By

JUDGE FRANK CRYAN

In Talks On

1. HOW TO INCREASE YOUR EARNING POWER
2. INSURING YOURSELF A SUCCESSFUL FUTURE
3. WHY MEN AND WOMEN SUCCEED

Judge Cryan is not a professional speaker but a successful business man. He started out in life as a poor boy and reached the heights of success by the application of secret business principles, which he himself discovered, turning his own life from poverty to success.

This program brings to you the opportunity you have always desired, to develop your hidden ability, to gain confidence in yourself and make more money. These business talks will turn desire into hope, misery into happiness, disaster into triumph not only for you but those who expect big things of you.

"Judge Frank Cryan personifies success—a most dynamic personality who raised himself from obscurity to leadership by sheer force of character."

—JOHN P. TEIRNAN
(Former professor of the law Notre Dame University)

Sponsored by WEBSTER UNIVERSITY, in the Main Auditorium of the Wesley Memorial Building, 63 Auburn Avenue, Monday Evening, March 4th, 8 O'Clock.

(Absolutely Free—NO Collections)

TWO FOUND DEAD PINNED UNDER CAR

Bodies Discovered Early Saturday Beneath Wreckage Near Bolton.

The shattered bodies of Harry Russell, 30, and Elmer Little, 26, of Chattahoochee, Ga., were discovered at 6 o'clock Saturday morning pinned beneath the wreckage of their automobile in Proctor's creek, just off the Bolton road. It is believed the pair met their death late Friday night.

Little was crushed by the car door, his neck being broken. His companion was caught beneath the overturned car. Both bodies were under water when discovered, but it is believed that both died instantly, according to County Policeman E. G. Fitzgerald, who investigated the fatal crash.

Russell and Little left Benton Brothers' service station, a mile from the scene of the accident, at 10:30 o'clock Friday night. Although there were no witnesses to the crash, it was apparent that the automobile, driven by Little, struck an embankment, careened across the highway and crashed through a fence that guarded a 10-foot drop to the water.

Walter Free, a night employe of the Southern Railway, discovered the bodies when he crossed Proctor's creek on Bolton road when returning to his home at 6 o'clock Saturday morning. He notified Fulton county police, who removed the bodies to the H. G. Poole mortuary.

Coroner Paul Donehoo announced Saturday night that the inquest into the death of the pair would be held at 10 o'clock this morning in the Poole mortuary. Free and Policeman Fitzgerald are expected to be the only witnesses.

Little is survived by his wife; a son, Jackson Little; a sister, Mrs. Jessie Morris, and a brother, Grady Little. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the Lowry Town Baptist church, the Rev. Van Stuart officiating, and interment will be in Hollywood cemetery.

'CHEAP' P. O. BUILDINGS FOUGHT BY RAMSPECK

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Introduction of a resolution "to stop the whole postoffice building program" was threatened today by Representative Ramspeck, democrat, Georgia, "unless the policies of congress are carried out."

"Congress wants some decent buildings," said Ramspeck, "something we can take pride in. Its an outrage to put up all these cheap buildings."

The Georgian made his threat to W. E. Reynolds, assistant director of procurement, treasury department, after he had sought unsuccessfully to have specifications of the new Decatur (Ga.) postoffice building changed from brick to granite.

"I think its absurd," Ramspeck said, "to feed granite workers on relief, then build cheap federal buildings as a means of saving the money to feed them."

Another complaint was lodged with the treasury by W. B. Mahan, banker, of Russellville, Ala., where limestone quarrying is the principal industry. A contract was let to construct a brick postoffice building there and citizens of the town sent Mahan here to appeal for a change to limestone, so that idle quarry workers might be re-employed.

Ramspeck said Reynolds agreed to change specifications of the East Point (Ga.) postoffice from plain brick to face brick. This town, on the outskirts of Atlanta, profested vigorously against plans for what it termed "inferior" construction.

Along with rejection of his proposal to build the Decatur office of granite, the Georgian said he received a copy of findings of the treasury advisory committee on design, stating:

"The committee feels that the charming colonial design of brick with stone trim is much more interesting than the proposed design in granite, and requests that no change be made; furthermore, it is believed that the brick structure is much more suitable to the community where so much brick is used in the residences."

SILVER BALL ATTACKS CONFESSED AS HOAX

VICTORY, N. Y., March 2.—(AP)—Stories of "ghostly" rappings and attacks that have kept the nerves of this village on edge for two months were revealed today by the "victim" as the outgrowth of a vivid imagination.

Raymond Vangrol, 29, whose stories of attacks by a mysterious "silver ball" and rifle shots fired at him by a masked enemy brought about an Ontario county grand jury investigation, today appeared voluntarily at the office of Judge Horace W. Fitch, at Canandiagua, and expressed himself as penitent for the trouble he had caused authorities.

Vangrol told Judge Fitch he wanted to return to the McCarthy home at Victor where he had resided and where his imaginative stories had kept village police and sheriff's deputies on the alert for his "assailant."

Judge Fitch said there would be no action against Vangrol, despite the trouble he had caused authorities, unless he failed to obey orders to stay out of Ontario county. Vangrol's father assured him that he would keep his son with him in Rochester.

If Ruptured Try This Free

Apply It to Any Rupture, Old or Recent, Large or Small, and You Are on the Road That Has Convinced Thousands.

SENT FREE TO PROVE THIS

Every ruptured man or woman should write at once to W. S. Rice, 247-S Main St., Adams, N. Y., for a free trial of his amazing Lymphol Method in Rupture Control. Just put it on your rupture and look for quick beneficial results. Does not interfere with truss or support you may be wearing, but instantly, safely works to aid nature in closing the opening so that eventually your appliance may be discarded. Every ruptured person will welcome this result. What is the use of wearing supports all your life, if you don't have to? Why risk gangrene, strangulation and such dangers from a small and innocent rupture, the kind that has thrown thousands on the operating table? A host of people are daily running such risk, just because their ruptures do not hurt or prevent their getting around. Thousands have made this free test. No ruptured person can afford to pass it by, for it is a wonderful thing and has aided Nature in healing ruptures that were as big as a man's two fists. Write at once to W. S. Rice, 247-S Main St., Adams, N. Y., for quick results.— adv.)

DEATH OF HEIRESS SAID NOT ACCIDENT

Solicitor Says Evidence Points to "Murder or Suicide."

PINEHURST, N. C., March 2.—(AP) Solicitor Roland Pruett, after 24 hours of investigating the mysterious death of pretty Mrs. H. Bradley Davidson Jr., heiress of the late E. M. Statler, said tonight he had evidence indicating "either murder or suicide," and that he had discarded the possibility of an accident.

The solicitor said he had uncovered strong evidence pointing to both murder and suicide, adding "I am not prepared to say which," but insisted the tragedy was "not conceivably an accident."

Earlier in the day the solicitor cast doubt on the original diagnosis of death from carbon monoxide poisoning, and said a careful check of that angle was under way.

The 22-year-old bride of two months was found slumped in the door of her automobile in a closed garage early Wednesday morning after spending practically all night with her husband and friends at a charity ball and, later, a night club.

First reports said she was still alive, beneath the steering wheel, and that she died at a hospital when resuscitation efforts failed. Later it was brought out, however, that she was found dead, in a kneeling position on the running board, her face on her arms, which were spread along the car's floorboards.

Considerable ventilation clearance under the doors and the size of the three-car garage first led him to doubt the gas poisoning theory, Pruett said.

An inquest begun the day of the tragedy adjourned after brief testimony, and has been postponed several times since. It is to be resumed Tuesday, when Solicitor Pruett said he planned to re-question the dead woman's husband and others who are expected to return here Monday from Mt. Kisco, N. Y., where the young millionairess was buried today.

U. S. Begins Trials Of Baby Face's Aids

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—(AP) In a courtroom bristling with armed guards, one man was sentenced to prison, another pleaded guilty and the trial of 12 other defendants was set for March 18 as the government moved today against alleged aids of the slain gangster, George "Baby Face" Nelson.

Jack Perkins, Chicago bookmaker, was the first to plead guilty to charges of having harbored Nelson while he was a fugitive from justice. He received a two-year prison term and a $1,000 fine from Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure.

Joseph (Fatso) Negri pleaded guilty to a conspiracy count while another indictment against him was continued. He will be sentenced March 18.

'Good' Holding Firms Not To Be Abolished

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Leaders of the drive for regulation of utilities holding companies said today the administration contemplated a method under which holding companies that could show their operations were in the public interest would not be abolished.

They pointed to a little publicized section of the Rayburn bill which they said would allow those holding companies which could show they were economically and geographically sound to continue in business after the five-year period set for the abolition of holding companies.

Under this section, they said, a holding company could put its claims for continued life before the federal power commission. That commission, after studying the physical setup of the holding company and the area affected by its operations, could certify to the securities commission that the concern should remain in business.

The securities commission, acting upon the recommendations of the power commission, would then be able to allow the company to continue.

Demands Are Won By Striking Veterans

MIAMI, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—Acceding to demands of striking ex-servicemen, Julius F. Stone Jr., Florida emergency relief administrator, tonight agreed to reinstatement of an ousted grievance committee from veterans' rehabilitation camp No. 3 at lower Matecumbe key.

Stone, promising correction of conditions the veterans found objectionable, said he believed the 425 men, idle since Monday noon from their bridge construction project, would return to their jobs next Monday morning.

National guard units are to be relieved of patrol duties in the camp zone as soon as the veterans return to work, Stone said, and a detachment of state police will take charge of law enforcement in the ERA reservations.

A representative of the FERA; the administrator added, will meet with the veterans at their camp tomorrow to adjust minor difficulties raised in the days of negotiations following last Monday's walkout.

Planters To Employ More Share Croppers

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 2.—(AP) Planters of Poinsett county, Arkansas, seat of recent controversies between landlords and sharecroppers, have volunteered to increase by 10 per cent the employment of tenant farmers, W. B. Chapman, a Marked Tree (Ark.) planter, said here tonight.

The program for increased employment was agreed upon last night at an organization meeting of the Marked Tree Co-operative Association, Chapman said.

"We formed this organization as a group to iron out difficulties arising from recent agitation," the planter declared. "Already we planters have more tenants on our land than we had last year. But just to go a bit further, we agreed last night that each of us would increase our farm personnel 10 per cent."

YOUNG ROCKEFELLER DECLINES CANDIDACY

NORTH TARRYTOWN, March 2. (AP)—Nelson A. Rockefeller, of this village, son of John D. Rockefeller Jr., was asked to run for trustee in the forthcoming village election but declined today.

Rockefeller was nominated by a citizens' group composed largely of leaders of the Young Men's Republican Club of North Tarrytown. He said he was not sufficiently familiar with village government.

Second Generation Playing in Pictures

HOLLYWOOD, March 2.—(AP)—Family trees are growing in the motion picture industry.

The films, like the stage, have reached the point of starting a second generation in the same business. The lovely ingenues and romantic juveniles who yesterday were the toast of moviedom now have sons and daughters on the screen.

Wally Reid Jr., for instance, received an important assignment, as did Fred Kohler Jr., son of the screen villain, in "The Hoosier Schoolmaster." The two will portray buddies.

"This Day and Age," which Cecil B. DeMille produced, as one of the first productions to make use of stars' sons, Carlyle Blackwell, Erich Von Stroheim Jr., Wallace Reid Jr., Fred Kohler Jr., and Creighton Chaney, son of the late Lon Chaney, appeared.

ALABAMA TO PUSH WAR ON 'LEGGERS

BIRMINGHAM, March 2.—(AP)—Alabama's law enforcement agencies tonight were moving with vigorous strides to stamp out bootlegging and moonshining in the state, to carry out the mandate of the voters who Tuesday sustained the state's dry laws.

From the Tennessee valley to the wiregrass section of the southeast, sheriffs and chiefs of police had announced concerted drives against bootlegging and moonshining.

Governor Bibb Graves in Montgomery today made his first official comment since the "drys" swung into the lead in Wednesday's tabulations, a cryptic, "There will be no change in the policy of the administration. I have always stood four-square for the constitution and the uniform, tolerant execution of all laws."

To newsmen who pressed him with questions concerning revival of the state law enforcement department, disbanded during the administration of Governor B. M. Miller, the chief executive said, "There will be no change in policy of the state on that. It is the sworn duty of an executive to enforce the laws. That's in the oath of office."

Federal agents were co-operating with local officers in Tuscaloosa and Lauderdale counties in a drive on illicit distilleries. In Tuscaloosa it was reported a check was being made on sales of sugar to trace distilling operations.

In Lauderdale county several large stills have been seized, but officers said the drive had been under way for some time.

The sheriff and chief of police in Tuscaloosa, site of the University of Alabama, said, "Let's back the prohibition laws to the limit."

In Morgan and Madison counties officers said they would continue their drive against bootlegging and moonshining, but that no concerted drive was being made.

Sheriff Sam Reynolds and Chief of Police H. L. Dickinson in Selma where the vote was for repeal joined in saying, "If they want it dry, we will do our best."

Sheriff R. A. Leath, of Etowah county, said he would make a drive on prohibition law violators, if he could obtain additional men, but at any rate the laws would be enforced.

A conference has been called in Montgomery next week, Sheriff Haygood Paterson said, and that he planned a concerted drive after the conference. Those included in the conference will be Governor Graves, the solicitor and judges of the county and the sheriff.

The number of prohibition cases in Jefferson county courts showed an upward swing as Sheriff Fred McDuff put four deputies on the work of rounding up bootleggers and other prohibition law violators.

The drive started before last Tuesday's referendum, however, but Sheriff McDuff said after the result was known he would redouble the drive.

"The recent dry vote doesn't mean a thing to me," said Judge H. B. Abernethy today, as he dealt out penalties ranging from $50 and cost to $50 and 90 days at hard labor for a score or more violators. He presides over the court of misdemeanors and felonies.

"I'm doing just as I have always done," said Judge "Ab," "if the evidence shows a man guilty of violating the prohibition laws, I convict him. If the evidence shows he is not guilty I acquit him."

And so it goes over the state, with sub-rosa reports stating that prices are going up and "corn" liquor is becoming scarce.

Detectives Push Robbery Investigation; Indictments Against 7 Men To Be Sought

E. S. Acree, one of the four members of the newly-organized yegg squad of the Atlanta detective department, is shown at the left, in the front row, with E. C. Wheeler, center, and J. L. Jenkins, right, two of the seven men held by police in connection with more than 30 burglaries and safe-crackings of grocery, drug and other stores in Atlanta. In the rear row, left to right, are W. H. Morgan, J. A. Jenkins and G. H. Carlin, others of the alleged gang. Staff photo.

Members of the yegg squad of the Atlanta detective department Saturday were renewing their investigations of more than 30 robberies and safe-crackings, listed in confessions of six or seven men being held, and Friday will present complete cases to the Fulton county grand jury.

Indictments charging burglary will be sought against six of the men, while detectives intimated Saturday night that an indictment charging possession of burglary tools would be sought against D. M. Wheeler, 22, of 996 Curran street, as he was not named in the confessions as a participant in any of the burglaries.

Though confronted with the confessions, practically of which name him as the leader, W. H. Morgan, 47, carpenter, of 1209 Holley street, remained silent at police headquarters Saturday, refusing to discuss with detectives charges made by the others under arrest that he participated in practically all of the burglaries and safe-crackings listed in the confessions.

B. A. Wheeler, brother of E. C. Wheeler, one of the men being held, appeared at police headquarters Saturday afternoon and requested police to correct the entry in police records of his brother's address. The younger Wheeler, when arrested, said he lived at 992 Curran street, while his brother, the father of two grown boys, said his younger brother lived on Alexander street.

Detectives and county police will bend their efforts next week toward assembling all details regarding the 37 burglaries and safe-crackings which the men listed in their confessions.

In their confessions, the men, in many cases, were uncertain about the amount of money taken as loot. When those who were robbed have supplied the information to police, the detectives believe the loot will total thousands of dollars and will be several hundred dollars greater than indicated in the signed confessions.

The yegg squad Saturday night recovered 60 cartons of cigarets and a number of boxes of cigars which they found in a vacant house at 974 West Peachtree street and which two of the men being held said were taken from the grocery store at 974 West Peachtree street.

San Franciscans Riot As Nazi Cruiser Docks

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—(AP) Police tonight kept watch at the waterfront after a near riot that greeted the arrival ashore this morning of officers and crew of the German training cruiser Karlsruhe.

Two men and a woman were beaten when they reproved the crowd at the pier for booing an American naval officer who was among those greeting the arriving Germans.

The demonstration was part of a gesture by factions urged to register protests against "Hitler's men and fascism." Workers were called upon by the League Against Fascism and War to "Down tools for half an hour in protest against the visit of Hitler's armed forces."

Du Pont Kidnap Plot Believed Frustrated

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(UP)—Possibility of a plot to kidnap Ethel du Pont, wealthy munitions heiress of Wilmington, Del., was investigated by police tonight.

Authorities started the investigation after the arrest of Joseph J. Di Giovanni, 23, on charges of impersonating an officer. In his pocket was found a newspaper picture of Miss du Pont.

Di Giovanna is said by police to be connected with a blackmail gang which has extorted thousands of dollars from businessmen here.

Miss du Pont is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene du Pont, of Owl Nest, near Wilmington, Del.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME PROCLAIMED

Mayor Key Sets April 28 as Date for Setting Up Clocks.

Daylight saving time for Atlanta will be instituted at 1 a. m. April 28 and will continue until 1 a. m. September 29 under a proclamation issued Saturday by Mayor Key.

The mayor asserted Atlanta's daylight time should be synchronized with the national observance in order to avert confusion.

He called on professional men, all businesses, railways, telephone, telegraph companies and every line of endeavor to join in the new time. His proclamation also asked neighboring communities to set their clocks up so that everything possible would be done for the comfort of Atlantans and those in this trading area.

Alderman I. Gloer Hailey, author of the measure which precipitated the city-wide referendum last September on the daylight issue, concurred in Key's plans to extend the Atlanta observance to coincide with the national observance.

A total of 9,441 Atlantans voted for daylight time in the September 26 primary in 1934, while only 3,737 voted against it. The referendum was on institution of the time from May 1 until September 1, but the mayor, with the concurrence of Hailey, agreed it should be the same in Atlanta as in other large cities of the nation.

Waves on Atlantic Highest in Memory

SOUTHAMPTON, England, March 2.—(AP)—Two big transatlantic liners, badly battered by heavy seas, made their way into port here Friday after what their captains called the roughest crossing in their experience.

Commander Oscar Scharf, of the Europa, which altered her course in midocean to search unsuccessfully for the lost steamer Blairgowrie, said "during my 35 years of experience I have never seen such truly mountainous seas."

Commander R. V. Peel, of the Olympic, which arrived several hours later, said "I have never known such continuous bad weather in my experience of the Atlantic. It was simply terrific and lasted the whole way across."

A World Beater! The New Rand-McNally

Globe

at the price of an ordinary one!

4.95

A handsome ornament for your library or living room—and chock-full of accurate information. 12 inches in diameter, mounted on a distinctive base, with a semi-meridian—and indexed as only a Rand-McNally globe can be. Globe with silvered surface, and chromium-finished meridian on mahogany-finished base; or blue globe with gilt meridian on walnut-finished base. Rand-McNally handbook.

When ordering by mail, add 15c for postage and handling.

STATIONERY DEPT., STREET FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA · · affiliated with MACY'S, New York

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA · · affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Sale!

Pure Dye, Pure Silk

PRINTS

$1 yd.

Made to sell for 1.79 to 1.98 yd.!

Above: Butterick Pattern No. 5993

Below: Butterick Pattern No. 6021

An exquisite silk selected for women who sew for individuality, for better fabric, for economy! As soft and light as a peach petal, in smart new shades and patterns. Small shirtmaker prints, large floral patterns, some hand-blocked-looking prints—on black, navy, brown, wine and bright grounds. Savings of more than 1-3 to 1-2!

SILKS, SECOND FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA · · affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Eldridge Electric Rotary Sewing Machines in Handsome Duncan Phyfe Cabinets

49.50

There's no need for a special sewing room when your sewing machine is hidden in this handsome cabinet. Use it for an occasional table in your living room when you are not sewing. The thread never clogs in the bobbin case. The stitch automatically adjusts itself to light and heavy materials.

Trade in your old machine on a modern one. Use Davison's Easy Payment Plan.

SEWING MACHINES, SECOND FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA · · affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Alexandra de Markoff sends Miss Martin, special skin consultant to Davison's for the week March 4th through 9th

Don't be upset if your complexion seems on the verge of a breakdown! After the weather we've been having every skin needs a renovation—and Miss Martin is the lady to tell you how to do it. She is just from New York—with all the latest news from the big beauty salons. See her tomorrow, and ask about the special de Markoff offers we're making this week:

$5 Content Value Alexandra de Markoff Cream and Make-Up Kit 2.50

$10 Content Value Alexandra de Markoff Cream and Make-Up Kit 3.85

TOILETRIES, STREET FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA · · affiliated with MACY'S, New York

For Dry and Brittle Nails! Revlon

Cream Remover for nail polish

50c

Revlon Cream lubricates your nails when it removes the nail polish! A snow-white cream containing flexible oils which tend to prevent cracking and brittleness—and which benefit the cuticle. Revlon leaves your nails smooth and healthy.

TOILETRIES, STREET FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA · · affiliated with MACY'S, New York

TEXTILE WORKERS FACE SHOWDOWN LEADER ASSERTS

Test in LaGrange Strike Will Come Monday, Textile Workers' Spokesman Says.

LA GRANGE, Ga., March 2.—(AP) Declaring a wage cut and a speed-up work system in a group of local textile mills "the first results of the administration's opposition of prevailing wages on work-relief projects," organized labor prepared today for a show-down here Monday in a local textile strike.

John A. Peel, of Greenville, S. C., vice president of the United Textile Workers of America, called on workers "in all industry in the south not to hesitate to utilize labor's last citadel of defense, the strike weapon," in resisting wage reductions.

Peel issued his statement on the local situation as he stopped in Atlanta en route to Chattanooga, Tenn., from Greenville.

Six Mills Affected.

The strike here, affecting some workers at six mills of the Callaway group of mills, was at a standstill today, since the mills never operate on Saturday. Cason Callaway, president of the mill concern, said yesterday he believed virtually all workers would be back on their jobs when the mills re-open Monday. Labor leaders challenged this idea, and said they expected only a few of the Callaway mills' 3,000 workers here would be back Monday.

Meanwhile, as three of the labor leaders urged a crowd of strikers they estimated at 700 to stand by the strike, the Callaway Mills issued a notice to workers to return to their jobs by Monday or their places would be taken by other hands.

The speakers at the meeting of strikers were J. A. (Gus) Harper, president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades; S. A. Hollihan, state organizer for the textile workers, and L. O. Ernest, president of the local union of the U. T. W. They urged the strikers to continue the walkout and to contend for a "restoration of wage cuts and elimination of the speed-up system" of work.

The LaGrange American Legion also held a meeting and offered themselves to be deputized to keep order if needed. Twenty-five were named for the duty to be ready for call, although no trouble was expected. Civic leaders plan a meeting tomorrow.

Peel's statement said the "results" of the administration's "opposition" to prevailing wages, now an issue in congress in the work-relief bill, were "effectively emphasized where the leading southern industrialist closest to the administration throws the program of the New Deal overboard."

He said the industrialist installed "in the Callaway mills of LaGrange, Ga., the damnable French bedeaux stretch-out system of slashing wages; throwing hundreds of workers on the scrap heap and reducing wage rates to the code minimum for all workers in violation of the Winant board's report and the president's executive orders thereto.

"If manufacturers closest to the administration can chuck the New Deal overboard with immunity it will be an invitation to all industrialists of the south as well as to all manufacturers in the entire textile industry to obtain profits first, regardless of human misery and the destruction of the buying power of the community."

Peel said the U. T. W. will "resist this return to the jungle with all of the resources in its power and we call upon the textile workers everywhere to resist wage reduction at any cost."

"We have not lost hopes with the administration," Peel said, and with the issues in the open and with "the administration thoroughly acquainted with the situation we pray that they will act at once."

Callaway, in a statement yesterday, the only one he has issued since the walkout began Thursday, said the wage revision was necessary to allow the mills to produce goods at a cost at which they could be sold, that wage scales were still 8 per cent above NRA code requirements, and that the revision was made after employes and various federal labor agencies had been advised.

Peel said: "The opening wedge of the national conspiracy to destroy American wage standards and living conditions has taken place in Georgia. For many weeks we have been informed of a shift in recovery from emphasizing protection of human beings first and dollar profits second to the philosophy of the jungle in forcing profits for industry regardless of the consequences to flesh and blood.

Calls on Solons.

"We plead with the southern senators and congressmen particularly to join hands with labor and to use their combined power to preserve the square deal in the New Deal for labor and not make of the hopes and assurances given to labor so much sounding brass and false promises," Peel declared.

L. C. Ernest, president of the local union of U. T. W., said the situation was quiet today, and that the test would come Monday.

Some workers at another mill of the Callaway group at Manchester, not far from Warm Springs, vacation home of President Roosevelt, also quit work this week. The number out was not announced by the mill management at Manchester.

THREE BANDITS ROB LAUNDRY AT ATHENS

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Three unmasked white men held up the Industrial laundry here tonight and escaped with $110 in cash. Local police so far have been unable to pick up the trail of the bandits.

Two of the men entered the establishment and rifled the cash drawer and safe while holding the three employes of the concern in the office at bay with pistols. The third bandit waited in a Ford V-8 sedan with the engine running while the holdup was being staged. The bandits drove off down the street.

DR. MIMMS TO ADDRESS MACON CIVIC MEET

MACON, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—More than 300 Georgia educators and civic leaders have accepted invitations to attend Macon's third annual inter-civic dinner here Tuesday when Dr. Edwin Mims, of Vanderbilt University, will be the principal speaker.

Inaugurated three years ago by Mercer University to foster a better understanding of the aims of higher education by American civic and business leaders, the idea of an annual community banquet has spread nationally while becoming a Georgia institution.

The largest attendance in the history of the event is expected for the address of Dr. Mims.

Augusta Plans To Celebrate 200th Birthday With Civic Fete

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—A gigantic civic celebration in honor of Augusta's 200th birthday is being planned by residents of this historic city.

Detailed plans for the event, which is to be featured by historical pageantry, have not yet been completed, but various committees are at work. The date for the celebration, to be held some time during this year, has not yet been fixed, pending further progress of organization work.

Official cognizance has been taken of the event by the city itself, with appointment by Mayor Richard E. Allen, of the Augusta Bi-Centennial commission.

William S. Morris, general manager of the Augusta Chronicle, and civic leader, is general chairman of the commission. The celebration is to be a civic affair, sponsored and supported by citizens of Augusta.

A city whose civic spirit has manifested itself on numerous other occasions for the upbuilding of the community, Augusta's residents are going ahead with their plans to "put over" the bi-centennial.

The executive and finance committees of the bi-centennial commission have decided upon a huge historical pageant as the main feature of the celebration program.

Discussing the pageant, Mr. Morris said "The Augusta bi-centennial pageant is to be built around Augusta's history, so that the past will live again. We will turn back the pages of history and see what Augusta has been and what has made it as we know it today."

The historical committee for the pageant is headed by Richard Reid, prominent in civic circles here. His committee already has set to work assembling historic facts in connection with the city.

Going back to 1735 the committee has begun to trace the growth of the infant colony of Georgia, with particular stress on Augusta's part in the development of the colony.

Rich in historic facts, the growth of Augusta is expected to be pictured in pageantry depicting historic, economic and social development of the community. Episodes are expected to be taken from colonial days, from the era of the American Revolution, the War Between the States and from more recent events.

Co-operation of the entire community has been asked by Chairman Morris.

Thousands of visitors are expected to come here for the celebration, expected to attract attention throughout the nation.

TWO MEN KILLED AT HAWKINSVILLE

Autoists Believed From Lima, Ohio, Crushed as Car Hits River Bridge.

HAWKINSVILLE, Ga., March 2. (AP)—Two Ohio men were killed today as their automobile struck the cement railing of a bridge on the outskirts of Hawkinsville.

Fred J. Clark, local undertaker, said the men were Arthur Houk, of Urbana or Lima, and L. D. Metzger, of Lima, Ohio. He said a motorist who witnessed the accident told him the two men apparently had fallen asleep in their automobile.

Clark said identification of the men was made from papers in their pockets and from information given him by George Ritzler, their employer, in a telephone conversation from Detroit, Michigan.

The two men carried in their automobile posters advertising donkey baseball games and were advance agents for this entertainment feature.

Clark said Ritzler told him he would be here tomorrow to take charge of the bodies of the two men. The undertaker said he did not know the names of any relatives of the dead men.

The car was demolished, the engine having been driven into the seats by the force of the impact. Both men were crushed inside the wreckage.

R. O. PITTS, EX-MAYOR, DIES AT CEDARTOWN

CEDARTOWN, Ga., March 2.—Robert Owen Pitts, 75, president of the Commercial bank and former mayor of Cedartown, died at his home here this afternoon following several days' illness of heart trouble.

He was a native of Hamilton, Harris county, and moved to Cedartown as a young man and entered the clothing business. He was one of the organizers of the Commercial bank in 1889 and became president in 1905. He married Miss Forrest Fielder, of Cuthbert. He was a steward in the First Methodist church and was a Mason. He was active in all civic affairs of Cedartown and much of the city's progress has been due to his leadership.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, R. O. Pitts Jr., of Cincinnati, and Lewis G. Pitts, of Atlanta; one daughter, Mrs. J. V. Blackwell, of Birmingham; one brother, James M. Pitts, and one sister, Mrs. J. H. Stewart, both of Cedartown.

Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. Marvin Williams, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Life Term Prisoner Surrenders to Officer

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—A man listed as Byron Phillips, escaped life-termer from the Pierce county chain gang, surrendered here today and was returned to the prison camp.

At the offices of the prison commission in Atlanta, it was said that Phillips, convicted of murder in Pierce county November 2, 1934, escaped February 13. The commission had received no word of his rearrest.

CITIES URGED TO AID RURAL EDUCATION

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 2.—(AP) Cities of Georgia, says J. Marvin Starr, superintendent of schools at Newnan, would do well to take particular interest in education of children in country districts.

Speaking at a meeting of the Kiwanis club here, Starr said if such children did not grow up to become good citizens, the cities are likely to suffer.

Of Georgia's 900,000 children of school age, 600,000 are in the country, he said.

Dublin Attorney

Miss Aretha Miller, shown above, is the only woman lawyer in Dublin. She is a member of the law firm of Dampier and Miller.

DR. AXSON'S RITES ARE HELD AT ROME

Brother-in-Law of President Wilson Rests Beside Parents in Myrtle Hill.

ROME, Ga., March 2.—In the ivy-covered First Presbyterian church which he attended as a boy during the 16 years of his father's pastorate here, final rites were said today for Dr. Stockton Axson, brother-in-law of the late President Woodrow Wilson.

In the same church 20 years ago President Wilson attended the funeral of his first wife, Ellen Axson Wilson, and in the family lot where she is buried in Myrtle Hill, the flower-banked bier of her brother was lowered this afternoon.

In accordance with a wish he expressed to Mrs. Hallie Rounsaville, a friend of Mrs. Wilson, during a visit here years ago, Dr. Axson was buried next to his mother who with her husband, Rev. Samuel Edward Axson, is also buried in the Axson family lot.

Only former friends of Dr. Axson and his family here attended the brief services at the church and at the cemetery, which were conducted by Dr. E. R. Leyburn, pastor of the church. Ben King, of Washington, and Wayde Hoyt, of Rome, cousins of Dr. Axson, represented the family.

Dr. Axson died at his home in Houston on Tuesday and his body was accompanied here this morning by the president and two other members of the faculty of Rice Institute where Dr. Axson had taught for the past 14 years. Prior to that time Dr. Axson was a member of the faculty of Princeton University for 15 years. During the World War he served as secretary general of the American Red Cross. After the war, Dr. Axson was with President Wilson in Paris during the peace negotiations.

By special request one of Dr. Axson's favorite hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross," was sung at the church service by Mrs. George Murphy. Dr. Leyburn read the 23rd Psalm.

Dr. Edgar Lovett, president of Rice Institute, and Dr. A. D. McKillop and Dr. J. T. McCants, of the institute's faculty accompanied the body here. Miss Willa Boord, a friend of Dr. Axon's from Houston, also attended the funeral.

One sister, Mrs. Margaret Axson Elliott, of Beverly Hills, Cal., survives of the immediate family; two nieces, Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, of Los Angeles, and Miss Margaret Wilson, of New York, also survive.

PLEASANT A. STOVALL IMPROVES AT AUGUSTA

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Pleasant A. Stovall, editor of the Savannah Evening Press, who has been in a hospital in Augusta, has recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital and go to the home of his sister-in-law, Miss Harriett Ganahl, in Augusta.

Mr. Stovall had a cataract removed from his left eye. Mrs. Stovall has been in Augusta with her husband for the past two weeks. It is expected he will return to his work on the Evening Press within a few weeks.

EX-GOVERNOR SWEET VISITS WARM SPRINGS

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 2. (AP)—Former Governor William E. Sweet, of Colorado, arrived here today with Mrs. Sweet for a short visit at the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, President Roosevelt's "other home," at the invitation of George Foster Peabody, the philanthropist, who is one of the foundation trustees.

Sweet, who is present education director of the NRA, is en route to Washington after a Florida vacation.

HENDERSON ACQUITTED IN COLUMBUS SLAYING

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 2.—(AP) Charlie Henderson was acquitted of a charge of murder in connection with the death, December 30, of E. B. Watson by a jury in Muscogee superior court tonight.

Henderson was jointly indicted with Henry Fuller and Adrian Trussell. Fuller and Trussell both were found guilty at previous trials and are under sentences of life imprisonment.

The state contended that Watson was killed during a robbery attempt.

ATHENS GLEE CLUB OPENS AT CLEMSON

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—The Girls' Glee Club of the University of Georgia left here today for Clemson College, S. C., in its first out-of-state appearance, and the first appearance anywhere this season.

The club, which includes 25 co-eds, wil present a series of concerts at Clemson College. The first was scheduled for tonight. Tomorrow morning various groups from the club will sing at churches in Clemson.

Girl Scout Organization Founded at Savannah

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 2.—(AP) Plans for celebration on March 12 of the 23d anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts attracted unusual interest here because the late Mrs. Juliette Low founded the organization in Savannah.

The first Girl Scout is claimed by Savannah. She is Mrs. Sam Lawrence, who now resides in West Virginia.

ACREAGE INCREASE FOR WATERMELONS SEEN IN GEORGIA

Planting of South Georgia Crop To Start Next Week, Seedsmen Say.

By JOE DAVIS.

VALDOSTA, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—South Georgia's farmers plan to begin planting their watermelon crop next week and indications from seed distributors throughout the belt today pointed to a material increase in the acreage, as compared to last year.

The melons will be planted during the coming week and the next week, say county agricultural agents in several south Georgia counties, and the outlook for a balmy spring has brought predictions of rapid growth of the vines.

The melon crop is one of the major crops of southern Georgia, ranking with tobacco and cotton as among the leading money crops for the farmers.

Practically all the melons produced in the south Georgia belt, as well as those from northern Florida, are sold on northern and eastern markets. The melons are shipped in iced freight cars.

Seed men here have predicted a large increase in the immediate acreage, and reports from the Sowega Association, a large melon marketing co-operative organization, at Adel, say that the seed supply of Sowega Watson melons, one of the main products of the association, already is exhausted.

The melons, growing through the spring months, ripen in the summer. The market begins early in the summer and reaches its peak about July 4.

Georgia News Told in Brief

Elberton Kiwanis Meet.

ELBERTON, Ga., March 2.—The Elberton Kiwanis Club held its weekly luncheon last night with Rock Branch Consolidated school, putting on an entertainment afterward for the benefit of the school.

Speaks at McDonough.

McDONOUGH, Ga., March 2.—P. Y. Luther, of Griffin, was guest speaker at a barbecue Thursday at the Masonic hall, given fy Fraternal Lodge No. 37, under the direction of T. J. Brown Jr., worshipful master. Other visitors included Rev. Horace S. Smith, of Milledgeville, and Rev. L. W. Blackwiler, of Griffin.

Wilkes School Fund.

WASHINGTON, Ga., March 2.—Snowden B. Savage, county superintendent of schools, is advised that the state is due the Wilkes county system $16,694.39. Sixty per cent of this amount will shortly be paid from the diversion of road funds.

Local county schools owe nothing and have more than $5,000 in the bank.

Wilkes Hogs Sold.

WASHINGTON, Ga., March 2.—Martha Berry schools are the latest buyers of Wilkes county Poland China sows for breeding, as they took two at $50 each. The Wilkes County Poland China Club has furnished like stock to 17 other Georgia counties, and one in South Carolina.

Lecture at Hampton.

HAMPTON, Ga., March 1.—Arnold Wilson Little will lecture here Saturday night at the Hampton Baptist school auditorium. He will intersperse his lecture with musical numbers.

Columbus Flower Show.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 2.—(AP) A flower show will be held here May 4 and 5 under auspices of the United Garden Club.

Reserve Corps Meet.

DAHLONEGA, Ga., March 2.—The first of three United States army reserve corps meetings in March was held here Friday evening with a discussion on combat orders. Captain Kirby Green, professor of military science and tactis at North Georgia College, was in charge.

Gets Carrier Post.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 2. Darwin V. Brake, who has for 14 years served as substitute mail carrier at the Milledgeville postoffice, received appointment this week to a regular route, succeeding J. A. Benford, who recently retired.

Only Four Republicans in Georgia Legislature

C. W. KIKER, R. T. HAMPTON, J. E. BARNARD, CARL DARNELL

Out of 51 senators and 205 representatives in the Georgia state legislature, only four are republicans. Left to right, they are Senator C. W. Kiker, of the 41st district; Representative R. T. Hampton, of Fannin county; Representative J. E. Barnard, of Towns county; Representative Carl Darnell, of Pickens county. Photo by Associated Press.

Shoe Shine Price War Causes Augusta Fight

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 2.—(AP) Police stepped in here to uphold the ancient right of economic competition in the business of—shining shoes!

Two youngsters were brought in for fighting. Ones aid the other was cutting price shines from 5 to 3 cents. Police rebuked the 5-cent shiner, and told him he could not enforce his code on the other boy.

DISTRICT KIWANIANS MEET AT MONTEZUMA

MONTEZMUA, Ga., March 2.—The Kiwanis clubs of the fifth division of the state association held their first meeting of the year in Montezuma Thursday night, guests at a dinner given by the Montezuma club. The district includes the clubs of Macon, Milledgeville, Jones county, Cordele, Fort Valley, Vidalia and Montezuma, all of which were represented except Vidalia.

Following an address of welcome by Dr. J. A. Thomas, Dr. R. H. Saunders, president of the local club, introduced Dr. Francis Daniel, of Milledgeville, lieutenant governor of the district, who addressed the meeting on the ideals and purposes of the organization.

A musical program of local talent, arranged by Ed M. McKenzie, included a solo by Mrs. C. L. DeVaughn Jr., Mrs. Cullen Richardson, accompanist; musical readings by Miss Claire McKenzie, Mrs. Harry Maffett, accompanist; musical readings by Miss Marian McKenzie, Mrs. Cullen Richardson, accompanist; a dance by Miss Frances Richardson, and a vocal selection by Lawrence McKenzie, Mrs. Cullen Richardson, accompanist.

Church Revived.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 2. (AP)—Montpelier church, historic old Methodist church here, has been revived after a period of inactivity of several years. Rev. W. C. Budd, of the Midway Methodist church, will serve as pastor.

Governor's Son To Represent University in Debate Series

Herman Talmadge, left, son of Governor Eugene Talmadge, and Aubrey Evans, of Rebecca, who will represent the University of Georgia in a series of debates in New Orleans. Associated Press photos.

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Herman Talmadge, who has shown some of the flair for public speaking that twice swept his father, Eugene Talmadge, into the governor's office in Georgia, will try out his talents on New Orleans audiences next week.

The governor's son and Aubrey Evans, of Rebecca, a schoolmate at the University of Georgia, will represent the university in a series of debates in the Louisiana city.

They will uphold the affirmative of the subject: "R. O. T. C. Training Should be Compulsory in American Land Grant Colleges."

They meet Loyola March 5; Tulane University March 6; Sophie Newcomb March 7.

Young Talmadge is president of the university chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity, a member of the Biftad Club and Pan Hellenic Council, and is prominent in campus activities. He is a law student.

Evans is president of the freshman law class and of the Demosthenian Literary Society. He is also a member of Blue Key and Senior Round Table, campus organizations. He won an essay contest at the university last year and is active in debating circles, as is Talmadge.

SOCIAL WORK MEET SET FOR COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 2.—Miss Mary Dickinson, executive secretary of the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association, and a past president of the Georgia conference on social work, Saturday, urged social workers, board members of welfare agencies, ministers, teachers, and laymen interested in humanitarian endeavor, to support the Georgia conference on social work to be held at Columbus April 14-17, by sending in their memberships to the administrative office at 11 Pryor Street building, Atlanta.

"There is no doubt," said Miss Dickinson, "that the old individualistic leadership in the field of social work is being pushed into the background and in its place there is today a spirit of group leadership and concentrated action. Actual membership in the conference is an essential factor in developing the group psychology of the gathering, and it is only through this whole-hearted co-operation and joining of forces that we can set up the sense of responsibility that ultimately expresses itself in action. In recognition of the splendid work being accomplished by our conference, every social worker, board member, and interested private citizen should send in the small membership fee whether they expect to attend or not.

"Last year more than 1,500 persons attended the Georgia conference on social work at Macon, and we are hoping for even a still larger number this year," Miss Dickinson added.

Elaborate arrangemenst are being made for the four-day conference. Important local welfare problems will be discussed and the sessions will be addressed by nationally known social workers, it is announced.

TOWNS FARMERS PLAN TO HEAR TVA PROGRAM

YOUNG HARRIS, Ga., March 2. The farmers of Towns county will meet March 5 at Hiawassee to hear the plans and purposes of the agricultural section of the Tennessee Valley Authority and the setup for co-operation between the TVA, the Georgia extension service and the farmers of the county.

Mr. Landis, of the TVA; C. G. Gardner, marketing specialist, and E. O. Alexander, crop specialist of the Georgia extension service, will be the speakers.

A large number of the farmers of the county are expected to attend the meeting.

T. L. Asbury, district agent of the Georgia extension service, will have the program in charge.

MISS SUE STOKER, SHOWALTER KIN, SUCCESS AS SINGER

DALTON, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—The grand-daughter of one of the south's most famous music publishers and composers is making a name for herself in another field of music—singing.

She is Miss Sue Stoker, granddaughter of the late Professor A. J. Showalter, whose songs appear in church and Sunday school hymnals throughout the land.

The young singer, a former resident of Dalton, is the daughter of Mrs. W. A. Nortrip, of Denison, Texas. She is now starring with an orchestra playing to ballroom and supper club engagements.

At the age of six, Miss Stoker made her debut as a soloist in the First Presbyterian church of Dalton where her mother, the former Miss Leno Showalter, was organist.

Miss Stoker appeared at the Century of Progress in Chicago last summer and has made appearances with several orchestras and on the stage.

She is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Summerour, member of a prominent Dalton family.

SAVANNAHANS OPPOSE RETAIL SALES TAX

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Fred A. Davis, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, has expressed opposition to the proposed 5 per cent retail sales tax and a delegation from Savannah is expected to appear at a hearing in the legislature Monday in Atlanta.

'Baby Bond' Sale Brisk, Macon Postmaster Says

MACON, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—More requests for "baby bonds" of the United States treasury department, placed on sale at the local postoffice, than could be met immediately were received, it was announced by P. T. Anderson, acting postmaster, who said that a telegraphic request had been made for a new supply of the securities.

The first shipment was sent here without requisition and was comparatively small, he said.

State Deaths And Funerals

MRS. L. E. BARBER.

LAGRANGE, Ga., March 2.—The death of Mrs. L. E. Barber, 78, occurred at her home near LaGrange Friday following a long illness.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 11 o'clock at the Mount Pleasant Baptist church, with Rev. W. P. Crumby, pastor, officiating. Interment will follow in the Mount Pleasant cemetery.

She was a native of Heard county.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Heard, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Lola Bagwell, of Stone Mountain; eight sons, E. O. Barber, of Franklin; T. E. Barber, of Newnan; G. A. Barber and J. B. Barber, of East Point; W. G. Barber, of LaGrange; C. G. Barber, of Savannah; F. B. Barber, of Nashville, and J. C. Barber, of Franklin; one sister, Mrs. Alice Bennett, of Louisville, Ky., and one brother, D. E. Matthews, of Franklin.

MRS. W. J. HARDY.

LAGRANGE, Ga., March 2.—Funeral services for Mrs. W. J. Hardy, 75, whose death occurred Friday at the residence near Big Springs following a short illness, were held Saturday at the Chipley Methodist church, with Rev. Guy T. Pittman, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, LaGrange, officiating.

Surviving are her husband, W. J. Hardy; one daughter, Miss Ruth Hardy, and two brothers, Jim and Robert Dunlap, of Chipley.

MRS. SARAH BRAKE.

CLARKESVILLE, Ga., March 2.—Mrs. Sarah Staley Brake, of Clarkesville and Atlanta, died here Saturday. The funeral will be held in Milledgeville Sunday at 3 o'clock at St. Stephens Episcopal church.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. T. H. Caraker, of Atlanta, and five grandchildren, T. H. Caraker, of Philadelphia, Pa.; George W. Caraker, Charlotte; Mrs. Charles I. Mann, of Jacksonville; James Gregory, of Atlanta, and Charles E. Brake, of Atlanta.

JAMES L. DICKSON.

LUELLA, Ga., March 2.—James Loyd Dickson, 61, died at his home here Saturday morning.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, Hugh and Clarence Dickson, of Luella; W. C. Dickson, of Atlanta; one sister, Mrs. Ida Barham, of Hampton.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Baptist church at Locust Grove with interment in the churchyard cemetery.

JOHN A. McCAIN.

AUSTELL, Ga., March 2.—John A. McCain, 83, one of Austell's leading citizens, passed away Friday evening at his residence.

Besides his wife he is survived by the following children: W. H. McCain, of Birmingham; Mrs. Laura Hambrick, of Villa Rica; Mrs. J. R. Williamson and Mrs. M. A. Camp, of Austell; R. L. McCain, A. D. McCain and C. V. McCain, of Atlanta, and Mrs. R. N. Clay, of Nashville, Tennessee.

Funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Austell Methodist church with Rev. S. A. F. Wagner and Rev. A. T. Hind officiating. Interment will be in Rose Hill cemetery in charge of Latham Lodge No. 12, F. & A. M.

Officer 31 Years

J. J. Stanley, 75, has been on the Griffin police orce for 31 years. For 11 years he was chief of the force, but a few years ago he was made a sergeant and put on desk work. Policemen of today have an easy time of it as compared with what they did several years ago, Stanley says.

GEORGIA TEACHERS TO HOLD SESSION AT MACON IN APRIL

5,000 Expected To Attend AnnualConvention; Program Announced.

MACON, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—School teachers, who in days gone by emphasized the three R's and the hickory switch, will talk "new deal" educational methods here April 11, 12 and 13, when hundreds of educators come here for the Georgia Education Association's annual convention.

The keynote of the convention, says Miss Allie Mann, of Atlanta, president of the G. E. A., will be "a discussion of the new demands on education in view of changed conditions, greater leisure, etc.

"Direction of students in extra-curricular activities will be discussed from various viewpoints.

Music Chorus.

"One feature of the convention—and a feature along this line of thought—will be an all-state music chorus and chorus contest. Emphasis also will be placed on art, and on proper use of English in cultural activities."

She said changes in social and economic life of the nation had brought the need for greater emphasis on extra-curricular and other cultural training outside the classroom.

Kyle T. Alfriend, of Macon, said today that more than 5,000 school teachers are expected to attend the convention. He said the program at the coming meeting, which was prepared by Miss Mann and heads of several departments and allied organizations, "is one of the best the association has ever had."

The association, Alfriend said, represents more than 10,000 white teachers of the state and is composed of leading educators in public schools and colleges.

He said nationally prominent speakers who address the meeting, including Dr. William McAndrew, of New York, former superintendent of schools of Chicago, and now associate editor of School and Society, and The Nation's Schools; Dean Ralph Dennis, of the school of speech, Northwestern University, and a student of Russia; Dr. Arthur I. Gates, of Teachers' College, New York, and Chancellor Philip Weltner, of the University System of Georgia, will be among the outstanding speakers at the convention.

Prominent Georgians who are to address the convention include T. Hicks Fort, of Columbus; De Lacy Allen, of Albany, state commander of the American Legion, and Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools.

The all-state high school chorus of 250 boys and girls will be directed by Griffith Jones, director of music in Shaker Heights school, Cleveland, Ohio.

Art and commercial exhibits will be arranged for the convention.

Sessions of the G. E. A. convention itself will be held in the municipal auditorium.

Many to Meet.

Numerous affiliated organizations also will hold meetings here, such as: Superintendents' and Public School Officials' Association; Dr. M. D. Collins, president; Georgia Association of Superintendents, F. F. Rowe, of La Grange, president; Georgia High School Association, R. L. Ramsey, Atlanta, president; Elementary Classroom Teachers' Association, Miss Terrell Holt, Macon, president; Two-year High School Association, W. C. Clary Jr., Millen, president; Georgia Council of English, Dr. R. E. Park, Athens, president; Georgia Classical Association, Miss Gwynne Cannon, Albany, president; department of modern languages, Paul West, East Point, president; department of mathematics, Bess Patton, Atlanta, chairman, and department of secondary and higher education, J. E. Greene, Athens, president.

Various other specialized groups also will hold sessions, including the Georgia Art Teachers' Association, headed by A. Laura E. Blackshear, of Athens; the Vocational Association, headed by M. D. Mobley, of Atlanta.

In addition, meetings of graduates of various colleges in the state also will hold meetings.

University Briefs

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—University debaters will meet Stanford University here Friday evening and discuss the subject: "All Collective Bargaining Should Be Carried on in Non-company Unions, Safeguarded by Law." Speakers have not been announced.

Square and Compass, Masonic sponsored University of Georgia organization, will initiate William Daniel, Athens; Stanley Ebner, Marietta; Robert Smith, Winder, and Boyce Wilder, Athens, Tuesday night, Clifford D. Lunceford, of Sparta, president, announced the ceremony today.

Chancellor Philip Weltner, of the University System, will speak to the University Sunday school class at First Presbyterian church tomorrow morning.

More 1934 University of Georgia graduates have entered the field of teaching than any other field, says Professor H. B. Ritchie, of the college of education. He says 30 per cent of the 1934 graduates are teaching.

The Science Club has announced that Dr. J. Burton Kincer, principal meteorologist and chief of the division of climate and crop weather for the United States weather bureau, will speak to the club Friday evening. His subject will be "Man and His Climate."

Seven representatives of the voluntary religious association of the university will meet with the Savannah Rotary Club in Savannah Tuesday. En route home, they will stop off at South Georgia Teachers' College at Statesboro to aid that college's celebration of religious welfare week. Those on the trip will be Carl Wells, of Washington; Claud Green, Clayton; Laura Rogers, Dahlonega; Margaret Steele, Savannah; Agnes Highsmith, Baxley, and Pratt Adams, Savannah. E. L. Secrest, director of the association, will accompany them.

LIONS OF SOPERTON VISIT VIDALIA CLUB

VIDALIA, Ga., March 2.—The Vidalia Lions Club were host to the Soperton club at the New Vidalia hotel Thursday evening.

Associate Governor Henderson, of the Savannah district, addressed the organization. Other speakers included President Bashinsky, of the Savannah Lions; Professor McDonald, Colonel Stallings and Colonel Jackson, of the Soperton club.

R. E. Saffold, president of the Vidalia club, presided.

'RACKET' INCOMES FACING U. S. PROBE

Page To Scrutinize Amounts Whether Returns Made or Not.

Atlanta's racketeers—number game operators, bootleggers and lottery kings—must face an exhaustive investigation of their incomes during 1933 and 1932 regardless of whether or not they filed returns in those years, it was announced Saturday by Internal Revenue Collector W. E. Page, who indicated that he will leave no stone unturned in pushing the probe.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin recently supplied the internal revenue department with a list of the city's major racketeers and the list is now being checked over in preparation for an intensive probe of racketeer incomes during 1933 and 1932.

After announcing that seven of the men on Solicitor-General Boykin's list had filed income tax returns in 1933, Mr. Page said that the records for 1932 would also be checked and that even filing of returns would not save the racketeers from further investigation in the event thy declared only small incomes.

"We have a pretty fair idea of what some of these men earned in 1933 and the previous year, and it is my intention to send out investigators from this department to check over their records, private ledgers and bank deposits.

"The internal revenue department is not in business to prosecute gangsters and racketeers, but if it is evident that these men have been defrauding the United States government by failing to pay the income taxes due the government we will turn our information over to the department of justice, which will prepare cases for presentation to the United States attorney and the federal grand jury."

YIDDISH ACTRESS ON WGST PROGRAM

Celia Adler, famous Yiddish actress who is to appear at the Erlanger Sunday evening, will be heard in a novel radio program over station WGST this afternoon from 12:45 to 1 o'clock.

Miss Adler, who is the daughter of the late Jacob P. Adler, peer of the Yiddish stage, and several members of her company will present a program of impersonations, recitations and folk songs. The noted actress began her career at the age of 2, and shortly after she was 17 became the leading woman of the Yiddish Art theater. Starring in English as well as Yiddish productions Miss Adler has toured Europe and South America, and is now playing in important southern cities.

Friendliness of Hounds Aids Prisoner's Escape

HOUSTON, Texas, March 2.—(AP)—Edward McHugh, a prisoner at the city farm, made a clean getaway—bloodhounds and all.

He smashed a bunkhouse window yesterday and fled with three fellow inmates, who, being less fortunate, were captured.

Three of the farm's fiercest bloodhounds were set on McHugh's trail. The prisoner plunged into a bayou and swam across. The hounds followed, and were supposed, like all good bloodhounds, to tree McHugh.

Instead, they took a liking to him and followed at his heels. They followed him to a city park where McHugh, announcing he was a prison guard after a fugitive, asked a keeper to accept custody of the dogs, explaining:

"I haven't time to dally with the hounds."

Four hours later prison guards found the dogs—asleep.

McHugh still is missing.

MRS. SARA D. CHENEY PASSES AT AGE OF 75

Mrs. Sara Dennis Cheney, well-known resident of Atlanta for 20 years, died Saturday morning at her residence at 684 North Highland avenue, N. E. She was 75, and a native of Shellman, Ga.

Mrs. Cheney was a member of the Druid Hills Baptist church, in which she had been active since coming here. Surviving are two sons, Tom A. Chaney, of New Orleans, and L. W. Cheney, of Columbus; a daughter, Mrs. Sara C. Odum, of Atlanta; a sister, Mrs. C. A. Redding, of Macon; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 oclock this afternoon at Spring Hill, with Dr. Louie D. Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist church, officiating, and interment will be in West View cemetery.

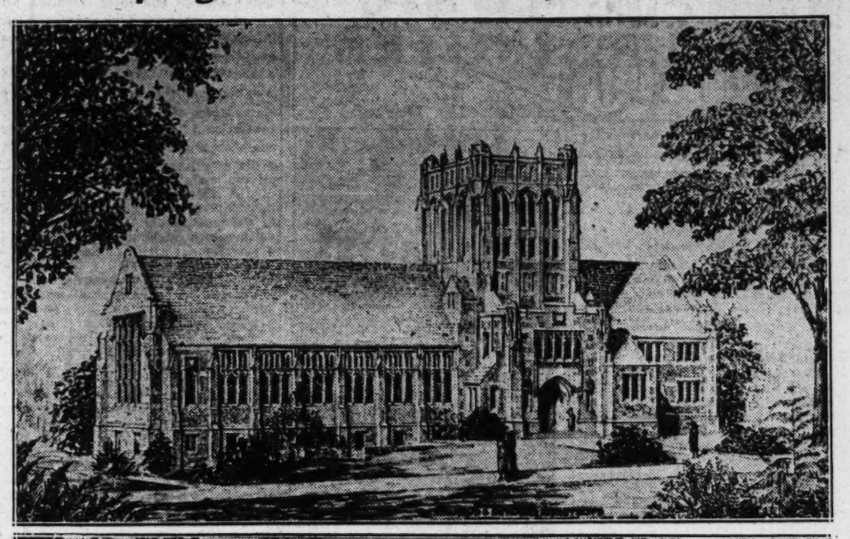

RESERVE LIEUTENANTS PUT ON ACTIVE DUTY

Eight second lieutenants of the United States army air corps reserve, including four southerners, were ordered to active duty for one year with a tactical unit of the air corps, according to orders published by Major General George Van Horn Moseley.

Now on duty at Chapman field, Miami, the officers were directed to take training until February 20, 1936, unless sooner relieved.

The second lieutenants are William Eades, Lexington; James B. Hay, Waterlob, Iowa; J. W. Hinton, Port Arthur, Texas; William B. Keese, Wyoming, N. J.; Richmond A. Livingstone, Pawtuckett, R. I.; George R. McMahon, Huntington, W. Va.; Ralph W. Rodieck, San Antonio, Texas, and Frank C. Stone, Wichita, Kansas.

New Library, Science Hall for Agnes Scott If Campaign To Raise $233,000 Is Success

Expansion of Agnes Scott College through the erection of two new buildings—a library and a science hall—will take place if the college is successful in its campaign to raise $233,000, which will be matched by $217,000 from the general education board to make a total of $450,000. At the top is shown the proposed new library, to cost $200,000, while the lower photograph is a view of the new science hall, to cost $100,000. The remaining $150,000 of the fund will be utilized for endowment purposes.

Agnes Scott College will erect a new library and new science hall if its present campaign to raise $233,000, which will be matched by $217,000 from the general education board, is successful, according to Dr. J. R. McCain, president of the college.

The addition of the two buildings represents part of the program for the completion of the greater Agnes Scott. The new library is designed to include three times the space of the present structure and may be enlarged to six times the present space. It may also contain a central tower which will, if built, house a museum for the preservation of rare documents and other treasures which the college might now possess had it adequate facilities for their preservation and exhibition.

The present library is to be converted into a student activities building. The main reading room is to be used for a general recreational hall, and the various smaller rooms to be assigned to the separate student groups.

A new science hall is planned to house the departments of biology and botany, and Dr. McCain added that at some future time it is hoped to include here a department of the home. This, he explained, is to be a "kind of glorified home economics course." The present science hall is to be devoted to the departments of chemistry and physics. The site of the new building has not been definitely decided yet.

For further beautification of the campus the drive in front of Buttrick hall is to be extended from McDonough to Candler street. It will probably pass where the infirmary stands now, and the infirmary will be turned around to face it. This drive will also be connected with the drive in front of Agnes Scott hall, so that one may drive from one part of the campus to another.

The success of these plans depends on the ability of the college and board of trustees to raise the required $233,000. Dr. McCain said that the prospect was much brighter now than in December.

Bronx Home of Bruno Available for Rental

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—For Rent: Flat at 1279 222d street, the Bronx; until recently has been occupied by representatives of New Jersey state police.

One board is missing from attic, the same having been taken to Flemington, N. J., as evidence in a murder trial; also missing is a closet panel on which had been written the telephone number of a Dr. John F. Condon.

Overlooks a garage in which $14,600 was found last October.

Prior to renting to New Jersey police flat was tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

SOUTHERN B'NAI B'RITH MEETS NEXT SUNDAY

Several hundred B'nai B'rith members from Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina, Virginia, District of Columbia, and Maryland are expected to participate in the 59th convention of District Grand Lodge No. 5, of B'nai B'rith, to be held in Atlanta Sunday and Monday, March 10 and 11.

Plans for the meeting have been completed, it was announced Saturday by Hyman S. Jacobs, general chairman of the convention committee. Included in the two-day program will be business sessions, banquets, luncheons, sightseeing trips and a visit to the Hebrew orphans' home here, which is maintained largely by B'nai B'rith.

The most important feature of the convention will be a mass meeting at the temple Sunday evening at which time Dr. A. L. Sachar, of Chicago, will deliver the principal address. Dr. Sachar, a speaker of note, is professor of history at the University of Illinois and national director of B'nai B'rith foundations at American colleges. He spoke in Atlanta about two months ago and won such wide acclaim that he was invited to return and address the B'nai B'rith convention. Official headquarters will be at the Ansley hotel and the gathering will be climaxed by an elaborate banquet and dance at the Standard Club on Monday evening.

Officers and members of the District Grand Lodge No. 5 executive committee are Dr. Leon Banov, Charleston, president; A. Shefferman, Washington, D. C., first vice president; William Goodhart, Baltimore, treasurer; Edwin L. Levy, Richmond, secretary; H. A. Alexander, Atlanta, constitution grand lodge representative; Sidney J. Stern, Greensboro, N. C.; L. J. Levitas, Atlanta; David Davis, Jacksonville, and Joseph Fromberg, Charleston, committeemen.

SWISS LECTURER COMING TO EMORY FOR FOUR TALKS

Guillaume Fatio, Swiss scholar and Carnegie peace envoy to American universities, will deliver four lectures at Emory University March 11 through 15, it was announced Saturday.

M. Fatio's first lecture in Atlanta will be given Tuesday night, March 12, at 8 o'clock in the Glenn Memorial auditorium. This lecture, "Geneva: The New Home of the Nations," will be illustrated.

He speaks at noon Wednesday before the Social Science Club in the university's theology chapel, and at the same place Thursday before the Alliance Francaise.

Following a dinner at the Hotel Biltmore Friday night, M. Fatio will speak on "The International Center: The Work of the Semi-Official and Private International Organizations." The public is invited. No admission will be charged.

DEKALB COUNTY DRYS HOLD 2 RALLIES TODAY

Ardent drys of DeKalb county will hold a mass meeting at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the DeKalb courthouse in Decatur, at which Representative Paul L. Lindsay and William Schley Howard, former congressman, will be the principal speakers. Judge Murphey Candler Jr., will preside as chairman and all DeKalb county legislators have been invited to be present.

A similar meeting will be held at the same hour at the Chamblee Baptist church, Chamblee, at which Mrs. Mary Harris Armor will be the speaker. W. E. Dendy, president of the University School for Boys, will preside.

SPECIAL

AT STODDARD'S—THIS WEEK

MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY ONLY

Particular Atlantans may now enjoy the elegance of STODDARD'S matchless cleaning—at new and worthwhile saving. Please note our Special offering is limited to 3 days—Monday thru Wednesday.

DELIVERY SERVICE 15c EXTRA PHONE HE. 8900

Stoddard CLEANERS

Plant—West Peachtree St., at 3rd St. and 6 Convenient Community Stores

Do you tire easily?

no appetite? nervous? losing weight? pale?

then don't gamble with your body

1 If your physical let-down is evidenced by lack of appetite... loss of weight... nervousness... paleness... a tired feeling or lassitude caused by a lowered red-blood-cell and hemo-glo-bin content in the blood—then S.S.S. is waiting to help you... though, if you suspect an organic trouble, you will, of course, want to consult a physician or surgeon.

Let S.S.S. help build back your blood tone... if your case is not exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetising food... sound sleep... and renewed strength.

2 Take a course of S.S.S. Remember, your present run-down condition may have been a slow, gradual process. Likewise, a reasonable time is required to rebuild full strength. S.S.S. is not a miracle worker—no rebuilding tonic is—but it is a scientifically proven and time-tested medicine. This is your guarantee of satisfaction. Its benefits are progressive... accumulative... and enduring.

3 Moreover, S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic. It is a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also has the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood. This two-fold purpose is important. Digestion is improved... food is better utilized ... and thus you are enabled to better "carry on" without exhaustion—as you should naturally.

If your condition suggests a tonic... if you tire easily... get a bottle of S.S.S.... take an appetizing portion just before meals. You will find it is truly a blood and body tonic. You may have the will-power to be "up and doing" but unless your blood is in top notch form you are not fully yourself and you may remark, "I wonder why I tire so easily."

S.S.S. is sold by all drug stores in two convenient sizes. The $2 economy size is twice as large as the $1.25 regular size and is sufficient for two weeks treatment. Begin on the uproad today. S.S.S. is really an inexpensive way to better health and more happiness. So many say, "S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again."

S.S.S. TONIC

Makes you feel like yourself again © S.S.S. Co.

Auto Workers Take Strike Vote Monday

Automobile workers in Atlanta will vote Monday night on whether they will join in a strike of automobile workers all over the country, it was announced Saturday by C. H. Gillman, president of local No. 18,488 of the United Automobile Workers' Union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The meeting Monday is set for 7:30 o'clock, Gillman stated, and the vote which will determine the action of those workers affiliated with the federation will be in the form of a secret ballot.

CC Camps in State Expected To Double

Number of civilian conservation corps camps in Georgia will be doubled if the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill now before congress is approved, it was announced Saturday at Fourth Corps Area headquarters.

Georgia at present has 33 CCC camps, with a total enrollment of 6,660. Army plans provide for increasing the number of camps to 65, which will make possible an enrollment of approximately 13,000 youths.

This state ranks second in the number of CCC workers, North Carolina holding the lead with an enrollment of 7,150. Alabama is third with 6,050. Tennessee, however, has the most camps, numbering 57 at present.

CUMMING RITES TODAY FOR MRS. J. L. COBB

Funeral services for Mrs. J. L. Cobb, who died Friday afternoon at her home near Cumming, will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning at the Holbrook Camp Ground, near Cumming. The Rev. V. O. Jackson and the Rev. J. L. Moore will officiate. Grandsons will act as pallbearers.

Mrs. Cobb was a well-known resident of the vicinity and is survived by her husband; two sons, Pierce and Marvin Cobb; three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Phillips, Mrs. Pauline Hamby, and Mrs. T. D. Wilson; 15 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; two brothers, J. T. and J. A. Meaders, and two sisters, Mrs. S. B. Patterson and Mrs. C. F. Hays.

FHA KEY INDUSTRIES MEET HERE MARCH 11

John W. Millsaps, regional director for the federal housing administration, returned Saturday from Asheville, N. C., where he held a conference with W. D. Flanders, director of the field division of the FHA, relative to the key industries meetings, to be held here March 11, 12 and 13.

Leaders of industrial and civic organizations will attend the meetings, at the Biltmore hotel, to discuss promotion of business through participation in FHA activities.

Mr. Millsaps reported that the southeastern region of the FHA, headquarters of which are in Atlanta, has taken a decided spurt in the number of loans made in the last 30 days.

Palmist Clairvoyant and Crystal Readings.
Been before public since the age of 11. Given true advice on all affairs of life. Satisfaction assured.
Ask to see
MRS. MUNSELLA.
Make no mistake in number, 1830 Lakewood Ave., third stop below Lakewood Heights. Bring this ad for special 50c reading.
Hours 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Woman 'Mercy Slayer' of Son Is Freed From English Prison

MANCHESTER, England, March 2.—(AP)—Freed from jail and from the house by an act of mercy rare in British annals Mrs. May Brownhill, 62-year-old woman who was condemned to die for the "mercy murder" of her imbecile son, returned to her home in Burnbridge today.

The frail mother, who put her son Denis "to sleep" forever with sedatives after nursing him for 30 years, was led from the doors of Strangeways prison to an automobile which carried her to her husband and sister.

Her release was by order of the home secretary, whose prerogative it is not only to grant reprieve from death sentences but also to decide if prison terms shall be served.

Mrs. Brownhill, whose condition is very frail, spent most of her time in a hospital ward while in prison and soon must undergo a serious operation. Her solicitor, Herbert Atkinson, said that her release had been known for some time, but that at the special request of the home office was not divulged.

The home office thus has given fullest effect to the recommendation of the jury for mercy when the death sentence was passed. She was sentenced to be hanged on December 1. The judge ignored the recommendation for mercy but the jury's mercy suggestion was caught up by sympathetic persons from all over the British isles.

The frail Leeds woman had testified that she gave her son Denis 100 sedative tablets and gas because she feared an operation she faced might be fatal and deprive the helpless son of her attention.

Gems Worth $2,000 Stolen in Druid Hills

Jewels of greater sentimental than monetary value, including a number of wedding gifts, were taken from the home of Grier Martin, of 1099 Briarcliff road, during the family's absence on a vacation in Florida, it was reported to DeKalb county police Saturday.

Though Mr. Martin did not place a definite value on the loot obtained by burglars who entered the home by forcing the front door, it was estimated that the valuables could not be replaced for less than $2,000, according to the police.

PASTOR WILL SPEAK ON REHABILITATION

The part the church can and must play in the spiritual rehabilitation of the underprivileged, the homeless and destitute as illustrated by the practical Christian work at Wesley, will be told in two sermons today at the Ben Hill church in the morning at 11 o'clock and at the Jefferson Street church in the evening at 7 o'clock, by the Rev. Felton Williams, pastor of the Wesley Memorial church.

"No ordinary citizen of good circumstances, who has a home to go to at night, food to eat and warm clothes to wear, realizes the potential social dynamite in these classes driven to desperation by hunger, cold and lack of homes," he says. "They are the real recruits to the ranks of communism and of crime."

Mr. Williams will tell Sunday of the results obtained by dealing with this class as human beings, extending a friendly hand, by taking a real interest in their problems, and by ministering not only to their physical needs but to their spiritual needs also.

TORONTO POLICE STRIKE IS DEFINITELY "OFF"

TORONTO, March 2.—(AP)—Toronto police will not strike, Mayor James Simpson said today after a meeting of the board of police commissioners. The mayor said an amicable settlement was about to be reached and the expected strike was off.

He added the police commissioners would meet again late today and would hear a deputation from the police association.

The board of control will meet Monday to discuss restoration of the good conduct badge system, cancellation of which precipitated the strike threat and, if necessary, a special meeting of city council will be called, Mayor Simpson said.

Contract Will Have New Scoring Rules

YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Revised rules for contract bridge, involving changes in scoring, will be announced by the Whist Club March 18. They will go into effect April 1.

Because of the date of the announcement the start of the 150-rubber match between Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson and Mr. and Mrs. P. Hal Sims has been postponed a week until March 25.

KATHLEEN NORRIS IS GRANDMOTHER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—(AP)—The Norrises, Charles G. and Kathleen, American authors, became grandparents Friday. An eight-pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norris. The child will be named Kathleen.

The father is a graduate medical student at Stanford University and the mother is the former Alice McCreery, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Barker McCreery, of Tacoma, Wash.

KICKLIGHTER HEADS GLENNVILLE CHAMBER

GLENNVILLE, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—C. W. Kicklighter, vice president of the Glennville Bank, has been elected president of the chamber of commerce here. His son, Jean D. Kicklighter, was named secretary.

J. B. Seckinger was elected vice president and Max Slotin was re-elected treasurer.

NEW PASTOR NAMED FOR ATLANTA CHURCH

The Rev. F. W. Weigman, who formerly held the pastorate of the Christian church, of Williamston, N. C., has been appointed pastor of the Longley Avenue Christian church of Atlanta.

REV. WEIGMAN.

Mr. Weigman received his A. B. degree from Transylvania College, and his B. D. from the College of the Bible in Lexington, Ky. The church is looking forward to a successful future under the leadership of its new pastor.

The Magic Brain

Has Ingeniously Perfected a Radio with

A WORLD OF Entertainment

A WORLD OF VALUE

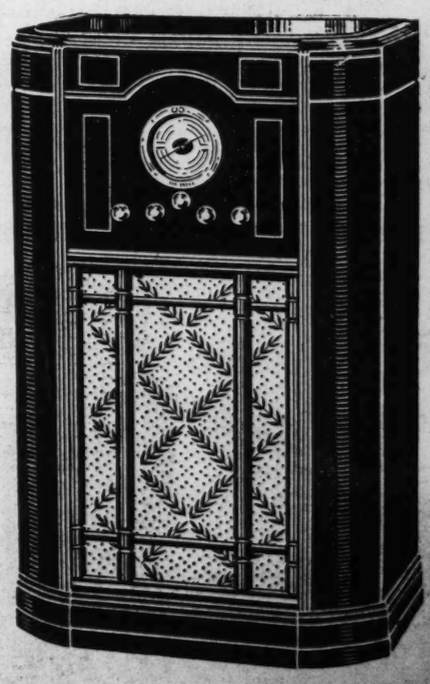

RCA VICTOR

Nothing Like It

Its action is remarkably like the human brain. You know what happens when you rouse from sleep . . . how the brain takes command . . . directs nerves and muscles so that they perform all necessary activities. Just so the "Magic Brain" functions in the RCA Victor. With precision it reaches out to the most remote part of the globe, and brings you High Fidelity tone . . . excluding unwanted signals and noises.

MODEL 243

132.50 Complete Installed

Prices Are Inviting

in that they offer the utmost for each dollar spent. A WORLD of Entertainment and a WORLD of Value in each RCA Victor set.

18.75 Up

5.00 down, balance easy

RADIOS FOURTH FLOOR

RICH'S

Deadly Black Widow Spiders Have Affinity for S. R. McGillis

Widows have an extremely popular attraction for some men, but Stanley R. McGillis, editor of Electrical South, wants them to stay away from his home on the Marietta highway at Spring Hill station. As a matter of fact, Editor McGillis makes no bones about his distrust and hatred for the widows. He refers, of coursce, to black widows.

Within the last three weeks, while Editor McGillis was raking leaves in the yard of his suburban home, he has found three black widow spiders, killed two of them and preserved one alive for observation.

The one he preserved alive was shown Friday to H. A. Carter, of the fish and game department, who nodded his head and said: "Yep, she's a Latrodectus mactans," which, translated into language a reporter understands, means black widow, the spider whose bite injects a deadly poison for which no serum has been produced.

Mr. McGillis confesses his uneasiness after his encounter with three of the dangerous insects and has consulted his family physician regarding possible cures for the bite of the insect.

The spiders, Mr. McGillis said, were found underneath leaves and boards.

Carter said it was not unusual to find the spiders in this locality and their discovery should not promote a general alarm.

GEORGIA ARTISTS' EXHIBITION TO END TODAY AT MUSEUM

Today is the last in which art lovers may view the exhibition of the Association of Georgia Artists now showing at the High Museum of Art, according to L. P. Skidmore, director of the museum. The exhibition, which is being shown in principal Georgia cities, will be packed Monday and sent to the next city.

Mr. Skidmore said Saturday this year's exhibition by the Georgia artists was the best presented by them in many years and the works in oils, charcoal and water colors are especially good. He urges every one who can to see the showing today.

A group of needle work pictures by Georgiana Brown Harveson, of New York city, will be shown at the museum beginning Wednesday and continuing through March 25, Mr. Skidmore announced. This exhibition is sponsored by the Piedmont Driving Club.

189 STILL AWAIT TRIAL DESPITE BUSY COURTS

Dudley Murder Trial Set for Tuesday Before Judge Pittman.

Although the courts were doing a rush business during the January-February term, with a visiting judge presiding in the emergency division each week and court often running into the night, 189 jail cases remain untried, according to a check made by Lewis P. Jones, calendar clerk. Of the total jail cases 133 are negroes. The recent wave of burglaries has resulted in 40 persons facing trial on burglary charges, of which 35 are negroes. Robberies come next in number, a total of 34 cases showing 24 of them to be against negroes.

There are now 20 murder cases awaiting disposition, of which six are white.

Trial of J. A. Dudley, former textile local head, charged with the murder of J. H. Patrick and H. T. Boynton, Martel mill officials, on December 31, has been set for Tuesday before Judge C. C. Pittman, of Cartersville, who will preside in the emergency division. Dudley, who told police at the time of his arrest he shot in self-defense after an altercation which developed when he asked for re-employment at the mill, will be defended by James K. Jordan, R. G. Turner and Wilbur and Walter Nall, who were appointed by Judge G. H. Howard.

Judge Pittman will preside also over the trial of J. W. Brewer, former nightwatchman at Fulton county courthouse, charged with the murder of W. M. Shields on January 1.

Judge William Woodrum, of Millen, Ga., will be the visiting judge the week of March 11 and Judge C. J. Perryman, of Lincolnton, will preside in the emergency division the week of March 18.

Judge Virlyn B. Moore will charge the grand jury Monday when the March-April term of superior court begins. Judge Howard will be in charge of the first criminal division for the term, Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy will preside in the motion division and Judges Virlyn B. Moore and E. D. Thomas will have charge of the civil divisions.

Origin of Gould Fire Still Undetermined

Mystery surrounded the origin of the flames which gutted the fifth, sixth and seventh floor of the Gould building at 9 Edgewood avenue early Saturday morning. The alarm was turned in at 12:45 o'clock Saturday morning and for more than five hours practically all of the fire equipment in the city was pitted against the stubborn blaze.

Though the fire fighters succeeded in confining the blaze to the three top floors of the building, tons of water played on the flames from more than a dozen lines inundated offices and stores on the lower floors.

More than 2,000 persons, attracted by the glare of the flames which leaped up from the blazing building, watched the firemen fight the blaze with water-towers, ladder towers and from the ground. Four lines of hose were run up to the top floor of the Silvey building, which adjoins the Gould building, and the firemen directed the pressure of the water down on the conflagration from the roof.

Lindsey Hopkins, who purchased the building several months ago, was in Miami Saturday and had not indicated whether the building would be rebuilt. It was covered by insurance.

Only one casualty was reported. Captain Henry S. Schmidd was severely cut on the hand by a piece of falling window pane.

PLAYGROUND PLANNED IN JOHNSON ESTATES

Development of an eight-acre playground in the Johnson Estates for the young people of Morningside is being planned by the Morningside Civic League, according to Frank A. Doughman, Atlanta attorney and vice president of the league.

W. A. Ozmer & Co. have offered to donate eight acres of land for the park and the gift has been accepted. A special committee has been named by R. G. Kreiling, league president, to make plans for baseball and softball diamonds, tennis courts, a swimming pool and other recreational features.

BENEFIT BALL TO AID BUCKHEAD SYMPHONY

Social and business leaders of Atlanta as well as scores of younger folk will attend the benefit ball at Wieuca Inn Monday night. Entire net proceeds from the ball will go toward paying the $230 deficit of the Buckhead Symphony Orchestra Association, which presented a series of open-air concerts last summer on Peachtree road at Buckhead.

The Buckhead Fifty Club and the Garden Hills Civic League are sponsors of the ball and committees from these organizations have been active for the last week in the sale of tickets.

Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and will last until 12. There will be no cover charge, and the price of admission is $1 per couple.

J. J. SULLIVAN SR., 71, RAILROAD MAN, DIES

J. J. Sullivan Sr., well-known railroad man, died Saturday at his residence at 2489 Dellwood drive, Haynes Manor, at the age of 71.

He was a master mechanic and was connected with the N., C. & St. L. railroad for years. Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Miss Frances Sullivan; two sons, J. J. Jr. and Roger Sullivan; two sisters, Mrs. Katherine Burns, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Harriett Boughey, of Chicago. He had formerly resided in Nashville and Cincinnati, Ohio, and was a member of the Sacred Heart church here.

Rites will be conducted by the Rev. Edward P. McGrath at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the Sacred Heart church and burial will be in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

Army Orders

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Army orders: Brigadier General Robert C. Foy, U. S. A., to Fort Sam Houston.

Major William A. Beach, adjutant general's department, to Fort Hamilton.

Second Lieutenant Edward E. B. Weber, infantry, to Hawaii; Second Lieutenant Charles G. Dunn, coast artillery, to Philippines.

First Lieutenant Matthew K. Deichelmann, coast artillery, to Governors Island.

Captain James L. Blakeney, U. S. A., to Fort Lewis.

Chaplain James M. Webb, U. S. A., to presidio of San Francisco; Chaplain George F. Rixey, U. S. A., to Manila.

Major J. M. Ward, quartermaster corps, to Fort Bragg; Major Henry L. Green, quartermaster corps, to Panama.

Captain John P. Scoutt, cavalry, to Philippines.

First Lieutenant James R. Davidson, infantry, detailed as recorder of army retiring board appointed to meet at Fort Benning.

Lieutenant Colonel Rollin L. Tilton, coast artillery, to Fort Banks.

Major Eugene Stevens, air reserve, to Fort Leavenworth.

Major Isaac G. Walker, cavalry, to Fort Riley.

ATLANTA MUSIC NOTES

by Mozelle Horton

OSCAR UNGER.

If you are a "triple personality" you may attend three concerts this afternoon, but otherwise must make your choice between the piano recital by Oscar Unger, South Carolina pianist, at the Woman's Club auditorium; the Bach recital by Eda Bartholomew at St. Mark's Methodist church at 3 o'clock, and the concert by the Emory Little Symphony orchestra at Glenn Memorial auditorium.

South Carolina Artist.

Oscar Unger, South Carolina's brilliant young pianist, will present a program at the Atlanta Woman's Club auditorium at 3 o'clock this afternoon under the auspices of the music division of the club, Mrs. Bonita Crowe, chairman, and Mrs. Max Land, president. The public is invited, there being no admission charge.

The playing of Unger is attracting wide interest in music circles. He studied with Mme. Rive-King, Jan Chiapuso and Howard Wells; of Chicago. He has been heard to advantage in Columbia, S. C., where he appeared before the important music clubs of that city.

Mr. Unger will play "Fantasie in Cominor," Mozart; "Etudes Symphoniques," Schumann; "Etudes op. 10, No. 3, and op. 25, No. 11," Chopin; "Fantasie in F minor," Chopin; "Tarantella," and "La Campanella," Liszt; and "Staccato Etude in C major," Rubinstein.

At the close of the program the Thursday Morning Music Club, Mary Douglas, president, will hold an informal reception honoring Mr. Unger at the home of Mrs. Bonita Crowe, 965 Myrtle street, N. E. Those attending the concert and friends are cordially invited.

Little Symphony Program.

The Emory Little Symphony orchestra will present another concert in this, their 13th season, their 45th concert since organization, this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Glenn Memorial auditorium, with Dr. Malcolm H. Dewey, director, wielding the baton. Priscilla Warren Loemker, 'cellist, will be the guest artist, playing Boellmann's "Symphonic Variations," with the orchestra. Mrs. Loemker will also play a group of shorter compositions, with Mrs. Paul Bryan at the piano. Ben Thebault, bass, from the Emory glee club, accompanied by the orchestra, will sing an aria from Mozart's "Magic Flute," "O Isis and Osiris." The piece de resistance of the orchestral numbers will be the "Coriolanus Overture," by Beethoven. They will also play "Adoration," by Godowsky, and two numbers from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" music. The public is invited to attend the concert.

Dr. Dewey tells me he is exceptionally gratified by the excellent work the boys of the orchestra are doing this season and believes the public will be more than pleased with their concert this afternoon.

Music Club Musicale.

"Modernists—Contemporary," is the subject of the program to be presented by the Atlanta Music Club Wednesday morning at 10:45 o'clock in the auditorium of the Atlanta Music Club, with Martha Galt, Canton pianist, chairman for the day. Mrs. Harold McKenzie is president of the club, and Mrs. Harold Cooledge chairman of the morning musicales. Appearing on the program with Miss Galt will be Mrs. Mason Lowance, pianist; Margaret Battle, soprano, and Helen Battle, accompanist.

PRISCILLA WARREN LOEMKER.

The program is divided into four sections, the first being "Impressionism, past and present," illustrated by a two-piano number, "Fetes," Debussy-Ravel, played by Miss Galt and Mrs. Lowance. The second, "Impressionism and the 20th Century," is represented by a group of piano solos by Miss Galt and a group of songs by Miss Battle.

In the third group Miss Galt will give "Glimpses of Atonality and Polytonality" in piano solos presenting compositions by Milhand, Schoenberg, Bartok, Kodaly, Hindsmith, Stravinsky, and Prokofief. "The Jazz Age," the last section of the program, will be illustrated by Miss Galt's performance of "Sonatine Transatlantique," by Tansman, and by two numbers for two pianos, played by Mrs. Lowance and Miss Galt, "Marche," by Casella, and "Danza a Media Noce," by Dana Suesse.

This unusual program on modern music should attract enthusiastic attention in musical circles. Non-members of the music club may attend for 50 cents admission.

Miss Galt is a native of Canton. She graduated from Shorter College with both A. B. and B. M. degrees. She has studied with such outstanding masters as Rudolph Ganz, Stojowski and Lee Pattison. She has taught piano at Meredith College and Shorter College.

Sunday Series.

Lenus Daniell will begin today a series of recitals for her pupils on Sunday afternoons at 3:30 o'clock at her home at 750 Cascade place. These recitals are given for the parents of the pupils.

Those playing today are Jacqulin Barber, Robert Bell, Charles Roper, William Bonner, Jane Dobbs, and Margaret Wilson. The recital for next Sunday will present Virginia Hornsby, Annette Richardson, Margaret Norris, Marinel Smith, Evelyn McGee, Virginia McGee, Marion Kidd and Martha Wiley.

Virgil Fox Coming.

Announcement comes that Virgil Fox, the already eminent young American organ virtuoso, will appear in Atlanta on May 1, under the auspices of the American Guild of Organists, of which Wilbur H. Rowand, of Shorter College, is dean. Mr. Fox, though hardly of age, is called one of the outstanding American organists of today. He studied for a year with Marcel Dupre in Europe, after which he made his debut in London, for which he received superlative praise from the critics. His first American tour was made during the 1933-34 season. Mr. Fox will also give a recital at Shorter College, Rome.

"New Music."

"New Music," a quarterly periodical publishing modern compositions, should prove a valuable asset to the musicians' library who wishes to keep in touch with the newest works of the modern composers. Henry Cowell is the editor, and the publication is issued in San Francisco, Cal, address, Box 356. Mr. Cowell says of his publication, "New Music publishes works by well known figures of modern music from abroad such as Arnold Schoenberg, Anton Webern, A. Mossolov, and others, and Americans such as Charles Ives, Carl Ruggles, Aaron Copland, Leo Ornstein, Carlos Chavez, and others, and also affords a means of publication for younger talented creators." New Music may be subscribed to for $2 per year.

Piano Pupils Meet.

The piano pupils of Mrs. H. R. Vaughn held their monthly study club meeting Thursday afternoon at Mrs. Vaughn's studio.

T. D. Phillips gave a brief sketch of the life of George Frederick Handel. Pauline Garvin and Dickie Duvall played solos. Those present were Mary Louise Stegar, Dickie Duvall, Pauline Garvin, Virginia Camp, Dorothy Land, Marion Fisk, Mildred Moore, Mariana Gilbert, Francis Rushton, T. D. Phillips, Madge Scoggins, Aubrey Hilly and Mary Tasker.

Musical Program.

The Alethian Sunday School class of the Longley Avenue Christian church, in conjunction with the teachers of Goldsmith school are sponsoring a musical program to be given Tuesday, at 7:30 p. m., at the Goldsmith auditorium.

One of the features of the program will be the Tech High band and glee club.

Local talent of the community will also participate in the program and several special numbers will be rendered. Skits and songs by the students of the Goldsmith grammar school will add variety to the program.

The admission is only 10 cents. The public is invited.

"Musical America."

The big "Forecast" number of Musical America, recently issued by that valuable and serviceable music magagine, is to my mind the most interesting and most fascinatingly worked-out of any of the similar isues of previous years. Included between its two colorful covers is news from all over the world—musical news—including Atlanta. In addition, there are feature articles on timely subjects concerning music life today. Then there is the roster of stars, from the oldest to the newest. I tell you, it is interesting from cover to cover!

Music Year Book.

The 1935 edition of Pierre Key's Music Year Book has been on my desk for some time. Edited by Pierre V. R. Key, with Irene Haynes as associate editor, this "standard musical" is an invaluable encyclopedia of information about music and musicians in America. It is a veritable handbook of music, for which I, for one, am most grateful to Mr. Key. Here in obtainable form is a directory of all the symphony orchestras of the country, all the school orchestras of America, all the opera companies, all the music schools and their faculties, all the music societies and their officers, information about all the foundations and trust funds and musicians' aids, a record of all the fellowships and awards, all the music festivals by states (also the choral organizations, professional and amateur), all the chamber music ensembles and bands, a list of all the premieres of 1933-34, all the school library reports, listings of the rare collections, of the daily newspapers and their music critics, of the music magazines, of local managements throughout the country, and a professional artist directory.

Composition Awards.

Composition of American music by young American composers was given new encouragement today with the award of $1,000 cash first prize to Normand Lockwood, of Oberlin, Ohio, by G. F. Swift, president of Swift & Company, the donors. Mr. Lockwood's winning symphony, "A Year's Chronicle," will be played in the near future by the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

A $500 cash second prize was also awarded to Charles Haubiel, of New York city, for his "Tre Rittrati Caratteristici." Honorable mentions went to Mr. Haubiel for his "Pastoral" and to David Van Vactor, of Evanston, Ill., for his "The Masque of the Red Death."

Selection of the four leading compositions came after more than two months of study of the 118 compositions submitted by 104 young composers, 13 of them women, from 25 states and the District of Columbia. Mr. Lockwood's entry received the unanimous vote of the judges.

Mozelle Horton Young
Pianist-Teacher
Artist Pupil of Rudolph Ganz, Chicago, and Hugh Hodgson, Atlanta.
400 Wesley Memorial Bldg.
JA. 6788, HEmlock 1052-M

VINNIE REAM BOYD
The Spoken Word
Visits and Receives Pupils
892 Forrest Road, N. E. WA. 9629

BETTY CRANDALL
EXPRESSION STUDIO
1827 Peachtree Road
HE. 9297 Home, HE. 4764-W

HAZEL WOOD
PIANO—HARMONY
Atlanta Conservatory of Music
WA. 5371

BELL-CARROLL PIANO SCHOOL
MRS. ARMAND CARROLL, Director
MISS NONA EARLY, Assistant
300 PRADO HE. 8037-J

RUTH DABNEY SMITH
VIOLIN—PIANO
Studio Arts Building HE. 9358
1161 Peachtree St. Re. HE. 0627-W

ELIZABETH HOPSON
PIANO
Atlanta Conservatory of Music
WA. 5371, MA. 7334.

BEN J. POTTER
Voice—Piano
Specialist Vocal Tone Building and Development, Repertoire, Coaching and Interpretation, European Training, Degrees and Honors.
STUDIO ARTS BUILDING HE. 9358

Debaters Uphold Emory Honors In Intercollegiate Competition

By RANDOLPH FORT,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Emory University's debaters need more worlds to conquer, so two of them are going to try their luck in Great Britain this summer.

Since Emory, a local Methodist Episcopal church, South, institution, is one of the few American universities which do not participate in intercollegiate athletics, its students have turned to debating and with brilliant success.

The records of two of the debaters, Harllee Branch Jr., and Robert Elliott, are rated high.

Branch, a recent law school graduate and son of Assistant Postmaster General Harllee Branch, engaged in 53 intercollegiate debates and lost only one encounter. Elliott, who is to receive his degree in law this June, has a record nearly as good; one loss out of 41 debates.

Members of an English debating team who had toured the United States, meeting teams from principal schools, referred to Branch as "the greatest college debater in America."

Of him a Yale debater said, "Henry Clay has come to life in the south."

Elliott, a Columbus, Ga., resident, is one of those who will represent the university on the summer tour. His teammate will be Robert Wiggins, of Macon, Ga.

Since 1929, Emory's debating teams have dropped only 37 contests, exactly one-fourth of those in which they have engaged. They have averaged about 30 debates a year, but plan to increase that number in the future.

Their opposition has not been of the "pushover" type. It has included the foremost teams in this section, as well as those from the large eastern universities—Harvard, Princeton, Yale and others. Oxford and Cambridge Universities from England and the University of Dublin from Ireland also have been on the schedule.

In a debate with the University of Puerto Rico, both teams spoke in Spanish.

Professor Nolan A. Goodyear, head of the French department at Emory, is coach of the debating team.

The forensic feats of the Emory representatives have prompted the remark that if they should ever decide they wanted interscholastic athletics for their school, they could talk the board of trustees into granting them.

Crash Injuries Fatal.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 2. (AP)—H. T. Howey, 38, of Orlando, died in a hospital here today of injuries received when his truck was struck by an Atlantic Coast Line passenger train at Green Cove Springs this morning.

5-Day Special

Good Set of Teeth Low as $3

Hecolite Plate only $7.00
Teeth Extracted 50c
Fillings low as 50c

Dr. E. G. Griffin
113½ Alabama St. WA. 1612

GRANT'S

SAVE DOLLARS ON DRESSES

Make Your Own of

GRANT'S WASH GOODS

PRINTED Batiste 15c YD.
A marvelous value in new spring sheer prints. 36 in. wide. Guaranteed tub fast.

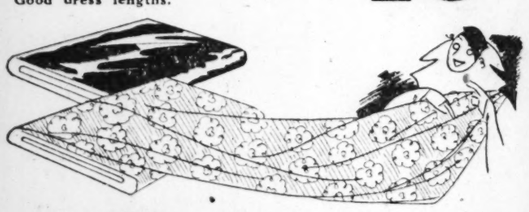

PRINTED VOILE 19c YD.
A dainty material for new spring dresses. 40 in. wide. Guaranteed color-fast.

FLOCK DOT ORGANDY 25c YD.
Excellent quality, sheer and crisp. Smart new flock dot patterns. 39 in. wide. Washes beautifully.

PRINTED SEERSUCKER 39c YD.
Excellent color combinations. Smart for sport dresses. Stripes, plaids and checks. 36 in. wide. Guaranteed fast.

PLAIN BROADCLOTH 12½c Yd.
A wonderful lot, including white and all pastel colors. 36 in. wide, and guaranteed color-fast. Buy now.

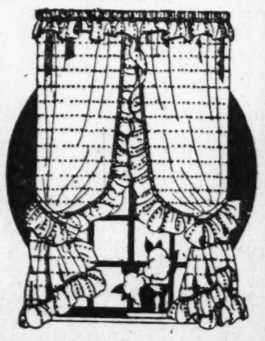

FAST COLOR—CLOSELY WOVEN
DRESS PRINTS 15c Yd.
Off-the-bolt prints in closely woven, excellent quality materials. On the bolt, these prints would sell at a much higher price. Good dress lengths.

HOUSEHOLD SPECIALS
80 SQUARE CONSTRUCTION UNBLEACHED
MUSLIN 10c Yd.
This is fine quality muslin that sells everywhere at 12½c. Grant's offers this exceptional value at a tremendous saving to you.

SPRING IS THE TIME TO CHEER UP YOUR WINDOWS

RUFFLED CURTAINS 50c Pr.
Priscilla style—dainty and sheer. Plain and fancy color styles. 2½ yds. long. Compare prices!

W. T. GRANT CO.
82 WHITEHALL

Follow KESSLER'S GREATEST VALUES IN OUR ENTIRE HISTORY! MARCH SALE

Super-Piece-Goods Values for Monday!!

28-in. FINE MUSLIN 5c PER YD!

PERCALE VAT DYE PRINTS 9c Yd.
A de luxe assortment in patterns that will make you buy and buy.

PLAY CLOTH 9c Yd.
How it wears, this durable cloth—and good-looking, too.

CRETONNE 9c YD.
Your chance to do some decorating for a song!

CURTAIN MATERIAL 9c YD.
Full bolts, scrims, nets, marquisettes! Splendid selections!

Kessler's Prints

PRINTED (Lovely Floral Plaids, Stripes) Rayon Crepe 19c

Velvet Drapery 49c Yd.

MEDIUM LENGTHS Actual $1 and $1.50 Values. Bright tones!

DEEP-LACE SLIPS!

Silk Slips 88c
8-Inch Lace Bottoms! All Pure Silk! Long Lace Slips!

Rayon Taffeta DEEP LACE Slips 59c

COTTON SPREADS 69c 80x105

WINDOW SHADES 33c Ea.
Size 3x6—Green, Tan

81x90 SHEETS 69c
Marvelous Bleached Sheets, sale priced!

Ringless 'Arrowhead' Chardonize HOSE 25c Pair

Ladies' Leather-Bottom HOUSE SHOES
Felt and leatherette tops. Genuine leather soles.
49c
Leather Soles
Ladies' Juliette House Shoes 79c

OCTAGON SOAP Per Bar 2c
J. & P. COATS' THREAD 4c
Black and White
Limit 6 to a Customer

KESSLER'S 92 WHITEHALL ST.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LXVII., No. 264. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1935.

RICH'S Peach Festival SALE!

Last Great Day!

They're all-wool! Seamless!

Axminster Rugs

Room size 35.00

Values 46.50 to 54.50

- 5 designs — hook, floral, chintz, Oriental, and modern band border.
- 5 ground colors — taupe, green, rust, red and deep Oriental rose.

Some have slight irregularities, but all are fully guaranteed by Rich's and by the manufacturer.

RUGS FOURTH FLOOR

Housekeepers, Prospective Brides and Gift Seekers—

Specials in Plated Silver Holloware

Reg. 5.98! 4.89

It's not a minute too soon to buy these for June Brides—you may not find such values again. Beautifully shaped coffee pots, tea pots, cream and sugar sets (large sizes), well and tree platters, candelabras and covered vegetable dishes. Silverplate on nickel silver.

Grape Border Trays

Size 13½x23-in. 4.98

18th-century reproduction serving trays, grape border, etched center, handles, silver on copper.

1.98 Bread Trays 1.00

Graceful trays for bread, rolls, silver plate on nickel silver. Remarkably low priced in sale.

2.98 Meat Platters 2.29

Large size meat and fowl platters. Handsome designs, beautiful silver plate on nickel silver.

Table Specials in Antimony 59c

Cream, sugar sets, vases, bon bon dishes, etc. Lacquer finish that prevents tarnishing. Buys!

Sherbets — 6 for 1.00

Dainty glass containers in chromium holders, for serving fish, desserts, cocktails, fruit, etc.

SILVERWARE RICH'S STREET FLOOR

Because of late Easter—we secured thousands of yards of Spring Fabrics early at prices we cannot duplicate later! Fill your spring and summer needs now! Save 25% to 50%!

Up to 1.98 New Juillard Weaves

Fine Matelasse Crepes! Pure Dye Canton Crepes! Mossy Crepes! Novelty Pique Crepes! Ribbed Sheers! All-Silk Printed Crepes! Novelty Pique Crepes! 54-in. All-Silk Flat Crepes! Printed Chiffons! Plaid Taffetas! New!

59c YARD

Up to 1.49 Sports Silks

For the popular shirtwaist frocks—all pure silk spun shirtings in stripes and checks and smart colors! Washable and sun-fast. Novelty Seersucker Crepes in solids, plaids, checks.

88c YARD

1.29 yd. Washable Mingtoy Crepe

Our most popular and serviceable pure silk, pure dye crepe for underwear and dresses; famous Mingtoy crepe in 60 colors, black, white.

89c YARD

1.98 Famous-make Printed Crepe

From the country's leading silk maker—this season's most beautiful dotted, checked and floral printed crepes, all pure dye, pure silk.

1.00 YARD

Up to 59c values Smart Cottons

Sprightly fresh and crisp—they rustle into spring in smart sports frocks, skirts. Seersuckers in plaids and checks, nautical prints and stripes, Sanforized broadcloth, matelasse.

39c YARD

Up to 1.00 Novelty Rayons, Cottons

So new and pleasing they will immediately make you want to start sewing. Plaid and checked taffetas. Imported eyelet batiste, printed cashmir crepe, printed pique, Linda satin.

49c YARD

FABRICS RICH'S SECOND FLOOR

Youthful, Beautiful Colors, Weaves in

54-inch Woolens

Yd. 1.00

up to 1.98 values!

54-inch Coatings!
54-inch Suitings!
54-inch Tweeds!
54-inch Novelty Weaves!

Weights for spring coats, suits, dresses.

WOOLENS, SECOND FLOOR

Special! An exclusive offer at Rich's only on

Page Sheets and Cases

With beautiful 3-letter MONOGRAMMED top sheet of each pair purchased or one-half quantity sheets and pillow cases Monogrammed at no additional charge. About 2 weeks required for delivery.

Famous Georgia-made quality sheets and cases above the ordinary in beauty, quality and wear. Bleached, smooth, with 4-inch hems.

Sheets 63x99 in.	1.29 each	Sheets 81x99 in.	1.49 each
Sheets 72x99 in.	1.39 each	Sheets 81x108 in.	1.59 each
Sheets 72x108 in.	1.49 each	Cases 42x36 in.	39c each

Specials in Handsome Table Linens!

Cutwork and Filet Dinner Cloths

72x90 in. 8.88

Everybody needs at least one handsome dinner cloth—but it is a rare event when you can actually find it at considerably under 10.00! These are exquisite round thread linens with Point Venice medallions, embroidery and cutwork designs bordered with hand-made filet lace.

Cloth, 72x108 in. Specially priced 11.88

18x18 in. Napkins, filet, cutwork. Doz. 4.98

LINENS AND BEDDING RICH'S SECOND FLOOR

Over Seas

By CHARLES E. HARNER, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

An increasing crescendo of reports of antigovernmental activities in Cuba give new proof today of the political power of students in Latin countries.

Carlos Mendieta remains as president of Cuba with a decimated cabinet, bereft of several of its members through resignations in the face of an island-wide school strike.

Although to most eyes in the United States a school strike might well appear harmless, a school strike in Cuba involves far more than the mere refusal of children to learn their three R's. It amounts to a veritable defiance by the scions of the best families of governmental administration.

Cuba, like most Latin countries, places its educated citizens on a high plane. The students in days to come are certain to direct the political life of the nation. In Cuba, furthermore, the students are as interested in politics as adults can be in the United States during a presidential campaign.

To a Cuban the art of politics actually may be accounted a profession.

Students were in the forefront of the revolution which upset Gerardo Machado, for eight years president of Cuba. They have led many another revolution in many another Latin-American countries.

Not always has a president necessarily been overthrown, but the students always are vocal in their demands and, probably as much as 50 per cent of the time in recent history, victorious.

One of the strangest revolutions America has seen took place in Colombia shortly before Enrique Olaya Herrera was inaugurated as president in 1930.

Dr. Miguel Abadia Mendez was president then. He was well liked but he had chosen for his cabinet certain ministers of whom the students of the ancient University of Bogota did not approve.

They went out on the streets in a body, everyone of them young men and women of families of high standing. The authorities ordered the police off the streets so that no one would get hurt.

Traffic difficulties were threatened until the students themselves, with consummate organization, took over the directing of traffic. Those who were not busy preserving order marched on the presidential palace.

The palace guard fired a warning volley into the air. One student, several blocks away, was killed by a bullet.

The students picked up his body and swept forward. President Abadia Mendez ordered his guards to let the students in and, in the presence of their leaders, signed a decree changing the personnel of his cabinet.

Rintelen on Trial For Dollfuss Death

VIENNA, March 2.—(UP)—Dr. Anton Rintelen, white-haired and trembling—not from fear but because of his physical infirmities—was tried by court-martial today for his part in the nazi uprising of last July, in which Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss was assassinated.

It was Rintelen's name which was proclaimed by the nazis as the new chancellor after they had seized the government radio station and captured the members of the Dollfuss cabinet. After his arrest, he shot himself and has been desperately ill.

The prosecution demanded the maximum penalty of life imprisonment on the charge of complicity in high treason, but admitted that the evidence was only circumstantial. His chances of acquittal seemed favorable.

Although verging on physical collapse, Rintelen emphatically denied he was a nazi.

Inland Missionary Is Slain in China

SIAN, Shensi Province, China, March 2.—(AP)—The slaying of the Rev. S. C. Frenchan, inland mission worker, was reported by Chinese soldiers today and missionary searchers gave up hope of finding his young wife, a London girl, who set out a week ago on foot from Nankiang.

The death of Frenchan, a young Australian, was reported by troops from Nankiang, the seat of his mission. The reports were confirmed by two British missionaries who set out to search for Mrs. Frenchan and who telegraphed saying they also had received the reports of Nankiang soldiers.

The two Englishmen arrived at Fenghsien, Western Shensi, after a fruitless search in the pagged mountain areas of central China. They had found no trace of the young wife, who was an expectant mother.

11-YEAR-OLD KING WILL RULE SIAM

Continued From First Page.

the prospect that she soon must discard her royal title.

Returning to spacious Knowle house, King Prajadhipok and the queen had tea, and afterward he went back to the task of drafting his formal abdication.

Although advices from Bangkok indicated the document of abdication was expected in time for consideration at tonight's meeting of parliament, it was believed here the tiny sovereign might wait another day or so before taking the fateful step.

There was no apparent reaction to the report from Bangkok that the king had polled only five votes as the parliament rejected his terms for withdrawal of his abdication threat.

MADAM ZELLA

Palmist. Business Advisor

Will tell your past, your present, your future, call your name, tell the real cause of your misfortune, or lack of success. Satisfaction or no charge. Hours 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Three questions answered free with this ad.

2071 PEACHTREE ROAD (Take Peachtree-Buckhead Car to Peachtree Ave.)

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

Dr. J. B. Lawrence, secretary of the home mission board of the Southern Baptist Convention, will speak at the Gordon Street Baptist church at 11 o'clock this morning on "Our Southern Baptist Home Mission Task." Work done by the board is for the benefit of the Indians, negroes and foreigners in the large southern cities and for the French-speaking people of Louisiana.

Rev. Love B. Harrell, associate pastor of Wesley Memorial church, will preach the second of a series of sermons on "The Sermon on the Mount" at 11 o'clock this morning. The topic this morning will be "Christian and the World."

Dr. J. H. Fuller will begin a series of sermons at the Hills Park Baptist church this morning on "The Laws of God Given to Moses for the Children of Israel." The first message will be "God First in All Things."

Rev. J. E. Cobb, of Fort Worth, Texas, who has been acting as supply pastor of the Central Baptist church in the absence of the pastor, Dr. R. C. Huston, will preach at both services today. His subject for the morning service will be "Ye Must Be Born Again," and for the evening sermon, "The Plus Equation in Christ."

Rev. Peter Marshall will speak to the Young People's Service League of the Cathedral of St. Philip at 6 o'clock tonight. All young people of the city are invited to hear him.

"Crusading for Atlanta's Youth" will be the subject this morning of the Rev. Robert W. Burns, minister of the Peachtree Christian church. The sermon is an interpretation of the city-wide movement among the churches to enlist the youth of Atlanta for the cause of religion. The theme for the 5 o'clock evening bells service will be "Lent," interpreted by the tower chimes and antiphonal choirs.

Dr. Witherspoon Dodge will speak at his radio church at 9:45 o'clock this morning on the roof garden of the Ansley hotel. The sermon will be broadcast over station WGST. Dr. Dodge's subject will be 'God's Noblemen."

Evangelist Russell Ford's gospel campaign at the Capitol Avenue tabernaclew ill continue at 7:30 o'clock each night this week. A special service will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The services are non-denominational and the public is invited to attend.

Sacred Harp Singing Class will hold its regular Sunday singing at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the Rev. Huckleby, in Riverside, according to John Pope, secretary. The public is invited to join in the singing.

Dr. J. Sprole Lyons will preach at the First Presbyterian church this morning on "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord."

Baby health centers announced by Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, will be held at 1:30 o'clock, for children under four, on the afternoons named; Tuesday, Adair school; Wednesday, John Barclay nursery; Thursday, Grant Park school, and Friday, James L. Key school.

Mrs. J. F. Heard will speak to St. John's College Park Woman's Auxiliary next Thursday at 3 o'clock at the parish house. Her subject will be "Japan."

Dr. Nina E. Pickett will lecture on "Initiation or the Street Called Straight at 8:15 o'clock this evening at 301 Peachtree building. The lecture is free and is given under auspices of the Theosophical Society.

Ash Wednesday services will be conducted by the Rev. Woolsey E. Couch at St. John's church, College Park, at 7:30 o'clock and at St. Timothy church at 3 o'clock.

Commemorating the 250th anniversary of Johann Sebastian Bach, Miss Eda Bartholomew, organist and choir director of St. Mark Methodist church, will present at the church at 3 o'clock this afternoon the first of a series of five programs devoted to the works of Bach, to be given each Sunday afternoon during the month of March, it is announced by Dr. J. W. Johnson, pastor.

Adriel Class, with T. F. Hemminger as teacher, will sponsor the evening services at the First Christian church today. The Rev. C. R. Stauffer, pastor, will preach on "The New Greatness." The West End Choral Club will present a program of special music.

Joe Eley will speak to the Busy Men's Bible Class of the Central Baptist church at 9:30 o'clock this morning on "The Sin and Death of Ananias and Sapphire," with a present-day application.

Church service at Fort McPherson will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning by Chaplain Orville E. Fisher, major, United States army, in the post chapel. A Catholic mass will be held at 8:30 o'clock for Catholic residents, and Protestant Sunday school classes will be held at 9:45 o'clock.

"The Dream of Christ for His Church" will be the subject of Dr. Luther Bridges at 11 o'clock this morning at the Trinity Methodist church. His subject at the 5 o'clock vesper services will be "At the Grave of a Friend." Dr. Wallace Rogers will speak to the women of Trinity church at 2:30 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon on "Pioneer Friendships."

Men's Bible Class and the Friendly Class of Martha Brown Memorial church will hold a joint session at 9:45 o'clock this morning. They will be entertained in a special song service by the police quartet. The public is invited.

Rev. J. T. Robins, pastor of the First Methodist church, East Point, will preach the morning and evening sermons at his church today. Mr. Robins has just returned from a month's stay at Coronado Beach, Fla., as the guest of Powell Stephens, of Thomaston, Ga.

Rev. John L. Yost will complete six years of service as pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer with a special service at 11 o'clock this morning. "Victor's Day" also will be observed at the morning service and every member is asked to bring a friend. Plans for a campaign to raise funds for a new building will be set under way at the meeting.

Home Coming Day will be observed at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning by the James L. Key Bible Class at the Paramount theater. The class has been at its downtown location for four years and this will be the first reunion of its members and former members. Mayor Key will speak on the subject, "The Hypocrite as the Champion Liar of the Universe," and will also deliver a special home coming message.

Inman Park Baptist church will bring to a close its revival today with two services. The Rev. Samuel F. Lowe, pastor, will preach at the morning service on "Church Membership," and at the evening service on "Jesus Standing at the Door." At the evening hour the ordinance of baptism will be administered to a number of candidates for membership.

Bishop W. H. Ainsworth, bishop of the North and South Georgia conferences, will be guest speaker at 10:45 o'clock this morning at the First Methodist church, in Decatur. Bishop Ainsworth's subject will be "The Outlook for the World." Dr. W. T. Hamby, a superannuate minister of Decatur, will preach at 6:15 o'clock tonight.

Druid Hills Methodist church will celebrate the 25th anniversary of Boy Scouts of America at the evening hour of worship today. Other church affairs caused a postponement of the celebration until this time. Three Scout troops connected with the church will attend the service with their scoutmasters and Scout committeemen.

Wesley Memorial church choir will be featured at the evening service today of the Pryor street Methodist church. The choir is under the direction of Henry Mullins. The evening sermon theme will be "Sin and Salvation—Old and New."

Dr. William Ralph Hall, of Philadelphia, Pa., director of the young people's work of the Presbyterian church, will preach at the 11 o'clock service this morning at the Covenant Presbyterian church, and at the 5 o'clock vesper service of the Central Presbyterian church.

Loyalty month will be observed during March at Center Street Methodist church. Full attendance during the month is urged by the pastor, Rev. Arthur Maness. Jere A. Wells, lay leader and superintendent of Fulton county shools, will speak at the morning service today.

Dean Raymond R. Paty, Professor E. H. Rece and Dr. J. Harris Purks, of Emory, were recently named by the university's student activities council to select a committee of students who will in turn nominate men for campus offices. This selection follows the amendment to the constitution of the activities council passed last fall which removes student elections from the field of politics.

W. R. B. Whittier, president of Whittier Mills Company, of Chattahoochee, is confined to his home in Chattahoochee, it was learned Saturday. His condition was reported as much improved and it is expected he will return to his duties at the Whittier mills within the week.

"Secret of Deliverance and Defense" will be the subject of the sermon to be delivered this morning by Rev. Robert Lamkin, pastor of the South Decatur Baptist church.

Men of the Pattillo Memorial Methodist church will hold a banquet Monday evening at the church, with Dr. Fletcher M. Green, professor of history at Emory University, speaking on "Crime, Its Cause and Cure." Rev. Robert L. Armor is pastor.

Atlanta Baptist Ministers' conference will meet Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the First Baptist church to discuss plans for bringing to Atlanta the southwide B. Y. P. U. convention. Rev. L. E. Smith will address the meeting.

Missing since Wednesday a week ago Herbert Pearce, son of S. L. Pearce, of 743 Confederate avenue, S. W., is being sought by his parents. He is 15 years old, weighs between 140 and 150 pounds, and has a fair complexion. Information regarding his whereabouts should be communicated to Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant, at Atlanta.

Dr. George Mason Whicher, noted poet, will give an illustrated lecture on "Horace's Villas" Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the theology chapel at Emory University. The "Sabine Farm" of Horace, about which Dr. Whicher's lecture is centered, is a short distance east of Rome. The site never was wholly excavated until within the last 25 years.

Fred Wilson, of Camilla, has been nominated for presidency of the Y. M. C. A. at Emory University, it was announced Saturday. Other students nominated were James Webb, of Macon, for vice president; David Ponder, of Atlanta, for secretary, and Ernest Kendall, of Decatur, for treasurer.

Decatur Street Pharmacy, 504 Decatur street, was robbed early Saturday morning of merchandise valued at $35 when burglars broke the lock on the front door, according to police reports.

Officials of the Bank of Palmetto, which was robbed several months ago, will view Leland Harvey and Aubrey Smith, notorious Georgia prison escape artists, in a lineup at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at Fulton tower. Detectives J. J. Chester and W. M. Holland said that the pair also would be viewed by other robbery and hold-up victims.

Smashing a hole in the display window at Schneer's Jewelry Company, 64 Whitehall street, jewelry tentatively valued at more than $300 was taken early Saturday morning by burglars, according to police reports.

Hapeville fire truck was badly damaged Saturday afternoon, when answering a fire call, it skidded at the corner of Central avenue and Whipple street, Eagan park, and crashed into a telephone pole. The firemen were not injured.

County police Saturday were investigating a burglary at the grocery store at 2825 Peachtree road in which $50 worth of merchandise and $3 cash were reported stolen some time Friday night. The burglars entered by a skylight.

Burglary of $55 worth of mule halters from the National Stockyard Company's barn on Grady avenue was reported to county police Saturday. Officers recovered the halters in a vacant house near by. The burglars broke a lock on the door early Saturday morning.

Burglars Saturday morning knocked a hole in the wall of the A. C. Rollins grocery at 719 McDaniel street and, according to police reports, took merchandise and tobacco valued at $115.

Clothing valued at $365 was taken early Saturday morning by burglars who broke into the home of Mrs. W. P. Jackson, at 1170 Virginia avenue, she reported to police.

Breaking into a lunchstand operated by Mrs. Frank W. Taylor at 851 Lee street early Saturday morning, burglars took $26.83.

A. B. Gooch, street car operator, reported to police that two negroes held him up early Saturday morning at Piedmont and Auburn avenues and robbed him of $14 in cash, $30 worth of street car tickets and his money-changer.

Mrs. M. A. Tingle, of 421 Boulevard, N. E., reported to police that a burglar broke into her home early Saturday morning and took $150 from her purse.

Municipal building permits issued for February totaled $299,364 for the 236 jobs, according to figures released Saturday by Charles Bowen, building inspector. The total, however, was less than those issued a year ago, when the construction was listed at $323,820.

Miss Marie Parker, daughter of Fire Chief O. J. Parker, reported to police Saturday night that her purse containing $3 and clothing valued at $45 were stolen from her automobile which she had parked in front of 26 Fort street.

Lone negro entered the filling station at 148 Jackson street, operated by Mrs. Ophelia Crane, and holding a pistol on her, robbed the cash register of between $35 and $40, she reported to police.

Resolutions protesting compulsory group insurance for city employes and the civil service bill which had been proposed for county workers were adopted Saturday night by the City and County Employes' Association meeting at the Labor temple. Fred K. Stephens, president, said a committee would carry the official protest to legislators.

ROOSEVELT FACES REBEL CONGRESS ON LEADING ISSUES

Republican Minorities in Both Houses Gleefully Watch Break in Democratic Ranks.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt faced a congressional muddle tonight that many in the capital felt would require from him the same kind of magnetic leadership he displayed when he marched into the White House two years ago.

Congress had completed two months with virtually nothing accomplished. Vital administration measures were languishing in committees. Hostile legislative proposals were boldly pushing forward. A spirit of revolt was in the air.

The president's congressional chieftains did little talking publicly, but privately expressed confidence that beginning on Monday, when congress turns into its third month and the chief executive begins his third year, they could soon get the legislative express back on the tracks.

To Fight Deadlock.

Over the week-end they planned to work desperately to break a deadlock over the all-important work relief bill, realizing that future success of their leadership was largely dependent upon the outcome of that conflict.

Republican minorities in the two houses, watching with some glee the break in democratic ranks, sat back to await results.

Democratic leaders, for their part, could draw only the coldest particle of satisfaction from reviewing their efforts of the past week to get things going.

No Progress Made.

No material progress was recorded for any of the major administrative proposals. The senate appropriations committee, where the work-relief bill is reposing to await the outcome of backstage negotiations, did not even meet to consider it.

With no major legislation ready for them, both house and senate nibbled away at routine matters and recessed frequently in an effort to speed up committee consideration of the president's program.

As the stalemate continued, members of congress increasingly expressed the belief that the chief executive's program would have to be curtailed or congress would be in session long into the summer. Looking over the recommendations he has made already they foresaw months of work ahead.

More Labor Unions Dissolved by Hitler

COLOGNE, Germany, March 2.—(AP)—Headquarters of the Catholic Journeyman's Organization was advised today that its clubs at Bolzano, Merano, Sperzing and Kalpern, all in the Italian Tyrol, have been dissolved by the prefect of Bolzano after 80 years of existence.

The reason assigned was that "they conflicted with national interests and Italian culture and language," it was said. One charge was that the clubs sponsored lectures in German.

Officials here branded the action as "a heavy blow against German culture in the south Tyrol" and called attention to an address by Premier Mussolini last month in which "he used pretty words about respecting the two cultures, Italian and German."

CHIANG TAKES CONTROL OF COMMUNIST DRIVE

HANKOW, China, March 3.—(Sunday)—(AP)—A stronger government drive against communists in Szechuan province was indicated today by the departure by airplane of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for Chungking, Szechuan.

Chiang's departure was unexpected. It will be the national government dictator's first visit to the province, which formerly was ruled by semi-independent war lords but which lately has come under an increasing measure of control from Nanking.

DUBLIN STRIKE HALTS CITY TRANSPORTATION

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 3.—(Sunday)—(AP)—A complete stoppage of Dublin's transportation system began today as last-minute negotiations by the government failed to secure postponement of a scheduled midnight strike.

For the first time this city of half a million population was without street cars or buses.

EX-ENVOY TO U. S. INJURED IN FRANCE

PARIS, March 2.—(UP)—Senator Henry Berenger, former French ambassador to Washington and chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the senate, was seriously injured today when he slipped and fell down the stairs of his residence.

14 Rogers Truck Drivers Awarded Medals For Record of 6 Months Without Accidents

Drivers who have had no traffic accidents in the last six months were presented medals and cash bonuses Saturday by officials of the Southern Grocery Stores, Inc., in a special safety program at Rogers' main office. In the picture (front row, left to right) are A. V. Edmondson, D. H. Arrington, W. G. Garrett, E. G. Garrett, and Carl Hunt; (back row, left to right), F. Donehoo, F. H. Dorsett, Paul Sewell, W. E. Edmondson, Y. J. Porterfield and Ben Maddux. R. J. Jackson, Cliff Harris and J. L. Hitchcock, who also had no accidents, are not shown. Staff photo by Turner Hiers.

Medals for careful driving were presented 14 Rogers truck drivers Saturday who have had no traffic accidents during the last six months.

Scott Allen, president of Rogers, praised the excellent record of his drivers, 40 per cent of whom were not involved in any kind of traffic mishap during last half year.

In a special ceremony Saturday afternoon, medals and cash bonuses were given to R. J. Jackson, Cliff Harris, J. L. Hitchcock, A. V. Edmondson, D. H. Arrington, W. G. Garrett, E. G. Garrett, Carl Hunt, F. Donehoo, F. H. Horsett, Paul Sewell, W. E. Edmondson, Y. J. Porterfield and Ben Maddux.

The remarkably few accidents, especially in consideration of the thousands of miles covered every month by Rogers trucks, were attributed to the care with which all Rogers drivers operate their machines. Every driver is individually instructed in the rules and regulations of traffic and in politeness and consideration of "the other fellow."

Officials of Rogers made speeches, telling the drivers, assembled at the main Rogers' office at 688 Whitehall street, of the company's appreciation of their fine work. Among those who talked were R. J. Hudson, secretary and treasurer of the Southern Grocery Stores, Inc.; Kirk Hancock, of Spratlin, Harrington & Thomas, and G. F. Snyder, superintendent of Rogers' warehouse and trucks.

CUBAN PRESIDENT REFUSES TO QUIT

2 Bombs Exploded and 40 Mail Boxes Set Afire in Havana.

HAVANA, March 2.—(AP)—A new alarmist campaign got under way to the roar of bombs here this afternoon as Colonel Carlos Mendieta, veteran of many Cuban political upheavals, held steadfastly to the presidency in the face of insistent demands that he resign.

With Colonel Fulgencio Batista, army commander-in-chief, still behind him despite intimations that he himself might take the office if things came to crisis, Mendieta ignored the demands of the new opposition "common front" and 300,000 striking students and teachers that he resign.

Terrorists set fire to 40 mail boxes over Havana, partly destroying correspondence, and placed two bombs, one at the home of Gustavo Herrero, political writer for the newspaper El Pais, and the other at the residence of Arlos Narto, former mayor of the near-by town of Hoyo Colorado.

Jose Lopez, mail carried, was badly burned on both hands when he opened one of the blazing mail boxes. Ricardo Novoa, student, was arrested on charges of arson in connection with the fires.

The two buildings bombed were badly damaged. A political meeting was going on at Narto's home when the blast there went off.

The terrorism came in the face of Batista's warning, issued last night, that the government might be forced to take drastic measures to handle an island-wide movement for a general strike to unseat Mendieta.

Italy Sends 2 More Ships to East Africa

ROME, March 2.—(AP)—The steamers Campidoglio and Antonietta made ready to sail from Naples for East Africa tonight with 66 officers and 554 men aboard, lending new emphasis to the ministry of colonies prediction that this year will be "historic in the life of Italy's African colonies."

Stopping at Messina tomorrow to pick up additional troops of the Peloritana division, the 29th brigade of which is concentrating at Messina under the command of General Carlo Boscardi, the ships will steam down the Mediterranean and the Red sea in the wake of many other vessels carrying men and war materials to Africa.

Searchers Fail To Find Lady Young, Physician

CHOMA, Northern Rhodesia, March 2.—(AP)—Hundreds of native police armed with torches plunged through the dense lion-infested bush country until dawn today, futilely searching for Margaret, Lady Young and Dr. J. Kirby, forced down in their airplane.

Lady Young is the wife of Northern Rhodesia's governor.

Motor searching parties set out at daybreak, led by the young husband of the aviatrix, Sir Hubert Young. Scores of railroad employes, reinforced by 200 natives, deployed in fanshape through the wild region where the crash is believed to have occurred.

Lady Young and Kirby took off from Livingston for Lusaka, 300 miles away, Thursday.

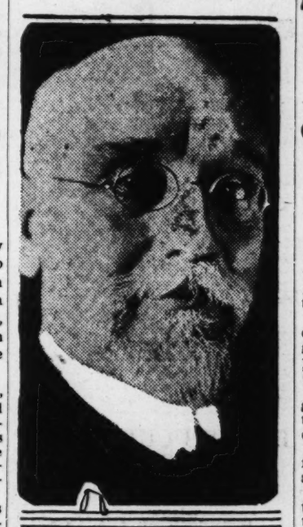

MEXICAN STANDARD OIL WORKERSRAP OFFICIALS

TAMPICO, Mexico, March 2.—(AP) Expulsion as "pernicious foreigners" of two high officials of the Huasteca (Standard Oil of New Jersey) Petroleum Company was requested in a petition presented today to President Lazaro Cardenas by striking employes of the company's refinery here.

The petition for application of Article 33 of the constitution against L. L. Anderson, general manager of the company with headquarters in Mexico City, and Patrick J. Kelly, superintendent of the refinery, was based on charges they had employed strikebreakers and formed "white guard" or company union organizations.

Leaders of the strikers said the president promised to hand the petition to the department of interior for study. Under Article 33 the chief executive is empowered to expel any foreigner regarded as undesirable.

Joins Revolt

ASSOCIATED PRESS (UNDERWOOD)
EX-PREMIER VENIZELOS.

NEIGHBORS ASKED TO END CHACO WAR

Chile's President Seeks South American Intervention in Conflict.

BUENOS AIRES, March 2.—(AP)—Chile's president today suggested that South American nations intervene to end the Chaco war. Three South American nations lined up to oppose any punitive action against Paraguay, which rejected the peace plan of the League of Nations.

President Arturo Alessandri, in an interview at Santiago, urged that Argentina, Chile and other nations end the long, bitter war "through quenching it with persuasion or by force." Chile and Argentina, he said, bear most of the responsibility.

(A dispatch from Santo Domingo said President Rafael L. Trujillo had dispatched telegraphic messages to all American capitals informing them he had asked President Lazaro Cardenas, of Mexico, to join him in seeking concerted efforts of all governments to mediate the Chaco conflict.

Sentiment Growing.

Geneva reported growing sentiment among League representatives for an invitation to American neutrals to make another attempt to end the war. Eighteen previous efforts by the neutrals and the League have failed.)

Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay, which once allied to whip Paraguay in one of South America's bloodiest wars, stood together against further League sanctions against her.

An arms embargo imposed on the Chaco combatants at the League's behest has already been lifted from Bolivia by some dozen nations, because it accepted the League's plan. It is maintained against Paraguay, which refused it. Paraguay has resigned from the League.

Brazil in Agreement.

Uruguay today declared flatly she would not consider any new punitive measures against Paraguay. Argentina already had taken the same stand. Brazil is known to be in agreement.

Argentina reiterated its demand for satisfaction for the killing January 10 of an Argentine Indian on the border by Bolivian soldiers.

La Paz dispatches indicated President Jose Luis Tejada Sorzano, pushed to power in December after the Bolivian army ousted Daniel Salamanca, would continue in power, even though Franz Tamayo, Salamanca's elected successor, was scheduled to take office Tuesday. The Bolivian congress meets Sunday to study the matter.

Armies of Paraguay and Bolivia jockeyed for position about Villa Montes.

PARAGUAY INVADES BOLIVIA PROPER

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 2. (AP)—A Paraguayan defense ministry communique tonight announced Paraguayan forces have crossed the Parapiti river to begin their long-expected invasion of Bolivia proper, after wiping out the Bolivian garrison stationed at Tamachindy.

ARMS SHIPMENT SEIZED BY FRANCE

Guns, Ammunition Captured Being Smuggled Across Belgian Border.

LILLE, France, March 2.—(AP)—Police today seized a quantity of contraband arms, including sub-machine guns, being smuggled into France at the Belgian frontier.

"Greatest importance" was attached to the seizure of nine sub-machine guns, a large automatic pistol, a repeating carbine and 4,300 cartridges, by customs officials at Baisieux.

It was pointed out the repeating guns were similar to the one used in the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia at Marseille.

All the arms were new models from the Belgian national gun factory at Herstal.

They were discovered hidden under the gasoline tank of an automobile, the driver of which was arrested. He gave his name as Detournay and said he lived in Hourain, Belgium.

He claimed he knew nothing about the arms except that unidentified persons paid him 300 francs at Tournai where the weapons were placed in the car.

Whether the band was suspected definitely of being terrorists, or a clandestine ring supplying arms to political "troops" in France or elsewhere, was not disclosed by the police.

It was reported a Serbian had accompanied the driver to the French frontier.

The French police also were investigating the possibility the arms were intended for a French political organization, since rival extremists have been accusing each other of arming.

Twenty Nazis Given Death by Austria

SALZBURG, Austria, March 2.—(AP)—Seventeen of 20 Austrian nazis on trial were condemned to death today when convicted of violating the stringent decree against possesion of explosives.

In court circles it was regarded as unlikely that the stern penalty would be imposed, lawyers pointing out that in recent months there has been numerous death penalties in the persistent drive to uproot naziism but that President Miklas invariably commuted the sentences.

High British Official To Confer With Hitler

LONDON, March 2.—(AP)—The foreign office announced today Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, would go to Berlin by plane Thursday, March 7, for consultations with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and members of the German government. He will return to London March 10.

In informed quarters it was learned that proposals for Sir John's visits to Warsaw and Moscow still are under consideration and that a decision to return from Berlin to report and consult with the cabinet will not prejudice a decision regarding these other visits.

BUILDINGS UNROOFED BY MEXICAN STORM

SALINACRUZ, Oaxaca, Mexico, March 2.—(AP)—Several public buildings and homes were unroofed and otherwise damaged by a hurricane that swept through here early today. A fishing boat was sunk in the ocean by heavy winds and high waves, but no casualties were reported.

"Lawrence of Arabia" Seeks Peace in Country

LONDON, March 2.—(AP)—Aircraftsman H. S. Shaw headed today for a lonely heathland cottage of Dorsetshire, far from the deserts where he was "Lawrence of Arabia."

The romantic figure who played a leading part in the Arabs' revolt against Turkey and who refused decorations for his World War work, has reached the end of a 10-year enlistment in the air force.

On a bicycle Shaw set out from Bridlington on a 300-mile trip with a military knapsack over his shoulders.

He wants to find peace in a little cottage.

VENIZELOS JOINS REBELS IN GREECE AS NAVY MUTINIES

Ex-Premier Casts Lot With Malcontents Seeking To Overthrow Government; Planes Bomb Ships.

Continued From First Page.

had caught up with them a second time, dropping a rain of bombs with undetermined effect. Previous artillery fire from four pursuing destroyers and aerial bombings had partially disabled the cruiser Averoff, one of the rebel craft. Despite a direct hit the cruiser was making 15 knots, accompanied by the cruiser Helli and three destroyers.

Following the offer of meditation made by Admiral Tipaldos, the rebels requested a respite. They wired that the Averoff, carrying 600 men, had been gravely damaged, but included no estimate of casualties at sea.

Athens Is Quiet.

Athens, under its martial law, was fairly quiet. Strict censorship was imposed upon outgoing telegraphic messages, and opposition newspapers were suppressed by the government.

The government in an official statement blamed the sudden revolutionary movement apparently largely centering in the military, upon supporters of General Nicholas Plastiras, dictator for a day during a revolt in 1933.

Two former admirals in the Greek navy, named Demestichas and Kolliaxi, were reported in command of the rebel craft. They had high records in the naval service but were subsequently expelled for participation in previous anti-government plots.

Former Prime Minister Papanastasio, labor party leader, was stopped while leaving for Saloniki and held at his home in Athens.

Scores of arrests were made among alleged followers of Venizelos, in Athens. Former General Papoulas, whose democratic defense organization was allegedly implicated in the revolt, was reported to have vanished.

Barracks Shelled.

Details of the naval revolt terrified the arsenal town of Salamis all last night and led to air and sea warfare today amid islands between here and Crete were disclosed tonight. The number of dead and injured, however, was undetermined.

Fifteen former officers, who followed General Plastiras in his one-day dictatorship in 1933, started a swift series of events by persuading the picturesque kilted evzones (select members of light infantry) to revolt.

After an ultimatum loyal troops shelled the barracks and the rebels yielded early this morning.

Meanwhile, 100 civilians and 12 military rebels broke into the military college, held up the commandant at the point of a revolver, and locked him in his office.

They were trying to persuade cadets to join the revolt when government troops charged into the college and cleared the rebels out without casualties.

A similar surprise was staged at the Perama arsenal by 25 rebels and officers under Admiral Demestichas. They sent a launch last night to the warship Averoff and loyal officers aboard were lured from their posts by false statements.

Rebels Board Ship.

The rebels then boarded the Averoff and officers who resisted were put in irons. Mutineers gained command elsewhere of three destroyers and three submarines.

Government artillery rushed to Perama and two batteries started firing on the rebel ships. The fire was ineffective because of the distance but guns of the cruiser, turned on the town, did considerable daamge to houses.

By 5 a. m. the Averoff steamed off. Other warships left at intervals in order not to offer a concentrated target. Rebels put engines and guns out of commisison on two destroyers which they left behind, in addition to submarines.

Forts at Crete were ordered to fire on the rebels if they approach the island.

Centers at Athens.

A court-martial will be held Monday for the trial of many rebels now under arrest. Members of the court are being selected by the cabinet.

The most serious fighting on land took place last night at the evzones' barracks in Athens, where three rebels were killed and 12 wounded.

Four companies of troops and two armored cars were sent to dislodge the rebels. They replied to an ultimatum with a fusillade of grenades that wounded two officers.

Tsaldaris then ordered the artillery to shell the barracks. Strategic positions, such as the Temple of Jupiter and the Acropolis, famous historical site overlooking Athens and known to thousands of tourists, were occupied by government forces and fire was opened on the rebels.

The battle continued for four hours. At 1:30 a. m. today the infantry advanced with fixed bayonets. The rebels were demoralized and surrendered.

PRETENDER TO THRONE WATCHES DEVELOPMENTS

MADRID, March 2.—(AP)—Prince Eugene Lascaris, pretender to the Greek throne, was informed by telephone today at his home in Zaragoza of the revolt in Athens.

"I had no idea," he said, "that the movement would materialize this early, although my representatives had advised me that it was brewing.

"Apparently they have been unable to communicate with me since yesterday or I would have known about it sooner. I would prefer not to make any statements until there is a more definite indication as to whether the movement has any hope of success. I will follow developments closely."

The prince, who has been living unpretentiously in Zaragoza with his family, is the man upon whom the majority of Greek royalists pin their hopes should anything come of their hopes to restore a monarchy.

TOWN IN SIBERIA ROCKED BY QUAKE

IRKUTSK, Siberia, U. S. S. R., March 2.—(AP)—An earth shock of short duration at 1:53 p. m. today caused slight damage to some buildings here. There were no injuries to persons.

OLD SORES

Since 1869 ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE has healed more old sores than all other salves combined. It is the most powerful salve known and heals sores from the bottom up, drawing out the poisons. At druggists or by mail 65 cents. Send for free book.

J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO. Dept. 8 ST. PAUL, MINN.

BULLION EMBARGO BILL IS PREPARED

Chairman of House Committee Promises Prompt Hearing on Measure.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Congressional silverites gained a significant opening week today in their annual inflation drive, despite insistence from high administration sources that no new monetary legislation be enacted this session of congress.

Chairman Somers, of the house coinage committee, disclosed that he was preparing a bill to forbid the exportation of either gold or silver and would start hearings promptly on the measure.

"Frankly," he said, "I am dissatisfied with the results of our last monetary actions—devalution of the gold dollar and the silver purchase plan.

"We expected great things from both of those laws. But for some reason, they have not produced the expected results. Before we do anything further, we should call in the country's outstanding monetary experts and get their reactions.

"We were informed that cutting the value of the dollar and instituting the system of buying silver would increase prices. Prices have gone up some, but not as much as we anticipated.

"There must be some reason, and we should find it out."

He explained that he was not finally sold on the idea of declaring an embargo against gold and silver exports, but that the bill would give his committee an opportunity to cover the whole monetary field and decide whether additional laws should be enacted.

At present, gold exports are permitted only for a few purposes, such as the settlement of international trade balances. Somers' proposal would have the effect of putting the United States, internationally, on a purely managed currency basis, since currency would have to be used instead of metals for the settlement of international balances.

Leading house silver advocates were not enthusiastic about the export embargo idea, but they did approve the calling of hearings.

Three Held as 'Brains' In $1,250,000 Thefts

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(AP) Three men, described by federal agents as the "brains" of a gang which has swindled banks out of $1,250,000 in a gigantic conspiracy plot, today were held in $25,000 bail each by United States Commissioner William S. Wacker.

Two other alleged members of the gang were held in $40,000 bail each in New York city.

Exact details of the plot still were shrouded in the same secrecy which has enveloped the case since the federal investigation started several weeks ago. But it was known that the gang has been operating successfully for at least two years.

The three held here are J. B. Haynes, Abraham Hart and Max Block, all of Philadelphia. Benjamin Atlans and Abraham Spiser, both of New York, waived examination before United States Commissioner Isaac Platt in New York, and were held for hearings in this city.

Father Is Given Life In Slaying of Girl, 15

BAY SPRINGS, Miss., March 2.—(AP)—George Lois Jackson Sr., 52-year-old Jasper county farmer, today was found guilty by a circuit court jury of the murder of Hester Jackson, 15, his daughter, last October and his punishment was fixed at life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The state immediately continued until the August term of court murder charges against Mrs. Alice Jackson, mother of the dead girl, and George Lois Jr., 21, and Kermie, 13, brothers, who were indicted jointly with the father as a result of the strange death of the girl.

The mother and brothers will be allowed liberty under bail, as soon as they post $1,000 each in the case of the mother and Kermie, and $1,500 for George Lois Jr.

McDuffie Takes Oath As Alabama Judge

MOBILE, Ala., March 2.—(AP)—John McDuffie, representative in congress from the first Alabama district for many years, today took the oath of office as federal judge of the United States district court for southern Alabama, succeeding Robert T. Ervin. McDuffie was appointed to the judgeship by President Roosevelt when Ervin asked for retirement after serving since 1917.

Many lawyers from south Alabama were in the courtroom when the oath of office was administered by Virgil C. Griffin, court clerk.

Kennamer Appeal Refused by Judge

PAWNEE, Okla., March 2.—(AP)—District Judge Thurman Hurst overruled today a supplemental motion for a new trial for Phil Kennamer, 19, Tulsa federal judge's son sentenced to 25 years imprisonment for the Thanksgiving night slaying of John F. Gorrell Jr., 23.

Young Kennamer will be taken to the state's prison at McAlester Monday.

MOREHOUSE COLLEGE WILL HEAR FAULKNER

Rev. William J. Faulkner, acting minister of Fisk Union church, and dean of men's personnel at Fisk University, will be at Morehouse college this week, beginning Wednesday. He is being brought to Atlanta through the efforts of the Morehouse college Y. M. C. A. in an attempt to re-establish a precedent established years ago, of bringing outstanding religious leaders to the campus to live among the students. Faulkner will meet with small groups of students and will hold interviews with individual students in an effort to help them in their thinking concerning ethical and social questions.

Wednesday and Thursday mornings at the chapel hours, Faulkner will talk to the student body on "The Function of Religion in Modern Life," and on Friday morning he will discuss "The Negro in the Present American Scene."

MOROLINE
SNOW-WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY
5¢ WHY PAY MORE?
GREATER ECONOMY IN THE 10¢ SIZE

City Auditorium Transformed Into Arena for Big Circus

Lucile Larraine and two of her huge pachyderm charges pose for the camera. These huge performers are part of the big group of elephant performers to be seen with Bob Morton's circus during Yaarab Temple's Shrine circus at the city auditorium all this week.

Yaarab temple's big Shrine circus which starts Monday evening at the city auditorium promises to fulfill all advance claims made by hundreds of Shriners who have been busily engaged disposing of tickets for the past four weeks, according to announcement today by Hiram R. Romans, potentate of Yaarab temple.

Among feature acts announced for presentation by Bob Morton's circus will be Mickey King, internationally known aerialist and successor to the mantle so long worn by the late Lillian Leitzel, of Ringling-Barnum & Bailey fame; "Sandina," heralded as the world's only performing bactrian camel; the Bob Morton menage horses, featuring a group of lady riders; Harry LaPearl, dean of circus clowns and his funsters; Nellie Dutton equestrian revue; Mlle. Marie and Pals, diminutive ponies and trained canines; the Lavenia sisters and the Silverlakes, double trapeze artists; Bob Morton's military elephants, a herd of performing pachyderms; Ernie White, the man who spins on his head upside down; Mlle. Eveyine, contortionist; Allie Johnson, slack wire artist; Marlow's pony circus; Marie Hodgini, aerialist; Edythe Seigrist and company, flying act, featuring leaps, passes and catches in midair from the flying trapeze.

A portion of the circus has already arrived and scores of workmen have started transforming the interior of the auditorium into a huge circus arena, with ringside seats, sawdust, tons of apparatus and the various accoutrements of the circus.

A schedule of nine performances has been arranged, including night shows each evening of the week and matinee performances on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Yaarab Temple band, under direction of Noble A. J. Garing, will give a concert before the grand entry on Monday evening. Reserved seats have been placed on sale at Cable Piano Company.

Allen Hits Sales Tax Plan As Overwhelming Burden

Merchant Says Proposal Is Tantamount to 3 Per Cent Universal Income Tax.

By J. P. ALLEN, Chairman Legislative Committee, Georgia Mercantile Association.

The most staggering tax burden the people of Georgia have ever known would be fastened on them under the terms of a bill prepared recently by a few Georgia legislators and presented by them to the ways and means committee of the house. The bill, which its sponsors estimate would raise from $18,000,000 to $30,000,000 each year in Georgia, is a consumer's tax of 5 per cent on purchases made in the state. Under the terms of the bill the tax would be paid by the public at the rate of 5 cents on each $1 of purchase. Stated in another way, if this bill should pass, the dollars which the people spend in Georgia would be worth only 95 cents, as 5 cents out of each $1 would be eaten up in tax.

To illustrate: The tax on $5 worth of groceries would be 25 cents; the tax on a $10 pair of shoes would be 50 cents; the tax on a $15 dress would be 75 cents; the tax on a $30 suit of clothes would be $1.50; the tax on a $60 radio would be $3; the tax on $100 worth of furniture would be $5; the tax on a $150 refrigerator would be $7.50, and so on.

If anyone should propose that the Georgia legislature pass a bill requiring people earning small salaries to pay a 3 per cent tax on their gross income, without any exemption whatsoever, he would immediately be branded as an enemy of the masses of the people of Georgia. Yet the bill which is now being proposed would do exactly that, as the man of small earnings would spend at least 60 per cent of his entire income in Georgia for items taxable under this bill, and the 5 per cent tax he would pay on these purchases would equal at least 3 per cent on his entire income. One section states it is the intent and purpose of the bill to abandon with utmost dispatch ad valorem taxes for state purposes. If the bill succeeded in doing this less than $5,000,000 of ad valorem taxes would be removed, and there would be heaped on the backs of the people of Georgia a crushing burden of $18,000,000 or more each year in new taxes.

Unquestionably many large financial institutions of the north owning millions of dollars' worth of real estate in Georgia would welcome such a bill, because some of the ad valorem taxes would be removed from their properties, and as they would spend no money in Georgia for items taxable under this bill any ad valorem taxes that were removed would be a net saving to them. In other words, the people of Georgia would have added to their tax bill a part of the taxes that are now being paid by non-resident real estate owners.

Urges Referendum.

Why should an effort be made to rush this bill through the Georgia legislature without giving the public a chance to study it? Why shouldn't the people of Georgia, after having explained to them that a bill of this kind would tax them more heavily than they have ever dreamed of being taxed before, have an opportunity to vote on so revolutionary a question?

We can think of nothing more apt at this time than the following statement made by former Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, after trying out the sales tax in his state for six months:

"A sales tax is bad because it is simply one more device to put the tax burden mainly on those who are least able to pay. It denies the sound principle of equality of sacrifice, because it bears more heavily in proportion on the poor than on the rich. A sales tax amounts, in effect, to a graduated income tax reversed, for under it the smaller a man's income the larger percentage of it goes to pay the tax.

"A worker or a farmer spends something like half of his total income for consumer's goods upon which sales taxes are levied. A rich man may, and often does, spend as little for these same goods as 5 per cent. One-half of the poor man's income is taxed under the sales tax and one-half escapes. Five per cent of the rich man's income pays under the sales tax and 95 per cent escapes.

"There is no justice in such an arrangement. It is merely another way to free the rich from taxation."

Poor Man's Tax.

Anyone who studies the sales tax knows it is a poor man's tax—knows it is designed to shift the burden of taxation to those least able to pay.

We respectfully submit that the people of Georgia should be given a chance to say by their votes whether or not they want this crushing tax burden placed upon their shoulders.

Governor Talmadge, near the conclusion of his July 4 campaign speech at Bainbridge, said: "What is the third and last plank of my platform now. Here it is: If I am your governor two more years, I will pay up the balance of the state's indebtedness in toto, and not raise your taxes one dime."

We respectfully submit that the people of Georgia indorsed this plank exactly as they indorsed the other planks of the governor's platform. Governor Talmadge is standing by this pledge and we insist that the legislature should exercise the same diligence in carrying out this pledge as they have exercised in carrying out the others made by the governor.

BRITISH CURRENCY PLUNGES SHARPLY TO TWO-YEAR LOW

Continued From First Page.

the other European countries which have been maintaining their currencies at pre-depression levels. The pound touched a record low in Paris, in terms of the present French franc, at less than 72 francs, in contract with its old parity a fraction above 124 francs.

Persistent depreciation of the pound, it is felt in prominent banking circles in Paris and New York, would eventually force devaluation of the French franc and related currencies. But what Paris worried about most was the decline in the pound might prompt a further devaluation of the dollar. Substantially lower positions for both the pound and the dollar would make the present level of the European gold currencies untenable, it was widely agreed.

Balances Pulled.

Among cooler heads in Wall Street, however, there was a pronounced opinion that the drop in the pound reflected nothing more than a foreign exchange flurry, prompted by an adverse turn of economic and political news from the British capital. The collapse of the pepper, shellac and tin pools, and consequent fireworks in the house of commons, together with some indications of interruption of the until recently strong recovery movement in British economy, presumably impelled a number of foreigners to pull short balances out of London, which of course involved selling pounds to buy other currencies.

The tardiness of the British equalization fund in stepping in, however, together with the remarks in the house of commons on Thursday of Chancellor Chamberlain, who said the time was not ripe for stabilization, aroused some unearliness over the possibility that the British had embarked upon a campaign to reduce the value of the pound. It was well known that London would like to see the pound lower in terms of the dollar.

EQUALIZATION FUND THROWN INTO BREACH

LONDON, March 2.—(AP)—A report that the British government had stepped in with its equalization fund to check a sensational slump in the pound sterling was heard in financial circles tonight after the pound had touched 4.77 3-4 in United States dollars, a low record since October, 1928.

Continental bear speculators wtre blamed for the drive against the pound. Dealers attributed its weakness to uneasiness on the continent concerning the financial and political situation in this coutry, allegedly arising from exaggerated rumors.

The dollar closed at 4.79 3-4 to the pound, representing a loss of about eight cents in two days. In terms of French gold francs the pounds sank from 72.30 to 71.64.

Simultaneously the price of bar gold leaped sensationally into new high brackets for the second consecutive day. Gold sold for 146 shillings, 10 1-2 pence or $35.37 in terms of American currency. An amount valued at 362,000 pounds ($1,743,82.50) was sold. After the close of the bullion market unofficial gold deals were reported at 147 shillings and 6 pence.

Spot silver spurted to 27 pence, the highest price since October, 1928. The "city" was taking the continued sterling drop calmly, generally blaming the weakness on "talking the pound down" on the continent.

Jurist Found Dead.

SMITHVILLE, Tenn., March 2.—(AP)—Chancellor Charles J. Cullom, 59, was found dead in bed today at the Commercial hotel. Death apparently was due to a heart attack. He was serving his first term on the bench, having been elected last August for eight years.

Rogers Caldwell Freed To Save Court Cost

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 2.—(AP) Rogers Caldwell, Nashville financier, who had successfully resisted extradition to Kentucky to face trial on a charge growing out of the collapse of the Bancokentucky Company, obtained a dismissal of the indictment in circuit court here today.

After Caldwell, accompanied by his attorney, William Fuqua, paid a surprise visit here today, the indictment, charging Caldwell with obtaining property by means of a false statement in writing, was dismissed with the sanction of the commonwealth's attorney, Merit O'Neal.

The alleged false statement was said to have been made in negotiations resulting in the merger of the investment house, Caldwell & Company, with the Bancokentucky.

O'Neal, giving his reasons for the dismissal, stated that even if a conviction were possible the commonwealth would be compelled to obtain its evidence by an audit of records at a prohibitive cost.

$56,576,574 Granted For Relief in March

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—The relief administration today allotted $56,576,574 for general relief in March. All grants except those to Alaska and the Virgin islands were for the first 15 days.

No grants were announced for Arkansas, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Minnesota, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Oklahoma Oregon, Vermont, Washington and Hawaii.

Grants to states included:

Alabama, $994,265; California, $5,515,960; Connecticut, $694,630; District of Columbia, $407,560; Florida, $709,830; Kentucky, $840,700; Louisiana, $973,114; Maine, $369,385; Maryland, $862,480; Massachusetts, $3,125,000; Mississippi, $613,477; New Hampshire, $105,810; North Carolina $839,075; Rhode Island, $191,650; South Carolina, $613,200; Tennessee, $634,170; Virginia, $917,190; West Virginia, $985,650.

School Girl Slain In Carolina Woods

HENDERSON, N. C., March 2.—(AP)—Franklin county authorities today made an intensive search for clews to the slayer of Martha Faulkner, 15-year-old girl, whose badly battered body was found in woods near her home by her father, Sidney Faulkner, a tenant farmer.

Coroner R. A. Bobbitt, who ordered an inquest, said that so far he has been unable to get any trace of the child's assailant or assailants.

Members of the family said she left her home in Gold Sand school section of the county Thursday evening to go to a neighbor's home and thence to a church gathering.

When she did not return, her father started out yesterday morning to the neighbor's to inquire about her, and found her body on the way.

The child had apparently been dealt a crushing blow in the back of the head, and her body showed signs also of having been hacked with an ax. A preliminary investigation indicated she had not been criminally attacked.

Ga. Military Posts Deprived of 2 Millions

WASHINGTON, March 2.—More than $2,000,000 for construction, remodeling, reconditioning and installation at military posts in Georgia was subtracted from the total amount of the senate appropriation bill as reported from committee Friday. The amount cut was not in the bill as it came over from the house, but was inserted by the subcommittee in charge.

The full committee of which Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas, is chairman, struck the entire section out because no previous authorization had been made.

As reported by the subcommittee Fort Benning would have received $985,080; Candler field $226,000; Fort McPherson $762,414; Fort Oglethorpe $133,563, and Marietta $700.

Louisiana Phone Rates Are Ordered Reduced

BATON ROUGE, La., March 2.—(AP)—Redictions which the Louisiana public service commission said would result in savings to subscribers of $600,000 annually were ordered today by the commission in Huey Long's state-wide telephone rate case.

The rates were ordered lowered following proceedings against the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company pressed by Senator Long as the commission's special counsel over a period of three months.

The public service commission is ing to localities.

The reductions are varying accordspecial session of the legislature. sued its order after conference with Long as the senator concluded his

Senate Body To Study Charges Against Farley

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Senator McKellar, chairman of the postoffice committee, said today the committee in executive session Monday would consider the resolution and charges submitted against Postmaster-General Farley by Senator Long, democrat, Louisiana.

McKellar said no procedure had been planned, but that the committee would give consideration to all statements Long has referred to it.

Asked if Senator Long would be present at the meeting, McKellar said the Louisiana senator had "indicated a desire" to appear before the committee.

60-Degree Weather Likely Here Today

Atlanta will continue to enjoy springlike weather today, with the mercury soaring to the 60-degree mark or slightly above, according to George W. Mindling, forecaster here. The day will be fair.

The low temperature early this morning is expected to be 42 degrees, comparing most favorably with the low of Saturday morning, when the mercury dropped to 38 degrees.

Three-Pound Stone Ax Found on Jones Farm

MACON, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—A stone ax, weighing about three pounds, has been found on the Jones county farm of B. R. Andrews, of Haddock.

Mr. Andrews exhibited the ax in the office of the Macon Telegraph last night and said numerous other similar relics had been found on the farm. He said the relics probably were used by Indians.

City Salesmen's Association Elects Officers for Year

Newly-elected officers of the City Salesmen's Association, elected at the annual meeting, banquet and dance held at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night at the Piedmont hotel, are seen above. Seated, from left to right, are E. F. Johnson, first vice president; Harvey F. Harrison, treasurer, and J. Frank Reynolds, second vice president. Standing, left to right, T. Ralph Grimes, retiring president and newly-elected secretary, and Cecil H. Floyd, the new president of the organization.

T. Ralph Grimes, of the McCord-Stewart Company, Saturday night retired as president of the City Salesmen's Association and was honored by being elected secretary of that organization at its thirty-eighth annual banquet held at 7:30 o'clock in the Piedmont hotel.

He was succeeded in the office of president by Cecil H. Floyd, of Tenenbaum Brothers. Other officers elected were E. F. Johnson, first vice president, sales representative of the Pet Milk Company; T. Frank Reynolds, second vice president, and I. R. Walker, assistant secretary.

Mayor Key was principal speaker at the dinner and 15 past presidents of the association were presented by Tom L. Simpson, master of ceremonies.

The City Salesmen's Association was founded in 1896 to bring about a better understanding between business houses and their salesmen and between manufacturers and retailers. Since its organization the group has done much charity work in Atlanta.

Anyone selling goods to be resold is eligible for membership. The club now has 150 members.

A business meeting preceded the banquet, which was followed by a dance, as is the custom.

Mrs. E. F. Johnson sang several selections accompanied by Mrs. Jewel McNair, playing on the vibra-harp, as the musical feature of the dinner.

CRYAN TO DELIVER SERIES OF LECTURES

Talks on "Success" Will Be Made at Webster University, Starting Monday.

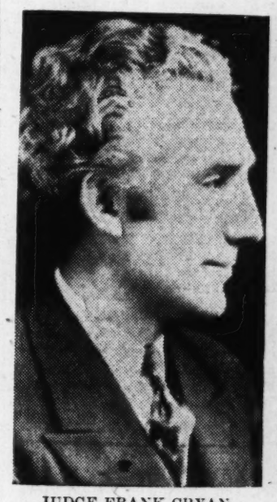

A series of lectures on "Success" will be delivered at Webster University Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday by Judge Frank Cryan, who, according to his own story, arrived in America penniless and without friends and became head of a large New York corporation. He later was elected a justice of the New York state courts.

The lecture at 8 o'clock Monday night at Webster University will be in the form of an introductory to the series and will in a general way touch on all branches of the subject which, in subsequent lectures, he dwells on in detail.

"The Psychology of Success" is the subject of the lecture he will deliver Tuesday night, and Wednesday night Judge Cryan will speak on "Why Men Succeed." The first three lectures of the series are free and open to the public.

Starting Thursday, Judge Cryan will deliver talks on various specialized features of "Success," the first of the series treating the problem of converting abilities into assets. Immediate increase in personal earnings, developing qualities of success, banishing fear and timidity, good salesmanship, the use of ideas, enthusiasm and other facts regarding the development of personality and ability will be discussed in the special talks.

To Speak Here

JUDGE FRANK CRYAN.

BANDITS GET $300 IN ROBBERY SERIES

Continued From First Page.

battered on the door while she and two of the employes, Mrs. Cozart Smith and Mrs. L. L. Ivey, were preparing to close the store for the night. She admitted him, she said, and the man began cursing her, telling her, according to police reports: "I've come out here to make you keep your mouth shut." Mrs. Wall recently has identified two men in various lineups as members of the quartet which on December 8 held up the dry cleaning plant.

He then knocked her to the floor and started toward the cash register. Mrs. Wall screamed and a passer-by, sensing what was going on, called police. The man tussled with Mrs. Wall and then turned and ran out of the store directly into the arms of Motorcycle Patrolmen Leo Nahlik and P. E. Edwards, who arrived at the store with Radio Patrolmen J. W. Cody and W. F. White. During the melee, Patrolman Cody stumbled over Patrolman Nahlik's motorcycle and broke a toe on his right foot.

Judge Grubb To Sign TVA Decree Monday

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 2.—(AP)—Judge W. I. Grubb announced tonight he ould not sign before Monday a final decree in the suit of preferred shareholders of the Alabama Power Company, to restrain the Tennessee Valley Authority from purchasing the utility's holdings in north Alabama.

The announcement came as attorneys for the two contending parties waited nervously for his action, expected momentarily since mid-afternoon.

A copy of the decree was sent to his home late this afternoon. Judge Grubb gave no intimation as to when the decree would be signed.

Rupture Medicines

Don't be misled into thinking that liquids, lotions, salves or anything else rubbed on the body can help to cure rupture. All medical authorities agree that Rupture can be cured in only two ways. One is by operation. The other is by giving the rupture comfortable, firm and constant support, so that Nature has a chance to close the opening in a natural way. Such a support is the Brooks—neat, light, cool and comfortable, washable, low-priced. It is sent on a no-risk trial to prove it. If you want the facts about rupture and this invention, write today to the Brooks Company, 1470 State St., Marshall, Michigan. Sent free in plain sealed envelope. No charge, no obligation.—(adv.)

Man Is Badly Injured In Battle With Cops

Sudden rebellion against police who had been assigned to curb his alleged disorders at his home at 184 Poplar circle, Saturday night sent Q. A. Hemphill, 27, to Grady hospital, where he is being held for observation for a possible fracture of the skull.

Radio Patrolman R. L. Burden and T. J. Avery, after arresting Hemphill, put him in the rear seat of the police car and Burden got in to keep him company. Suddenly, according to police reports, Hemphill picked up an overcoat which was on the seat and threw it over Burden's head and wrested Burden's flashlight from him.

Burden, fighting off the overcoat with one hand, drew his blackjack and subdued Hemphill, who offered little fight thereafter, according to the police report.

NEW UNIT IS ADDED TO M'DONOUGH PLANT

McDONOUGH, Ga., March 2.—The Planters Warehouse Company, of McDonough, has completed the third unit, a large two-story brick building, of their plant. This new structure adds more than 10,000 square feet of storage space to their warehouses.

The two upper floors will be used for storing cotton while the basement has been leased by Turner and Alexander for a fertilizer plant. It is understood this firm has a daily capacity of 50 tons of fertilizer.

Septuplets Are Born To Mother in Atlanta

Who said quintuplets? Seven babies were born to one mother in Atlanta Saturday!

Puffy Girl, a registered Persian cat, gave birth to seven kitttens, which her owner, Mrs. H. L. Barger, of 33 Alexander street, N. W., claims is almost as rare an occurrence as quintuplets with humans. Mother and babes are doing as well as could be expected.

VAUDEVILLE ACTS FOR ROGERS SHOW

Elaborate Displays Arranged for Week's Exposition at 230 SpringSt.

A daily vaudeville show, featuring 10 high-class acts, will be one of the attractions at the Rogers Stores Food Show and Exposition, to be held March 14 to 23, at 230 Spring street.

The food show, destined to be the greatest attraction of its kind ever staged in Atlanta, is under the directorship of John W. Gates and will be participated in by leading food manufacturers from all parts of the country.

In addition, there will be displays of household furnishings, electrical appliances of all descriptions and an automobile exhibit.

Ten vaudeville acts will be presented daily by high-class entertainers and music will be provided by Pete Underwood and his Biltmore Hotel orchestra.

The Ford Motor Company, which will occupy a portion of the main floor of the 230 Spring street building, is arranging to exhibit some of the Ford attractions at Chicago's Century of Progress a year ago, and in addition will stage a "kiddie review" every afternoon and evening, according to Mr. Gates.

Practically all space in the three-story building which will house the show and exposition has been spoken for and the task of placing the building in readiness for the big event will commence Monday, the show director announced Saturday.

KAMENKA, Siberia—(UP)—Two freak animals have been born here within recent days. A cow gave birth to a two-headed calf. A few days later a lamb was born with two heads, one of which had four eyes.

FURNITURE SPECIALS

Of Odd Pieces and Suites—Savings to Half

Chest of Drawers — Several nice used chest of drawers in various finishes — all reconditioned, and are wonderful values at the advertised price. $6.95

Baby Beds — With drop sides; standard size. Choice of finishes. A real buy at the above price $4.95

One good 3-pc. velour Living Room Suite. A big buy at $25.00

One beautiful 4-pc. walnut Bedroom Suite, almost new, for only..... $29.00

One almost new Coal and Wood Range to go for.. $19.50

Clean-up on a lot of fine oil Window Shades, 32, 33, 36 inches wide, 6 feet long 39c

Brand-new automatic coil-spring Day Bed and Mattress to go for $13.50

One lot of fine inner-spring Mattresses, full and twin sizes. Extra values at $9.95

One lot of brand-new, all-metal Utility Cabinets, choice of finishes, for.... $3.50

Beautiful gate-leg Table and 4 chairs, $29.50 value. This sale..... $19.75

Brand-new all-cedar Chest. They are to close out now for $7.95

One lot of good reconditioned Heaters. All sizes. You can buy at about 1-4 regular prices.

Beautiful 7-pc. Dinette Suite, originally cost $125.00. You can buy a real bargain Saturday for $40.00

One very fine concert Grand Piano in perfect condition. You can buy it for $100

Several odd Settees for waiting rooms or reception rooms. Choice, each $5.00

One lot of 9x12-ft. felt-base Art Rugs. In choice of patterns. Bordered.... $4.95

One beautiful mahogany Book, Case. Would be a bargain at $30. Now.... $19.75

We upholster, repair and refinish furniture and clean rugs; in fact, complete service for the home. Phone us.

Where You Buy, Sell and Exchange

BASS FURN. CO. 182 Mitchell St. MAin 5123

Ole Chic Gene

OLSEN & JOHNSON-AUSTIN

in

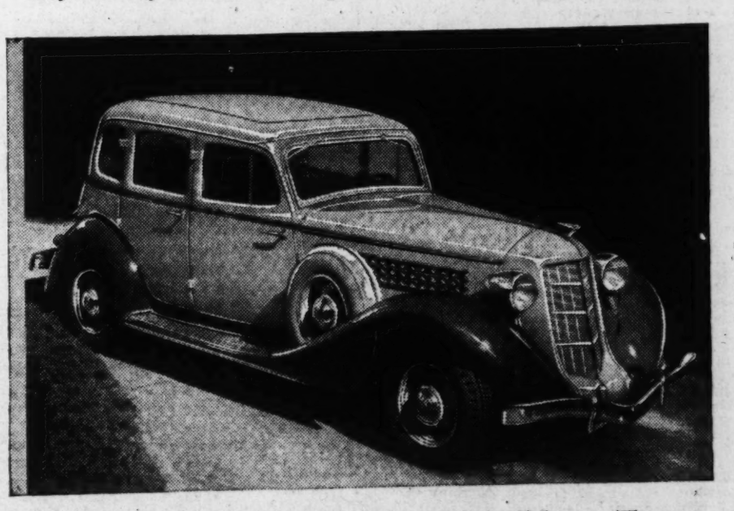

GOIN' PLACES

a Kerr-Griffin musical production

using Six New AUBURN Cars in its Caravan

Also AB. JENKINS, holder of more world's unlimited records than any other driver; accompanying the Caravan in his special Auburn Super-Charged Speedster.

This famous team of stage, screen and radio stars and their big company playing in Atlanta at the Erlanger Theatre Tuesday, are using six New 1935 Auburn cars as part of their Caravan. They have learned, like thousands of others, that Auburn is the car for people who are "Goin' Places." The New 1935 Auburn Models are Exclusive, Distinctive, Individual. They have the aristocratic appearance, the roominess, riding comfort and performance formerly obtainable in only the most expensive cars; yet they are very economical to operate and surprisingly low in price.

See These 6 New Auburn Cars in front of the Erlanger Theater.

INSPECT • COMPARE • DRIVE

W. C. DENNY MOTORS

516-520 West Peachtree St., N. W. HE. 4777-8

Books and People

Conducted by Julian Harris

Wartime 'Brain Trust'

DIGEST OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE DURING THE WORLD WAR. By Dr. Franklin H. Martin. 700 pp., Washington: Government Printing Office, 1934.

Despite its title and despite the fact that this volume appears as a senate document, it is not, strictly speaking, a digest of the proceedings of the council of national defense. It is, rather, a bird's-eye view of the inner workings of the council and of the advisory commission as they were observed by the author from day to day during the war: in fact, the work is virtually a reproduction, with some supplementary material added, and a few personal details curtailed or omitted, of the second volume of "The Joy of Living: An Autobiography," by Dr. Franklin H. Martin, which was published in 1933. What we really have then is a very personal narrative relating the experiences and observations of the author from the outbreak of the World War in August, 1914, to January 16, 1919, when he returned to the United States from a brief trip abroad at the end of the war. As director-general of the American College of Surgeons, as a member of the advisory commission of the council of national defense, and as chairman of the medical section of the council, Dr. Martin is naturally most interested in the medical profession, and the major emphasis throughout the book is upon the mobilization of the American doctors and nurses for war service. Nevertheless, the author does succeed in giving a very good picture of the origin, organization, and functioning of the council of national defense and of its advisory commission, of which he was a member.

After a short but thrilling account of his experiences in Europe in the early days of the World War, during which he saw Paris and London in the throes of mobilization, called to order in the Waldorf hotel in London the first meeting for the relief of stranded Americans, and made an exciting automobile journey to Munich to rescue a young American friend, Dr. Martin describes the efforts of Dr. F. F. Simpson to arouse the doctors of America to prepare for war service. In April, 1916, the committee of American physicians for medical preparedness was organized in Chicago and its services tendered to the government. Dr. Martin, already a prominent figure in medical circles, took an important part in the work of organization.

Meanwhile the general movement for preparedness began to interest the country. Training camps were in process of organization. A naval consulting board under Secretary Daniels had been considered and organized. August 29, 1916, President Wilson approved a bill establishing a council of national defense for the co-ordination of industries and resources for the national security and welfare, to consist of the secretaries of war, navy, interior, agriculture, commerce and labor, and providing for the nomination of an advisory commission of not more than seven persons, each of whom should be specially qualified to advise and assist the council. The advisory commission was not appointed by the president until October 11, 1916: it consisted of seven civilians, Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, Hollis Godfrey, president of Drexel Institute; Howard E. Coffin, chairman of the committee on industrial preparedness of the naval consulting board; Bernard Baruch, financier; Julius Rosenwald, vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Company; Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Dr. Martin, surgeon, and director-general of the American College of Surgeons. The commission constituted a "brain trust" of unusual ability. Its members, who were appointed without regard to party, served without remuneration, and contributed greatly to America's success in the World War.

The council of national defense, with its advisory commission, rendered a far greater service to the country during the war than is generally understood. It was the clearing house for all sorts of plans for the mobilization of the nation's natural and industrial resources and man power. Under its auspices were organized the food and fuel administrations, the shipping board, the aircraft board, the war industries board, the war labor board, and the general medical board. It organized innumerable boards and committees in the effort to co-ordinate war activities. It appointed at least 40,000 men to important positions on these committees, Dr. Martin stresses the perfect harmony which existed between the council of national defense and its advisory commission. "Neither body," he tells us, "stood on the formality of precedence or priority."

Although primarily interested in the medical profession, Dr. Martin participated in many of the other activities of the advisory commission. It was he who suggested that careful reports be kept of meetings of the council and of the commission, and that a definite order of business be followed. The general medical board, which he organized, served as a co-operating agency between the regular departments of the army, navy and public health service, and the medical officers who were enrolled from civil life; this board served as a model for several other administrative bodies that grew out of the advisory commission—the food administration, the aircraft board, and the general munitions board.

Dr. Martin discusses in considerable detail the multitudinous activities which engaged the attention of the council and its advisory commission. He is especially generous in his praise of Secretary Baker, chairman of the council, of Commissioner Gompers, who seems to have won the love of all his associates, of Daniel Willard, chairman of the advisory commission, of Howard E. Coffin, and of Bernard M. Baruch, who, in addition to his work on the advisory commission, was from March 4 to November 11, 1916, the efficient chairman of the important war industries board, which probably wielded more power and contributed more vitally to winning the war than any other single agency.

Dr. Martin tells us, also, of the investigating propensities of congress, of the jealousy of many of the commissioned officers of the army and navy toward the civilians of the advisory commission and its committees and boards, of the frequent reorganizations necessitated by the ever-increasing demands of the war, of the reception of the British and French missions, of the modest origin of the eighteenth amendment.

All in all Dr. Martin's book is to be recommended to anyone who desires to obtain a comprehensive view of the many problems involved in the mobilization of the resources and man-power of a great nation for war purposes. —ROSS H. McLEAN.

How Expressionism Sees Rain

This drawing, called "Rain," is by Raymond Jonson. It decorates the jacket of "Expressionism in Art," which is reviewed in another column by Marjorie Conant Bush-Brown, the well-known painter.

Readin' 'n' 'Ritin'

Interesting to layman as well as artist should be Marjorie Conant Bush-Brown's review of "Expressionism in Art" in this page. Mrs. Bush-Brown has won recognition as an artist of unusual ability. She was invited to exhibit at both the Pan-American in Los Angeles and the Carnegie International in Pittsburgh, where the American section is always very small. It was in Pittsburgh that Mrs. Bush-Brown's portrait of her mother, Mrs. James S. Conant received highest critical praise. Mrs. Conant, by the way, is spending the winter with the Bush-Browns, as is her custom. Her annual visit is looked forward to with real pleasure by the many friends she has won here through her charming personality and keen mind.

From a kosmopolitan keyhole kolumnist's tower of inerrancy: "One provincial critic reviewing 'The Distaff Side' called it 'The Distant Side,' and it wasn't a typographical error—it ran throughout the article, the 'cluck'!" Is it possible the critical columnist wrote "Leonardo De Vinci" recently when "Leonardo da Vinci" would have served his purpose? And was it that same columnist who credited "Mare Nostrum" to Joseph Conrad? And who later wrote, "Life, as some philosopher has written, is forever plagiarizing fiction," whereas it was Oscar Wilde who said, "Nature imitates art." This column finds the "provincial critic" not such a "cluck" since the distaff side can also be distant. As far away as Berkeley, Cal., for instance.

From A. F. H., Atlanta: "I read a few days ago that Dr. William Lyon Phelps had selected 'Lamb in His Bosom' as one of the five best novels of 1934. Wasn't Caroline Miller's book published in 1933?"

Mrs. Miller's novel was published in 1933, but did not receive general recognition until she won the Pulitzer award in the spring of 1934. The only books given consideration by the board of awards are those published in the preceding year.

In the same mail with the brief query from A. F. H., came a letter from Mrs. F. D. M., Murray, Ky. She opens with the statement that she is "soon to write a review of 'Lamb in His Bosom'" and wants "a closer insight into just what constitutes a criterion in reckoning a prize novel."

"Though prize novels are not the only ones to possess them, still the last several Pulitzer prize novels contain very undesirable characteristics," asserts Mrs. F. D. M. She adds:

"When the scenes are laid in the south, as in 'Scarlet Sister Mary,' 'The Store,' and 'Lamb in His Bosom,' the tendency is to parade the immorality and the poverty and the ignorance of the south with no relief from opposing virtues. Is this a prize-winning requirement?"

Mrs. F. D. M. continues: "Vivid word picturization, across which in all decency a curtain should be drawn, appears as unabashed as in our cinema productions of shady reputation. Is it true that to attain a reading public a Pulitzer prize book must cater to a more or less vicious taste? Evidently, the conclusion to be drawn is that to compose a prize novel is to narrate the affairs of ordinary mortals in whom is no moral or spiritual leavening."

For some reason our Kentucky correspondent omits mention of two well-known Pulitzer prize winners—"The Bridge of San Luis Rey," by Thornton Wilder, and "Good Earth," by Pearl Buck.

Certainly, neither of these two novels "cater to a more or less vicious taste." Nor does this column see how the other three prize winners can be classed as "catering to vicious taste." Perhaps, if our Kentucky correspondent will read some of the books which have been praised by critics, but which did not obtain the Pulitzer prize, she will learn something about uncurtained fiction; for instance, "God's Little Acre" and "Tobacco Road," which out-Faulknered Faulkner. And Erskine Caldwell and Faulkner are both southerners. Columbia University, where the Pulitzer prizes are awarded, barred "God's Little Acre" from its library.

The greatest best seller in years, in England as well as America, did not win the Pulitzer prize. It was acclaimed by critics, and the public bought more than half a million copies. Reference is to "Anthony Adverse," which is a fascinating and amazingly well-done novel. It was published in the same year—1933—that brought "Lamb in His Bosom" to light.

Mrs. Miller's novel won the preference of the Pulitzer award board because it is not only a true picture of pioneer days in Georgia, but is also written in moving style. The characters are well drawn, and the scene of the story is not in foreign lands. For, all other things being equal, the Pulitzer prize is awarded to the novelist who deals "preferably with American life."

After all, what books one likes or dislikes is purely a matter of taste. Some persons prefer to read novels which seem to bear some relation to life; others prefer the "escape literature" of impossible plots, flawless heroes, and super-detectives who can't be balked after the last chapter.

It seems appropriate to mention just here a pamphlet entitled "Stepping Stone to Right Living," by Arnold W. Little, who handed it in person to this column. Mr. Arnold's motto, printed on the front of the booklet, is "Virtue, Modesty and Purity." In its pages are essays, semi-serious jokes and rhymes. Mr. Arnold states he is a champion cotton picker, but for the present is in search of statesmanship. He is also a pianist. Some of Mr. Arnold's poetry is decidedly reminiscent of the work of the late J. Gordon Coogler, South Carolina's bard of three decades ago. Mr. Arnold says his booklet is on sale in Atlanta.

Let's Go Bibliophile

Joel Chandler Harris and Sidney Lanier are perhaps the greatest of Georgia authors; certainly their works have carried the fame of Georgia further into the world than others. It is logical they should be the favorites among Georgia collectors.

We all know and love "Uncle Remus" and collectors have rightly given these folk-lore stories a place among the "greats" of American literature. Not so well known but even more difficult to find in fine condition is "Daddy Jake." This book was printed on fragile glazed boards and fond readers have usually read it until it is taftered.

Sidney Lanier's books fared unusually well, appealing as they do to more mature readers, but still a copy of the first edition of his poems or "Tiger Lilies," in fine condition, is very rare. —B. W.

This Changing Art.

EXPRESSIONISM IN ART. By Sheldon Cheney. 411 pp. New York: Liveright Publishing Corporation. $5.

"Art is the formal expression of a conceived image." So runs Mr. Cheney's definition in his latest book, "Expressionism in Art." And as he goes on to say, "The whole book is in a sense an elucidation of this definition."

It is at times a definition not as clear and simple as one might wish. Indeed the average questioning layman who seeks information about the mysteries of so-called "modern art" might well become exhausted before he could ferret out some of the really excellent reasons why Mr. Cheney prefers to call these mysteries Expressionism in Art rather than by the term of Modern Art. Even for a painter, it is sometimes not easy to sift out the very helpful material from a great number of too technically worded pages.

Mr. Cheney's theme, as a whole, however, is most interestingly taken, and he does not confine Expressionistic Art to the Graphic Arts alone. He asserts that in protest against the stale forms of Victorian realism a few outstanding giants had a definite part in helping to swing the busy pendulum of reaction away from nineteenth century realism and impressionism to expressionism. In his estimation the giants are Cezanne, in painting; Lehmbruck, in sculpture; Sullivan, in architecture, and Isadora Duncan, in the art of the dance.

In painting, asserts Mr. Cheney, Expressionism offers the perfect antithesis to the immediately preceding movement Impressionism. For the Impressionistic artist pre-occupied himself almost entirely with the fleeting effect of light on the surface of natural objects. In the task of trying to recapture the ephemeral impression of a passing moment in nature, no thought was given to organized arrangement, or to portraying the fundamental essence of the character of things, whereas the Expressionistic artist uses rather the subjective process, or to quote directly, "The Expressionist wants to reproduce the intrinsic meaning of things, their soul substance." Mr. Cheney shows at great length how dead and meaningless the photographic art of the Victorian era was in comparison to this new vital point of view of simplification, of ordered and conscious picture planning and building, and of translating nature into terms of rhythm, balance and design.

In applying this new viewpoint to architecture he tells how Sullivan, the Chicago architect, and later on, the young man who worked in his office, Frank Lloyd Wright, revolutionized the outworn and meaningless forms of Victorian architecture. Modern architecture discarded all the cambric trimmings and the useless turrets and porticos which embellished the amazing homes of our grandfathers, and worked instead with functional, unadorned masses to express the purpose for which the building was designed.

In this age no plea or explanation has to be given for a modern public building of any kind, and less and less criticism is levelled at the modern dwelling houses. Therefore, Mr. Cheney's championship of Expressionism in architecture will meet with general approval.

To this reviewer, however, his defense of some of the more extreme forms of Expressionism in painting seems far less sound and convincing. One can go a good bit of the road with him, but not to the bitter end. Numerous footnotes, many of which are excerpts from Thomas Craven's latest book, "Modern Art," designate Mr. Cheney as an opponent of many of Mr. Craven's convictions against some of the so-called modern painting, especially that of the French school. To enjoy thoroughly these clashes between outstanding art critics, one should read Craven's "Modern Art," as well as Cheney's "Expressionism in Art."

Mr. Cheney writes delightfully in several chapters about the Expressionistic movement in sculpture and the dance. The book is filled with beautiful cuts representing paintings and all the arts through the ages. The chapter on picture building should be particularly helpful to any student of painting, and might also shed light on the problems of the more hardy and persevering layman.

—MARJORIE CONANT BUSH-BROWN.

So, This Is Mexico!

FLIGHT SOUTH. By Charles Grayson. New York: Macaulay, $2.

"Flight South" will be thoroughly enjoyed by people who—

(1) Take keen pleasure in reading detailed accounts of society's every action—

(2) Have never been to Mexico, but when and if they do go, will become overnight more Mexican that Popocatepetl—

(3) Think they would like bullfights—

(4) Believe bullfighters are romantic—

(5) Believe that frequent casual references to sexual abberations are a sign of an open mind and a modern spirit—

(6) Feel at home when the characters of a book take a drink at the top, middle and bottom of every page, not to mention every morning without fail upon waking—

(7) Do not mind a miserably jerky and pseudo-highbrow style—

(8) Can do with half a plot or none.

—JOSEPH I. GREENE.

Old Tentmaker.

OMAR KHAYYAM: A LIFE. By Harold Lamb. 303 pp. New York. Doubleday, Doran & Co., Inc.

Omar Khayyam is one of those engaging personalities of the far-away and long-ago, about whom just enough is known to make his life a happy hunting ground for the scholar and the romantic alike. It is known he was the astronomer of the sultan Malikshaw, was still alive in 1115, and that his grave is at Nisapar. Besides being a mathematician whose work is still recognized, he left to posterity a rubaiyat of about 1,200 quatrains, the music of which has echoed down the years and whose philosophy has made it the classic testament of Hedonism. In the personality behind the "Rubaiyat," Edward Fitzgerald, a scholarly recluse of nineteenth century England, recognized a kindred spirit. His paraphrase of the ancient Persian, limited to 100 quatrains, constitutes one of the great masterpieces of English literature, and furnishes a background for this "life."

In "Omar Khayyam," Mr. Lamb shows himself as skillful as ever in blending fact and fancy. The beauty of his story of Omar the Tentmaker lies not only in the vivid portrayal of an ancient people and the fluent style of writing, but in his ability to weave the motive and imagery of the "Rubaiyat" into a romance as filled with adventure as "The Talisman." There are journeys with the caravans, looting and debauchery, spying and the plague. We see familiar figures, from the potter thumping his wet clay to the Old Man of the Mountain, loosing his hashish-drugged assassins in his scheme to conquer the world. And through it all we follow the fortunes of Omar Khayyam, scholar, poet and adventurer. We see the forces at work that broke down his ability as the greatest thinker of the day, causing him to "divorce old barren Reason from his bed, and take the Daughter of the Vine to spouse." He rose from poverty to sit at a king's right hand and dictate to the most learned men of the day. We leave him poor, disillusioned, and outcast, but no longer a prey to the uncertainty of human fate.

Ah, make the most of what we yet may spend,
Before we too, into the dust, descend:
Dust into dust, and under dust to lie,
Sans wine, sans song, sans singer, and sans end!

Harold Lamb is at once a scholar and a story-teller. One of America's leading authorities on the medieval east, he spends much of his time traveling in Syria and Persia, and the surroundings pictured in his books are authoritative. Unlike the characters usually found in works of a like nature, his men and women bear the stamp of the age in which they lived. Although his fiction is based on careful study, it is essentially readable. Besides "Omar Khayyam," Mr. Lamb is the author of "The Crusades," "Genghis Khan," and "Nur Mahal."

—ALLISON ADAMS.

Civilization Mirrored.

HOW LIKE AN ANGEL. By A. G. Macdonell. 301 pp. New York: The Macmillan Company, $2.

A. G. Macdonell, the Scotsman who won for himself the James Tait Black prize of 1933 with "England, Their England," has so fine a sense of humor that, with the use of his clipped satirical phrasing, and the ironic handling of detail, he manages to make our purported "highly advanced" modern life look rather silly. It was Hamlet, in a mood of melancholy, who said bitterly, "What a piece of work is man! How noble in reason! in form and moving how express and admirable! in action how like an angel!" And so Hugo, agitated and bewildered even as Shakespeare's famous character, intensifies and distorts the peculiarities of western civilization so that it falls miserably short of the serene existence in the South Seas, and causes him to wonder "how we humans got this way."

Hugo Bechstein Smith, shipwrecked at a tender age, finds life a pleasant thing until, at the age of 21, armed with a questionable knowledge of Greek, cricket and women, and an analysis of life compiled from three missionaries of varying nationality and experience, he is unfortunately rescued and plunged into the midst of a muddled England, land of innumerable meaningless laws, kidnapers of indiscrimate youth, and the wholly enticing Felida.

While the most exacting of readers might not agree that the present mode of living is so highly ludicrous, they cannot fail to find both amusing and clever the account of the hapless Hugo as he faces a man-made world for the first time. And after seeing England through Mr. Macdonell's shrewdly observant eyes, the reader is apt to wish that he, too, might leave the spectacular and the confused to return to an island paradise whereon nature, the simple and the right, reign, and the dusky inhabitants remain sublimely unconscious of propaganda, law courts, and income tax. Indeed, the one good thing that Hugo finds in the world of progress, is the manufacture of the airplane that takes him, exasperated and underfed, over the magical seas and the scented forests to the scene of his childhood and the murmurous sounds of Kalateheira.

Mr. Macdonell's blatant exaggeration draws characters that are seen in every walk of life, and his observations of the world's inconsistency is a thing that would be more apparent to the individual if he could detach himself from humanity for a while and see civilization as the outsider that Hugo was. Aside from its wholly unique viewpoint, "How Like an Angel" has an abundance of pictures from real English life, and, for lovers of sport, from the Eton cricket fields.

—M. BREITENBUCHER.

Venus Revealed.

LOST ON VENUS. By Edgar Rice Burroughs. 318 pp. Tarzana, Cal. Burroughs, Inc. $2.

In the especial heaven reserved for those who create "escape literature" for children and tired businessmen, Edgar Rice Burroughs, whose Tarzan series is printed in Atlanta in The Constitution, will surely rate a particularly tidy throne. He has made it possible for the city-imprisoned and village-bound to tear around the jungles in ecstatic ferocity with Tarzan and literallly hundreds of animals. And not only does the author encourage his readers to swing from branch to branch, but from star to star.

While Mr. Burroughs' interplanetary romances have been less publicized than the stories of the ageless Tarzan and his mighty fauna family, they are none the less welcome to the reader who has the true Burroughs complex and delights in the utterly impossible. The 1935 Burroughs (for this month) is "Lost on Venus." And it is swell! It has all the trappings of "Pirates of Venus" and some extras all its own. It has the gorgeous Venusian vocabulary, into which things like jongs and yorgans, kazars and zangans, enter with vocabularian grace.

Carson Napier is the hero of "Lost on Venus." And when Burroughs makes a hero, he makes a hero! The book is a new version of Erewhon, the perfect city where everybody, bred scientifically, is beautiful, intelligent, and cultured. It has hairbreadth escapes and bizarre environment, adventure piled on adventure, till the imagination reels. It is not quite as good as his Mars stories, in which human beings are oviparous. That one was a real joy. But there are plenty of unusual incidents and strange customs in "Lost on Venus." The city of the living dead, for instance, and the serum of longevity, are pretty good for "wish-fulfillment" purposes.

In short, if you are lucky enough to be the kind of person who can get lost on Venus, Mr. Burroughs is the man to lose you."

—THOS. F. ST. JOHN.

Stop Worrying.

WORRY AND HOW TO PREVENT IT. By Dr. Julian Pennington. 30 pp. Fifty cents.

Psychoanalysis, which is to psychologists what socialism is to conservative thinkers, comes under the heading of the so-called dynamic school of psychological thought. It is to this school that Dr. Pennington belongs. In the series of reprinted newspaper articles which appeared originally in The Constitution, that makes up his book, Dr. Pennington discusses the ramifications of worry and suggests how it may be prevented.

For instance, if you are inclined to fret over matters which are irrevocably past, use your mental machinery like you use the selective dial of a radio. Tune out station GLOOM and turn on station SUNSHINE with such force that it will drown out the gland-disturbing station. Worry upsets the glands of the brain and throws virulent poisons into the system.

Have you an inferiority complex? Let your imagination convince you that you are self-confident and you will be so. The power of suggestion is strong, and Dr. Pennington believes the Coue system is "sound to the core."

Is there a special sorrow you would like to forget? Do not keep it buried in the subconscious where its repressions will make you ill. You may banish it, as one woman did, by airing it before a tree.

Do you hold tenaciously to impossible desires? Let them go, and build new ones that are possible of fulfillment. Do not wreck your health by the ambition to possess.

These and other ideas are elucidated by Dr. Pennington, who believes in his subject and writes with sincerity.

—M. L.

Lure of the Soil.

THE LOADED STICK. By Naomi Jacob. 339 pp. New York: The Macmillan Company, $2.

Naomi Jacob again gives a family study, and an interesting one, in her new book, "The Loaded Stick." Or, perhaps, it would be more accurate to call it a study of a Yorkshire farm, for Mrs. Jacob has made the love of the land and the influence of its spirit on her characters the theme of her story.

The story begins in 1875 when John Henry Howe, "the average young yeoman farmer of his day" inherits "a farm of considerable value" from his father, James. This stolid young man is tricked into marriage by his cousin and housekeeper, Mary Ellen Brighouse, "one of those north-country women who have apparently never been young, hard featured, cold and possessed of a sterling honesty." On the night of the birth of his son, John Henry is converted to a fanatical Christianity by a wandering preacher of hell-fire and damnation; and spends the rest of his life trying to save the souls of himself and his family while neglecting his farm.

With this prelude the story continues with the son, Jasper's inheritance at 15 of this neglected land. And through the next two generations down to the present, we follow the farm and its keepers. Jasper's marriage to the beautiful but untamable gypsy, Jael, their children and the never-ending struggle of the land against the wild, rebellious freedom of this new strain makes an entrancing story.

The loaded stick with which the keepers beat to death Jael's father, Sebastian Paris, when he is poaching in a salmon stream, typifies the strength of law, order and the demands of the land as it cudgels its owners into service to its needs. Yet this service is not slavery but a refining and development of character.

The characters are vividly portrayed with an excellent sense of proportion and the story is skillfully and entertainingly written. Paris, daughter of Jasper and Jael, who takes over the management of the farm at 17, and masters both it and herself is to me the fascinating climax of the story. Yet another reader found chief interest in the wild, tumultuous Jael and her adjustment to a new environment. So one must conclude that one reviewer's opinion is inevitably biased by his tastes and that a just verdict must be based on the composite opinions of many readers.

—LOUISA GOSNELL.

At Carnegie Library

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED.

BIOGRAPHY—"Hoover Off the Record," by Theodore Joslin. Written by Mr. Hoover's secretary. The book is defensive and goes on the assumption that the American people do not realize what Mr. Hoover did and tried to do for them.

"Ignace Paderewski," by Rom Landau. A Polish writer portrays the life of a great musician, the premier pianist of the world and premier of Poland.

"Jean-Jacques Rousseau," by C. W. Hendel. Pictures of the life of the citizen of Geneva whose ideas, along with Voltaire's, have been considered the prime cause of the French revolution.

TRAVEL—"Modern Columbus," by S. P. B. Mais. An English traveler describes a grand tour of the United States, beginning with Jamestown, taking in various points of interest from New York to Hollywood and including comments on American women, football games, and climate—all told in a friendly style.

"Bob Davis at Home," by Robert Davis. A world traveler and distinguished columnist gives his impressions of a colorful tour.

"Images of Earth: Guatemala," by Agnes Rothery. Pictures of a remote little country, mysterious and contradictory, consisting of bright, new American cities, tiny Indian villages, Spanish ruins.

Current Best Sellers

ATLANTA.

FICTION—"Lamb in His Bosom," by Caroline Miller (Harper); "So Red the Rose," by Stark Young (Scribner); "Heaven's My Destination," Thornton Wilder (Harper); "Forty Days of Musa Dagh," by Franz Werfel (Viking); Melissa Starke," by Annulet Andrews (Dutton).

GENERAL—"Robert E. Lee" (Vols. 3 and 4) by D. S. Freeman (Scribner); "Stars Fell on Alabama," by Carl Carmer (Farrar and Rinehart); "Life Begins at Forty," by Walter B. Pitkin (Whittlesey-House); "A Woman's Best Years," by W. B. Wolfe (Long and Smith); "Jeb Stuart," by John Thomason Jr. (Scribner).

(Reported by Miller's Book Store, Davison-Paxon's and Rich's, Inc.)

BOSTON.

FICTION—"Heaven's My Destination," Thornton Wilder; "The Forty Days of Musa Dagh," Franz Werfel; "Good-bye, Mr. Chips," James Hilton; "A House Divided," Pearl S. Buck; "Lost Horizon," James Hilton.

GENERAL—"Heaven High, Hell Deep," Norman Archibald; "Rats, Lice and History," Hans Zinsser; "While Rome Burns," Alexander Woollcott; "Partners in Plunder," I. B. Matthews and R. E. Shallcross; "European Journey," Phillip Gibbs.

CHICAGO.

FICTION—"The Forty Days of Musa Dagh," "Road of Ages," Robert Nathan; "Cast Down the Laurel," Arnold Gingrich; "Another Caesar," Alfred Neumann; "February Hill," Victoria Lincoln.

GENERAL—"While Rome Burns," "Skin Deep," M. C. Phillips; "Personal History," Vincent Sheean; "The American Diplomatic Game," Drew Pearson and Constantine Brown; "R. E. Lee," Douglas S. Freeman.

NEW YORK.

FICTION—"Heaven's My Distination," "The Forty Days of Musa Dagh," "Lost Horizon," "Good-bye, Mr. Chips," "So Red the Rose," Stark Young.

GENERAL—"While Rome Burns," "Rats, Lice and History," "Personal History," "R. E. Lee," "Farewell to Fifth Avenue," "Cornelius Vanderbilt."

Georgia Boy Tells Vivid Story Of 'Macon' Sinking in Letter Home

Pictures of Franklin Carroll and other members of the crew of the Macon are in the rotogravure section of this edition of The Sunday Constitution.

Franklin Carroll, Georgia boy, who was one of the crew of the great navy dirigible the "Macon," when it broke up above the Pacific and disappeared beneath those waters, has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Carroll, of Mansfield, Ga., a letter in which he vividly describes the scene at the time of the disaster.

Young Carroll enlisted in the navy six years ago, re-enlisting for another four years of service in January, last. He is an aviation machinists' mate and a graduate of the Great Lakes Training School of Engineering. He finished his course in lighter-than-air navigation at Lakehurst.

He was born in Covington and lived in Atlanta from 1925 to 1929, when he first joined the navy. He went to school here.

Wind caused the tail of the Macon to break and puncture some of the gas cells, Carroll says in his letter.

Engine Room Submerged.

"The weight of the ship aft caused it to drop tail downward," he writes, "on about a 45-degree angle. We dropped all water ballast and gasoline tanks available and the ship rose to about 5,000 feet. But we lost too much helium gas to hold the ship up so we began settling in toward the water. We hit and the tail submerged up past the engine room I was in.

"The ship came up out of the water too quick to let any water come in the engine room. But after the ship settled down on the water and began slowly sinking I went forward where the rest of the fellows were.

"I saw Mr. Buckley (chief boatswain) standing up on walkway and when I got where he was I saw that he and a couple of other fellows had put out a rubber life raft. Three or four men were already in so I told Mr. Buckley to go ahead of me and that I would follow, but he made me go first. We climbed down a rope from the ship to the raft.

Rescues Men From Water.

"After Mr. Buckley got in we cut the line and paddled away from the ship, afraid gasoline on water might catch fire. We stayed away from the ship until it was nearly under, then we paddled up toward it to pick up men out of the water. We must have picked up about 10 floating around. Then we just laid out waiting for some ship to pick us up.

"Finally the fleet pulled up on the horizon and stopped. They were afraid of gasoline and oil on the water. Finally they put out some small boats and came out and picked us up.

"We were carried aboard the U. S. S. Richmond, given dry clothing, fed and had cigarets, then they started checking up on the one that were not accounted for. Only two missing. Dailey (radioman), jumped about 150 feet into the water, hit on his back never to be seen again. The other fellow, an officers' mess attendant, must have been gassed by the helium and never knew he drowned.

Waits on Inquiry.

"We were dropped off in San Francisco and carried from there down here to the station (Moffett field) by buses and trucks. We were taken into the sick bay (hospital) and examined for injuries.

"I guess I will go to sea now. Suppose we will have to stick around until the board of inquiry gets through with their work. So I will have to wait awhile before I say what will happen to me."

Carroll missed the disaster in which the earlier dirigible, the Akron, was lost by reason of his transfer to Moffett field, the lighter-than-air station for the Pacific coast. He has been a member of the crew of the Macon since October, 1933.

He is still awaiting end of the investigation of the Macon sinking by the board of inquiry.

MILLION AND HALF TAX SOUGHT OF PRISONER

MIAMI, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—A lien for $1,573,600 income taxes for 1926-28 was filed in United States district court today against G. Bryan Pitts, former multi-millionaire.

Pitts is in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for embezzlement and failure to pay income taxes. His ocean-front estate at Palm Beach was auctioned last month to meet government claims.

The CONSTITUTION'S STAMP CORNER

By N. S. Noble

INTERESTING NEW STAMPS.

Although it has special stamps of its own design for denominations ranging up to one shilling, the Irish Free State still uses the overprinted adhesives of Great Britain for its higher values.

This again has been called to attention through the receipt of the new printing of the 2 shillings, 6 pence of the redrawn series of Great Britain now coming into use. To make it available for Ireland it bears in Gaelic the overprint, "Free State of Ireland 1922." The stamp is bright brown and, in addition to the head of King George in an oval, it has an allegorical figure of "Britannia ruling the waves."

The latest stamps from Belgium include a new value, 70 centimes, to replace the 75, now obsolete, of the recently designed type having the head of the new king, Leopold III. In addition, two newly created denominations of postage dues have been placed on the list, a 35-centime light green and a 1.40 franc gray. The new 70-centime is grayish black.

The British colony of Jamaica has a new one-penny almost identical to the previous printing. In color it is more rose and less red, and there is heavy shading under the inscription "Jamaica" at the bottom of the stamp.

Another adhesive from Spain has a face value of 30 centavos. It is carmine and pictures Azcarate.

Advance announcement of the issues planned by the British empire as part of the celebration of the silver jubilee of King George's reign shows that the 43 colonies also will participate. The group being printed on their behalf will total 172 stamps, but none of whose face value will go above one shilling. The stamps will be identical in design except for the inscription of the various territorial divisions they represent. These stamps are to go on sale May 6 in all of the various colonies and continue until the last day of the year.

* * * *

KARL PATHE'S FIRE LOSS.

Karl Pathe, secretary of the Atlanta Stamp Society and dealer whose offices were in 506-07 Gould building, suffered a loss which will be $2,500 or more early Saturday morning when the three top floors of the building were badly damaged by fire.

Mr. Pathe immediately opened temporary offices in 807 Silvey building, next door, where he will be glad to see his friends. Mr. Pathe said Saturday that he lost his entire foreign stock, records, albums, supplies and furnishings.

Mr. Pathe has hundreds of friends among the adult and junior collectors in the state and south, all of whom will be sorry to learn of his loss.

* * * *

WILEY POST FLIGHT.

Over the New York-Washington airway where the government inaugurated regularly scheduled air mail service in the United States on May 15, 1918, Eastern Air Lines will fly the first "stratosphere" air mail, which will be flown to New York from Los Angeles by Wiley Post in the Winnie Mae, according to arrangements completed by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, general manager, with post-office officials.

In a Capitol Flyer Douglas airliner, which will be waiting at Floyd Bennett field with motors idling, the 150 pounds of mail expected to be whipped across the continent in seven hours or less will arrive in Washington 80 minutes later, reducing the present elapsed time for air mail from the coast by 50 per cent.

The "stratosphere" mail will be sorted at Washington and at 11:15 p. m. it will be transferred to the Florida Flyer of Eastern Air Lines which will deliver it to Charleston, Jacksonville and Miami.

At 2:11 a. m., the New Orleans Flyer will pick up Post's air mail for delivery at Atlanta and New Orleans. Both ships will deliver the mail in about 5 per cent less time than now required in regularly scheduled flights from Los Angeles.

"Flying of mail, passengers and cargo through the stratosphere is not more than three or four years away," said Captain Rickenbacker. "We desire to demonstrate in a business-like manner what lies in the future for the fast transmission of air cargo in the sky roads at 40,000 feet altitude."

The Eastern Air Lines 14-passenger 200-mile-an-hour craft, identical to the one which startled the country Sunday by flying from Miami to New York with 13 passengers and 750 pounds of cargo in five hours and 34 minutes at a speed of 215 miles an hour, will wait at the end of the Floyd Bennett runway with motors idling. As soon as Post skids to a landing, the EAL plane will move up beside the Winnie Mae where post-office officials will accept the mail, cancel it and deliver it to the EAL pilots. Passengers will be aboard the ship to Washington.

* * * *

UNITED STATES STAMP NOTES.

By R. T. Freeman.

In almost every collection of United States commemorative stamps the first commemorative issue is missing. The reason is because the majority of collectors overlook the three-cent embossed envelope of 1876, the first commemorative postage issued by the United States.

This embossed envelope was issued in the summer of 1876 to commemorate the Centennial exhibition which was held in Philadelphia. It was the forerunner of the many commemoratives and special issues that we now have.

There were two dies of the 3-cent Centennial issue; one, known as the Hartford die has a heavy solid line under the word postage, while the other, known as the Philadelphia die has two lines in this place. The Hartford impressions were made in green and red, and the Philadelphia impressions were made in green with the exception of a very few which were made in red. These red impressions of the Philadelphia die are valued at about $450.

The envelopes were on paper with the regular watermark and also on paper with a special watermark in the form of a fancy monogram formed of the letters U. S. C. and crossed by the date 1876.

The design of these stamps is striking, having a large shield shaped background with a Pony Express rider at the top and a mail train at the bottom. The dates 1776 and 1876 are shown together with the words United States postage.

Every collector of United States commemoratives should have at least one of these Centennial envelopes mounted on the first page of his album.

Stamp Mart

"Everything for the Collector"
ARCADE STAMP COMPANY
242 Peachtree Arcade

HIGH'S
Lending Library
Has all the newest books you want to read! No charge for membership—come in and pick your volume!
3c A DAY RENTAL
CURRENT books on sale in our Lending Library—slightly damaged and over-stock—at greatly REDUCED RATES.
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR—REAR

Plymouth Adds Two Lower Priced Models

DETROIT, March 3.—To meet a special demand from business organizations for lower priced transportaion to be used by their salesmen and other representatives, the Plymouth Motor Corporation today announced that two new lower priced models are being added to the 1935 Plymouth line.

The new models, a business coupe and a two-door business sedan, will soon be in production. The coupe model will be priced at $510 factory Detroit, and the two-door sedan at $535. These cars are additions to the 1935 Plymouth line and do not change the general line-up of Plymouth models.

Also announced is a special "high-wheel" Plymouth car with 20-inch steel disc wheels, affording unusual road clearance, for rural districts. This is the third year that Plymouth has provided a high-wheel model.

The new business models incorporate all of the major safety, economy and comfort features of the deluxe Plymouths, including all-steel bodies, hydraulic brakes and scientific weight distribution. They are powered with the same new six-cylinder, 82-horsepower engine with its high compression ratio of 6.7 to one calibrated ignition, full-length water jackets and new directional water circulation.

H. G. Moock, vice president in charge of sales, announced the addition of the new models for the Plymouth Corporation. He said the business models are especially designed to meet the requirements of fleet operators.

"Plymouth sales on the deluxe models introduced the first of this year have established new records for the corporation," he said. "Our dealers delivered a total of 39,498 new Plymouths at retail during the first seven weeks in 1935, compared with 18,229 cars in the corresponding period a year ago."

Dodge Employment Reaches Twenty-Five Thousand

DETROIT, March 2.—The factory management of Dodge Brothers Corporation authorizes the information that the company's present active payroll now carries the names of over 25,000 workers.

The truck plant of Dodge, which last year turned out 68,469 commercial cars and trucks, also is seething with activity, one of its assignments being the building of more than 5,000 trucks for a single customer, the United States government. The bulk of this order, which comprises 10 government awards, is for cargo and supply trucks of various descriptions, a considerable number of them fitted with four-wheel drive.

With Dodge manufacturing proceeding at full tilt, retail deliveries made by the Dodge dealers organization—one of the largest aggregations of automotive merchants in the industry—are rapidly increasing in volume as Spring approaches. A tabulation made by the office of A. van DerZee, general sales manager of Dodge Brothers Corporation and reporting actual deliveries of new cars and trucks made during the week ending February 16, reports 5,021 sales of passenger cars and 704 sales of commercial cars and trucks—a total for the week of 5,725 deliveries, as against 5,061 the previous week—an increase of 13.1 per cent.

An interesting point, to which Dodge officials have heretofore given little or no emphasis, is that in point of sales volume including all types of new vehicles sold, the Ddoge dealer organization has held, without a break to mar the record, third place in the industry since April, 1930—for 32 consecutive months.

Dodge dealers' retail deliveries so far for the year are given as 27,751 passenger cars and 5,155 trucks, a total of 36,906 sales as against 17,615 units delivered during the corresponding period of 1934. The gain of 1935 year-to-date deliveries over deliveries made in the like period of 1934 figures 86.8 per cent.

Concluding his statement, van DerZee says: "While we of Dodge have done our share in making pre-season sales predictions, our forecasts have, as usual, been conservative. But it would not astonish me one bit to find that developments in the next few months will outstrip the most sanguine expectations we and others in the industry have expressed."

Packard Cars Returned After Grueling Test Run

After 25,000 miles of driving over the worst roads and under other of the most difficult of motoring conditions that could be found in America three Packard cars returned to Detroit last week. They were new One Twenty Packards sent out on what is declared to have been one of the most trying test runs ever undertaken.

Leaving Detroit the cars were first driven to Texas, as word had been received that road conditions in a part of that state were "impossible." Thousands of miles of driving were piled up and then the caravan headed for the Imperial Valley in California.

In the vicinity of Indio, California, conditions were found to be just right to subject each car to sand storms so bad that at times face masks had to be worn by the drivers. Almost day and night the cars were driven across the desert, roads being forgotten for the practically trackless sands.

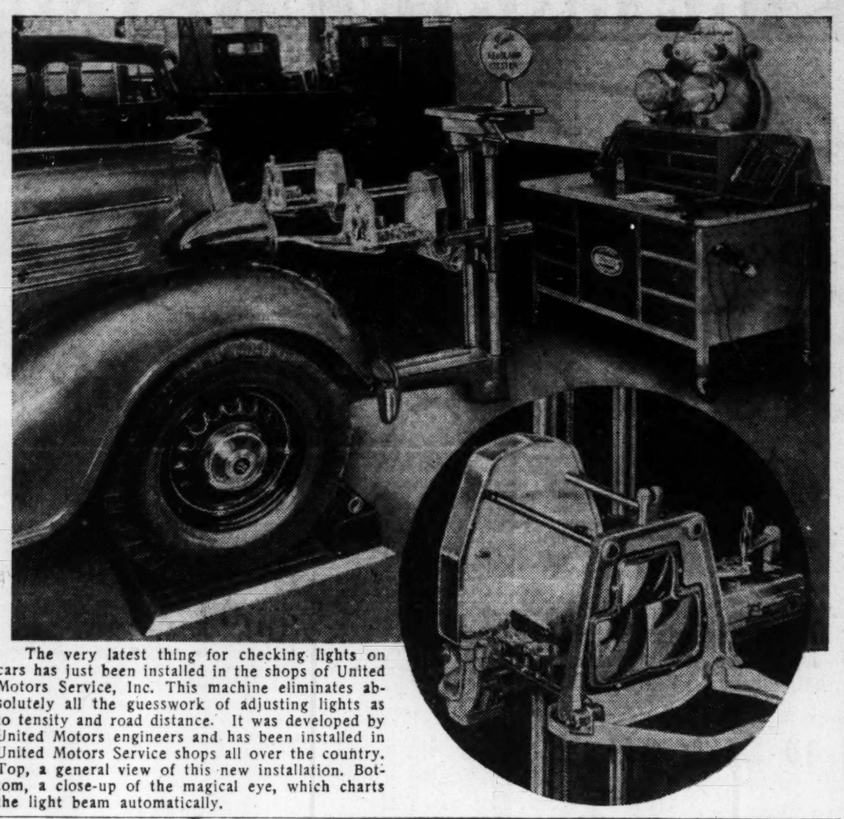

Variety for the drivers, but still greater difficulties for the cars was obtained by occasional high speed trips in the mountains. From points 250 feet below sea level where the thermometer stood at 90 degrees and more the cars were driven over rough trails at altitudes of 8,000 feet and temperatures below ze...

At times during the test good paved highways would be sought out and the cars run for days at a time at their highest speed. With work finished in the desert country the cars were taken into the mountains for the most difficult driving, day after day, that the country afforded. During one day 870 miles of sharp turns, stiff climbing, rock tunnels and the other motoring difficulties offered by the Rocky mountains were negotiated.

With all of the desert and sand driving, brakes were adjusted once and no other mechinical work was required. The trip was a part of what has been declared to be the most severe testing programs ever carried out with a new motor car. It was in addition to the months of day and night test driving done with the One Twenty at the Packard proving grounds.

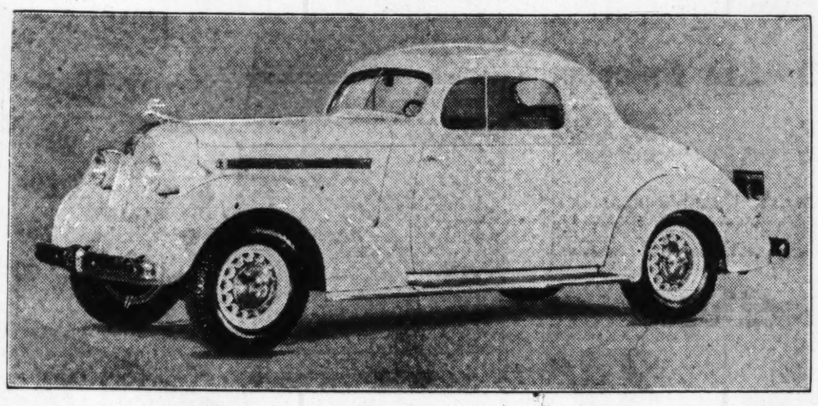

NEWTON, Mass.—(UP)—Utopia. The 1934 report of the Newton board of assessors showed that there were almost two automobiles for every home. There are 22,669 automobiles and only 13,751 homes.

United Motors Installs Mechanical Optometrist

The very latest thing for checking lights on cars has just been installed in the shops of United Motors Service, Inc. This machine eliminates absolutely all the guesswork of adjusting lights as to tensity and road distance. It was developed by United Motors engineers and has been installed in United Motors Service shops all over the country. Top, a general view of this new installation. Bottom, a close-up of the magical eye, which charts the light beam automatically.

1935 Pontiac Improved Eight Sport Coupe

The sport coupe of the Pontiac line is one of the most attractive cars introduced for 1935. It has been the sensation of shows all over the country. Atlanta Pontiac dealers are featuring this model all this week.

Reports Show Chrysler Sales Continue To Rise

The sensational increases in retail deliveries of Chrysler and Plymouth cars that have been conspicuous ever since the 1935 models were introduced continued through the week ending February 9. In that week, total deliveries of 2595 Plymouths and 496 Chryslers, or a grand total of 3091 units reported by Chrysler dealers in the United States.

This is an increase of 17.2 per cent of the 2214 retail deliveries of Plymouths in the preceding week and 10.2 per cent of the 450 Chrysler deliveries. The combined total is 101.6 per cent higher than the 1933 units reported in the corresponding week of last year, 156.9 higher than the 1203 units reported two years ago, and 201 per cent higher than the 1027 units reported three yeas ago.

In the six weeks including February 9, Chrysler dealers delivered 12,111 Plymouths and 2371 Chryslers, a grand total of 14,482 units. This represents an increase in Plymouth deliveries of 130.5 per cent and in Chrysler deliveries of 527.2 per cent over the corresponding six weeks of 1934. Chrysler and Plymouth deliveries combined are more than double those in the corresponding six weeks of 1933 and are three and a quarter times the total reported for the corresponding period in 1932.

The total deliveries in each of these lines is greater than for the corresponding six weeks periods of 1934 and 1933 combined.

Figures given in all cases are for the Chrysler dealer body only and are in addition to the heavy sales being recorded by the Dodge and De Soto dealers.

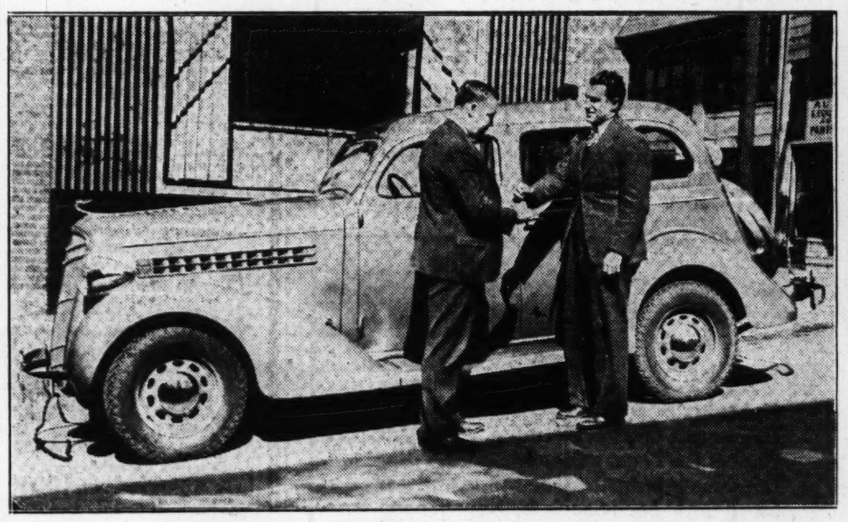

PRIZE CONTEST PLANS ANNOUNCED BY LANE

Lane drug stores announce a contest in which the grand prize, a new Terraplane coach, will be given away absolutely free.

The rules of the contest are simple, and everybody has a chance to win. The winner will be judged on the best written statement of 25 words or less on the subject, "Why I Like Bost Toothpaste."

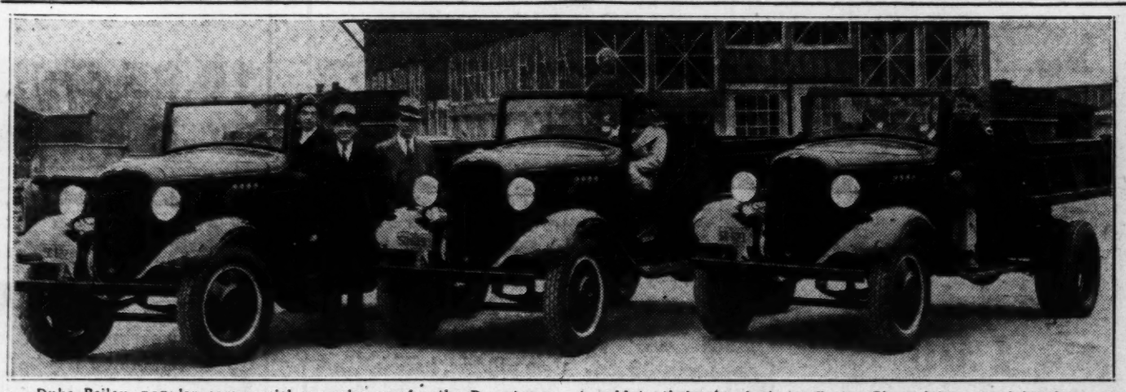

Entry blanks can be obtained in any drug store and contestants can send in as many entries as they wish. Every entry must be accompanied by an empty Bost toothpaste carton. The contest officially started March 1, and all entries must be submitted to the Lane stores by closing time Saturday, March 9. The winner will be publically announced Friday, March 15.

Bill Daly Buys De Soto Airstream

Fred Sington, popular big league baseball player, who works in Atlanta during off season as a sales representative for the McCord-Johnson Motor Company, local De Soto and Plymouth dealers, is shown delivering a new De Soto airstream sedan to Bill Daly, well-known health club operator of Atlanta.

Part of Chevrolet Fleet for Nichols Construction Co.

Duke Bailey, popular commercial car salesman for the Downtown Chevrolet Company, is shown here delivering to John N. Nichols, of the Nichols Construction Company, three new Chevrolet dump trucks to add to their already large fleet. Chevrolets are gaining in popularity daily with commercial users in every line of business, and, according to many reports from users, are rendering yoeman service in even the heaviest of hauls.

Ab Jenkins, Famous Driver, To Appear Here

Ab Jenkins, world-famous driver, who holds more records than any living man, will be at the showrooms of the W. C. Denny Motors, local Auburn dealer, on March 5, where he will give instructions and demonstrations on safe driving. Jenkins holds a total of 77 automobile records, 15 of them world's unlimited speed records and 15 of them international. Although he has driven more than 1,250,000 miles, mostly at high speeds, he has never had an accident.

"The majority of automobile accidents could be eliminated," Jenkins says, "if drivers were properly trained on how to handle a motor car. Most people just get into a car and start driving without the faintest idea what to do in case of an emergency. While some accidents are caused by carelessness most of them are the results of lack of training on what to do when the driver gets into a tight spot."

Jenkins also believes that many automobile accidents are caused by the lack of uniformity in highway markings nationally and in the confusing rules and regulations laid down for traffic in various different towns and cities in the country. He advocates a national system for traffic regulation.

The famous driver is personally escorting a fleet of six new 1935 Auburn cars in a nation-wide tour of Olson and Johnson and Gene Austin in the Kerr-Griffin musical revue, "Goin' Places." The tour will cover 70 cities in 70 days and Jenkins will make appearances at Auburn dealers in each one of the cities. He is driving a special-built Auburn supercharged Speedster model which will do well over 100 miles an hour.

New Assembly Plant Is Built at Baltimore By Chevrolet Motors

The Chevrolet Motor Company has expanded its manufacturing facilities by the addition of a new assembly plant at Baltimore, Md., and by enlarging and improving assembly plants in nine other cities for increased manufacturing schedules during the year.

Completion of the new Baltimore plant is being rushed an it is expected that car assembly at this point will begin early in March. Additions to the assembly plants at Kansas City, Mo., and Atlanta, Ga., have been completed, and at Buffalo, N. Y., a 500-foot final assembly conveyor has been installed.

Both passenger and commercial car production have been speeded up at Chevrolet's Oakland plant with the addition of a new assembly line conveyor to be used exclusively for trucks.

To improve volume production of Chevrolet's knee-action units and to maintain a high rate of orderly output, the Detroit spring and axle plant has been renovated, providing a more efficient system of assembly. The manufacture of the various parts used in the knee-action units was brought under one roof and the consolidation resulted in more efficient handling of the processes and inspection needed for the quanity production of knee-action equipment, the manufacture of which involved practices totally new to the automobile industry.

WASHINGTON TO APPLY LIBEL LAWS TO RADIO

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 2.—(AP) A bill placing radio broadcasts under the same libel laws as those pertaining to newspapers and periodicals was placed before the state senate today.

The house passed the measure last night.

Used Car Head

H. D. Wager, newly appointed used-car manager for the Nash Atlanta Company on its new lot, located at 352 West Peachtree street. Mr. Wager has been prominently connected with various automobile companies in Atlanta for the past 15 years. In opening the new lot, Mr. Wager is anticipating an increased business with the advancement of the season. All used cars traded in by the company are placed on this lot just as soon as they are reconditioned, as well as the cars it buys outright. It handles cars of all classes and prices.

TRAVEL and RESORT NEWS

Where Travelers Delight in View

The beautiful Bay of Naples with smoking Vesuvius in the background.

Monte Carlo's Lady Luck To Reign At Sea Island's Cloister March 7

SEA ISLAND, Ga., March 2.—Monte Carlo night will be featured in the clubrooms at the Cloister hotel Thursday, March 7, when guests of the Cloister and residents of the Sea Island colony will assemble to try their luck at the various games of chance offered. On arrival each guest will be presented with $10,000 in specially printed "play money" and prizes will be given those with the largest amounts of the stage money at the end of the entertainment. Horse racing, roulette, keno, and other amusing games will be featured in the blue room, while the orchestra will play for dancing in another room.

On Friday play will begin in the annual seniors' golf tournament, to be held on the Sea Island Golf Club course, for golfers over 50 years of age. The finals will be played Saturday. Interest of golfing enthusiasts this week also is centering in the first matches in the men's and ladies' ringer tournaments for March for the best composite scores on 10 or less 18-hole rounds.

On Thursday a number of Cloister guests and cottage residents will compose the party for a boat trip to the Sea Island hunting lodge and preserve at Cabin Bluff. Leaving the Yacht Club on a 58-foot sea-going cruiser, the trip will be made through the picturesque waters of the inland passage. The party will leave in the morning, lunching at the lodge, and returning in the afternoon.

Skeet shooting is continuing to increase in popularity at Sea Island to such an extent that four weekly skeet shoots are being held—on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons—in place of the two formerly held. In addition to these scheduled shoots, a number of special shoots are planned.

SANTA FE CHAIR CARS NOW AIR-CONDITIONED

All chair cars on Santa Fe trains Nos. 23 and 24 (Grand Canyon Limited), 9 and 2 (The Navajo), 22 (The Missionary), and 5 and 6 (The Ranger), between Chicago and the southwest, are now air-conditioned and in service, W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager, announced Saturday.

This part of the Santa Fe's $2,000,000 air-conditioning program for 1935 has been finished ahead of schedule, and it is now expected the air-conditioning of all standard and tourist sleepers on the above trains, as well as of remaining standard sleepers on The Chief and the California Limited, will be completed by May 15.

In 1934 the road air-conditioned 89 dining, observation, lounge and club cars, and compartment and drawing-room sleepers, and when the present program is completed, Santa Fe will have in service nearly 370 air-conditioned passenger cars of all types. Principal Santa Fe transcontinental trains, serving every class of travel, will be air-conditioned from end to end this summer.

Passenger revenues are showing an encouraging trend, it is stated. The increase of about 4.5 per cent in November jumped to 18 per cent in December, while in January the road's transcontinental trains carried more passengers than in any other month in three years. Winter travel to southern Arizona and California is holding this high level.

DE OVIES TO LECTURE WEDNESDAYS IN LENT

Dean Raimundo de Ovies will speak on "Theology" or "The Knowledge of God" every Wednesday evening during Lent, beginning Ash Wednesday, March 6, at 8 o'clock in the Pro-Cathedral of St. Philip. The dean will trace the development of man through the generations by this everchanging conception and his increasing "knowledge of God."

Wednesday morning, being Ash Wednesday, Dean de Ovies will have a service of anti-communion at 11 o'clock with preparation for the communion service to be celebrated Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the pro-cathedral.

Every Thursday during Lent the dean will have a service of Holy communion at 11 o'clock at the pro-cathedral with special intercessory prayers for others.

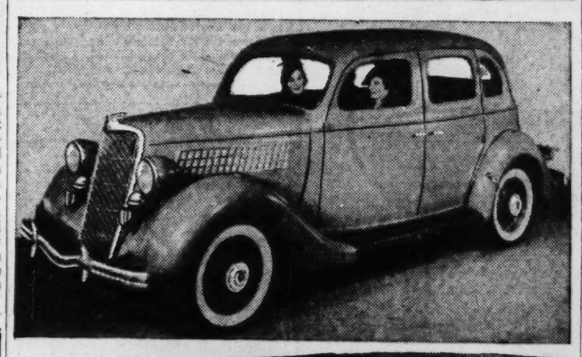

$308,862 IS MAILED SCHOOLS, VETERANS

A total of $308,862 went out from the state capitol Saturday to the common schools and Confederate veterans and their widows in Georgia.

The schools got $226,632 from the equalization fund for the month of January. The pensioners drew $82,230 from the cigar and cigaret tax for January.

The equalization fund is financed by a 1-cent tax on kerosene.

New Streamlined Fords Introduced

Top, a good view of the new streamline introduced with the new 1935 Ford V-8. Bottom, sectional view showing the unusual roominess of the newly developed seating arrangement which has added much to the riding quality of these great little cars.

MIAMI BILTMORE IN MIDST OF GOLF

Colony's Calendar Still Filled With Dinners, Teas, Other Events.

MIAMI, Fla., March 2.—Arrival of the first spring month saw no abatement in resort gaieties as members of the winter colony prepared for one of the most interesting calendars of the year at the Florida year-round clubs with dinners, teas and other events scheduled.

Large galleries have been following play in the Miami Biltmore four-ball tournament, which closes tomorrow, with trophies to be presented at a starlight dinner on the terraces of the Miami Biltmore Country Club. Among the well-known amateurs competing are Charles Whitehead, South River, N. J.; Arthur Lynch, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Jack Vilas Sr., and Jack Vilas Jr., Sam Anderson, Julian Marx, Chicago; H. B. Rust, Providence, R. I.; Larry Knowles, New York; T. E. Price, Miami; Sam Freeth and Mack Fisher, Hempstead, L. I.; Harry Russell and Curtis Bryan, Miami pair.

Tennis will claim attention the middle of the month, when the Miami Biltmore mixed double tournament will be played, March 15-17. Racquet events also focused the spotlight on the Miami Biltmore Country Club courts earlier in the week, when feminine stars from all parts of the east gathered for the annual woman's championship which closed Thursday. During the four days of play the tennis visitors were central figures at a tea-dance at the Roney Plaza Sabana Sun Club and a supper-dance in the cascades room of the Miami Biltmore.

'VOLENDAM' ITINERARY WILL INCLUDE NAPLES

When the S. S. Volendam leaves on her annual Mediterranean-Norway cruise, from New York July 3, she will call at several ports along the French and Italian riviera including the ever-fascinating city of Naples, before turning northward for the Viking lands of Norway and Sweden.

The Italians are a joyous and merry people, and life to them is a song where even such prosaic tasks as brick laying provoke the laborer to sing grand opera at his work. Naples is typical of this gayety of living, and the crowded, narrow streets with their yards and yards of washlines strung back and forth over the heads of the chattering populace are full of scenes fascinating to the American visitor.

A large dark-complexioned lady sells a variety of fish as though they were pearls of great price . . . a laughing mother tries to quiet a noisy brood of youngsters . . . a street musician strums his guitar hoping for a lira but seeming just as pleased when a young girl drops her market basket to dance a step or two.

This is the life of the natives who seem so much a part of the city which is situated on the edge of the blue bay, guarded by Vesuvius puffing ominously but seeming more like a benevolent despot complacently enjoying the beauty of it all. From Naples one can take a delightful boat trip across the bay to Sorronto, high on a cliff with pink and white houses set in the midst of lush orange and lemon groves—or to Capri, famous for its Blue Grotto where the water is an indescribable shade of silvery blue, and the bodies of the divers appear to a gloaming phosphorous substance.

DELLEVIE, PICKFORD TOUR BODIES MERGED

One of the most important announcements in recent years in the travel world is that of the appointment of Ralph Dellevie's National Tours as sole agent in the United States and Canada for Pickfords Travel Service, the oldest travel organization in the world, founded nearly 300 years ago. A separate European department, expertly staffed jointly by National Tours and Pickfords, will occupy an additional floor at the New York headquarters located at 561 Fifth avenue.

Dellevie, who startled the shipping world a few years back with his "cruises to nowhere" has developed the short pleasure cruise business to one of major import in the travel industry. Innovations conceived and executed by him have been adopted internationally and today, cruises similar to his offerings are being operated by various shipping lines throughout the world.

The background of the Pickford organization makes as colorful and fascinating chapter as can be found in the history of travel. Originally founded as a carrier of goods, the Pickford organization has played an important part in the development of Great Britain's commerce.

TOUR OF TEN NATIONS PLANNED FOR SUMMER

MONTREAL, March 2.—A 48-day tour of England, Norway, Sweden, Finland, the soviet union, Poland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, and France is announced by Student Treasure Tours in conjunction with the Canadian Pacific steamships. It starts from Montreal June 29 by the Duchess of Atholl and returns from Cherbourg aboard the Empress of Britain, August 10.

The tour includes visits to Chester, the Shakespeare country, London and environs, Newcastle, Bergen, Stalheim, the Naerodal canyon, the fjords of Naero, the Sogne and Aurland, the Flamm valley, Myrdal, Oslo, Stockholm, Helsingfors, Leningrad, Moscow, Warsaw, Berlin, Cologne, The Hague, Amsterdam, Scheveningen, Brussels and Paris.

Four days will be spent in London, two in Stockholm, two in Leningrad, three in Moscow, three in Berlin, two in Brussels, and four in Paris, with complete sightseeing arrangements at all important points.

ATLANTA BUILDING ON BLOCK TUESDAY

Hurt Building Sale Under Foreclosure Authorized by Court.

Sale of the Hurt building, the south's largest office structure, will take place Tuesday in front of Fulton county courthouse between 1 and 2 o'clock p. m., the sale to be conducted by Walter C. Hendrix and Ronald Ransom, receivers of the property. The property will include the triangle in front of the building and the portion of Equitable place between Edgewood avenue and Exchange place. The purchaser will receive a transfer of all existing leases on the building space.

According to the order of Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy, authorizing the sale under foreclosure, a successful bidder in making settlement or payment for the property may use the 7 per cent first mortgage gold bonds of the Hurt building and such bonds and any matured and unpaid coupons may be credited on account of such purchase price, with the sum apportionable and applicable out of the net proceeds, to the payment of the bonds and coupons which the bidder presents and on which a corresponding credit shall be entered.

All bids are subject to acceptance or rejection by the court. The receivers will report to the court the highest and best bid made by a bidder who has qualified by the deposit of either $25,000 in cash or $50,000 par value of the bonds. The receivers' report on bids will be made to Judge Pomeroy March 6 to 10 o'clock a. m.

The only announced bid is that of the New York and Atlanta bondholders' committees who, under an agreement with D. Frank Mennis, of New York, representing the Hurt interests, will bid up to $2,100,000. If the committees become purchasers at or under this figure they will sell the property to the Hurt interests at the same figure, payable $1,500,000 in cash and $600,000 in five-year sinking fund bonds secured by an indenture, subject only to prior lien indebtedness not in excess of $1,500,000.

The Hurt building has a total rental space of 380,616 square feet. The building is approximately 74.4 per cent occupied. Gross income for 1934, according to the receivers' report, was $519,027.14, showing a net profit of $314,078.84.

Solon's Mother, 86, Visits House

Mrs. Hannah Cohen, 86 years old, mother of Representative Girard M. Cohen, of Chatham county, paid her first visit to the Georgia legislature and displayed a keen interest in the proceedings. Mrs. Cohen, a Savannah pioneer, is shown seated on the speaker's stand with Representative Cohen. Staff photo by Kenneth Rogers.

APPELLATE COURT TWICE REVERSES OPPOSITE RULINGS

The court of appeals Saturday reversed for the second time the Walton county superior court and ordered a new trial in a suit involving more than $50,000 alleged to be a loss sustained by the city of Monroe during services of a former clerk of the mayor and council.

The suit was brought by the city against the estate of the late Edwin P. Nowell Jr., former clerk of the mayor and council, and his bondsmen, the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland.

A verdict involving $28,701 principal and $3,187 interest was directed against Mrs. Irene H. Nowell, as administratrix of the estate of Edwin P. Nowell Jr., and for $18,838 principal and $1,872 interest against the bondsmen.

The verdict was appealed by the bonding company on grounds that they executed a bond only for the year 1920, when no losses were alleged, and the court of appeals reversed the lower court on that contention.

The city of Monroe then amended its petition to allege that it paid the premium on the bond for each succeeding year after 1920, and received renewal certificates from the bonding company.

Judge Blanton Fortson, the trial judge, refused to allow this petition and this time directed a verdict for the defendant. Today's decision reversed that action on grounds that the court erred in rendering judgment without intervention of a jury.

LINDER ALIMONY CASE HEARING POSTPONED

Hearing on apetition for alimony against Tom Linder, secretary of agriculture of Georgia, was passed Saturday by Judge Virlyn B. Moore to be reset at alater date. Linder filed an answer and plea in abatement setting forth that his legal residence is in Jeff Davis county and that he cannot be sued in Fulton county. The question of jurisdiction will be disposed of first when the matter is reached for hearing.

In his answer Linder denies charges of desertion and cruelty made by his wife, Mrs. Hazel Carter Linder.

SALE OF AUTO TAGS SHOWS 25,000 DROP

Automobile license tag sales this year are almost 25,000 under the number disposed of up to March 1 in 1934, motor vehicle department records show.

A total of 311,193 were sold in the first three months of 1934, while only 287,610 were checked off over the same period this year.

Department officials said there probably were 20,000 or more applications still in the mails, however. A penalty of $1.60 is charged for tags purchased after March 1, unless they are for new automobiles.

From 6,000 to 10,000 tags were sold out of Georgia this year, M. L. Joiner, head of the tag department, estimated.

Hair Stylist

J. G. Nichols, of Memphis, Tenn., a leading southern hair stylist and winner of three first prizes as well as the grand prize in the national hairstyle contest held recently in New York city, who will lecture and demonstrate the latest creations of new styles for 1935 at a meeting of the Atlanta Hairdressers' Association Monday evening, March 4, in the civic room of the Ansley hotel. He is pictured with one of his numerous trophies.

LOST...

She was a lovely child and hers was a lovely childhood. But it is gone now... She has grown, and of all those precious days, nothing remains but faded memory. Don't you make the same mistake. Have your child photographed regularly—and frequently, too; because even a few short months do fascinating things to a child—precious changes in expression that will thrill you in photographs now and for years. PhotoReflex is the one sure way to get a splendid picture because you actually see the picture before it's taken. Proofs submitted—no appointment needed—and prices, as low as two dollars.

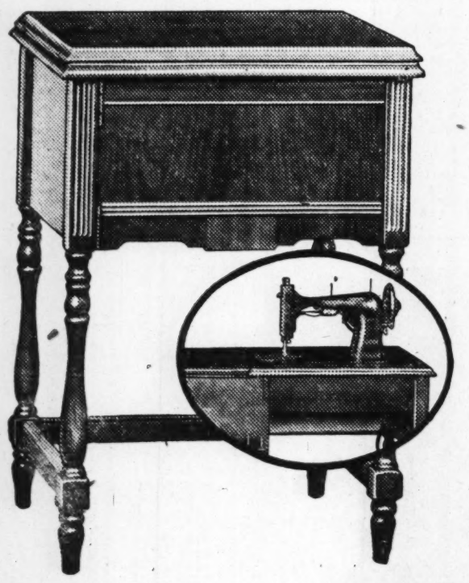

PHOTOREFLEX STUDIO—SIXTH FLOOR

RICH'S

PEACH FESTIVAL SPECIAL

Domestic

ELECTRIC SEWING MACHINE

A popular style of the long famous Domestic line—a rotary electric sewing machine which will give years of good sewing service. Pleasing cabinet—air-cooled motor—sewing light.

69.50

$3 DOWN BALANCE MONTHLY Regular 105.00

LIBERAL ALLOWANCE FOR YOUR OLD MACHINE

GENUINE "WHITE" SMALL CABINET STYLE WITH FULL SIZED ELECTRIC MECHANISM—ALL ATTACHMENTS FOR A MULTITUDE OF SEWING OPERATIONS. 49.50

Second Floor

RICH'S

RICH'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

Peach Festival Sale!

Last Great Day!

Last day special on

Cotton Dresses

94c

Pic pon, broadcloth and pique, sport and dressy styles! Stripes, plaids, dots, prints, sleeveless or half sleeve. 14-20, 36-52.

1.00 Silk Slips

87c

Washable denier rayon taffeta, lace, medallion trimmed. Adjustable straps. 34-44.

1.00 - 1.19 Pajamas

59c

Women's 1 and 2-piece balbriggan pajamas at this price last day of sale only! Pastels.

29c-39c Underwear

24c

Manufacturer's samples rayon pants, bloomers, vests, step-ins! Glove silk, lace trim, plain.

A red-hot buy!

Foundations

88c

Girdles! Step-ins! Corset Brassieres! Silk striped madras, brocade and mesh, styles and sizes to fit every figure! Sizes 25 to 36, 32 to 46.

Spring Cottons

Spectacular Buy!

23,000 Yds! Sale Priced!

yd. 16c

Every yard a 29c to 39c value!

- 36-inch 39c Dorothy Dimity!
- 36-inch 39c Colcord Dimity!
- 40-inch 39c Kenilworth Lawns!
- 40-inch 29c Yorkshire Batiste!

Every piece just in! FRESH! CLEAN! BRAND-NEW! Full length bolts—guaranteed washable—the grandest collection of spring styles you've ever seen! Sprigged dimities! Dashing plaids! Crisp monotones! Striped, dotted and figured designs! Rush down tomorrow and get in on absolutely the biggest scoop of the entire Peach Festival sale!

Monday! Peach Festival

Baby Day!

Men's Reg. 1.75

Work Pants

1.29

Stout khaki or pin check. A grand way to save your regular trousers! All sizes.

Men's 1.19-1.49

SHIRTS

88c

Collar attached neckband styles! Plain solid color or fancy patterns! 13½-18.

59c Work Shirts that give full freedom. 14½-17...44c

Men's Reg. 1.00

Overalls

69c

A Peach Festival hot-shot! Heavy blue denim, stoutly stitched seams. All sizes.

• At 2 for 99c

59c each

Quilted crib pads, 34x54. Baby towels, 27x36. Hand-made dresses, gertrudes, gowns. 6m.-1yr. Fruit of the Loom crib sheets, 36x63. Sheet sets. Hand-made creepers, 1-3. Print panties dresses. Small boys' bobby suits, button-on, open style. Crocheted wool sacques, pink, blue trim.

• At 3 for 99c

39c each

Infants' gertrudes, gowns, 6 months to 1 year. Pepperell wrapping blankets. All-wool bootees. Infants' fold-over Minneapolis shirts, 12% wool.

• At 4 for 99c

29c each

Outing kimonos and gowns, pink, blue trim. Quilted crib pads, 18 x 34. Washable! Crib sheets, 36x54. Crib pillows, kapok filled. Wrapping blankets, 30x40. For cool days! Rubin's Shirts and Vests, fold over and tie.

Reg. 1.49 to 1.98

Dresses

98c

Philippine and Texas made! Also gowns. 6 mo. - 1 yr.

Babies' 1.98

Bedding

1.00

Crib sheets, hemmed, scalloped! Also pillow tops!

5.95 Silk

Dresses

4.88

Just unpacked for the last great day! All pure silk prints, navies, pastels! Dress and tailored styles! 14-44.

3.98 Silk Dresses, newest spring styles and colors, tomorrow for 2.88

10.95 Suits and Coats

8.88

The swankiest people in town (and the thriftiest), will be wearing 'em! Clark Gable and belted styles, button or stitched taffeta trim! Silk lined! Knockouts! 14-52

PORTSMOUTH TO GET YOUNG CRACKER PLAYERS

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Gomez Signs for 2 Years at $20,000 Salary; Campbell Grazes Death in First Test Run

About one decade ago a young man, who was freshly in the newspaper business, was sent to a railroad station to greet and interview Mr. Will Rogers, the cowhand comedian.

It was a warmish day and Mr. Rogers alighted from the train, greeted the reporter, and allowed that what he wanted most was a bath because he thought the fireman had shoveled some ashes into his, Mr. Rogers' berth, during the night which had passed.

The reporter crawled into a taxi with Mr. Rogers and said, against all rules of the newspaper business, that he regretted invading Mr. Rogers' privacy, especially since he was on his way to a bath, but he wanted to ask some questions of Mr. Rogers.

"Son," said the cowhand comedian, "have you a piece of gum?"

When he had stuck it into his mouth, he said:

"Listen, son, I am in this town to lecture. And the more people who come to see and hear me the more money I make. So, you fire right away and ask me all the questions you want to ask because the more you write about me the more people will want to come and hear me lecture. If you ever meet," he said, "one of these lecturers or singers or any man or woman depending on the public for a living who doesn't grant pleasant interviews, you can put it down that they are suffering from an enlarged head from which they will, in time, recover. So you ask away. The more the merrier."

So it comes that I have been since that time an ardent admirer of Mr. Rogers. And I never come across a ball player, who complains about having to answer the telephone or pose for his picture or answer questions, that I do not think how true, indeed, is Mr. Rogers' summation of things in general and publicity in particular.

The football coach who simulates temperament is just simulating it. As is the actor, the singer, the writer or the lecturer.

If they are asking the public for money at the gate they should answer all questions with a smile even though some of the questions are a bit dumb and maybe personal.

In the field of athletics the baseball player, who toils for a couple of hours each afternoon and delivers just fair entertainment for a good salary, is the dumbest of all if he can't find time for newspaper pictures or reporters or even just plain fans who want to buttonhole him and gab for a while.

It is just too bad if he has to suffer in his soul from having a picture made or answering the questions of some fan.

THE LEAGUES DISAPPEAR.

The Southeastern league, which was hauled from its grave a few weeks ago, was sorrowfully interred again yesterday.

Other leagues will blow. And maybe it is all for the best at that. Only the fittest will survive.

Because people are learning that it is much more fun to go out and play golf or tennis or even take the wife and kids and the dog out for a walk than it is to sit on a bench and watch other people playing.

That, of course, is the reason baseball is declining—that plus the fact the players haven't held up their end of things.

Babe Ruth was never a popular figure until he learned his lesson. And when he did he suffered a-plenty. His sleep was disturbed and his rest was broken and he could not appear unless kids were hanging on him and pests were asking for interviews, and autographs and pictures and all that sort of thing. He learned to take it in a genial manner and it paid him about one million dollars in salary. And he still is drawing big money.

THE FANS CAN DECIDE IT.

The baseball fans should be extremely critical of the people to whom they are paying salaries.

Because the fans support the baseball players and the baseball business just as surely as taxpayers support the legislators, the governors and the clerks in all the offices.

The baseball player is working directly for the public. The public might think of this, now that the season is drawing near and the teams will be starting.

If your manager or your ball players are not courteous and glad to see you and do not answer questions or pose for your little camera or autograph baseballs for your kid, who admires them, why your cue is to remain strictly away from the ball park.

As a matter of fact it is more fun to play yourself than to watch a lot of ball players play. The game is a great one and when properly played it is entertaining.

But if your baseball manager or his help get temperamental or don't give you a good show, why then go out and try golf at the public courses or your own club; have a try at swimming or tennis. Raise guppies or dogs or flowers. You'll find it a lot of fun to do your own playing instead of hiring someone else to do it for you. And baseball won't seem so important.

When the season begins, or even during training, just remember the ball players are working for you. You are paying their salaries. If they don't give you a good job of work quit paying your share of their salaries.

THE GAME NEEDS A SALESMAN.

While here this week Captain Til Huston, who used to own one-half of those Yankees, remarked:

"Baseball needs a traveling salesman. The players have lost sight of the public and so have most of the owners.

"I notice newspapers generally do not give baseball the space they once did. Publicity is the life blood of baseball and the owners and the players are forgetting it. Which helps explain why only four of the 16 major league clubs made money last year and why the public is turning to other sports."

Mr. Rogers said it all 10 years ago in that little taxi conversation.

SOME PAUL WHITEMAN NOTES.

Paul Whiteman, whose band is one of the finest in this land, played some golf in our town yesterday before his work in the evening with his baton.

At the Capital City he said that he did not find his golf to be any great worry. He can make a baton talk but his golf clubs are just as dumb as yours and mine.

Interesting fellow, the big fellow. Not so large now. He took off some 100 pounds. Golf remains his favorite exercise. He eats plenty now but doesn't seem to regain that weight.

Shoes are his dissipation. He has some 30 pairs. It dates back. When he got out of the navy, broke and without a job, he finally organized an orchestra. The first night he led it he was tapping the floor with a shoe which was practically bottomless. That explains his desire for shoes—and why he has some 30 pairs.

Buckhead Boy, An Ex-Cracker, Drills With Cubs

SPORTS
ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

RALPH McGILL, Sports Editor.

Grantland Rice - Clarence Nixon - Jimmy Jones - Roy White - Jack Troy - Henry McLemore - Alan J. Gould

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1935.

Hugh Casey, who pitched for the Crackers last year is shown, third from left, as he trains with the Chicago Cubs, to whom he was sold, at the Cubs' camp on Catalina Island off the coast from Los Angeles, Cal. It's a far piece from home for a Buckhead boy to be. The picture contains another Southern league star, Clay Bryant, who pitched for New Orleans last season. He is first in line. Incidentally, Mr. Bryant tossed three baseballs into the air. Left to right: Bryant, Charley Root, veteran pitcher; Casey and F. Kowalik. Casey has a chance to stick with the Cubs.

NIEHAUS TO AID IN SPRING WORK AT FLA. CAMP

Mann Seeks Revision in Shaughnessy System To Admit Changes.

By Jimmy Jones.

It appears that the end of a perfect build-up campaign for the Atlanta Crackers is about to take place.

For several weeks now, the boys have been writing their collective arms off about the destiny of the Cracker "farm," whether it was to be or not to be; who would be the fungo hitting-pitcher coach to be taken to Daytona Beach; what, if anything, would happy to Pitcher Frank Barnes and to Utility Man "Pip" Koehler.

All these momentuous problems are answered for you in minute detail this morning as follows:

1. The Crackers have just about decided to plant their rookies in Portsmouth, Va., which has a franchise in the Piedmont league and Frank D. Lawrence, the new owner of the club, will come here some time during the week to straighten out the details of working agreement with the Atlanta officials.

NIEHAUS TO CAMP.

2. Richard (Dick) Niehaus, erstwhile Cracker, Birmingham Baron, Cincinnati Red, St. Louis Cardinal and St. Paul Saint, will be taken to Daytona Beach to fungo flies to the outfielders and lend a hand at coaching the young pitchers.

3 Pitcher Barnes will be offered to all clubs in the Texas, Southern, New York-Pennsylvania and International leagues, and if he is refused all around, he probably will then be offered to all teams in the Western association, the Piedmont, the East Dixie and the West Texas league. At any rate, Pitcher Barnes will be offered.

4. Outfielder "Pip" Koehler, who sometimes plays infield, who is of Dutch ancestry, has blue eyes and light hair, in all probability will be the manager of the Portsmouth club. He will be offered as the manager of the club by the Crackers.

5. Pitchers Lynn Nelson and Bill Schmidt are going to meet at Kansas City and motor across country to Daytona Beach in Pitcher Nelson's car, the make of which and the license number of which are not known. But they will motor across country.

TO FIGHT SYSTEM.

6. Vice President Earl Mann will launch a brand-new fight on the Shaughnessy system, he reports. He has written George Weiss, general manager of the Yankees' minor league, and business manager of the Newark club, for information on the International league play-off system. Mann will seek to have the club finishing first recognized as the pennant winner and a bonus for its players put through in the Southern.

This is about all the news this morning, saving that Manager Eddie Moore, who leaves for Daytona Beach next Sunday, played golf again Friday after a light lunch which included lettuce and tomato salad and that work on the bleachers at Ponce de Leon is reported just about complete.

'LEFTY' GOMEZ SIGNS CONTRACT

Yankee Star To Get $40,000 for Two Seasons' Work.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, leading pitcher of the American league last season, signed a two-year contract with the New York Yankees today at a salary of $20,000 per season, an increase of $6,500 over the $13,500 he was paid last year.

Gomez, who returned from a world tour yesterday with a demand that he be paid $27,000 for this year's work, thereby becoming the first Yankee holdout, accepted the club's terms this afternoon after sleeping over a counter proposition made last night by Ed Barrow, Yankee business manager.

The club first offered him a renewal of the 1935 contract calling for $13,500—the same figure the lean southpaw has received since 1932.

Gomez said he is well satisfied with the new agreement, and will leave with his wife, the former June O'Dea, of musical comedy fame, tomorrow for the Yankee training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

With the departure of Babe Ruth to the Boston Braves, Gomez now shares honors with Lou Gehrig, hard-hitting first sacker, as the ranking salaried players with the Yanks. Gehrig last week signed a new one-year contract believed to call for $30,000.

Casey Stengel After the Pirates.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—Casey Stengel has picked up one of John McGraw's favorite sayings with a reverse English in predicting the Dodgers will get into the first division this season.

McGraw used to say "if we can get any help from Brooklyn, we'll beat the western teams."

Now says Casey, "If we can get help from the Giants, we'll nose the Pirates out of the first division."

Hubbell Plans For Babe's Appearance.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—Carl Hubbell, of the Giants, who fanned Babe Ruth in the all-star game last summer, is anxious to try again when the Babe plays for the Braves. The way to do it, Hubbell figures, is to try to get him in the hole.

"The real good hitters," he says, "deliver regularly when they get the pitcher on the defensive and can afford to wait for good balls."

Cuyler Expected To Be Lead-Off.

AVALON, Cal., March 2.—(AP)—Kiki Cuyler prefers to operate at No. 3 in the batting order, but Manager Charlie Grimm, the boss of the Cubs, is out to make a lead-off man out of the fleet outfielder.

Grimm's initial batting order, which may stand for the opening of the

Continued on Third Sports Page.

Basketball

Georgia Tech	42	Sewanee	31
Vanderbilt	19	Kentucky	53
Carnegie Tech	31	Pittsburgh	30
Brown	33	Yale	43
Dartmouth	37	Harvard	24
Springfield Col.	38	N. Hampshire	41
LaFayette	29	Lehigh	25
Kansas	18	Missouri	21
Western Reserve	49	Oberlin	28
Concordia	29	Ohio Chiropody	45
Baldwin-Wallace	29	Case	33
Mt Union	37	Wooster	28
Rutgers	39	Colgate	38
Tufts	23	Mass. S.	33
Wisconsin	48	Chicago	25
Indiana	22	Northwestern	40
Amherst	22	Wesleyan	20
Penn. Military Col.	45	Moravian	21
Lebanon Val.	40	Muhlenberg	36
St. Louis	23	Du Paul	38
Valparaiso	28	Concordia	43
Rice Institute	36	Baylor Univ.	26
So. Me. U.	41	T. Christian	24
Alfred	38	Allegheny	44
Penn State	34	Syracuse	47

ATLANTA WINS CHURCH MEET

The arch rivals, Tech and Georgia, joined to contribute toward bringing the Southern Methodist basketball title to Atlanta when Virlyn Moore, former Bulldog, and Johnny Phillips, ex-Jacket, led the First Methodist church, of Atlanta, to a 52-to-49 victory over Nashville in the finals of the tourney here last night.

The visitors performed only fairly well in the first half, at which time they trailed 32 to 23. After intermission they whittled down the Atlanta lead and with three minutes of play remaining, tied the count at 45-all. A foul shot gave them the lead but only for a moment as Phillips sank a free throw which was quickly followed by a goal by Bellamy, guard.

Glover led the scoring for the losers with 13 points. The Dean brothers played well, making 17 tallies between them.

There were two girls games held with Chattanooga winning over the Highland A. R. P. in a close game, 21 to 19, and Nashville defeating Birmingham, 35 to 26.

In the opening game Atlanta advanced by eliminating Chattanooga,

Continued on Third Sports Page.

Smithies Beaten By Barium Springs

BARIUM SPRINGS, N. C., March 2.—The wrestling team of Barium Springs, North Carolina High school champions, tonight won a decisive 28-5 victory over Tech High of Atlanta, thereby administering the first mat loss the Georgia boys have suffered in five years. The final bout was forfeited to Barnes, Tech, for their only point. Barnes had wrestled Wood, Barium, for the regulation time with neither gaining an advantage. The orphanage boys had four falls and a time decision to amass their points. Results:

108-Pound Class—Bosworth, Barium, threw Smith, Tech, in 4:32. 118 Pounds—Gaskill, Barium, threw Paschel, Tech, in 1:03. 125 Pounds—White, Barium, threw Haines, Tech, in 2:26. 135 Pounds—D. Spencer, Barium, obtained time advantage over Dimond, Tech, in extra period. 145 Pounds—Captain R. Spencer, Barium, threw Bryant, Tech, 2:56. 155 Pounds—Flowers, Barium, threw Burnett, Tech, in 2:22. 165 Pounds—Barnes, Tech, won by forefit.

SOUTHEASTERN LEAGUE FOLDS

Inability of Columbus To Secure Backing Causes Plans To Fail.

MACON, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Plans for reorganizing the old Southeastern league—a Class B baseball circuit that folded up in 1930—collapsed today.

Negotiations looking to the formation of the league had been underway for several weeks.

Abandonment of efforts to organize the loop came on the heels of an announcement that Columbus (Ga.) interests had been unable to obtain necessary operating capital.

The league was to have been composed of eight clubs—Columbus and Macon, Ga., Mobile, Montgomery, Selma, Gadsden, Anniston, Ala., and Pensacola, Fla.

T. G. Reeves, Columbus businessman, was ready to furnish part of the capital for that club, but supplementary support could not be found.

Reeves advised Roy Williams, president of the league, that the Columbus park would be given over tomorrow to diamond ball teams for use during the summer. This move had been held in abeyance for some time pending attempts by the Columbus interests to straighten out their difficulties and enter the proposed Southeastern circuit.

"The league," Williams said, "is apparently disbanded.

"Columbus was a key city in location. Macon will be unable to enter without Columbus. Anniston and Gadsden are not interested in a six-club league.

"It's too bad to come so close and then miss. I hope we have better luck next year."

Tulane's Captain Quits Suddenly

NEW ORLEANS, March 2.—(UP) On the eve of spring training, Howard "Bucky" Bryan, 1935 captain-elect of Tulane's Green Wave football team, withdrew from school today.

Barney Mintz, "sturdy oak" of the backfield last year, will captain the team in 1935, it was announced.

Bryan, flashy runner and excellent all-around back, had been expected to star for the team next season. It was understood scholastic difficulties forced his withdrawal from school.

Miss Miley Victor In Women's Finals

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., March 2. (AP)—Miss Marian Miley, of Louisville, Ky., today won the South Atlantic Women's Golf championship, defeating Miss Jean Bauer, of Providence, R. I., 5 and 4.

PIRATES WIN.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—The Jacksonville Pirates tonight won the state A. A. U. women's basketball tournament, defeating the Jacksonville Shamrocks, 22 to 20 They trailed, 10 to 7, at the half.

Campbell Grazes Death in Test Run

Britisher Experiences "Worst Ride" in His Life at Daytona; Makes 250 Miles Per Hour.

By Henry McLemore.

(Copyright, 1935, by the United Press.)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 2.—(UP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell's efforts to lift the world's land speed record to an even 300 miles an hour nearly ended in his death today when, with his huge Bluebird roaring along the beach at 250, the cowling of the mighty car succumbed to the terrific wind pressure and heat, and broke from its moorings.

The British speed king was still nearly two miles short of the measured mile, and still picking up speed, when he was suddenly enveloped in deadly, white-hot tetraethyl fumes, as the bonnet ripped loose and slipped across the monstrous exhaust pipe mouths, partially choking them. At the same time, the far end of the bonnet, red with heat, rose wildly in the air, cutting off his vision.

Without hesitation, Campbell, probably with a thought for Lady Campbell and his 11-year-old daughter, Jean, who were watching from the timing tower, lifted his foot from the throttle, switched off the motor, and threw on both the hand and foot brakes.

As he swept through the measured mile, in front of the timers, reporters and a solid chunk of the some 50,000 spectators who lined the dunes, Bluebird and Campbell still were traveling so fast no one spotted his danger. And when his time for the measured mile was announced at 188.186 m. p. h., the crowd voiced its disapproval.

READY AGAIN.

Undaunted, Campbell, immediately upon reaching the southern tip of the course, ordered his mechanics to hammer down the cowling and make ready for a return run. Fifteen minutes later the job had been done and he swung Bluebird around and headed back. This time it was the other left side of the cowling that gave way, to send him through the same harrowing experience. And again he was forced to throttle down just when the 2,500-horsepower motor was preparing to issue its final challenge to time.

Shortly after he pulled up on his north run, Odis Porter, of Indianapolis, the master timer, announced the results of the two runs.

Campbell's best two miles (the International Racing Federation requires him to strike an average from the same stretch of the track) gave him an average time of 205.362. The mile used in striking the average was the one between the fourth and the fifth. Going south, Campbell was in and out of the traps guarding his mile in 15.82 seconds for a speed of 227.560. Coming home, against the wind, he covered it in 19.24 seconds, for a speed of 187.110 and an average of 205.362.

HIGH AVERAGE.

Were it not for the rules requiring him to use the same mile on both runs, his average speed would have been higher, for going down he slammed through the fourth mile at 233.462 and running north negotiated the measured mile, the center mile, in 202.212 miles per hour.

There can be little doubt but that for the accident to the cowling, Briton's knight of speed would have substantially boosted his present record of 272.108. For he was doing 250 when forced to cut off the motor, with still nearly two miles in which to gather speed before entering the measured mile. And Bluebird needs a full five miles to "rev" her fastest.

The crowd, which was strung out on the dunes for the entire 11 miles of the course, was completely ignorant of Campbell's distress. Reports from the loud speakers made no mention of his trouble, and in addition, quoted Campbell as expressing satisfaction with the beach.

Such was far from true. He found the beach miserable.

"WORST RIDE."

"It was the worst ride of my life," he said later in his hotel room. "The beach was bumpy to the extreme, and it was soft and wet. To make matters worse I was forced to make a right-hand turn shortly after coming through the pier pilings on my run south, and swinging seven tons of steel at 125 miles an hour, is deucedly uncomfortable."

"And the oil guide stripe must go. The wheels picked it up and whipped it against my face and when I finished I was half choked and black as ink from head to foot."

He wasn't bitter nor disappointed, however. For Bluebird's motor had performed perfectly and he plans to be out on the beach for another try tomorrow.

"The damage wasn't great," Campbell said. "We carry plenty of spare parts and the boys can easily repair Bluebird's bonnet overnight. And the bonnet was all that misbehaved. Everything else was perfect."

CAMPBELL NOT UPSET.

His narrow escape didn't upset him. Two hours after he finished he was on the golf course trying to break 90.

Bluebird, however, was not so chipper. Standing in her quarters, she wasn't quite the handsome machine that started the runs. Her cowling was twisted and warped and from her waist to her nose, so to speak, her bright plue paint was a mass of ugly blisters.

Around her, swabbing her bruised parts with oil, water and soap, were the six mechanics who love her as though she were human.

"The ol' girl doesn't look so spry, right now," said Leo Vila, Campbell's chief mechanic for 14 years. "But she'll come around. It wasn't her fault. Nor the skipper's. It was ours. But when the skipper goes tomorrow, you'll be ready to take him along a bit, won't you Bluebird?"

JACKETS BEAT SEWANEE, 42-31

SEWANEE, Tenn., March 2.—(AP) Georgia Tech and Sewanee closed their basketball seasons here tonight with a game that resulted in a 42-31 Tech victory. It was a nip-and-tuck fight for the first half, but early in the second period the Georgia lads let go a fast attack that piled up a wide lead which Sewanee, despite a last-minute rally, was unable to overcome.

THE LINEUPS:

GA. TECH— (42)	G.	F.	TP.
Boulware, lf.	7	0	14
Hayes, rf.	1	1	3
Hyder, c.	6	0	12
Kidd, lg.	1	0	2
Glenn, rg.	5	1	11
Stacey, lg.	0	0	0
Totals	20	2	42

SEWANEE— (31)	G.	F.	TP.
Pearson, lf.	4	4	12
Kirby-Smith, rf.	2	1	5
Colmore, c.	3	1	7
Shelton, lg.	1	0	3
Sparkman, rg.	0	0	0
Turner, rf.	1	1	3
Dedman, lg.	1	0	2
Tate, lg.	0	0	0
Totals	12	7	31

Half-time score: Georgia Tech 18; Sewanee 16.

Free Throws Missed—Boulware 2, Hayes, Kidd; Pearson 4, Sparkman 2, Turner.

Personal Fouls—Haynes 3, Hyder, Kidd 4, Glenn 3, Stacey; Colmore, Shelton 4, Dedman.

Referee, Reynolds, Sewanee.

DISTRICT TITLE WON BY ATHENS

WATKINSVILLE, Ga., March 2. Athens High boys defeated Warrenton, 18 to 12, here tonight to win the tenth district high school championship.

The win puts Athens High in the state tournament as the "B" class entry for the tenth district. The state tournament will be held in Athens.

LINEUPS.

ATHENS H. (18)	Pos.	WARREN. (12)
Stegeman (8)	RF.	Gunn (3)
Guest (6)	LF.	Pilcher (6)
Hodson	C.	Kitchens (1)
Wilfong (2)	RG.	Hinesley (2)
Broach (2)	LG.	Shelton

Substitutes—Warrenton, Humphreys. Referee, Herndon (Georgia).

HORNBOSTEL WINS.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Charles (Chuck) Hornbostel, fleet middle distance runner from Indiana, captured the special invitation 600-yard run, feature of the second annual Polish falcon games here tonight. Hornbostel put on a sprint which carried him to an easy victory over Milton Sandler, of the German-American A. C., by about five yards in the time of 1:13.3.

SPORTS SMITHIES 13 ... ...

CARRILLO WINS.

HAVANA, March 2.—(AP)—Antonio Carrillo today won the Cuban amateur golf championship, defeating D. Velazco, 10 and 9.

Dick Beard, Tech Fullback, Suffers Fractured Leg in Scrimmage

JACKET STAR IS INJURED BACKING LINE

McKinley and Edwards Score Touchdowns in Jacket Drill.

By Jack Troy.

Dick Beard, who has been making a great bid for a regular fullback position on the Georgia Tech team, yesterday suffered a fractured right leg in the scrimmage at the Rose Bowl.

The two teams had been mixing it up rather freely. Beard, backing up the line, went in to stop a play. Opposing linesmen crashed through. Beard was caught in a wedge. There was the usual pileup and a distinct crack, like a twig being snapped in two.

Both bones in the right leg, about four inches above the ankle, were broken. It was reported at the hospital that it was a clean break and that Beard was resting comfortably.

SECOND BREAK.

Beard suffered a broken left leg at Boys' High a couple of years ago. The break healed splendidly and he had not been bothered with the injury since. It was announced that he should be all right for the fall season.

Beard's injury brought a halt to the scrimmage, which was the best of the spring training period.

John McKinley, who teammates affectionately call the "Old Sea Hag," scored after a brilliant dash of 35 yards. "Give it to The Old Sea Hag," encouraged the opposition. So lanky John McKinley went wide on an end run and crossed the goal without much trouble.

George (Smoky) Edwards also contributed a flashy scoring play. Edwards took the submarine pass, darted agross center and the safety man could do little else than wave as he sped on to the goal.

ONE TEAM.

There was one team composing a backfield of Beard, fullback; Billy Street and Smoky Edwards, halfbacks, and Fletcher Sims, quarterback, and a line of Ed Jones and Bill Jordan, ends; Brittain and Eubanks, tackles; Fitzsimmons and John Wilcox, guards, and Preston, center.

And there was an opposing team of Johnson, quarterback; McKinley and Calley, halfbacks, and Ernest Tharpe, fullback; and a line of Collins, center; Nixon and Miller, guards; Chance and Lindsey, tackles; Morgan and Allen, ends.

Appleby worked in with the first backfield.

Line Coach Mack Tharpe was impressed with the play of Ed Jones and Bill Jordan, sophomore ends, also Morgan, another sophomore end. The latter is the big blond youngster who was taking a co-op course before his football talents were uncovered.

BOYS IMPROVED.

Sims and Edwards, Chance and Lindsay and Brittain in his new tackle post, are all performing creditably in the spring drills. Blocking and tackling are much improved on the whole.

Tech has two more weeks to go before the training drills will be ended with a spring game.

There is a belief around Tech that at least six sophomores will be found in the starting lineup in the fall. The belief is growing despite Coach W. A. Alexander's well-known conservatism in regard to first-year players.

This is due to the unusually large number of promising sophomore players. Maybe both ends will be sophomores. There are certain to be others both in the line and backfield.

Aiken To Organize Sunday Loop Here

R. T. Aiken, of Goodyear Tire Service, will organize a Sunday baseball league again this year, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Aiken formed the first Sunday league in Atlanta last year when it first became legal to play baseball in the city parks on Sunday, and it had a very successful season, starting the season and finishing with six teams on the roster. The Buckhead 50 Club, winners of the Sunday league championship, fought to a standstill with Atlantic Steel for the city title in a post-season series, which shows that the brand of ball they played was just a little better than average.

There will be a meeting at Trammell Scott's store, at 66 North Broad street, Wednesday night at 7 o'clock, of managers of teams desiring to play Sunday ball. Anyone wishing more information on this may call Mr. Aiken, at Goodyear Service.

S. S. A. A.

STANDINGS.
BOYS' LEAGUE.

TEAM—	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
English Avenue Baptist	6	1	.857
Central Baptist Joy Class	5	2	.714
Lutheran Church	4	3	.571
Mt. Vernon Baptist	3	4	.429
Central Baptist Pals Class	3	4	.429
Jackson Hill Baptist	0	7	.000

GIRLS' LEAGUE.

TEAM—	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Inman Park Baptist	11	0	1.600
Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills	5	6	.455
Mt. Vernon Baptist	5	7	.417
American Fore	2	10	.167

Barring an upset, English Avenue Baptist has cinched the last-half basketball championship in the S. S. A. A. A. Friday they meet Mt. Vernon Baptist at the Y. M. C. A. Should they lose to the Mt. Vernon, providing Joy Class wins over Pals Class, the league will again be thrown in a tie between English and Joy. Joy Class won the first half.

Inman Park Baptist meets Fulton Bag in the last game of the girls' league.

The schedule:

Y. W. C. A. FRIDAY NIGHT.

Inman Park Baptist vs. Fulton Bag (girls), 6:30 p. m.

English Avenue Baptist vs. Mt. Vernon Baptist (boys), 7:15 p. m.

Jackson Hill Baptist vs. Lutheran Church (boys), 8:00 p. m.

Pals Class vs. Joy Class (boys), 9 p. m.

GIRLS.

MT. VERN. (10)	Pos.	(12) AMER. FORE
S. Smith (7)	F	(7) Smith
Clements	F	Stanley
W. Smith (2)	C	(3) Ferris
M. Scarbrough	G	(1) Wesley
Pinyan	G	(1) Pounds

Substitutes: Mt. Vernon—F. Scarbrough (1), Brady.

BOYS.

JOY CLASS (20)	Pos.	(38) ENG. AVE.
Rogers (6)	F	(12) Nash
Stith (4)	F	(7) Miller
Goldsmith (3)	C	(11) Pittman
Ellington	G	(6) Wilder
Roberts (5)	G	(2) McCash

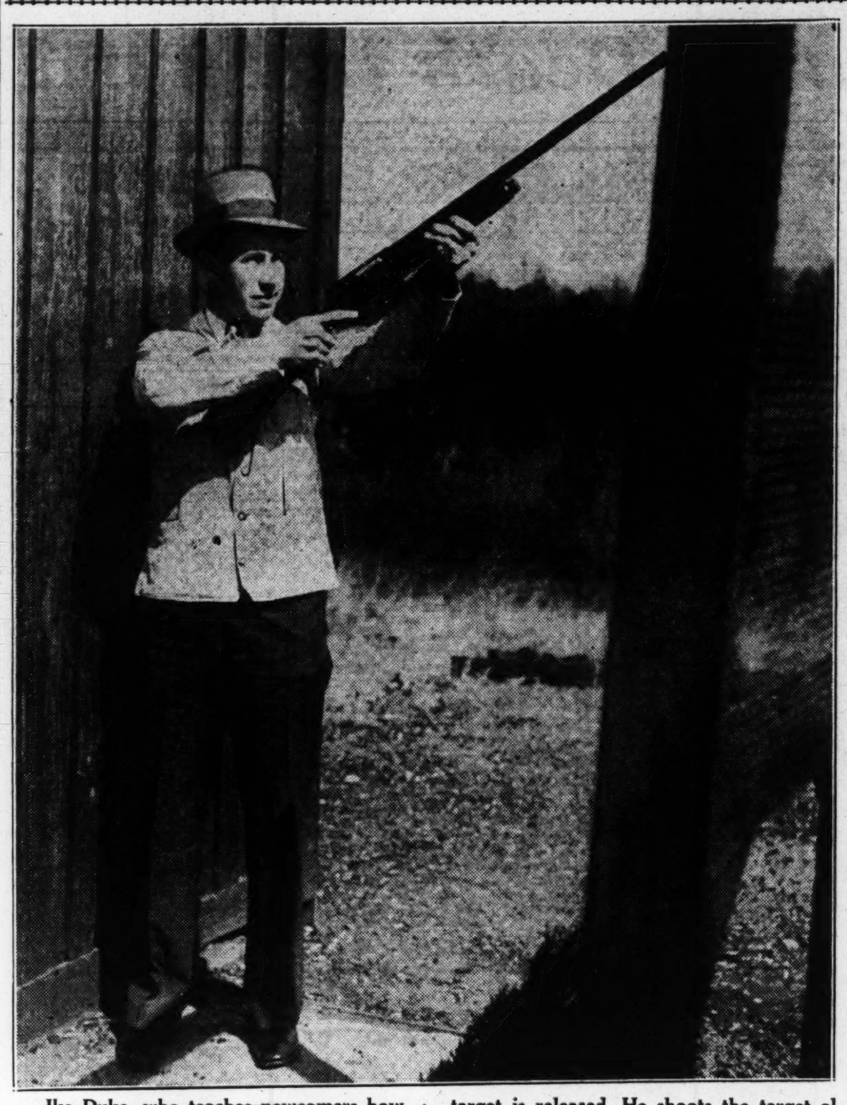

Substitutes: Joy Class—Cook (2); English Avenue—Groover, Appling, Epperson, Moon (2).

PALS CLASS (30)	Pos.	(27) LUTHERAN
Tinsley (17)	F	(17) Seckinger
Elrod (5)	F	(6) Witte
Sisk (4)	C	(4) Davis
McCollister (4)	G	(2) DePeterae
Hancock	G	Taylor

MT. VERN. (31)	Pos.	(29) JACK. HILL
J. Johnson (13)	F	(9) Berry
C. Johnson (6)	F	(8) Woodcock
Owens	C	(3) Allen
H. Johnson (2)	G	(9) Myrick
D. Johnson (8)	G	Arwood

Substitutes: Mt. Vernon—McCullough.

Ike Duke Ready for the Outgoer---At Station One

Ike Duke, who teaches newcomers how to shoot skeet at the West End Gun Club, demonstrates the correct form at Station One. Notice that Duke is pointing at a spot about 30 feet above station eight so as to bring the gun down and under when the target is released. He shoots the target almost above station eight and holds the gun approximately eight inches under when he fires. Duke always stands in a position close to the traphouse, his body turned and feet pointing toward station two.

VOLS TO START WORK THURSDAY

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 2.—Owning the largest rookie crop in the Southern league, it is necessary for the Nashville Volts to depart from their usual training procedure this year.

Instead of the entire squad reporting together, a call has been sounded for only the rookies and batterymen to gather at Tallahassee, Fla., Thursday, March 7. There will be 10 days of training for 20-odd youngsters before the regulars are scheduled to report and the plan is to weed out the less promising candidates before March 17.

Nashville has a definite hookup with Tyler, Texas, in the West Dixie league, and most of the surplus will go there with others to be shipped to spots in the East Dixie and Evangeline circuits.

Johnny Gooch, veteran catcher, chaperones the first party of hopefuls that takes off from here early Wednesday. Manager Frank Brazill will be waiting at Tallahassee and by the first of next week the Vol rookies will engage the Chattanooga Lookouts, training at Panama City, in an exhibition game.

Almost a third of the ultimate cast of Vol regulars will be absent from the club until it returns to Nashville April 1. Pitchers Eiland and Masters and Infielders Malay, Cuccinello and Martin are training with the New York Giants at Miami Beach. Bill Rodda reports to the Minneapolis Millers at Deland.

All players are signed except Tiny Chaplin and Poco Taitt. The latter is a confirmed holdout and probably will be traded to the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league.

Alliance League To Close Today

Final games in the Alliance Basketball league are scheduled for this afternoon at the Capitol avenue court.

The Aaroneans, who are leading the league, meet the S. I. J. team in the main game at 4:30 o'clock. Victory for the Aaroneans will give them the league title. The Davideans face the B. A. C. at 3:30, and the Strausseans play the Herllites in the opening game at 2:30 o'clock.

Y-Civic League

The big game of the last half of the split season of the Y-Civic league will be played Thursday night when the two teams that are now deadlocked for first place, May's Laundry and Warren Refrigerator Company, meet. Both clubs are undefeated. This will be the semi-final series and should Warren win, no post-season series will be played, as they were victors of the first half.

Another good game on the schedule for Thursday brings Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills and Atlanta-Southern Dental College together, with the victor getting a first-division berth as a reward.

On Tuesday night, Davison-Paxon's hoopmen will play May's Laundry a postponed game and the former club must win to remain in the race for the league trophy. The schedule and standings are:

TUESDAY NIGHT.

May's Laundry vs. Davison-Paxon, at 8 p. m.

THURSDAY NIGHT.

Linen Service vs. Davison-Paxon, at 7 p. m.

Fulton Bag vs. Dental College, at 7:20 p. m.

Kraft Cheese vs. DeMolay Club, at 8:20 p. m.

Warren Company vs. May's Laundry, at 8:40 p. m.

THE STANDINGS.

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Warren Refrigerator Co.	5	0	1.000
May's Laundry	4	0	1.000
Atlanta-Sou. Dental Col.	3	2	.600
Fulton Bag & Cot. Mill	3	2	.600
Kraft-Phenix Cheese Co.	2	3	.400
Davison-Paxon Co.	1	3	.250
DeMolay Club	1	4	.200
Linen Service Co.	0	5	.000

Speed and Precision Required at Station 1

Outgoer, Traveling 20 Yards a Second, Should Be Broken Over No. 8 Post.

(Editor's Note—This is the second of a series of articles on skeet, the sport of clay target shooting that has definitely won a permanent place in the realm of outdoor sports. The series, designed particularly for the newcomer, continues today with station one. Other stations will be discussed in order.)

By Jack Troy.

I. B. Duke, field captain of the West End Gun Club and a leading Atlanta skeeter, was engaged in a torrid team race, and had it in his lap, so to speak.

He had gone straight to the first pair of doubles at station one. The competition was so very close that a lost target would place the match in the same limbo.

Duke stepped up to his usual spot at No. 1, backed in close proximity to the traphouse, his feet pointing toward station two. He called for his pair and the outgoer proved a "snake eye," so to speak. That is to say, he missed it. Duke blotted out the incomer from station seven and crashed every other pair during the round. But the lost outgoer was the margin that added to the knowledge that it isn't always the woman who pays.

So Duke, who teaches newcomers how to shoot at the West End Club, was approached for his impressions of how to break targets consistently at station one. Particularly, the outgoer, or the sassy saucer that goes spinning out above and back of one's head from the high traphouse.

HAMMER HELPS.

"Well," said Duke, "I'd first tell them to step right up and break them. A hammer sometimes helps."

Duke has numerous straights to his credit. He is known to have only one real weakness. That is the outgoer at station six. It's a hoodoo. And mentioning this station to Duke obtains almost the same effect as waving a red flag at a bull or making derogatory remarks about the fragrance of the smouldering ropes that S. W. Roper and Al Frese are pleased to call cigars.

At any rate Duke is well qualified to speak out on the desired methods of breaking the targets at station one, as well as at the other stations.

"First of all," said Duke, "a newcomer should bear in mind that the outgoing target from station one travels 20 yards a second. In other words, after calling 'pull' and hearing the click of the trap, it's necessary to shoulder the gun, pick up the target and shoot in less than a second. The target should be shot directly over station eight, or mid-way between stations one and seven.

GONE IN A SECOND!

"The target wings over station eight in one second under normal conditions and in less time than that if there is a strong tail wind. So the first thing a beginner should recognize is that a skeet target is fast. Any hesitation in shouldering the gun after the target has been released will likely mean a loss because statistics show that it takes 1-20th of a second for a charge of shot to travel 20 yards.

"Stand erect or perhaps slightly bent forward at station one. It's best to hold one's gun at a spot well above station eight so that when the target flips out of the traphouse 10 yards above ground and rises to a height of 15 feet over station eight, a shooter is enabled to swing down and slightly under—about eight inches—before blasting away at the target. It's a mistake to hold at a spot under the theoretical flight of the target and come up on it. This causes most of the overshooting that harasses beginners.

"Another mistake commonly made on outgoers is stopping the swing of the gun. It must be remembered that the target is moving—at least 20 yards a second—and describes a five-foot arc during the flight between the stations. Therefore there is the rise and fall to be taken into account. It's best to break it over No. 8, because that is normally where it reaches the apex.

"It looks like an easy shot and newcomers think, likely as not, there is nothing to it. So they make no effort to swing down; instead, they merely shoulder the gun, point and fire after taking casual aim."

Spoken like a skeet professor, Mister Duke. Now what about the incomer at station one?

"I teach beginners to blot out the single from the low traphouse. This target spins out from the trap three feet above ground and rises rapidly to a height of 15 feet over station eight. It should be shot when within 15 to 20 yards. In other words, it isn't really necessary to break it over station eight, although that is desirable because a load has more spread at that distance. However, the desired effect can be obtained at 15 yards if a shooter remembers to keep his gun swinging and literally blots out the target. This is recognized as the easiest shot in skeet. Any shooter should break it. It is missed only through carelessness.

DOUBLES.

"A pair of doubles is taken at station one. The same form as shooting the outgoing single is desirable. The gun should be swung down and slightly under and the outgoer broken over station eight. The second target then will be 20 yards away. A slight swing of the gun will pick up the incoming target and it should be broken 10 to 15 yards away. Quick shooting is required, but unwarranted hurrying will cause loss of one or both targets. The second target will not get away if a shooter remembers to concentrate on the outgoer and break it as he would in shooting singles. It is all a matter of the swing and timing, which comes with a little practice."

Duke had a lot of ideas about station six, but owing to the fact that the paper has to pass through the mails, it is best to let some other crack Atlanta shooter discuss this tricky post in due time.

Fulton Girls Win Rifle Shoot, 472-437

The Fulton High girls' rifle team defeated the North Fulton girls' team Wednesday in a match on the Fulton High rifle range. The two highest shots for Fulton were: Ollie Rose Woolley 99, Mary Nell Taylor 95. The two for North Fulton were Crawford, F. 96; Milner, V. 87.

The following are members of the Fulton team: Marguerite Burgess, captain; Elizabeth Woods, Laura Pierce, Eloise Veal, Elizabeth Gibson, Mary Nell Taylor, Ollie Rose Woolley, Nel Gilstrap, June Roper, Frances Frazier and Frances Brown.

North Fulton team members: F. Crawford, S. Skidmore, J. Ellis, J. Rentecost, V. Milner, E. Buchanan, H. Goodpasture and C. Apperson.

The scores were Fulton, 472; North Fulton, 437.

AUBURN BACKS SHOW PROMISE IN SPRING DRILL

Only Two Backfield Men From 1934 Are Missing From Squad.

By Elmer G. Salter.

AUBURN, Ala., March 2.—One thing certain about Alabama Polytechnic Institute's spring football training backfield candidates is that they compose a much more experienced group than Coach Jack Meagher had at his disposal his first season at Auburn in 1934, with only two ball carriers lost who saw varsity action last season.

The only backs on the 1934 squad not out for spring training, which will last three more weeks, are Cleve Brown, who was one of a trio of regular quarterbacks, and Ward Wright, reserve fullback.

In strengthening a weak position at quarterback Coach Meagher has switched Joe Stewart from right halfback. Stewart has all of the major qualifications of a dependable quarterback save an excessive amount of speed.

Stewart's foremost competition is coming from Sidney Scarborough, a signal caller with a season of experience.

Three freshmen, John Davis, John Lowery and Gus Franke, and a varsity carryover, Aubrey Hill, are the other quarterback candidates.

The situation at halfbacks looks much better than it did a year ago. James Karam, Joe Bob Mitchell, John Paul Tipper, Bob Coleman and Charlie Bentley are the holdover halfbacks. Harry Whitten, reserve fullback for two campaigns, has been moved to right halfback.

Help also is expected to come from a group of frosh halfbacks that includes Billy Hitchcock, Jack Suydam, Bill Ellis, Jimmie Fenton, Ralph O'Gwynn, Buddy Crew and Ray Scarborough. Hitchcock, brother of Auburn's leader and All-American halfback in 1932, Jimmie, who is now Plainsmen backfield mentor, has been looking good in spring training. He is a nifty broken field runner, is smart in picking his openings, is a steady safety man, can punt as well as his older brother used to, and he is a level-headed passer.

All of the varsity backs of 1934 are showing up better in spring training, especially Karam and Tipper, and quite a battle will be fought before Auburn's starting halfbacks against Birmingham-Southern next September 27 will be named.

Ranking fullback hopefuls include Wilton Kilgore, regular as a sophomore in 1934; Bunky O'Rourke, who has been out of school for a year; Floyd McElroy, Osmo Smith and Cecil Leach, the latter three of whom will be sophs next fall. All stand out in some phase of the game. Kilgore is a crack kicker, O'Rourke is a fine runner, Smith is a sensational blocker, Leach is a ferocious tackler, and McElroy is about as rugged and as hard as they come.

DAWSON, WHITNEY MEET IN FINALS

NEW ORLEANS, March 2.—(AP)—John Dawson, of Chicago, and Nelson Whitney, of New Orleans, advanced to the finals of the New Orleans invitation carnival golf tournament here today by defeating their opponents in the semi-finals matches.

Dawson put out Al Reuning, former city champion of New Orleans, 1 up at the 19th, while Whitney defeated Gene Vinson, of Meridian, Miss., 2 and 1, in the afternoon round.

The finals will be played tomorrow in 36 holes.

Billiard Champion Gives Exhibition

Erwin Rudolph, who held the pocket billiard championship in 1927-30-31-33-34, will give an exhibition at the Crescent Recreation academy, 46 1-2 Whitehall street, Monday at 7 p. m., in a game of 125 points. He will have as his opponent, Brady Skelton, who has held the city championship for a number of years.

After this match, Rudolph will execute a series of fancy shots and give a 30-minute lecture to students of the game. This program is sponsored by the National Billiard Association.

After the exhibition, the first game of the Crescent Recreation academy's annual pocket billiard tournament, to determine the city championship, will be played. There are entered in this tournament eight of the best players ever to compete here, including Hamlin, former New York state champion; Chupp, who is one of the leading players of the south; Skelton, winner, and Glaser, who finished second last year.

Duke Golf Team Opens Emory Card

Duke University will open the Emory golf schedule here March 28 according to an announcement from Emmet Barlow, student golf manager at Emory. All matches will be played at the Druid Hills course.

Matches with Hampden-Sidney and Furman have also been scheduled, and matches are pending with Rollins, Tech, Georgia and Tennessee. Hampden-Sidney will be met March 29, and Furman April 5.

Emory lost Bobby Chambers and Joe Horacek Jr., the No. 1 foursome of last year. All four members of last year's strong freshman team headed by Crawford Rainwater and Jack Bothamley are battling for varsity berths.

Albert Stubbs and Epps Brown, who composed the No. 2 foursome on last year's varsity, have two more seasons to play.

The all-campus golf tourney, to determine the varsity squad, will begin Monday afternoon at the Druid Hills course. All students except freshmen are eligible to compete.

Tide Fencers Win From Jackets, 9-8

Georgia Tech lost a fencing match to the University of Alabama by a score of 9 to 8. The superiority of Bakst, in the foils, won this match 5 to 4. The saber and epee matches were even. Captain Swanson starred for the Yellow Jackets, winning two foil matches, one epee match and two saber matches. Mallo, of Tech, won one foil match and one epee match. Hutchinson won one foil match for the Jackets. Tech meets the Tide again Saturday, March 9.

STUDENTS CHECKERS by FRED E. LONG

This column is being run for the progress of The Game of Checkers in general, and also for the progress and pleasure of both editor and reader. It is my wish for it to be truly a students' column. So let us have any suggestions that you care to offer.

SOLUTION TO PROBLEM NO. 2.

By L. J. Vair.

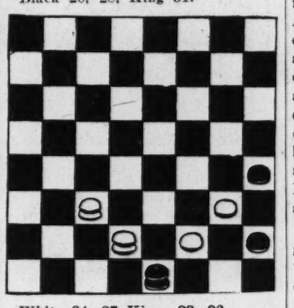

Black Kings—13, 15, 24, 28.
White Kings—1, 12, 14, 16.
White to play and win 16-20, 24-19, 20-24, 28-32-(A), 24-27, 32-23, 12-16, 19-12, 14-9, 13-6, 1-26, White wins.
A-19-23, 12-16, 28-12, 14-9, 13-6, 1-26, White wins.

This week's problem comes out of Ketchum's "How to Win," and offers an interesting study on one of those troublesome positions that comes up when a one-man advantage has been gained and danger is still encountered at every move. It deserves careful study, for any number of similar situations arise in our end-game play.

PROBLEM NO. 3.

By J. M. Weston.

Black 20, 28, King 31.

White 24, 27 Kings 22, 26.
White to play and win.

FUNDAMENTALS

We are pleased that the beginners are taking an interest in our space devoted to fundamentals, for in that way we can help create new interest in the game. We have already had requests for play governing the win of three kings over two, when the side having the two kings has control of both double corners. We appreciate these requests, and will be glad to have any others, for through these requests we can learn just what the readers want.

The win of three kings over two is very simple when the pieces are maneuvered correctly but the situation can be very aggravating to the beginner if the exact procedure is not known. It follows:

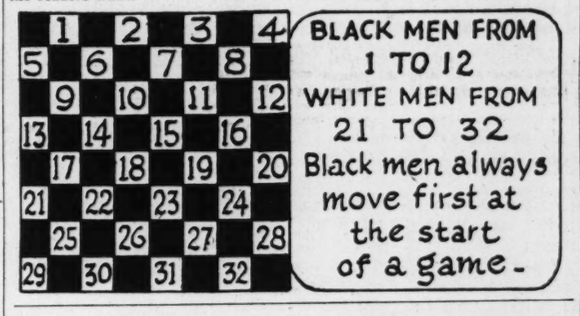

Black kings 6, 24.
White kings 14, 18, 23.
White to play and win, 18-15, 6-1, 14-9, 24-28-(A). 23-19, 1-5-(B), 9-6, 28-32-(C), 19-24, 5-1-(D), 24-19, White wins.
(A)—1-5, 15-18, White wins.
(B)—28-32, 9-6, White wins.
(C)—5-1, 6-10, now no matter where Black goes, White gets an exchange.
(D)—32-28, 6-10, White wins.

CHECKER-BITS.

The new Checkergram is the only checker magazine of note published monthly. It is edited and published by America's greatest professional checker player, William F. (Willie) Ryan, and is a great help for players of all classes. It can be had for $1 per year and is well worth a dollar to the checker fan. If any of our readers so desire, this column will be glad to handle any subscriptions, or your subscription can be sent direct to the New Checkergram, 152 West 42nd street, New York, N. Y.

The January issue of the Checkergram makes the following statement: "New checker columns are bobbing up everywhere. We wonder who is waking up, shaking up, all this interest in checkers? Mebbe it's the depression, or mebbe it's because the depression is leaving us. But whatever the increased interest is due to, there's one thing certain—checkers gets the benefit."

This column is proud to be a party to any movement that is gaining momentum as fast as checkers. It is without doubt the future hobby of America, because it is the cheapest wholesome hobby ever offered the public. Those that are not already checker fans had better get on the bandwagon, for checkers is just really getting started and has a great future.

Babe Is Prize 'Rookie,' Luque Is Oldest Player

'Grandpa' Luque is 44; Cavarretta, Kid Rookie, Will Be 18 in July.

By Paul Mickelson.

CHICAGO, March 2.—(AP)—A parade in ink from the major league baseball rosters of 1935:

"Grandpappy" of the active players: Adolfo Luque, right-handed pitching veteran of the New York Giants. The iron armed Cuban, now 44 years old, is the oldest timer of them all. He is eight months older than his closest rival—Rabbit Maranville, of the Boston Braves.

The "kid" rookie: Phil Cavarretta, prospective first baseman and home run king of the Chicago Cubs. Phil, who made his debut last September by smashing out a home run to beat Cincinnati, 1 to 0, won't be 18 until next July. Luque was 27 when Cavaretta first saw the light of day.

Most highly prized rookies in each league: American, Louis Berger, an infielder who is expected to plug up a big hole for the Indians on their pennant dash; National, a young fellow named Babe Ruth, out after a name and his second million dollars with the Boston Braves.

WEAVER IS LARGEST.

Biggest player: Jim Weaver, Pittsburgh pitcher. Big Jim stands six feet six, weighs 230 pounds and can eat three steaks at one sitting. J. Francis Hogan, of the Braves, weighs 240 but is five inches shorter.

The midget: Pat Ankenman Jr., shortstop rookie with the world's championship Cardinals. Pat stands five feet four inches high and weighs only 133 pounds. He came up from Houston, of the Texas league, a club of which his father is president. Starred at University of Texas for three years. Pat is a base-stealing fiend, so they say.

Most popular name: It's now a tough struggle between the Moores and Browns. There are six Moores—all in the National league—to five Browns. Introducing the moores: Joe Moore, Giants; Randy Moore, Braves; Euel and John Moore, Phillies; Eugene and Terry Moore, Cardinals. All the Moores are outfielders except Euel, a pitching prospect, obtained from Baltimore. Introducing the Browns: Mace Brown, Pittsburgh; Bob Brown, Braves; Clint and Lloyd Brown, of Cleveland, and Walter Brown, Yankees. All the Browns are pitchers. Then there is another with an "E" on the end of his name, Earle Browne, southpaw pitcher and first baseman, purchased by Pittsburgh from Little Rock. If you count him, the Brown-Moore popularity race is all even at six each.

CONNIE OLDEST MANAGER.

Oldest manager: You're right. It's Connie Mack. The tall tactician is starting his 35th year at the helm of the Athletics with the youngest team in the big show.

Youngest manager: Joe Cronin, of the Boston Red Sox. Cronin is only 27.

Youngest battery (from standpoint of youth and all-around effectiveness): Paul Dean and Bill Delancy of the Cardinals. Combined age is 44. Paul is 21; Bill is 23.

Heaviest battery: Pitcher Leslie Munns, weight 205 pounds; Catcher E. Gordon Phelps, weight 225 pounds. They are Casey Stengel's food destroyers and heavyweights.

Largest spring squad: Cincinnati Reds. The Reds have 38 players on their roster—17 pitchers, 10 infielders, 7 outfielders and 4 catchers. Smallest squad: St. Louis Browns and Boston Braves—25 each.

Grand total of players, both leagues: 496 players—249 for the National league; 247 for the American league. Assortment, both leagues: 210 pitchers, 59 catchers, 129 infielders and 98 outfielders.

Babe Must Prove Right to Pilot's Job.

BOSTON, March 1.—(AP)—Babe Ruth tonight was told in no uncertain terms that he must prove his worth before he is given the top managerial post with the Boston Braves. The speaker was C. F. Adams, vice president and majority stockholder of the club.

Sportsman and leaders of state had lauded Ruth in a series of speeches at a banquet tendered in the slugger's honor when Adams rose to electrify the gathering with his positive statement.

Looking directly at Ruth, who arrived here tonight for the signing of a contract which makes him playing assistant manager and second vice president, Adams said:

"No one is fit to give orders until he can take them himself. Judging from Ruth's past career we can hardly consider him of managerial caliber now. I certainly hope he will merit promotion as manager of the Braves. He has much to learn within the next few months. He must prove himself to be a good soldier if he is not that already, and he must gain the loyalty of his teammates.

"Bill McKechnie (present manager of the Braves) is frank, honest and correct when he says there can be but one boss of the Braves. When Ruth proves himself, Bill McKechnie, if he so desires, can take over an executive position with the Braves as the personal representative of the interests I represent in the Braves." (Adams controls the majority stockholder interest.)

BULLDOGS OPEN BASEBALL CARD WITH CARDINALS

World's Champions Appear in Exhibition Game in Dublin.

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—Starting off the season with an exhibition game with the St. Louis Cardinals in Dublin, Ga., the Georgia baseball team will play a 17-game season including four-game series with Auburn, Clemson, Oglethorpe and Georgia Tech.

Coach Vernon "Catfish" Smith, who is starting his second year at the head of the baseball club will issue the call for candidates on March 9. Warming-up exercises for pitchers will probably start prior to that date.

Prospects are bright for a good season if Coach Smith can remedy one major defect.

That defect is the lack of pitchers. Graduation of Sully Sullivan and the failure of Lawrence Costa to return to school will be a blow to the Bulldog's pitching staff.

NEED PITCHERS.

Returning pitchers are Lefty Nichols and Bishop. Frank Johnson, football guard and basketball forward, will try his powers on the mound this season to help ease Coach Smith's pitching troubles.

With the exception of the pitching staff Georgia will have a veteran and formidable baseball club. Harrison Anderson, Marietta boy, will be at first base; Charley Treadway, at second; Alf Anderson, at Short, and Jim Cavan at third.

Cavan will replace Cy Grant, regular third-baseman, who will be shifted to the outfield. Henry Wagnon, regular outfielder, will be a catcher this season along with Maurice Carter, according to present plans.

This starting infield will give Georgia a strong set of hitters and a capable group of fielders. Treadaway, who will be senior quarterback on the football squad next season, is one of the best fielders and hitters in the Southeastern conference.

ANDERSON AND CAVAN.

Alf Anderson, son of Frank Anderson, will also be one of the keymen in Georgia's offense. Anderson will play shortstop while his other Decatur friend, Jim Cavan, will be at third.

In the outfield will be Jordan Ennis, heavy hitter; Cy Grant, and Wagnon, who will probably alternate with Carter as both catcher and outfielder.

THE SCHEDULE.

April 2—St. Louis Cards, in Dublin, Ga.
April 5-6—Auburn, in Auburn.
April 10-11—Auburn, in Athens.
April 12-13—Clemson in Athens.
April 19-20—Clemson, in Clemson.
April 26-27—Oglethorpe, in Atlanta.
April 30-May 1—Oglethorpe, in Athens.
May 3—Georgia Tech in Atlanta.
May 4—Georgia Tech, in Athens.
May 10—Georgia Tech, in Athens.
May 11—Georgia Tech, in Atlanta.

F. E. R. A.

HOKE SMITH.

JR. CELTICS (19)	Pos.	(15) JR. HURRI.
Kelley (2)	F	(2) Edwards
Cernaglia	F	(8) Gershon
E. Lay (8)	C	(1) Lee
C. Boyd	G	McRae
Newberry	G	(4) Wynn

Subs: Junior Celtics, Roderick (9); Junior Hurricanes, Kirkland, Gershon.

MURPHY.

ACES (29)	Pos.	(11) CHIPMONKS
Brooks (2)	F	(8) Dickerson
Woodall (8)	F	Scott
Price (2)	C	Johnson
L. Cooley	G	(3) Moore
Everitt (12)	G	DeLong

Subs: Manders (1), Helms (4), Laughter for Aves; Chipmonks, Hambrick.

H. S. HURRI. (52)	Pos.	(17) MURPHY
C. Gershon (17)	F	(4) Anderson
H. Gershon (8)	F	(3) Shaft
McChesney (12)	C	Sockwell
London (6)	G	J. Cooley
Clark (2)	G	Eidson

Subs: Hoke Smith Hurricanes, Myers (7), Cox; Murphy Eagles, Gulley (10).

EAST LAKE (25)	Pos.	(22) SHARPSH.
Thompson (8)	F	(4) Durham
Beacham (8)	F	(8) Benson
J. Roberts (9)	C	(10) Brimer
Haynie	G	(2) Wood
Peters	G	Adams

Subs: G. Roberts, Bryan for East Lake.

Whitefoord Bears won from Maddox, 3 to 0, as the Maddox team did not show up.

JOE BROWN.

W. E. ACES (12)	Pos.	(14) A. TIGERS
Diserman (2)	F	(10) Leach
Smith	F	(2) Hawkins
Petry (2)	C	(2) Kitchens
Lloyd (6)	G	Walkes
Thompson	G	Ludwig

Subs: West End Aces, Coggins (2), Wallace.

W. E. WAR. (27)	Pos.	(25) A. TIGERS
Smevog (4)	F	(13) Leach
Carson (6)	F	(4) Kitchen
Mote (11)	C	(6) Ludwig
Hughes (6)	G	Hawkins
Adcock	G	(2) Walker

Subs: None.

HOKE SMITH.

HURRIC'ES (34)	Pos.	CYCLONES (11)
Gershon, H. (8)	F	McCollister
Gershon, C. (4)	F	Fair (2)
McChesney (8)	C	Clary
Myers (2)	G	Stone
London (2)	G	Mendel (7)

Substitutions — Hurricanes: Myers (2), Clark, Cox, McChesney (8); Cyclones: Newberry (2).

TIGERS (9)	Pos.	JR. HUR'C'S (14)
Singer (4)	F	Kirkland
Califf (5)	F	Gershon (6)
Pritchard	C	Lee
Asbell	G	McRae (2)
Seabrook	G	Wynn (2)

Substitution—Junior Hurricanes, Edward (4).

CYCLONES (40)	Pos.	CELTICS (10)
McCollister (11)	F	Lay, J.
Fair (6)	F	Von Glaum (5)
Stone (15)	C	Bromberg (2)
Newberry	G	Hill
Clary	G	Boyd (3)

MADDOX.

BULLDOGS (16)	Pos.	YEL. JACK. (13)
Hames (2)	F	Farley (12)
Thurmond (10)	F	Brown (2)
Sparks (2)	C	Butler (4)
McDaniel (2)	G	West
Blalock	G	Cole

Substitution—Tolbert for Bulldogs.

TYPIST (14)	Pos.	TIGERS (11)
McDaniel (9)	F	Mauldin
Worthington (2)	F	Whitaker
Guyton (3)	C	Hollingsworth (4)
McAfee	G	Clark (3)
Miller	G	Garrett

Substitutions — Typist: None; Tigers: Poole, Kirkpatrick (2).

FIREC'KERS (10)	Pos.	BULLDOGS (28)
Black (2)	F	Tolbert (4)
Bryan (4)	F	Thurmond (12)
Huff	C	Hames (4)
Shirley (4)	G	McDaniel, L. (6)
Brown	G	Blalock (2)

Substitutoin—Firecrackers: Chatham.

RUSSELL.

FAIRBURN (7)	Pos.	CELTICS (22)
McDaniel (7)	F	Brown (5)
Dodson	F	Thompson (2)
Christian	C	Davis (6)
Newman	G	Almond (4)
Boyd	G	Johnston (2)

EMORY WRESTLING.

The annual all-campus wrestling tournament is scheduled to begin Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Emory. There will be six weight divisions and sweaters and letters will be awarded to winners in each division. Final-round matches in the freshman tournament, which began last Monday, are also scheduled Monday afternoon.

Paul Whiteman Joins Golf Throng at Capital City Course

A Tip at the Start - - - Talking It Over - - - Lost in the Rough!

Each Saturday a Constitution photographer visits one of Atlanta's golf clubs for pictures of the players, not necessarily the stars. Today's are from the Forrest Hills course. At the left, Willie Livingston, the pro, is correcting a grip for the swing. Behind him, left to right, are: H. H. Howard, tax commissioner of DeKalb county; J. C. McCowan, Atlanta businessman; Hugh Burgess, attorney at Decatur, and F. H. Heaton, businessman of Atlanta. In the center, Forrest Hills, seated, talks over a game with Jim B. Fry, Atlanta businessman. While at the right is a picture which proves that even good golfers get into the rough and have to hunt a lost ball. The searchers, left to right: R. J. Reed, of Decatur; J. A. Harris, Atlanta businessman; J. A. Harris Jr., student at Emory and Capt. M. E. Hicks, one of the better trap and trick shot artists in the scatter gun game. Photos by George Cornett, Constitution staff.

Orchestra Leader Joins Saturday Golf Throngs

Johnny Owens' 68 Is Day's Low Score; Yates Has 69 at East Lake.

By Ralph McGill.

Paul Whiteman, one of America's favorite orchestra leaders, started Atlanta golf off to a big day yesterday when he played a round at the Capital City Club early Saturday morning.

The famous musician admitted that golf is his favorite sport but also admitted that he waved a baton better than a golf stick. He scored around a 100.

Charles Knowles teamed with Whiteman in a foursome which included two members of the orchestra. Whiteman was very complimentary of Howard Beckett's course.

With Whiteman one of the earliest starters golfers stormed their favorite courses during the day.

OWENS CARDS 68.

Low-score honors for the day went to Johnny Owens, of Capital City, who shot a 68 over the course with its winter par of 70. Charley Dannals was next at Capital City with a 71. Billy Ginn, a youngster, scored a 73.

Charley Yates was second low for the day, scoring a 69 at East Lake over the No. 2 course with a winter-par of 70.

Al Sargent was next at East Lake, scoring a 71. He was followed by John Ridley, Frank Ridley, Travis Jackson and Stanley Holditch, each with a 74.

Colonel Bob Jones, who is playing better golf than ever, had a neat 77.

In the blind-bogey tournament at East Lake, with 73 entries, J. P. Willhoite came up with the winning number, 78.

EIGHT TIE AT 77.

Eight were tied at 77. They were Wimberly Peters, A. G. Huston, Willis Callaway, J. N. Fisher, C. D. Prater, E. A. Brooks, P. J. Stewart and Charley Yates. Yates was handicapped eight strokes. He had a real 69.

Seven tied with a 79 each. They were W. C. Caye, George Rudolph, George Fogg, D. C. Lacey, George McCrory, L. C. Barton and Keith Conway.

E. R. Partridge won the booby prize, which is really just a hard luck prize. Those who are farthest from the number are put into a hat and one drawn. Mr. Partridge's bad luck won for him a golf ball. Which was more than others received.

At the Piedmont Golf Club, Chick Ridley, club pro, reported a good crowd out with Miss Margaret Maddox, former state champion, shooting a good 78.

At John A. White, Pro R. M. Hubert reported 165 players. His club championship is to be completed by April 1 and all players are urged to obtain pairings from him. The trophies will be presented at a dinner, the date to be selected later. The annual election will be held at this dinner.

CROWD AT KEY.

Jeff Modie, professional at the James L. Key course, reported that he was working to perfect an association at his club and planned a tournament as soon as this was completed. He had a large crowd out.

Wallace Lindquist, at Candler park, had a good crowd playing but none turned in a par-breaking score for the afternoon.

Albert Jones, at West End, had a large crowd out. He announces the second dinner tournament of the spring, to be staged next week-end. The first one was a great success. A. J. Cochran and Dr. J. E. Paullin are captains.

Tommy Wilson, at Ansley park, greeted a crowded course.

Billy Wilson, at Bobby Jones, also had a good crowd. His club ran out of available caddies at one time, so large was the turnout. Eddie Moore, Cracker manager, was one of his guests.

Harry Stevens, at Druid Hills, had a successful afternoon at his club.

Ingleside reported an excellent one also. Jimmy Livingstone, club professional, was confined at home because of a severe cold but Johnny Livingstone carried on in the absence of the senior Livingstone.

Spring, it seems, has come. At least the golfers think so.

LEFTY GOMEZ SIGNS CONTRACT

Continued From First Sports Page.

season's has Cuyler at the top, with Chuck Klein at No. 3, and Freddy Lindstrom, heir apparent to the third base job, in the clean-up spot.

Earnshaw Busy Tuning His Wing.

PASADENA, Cal., March 2.—(AP) With his eye on a bonus of $500 for every victory over 10 again this season, George Earnshaw, the Chicago White Sox big righthander, is about the busiest man in camp.

Earnshaw reported in great condition and announced he expects to win 16 games this season. He won 14 last year to pick up $2,000 in addition to his regular salary.

With Zeke Bonura, young first baseman, still holding out for a higher salary figure, Manager Jimmy Dykes indicated he would use Glenn Wright, former National league star shortstop, at the position.

WILSON TO MIAMI.

OXFORD, Ohio, March 2.—(AP)—George Rider, Miami University director of athletics, today announced appointment of Elwood J. Wilson, graduate of Stanford, as football line coach succeeding Roy Weitz. He played with Coach Frank Wilson, of Miami, at Stanford under "Pop" Warner's tutelage.

BEST SELLER

An inexperienced file user can pick out the most efficient file and be 100% right, every time. All he has to do is say "Black Diamond" to get sharp, durable files, eagerly bought everywhere.

At your hardware store.

BLACK DIAMOND FILES
NICHOLSON FILE COMPANY
Providence, R. I., U. S. A.
Since 1863 The Standard of Quality

JUVENILE STARS IN BASKET MEET

Juvenile basketball stars held the spotlight at the Central Y. M. C. A. Saturday, as the leading junior teams of the state met in the junior and boys' state Y. M. C. A. basketball tournaments. The Savannah Carriers won the junior title by trimming the Savannah Heffersons, 24 to 17, in the finals, while the Columbus Y Juniors won the championship in the boys' division by trimming the Atlanta Young Triangles, 24 to 14. The Carriers won their title by staging a wonderful comeback in the last half after trailing 13 to 7 at the midway point; while the Columbus-Atlanta game was a battle all the way, with Columbus going on a scoring spree in the final quarter to cinch the victory.

Complete results of the day's play follow:

ATLANTA (38)	Pos.	THOMAS. (15)
Cox	F	Brandon (7)
Elrod (19)	F	Steele (4)
Brady (3)	C	Hill (2)
Williams (6)	G	Letchas (2)
Wells (6)	G	Gilbert

Subs—Atlanta: Roberts (2), Paradies (2); Thomasville: Pouter, Clark, Mitchell, Golden, Blanton.

COLUMBUS (24)	Pos.	MOULTRIE (11)
Kirkland (10)	F	Rogers (2)
Blackwell (4)	F	R. Austin
Shapiro (2)	C	Coulton
Meadows (4)	G	Aven (5)
Ray	G	Norman (4)

Subs—Columbus: Petty (2), Copler, Homer, Jones, Kelley (2); Moultrie: Murphy, Mouat.

ATLANTA (28)	Pos.	ATHENS (25)
Wells (4)	F	Wood (10)
Elrod (12)	F	Trousdale (5)
Brady	C	Tiller (8)
Roberts (2)	G	Loyd (2)
Williams (3)	G	Hulsey

Subs—Atlanta: Paradies (7), Cox; Athens: Brown.

SAV. FLAS. (23)	Pos.	COLUMBUS (31)
McFeer (7)	F	Kirkland (6)
Pittman (6)	F	Blackwell (8)
Futtrelle (6)	C	Shapiro (4)
Durant (2)	G	Meadows (6)
Psalm	G	Ray (3)

Subs—Savannah Flashes: Athans (2), Robinson; Columbus: Petty, Homer, Kelley, Coplan.

Girls' Team, Clothiers Clash

Basketball fans will be offered something unusual Monday night when the famous Berghoff girl's star team of Dayton, Ohio, clashes with the Parks-Chambers quintet. The game is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the J. P. C. court.

The clothier quintet boasts one of Atlanta's strongest teams, but the Berghoff girls come here heralded as the leading feminine basketeers of the country. A defeat might be very embarrassing to the boys' team.

This famous girl's team was organized 15 years ago and Norman McMeekin, guard on the original team, is still playing with them. Betty Hamisak, the six-foot center, is the star of the team. This girl emulates Joe Lapchick in ability to palm the ball.

All of the members of the Berghoff team are stars in their own rights. Laura Mansfield is an all-city guard; Grace Pike made guard on the 1927-8 All-American selections; Elva Marsh is an all-city guard. Other members of the squad are Dorothy Shaffer, forward on the original 1920 team; Opal Stanley, forward; Dorothy Underwood, all-city guard, and Alice Unger, forward.

Georgia's Fighters Bow to Presbyterian

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—Presbyterian College boxers defeated Georgia 4 1-2 to 3 1-2 here tonight at Woodruff hall in the final bouts of the year for the Bulldogs.

119-Pound Class: Seagle, P. C., decision over McEver, Georgia.

129-Pound Class: McCaskill, P. C., awarded win on forfeit.

139-Pound Class: Clarke, P. C., awarded win on forfeit.

149-Pound Class: Radutsky, Georgia, technical knockout over McClary in second round. Time: 1 minute 30 seconds.

159-Pound Class: Winston, Georgia, decision over Littman, P. C.

169-Pound Class: Kappelman, P. C., awarded win on forfeit.

179-Pound Class: Jacobson, Georgia, and Bolick, P. C., draw.

Unlimited: Perlow, Georgia, awarded win on forfeit.

CHICAGO BEATEN.

CHICAGO, March 2.—(AP)—Wisconsin's Badgers filed claim to at least a share of the Big Ten basketball title tonight, turning on their best offensive effort of the season to swamp Chicago, 48 to 25.

BULLDOGS NAME TRACK SCHEDULE

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—Six track meets, including three Southeastern conference matches, are on the program for the Georgia team, according to the schedule issued here today by H. J. Stegeman, athletic director and head track coach.

Auburn, Georgia Tech and Florida are the Southeastern conference opponents, while Clemson, Presbyterian College and Furman are the out of conference foes.

The Georgia Tech meet will be held in Atlanta on May 4. This should be one of the closest contests on the schedule. Last year in Athens the Yellow Jackets nosed out a 64-to-60 win under the leadership of Perrin Walker, star Tech dash man.

Georgia met the same teams last season and lost to Auburn and Georgia Tech in close matches. Practically the same Georgia team, with the exception of Graham Batchelor, captain and star weight man, will return this season.

The tracksters have been getting some pre-season work since the first of the year, but workouts in earnest will begin on Monday.

Speck Townes, lanky high hurdler, is expected to be one of the mainstays of the team this year, as is Harry Harman, sophomore weight man. Other returning veterans are Wesley Calhoun, Shorter Rankin, Glenn Johnson, Burch Wilcox and Monk Arnold.

The schedule:
March 30—Clemson at Clemson.
April 6—Presbyterian in Athens.
April 13—Furman in Athens.
April 20—Auburn in Athens.
May 4—Georgia Tech in Atlanta.
May 11—Florida at Gainesville, Fla.
May 17, 18—Southeastern conference meet at Birmingham.

ATLANTA WINS METHODIST MEET

Continued From First Sports Page.

52 to 36, and Nashville followed up with a 43-to-29 win over Birmingham.

In the consolation game Chattanooga won third place from Birmingham by a count of 33 to 25.

LINEUPS.

ATLANTA (52)	Pos.	NASHVILLE (49)
Moore (17)	F	Hoover
Phillips (14)	F	Bullard
Hallman	C	Dunkerley (4)
Bellamy (12)	G	Frith (4)
C. Conyers	G	Walker (3)

Substitutions—Atlanta, Heard (2), McGee (3); Nashville, Glover (13), Patton (4), C. Dean (8), Curry (4), J. Dean (9). Score at half, Atlanta 32, Nashville 23. Referee, Sentell. Umpire, Gage.

LINEUPS.

BIRM'GHAM (33)	Pos.	CHATTA. (21)
Perkins (6)	F	Rodman (10)
Pike (1)	F	Elam (8)
Walker (1)	C	Ballinger (3)
H. Ginn (3)	G	Bass
Whittington	G	Morris (1)

Substitutions—Birmingham, Nixon (7), T. Ginn (7), Hines, Moreland; Chattanooga, Mitchell (9), Wilson (2), Tate, Hennessey. Score at half—Chattanooga 13, Birmingham 11. Referee, Gage. Umpire, Sentell.

A.R.P. GIRLS (19)	Pos.	CHATTA. G. (21)
Jolly	F	Williams (10)
Ford	F	Young (4)
Holt (9)	C	Marlow (1)
Plaxico	G	Wiggins (4)
Potts	G	Kirby

Substitutions—A. R. P., Wewborn (8), Brady, Cloud (2), Stephens; Chattanooga, Thornburg (2), Dillard, Baurle. Score at half, A. R. P. 11, Chattanooga 9. Referee, Sentell. Umpire, Gage.

LINEUPS.

ATLANTA (52)	Pos.	(36) CHAT'NGA
Moore (16)	F	(1) Elam
Phillips (8)	F	(12) Mitchell
Hallman (4)	C	(9) Ballinger
Bellamy (8)	G	Bass
C. Conyers (4)	G	(7) Tate

Substitutions: Atlanta—Heard (5), B. Conyers, McGee, Turman (3), Rose (2); Chattanooga—Wilson (2), Rodman (11), Lieb (4), Hennessy. Score at half: Atlanta 29, Chattanooga 17. Referee, Sentell. Umpire, Gage.

BIRM'GHM (29)	Pos.	(43) NASHV'LE
Perkins	F	Hoover
T. Ginn (5)	F	(7) J. Dean
Moreland	C	(8) Dunkerley
H. Ginn (4)	G	(8) Frith
Nixon (11)	G	(9) Walker

Substitutions: Birmingham — Pike (5), Whittington (1), Walker (3), Hines; Nashville—Glover (3), Patton (4), C. Dean (4).

GIRLS.

BIRM'GHAM (26)	Pos.	(35) NASHV'LE
Elam (5)	F	(9) Dalton
M. Hartman	F	Verchota
Dean (11)	F	(12) Shouse
Shields	G	Ford
Bliss	G	Cherry
Williams	G	Reed

Substitutions: Birmingham—L. Hartman, Meadows (5), Stein (5); Nashville—Weatherly (9), Shockerly (3), Moore, Hamilton (2), Dobson, Putman.

FARBER WINS TWO.

MANILA, P. I., March 2.—(AP)—Lew Farber, New York bantamweight, won his second fight in Manila, taking a 12-round decision from Cris Pineda, Manila, tonight. Each weighed 120 pounds.

Shute, Cox, Espinosa Enter Metro Open Here

Junior Chamber Assured of Many Nationally-Known Entrants in Tourney.

By Ralph McGill.

Five nationally known golfers, including Denny Shute, 1933 British open champion, are among the early acceptances for Atlanta's open golf tournament which will be held at the Capital City Club course in April, immediately followng the Master's tournament at Augusta.

They are the inimitable Whiffy Cox, Abe Espinosa, Ralph Stonehouse, Clarence Clark and Denny Shute. Others are coming in with each mail delivery and most of the experts participating at Augusta in the Masters' are expected to be signed when the tournament date comes around.

AMATEURS SOUGHT.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the tournament, has started a campaign which will bring in the ranking amateurs in the southeast. Each golf pro in the district has been asked to attend and to bring with him his club champion.

Amateur prizes have been increased from three to ten and the amateur competition this spring will be much stronger than last year. Dan Goss, president of the Southern P. G. A., is leading this drive.

First prize money in the $2,000 open will see first place worth $500, second place $350, third place $250, fourth place $150, fifth place $125 and sixth place $100. There are 18 prizes for the professionals with the last prize paying $35, which will get one from one town to another.

SILVER PRIZES.

The amateur, of course, will not compete for the money prizes, receiving silverware.

The advisory committee of the tournament will meet Wednesday at 12:15 o'clock at the Capital City Club, uptown. The members are as follows: A. R. Hederman, chairman; Veazy Rainwater, Keith Conway, Bob Martin, Gene Dahlbender, Norman Elsas, George Sargent, Howard Beckett, J. C. Shelor, J. L. Westmoreland, Jackson Dick, Milton Dargan Jr., Paul Duke, Ralph McGill, O. B. Keeler, Ed Danforth, Ed Miles, Jimmy Jones, E. G. Jackson, of the Junior Chamber; J. B. Crouch, George B. Yancey.

JUNIOR STATE Y. M. C. A.

JUNIOR (17 AND UNDER.)

SAV. PRESS.	Pos.	ATLANTA JRS.
Spence (6)	F	Weitz (1)
Steljes (4)	F	Ferguson (4)
McDonald (10)	C	Butler
Kelley (1)	G	Boykin
Kronstadt	G	Bell (3)

Substitutes: Sav.— Waldrop (3), Hagan, Palmer (8), Palmer, W. (6); Atlanta: Redding (2), Price and Redding.

SAV. JEF.	Pos.	COLUMBUS.
McLaughlon (12)	F	W. Johnston
Carter (2)	F	F. Johnston (8)
Stevens (15)	C	Burns (4)
Chandler (1)	G	Willis
Mizell	F	Springer (8)
Williams	C	Bryant (4)
		Coppok (2)
		Treadway
		Garland

SAV. PRESS.	Pos.	MOULTRIE.
Spence (6)	F	McLeod (2)
Steljies (10)	F	Willis (3)
McDonald (2)	C	Tucker
Kelley (8)	G	Shiver
Kronstadt	G	Culberth (4)
Palmer (4)		Smith
F. Palmer (4)		Clements
Hagan
Waldrop (8)

Junior State Y. M. C. A. Basketball Championship.
FINAL GAME.

SAV. JEF. (17)	Pos.	SA. PRESS (24)
McLaughlen (5)	F	Spence
Carter (3)	F	Steljes (14)
Stevens (6)	C	McDonald
Chandler (2)	G	Kronstadt
Mizell (1)	G	Kelly (4)

Substitutions: Jeffersons—None; Press: W. Palmer, E. Palmer (6). Score at the half: Jeffersons 13, Press 7. Referee, Tinsley.

Boys' State Y. M. C. A. Basketball Championship.
FINAL GAME.

ATL. Y. TR. (14)	Pos.	COLUM. Y. (24)
Elrod (11)	F	Blackwell (2)
Paradies	F	Kirkland (10)
Brady (1)	C	Shapiro (5)
Wells	G	Ray (1)
Williams (2)	G	Meadows (4)

Substitutions: Atlanta—None; Columbus: Peddy (2), Kelly. Socer at the half: Columbus 10, Atlanta 9. Referee, Underwood.

AZUCAR INJURED.

LOS ANGELES, March 2.—(AP)—Azucar, the former steeplechaser who won last week's $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, is on the injured list and may remain there for several weeks, his trainer, Lex Wilson, said today. The horse has a filled leg, resulting, Wilson said, from having stepped on a stone.

TARHEELS WIN SOUTHERN TITLE

RALEIGH, N. C., March 2.—(AP)—North Carolina's White Phantoms won the annual Southern conference basketball championship by defeating the Washington and Lee Generals, defending champions, 35 to 27, in the annual tournament final here tonight.

Dahlonega Wins Junior Tourney

YOUNG HARRIS, Ga., March 2.—North Georgia College, of Dahlonega, won the northern half of the junior college basketball tournament tonight over Reinhardt, of Waleska.

THE LINEUPS.

DAHLON. (52)	Pos.	REINHARDT (18)
Stewart (12)	F	Smithwick (3)
Tate (11)	F	Shelley (3)
Hardy (10)	C	K. Boston (7)
DeFoor (2)	G	Carroll
Wamsby (9)	G	F. Boston (3)

Subs—Dahlonega: Oliver (2); Reinhardt: Satterfield (2) for Shelley; Chapman. Referee, Lewis (Young Harris); umpire, Bozeman (Reinhardt).

OTHER GAMES.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., March 2.—North Georgia College won easily over Bowdon, 52-29, here tonight in the first game of the opening round of the North Georgia junior college tourney. The Cadets kept a safe lead the entire game, and substitutes were used freely. Hardy paved the way for the Cadets with 25 points. For Bowdon Blanks was outstanding with 17 points.

REINHARDT WINS.

Reinhardt went to the semi-finals with a win over West Georgia College, 38-30, concluding the night's performance in the opening round. Reinhardt advanced into the semi-finals by defeating West Georgia College in the closest contest of the evening, 38-30. It was a hard battle from start to finish for both teams, and the winner well deserved the victory. Smithwick and K. Boston played best for the winners with 11 and 12 points respectively, while Fields and Hern played well for the losers with 8 points each.

THE LINEUPS.

N. GA. COL. (52)	Pos.	(29) BOWDEN
Stewart (11)	F	(7) Williams
Tate (2)	F	(2) Harrison
Hardy (25)	C	(17) Blanks
Wansley (10)	G	(3) McWhorter
DeFoe (4)	G	Gibbs

Substitutes—North Georgia College, Tanner, DeFoe, Oliver, Hardeman; Bowden, Rogers, Foster.

Y. HARRIS (27)	Pos.	(33) REINHARDT
Hurst (2)	F	(8) Smithwick
S. Jones (13)	F	(15) Shelley
R. Jones (7)	C	(4) K. Boston
Lain (1)	G	Carroll
Hood (2)	G	(6) F. Boston

Substitutes—Young Harris, Farr (2); Reinhardt, Satterfield.

Y. HARRIS (44)	Pos.	(23) GORDON
Hurst (6)	F	(6) Martin
S. Jones (11)	F	(11) Etheridge
R. Jones (6)	C	(2) Ricketson
Lain (5)	G	(1) Morrison
Hood (8)	G	(8) Mode

Substitutes—Young Harris, Farr (8), Carson, Brulse, Beam, Turnipseed; Gordon, White, Goss, Benhard (3), Newsome.

N. GA. COL. (33)	Pos.	(25) G. M. C.
Stewart (11)	F	(8) Tabb
Tate (10)	F	Bessent
Hardy (6)	C	(6) Troutman
Wansley (5)	G	(7) Cagle
DeFoe (1)	G	(2) Patrick

Substitutes—North Georgia College, none; G. M. C., Dukes (2).

REINHARDT (38)	Pos.	(30) W. GA. COL.
Smithwick (12)	F	(8) Fields
Shelly (9)	F	(6) Alman
K. Boston (11)	C	(1) Williams
Carroll (9)	G	(8) Hern
J. Boston (4)	G	(7) Harris

Substitutes—Reinhardt, Satterfield (2), Chapel; West Georgia, none.

TIE FOR TITLE.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., March 2. (AP)—Scoring 36 points in a great last-half drive, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks tonight swept the series from Texas A. & M., 51 to 31, to assure them of a tie for the Southwest conference basketball title.

FRIDAY BOUTS ARE POSTPONED

The Shrine circus being scheduled all this week at the city auditorium, there will be no wrestling program Friday night.

Last Friday Honey Boy Hackney, New Jersey star, continued his great march by turning back Terrible Turk Pazzi when the latter was disqualified for roughness.

Alex (Ripper) Reeves, former University of Florida football star, almost stole the show with his great victory over Totem Pole Anderson, the Alaskan.

In the opener Young Londos defeated Wesley Brownlee two falls out of three.

The next card will be held on March 15.

Roche's Condition Said To Be Worse

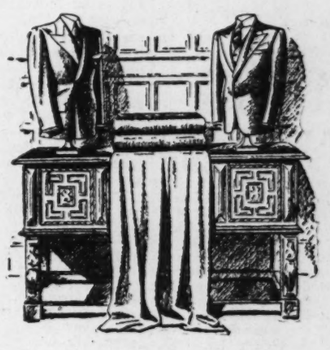

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 2.—(AP)—Dorv Roche, well-known wrestler, who has been confined to Erlanger hospital here in a serious condition for two weeks, took a sudden turn for the worse yesterday and an operation was necessary, attending physicians said.

The former Pennsylvania coal miner's condition was termed "only fair" tonight. The operation, which was performed during the afternoon, was to clear up an infected area resulting from an injury in a Knoxville mat show several weeks ago.

Stein-Bloch

SPECIAL SERVICE

Tailored-to-Order Garments

Rich's Men's Shop

presents

Mr. Clark Smith

special representative of the Stein-Bloch Company

March 4, 5 and 6

in the Men's Department showing a distinguished collection of pedigreed fabrics for spring and summer. Here you may select materials for your hand-tailored Stein-Bloch suit.

Your measurements will be taken by an expert and your particular preferences incorporated in any style you choose.

RICH'S MEN'S SHOP STREET FLOOR

Stein-Bloch Clothes

Chance Sun, Nellie Flag, Psychic Bid, Plat Eye Head Derby List

CLASSIC DRAWS 110 TURF STARS FOR $40,000 RACE

Mrs. Dodge Sloane Hopes To Repeat With Psychic Bid.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 2.—(UP)—A brilliant field of 110 three-year-olds, headed by four stand-out performers was named today for the 60th renewal of the Kentucky Derby.

The field was announced by Colonel Matt J. Winn, executive director of Churchill Downs. The $40,000 added event at one mile and one-quarter, will be run at historic Churchill Downs on May 4.

Topping the field are such well established entries as Joseph E. Widener's Chance Sun, Warren Wright's Nellie Flag, Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Psychic Bid and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Plat Eye.

Mrs. Sloane, whose Cavalcade registered a popular form victory in last year's running of the derby, has in Psychic Bid a powerful colt which last season won four of its 12 starts, scoring three seconds, and once finishing in the show position. In all Psychic Bid won $37,380.

CHANCE SUN LEADS.

Widener's Chance Sun was last year's biggest money winner among the derby nominees, having collected $83,985 for winning the Futurity at Belmont and the Grand Union Hotel Statkes at Saratoga while amassing a record of 13 starts, three firsts and five seconds.

Nellie Flag won $57,240, finishing in the money in eight of her 10 starts. Nellie Flag had five firsts and three seconds. The Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes at Churchill Downs, and Selima Stakes at Laurel were among her more important wins.

Plat Eye scored five wins, two seconds and two thirds in 11 starts, bringing in a total of $27,030. The Juvenile Stakes at Belmont was his chief win.

William Woodward's Belair stud which produced the 1930 winner, Gallant Fox, led the nominators with seven entries, Omaha, Sir Beverley, Gallant Prince, Pitter Pat, Thruster, Vicaress and Foxy Agnes.

There are nine fillies, 28 geldings and 73 colts entered.

FROM A TO Z.

Following are the entries:

Allen Z, Ariel Cross, Bachelor Dinner, Bee Line, Bellum, Bert Reid, Big Gawk, Bill Donoghoe, Billy Bee, Blackbirder, Black Hat, Blue Armor, Bluebeard, Bobby's Son, Boxthorn, Brannon, Buck Langhorne, Calumet Dick, Carmanchita, Carroll Day, Chance Sun, Chanceview, Clang, Cold Shoulder, Color Bearer, Commonwealth, Corinto, Count Arthur, Dean Swift, Direct Hit, Dowdy Dell, Earl Porter, Eddie J., Emil Pasha, Esposa, Finance, First Try, Foreign Legion, Foxy Agnes, Full Flavor, Galla Clay, Gallant Prince, Gold Buckle, Golden Boy, Golden Throne, Good Flavor, Good Gamble, Governor Scholtz, Gum, Hank McTavish, Mazy Autumn, Hilltown, Imigert, Jawapa, Joseph J. G., Laddie Stone, Manners Man, McCarthy, Mister Gander, Montagna, Morpluck, Nellie Flag, Nice Talk, North Wales II, Omaha, Our Reigh, Phalamo, Pitter Pat, Plat Eye, Polar Flight, Polish Beau, Pompous Genie, Prince Splendor, Psychic Bid, Purple Knight, Roman Soldier, Sailor Beware, Shoeless Joe, Sir Beverley, Skip It, Some Bull, Song, Sound Advice, South Gallant, Special Agent, St. Bernard, Stickemup, Sun Fairplay, Super Ultra, Surcouf, The Mauler, Thorson, Thruster, Today, Thracker, Try, Sympathy, Tutticurio, Up and Up, Valdschoen, Vicaress, Wayward Son, Weston, Whiskola, Whizzaway, Wildfire, Wise Prince, Wizard, World Series, Young Native.

There is also an unnamed colt by Pharamon II—Romance.

TROPHY SHOOT AT WEST END

The West End Gun Club will hold a combined March trophy shoot and sportsman's day today at the traps on the national guard rifle range at Fort McPherson.

In the trophy program all shooters will be given handicaps, with the winner to have his choice of an engraved loving cup or a silver goblet.

There is to be a special program for hunters who have never shot skeet. The south field will be reserved for these shooters with "Dean" Ike Duke in the role of instructor. An engraved medal will be awarded the first-timer breaking the best score.

The special "miss and out" shoot, which provides lots of fun for everybody, will begin at 3 o'clock.

The complete program will begin at 9 a. m. on the two fields with Secretary C. L. Davis, Ralph Zachry and Duke in charge.

Cardinals Play At Ozark, Ala.

OZARK, Ala., March 2.—The officials of the Ozark baseball club held a meeting last week and elected Coach Paul Tubbs, of Dothan, and H. L. Dowling, of Ozark, to manage the team that will be formed to play the St. Louis Cardinals here April 3. It has been announced that such stars as "Dixie" Howell and Don Hutson will participate. In addition to this pair, other stars, Max Hinson, Jim Whatley, Young Boozer, Ducky Riley, Happy Campbell, Monk Scalzi, Bill Casey, Slick Kaley, Maurry Bialock, Red Head and Frank Waites will appear in the Ozark lineup against the World Champion Redbirds. The pitchers, Lee Rogers, Judy Moore, and Joe Bob Mitchell, have been selected as Ozark's pitching staff.

Committees have been named to complete arrangements for the biggest day in Ozark's history. It is estimated that fully 5,000 fans will witness this game. Seating arrangements are being made to accommodate between 6,000 and 7,000.

Fort Mac To Play Thomasville Series

THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Plans for a three-game polo series here March 10, 12 and 16 between the army teams from Fort Benning and Fort McPherson have been announced by the Thomasville Horse Show Association.

The series will be staged in connection with the third annual Thomasville Horse Show, scheduled for March 14. The games will be played at Birdwood, estate of Cameron Forbes, former ambassador to Japan, and one of the nation's foremost polo enthusiasts.

Championship Teams in North Georgia Tournaments

These two teams of girls won championships in the north division of the ninth district. At the left is the Chattahoochee High school team of Clermont, Ga. They won the class "C" title. Left to right: Bernice Griffin, Jeanette Williams, Billie Rogers, Montine Hulsey, Marjorie Hudgins, Lotta Adams, Nell Rudeseal, Vivala Faulkner and Miss Lucile Griffin, chaperon. The team at the right is the Clarksville High school team, winners of the Class "B" championship. Left to right: Dolly Asbury, Purnell Kinnery, Dorothy Graves, Frances Trotter, Ruby Sorrells, Mary Gastley, Georgia Hardy, Frances Ellison and A. L. James, coach. Special Constitution photos by J. B. Ellison.

THE SPORTLIGHT

By Grantland Rice

(Copyright, 1935, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

THE TIME WRECKERS.

So middle age is out of date and sport is for the kids,
And those who've passed the forty mark are headed for the skids;
There is no place, amid the rush, when years are on your back,
Where flaming youth is on the road, and burning up the track;
It was a sad and solemn thought that only youth could hold
The pace that marked the game today before the cheering fold—
And then above the crash and smash we read these words of flame—
That Ruth is heading south again—and Hagen's on his game!

We looked at kids with envy as we passed them on the street—
Their years were few—their dreams were new—they ruled the crowded beat—
"The game belongs to youth," they said—the old are out of date—
Their legs are gone at thirty-six—their arms at thirty-eight—
And so we turned out hat brims down to hide the touch of gray—
And then we looked at younger men and sadly turned away—
But now the sun is shining still—and nightfall knows a star—
For Ruth is heading south again and Hagen's beating par!

Come on, you kids, and do your stuff and may the best age win—
They're picking you to grab the show amid the ribald din;
At thirty-nine the eyes go wrong—at forty it's the heart—
At forty-one the arteries no longer do their part—
We thought about these doleful facts and looked around to buy
A fitting shroud or casket for a cove about to die—
But now we look at youth and laugh—along the changing scene—
For Hagen shot a 64—and Ruth is after Dean!

BASEBALL'S SMARTEST MOVE.

Big league baseball is strictly a business proposition, the main angle being to lure in the clients.

On this basis, the Boston Braves made baseball's smartest move when they lifted Babe Ruth from the American league to the National. When the Babe was supposed to be through, Dizzy Dean was named as his successor in the way of color and crowd appeal. But the Babe isn't through, and now the two most colorful actors in the game belong to the National league.

The Babe is not only going to be a big boost to the gate count in Boston; it will be the same when he comes to New York and Brooklyn.

The Braves playing the Giants might mean just another ball game. But the Braves, with Ruth hitting against Carl Hubbell, Fitzsimmons, Schumacher and Parmelee, is something else.

And you can figure what will happen with the Babe moving to St. Louis and taking his cut at the Dean brothers.

He will be a big card in Chicago and Pittsburg. He will be a big help in Cincinnati.

For more than 10 days he has dominated most of the sports pages of the country, and has drawn more publicity than any five athletes combined. Or any 10.

Just how many home runs he will hit, or how many games he will win, is another matter. It is my belief that, in the 100 or more ball games he hopes to play, he will add at least 700,000 cash customers to the National league, and, at an average of 70 cents, this is close to $500,000.

If Ruth can hold up in 100 or more games and get along fairly well, he should double the attendance the Braves had last season.

Why Through?

Suppose Ruth is all through? Not as a hitter. In the last oriental jaunt, he hit more home runs than Gehrig, Foxx or Averill—who are no punks.

He played every game without a kink. Working at first base, where he belongs now, he can save his legs from the quick starting an outfielder needs, and the change of scenery will be another help.

If the Braves are a flop and the Babe isn't hitting, the new excitement may not last long. But the Braves shouldn't be a flop—and the Babe will do some hitting. If Ty Cobb hadn't been hurt—and hadn't tried to come back in the game too soon—he would have hit .350 or better in his 24th year.

Ruth, to the crowds, is something more than a ball player. He is somebody they want to see, even if they don't go in for baseball.

Here is a man who has put on a continuous show of pitching and hitting for 20 years.

American League Color.

The American league this season must look to Detroit for most of its color.

Mickey Cochrane has it—and so has Schoolboy Rowe. Cleveland has the best team—on paper—and a fair share of color with Trosky, Averill and Vosmik. The Red Sox have a limited amount.

But most of the color has moved over to the National league, with Dizzy Dean, Babe Ruth, Pepper Martin, Casey Stengel, Ducky Medwick, Carl Hubbell and Rabbit Maranville, even on the coaching lines.

The Yankees have their share of fine ball players, headed by Lou Gehrig—but where's the color?

The American league has had the big edge in color for some years. Now the scene has shifted, unless some brand of miracle takes place.

Babe Ruth and Dizzy Dean alone—planted in one league—would shift the balance. The National league is in the best spot it has known for a good many years.

Ski Star at 15

Winner of the women's cross-country ski race during a tournament at Cisco, Cal., 15-year-old Catherine Anderson is pictured above. She represents the Lake Tahoe Ski Club.

S. S. A. A. Baseball Managers To Meet

Baseball managers in the Sunday School Amateur Athletic Association will meet at Beck & Gregg Hardware Company Monday night to discuss plans for the coming season. Four teams are now signed with two six-team leagues anticipated. The association register is open to any Sunday school teams in or near the city. It is the fourth year in baseball for the organization. Teams may be enrolled by calling Jimmie Harbison at Walnut 2010 or by representation at the meeting.

NUNNALLY HITS FIFTY STRAIGHT

The Capitol Gun Club was favored by the weather yesterday, for a change, and the picturesque hilltop was dotted with a large number of scatter-gun enthusiasts.

It was one of those races in the silver goblet competition. Ralph Minehan finished first with a score of 54x50, with handicap, but Hugh Nunnally broke 50 straight and had only three added birds, which placed him second to Minehan.

WINS SHERBET.

A 50 straight entitles a shooter to a silver sherbet in the regular competition, however, so Nunnally won a trophy. Both he and Minehan also received stars.

Other leading scores included Oliver Healey, E. L. Wight and Arthur Bird, 52; Ad Smith, Mrs. Oliver Healey, Tom Parsons and C. L. Davis, 51; Guy Melchor, W. S. Howard Sr. and Bill Healey, 50; H. L. White and J. K. Orr, 49; Clyde King, Jack Gray and E. D. Smith Sr., 48; H. C. Moore, 47; A. J. Orme, 46; Buddy Jones, 45; J. C. Ellis, 43; Ralph Zachry and H. M. Tichenor, 42; Mrs. Ellis, 41; W. A. Dupree, 40; W. S. Howard Jr., 39; R. B. Dupree, 39; W. L. Vance, 38; Dr. Julian Riley, 36, and Rembert Marshall, 36.

GRANT SCORES.

Larry Grant, the grand old man, showed the way at the 16-yard traps. Larry really got well when he broke a 25 straight at the outset. He followed with a 23 for a total of 48x50.

Others shooting the 16 yards included Mrs. William Healey, C. W. Tway, Buddy Jones, W. S. Howard Jr., W. L. Vance, R. B. Dupree, W. A. Dupree, Hugh Nunnally, A. J. Orme, Mrs. Oliver Healey, Ralph Minehan, Tom Parsons, E. L. Wight, Clyde King, Jack Gray and G. L. Davis.

Plans are going forward for the annual Georgia state trapshoot to be held at the Capitol Club around the middle of May. The date hasn't been definitely set as yet.

Thomasville Plans Horse Show

THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 2.—Extensive plans are being perfected for Thomasville's third annual horse show and polo series to be staged at Forbes field on the Birdwood estate of Cameron W. Forbes, of Boston, on March 10, 12, 14 and 16.

Two crack United States army polo teams from Fort McPherson of Atlanta, and Fort Benning of Columbus, Ga., will compete in a three-game series on March 10, 12 and 16. The show itself will be held on March 14. The winner of the polo series played on the field owned by one of the world's foremost polo authorities, will be awarded a trophy given annually by the Thomasville Horse Show Association.

Over 130 entries, many of them coming from the plantations of winter residents in this section, will be entered in the show which is a charity benefit affair. The show has grown rapidly in size and in the quality of entries since it was first held in 1933.

Miss Pansy Ireland, of Cleveland and Thomasville, a director of the Cleveland horse show, will have charge of entries, and will show "Sunrise," a champion hunter. Other directors include Edward Crozer, of Philadelphia; Ralph Perkins, of Cleveland; J. S. Mason, formerly of Philadelphia; Colonel P. B. Slater, of Milwaukee, Wis., and Thomasville, and L. F. Driver Jr., Emmett Mitchell Jr. and E. R. Jerger, editor of the Times-Enterprise, all of Thomasville.

Indications point to one of the most extensive and interesting shows of its type ever held in this section.

Benning To Enter Team in A.A.U. Meet

FORT BENNING, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Plans have been proposed whereby the winners in seven weight classes of the Southeastern Amateur Athletic Union boxing tournament, to be held at Fort Benning, March 7, 8 and 9, would enter as a team in the National A. A. U. tourney.

Captain Phillip T. Fry, head of the Infantry School Athletic Association, Fort Benning, said he was taking the matter up with the Southeastern officials.

Those who plan to participate in the tournament have until next Thursday to send in their entries and fee and must report at Fort Benning at 11 o'clock Thursday morning to weigh in. Fort Benning authorities will assume all living expenses of the contestants.

Trophies will be awarded the weight winners.

SCORES 605 POINTS FOR SEASON!

Ed Copeland, Oglethorpe, Stars

By Jack Troy.

Oglethorpe's return to competitive basketball circles, in the school's largest schedule of games ever played—38—netted a total of 22 victories and 16 defeats

On this widely scattered tour—most of the games were played out of town—Captain Ed Copeland, rangy sharpshooting center, put together a grand total of 605 points.

If any other team in the nation boasts a greater individual scoring achievement, taking into consideration the number of games played, it is unknown in this section.

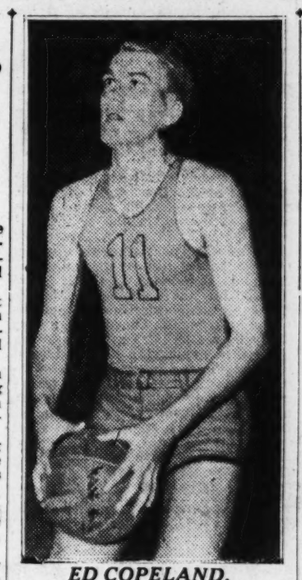

Copeland compiled the amazing average of almost 16 points per game for 38 games. He led his teammates by a wide margin.

CLARK GOOD.

Belton Clark, forward, scored more than 300 points, and Sully Sullivan scored close to 300 points.

The Oglethorpe team, coached by Jack Overton, put on a lot of mileage for a new court machine. In all, 8,000 miles were covered.

Coach Overton adopted from the start a policy of meeting all comers. The Petrel players were new to competition. There was only intramural competition to form their court background.

ED COPELAND.

And so they started out against Kentucky's great team and took a terrible beating. But they improved in every game and at the end only Kentucky, "Y" and Gulf had beaten them more than 10 points. They lost three one-point games and three two-point games.

HIGH SCORING.

Only two teams—Kentucky and Emory and Henry—held the team below 30 points and only five others held them under 40 points.

Everywhere the club went teams and fans had highest praise for the fast-breaking offense, featuring short passes. Not even Oglethorpe was satisfied with the defense. A good offense overbalanced this weakness.

There was a two-fold purpose in taking on all comers. First, there was experience needed. And then there was the desire for recognition so a compact schedule with better teams could be arranged next year.

Both aims have been accomplished. The Petrels will play a fine 20 or 22-game schedule, confined mostly to college teams, next winter.

Auburn, Florida, Sewanee, Roanoke, W. & L. and V. M. I. already have promised Oglethorpe games.

Coach Overton, who financed the extensive schedule, is well pleased with the accomplishments, all things considered.

Petrel Quintet Finishes 38 Games

ATHENS PLANS FOR STATE MEET

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—As high school basketball teams play district tournament finals over this weekend, University of Georgia officials made preparation for a state series next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Twenty district winners will compete here. Tech High school of Atlanta has already won the Class A tournament, and only Classes B and C teams will enter the Georgia High School Association series.

Eligibility lists for Trion, seventh district Class C winner, have already been received here.

H. J. Stegeman, university director of athletics who will be in charge of the meet for the high school association, said all entries must be filed here by Tuesday noon.

Stegeman said also that Rex Enright, Georgia varsity basketball coach; Vernon (Catfish) Smith, assistant football coach and former Georgia basketball and football star, and Charles E. Martin, business manager of the athletic department, would help with the tournament.

Jim (Lefty) Murdock, former Georgia pitching ace, will be one referee. Others have not been announced.

The event is an annual affair. Canton, in Class B, and Nelson, in Class C, won last year. In May of each year district high school winners also compete here in track, golf and swimming. A literary meet is held at the same time.

Gay High Defeats Palmer-Stone Girls

Gay High school girls' team won the eastern division title of the fourth district, Class C, at Hampton, defeating the strong Palmer-Stone team.

Palmer-Stone outplayed Gay High throughout the first half, but faltered in the final quarter, before an avalanche of shots scored by Howard and York, Gay forwards, who starred for their team.

Palmer-Stone lacked team work in the last quarter.

Ruth Butler, for Palmer-Stone, and Ownesby played best for the losers, while York and Howard starred for Gay.

Livingston barely won over Hampton for third place, the score was 22-18. Peggie Hardwick and English starred for Livingston, and Weatherly for Hampton.

THE LINEUPS.

PALMER. (29)	Pos.	GAY (31)
Butler (13)	F	Howard (15)
Smith (5)	F	York (12)
L. Neely (5)	C	McCrary
Brooks	G	E. McCrary
Owenby	G	Bowles
George (6)	G	Fuller

Substitutions — Palmer-Stone: Stephens; Gay: Brown (4).

LIVINGS. (22)	Pos.	HAMPTON (18)
English (10)	F	McBrayer (3)
Corry (5)	F	Andrews
Bartlett (7)	C	Huckly (7)
Hardwick	G	Weatherly (8)
Wilson	G	Turner
Capes	G	Hand

Sub—Livingston: Turner.

Dehart's Friends Rally To Save Him From Death

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 2.—(AP)—Former students of the football coaching art of Jimmy Dehart—100 per cent strong so far as Winston-Salem residents were concerned—rallied about his bedside at a hospital here today, eager to aid an attempt to save his life with blood donations.

The former Duke coach has been critically ill following an operation last week, and as word went out of his need for blood every Winston-Salem man he ever coached offered to aid. But none of their blood tests matched, and the blood was given by Carl Plaster, brother of two of Dehart's former players. The coach was said to have rallied immediately.

At the same time it was learned Dr. Huber Wagner, of Pittsburgh, a student at the University of Pittsburgh when Dehart made the All-American from there, was en route here to offer his services. Wagner, who graduated a year ahead of Dehart, has displayed continued interest in Dehart's career ever since their school days.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 2.—(AP) Jimmy Dehart, critically ill at Winston-Salem, N. C., was selected a few weeks ago to succeed the late Jimmy Haygood as head coach of Southwestern, Memphis' Presbyterian college.

He was expected to report for duty about the first of this month when his illness altered plans.

Petrel Baseball To Begin Monday

Delayed by bad weather, Oglethorpe's baseball squad will report to Coach Frank Anderson Monday afternoon at Hermance field.

The veteran coach must assemble an efficient keystone combination as his first step. He feels the rest of the positions are already taken care of.

Buster Fisher is the only returning infielder.

There will be a couple of weeks of practice before the club will engage in a series of exhibition games before opening the season on April 2 with the Crackers.

Baseball Meeting Set for Wednesday

There will be a meeting of all amateur baseball managers desiring to enter teams in the Atlanta and City leagues this year at Trammell Scott's, 66 North Broad street, at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The Atlanta league was one of the two leagues to go clear through the season last year with eight teams. There is no specific requirements for membership in these leagues except that they have a team that really wants to play ball and will stick with it. Clubs, factories and commercial enterprises are all eligible.

RUNYAN LEADS BELLEAIR FIELD

BELLEAIR, Fla., March 2.—(AP) Clicking off a brilliant 66, five strokes under par, for the second round, Paul Runyan, defending champion, set the pace for the field today in the annual Florida west coast open, carding a 70-66—136 at the halfway mark.

The White Plains (N. Y.) pro was two strokes in front of his nearest competitor, Ky Laffoon, of Chicago, who turned in a 67, this afternoon to add to his morning round of 71, a 36-hole total of 138.

The favorites fell further behind as the gold-seeking professionals chalked up their second round scores late today. Walter Hagen, who won the Gasparilla open at Tampa, improved his morning round of 73 by shooting a par 71, but was six strokes behind Laffoon and tied with Billy Burke, Belleair professional, who shot a 71-73—144. The gallery had followed this pair nearly all day. Walter Kozak, Flushing, L. I., also had 144.

Next to Laffoon, Horton Smith, of Chicago, and Wiffy Cox, of Brooklyn, N. Y., were bracketed with 140's. Close behind them came Al Watrous, who brought in a fine 69 this afternoon to stand 141 for the 36 holes.

John Revolta, Milwaukee, Wis., carded two par 71's to rank with 142, and Johnny Golden, Noroton, Conn.; Clarence Clark, Bloomfield, N. J., and Harry Cooper, Chicago, had 143's.

Scoring in the second round averaged much better than in the morning play, as in the forenoon no one was able to break 70. Of the three who tied at 70 for the first round, Runyan was the only one to improve his position. The others, Walter Kozak, and Frank Walsh, Morton Grove, Ill., fell back to much higher positions as the result of the afternoon round.

Athens High Beats Seminary, 19 to 10

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—Athens High girls defeated Washington Seminary, 19 to 10, here tonight in the final game for the Athens Maroons.

Dorothy Bryant, Athens High forward, was the outstanding player of the game. She scored 10 points, all of which were field goals.

Madeline Helmer led the scoring for Washington Seminary with six points.

THE SUMMARY.

ATHENS HIGH (19)	g.	f.	tp.
Simms, f	3	1	7
Eckford, f	0	0	0
Bryant, f	5	0	10
Johnson, f	1	0	2
Edwards, g	0	0	0
Barrow, g	0	0	0
Stegeman, g	0	0	0
Conner, g	0	0	0
WASH. SEMINARY (10)	g.	f.	tp.
Adams, f	0	1	1
Kirby, f	0	0	0
Barge, f	1	1	3
Helmer, f	2	2	6
Fuller, g	0	0	0
Franklin, g	0	0	0
Quinn, g	0	0	0
Holsenbeck, g	0	0	0

Referee, Keller.

VENETIAN CLUB TO STAGE A. A. U. AQUATIC MEET

Dixie Swimmers To Vie for Honors Here on August 17-18.

The Southeastern A. A. U. swimming meet will be held at the Venetian Athletic Club here on Saturday and Sunday, August 17 and 18, it was announced Saturday.

The dates were arranged by Walter Baker, vice president and general manager of the club, and approved by Frank A. Kopf, of Atlanta, secretary of the S. E. A. A. U.

Approximately 300 swimmers are expected for the meet, officials said, adding that practically every team and individual participating in the last event at Birmingham had indicated they would enter this year's competition.

The Southeastern A. A. U. is composed of the states of Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and Florida and Porto Rico.

Cities expected to send teams of be represented by unattached competitors include Nashville, Knoxville, Atlanta, Birmingham, Montgomery, Memphis, Rome, Ga., Savannah, Ga., Athens, Ga., Gainesville, Ga., Fort Benning of Columbus, Ga., Jacksonville and other Florida cities.

Invitations will be mailed out about May 1, and officials said a large number of unattached entries, including members of college swimming teams, Y. M. C. A. groups and others are expected for the meet.

Tentative plans call for all trial heats for junior and senior entrants, both men and women, to be run off Saturday, with the finals on Sunday.

The Georgia state championship meet probably will be held the latter part of July, it was indicated.

Memphis has been awarded the indoor swimming and track meets but dates for these events have not been announced.

Officers of the Southern A. A. U. are C. W. Streit, Birmingham, president; W. A. Alexander, Georgia Tech, Atlanta; Theo Staff, Fort Walton, Fla.; Guy Stollenwerck, Memphis, and Howard Sweatt, Nashville, vice presidents, and Frank A. Kopf, Atlanta, secretary.

SAGE'S POINTER IS TRIAL WINNER

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn., March 2.—(AP)—After two hours of listless work, Sulu, an A. G. C. Sage pointer from New York, shot the works in the final 60 minutes of her three-hour heat as a participant in the national bird dog championship field trials here today and came home with perfect discoveries of eight covies and two single birds.

Although her performance was the day's best in regard to bird finding, Sulu's general field work was far below that of Stylish Mr. Joe, a little setter owned by H. E. Buckingham, of Memphis, Tenn.

Running in the morning brace with Evergreen Jersey Mack, a pointer, owned by L. D. Johnson, of Gary, Ind., Mr. Joe used unusually good judgment throughout his three hours. He had excellent range and speed and brilliant style. But he found only three bevies and a single.

Evergreen Jersey Mack, with poor judgment at times, showed speed, but was a difficult dog for his handler to manage. He found two bevies.

Sulu's brace mate was Black Hawk Kid, a setter owned and handled by Carl E. Duffield, of Tulsa, Okla. His performance was disappointing. He lacked pep and had only one find.

'Punt, Putt' Function Planned

Golfers and football fans are invited to attend the Athletic Club's grand party, "a punt and a putt," on Wednesday week.

The club's entertainment committee will present moving pictures of the Alabama-Stanford Rose Bowl game, following a buffet supper.

Then the duffers will get a break. Bobby Jones, in person, will introduce his new picture series, "How to Break 90," explaining each picture and the principle behind it. The entire series of six pictures will be shown.

The entire program is offered at $1 a person and reservations must be made by noon of March 12. Space is limited.

The kickoff will be at 6:30 with the buffet supper doing the honors.

Williamsport Club Buys Bill Allington

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 2.—(AP)—The Knoxville baseball club of the Southern association today announced the sale of Bill Allington, outfielder, to the Williamsport club, of the New York-Penn league.

Allington, a Class A man, has played two seasons with the Smokies and had a batting average well over the .300 mark.

At the same time, R. G. Allen, club owner, announced Walter French, who in 1933 was classed as the most valuable player in the Southern association, also was on the block. Allen indicated several bids had been received for the former major league star.

With the release of these two players Secretary Edgar Allen announced spring training would open March 18 with 26 players reporting—10 class men and 16 rookies. Manager Lee Head is expected to arrive March 11.

Colbert Wins Lower Tenth District Title

HARLEM, Ga., March 2.—(AP)—Keeping slightly ahead all through a bitter battle, Colbert High tonight won the lower tenth district basketball championship, defeating Union Point, 28 to 24.

THE LINEUPS.

UNION POINT (24)	Pos.	COLBERT (28)
Finch (3)	F	Hitchcock (11)
Burham (0)	F	Edwards (2)
Deane (9)	C	Riggs (3)
Scott (9)	G	Chatham (12)
Culbreath (0)	G	Fudderth (0)

Substitutes: Turner, Woodruff for Union Point; Hardman for Colbert.

Tech Tennis Team Preparing for Big Season; 11 Matches Slated

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR SUCCESSFUL TECH NET SEASON

Mississippi State First on Card; Biltmore Opens Monday.

By Jack Troy.

Georgia Tech's tennis team, captained by Billy Reese, is preparing for one of its best seasons. The talent includes Burtz Boulware, Hank Crawford, Fernandez Morrell, Henry Swift and Malcolm Kaiser.

An 11-game schedule has been arranged and after that the team will play in the southeastern intercollegiate tournament at the Biltmore Tennis Club on May 16-17-18. Florida, Vanderbilt, Sewanee, Alabama, Stetson, Georgia and Emory are some of the teams that will compete.

The Techsters open their net campaign with Fort Benning there on March 23. The first match here will be on April 1 with Davidson.

The remainder of the schedule includes:

April 3—Mississippi State here.
April 13—Florida here.
April 20—Alabama there.
April 26—Sewanee there.
April 27—Vanderbilt there.
May 3—Georgia at Athens.
May 10—Kentucky here.
May 11—Emory here.
April 16 or 18—Tulane here.

Tech is practically assured of renewing relations with Tulane in tennis. The match is planned during the southeastern tournament.

Captain Billy Reese, who is going to have quite a busy season, both from a standpoint of playing and managing the Biltmore Tennis Club, said yesterday he is well pleased with Tech's material and prospects. "We ought to have one of our best years," he added.

The Biltmore Tennis Club courts are being resurfaced. New clay is being put down. The two exhibition courts will be opened to the public Monday, Reese announced.

"We want the public to know that when reservations are made for courts this year, the courts will be available. The club is going to run on a systematic basis."

Atlanta Debutantes Sponsor Exhibition.

Billy Reese, who is directing his energies toward securing a perfect playing surface for the brilliant professional tennis exhibition at the Biltmore club on Sunday, March 31, last night announced the Atlanta Debutante Club would sponsor the matches for charity.

Bill Tilden, Ellsworth Vines, George Lott and Lester Stoefen, four of the world's greatest players, will appear in singles and doubles exhibitions.

Reese, who has taken over the Biltmore club for the spring and summer season, has supervised resurfacing of the courts and plans to have them in perfect condition for play this year.

HERE BEFORE.

Atlantans have seen all four players individually but never as a collective unit. This does not detract from the rivalry, however.

Lott and Tilden are sworn enemies. They have never cared for each other. Necessity has banded them together. And they make quite a match of it in the singles. Tilden has an edge to date but Lott is creeping up on the old master.

Lott and Stoefen, generally recognized as the greatest doubles team in the world, more than hold their own in tandem play.

VINES IS GREAT.

In singles, Vines is regarded as the greatest player in the world today. He has what tennis experts describe as "controlled speed." He is the hardest hitter extant. Only Bill Tilden in his prime ever hit a ball harder.

It is to be a brilliant inaugural of the 1935 tennis season. The Atlanta invitation follows on April 16, with such players as Bryan Grant, Berkeley Bell, Gene Mako, Donald Budge and Wilmer Allison competing.

Reese and Reg Fleet will combine their forces in staging the invitation which they expect to be the best ever.

LEFT-HANDERS BOWL SATURDAY

The second annual "left-hand bowlers' city duckpin championship" will be bowled at Blick's Bowling Center Saturday with the bowlers choosing the 2 o'clock or 8 oclock round.

The left-hand tournament is open to all bona fide left-hand duckpin bowlers in the city. The tournament will be conducted from scratch, bowlers getting no handicaps.

Five games are scheduled. No entry fee will be charged, other than the price of the five games to be bowled. A gold medal will be awarded.

Last year, in the initial staging of this novel meet, Ed Glading bowled a total of 612 to cop the title. Glading, who was recently elected to the important post of president of the Atlanta Duckpin Association, will defend his title.

The City, Sunday School, Passenger Club, Atlanta Journal, Gate City, Amateur, Motion Picture, Fire Insurance, Wofford Oil Company, Gulf Refining Company, Sinclair Refining, Businessmen's, Capital City, Fulton National Bank, Commercial, Dixie, Merchants' Bulldog Club, Southern leagues will co-operate in encouraging their eligible "left-handers" to compete in this tournament on Saturday.

Here is how they finished last season: Ed Glading 612, G. L. Harris 549, C. Key 545, W. R. Potts (who had the high single game of 148) 534, Prater Dillin 533, O. J. Metcalf 524, S. Dodge 511, W. J. Lynch 507, R. Petre 507, L. Bradford 505, R. Inglett 501, A. R. Kivette 482, E. Hooten 469, E. Smith 454, George Harris 453, G. A. Hamilton 410.

Entries should be communicated to the office of the bowling alleys.

The five leading bowlers retain their same respective positions this week, though George W. McKay bowled the sparkling set of 411 which topped the three-game performances of the individuals and improved his average considerably.

Walter E. Lawson bowled 626 to lead in five games that went into the records, getting this splendid series in the initial series of the singles championships that are being bowled each Saturday evening.

L. B. Outler had a bad week, dropping his average below the 117 mark that was his last Sunday.

Atlanta Girls' Teams Make Great Record

These girls' basketball teams, Washington Seminary, above, and North Avenue Presbyterian, have made splendid records this season, both being undefeated till Washington Seminary lost to Athens High, 19 to 10, last night in Athens. They will meet March 8 in their annual "big" game. Left to right, in the upper picture, front row: Dorothy Kirby (also former state golf champion), Sibylla Pringle, Tommie Quinn, Bryant Holsenbeck, Annette Hightower. Back row, left to right: Georgia Oliver, Nina Fuller (captain), Jane Franklin, Mary Elizabeth Barge, Mary Helmer. The North Avenue Presbyterian team, left to right: Martha Zoll, Edith Fugitt, Charlotte Galbraith, Mary Cummings, Ann Mitchell, Betty Mather, Barbara McGaughey, Majorie Armstrong, Martha Grace Lang, Jean Howell, Jean Ray (captain), and Mary Anne Patton, mascot. Photos made by Constitution staff photographer.

VANDY BEATEN BY WILDCATS

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 2.—(AP) Coach Adolph Rupp's University of Kentucky Wildcats closed another Southeastern conference season with a perfect record here tonight, conquering the Vanderbilt Commodores, 53 to 19, in a slow, listless game brightened by the Kentuckians' ability to hit the basket from the distance. It was Kentucky's second victory over Vandy this season, the Cats having defeated the Commodores of Josh Cody, 58 to 22, at Nashville earlier in the season.

For Kentucky, it was its eleventh straight conference victory. In 11 games, the Wildcats scored 518 points to their opponents' 231.

Donohue, guard, was Kentucky's scoring ace tonight. He popped away from the edge of Vandy's zone defense and sank seven buckets for 14 points and high score honors. Edwards, center, made nine points, barely outscoring Plasman, Vandy pivotman, who made eight.

Kentucky will end its season here next Thursday night in a return game against Xavier, of Cincinnati.

GOLF FACTS

Fred Stone, the actor-sportsman, is fixing up his swing. He has just signed a contract to make pictures in Hollywood. Hollywood and golf are virtually synonymous, so Fred wants to be hitting them far and straight when he plays among the picture folk.

Like many golfers, Stone has found himself just about breaking his back to get distance through the fairways after a short drive. The missed tee shot was due to one mistake. It takes time to get your swing going smoothly.

After you've made one mistake, take it easy. Get your movements, have both played more than half-way particularly the position of your head, under control.

After you've done his you won't need to worry, about distance, you'll be getting enough of it.

Versatile Girls Compose NAPS, Seminary Teams

Rival Basketball Teams Meet Friday in Last Game of Season.

By Natalie Cohen.

Presenting the Washington Seminary and North Avenue Presbyterian school basketball teams, possessors of two very fine records—the former was undefeated till last night in eight games played this season, the latter undefeated in 12 games. There can be no doubt that they are basketball players par excellence, but these girls do not stop at that. Nearly every member of both squads is outstanding either in scholastic or extra-curricula activities at her respective school.

Dorothy Kirby, at Washington Seminary, is one example. This former Georgia state golf champion is vice president of the freshman class at the seminary, and plays forward on her team. Combining basketball and golf is easy for Dorothy—it's just a case of sinking shots. Howard Beckett, her golf coach, likes for her to play basketball because it has speeded up her golf game considerably.

Mary Elizabeth Barge, a forward on the seminary team, was chosen the prettiest girl in the senior class and was runner-up for the title of most intellectual—beautiful but not dumb! She also has the honor of being president of the College Prep Club.

SENIOR PRESIDENT.

And speaking of presidents, there is Mary Cummins, of the North Avenue team, who is president of the student body at that school; Jean Howell, alternate captain of the North Avenue team, is president of the athletic association, while Tommie Quin, of Washington Seminary, holds a similar position at her school.

Jean Ray, captain of the North Avenue team, directs the basketball team as well as the school paper, for she is editor-in-chief of the Senior Reader. Nina Fuller, captain of the seminary team, uses her journalistic efforts on the school annual, Facts and Fancies, where she is athletic editor. She and Charlotte Galbraith, of North Avenue, should have much in common—Charlotte is athletic editor of her school annual.

Marjorie Armstrong, of North Avenue, and Georgia Adams, of Washington Seminary, are both sophomores and each holds an office in her class. Marjorie is president of her class and Georgia is treasurer of her class.

VERSATILE GIRLS.

Still not convinced that this is indeed a very versatile group of girls? On the seminary team, also, there is Mary Helmer, secretary-treasurer of the "A" club, and Annette Hightower, business manager of Missemma, the school paper. And on the seminary team is Anne Mitchell, secretary of the student body and Barbara McGaughey, secretary of the athletic association.

But to return to the basketball abilities of these two squads. They through hard schedules and have come out victors in every game. Both play the two-court game that now is so popular for girls' teams. It is much faster and far prettier to watch than the old three-court game. The beautiful pass work and accurate shooting of these two teams would put many a man's team to shame!

GOOD COACHES.

Much credit for the splendid records that they have made should go to their respective coaches, Miss Josephine Walker, at North Avenue, and Miss Mary Ligon, at Washington Seminary. But we are inclined to think that the personnel of the two squads has perhaps made their jobs easier. They are all a fine group of girls, who like to play basketball but don't take it too seriously.

These two teams meet each other at the end of their season, March 8, and it should be an excellent game. But no matter who may win, they have a just right to be proud of the records that they have made, and because they are the kind of girls that they are, it is certain that defeat will not be a tragedy, but a satisfaction in having played the game well.

Waterless Waterspout Tears Over San Pedro

SAN PEDRO, Cal., March 2.—(UP)—A waterspout forming over the ocean late today tore over the harbor district as a tornado, damaging a church and several other buildings.

No casualties were reported.

The waterspout first was observed approximately four miles off the breakwater. It hovered, a swirling column of water reaching from the ocean to the clouds above, for five minutes, then disappeared.

A few minutes later the "twister" appeared over the harbor and bounced across the outskirts of the San Pedro residential district.

The roof was torn off a church and a private garage was overturned. Many trees were uprooted.

LOOKOUTS SEE BALANCED CLUB; INFIELD INTACT

Senators Will Supply Help; Johnny Manon, Frank Waddey Are Out

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 2. While weather conditions during the past week have been far more appropriate for football than baseball, Lookout candidates have lost no interest in the spring training session which opens in Panama City (Fla.) next Monday morning.

All Lookouts, regulars, rookies and what have you, have received instructions to be on the scene in time for the initial workout. Manager "Mule" Shirley will go direct from his home at Snowhill, N. C., to the new training site on the Gulf of Mexico.

For the past three or four weeks, Zinn Beck, Lookout scout, has been in Panama City supervising the rebuilding of the baseball plant there. He has notified club officials that the playing field is in excellent condition and that the 'Noogans should lose no time in preparing for the hard grind that is just ahead.

Leaving Panama City March 26, the Lookouts return home for the most attractive exhibition schedule ever played by a local team. They meet such clubs as the Washington Senators, Philadelphia Athletics, New York Yankees, Pittsburgh Pirates, Detroit Tigers, Albany Senators and Minneapolis Millers prior to the official opening with Nashville, April 16.

Despite the fact that two or three finishing touches might be necessary before the club swings into the regular playing season, the Lookouts' prospects are indeed bright. They will return their 1934 infield intact.

From the combined Washington and Chattanooga squads Joe Engel will assemble a pitching staff that will be able to go against the best. Such hurlers as Harry Holsclaw, obtained recently from Minneapolis; Sid Henseik and Ray Moss, leftovers from last year; Alex McColl, Orville Armburst, Sid Cohen, and possibly Ed Linke, are looked upon as likely members of the 1935 staff. However it remains to be seen just who will be sent here by Clark Griffith and Manager "Bucky" Harris.

Either Jack Redmond, bought by the Nats from Birmingham, or Sammy Holbrook sent up from Chattanooga, will do the first-string catching. All depends on their showing in the Nats' training camp. One or both will come here.

The outfield still presents a problem, but Engel has indicated that he knows where help is coming from, if such be needed. Johnny Marion, an Atlanta boy, is certain to be one of the regulars, while Frank Waddey, ex-Georgia Tech star, and 1933 Southern league hitting champ, will also be a candidate. Waddey is returning to professional ball after retiring in 1934 to accept a job in Akron, Ohio.

Pat Crawford, the Rockmart (Ga.) slugger, and Dee Miles, a rookie, from Birmingham, will battle it out for one of the positions. Either Pat Powell or Freddie Sington, up for another trial with the Senators, might come here should either or both fail to make the grade. This, however, is problematical.

The Lookouts are taking a squad of 35 or more players to their Panama City training quarters.

JASPERS WIN INDOOR TITLE

By Alan Gould.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—In a spectacular meet marked by one world's record performance and the shattering of three meet records, Manhattan's strong track and field team tonight captured the Intercollegiate A. A. A. A. indoor championships for the second successive year. The Jaspers put on a whirldwind finish to retain the title in a five-cornered battle for points.

Manhattan, making a sweep of the relay races, pulled away from rival teams in the last few events to post the winning total of 26 1-2 points. Harvard finished second with 16, Columbia third with 15 2-3, Cornell fourth with 15 1-2 and Yale fifth with 14.

Double triumphs for two of the record smashers, Keith Brown, of Yale, and Ben Johnson, of Columbia, featured the keen struggle for individual honors while Rhode Island's Henry Dreyer contributed the only world record performance by tossing the 35-pound weight a distance of 57 feet 9 inches.

HIGH JUMP.

Brown won the high jump outright for the first time in his dazzling college career and then soared to a new meet mark of 14 feet 3 1-4 inches in his specialty, the pole vault.

Johnson, the dusky flyer who is national indoor sprint king, flashed in home in front of a fast field of metropolitan dash men in the 50-meter race in 5.9 seconds after capturing the running broad jump with a new meet record of 23 feet, 11 11-16 inches.

Manhattan's array of stars scored in only six of the varsity events but the Jaspers picked off four first places and furnished a stunning climax by whipping the powerful Holy Cross quartet in the 1,600-meter relay, final event. Manhattan's 3,200-meter relay team also was victorious.

The individual victors for Manhattan were Tom Russell, distance star who outfooted Cornell's Bruce Kerr in a stirring finish to the 3,000-meter run, and Charles Pessoni, victor over a high-class field in the final of the 50-meter high hurdles. Bill Eipel tied for second place in the high jump.

Venzke Wins.

Gene Venzke, Pennsylvania's great runner, spread-eagled his field in the 1,500-meter run, in capturing his first I. C. A. A. A. A. title in two years of varsity competition, but he failed by one-fifth second to displace the record for the event set by Bill Bonthron, of Princeton, last year. Venzke led John Schue, of Harvard, by 50 yards and was clocked in 3:57.6.

Failure of two stars to score, Captain Walter Merwin, defending champion in the high hurdles and Bob Linders, in the sprint, cost Cornell its chance of landing runner-up honors and giving Manhattan a closer battle for team honors.

Two other defending champions dethroned were Sam Maniaci, of Columbia, who ran third to his teammate Johnson in the sprint, and Henry M. Little, William and Mary, who was runner-up to Johnson in the broad jump.

Other team scores: New York University 12, Dartmouth 7 1-6, Pittsburgh 7, Pennsylvania 3, Rhode Island 5, Boston College 4, Bowdoin 4, Holy Cross 4, Syracuse 4, William and Mary 4, City College 3 1-2, Williams 3 1-6; Rutgers 3, Brown 2, Penn State 2, Princeton 2, Fordham 1.

GRANT, PARTNER BOW IN DOUBLES

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 2, (AP)—Berkeley Bell, the former Texan, and J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., veteran, today won the men's doubles title in the first final match of the annual Bermuda tennis championships. They defeated Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, of Atlanta, and Eugene McCauliff, of Yonkers, N. Y., 6-1, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Bell meets J. Gilbert Hall in the singles finals Monday.

The losers furnished most of the day's fireworks when they conquered Jack McDiarmid, of Texas, and Robert (Lefty) Bryan, of Chattanooga, 6-1, 6-4, 3-6, 9-11, 6-3, in a thrilling semi-final this morning and were obviously tired from that two and a half-hour struggle when they entered the final match.

Bell and Hall concentrated their attack on the lanky McCauliff, who was showing the strain, but he held up his end by making full use of his height to kill high lobs. He was mainly responsible for winning the third set although the dependable "Bitsy," a favorite of the large gallery, finished off several splendid rallies with seemingly impossible shots.

Bell and Hall won their semi-final match from Harry C. Brunie, of New York, and R. D. Murray, of Montreal, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

McCauliff returned to the court a third time and earned a final bracket in the mixed doubles tourney with Mme. Sylvia Henrotin, second-ranking woman player of France. They defeated Bryan and Jane Sharp, of Pasadena, Cal., 6-4, 5-7, 6-2. McDiarmid and Mrs. John Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, also reached the final by conquering Grant and Katherine Winthrop, of Boston, 7-5, 6-1.

WHITE HOUSE GUARDS HEADED BY STARLING

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Colonel Edward W. Starling, of Kentucky, is to be the new chief of the White House secret service detail.

He succeeds Richard Jervis, who for 30 years has been assigned to the executive mansion to guard the life of the president.

Woodrow Wilson was president when Starling, tall, well-built, ruddy faced, joined the White House detail. He has been the "advance man," going ahead of the presidential party on trips to arrange for adequate police protection and a hundred and one other details for the safety of the chief executive.

Starling has been assistant chief to Jervis. The latter requested an assignment to duty in the field after his many years of responsibility.

Russell Wood, who has been guarding Sarah Delano Roosevelt, daughter of the president's son, James, will be the new assistant chief of the White House detail.

Congress in Revolt as F. D. R. Nears End of 2 Years in Office

Major New Deal Projects on Trial in Courts Charged With Unconstitutionality.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt neared the end of two years in office today with congress in revolt and major New Deal projects on trial in the courts charged with unconstitutionality.

Still smiling and outwardly cheerful, health and spirits unaffected by the unremitting grind of his high magistracy, the chief executive faced a situation sharply contrasting with that of the dismal, yet hopeful, day of his inauguration.

With his congressional lieutenants he set about digging the gigantic work relief bill out of a quagmire of dispute in a senate which scarcely two years ago was ready to respond immediately to his every legislative wish.

Just ahead lay the inevitable row with congress over payment of the solders' bonus with the house apparently prepared to vote approval, senate leaders anxiously counting votes and Mr. Roosevelt ready to exercise his veto power.

Rehabilitation.

Plans for economic rehabilitation and reconstruction which occupied the thoughts of the chief executive and his advisors two years ago today were caught in the web of the nation's judicial system, most of them bound for eventual supreme court inspection and dissection.

NRA, most spectacular of these, was already before the high tribunal indicted as unconstitutional by lower courts. TVA, the vast project for developing the electrical resources of the Tennessee valley, lay in the same category.

One high constitutional hurdle was safely passed. The court, in ruling on the gold cases, while not fully sustaining the government, made possible the unaltered continuation of the Roosevelt monetary program.

That continuation lay partially in a bill drafted by departmental experts and frankly intended to strengthen the federal reserve board's control over the banks of the nation, and, in turn, the White House's control over the reserve board.

In Hands of Enemy.

The bill today was in the hands of its enemy, Senator Glass, of Virginia, unyielding opponent of most New Deal banking innovations, and chairman of the senate subcommittee on legislation in this field. Its disposition awaited the end of the work-relief controversy.

The latter came to brief in the senate on an amendment, adopted by one vote, under which relief list workers on the huge public works projects contemplated would receive wages equal to those paid locally by private enterprises.

The president was vigorously opposed, holding that such wage rates would retard the expansion of private employment. Hardly had the amendment been approved than the administration beat a strategic retreat, letting it be known it counted upon public opinion to force a reversal of the senate decision.

Another deep-seated congressional squabble impended over the reshaping of NRA. The present law expires on June 16. Mr. Roosevelt has recommended that it be extended in much its present form for a two-year period with price-fixing sanctions limited to natural resource products.

The progressive republican element of the senate has long been storming over what it has considered oppression of small business enterprises by the operation of NRA codes. It will be vocal, and possibly effective in the coming debate.

Mellon To Establish Museum Worth 19 Millions in Capital

PITTSBURGH, March 2.—(AP)—Some of the details about the $19,000,000 art collection gathered by Andrew W. Mellon to create a national museum in Washington were disclosed today by the financier.

He told of the manner in which he obtained five noted paintings, worth more than $3,000,000, from The Hermitage collection in Petrograd.

"We had been collecting pictures for many years," said the white-haired former secretary of the treasury, "and one of the New York firms from whom we had made many purchases said they had an opportunity to make some purchases at the Hermitage.

"They wanted to know if I would be interested in helping finance the venture.

"I agreed to arrange for the funds in return for a contract giving me the right to select any pictures I wanted for the purchase price, plus a commission."

Paintings not selected were to be sold, with Mellon and the art firm sharing equally in any profits.

Mellon did not disclose how many pictures were purchased by the art dealer, M. Knoedler & Company, from the famous collection made by the czars of Russia which was estimated to include 1,700 paintings.

The outstanding works selected by the financier were Raphael's "Madonna of the House of Alba" ($1,166,400); Titian's "The Toilet of Venus" ($544,320); Sandro Botticelli's "Adoration of the Magi" ($838,350); Perugino's Triptych, "The Crucifixion of St. John, the Magdalen and St. Jerome" ($195,615) and "The Annunciation" by Jan Van Eyck ($503,010).

Friends of Mr. Mellon said he plans later this year to turn most of his attention to plans for building the projected national art museum—which will not bear the name of Mellon but is designed to be so cosmopolitan in character that American art lovers will leave collections to it from time to time.

The site of the building has not yet been selected, it was said.

BUSINESS OPPOSES ADMINISTRATION PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Business, as represented by committees of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, today registered strong opposition to a big batch of the administration's major legislative proposals.

The committee reports, made public by the chamber's board of directors at an executive meeting, included attacks on the work relief program, a warning about the pending omnibus banking bill, and the suggestion that the security program be developed more slowly.

The president, however, was supported on one major point in the work relief bill.

Chamber's relief committee opposed the McCarran wage amendments but recommended that initiation and execution of relief projects be left with states and localities. The administration bill gives the government full authority.

The committee resolutions comprised the most comprehensive statement by representatives of the nation's business since the White Sulphur Springs conference which was attended by around 100 major business executives. That conference originally was described as the beginning of business-government co-operation, but the conference platform, like the statements today, varied in many particulars from the president's program.

The relief committee proposed a cut in the $4,880,000,000 fund to $2,000,000,000. The committee contended the primary consideration in selecting projects should be their utility and economic usefulness and that the emphasis should be shifted from relief.

"Centralization of financing and administrative responsibility for unemployment relief in the form of a relief-public works program seems to run counter to the president's statement that, 'the federal government must and shall quit this business of relief,'" said the committee.

A special committee on cotton said that although the situation surrounding the staple had been helped in the past there should be a reduction in loan values set on cotton in order to protect cotton exports.

ADVERTISING PLANE FALLS INTO STREET

LAMAR, Mo., March 2.—(UP)—An airplane distributing handbills advertising a motion picture crashed among automobiles parked around the town square here late today, killing one passenger and injuring the pilot and another passenger critically.

The plane, flying at a low altitude, went out of control 50 feet from the ground and fell at the northeast corner of the square. It barely missed cars parked there.

Maurice Bassett, 20, son of Sheriff James Bassett, was killed instantly.

Harold Thomas, '28, advertising manager of the Lamar Democrat, and United Press correspondent, and Ward Millard, the pilot, were taken to the hospital.

Physicians said they believed both men were injured fatally.

2 VIRGINIANS KILLED IN TRAIN-AUTO CRASH

RICHMOND, Va., March 2.—(AP)—A railway crossing accident near Petersburg last night cost the lives of Raymond E. Ramsey and Elmer C. Downing, both of Winterpock, Chesterfield county.

The two men were taking a truck loaded with lumber to Petersburg when struck at Lakeview crossing, four miles north of Petersburg, by a southbound passenger train. The truck was dragged 600 yards before the train could be halted.

BUELL DECLARES U. S. NEAREST WAR SINCE '17

CHICAGO, March 2.—(AP)—Raymony Leslie Buell, president of the Foreign Policy Association, today declared war is closer to the United States than at any time since 1917.

The Roosevelt administration, despite its good intentions, he asserted, is confronted with a series of impressive failures in its foreign policy.

Unless there is a change in the policy, Buell told the Chicago Council of Foreign Relations, the "good neighbor" policy of the United States in Latin America will be seriously undermined and the situation in the orient will become even more delicate than that which he sees at present.

"The initial successes achieved in Latin America have been largely offset by our failure to co-operate in the settlement of the Chaco war and by the failure of our policy in Cuba," Buell said.

"The situation in the orient is even more delicate. President Roosevelt says nothing about the anti-war pact wich Mr. Stimson frequently invoked against Japan, but he is supporting a policy of unlimited naval and aerial expansion, which can only be interpreted as a challenge to Japan. . . .

"War is not inevitable, but war is closer to the United States than at any time since 1917. If war with Japan comes . . . it is bound to be mutually disastrous . . ."

"The Roosevelt policy, if anything, has injured the relations of the United States with Europe. . . ."

Secretary Hull's reciprocity program which Buell said has produced two excellent agreements—with Cuba and Brazil—he termed the one constructive aspect of the foreign policy.

DUMB YOUNGSTER CAN BE TRAINED INTO SMARTNESS

ELLENSBURG, Wash., March 2. (AP)—So-called "dumb" youngsters in the classrooms can be trained to think logically and to raise their intelligence quotients, Count Alfred Korzybski told the congress for general semantics today.

The Polish psychologist, one of the leaders in the so-called "new science" of human behavior, declared semantics would make psychology, sociology and allied social sciences as exact as the physical sciences, such as chemistry.

"The human brain is prevented from functioning normally because of faulty use of language," he said. "Thought processes are handicapped by their terminology, which fosters prejudices, misconceptions and misidentifications.

"General semantics has grown to be an experimental science," he said, "and when applied to psychotherapy and education, quickens the reactions of individuals in a remarkably short time."

"Mental patients have shown remarkable improvement, school children have done better work and the intelligence scores of college students have been raised by retraining in these methods."

Semantics, in effect, purports to take the bugaboos out of the mind of the man on the street, so he won't have to worry about unnecessary matters, but Korzybski said the process could not be explained so easily.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and President.
CLARK HOWELL JR.
Vice President and General Manager.
H. H. TROTTI,
Business Manager.

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WAlnut 6565.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By Carrier or Mail:

	1 Wk.	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
Daily and Sunday	20c	90c	$2.50	$5.00	$9.80
Daily only	15c	70c	2.00	4.00	7.80

Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday 10c.

BY MAIL ONLY:

Sunday 10c 45c $1.25 $2.50 $5.00
Mail rates for R. F. D. and small or non-dealer towns for 1st, 2d and 3d postal zones only, on application.

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotaling's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner).

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., MARCH 3, 1935.

TIME TO FACE FACTS

In keeping with its invariable policy to present in its news columns both sides of any question, The Constitution presents elsewhere on this page correspondence between two outstanding Georgia prohibition leaders, John A. Manget, of Atlanta, and Hon. Theo J. McGee, of Columbus, containing arguments against the repeal of the state dry laws.

The statistics presented emphasize the extent to which whisky is now, and has been, easily obtainable at every crossroads in Georgia since the repeal of the 18th amendment. Yet the state is not obtaining a dollar of revenue from this huge unregulated and uncontrolled traffic.

The official records of the Atlanta police department definitely reveal that legal prohibition does not prohibit but has an exactly opposite effect. When they first become effective dry laws have the tendency to reduce liquor sales but as soon as the illicit traffic can be organized consumption mounts by leaps and bounds.

This was Atlanta's experience with the local experiment with prohibition in the late 80's, which was abandoned by vote of the people after a year's trial. The same thing happened under the state dry law in 1908 and the 18th amendment in 1920.

In the first quarter of 1908 there were 1,673 arrests in Atlanta for disorderly conduct, but arrests for drunkenness alone had reached 5,150 in 1920. Then came national prohibition and the arrests steadily mounted each year until by 1934 they had reached the staggering total of 18,967.

Mr. McGee's argument that the increase in arrests in Columbus since 1932 is attributable to the repeal of the 18th amendment is not sound in view of the fact that indisputable records prove drinking in Georgia has increased under the various dry laws while it steadily decreased under the former system of local option and high license.

The house repeal bill, calling for local option and the strict control and regulation of the liquor traffic in such counties as desire it, is now before the senate. Chairman John McGeehee, of the committee to which the measure has been referred, is to be commended for his statement that he will permit no parliamentary obstacles to be thrown in the way of its prompt consideration. He is opposed to repeal, but all who know him will testify to his sincerity. The hearings on the measure are to begin this week.

Other states having dry laws, following the repeal of the 18th amendment, are adopting sensible and practicable methods of control. Georgia should do likewise, and as promptly as possible.

It looks like the country is too poor to have a war, and not making enough money to afford the price of peace.

You make a mistake in trying to commercialize friendship. A friendship with a price tag on it is a very cheap kind.

Things will be normal when the only thing that worries the older generation is the younger generation.

Misfortune is something you know how to bear until you find it at your front door.

THE NEED FOR LEGAL REFORM

In a communication appearing on the opposite page, Hon. J. R. Phillips, of Louisville, a distinguished member of the Georgia bar, takes the position that England is not so far ahead of this country in the matter of promptness in criminal procedure.

He calls attention to the fact that the trial of the Tichborne case ran for 168 days, with the counsel consuming 68 days and the judge taking 20 days to deliver his charge.

Few American trials approximate this length—but it takes more than one swallow to make a summer. The average English court hearing is conducted with far greater dispatch and dignity than is the case in this country.

Especially is this true in the matter of appeals from the findings of a jury. When a jury returns its verdict in England there is no such endless recourse to appeals based on technicalities as is true in America.

In the overwhelming majority of English trials, the verdict of the jury is final.

The opportunity for escape from just punishment offered by American legal procedure is illustrated in a murder case now in the courts of Massachusetts. Three gangsters, with long criminal records, last year killed a policeman who surprised them in the act of robbing a bank. Convicted by a jury that remained out only a few minutes, the trio was sentenced to be executed on April 28, but news reports of the sentence significantly add that "indications are that legal loopholes may stay the execution long beyond that date."

No such loopholes for appeals exist in English jurisprudence, which is direct, speedy and efficient. The appellate courts of England give no consideration to unimportant technicalities in reviewing a case, but base their decision upon the evidence as to the convicted man's guilt, regardless of unimportant errors that may have been made in the conduct of his trial.

Under American jurisprudence, a trivial technicality of law may cause the reversal of a manifestly just verdict, and the disappearance of vital witnesses may subsequently lead to a miscarriage of justice in a new trial.

The bills now pending in the general assembly, prepared by a distinguished group of members of the Georgia bar headed by Judge Sibley, seek to make the legal code of the state simpler and more effective. Their enactment will mean increased security for the innocent and greater certainty of punishment for the guilty, with a material lessening of the cost of court procedure.

A NEW FAR EASTERN PACT

Apparently authentic reports from Shanghai bring the news that China and Japan have reached the basis of an agreement under which the two nations will work together toward the easing of diplomatic and economic tension in the far east.

As far back as last spring it became evident that Japan was making tentative overtures to China, composed chiefly of unimportant gestures upon which no significance would be put by the average western observer, but carrying undeniable meaning when considered from the standpoint of eastern psychology.

It is significant that these efforts followed the failure of Japanese diplomacy to bring about closer and more understanding relations between this country and Nippon. Undoubtedly Japan would have preferred to join with the United States in forming a team to dominate far eastern affairs. Failing in this after months of effort, she turned to China and now it appears that, despite the ancient enmity between the two peoples, some sort of a working agreement has been reached under which they will seek to control, without outside interference, the destinies of their section of the world.

Such an agreement could not before this time have been possible because of the lack of a stable, unified government in China. Since the overthrow of the royalist regime the central government has not been strong enough to risk a friendly gesture toward Japan. Such a move would have been immediately seized upon by discontented war lords to fan into flame the anti-Japanese sentiment of the masses, and the downfall of the government would have been inevitable.

Now for the first time the so-called democratic form of government is strong enough under the dictatorship of Chiang Kai-shek to negotiate with Japan without fear of disastrous consequences.

Largely as a result of his military ability and the strong and well-equipped army he heads, Chiang has gradually increased his power until now he is as dominant in China as Mussolini in Italy or Hitler in Germany.

Prior to last summer, the Japanese had little or no comment to make on Chiang, and what was said was not of a complimentary nature. This attitude was suddenly dropped and frequent references to Chiang as the "strong man" and the "hope" of China began to come from semi-official, and even at times, official, sources in Tokyo. It is probable that even then a basis of agreement had been reached and since then the necessary paving of the way for the announcement.

The Chinese leader probably has no more use for the Japanese than is the case with the lesser leaders and the mass of the people, but he is wily enough to realize that while Japan may grab off most of the benefits of a friendly alliance, China would lose far more if the antagonistic attitude of the past was continued.

If the reported agreement is finally consummated, China will be able to concentrate on the peaceful development of her vast areas, while Japan will reap the benefit of favored trader in the rich markets of the mainland. Should the closer governmental relations result in the disappearance of the old antipathies between the two peoples, then China and Japan, with a combined population of more than a half billion, would occupy a dominant position in world affairs.

STUDENTS FOR PEACE, PLUS

There will be universal approval of the strong sentiment for world peace reflected in the poll taken among the editors of the college publications of the country in the last week of the Literary Digest's college peace poll—but there are inferences to be drawn from the tabulated replies that the average American will take with a grain of salt.

In the history of all the conflicts in which the United States has been involved the country has had no more ardent nor eager patriots than the young men of its colleges. While the folly and futility of war is now more generally understood, it is difficult to believe, as indicated by the replies to the Literary Digest poll, that a large proportion of the college men of today would, instead of being the first to come to their country's defense in time of war, refuse to fight under any circumstances.

Out of 78 college editors who replied to the question, "Would you bear arms for the United States in the invasion of the borders of another country?" 69 are quoted as answering "no." Even more surprising is the fact that 13 out of 68 indicated they would not be willing to shoulder arms if the borders of this country were invaded by an enemy.

It is also surprising that, in the face of the failure of the League of Nations to attain the noble objectives for which it was created and its steady decline in influence during the past few years, 43 out of 79 college editors favor the United States joining the League.

An unfortunate attitude of intemperance is evidenced by the editor of the University of Washington Daily, who feels that "the energy spent shouting what will be done during the next war can better be spent by preventing the occurrence of that war; it is for this purpose that the League of Nations was organized, and ignorance of the accomplishments and the purposes of the League, and the vitriolic attacks of a stupidly nationalistic press, are the only forces which have kept the United States out of this international body."

Further reflecting a widespread dissatisfaction among college students is the statement of Francis G. Smith Jr., editor of the Princetonian and president of the Association of College Editors, that—

The United States is growing daily more arrogant behind a bristling wall of economic and political isolation. And while we barricade our hermitage, our domestic gold policy is whipping the gold-bloc nations to their knees. Our domestic silver policy is draining China's wilting resistance to Japan in the far east. We insist that war debts be paid and we erect tariff walls which make it impossible for debtors to pay us. Perhaps, since our contributions to the peace of the world are so tremendous, there is logic in our new slogan: "A billion for defense; not a penny for peace!" It must become the immediate concern of every college student to investigate this "government by slogans."

Wile the results of the Literary Digest poll and the tenor of the utterances by the college editors may prove momentarily disturbing to the average American with deep-rooted faith in the soundness of the democratic policies of the federal government, and imbued with patriotic ideals that have been handed down through generations of hardy forbears, it is well to remember that these expressions reflect the intensity of youth and not the mature judgment of men who have come in contact with the realities of life.

There is no real likelihood that in time of need the college men of America would fail to come to the defense of their country, nor that, in later years, they will insist upon governmental policies that might place us at the mercy of nations less imbued with the spirit of brotherly love.

It is far better that our college students should undertake the study of internal and international policies and problems in a spirit of peace and friendship, than, as is the case in so many other countries, to have them foster hatred and rebellion.

A NEW HEALTH SERIES

Beginning with this issue, The Constitution starts publication of a new series of articles on health, prepared by the Fulton County Medical Association. The first article appears elsewhere on this page.

The first series of articles, published in The Constitution some years ago, attracted wide attention and commendation. It is because of the general interest in the approximately 100 articles in that series that The Constitution and the medical society are again co-operating in the publication of a weekly comment on some phase of the problem of how best to prevent and cure the ailments peculiar to this section.

Each article will be prepared by members of the society who have achieved outstanding success in the treatment of the particular disease discussed and will be carefully reviewed and edited by a committee of the society before being released for publication.

The readers of The Constitution are thus assured of expert medical counsel by physicians whose daily practice makes them intimately familiar with the subjects discussed. If the advice in them is followed the health of each home into which The Constitution goes will be benefited.

The articles will not take the place of a visit to the doctor, but they will make possible an improvement in the everyday health of those who read them and result in the avoidance of many preventable illnesses.

The Fulton County Medical Society in again preparing a series of articles on health topics for regular publication performs a public service of which there should be general acknowledgment.

A WARNING FOR THE WEST

The unprecedented spectacle of a combined dust and snowstorm over a large part of last year's drouth area is another warning to the west of the fate ahead of its agricultural sections unless the rapid deterioration of its soil is stopped.

The blizzard of last week rode in on the wings of winds of almost cyclonic proportions, which gathered the fertile top soil of thousands of wheat fields and scattered it over a wide territory. While the air for hundreds of miles was filled with particles of dust snowstorms set in and the snowy flakes fell to the earth in a strongly speckled condition.

Thus the west is given warning that the disastrous losses in fertile top soils that last year swept bare some of its richest areas will continue if steps are not taken to combat the destructive effects of the forces of nature.

The deterioration of these farm lands is as a direct result of the destruction of the forests that once stood on them. These forests formerly acted as wind breaks even for the plains sections, but now when high winds follow long dry periods they take with them, some times for a thousand miles, the top soils that contain the most ingredients for the production of crops.

The federal and various state governments in the section are co-operating now in a huge reforestation project, but it is clear that until the new trees become large enough to act as wind breaks the farmers of the section may expect to lose more of their soil before the onslaughts of the elements.

The sensation of the congressional session is Mahatma Bilbo, of Mississippi, now observing an unexpected year of silence.

A London syndicate that cornered shellac can't dispose of the stuff. There's no doubt about it, the American taste in Scotch liquor is improving.

The "American look," says a Belgian sculptor, has youthfulness, force, a sort of innocence and determination. And a bit of Oh-Yeah?

An article on drinking manners says the odor of cloves on the breath is a dead give-away. Fortunately, it is neatly killed with another snifter.

Have you any radio entertainer particularly in mind for the next shipwreck off Tahiti?

Every man may have his price but a woman is more concerned about her figure.

If a country listens to the war dogs it is liable to go to the bow-wows.

A scientist says birds can't see blue. But more of us should look for the bluebird of happiness.

They once called him "Happy Jack" Garner, but that was before he had the U. S. senate on his hands.

TEXT AND PRETEXT

By M. ASHBY JONES.

A Ladder of Angels.

Students of the life of Jesus have always been fascinated by the manner in which He recruited His first disciples. He called Phillip, and then Phillip calls Nathaniel. But Nathaniel was of the conventional orthodox type, and could not accept a Messiah, who in violation of prophesy, should "come out of Nazareth." But when he does come, and Jesus calls him by his name, it seems so wonderful to Nathaniel, that he exclaims: "Thou are the Son of God." But Jesus says, in substance: "Because I called your name, when you thought I had never seen you before, you call me "Son of God." Is that your idea of a God-man—one who can do a mysterious trick? Come! I will show you something greater than that!"

"Son of Man."

In seeming contrast to Nathaniel's "Son of God," Jesus says, come with me and I will show you the "Son of Man." He seems to be saying: "I will show you a man who fulfills a higher ideal of personality than the one you have for God." When we remember that Jesus came into the world to reveal God to men, we may be astonished at the emphasis which He lays upon His manhood. But we must remember that this revelation had to be made in terms of manhood. The highest conception which we can have of God, is our highest conception of a man. Because we can only think of personality in terms of the only personality which we have ever known, which is human personality. So it was necessary if Jesus would lift man's idea of God to a higher level, He must first lift his idea of what a man could be, to a higher level.

And what a poor conception men had of what is great in human life, is revealed by this enlightened Jew. A great man is one who exhibits powers which others have not. What a fascination the mysterious, supernatural, sensational, has for us. So the Jews of Jesus' day demanded as first and sufficient proof of His Messiaship, that He should work wonders. But in every instance He refused to make this a test. He stood before the degenerate Herod, when he demanded that He degrade His manhood to the level of a mountebank, with a silence which was overwhelming in its contempt. And when men clamored for an exhibition of supernatural powers He said: "An adulterous and wicked generation seeketh after a sign, and no sign shall be given them."

Whatever is the true explanation of the unusual personal power exhibited by Jesus, in the stories which have come to us, He seems to have demanded faith in His personality first, and the wonder worked afterwards. His cures appear to have been the spontaneous rush of His great loving sympathy into the life of the needy one, and are proofs of nothing but the supreme power of His love. In the cold, skeptical atmosphere of Nazareth, demanding miracles as a proof, "He could do no mighty works." So He tells Nathaniel that is not the kind of man he must call God-like. But He will show him a better picture. He will show him a man from whose head the angels of God ascend into heaven.

"Son of God."

Of course, literally such a thing would have been fantastic and unreal. But Nathaniel did see in Jesus, a man who day by day talked with God with the familiarity of a child taking to his father. One whose days were often planned in long nights of closest confidence with God. A man who planned for His sufferings, and trained Himself for His triumphs, in communion with the divine life. And every prayer which left the soul of this man was an angel in winged flight to the God-heart. He who taught this lesson was the "Son of Man"—not of his race, or of his time. And He was telling every man, that he can open the heavens and send messengers up to God. Wherever a noble aspiration is born in the soul, it needs but the faintest breath to waft it on the wings of faith to the Father above.

But Jesus told Nathaniel he should not only see angels ascending, but descending upon the Son of Man." And he did see the answering angels of divine power manifested in the daily life of this "Son of Man." It is not in the magic wonders that the divinity of Jesus is to be seen, but in the wondrous message of that character, which bears the divine autograph. His disciples knew that on the mountain side all night He was talking to God. But the next day when His arms were outstretched to little children, or the story of the lost boy flowed in winsome beauty from His lips, they knew that never man spake like this, and that they listened to the divine voice.

They knew that He talked with God in Gethsemane that night, because the next day on a cross, it must have been the divine voice, speaking through human lips, which said: "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do." If the prayer of aspiration is the ascending angel, the consciousness of the divine presence is the descending angel. Here was Jacob's dream of a ladder of angels lacing earth to heaven, made real in the life of Jesus. On the cross He reconciled the human and the divine—giving the highest conception of a man, and the loftiest ideal of God which has ever been revealed to men.

State Prohibition Leaders Comment On Increase in Arrests Since Repeal

Editor Constitution: Please note attached. What two-thirds of your subscribers would like to read would be the information given in both of these letters, however, I do not know whether it is asking too much of you to print both of them or not, but as The Constitution's editorial is mentioned in Colonel McGee's letter, I hope you will find space to print them both.

Please know that the public appreciates your fair attitude in this fight as well as all others.

JOHN A. MANGET.

The letters to which Mr. Manget refers—one to him from Hon. Theo J. McGee, of Columbus, and his reply—are as follows:

ARRESTS GROW IN COLUMBUS.
Hon. John A. Manget,
Atlanta, Ga.

My dear Sir: I was very much interested in The Constitution's editorial entitled "Dry Law Repeal."

If it is not an imposition on you could you furnish me information as to the increase in arrests for drunkenness in Atlanta since 1932? The Constitution's editorial discloses that in 1934 there were a very large number of violations. I am anxious to know what percentage of increase there was in 1934 over 1932.

Recently I compiled statistics from our local court records and ascertained that within the city of Columbus arrests for drunkenness in 1934 showed an increase of 158 per cent over 1932, the last legally dry year. Arrests for drunkenness and disorderliness in 1934 showed a 90 per cent increase. Arrests for drunken drivers for 1934 showed an increase over 1933 of 83.3 per cent.

For the 10-year period 1923-32 the average annual arrests for drunkenness on streets were 1267.9; for 1932—1069; for 1934—2758.

If you have such information concerning conditions in Atlanta I shall be very grateful to you if you will advise me. THEO J. McGEE.
Columbus, Ga., Feb. 26, 1935.

THE FIGURES FOR ATLANTA.
Hon. Theo J. McGee,
Columbus, Ga.

My dear Mr. McGee: Your kind favor of February 26th received, and it gives me pleasure to furnish you with the information asked for, which I have secured from the most reliable source possible.

In 1932, the last year the prohibition amendment was effective, Atlanta policemen made 12,068 whisky cases. In 1934 Atlanta policemen made 18,967 whisky cases. The percentage of increase being, in round numbers, 55 per cent.

I note with deepest concern and interest your report on conditions in your fair city of Columbus, where your arrests for drunkenness in 1934 showed an increase of 158 per cent over 1932, the last legally dry year. I was grieved, also, to read that your arrests for drunken drivers in 1934 showed an increase over 1933 of 83.3 per cent. The statement you kindly furnished me, that the arrests for drunkenness on the streets of Columbus for 1932—the last full year of prohibition—were 1,069, and the number of arrests for drunkenness on the streets for 1934 were 2,758, or an increase of 218 per cent, should convince all reasonable people that the repeal of the eighteenth amendment had a terrible effect on even such a law-abiding community as Columbus.

In addition to the above figures given you in regard to this matter in the capital city of Georgia, I ask you please to notice the following: In 1920—the first year of prohibition—Atlanta policemen made 5,150 whisky cases, including those made for the possession of whisky. The census gave Atlanta that year a population of 200,616, which shows 25 whisky cases per thousand of the population. Now, compare the record of 1920 with that of 1934, in which year Atlanta policemen made 18,967 arrests for whisky violations. Our population estimated by the city directory for last year was 285,000. The above number of arrests shows an increase of 370 per cent, and the number of arrests per thousand of population was 66, or 260 per cent increase in arrests based on the increased population in 1934, over that of 1920.

It seems to me that all reasonable, fair-minded men, including our state senators, representatives, and the governor of this commonwealth who must pass on the future control of Georgia's liquor traffic, should be acquainted with these figures in both Columbus and Atlanta. I know of no quicker, finer way than to have them published in The Constitution, and while The Constitution's policy and its editorial columns have fought steadfastly for national repeal, and are now fighting for the repeal of the Georgia prohibition laws, I believe the paper will be fair enough to publish the records of these two important cities in Georgia.

I have been fighting liquor for 50 years, and unless we older people impress on our younger citizens the terrible suffering brought by liquor in the past, we will again face dire results from this infamous traffic.

JOHN A. MANGET.
Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 27, 1935.

United Thought and Endeavor Necessary To Check Fire Evil, Warns U. S. Forester

Editor Constitution: I was greatly interested in the fine editorial on forest conservation. It has been gratifying to me to note the splendid support given by The Constitution to the public agencies that are engaged in the task of preventing and controlling forest fires. This support is greatly appreciated and has been most helpful. I hope it reflects a rapidly-growing public interest in this tremendous problem of vital social importance.

The federal government at present does not own a large acreage of national forests in Georgia. As of January 21, 1935, the area purchased or in the process of purchase in Georgia for national-forest purposes amounted to 408,506 acres. This entire acreage lies in the extreme northern part of the state. The United States forest service does not contemplate purchases in the southern part of the state, which, I take it, is the section referred to particularly in the editorial and where the fire problem is most acute. However, the government is deeply interested in the forest resources, actual and potential, in all parts of the staet. Under the federal Clarke-McNary law, an allotment of $62,000 was made for the current fiscal year for forest-fire protection work in co-operation with the Georgia forest service. This money is being used under a co-operative plan with the state forester and private landowners to give as much protection as possible. Obviously, the available funds, federal, state and private, are inadequate for the purpose. As a result, large portions of the state are entirely unprotected.

CCC labor has been used to the fullest practicable extent to promote co-operative forest-fire protection. There are at present 14 CCC camps under the general supervision of the United States forest service, but actively directed by the Georgia state forester, engaged in the construction of fire breaks, fire protection roads, telephone lines, lookout towers, and other improvements to facilitate the protection of privately-owned forest lands. All of these 14 camps are in the southern half of Georgia, and they are doing splendid work.

The problem of forest fires is not, of course, peculiar to Georgia. It is common throughout the south, particularly in the coastal plain section. Greatly increased public support is needed before satisfactory progress can be expected. Above all a change in the public attitude towards fire must be brought about, particularly in rural communities. The press can be of tremendous assistance; in fact, it can be the chief factor in bringing about this change in sentiment.

Unfortunately, there is now a lot of confusion in the public mind concerning the subject of forest fires. It is rather widely recognized by competent observers, and our own research supports such observations, that under certain conditions fire may burn through the coastal-plain pine woods without doing much damage. In fact, under certain conditions fire may be used beneficially. To do this, however, it is necessary to burn at the right time, under carefully controlled conditions. This is rarely, if ever, done. There are many persons who have reasons of their own for turning loose fire in the woods, and their purpose is not to perpetuate timber growth. Moreover, fires started for a variety of purposes are usually not confined to the land belonging to the person starting them, but are allowed to sweep over the lands of others, often at times when the grass and debris are so dry that any fire will do a tremendous amount of damage.

We need above all things an increased respect for property rights. If property rights were fully respected, one could grant the right to an individual to burn over his own timberland, whatever might be his purpose for doing so. The public, however, can not grant the right to any individual to burn over land belonging to another.

The problem is tremendously complicated, and one requiring for its solution the best thought and endeavor of all citizens interested in the conservation and wise use of the forest resources of the state.

JOSEPH C. KIRCHER.
Regional Forester.
Atlanta, Ga., February 29, 1935.

Our Ailments and How We Can Best Cure and Prevent Them

HOW DO YOU DO?

This is the first of a new series of articles to be published in The Sunday Constitution prepared by the Fulton County Medical Society. They are prepared by the society, as was the first series of more than 100 articles, in order that the public may be given authentic information on health conditions in this section.

It has only been a century or two ago when to be fashionable and womanly, one suddenly felt "so horribly vaporish" and delicately swooned wherever one was. Now, in this age of preventive medicine, it is considered not only a necessity not to be sick, but to be vigorous and possess vital physical energy to meet the daily demands of work and plan and to meet them with interest, not with the boredom of eighteenth century gentility.

If we were told, as in fairy tales, that one wish would be granted, some would ask for wealth, others for fame, or beauty, but we would make our choice because through it we might secure contentment. But would we honestly be happy if we could have only riches? They would not keep us from physical pain; good looks would not prevent mental agony, nor fame alone secure happiness. To meet our environment, to enjoy life, above all else we require that health that gives us constructive, balanced attitudes toward life, authority, society. We must commercialize our strength, we must enjoy good health.

What is the oldest question in world-wide use? It is that expression used regardless of nation, color, creed, when meeting friends or strangers, and whatever its form in ancient or modern greeting, is expressed by us in the words, "How do you do?" Surely, so old, so universal a question must be an important one and its answer even more so.

Our first thought about a prospective mother is for her health. So necessary have regular physical examinations become that we look askance when we find such a woman is not receiving them. So the good work begins before the child is born, in regular care of the mother, by her family physician. When the child is born it should have a thorough examination; in this way its real condition is known and parental co-operation secured at once. The lowering of maternal and infant mortality will come in Georgia by mothers being informed through regular check-ups. It is not a reflection on your intelligence to take your baby to the doctor before you have tried all the remedies known and failed. Parenthood is a trust and the intelligent mother believes in the intelligent medical service of her family physician. Even now we are beginning to believe it is a disgrace to be ill of a preventable disease.

After the first years are passed some feel that the child has weathered the worst. The critical period is just beginning, for the pre-school age is the age of susceptibility and from then until 10 years children travel a road of great distress and strain, leaving wounds and scars to damage maturer years. Be ever watchful. Have an examination every six months, on the birthday or May Day; correct defects in the toddling age. Know the physical battle your child is enduring. All questions of nutrition, posture, illness, play, rest determine whether your child shall follow the vicious circle of poor health through neglect.

Contagious diseases constitute the greatest menace during or prior to this period; later impairment of vision, hearing, heart are frequently traced to them. Complications are often considered as lightly as mumps or whooping cough. In 1928 the deaths under 5 years from whooping cough alone were almost 6,000 and exceeded those from scarlet fever, measles, tuberculosis. Yet we hear mothers say, "Well, he has to have it, so he might as well have it now and get over it." Immunization, separation from the ill persons and hygiene will assist considerably in avoiding communicable diseases.

How shall you safeguard your child from the assaults of defects and illness and their effects? If you consider health a speculation, make your own diagnosis and let it go at that. But if you are investing in health for him, then participate in his welfare by giving him his physical check-up at regular intervals and always after any convalescences thus building your information on facts and on the whole child. Consideration of any single unit does not suffice to prove the total health condition. If you do not suspect any trouble, then have an examination to prove his health, by the assurance of a qualified person, your doctor. If some defect or illness is found co-operate to clip its claws. Fight against the possibility of your child being a liability, not only throughout school but life.

We wish to grow in happiness as we grow in years. Intelligence, interest in life, quality of service, tolerance and kindness you bestow on others depend largely on your physical well-being. So . . . How do you do?

Many have no basis of fact in answering; it is guesswork. Would you like a clean bill of health? Then have that physical examination. Do you wish good health to be contagious? Then advise others to guard themselves in a similar way. Go to your doctor before he comes to you. Some diseases give no warning in early stages, but discovered in time are more likely to be cured. Your family physician knows you and has your confidence. His examination of you is an instrument of research. It will enable you to live longer and happier, decreasing your expense, increasing your working value, making you a greater asset to your family and community. Well, you can more readily face the daily grind of work and play. We in the United States are first in wealth, first in material assets, but only tenth in that gift so vital to human happiness, health. An American poet has said, "Hitch your wagon to a star." Yes, and let it be the Star of Health, whose every ray is a benediction to humanity.

When 18 Men Opposed 5,000

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.
European Correspondent of The Constitution.

Eighteen men against 5,000! One young lieutenant and 17 native soldiers against a swarm of thousands of the most savage and fanatical tribesmen in Africa in a combat that lasted fully three hours!

This is the almost incredible story of which all Africa is talking. At every army or police post in the South Sahara men are full of the heroic, super-human exploit. Of Lieutenant Bernard, the 20-year-old administrator of a desert region in Somaliland, who was massacred with his men by a band of raiders who came out of Abyssinia.

For three hours Bernard held that blood-thirsty human avalanche at bay and was literally surrounded by a ring of slain enemies, more than 500 dead bodies lay piled up around him and his small group of natives—when in a last attacking wave under the deafening war-shout of the mad mullah of old: "Allah il Allah!" the tribesmen launched themselves against the European, overwhelmed him and literally rent him to pieces with their teeth.

* * * *

Albert Julien Bernard had run to the rescue of the Issa tribe in southern French Somaliland. Every year in winter the Issas have to withstand a raid of the Aissamaras, who cross the Abyssinian desert and who despoil the northern tribes of women, children and foodstuffs. The captives are generally sold as slaves, except when the vigilance of British patrols operating in the Lower Soudan makes the sale impossible, in which case the prisoners are simply massacred.

Bernard, who was a distant relative of the great tragedienne Sarah Bernhardt, a member of an old French-Jewish family, graduated a year ago from the military college in Paris. He had been warned that the Aissamaras were coming across the desert in their thousands with the intention of laying waste the regions inhabited by the Issas and of taking all the adolescents captive. He semaphored for reinforcements, but no troops proved available and the French authorities advised him to adopt a purely defensive attitude.

* * * *

Bernard could not prevent the raid. Before he had time to intervene the Aissamaras had crossed the desert and had burned down 27 villages and were leading away some 1,100 women and children into slavery. The young lieutenant then took a decision, which shows both his nobility of spirit and his extraordinary courage. With a small truck in which he loaded the 18 men who composed his garrison at Dikil, he started out to head off the spoil-laden army of the Aissamaras. He came upon the mass of exultant warriors in the middle of the night at a place called Mareih, where they were holding a huge celebration before plunging back into the desert and therewith into security.

Without a moment's hesitation Bernard attacked, in the hope of spreading confusion among the Aissamaras and forcing them to a precipitate retreat. He seems to have expected that in fleeing they would leave their prisoners behind. He brought his only machine gun in action against the Aissamaras' camp where the victory tom-tom was beating and the festive atmosphere had reached a climax.

Instead of being seized with panic, the Aissamaras resisted. An intermittent rifle fire was kept up all night, until dawn when Bernard realized he had put himself into a deadly trap; the Aissamaras had surrounded him from all sides. He could hear their muezzins shouting out the morning prayer in the hoarse, gutteral tone of voice which presages battle.

Bernard was lost and he knew it. He asked his men whether they preferred to flee or face the Aissamaras in a combat, the outcome of which was a foregone conclusion. The men, Senegalese infantry, would not even argue the point. They simply went to work putting the truck into a state of makeshift defense.

Shortly after dawn the first attack was launched. The Aissamaras came from three sides, brandishing their knives and their cutlasses, which are as sharp as razors. They had left their rifles behind to save ammunition. Three attacks were beaten off. Before the third was launched, Bernard's ammunition had run out and his machine gun had jammed. He was irrevocably lost. His men defended themselves with the butts of their rifles, with their fists and their teeth. More than 20 of the attackers were found after the engagement with their throats bitten off.

Bernard was the last survivor. His rifle had broken. His legs were cut in a dozen places. Before a human avalanche of white-robed, black-bearded Aissamaras, he went down and his body was torn to shreds.

Feature Index

Want Ads	1-C, 2-C, 3-C
Financial	4-C, 5-C
Radio Programs	4-K
Sports	1-B, 2-B, 3-B, 4-B, 5-B
News of Georgia	6-A
Movies, Theaters	6-K, 7-K
Editorial Features	6-B, 7-B
Page of Foreign News	10-A
Society	Sections M-K

Victim of Wallace Purge Calls New Deal Raw Deal

Brain Truster Gardner Jackson Tells of Bitter Clashes Within Roosevelt Organization.

(The inside story of the clash of policies and personalities behind the recent "purging" in the AAA is told here by the deposed senior assistant to the consumers' counsel, a former newspaperman of wide experience who joined the AAA in 1933. In this, the first of five articles, the writer presents the viewpoint of the "Young New Dealers" who continue to proclaim their zeal in working for the "forgotten man.")

By GARDNER JACKSON.

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Something approaching despair has seized scores of young men and women in the New Deal. This large group of people, brought from college and university faculties, from social work, Newspaper staffs and the professions, is more and more saying, when three or four of its members gather together, "this is no longer a New Deal. It is the old deal, with us and our intellectual bosses as a front."

"When this thing goes completely to pot," they add, "and plunges us into outright fascism via the inflation and chaos route, we'll get the blame. The big boys will say that the condition was caused by the brain trusters and their satellites."

To which their more cynical, hard-boiled colleagues reply, "What did you expect? You didn't really hope to influence the course of government, did you?"

Slaved Day and Night.

The fact of the matter is that a great majority of the young New Dealers did. With a zeal making them oblivious to long hours, they slaved night and day in the national recovery administration, agricultural adjustment administration, federal emergency relief administration, and other New Deal emergency agencies to improve the lot of the forgotten man for whom President Roosevelt expressed particular concern. Much of that zeal commenced to vanish when Donald R. Richberg—now the man most universally distrusted by the young New Dealers—was elevated to a position closest to the president and began to do what the young idealists termed "selling out labor."

Another major deflation of their drive toward President Roosevelt's promised objective of a better day came when Secretary of Agriculture Wallace summarily dismissed Jerome Frank, general counsel of the AAA, and five of his associates at the request of Chester C. Davis, the administrator. Trying to discount the fact that I was one of those unceremoniously thrown out of the AAA and therefore might let my feelings color my words, I do not believe I am exaggerating when I report that Mr. Wallace's treatment of Mr. Frank and the others has done more to undermine the young New Dealers' morale than any other single episode in the New Deal.

Wallace Was Hope.

For Secretary Wallace, by reason of the integrity of his mind as exhibited in his speeches and his writings, was the member of the cabinet upon whom the young idealists pinned far more faith than upon any other. Though many of them did not agree with his projected solutions of the problems the New Deal was put in office to tackle, they all felt that he would never dodge facts for mere expediency and that the "tyranny of greed," of which he wrote in his latest book, would not get the upper hand in his department.

Moreover, it was generally understood, and quite freely admitted by Mr. Wallace, that Jerome Frank, a brilliant, devoted and technically unexcelled lawyer, was fighting Mr. Wallace's own battles—that he was seeking to follow Mr. Wallace's explicit directions that the agricultural adjustment act should not be made the instrument of the packers, the canners, the large milk distributors and other processing and distributing industries to gouge both the farmers and the consumers.

In our opinion, Secretary Wallace, who is ultimately responsible for the administration of the act under its terms as set by congress, has proved himself to be a weak man by his surrender to Administrator Davis and the latter's caressing of the processors and distributors at the expense of the farmers as well as the consumers.

Aids Were Amazed.

That I am not exaggerating the reaction of the Young New Dealers to Mr. Wallace's yielding to Mr. Davis is attested by the scores of telephone calls, letters and personal visits I have received from them—all conveying the same exclamation: "What happened to Wallace?" One official high in the councils of the New Deal, who requested that he be nameless, as in Paris when the "purge" took place. "I saw it in a Paris paper," he said, "in all earnestness I told my friends there that I was certain it was an inaccurate report. I assured them that Wallace probably was not in on the action and would reverse it the minute he took a hand. I was positive he wouldn't stand for it."

The answer seems to lie in quiet-spoken, humble-appearing Mr. Wallaces mystical nature. He is mystical to a degree little appreciated by those not close to him and not even by those who have read his religious writings. He dislikes administrative work and abhors the clashes of personalities inevitable in such work.

When the high-strung, irritable Mr. Davis, erstwhile associate of the former administrators, George Peek and General Hugh S. Johnson, went to Mr. Wallace and said, in effect, "It's either Frank and the others or me." Mr. Wallace yielded to the greater pressure—just as it seemed to many of us in the AAA that Mr. Davis himself had been yielding to the pressure of lobbying processors and distributors during the preceding year and had, we felt, reversed the policies announced by Secretary Wallace following the enforced resignation of Mr. Peek.

Tolley Is Power.

At Mr. Davis' right hand stands Howard R. Tolley, the man upon whom he has leaned steadily through all the events and struggles leading up to the elimination of Mr. Frank and the others. Mr. Tolley, former professor of mathematics and now director of the Giannini Foundation of California (on leave for government service), is short, stocky and a person of few words. But behind his silence there lies one of the most effective brains in the New Deal and one of the strongest determinations. As assistant administrator and director of planning of the AAA, Mr. Tolley has fathered the marketing agreement program, especially for California crops—a number of the latter agreements, it is significant to note, having price-fixing arrangements from producer to consumer which guarantee comfortable margins all around.

What were the issues underlying the long struggle between the consumers' counsel, headed on one side by battle-scarred Frederic C. Howe (now demoted), the legal division and, more often than not, the secretary's office, including Undersecretary Tugwell, and on the other side by Administrator Davis and his various section chiefs? In essence, our position was that the forces of competition should be encouraged and kept open wherever possible, in order to hold distributors' and processors' margins within reason and thus protect the consumer. Wherever monopoly privileges were granted by agreements, contracts and licenses—in virtually every case—we felt the AAA should exercise strict supervision over the processing and distributing industries involved and should have complete access to all their books and records. Only in this way, in our opinion, would the farmers and consumers have a chance of getting a fair deal at the hands of the giant food processing and distributing industries.

We have been termed "radicals" by some commentators. If someone in the senate or in the house calls for the records of the consumers' counsel and the legal division and spreads them before the public, it will be amusingly ironic to see what old-fashioned, orthodox brand of economics the records exemplify.

Praises Constitution Editorial Condemning Obscene Literature

Editor Constitution: Your editorial "Prostituting Young Minds" is most timely and should receive immediate attention of our legislature now in session. While I was not aware that indecent literature was being distributed among children, however, I do know that a great many news stands over the state carry for sale such matter. They sell various magazines containing the most obscene stories with photographic reproductions of entirely nude girls and women, also drawings of the most vulgar and degrading type. The periodicals are displayed in our christian communities.

I suggest that every town in Georgia large enough to support news dealers appoint censors for magazines sold just the same as for moving pictures and that all obscene literature be outlawed from circulation.

I trust your splendid editorial will bear fruit for much good.

Yours sincerely,

NATHANIEL F. WALKER.

Roberta, Ga.

Urges That Appropriation For Schools Be Raised To Five Million Dollars

Editor Constitution: A great many of the rural public schools will be forced to close from one to three months before the end of the present school year unless something is done to relieve the situation at once. The $1,600,000 diverted from the road funds will soon be prorated among the schools of the state. This money is being paid on past due public school appropriations, and a great deal of it will be paid teachers on past due salaries. It would only operate the schools of the state four or five weeks if none of it was due teachers on past due salaries.

The public schools only received 78 per cent of the $4,564,600 appropriated to them for last year and if the federal government had not come to their relief with $1,800,000 most of the rural schools would have closed long before the end of the school year.

I have before me copies of last Sunday's Atlanta papers from which I quote the following from Dr. L. R. Alderman, director of the FERA educational work, to Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools.

"With reference to application of Governor Talmadge submitted by you for $2,562,869.78 of federal aid to complete the 1935 term of Georgia schools, your attention is directed to Section 3 of reelase dated December 22. Please submit statement showing efforts of state of Georgia in the way of increased appropriations or otherwise to meet school deficiency."

The release to which Dr. Alderman refers, reads as follows:

"It is my understanding that no funds will be made available in any state until all state, county and local resources which can be made available for the support of distressed school districts are completely exhausted. I am advised also that the attitude of the governor and the incoming legislature towards the prompt enactment of legislation to secure adequate school financing will have considerable bearing on the decision to be made as to whether or not the federal government will come to the relief of school teachers in closed schools or schools about to be closed."

After reading the above statement from Dr. Alderman I am sure the state appropriation for public schools will have to be increased from the $4,000,000 recommended by the budget committee to around $5,000,000. This appropriation will certainly have to be increased above the $4,564,600 appropriation for 1934 and 1935 before the state can expect any school aid from the federal government. I know Governor Talmadge is opposed to the enactment of any new taxes, but it will not be necessary to add one penny of new taxes in order to increase the public school appropriation $800,000 and make the appropriation $4,800,000. If Governor Talmadge will agree to recommend 5 mills state tax this year not an item in the budget as recommended by the budget committee will have to be cut one penny, and yet the public school appropriations could be increased $800,000. Since the depression came on four or five years ago property owners have reduced their property values year after year until the property is now valued at from 20 to 40 per cent of its true value. Cutting the state rate from five to four mills will not save the property owner more than 40 cents on the thousand dollars worth of property, but it will almost ruin the public school system unless new tax laws are enacted.

J. SCOTT DAVIS,
Former Member of the House from Floyd.

Rome, Ga., Feb. 22, 1935.

Steel Traps Protested By State Humane Society

Editor Constitution: All of Georgia's humane people oppose any law which would permit the use of steel traps in our state. Here are some of the reasons:

Steel traps are cruel, and they debase the character of those who set them.

Steel traps are non-selective and would catch domestic, as well as wild animals, and are a menace to farmers' children, Boy Scouts and to all outdoor lovers.

Steel trapping would bring into our state cruel people who would cause our courts trouble, and our taxpayers expense. The militia had to be called out in one state to stop a trappers' war.

Steel trapping is contrary to the Christian's Golden Rule. It is also in conflict with what our governor has so well said is the proper function of government, "The prevention of the strong from imposing on the weak."

Speechless, helpless creatures should not be mangled in order that some one may fur-line his pocket book.

GEORGIA HUMANE SOCIETY.

The Happenings of The Church World

BY HERMAN L. TURNER,
Atlanta, Ga.
Pastor, Covenant Presbyterian Church.

A recent issue of The Christian Century comments on "Baptist Succession in Kentucky:" "Kentucky Baptists are facing a major issue growing out of the discovery that Dr. Henry Noble Sherwood, president of Georgetown College, was baptized by immersion but not by a Baptist. The state association, which met in November, voted to discontinue support of the college by the churches unless the president either resigned or was re-baptized by a Baptist. As Dr. Sherwood was inducted into office no earlier than November 10, it cannot be said that the association showed any lack of vigilance or promptitude in its action. The college trustees a few days ago voted, 12 to 7, to back their president, even in his present parlous state of being unBaptistically baptized, and take their chances of support. It takes a good deal of financial—not to mention ecclesiastical—courage for college trustees to take such an action as that in times like these. Dr. Sherwood came from Indiana where he was a member of a Baptist church and in good standing, so far as anyone knew. But before that he had been a member of a 'Christian church.' That has two possible meanings, but the two are alike in presenting one dire possibility. Barton W. Stone, who was one of the fathers of both of the bodies either one of which may be referred to, was immersed by an unimmersed Presbyterian. From the standpoint of the strict theory of Baptist succession, this introduced a bar sinister into the heraldry of both. Indiana Baptists took no account of this blot on the ecclesiastical 'scutcheon, but Kentucky Baptists are made of sterner stuff. The episode is submitted for what it may be worth, especially as bearing on the question whether there is immediate prospect of union among immersionist bodies."

HERMAN L. TURNER

The Catholic news service reports that Gandhi, in a recent interview, gave this testimony to the greatness of Jesus: "I believe that Christ is a historic personage. I believe also that he is the greatest teacher mankind has yet known. I have learned his doctrines for the purpose of realizing the truth underlying them with the devotion and earnest prayer of a pious Christian."

Asserting that wealthy New Yorkers have done very little for the clergy, and that a minister never has any money except by patrimony or matrimony, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman urged that some wealthy man come forward with a gift of $5,000,000 to build, furnish and endow a clubhouse for the Clergy Association of New York and Neighborhood. Pointing out that an international house was erected for foreign students and that other groups have their special buildings, Dr. Cadman said that such a clergy retreat should have a library of 500,000 volumes, and that contacts there would do much to break down denominational misunderstanding. Dr. Cadman's address was made at the formal opening of the Clergy Association's new quarters, a four-room suite in the National Arts Club.

Here is the percentage of missionaries to the population of India, as found in the latest missionary directory: BOMBAY PRESIDENCY: One missionary to every 37,575 Indian population. UNITED PROVINCES: One missionary to every 66,956 Indian population. CENTRAL PROVINCES: One missionary to every 42,639 Indian population. PUNJAB: One missionary to every 60,690 Indian population. BURMA: One Missionary to every 37,700 Indian population. MADRAS: One missionary to every 41,124 Indian population. CEYLON: One missionary to every 32,973 Indian population. RAJPUTANA: One missionary to every 14,363 Indian population. CENTRAL INDIA: One missionary to every 75,171 Indian population. Even these figures do not tell the whole story, since half the missionaries are engaged in medical, educational and industrial work, thus giving to each evangelical missionary twice the number of population above specified.—United Church Record.

"This summer I visited near the St. Quentin canal a great cemetery of 37,000 German graves. It was in charge of a French soldier who had been painfully wounded. He was strapped up with all sorts of surgical devices. As he was patiently hoeing rows of lavender by the acres of black crosses we asked him if it were not a strange circumstance, that he who had suffered so much should be caring for the graves of the enemies. He mopped his face and answered in measured accents of conviction: 'These are not my enemies. They never were. They are the innocents of the war. The real enemies never approached the front line.'"—Rev. George Stewart's Armistice Day sermon.

The Christian press is watching and reporting the great revival in Japan under the leadership of Kagawa. The Presbyterian Banner states: "It is deeply evangelistic in the winning of souls by immediate surrender to Jesus Christ. It also has its social side in Kagawa's own example, by sending the new converts back to their localities, or to live in new, untouched localities where they can help to uplift the moral life of their neighbors. Kagawa has 1,300 active evangelists, men and women, now thus engaged. Indian Christians are praying for God's spirit to give them such a leader. Graham Taylor 50 years ago had somewhat the same vision in Chicago in his settlement work."

James G. McDonald, League of Nations high commissioner for refugees, has been awarded the 1934 American Hebrew medal for the promotion of better understanding between Christian and Jew in America. The presentation was made at a dinner at Temple Emanu-El, New York city, on January 3.

The international committee of the Y. M. C. A. has balanced its 1934 budget, having raised $416,000 to accomplish this end. According to The Christian Century this was the first time since 1929 that a balanced budget has been achieved.

Catholic missionaries care for about 25,000 lepers, according to the latest estimates from Rome. In the 107 organized leper asylums there are now 12,774 inmates, and an equal number are helped from hundreds of Catholic mission stations.

The largest broadcasting station in Asia, and the third largest in the world, has recently been opened by the Chinese government in Nanking. At the government's invitation messages from several Christian institutions are being sent far and wide.

Medical Service Bureau Method Of Budgeting Illness Cost Told

The Fulton County Medical Society, cognizant of the inability of subcomfort groups to pay the full cost of medical care at rates customarily prevailing for those in more comfortable circumstances, some time ago organized the Medical Service Bureau, through which the society proposes to render adequate medical service to the low-income group of citizens.

The plan applies to persons with an income of $75 a month, without dependents; $125 a month with one dependent, $135 with two dependents, $145 with three, and $150 a month with four or more dependents. Separate applications are required for each member. Single membership is $1 registration fee, plus $1.50 monthly. Registration for a second member of a family is $1 plus $1 monthly; 50 cents registration plus 75 cents monthly for the third, and 50 cents registration plus 50 cents monthly for each additional member. Obstetrical and surgical cases have proportionately low fees. Registration fee and one monthly payment must accompany each application. Forms may be obtained at the office of the society, 65 Prescott street, N. E.

These applications are passed upon by the board of directors of five doctors, elected from the society, who serve without pay. Accepted members may call any physician whose name appears on the roster of the medical bureau. His bill will be covered by the monthly payments to the bureau.

The following physicians constitute the bureau: Dr. C. W. Strickler, chairman; Dr. E. G. Ballenger, Dr. Lewis M. Gaines, Dr. Ed Greene and Dr. B. T. Beasley, secretary.

The roster of physicians serving the bureau, numbering 277, are organized with the following officers: Dr. C. W. Roberts, president; Dr. Edgar Boling, vice president; Dr. Major Fowler, secretary.

Idea Behind Plan.

The motivating idea of the plan is the recognition by the Fulton County Medical Society of its social obligation to provide full and adequate medical care to the less fortunately circumstanced citizen and at the same time to preserve to the profession that control over medical activities which is essential to successful and efficient operation.

Another objective sought is to lighten the load of medical charity. The medical profession is being called upon to render an ever-increasing burden of medical care to its own economic undoing as well as to the detriment of those treated through charitable setups. Free medical care as ordinarily provided, is impersonal, routine, time consuming and on the mass plan. Paid-for services are personal, private, expeditious and individual. The Fulton County Medical Society believes its plan to be more equitable to the medical profession than indiscriminate extension of charity, as well as preferable for the group involved, as individuals will be less pauperized by such service and will have a more efficient type of medical care.

Free Service Long Given.

Medical service without remuneration has long been given by altruistic physicians who exercised the right to choose the objects of their charity. Continuous expansion of social service has resulted in the loss of the physician's privilege of choosing the patients to be benefited by his services. Exploitation of physicians has multiplied with the development of numerous charity clinics, hospitals and medical centers, with the inclusion under the cloak of charity of a host of the population whose economic status enables them to care for themselves wholly or in part.

A study of the recent Grady hospital report reveals an alarming increase in "charity" patients in this hospital. The number jumped from 45,885 in 1929 to 99,983 in 1934—more than double in five years. The figures represent about one person in every four in Fulton county and about 50 per cent of the entire sick population of the county. The number of emergency cases increased from 18,581 in 1929 to 38,379 in 1934, an average of 105 persons daily for every day of last year. In fact, a remark was heard to the effect that Grady was so crowded the families of patients couldn't find parking space for their cars when they came to visit at the hospital.

The injustice of treating large numbers of cases who cannot be properly classed as indigent, is obvious, both to taxpayers unfairly burdened and to doctors who give so much of their time without remuneration in the clinics.

Must Define Indigent.

It is important, therefore, to formulate a more exact definition of the indigent sick who must have charity. A more restricted definition of emergency cases should be applied. If after investigation it is found that the patient does not belong to the indigent class, he should be referred to private hospitals or his own physician for treatment. It is the custom now to rush every emergency to Grady, without regard to the economic status of the patient, although there are many hospitals in Atlanta ready and willing to help in handling these cases.

Nation-Wide Movement.

The plan adopted by the Fulton County Medical Society is part of a nation-wide movement, already under way in more than 150 localities throughout the country, and fostered by the American Medical Association. This association believes that in the present trend toward state medical control lie very grave dangers, not only to the economic life of the medical profession, but to the country as a whole in multiple taxation and the inevitable lessening of efficiency in medical service subject to political corruption and administered by laymen unfamiliar with medical science. The house of delegates of the A. M. A. on February 16, 1935, adopted resolutions summarized as follows:

The primary considerations of the physicians constituting the American Medical Association are the welfare of the people, the preservation of their health and their care in sickness, the advancement of medical science, the improvement of medical care and the provision of adequate medical service to all the people. These physicians are the only body in the United States qualified by experience and training to guide and suitably control plans for the provision of medical care. The fact that the quality of medical service to the people of the United States today is better than that of any other country in the world is evidence of the extent to which the American medical profession has fulfilled its obligations.

Hits Comoulsory Insurance.

The house of delegates of the American Medical Association reaffirms its opposition to all forms of compulsory sickness insurance whether administered by the federal government, the governments of the individual states or by any individual industry, community or other similar body. It reaffirms, also, its encouragement to local medical organizations to establish plans for the provision of adequate medical service for all of the people, adjusted to present economic conditions, by voluntary budgeting to meet the costs of illness.

The house of delegates recognizes the necessity under conditions of emergency for federal aid in meeting basic needs of the indigent; it deprecates, however, any provision whereby federal subsidies for medical services are administered and controlled by a lay bureau. While the desirability of adequate medical service for crippled children and for the preservation of child and maternal health is beyond question, the house of delegates deplores and protests those sections of the Wagner bill which place in the children's bureau of the department of labor the responsibility for the administration of funds for these purposes.

Epstein Bill Rapped.

The so-called Epstein bill, proposed by the American Association for Social Security now being prompted with propaganda in the individual states, is, says the house of delegates of the A. M. A., a vicious, deceptive, dangerous and demoralizing measure. An analysis of this proposed law has been published by the American Medical Association. It introduces such hazardous principles as multiple taxation, inordinate costs, extravagant administration and an inevitable trend toward social and financial bankruptcy, says the house of delegates of the A. M. A.

The house of delegates suggests that the board of trustees request the bureau of medical economics to study further the plans now existing and such as may develop, with special reference to the way in which they meet the needs of their communities, to the costs of operation, to the quality of service rendered, the effects of such service on the medical profession, the applicability to rural, village, urban and industrial population and to develop for presentation at the meeting of the American Medical Association in June model skeleton plans adapted to the needs of populations of various types.

Journal Comments.

The Journal of the American Medical Association made editorial comment on the dangers of the situation as follows:

"The number of competent minds that have already been brought to bear on the solution of this problem should eventually yield at least a suitable experiment if not a complete solution. More than anything else the medical profession fears hasty action and the setting up of some scheme which, once established, will ride, like the old man of the sea, on the back of medical progress and impede its advancement. We have already witnessed the spectacle of hastily devised programs in foreign countries now undergoing constant repair. Eventually there must be some solution that will adequately serve the people and at the same time not sap the life blood of the medical profession."

English Courts Not Superior to American, Holds Prominent Lawyer

Editor Constitution: Your editorial on the Hauptmann case, in a recent issue, was interesting.

Along with many other leading papers and magazines, you conclude that the English courts administer justice in criminal cases more speedily than do our American courts. I am inclined to file a general demurrer to this proposition.

I call your attention to the Tichborne case, tried in England, and reported in the current issue of the Journal of the American Bar Association. Tichborne was prosecuted for perjury. The trial lasted 180 days. Counsel for the defendant consumed 68 days in his argument to the jury, and the judge took 20 days to deliver his charge. We have no parallel to this in our American courts.

Speed is not the only objective, and certainly not the primary objective, in the trial of criminal cases.

As imperfect as are our rules of procedure, they compare favorably with those of any other civilized country.

J. R. PHILLIPS.

Louisville, Ga., Feb. 25, 1935.

Urges Speed in Hearing Criminal Case Appeals

Editor Constitution: The fear of swift justice will be the best deterrent to crime in Georgia. Our state, especially Atlanta, ranks second in homicides per capita, in all the United States. Trials can be secured rather quickly but time, with its forgetfulness, lapses on appeal.

Why could not our legislature require appeals from death sentences to be heard by the trial court within a week, and then require the supreme court to maintain a separate docket for these cases and be heard within 30 days, giving their decisions 10 days thereafter.

With such quick action, many a would-be murderer would stop, think and fear Georgia justice. The accused would have every advantage in appeals that he now has but it would be swifter. It would help reduce our rank in the murderers' column.

C. T. CONYERS.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 28, 1935.

Georgia Farmer Discusses Difficulty of Finding Markets for Vegetables

Editor Constitution: The farmers of Georgia are being urged to grow more vegetables and keep 50 to 100 million dollars at home that's going to other states annually.

How shall we do it?

For instance, with beans kept on our markets 12 months in the year and we can only grow them five to six months. The same can be said of tomatoes and many other of the more tender vegetables.

Then there's no getting around the fact that other sections can grow a superior grade of some vegetables, "the Texas spinach," "the Colorodo canteloupe," "Florida celery," "south Alabama sweet potato," "the Maine-grown Irish potato." Will add that as long as Maine can furnish Georgia at the prices of this year, I say let them do it.

I have been on the Atlanta and surrounding markets for the last eight years, and vegetables have become more plentiful each year, and less profitable to the grower. This has happened notwithstanding the increased distribution by trucks to other states.

Now this is not written in any spirit of selfishness, and I have no desire to throw "cold water" on any undertaking that would help the farmer, but we should be sure of our foundation for 1935.

C. L. BENNETT.

Madisop, Ga., Feb. 28, 1935.

Urges That Referendum On Sale of Beer Be Held

Editor Constitution: The beer bill as passed by the house would permit beer to be drunk anywhere, and alcoholic content not limited.

Would it be fair for a bill like that to become law in Georgia without submitting it to the people as a referendum? It would virtually destroy every semblance of prohibition in our state and make saloons—drinking places—ofprivate homes, grocery stores, drug stores, hotels, garages, and any place, just so the license fee was paid.

MRS. M. K. PHILLIPS.

Bremen, Ga., Feb. 28, 1935.

Knowing Yourself

By JULIAN PENNINGTON.

This is one of a new series of articles in which Mr. Pennington will aid readers of The Constitution in deciding whether they are following the pursuit for which they are best qualified.

BRUNO.

The following clipping is taken from a New York newspaper:

The New York Daily News, in a dispatch from Flemington, N. J., said that Bruno Hauptmann's motive for allegedly selecting the Lindbergh baby as a kidnaping victim was resentment at the bringing down of Baron Manfred von Richthofen, German war ace, by the Allies.

The Daily News gives as authority for this theory an unnamed psychiatrist who, it is stated, accurately analyzed the psychological characteristics of the kidnaper more than two years ago.

Hauptmann's "fixation" is further attested, the account says, by his selection of the name "Manfred," similar to Richthofen's first name, for his own child.

Be this as it may, there is something deeper than this which goes back to the man himself—something innate—something there long before he came to America—something there when he was a prisoner prior to coming to our shores.

We are not trying Hauptmann in this article. His guilt was settled by those who saw him personally and who watched him from the witness stand and whose responsibility it was to judge Bruno.

But if the photographs that we get from newspapers and newsreels are accurate, and if the description of his mannerisms are to be relied upon, we are not only dealing with a dual personality, but with an individual who is vicious, shrewd, cunning, and dangerous in each of these natures that make up his dual personality.

Some of his expressions that have been criticised, should not enter into the matter at all, because they are a part of his early environment. But this is not true as regards his manner of speaking, which is that of forcing his words through teeth that refuse to separate for articulation. Every student of human nature very thoroughly understands the definite and infallible meaning of concentric or inward gestures, which have been characteristic of the man from the very first.

A contrast in his features, the expression in his eyes, the movement of his hands, the shifting glances—these are not the behavior of one who is merely suppressed and who is conscious of the fact that every movement is being watched. These are subconscious manifestations that are understood by every man whose function is that of analyzing people.

In addition to the above, if you will select one of the many photographs of Bruno that have appeared from time to time in newspapers, a photograph that shows a full face view, you will be in a position to learn something about the man, if the camera has not misrepresented what we see.

If you will take a shiny cake knife and stand it on edge up and down the man's face so as to divide Bruno's photograph in halves, you will, by this method, be able to reflect either half twice. You will be surprised to see on either side of this reflector a personality that is thoroughly shocking, capable of planning patiently, and executing step by step, such crimes as are possible only to those who will go to any extent to carry out a purpose.

As has been stated, this is not an analysis of Bruno. It is an analysis of photographs and descriptive matter that have reached us in various ways. But those who feel that he is a "dumbbell" and not capable of a crime for which he is accused, are certainly not basing their opinion on the photographs and descriptive material of his behavior that have been in circulation.

Tuberculosis Asso. Head Thanks The Constitution

Editor Constitution: As president of the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association, I wish to express the thanks of the board of directors and myself for the publicity given our annual meeting. We sincerely hope for your continued co-operation and effort in arousing public interest in our fight against this dreaded disease.

C. C. AVEN,

President, Atlanta Tuberculosis Association.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 28, 1935.

What Bubbles From My Spring

By ERNEST NEAL
Poet Laureate of Georgia

THE MASTERPIECE.

I heard "The Storm," a masterpiece once played
By master artist: and the organ keys
Swept by his hand, in note and trill portrayed
The calm before the storm: the gentle breeze,
The rising cloud and slightly waving trees.
When louder, clearer, fiercer grew the strain,
The cloudburst came in notes like fiends arrayed;
The crash of thunderbolt, the hail, the rain.
Then concord of sweet sound brought forth blue skies again.

This life's an organ with a myriad strings;
Each quivering string is just a human heart,
Swept by the Great Musician's hand and brings
The note best suited to each separate part
In life's great song, transcending human art.
The varied notes to ONENESS rush or plod,
Until COMPLETENESS into being starts.
For He that moldedst man from sordid sod
Canst blend discord into the harmony of God.

Thoughtless Words

O stupid soul, by ignorance bound
Why will you never learn
That thoughtless words will often cause
The heart with grief to burn.

Perhaps some word, unweighed, has fallen
To wound a friendly heart,
And now the pain within my own
Is like a fiery dart.

I remember now each word and act
Her gentle smile so kind:
And now one word has changed our course;
With grief my soul is blind.

Perhaps as days stretch into years
Her heart will grow less sore,
And I may share her friendship warm
Just as I did before.

—JOHN T. McKIBBEN.

Looking for a Job

You go to many places,
You meet Harry, Tom and Bob
As you walk all over town
Looking for a job.

If you are an ex-soldier
Or perhaps—a gob,
It may help a little bit
When looking for a job.

When you come home at night
Your wife emits a sob,
When you explain your failure
In looking for a job.

If a man is broke and hungry
He may even rob,
When he gets all discouraged
Looking for a job.

—J. S. B.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

You can get an answer to any answerable question of fact or information by writing to Washington Bureau of The Atlanta Constitution, 1013 Thirteenth street, N. W., Washington, D. C., enclosing three cents in coin or postage stamps for reply. Do not use postal cards. Medical and legal advice cannot be given, nor can extended research be made. All other questions will receive a personal reply. Letters without name or address cannot be answered. All letters are confidential. You are cordially invited to make use of this free service as often as you please.

Q. Give the name for a nine-sided polygon.

A. Nonagon.

Q. What is the name of the furniture factory in New York in which Mrs. Roosevelt is interested?

A. The Val-Kill Furniture Company, with offices at 331 Madison avenue, New York city.

Q. How many negroes are in the United States?

A. The 1930 census enumerated 11,891,143.

Q. Where did Noah's Ark rest after the flood?

A. Mt. Ararat in Armenia is the traditional resting place.

Q. Which is the oldest inhabited city?

A. Damascus, in Syria, is reputed to be the oldest continuously inhabited city in the world.

Q. How is the smoke made that is discharged by airplanes in "skywriting?"

A. It comes from a cylinder attached to the side of the plane, consisting of a smoke pot containing tar, a certain amount of rosin and solidified alcohol. Some planes use ordinary lamp black or other mixtures.

Q. Give the real name, age and marital state of James Dunn, the actor.

A. He uses his real name, and he is 29 years old, and unmarried.

Q. Is the number of justices of the United States supreme court fixed by the constitution, and how are they appointed?

A. The number is fixed by act of congress. The president appoints justices to that court when vacancies occur, subject to the approval of the senate.

Q. In which year was the largest production of automobiles in the United States?

A. The peak year was 1929, when 4,794,898 passenger cars and 826,817 trucks were produced.

Q. Where was Joe Penner born?

A. Becskerek, Hungary.

Q. How are the tunes in an old-fashioned cylinder music box produced?

A. The notes are generated by vibrating teeth on a steel comb, which are turned to produce the notes of the musical scale, and their points are in juxtaposition with a revolving cylinder, moved by a spring, on which are small projecting pins, arranged so that, the cylinder turns, they agitate the teeth which produce the desired combination or succession of sounds.

Q. Who obtained the first patent for a bicycle in the United States, and where was the first bicycle factory?

A. The first patent was granted to William K. Clarkson, June 26, 1819, for an "improved curricle." The first bicycle factory in this country was established in 1877, by Albert A. Pope, who organized the Pope Manufacturing Company. His first machines were manufactured by the Week Sewing Machine Company, at Hartford, Conn., and were named Columbia. They were high bicycles with a large wheel in front and a small wheel trailing.

Q. In which picture was the song "Charmaine" played?

A. "What Price Glory?"

Q. Where is the Leaning Tower of Pisa?

A. In Pisa, Tuscany, Italy, on the Arno river, seven miles from the sea, and 49 miles west of Florence.

Q. When was the United States Steel Corporation incorporated?

A. February 25, 1901, under the laws of New Jersey.

FAMOUS BANDITS

The James Brothers—Jesse and Frank; the Ford Brothers; the Younger Brothers; Charles Quantrell; Henry Plummer; Billy the Kid—the life stories of all these famous bandits are in our Washington bureau's bulletin—FAMOUS BANDITS.

If you wish a copy of this bulletin, fill out the coupon below and mail as directed:

CLIP COUPON HERE

Dept. 327, Washington Bureau, Atlanta Constitution,
1013 Thirteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

I want a copy of the bulletin FAMOUS BANDITS, and enclose herewith five cents in coin (carefully wrapped), or uncancelled United States postage stamps, to cover return postage and handling costs:

Name .....

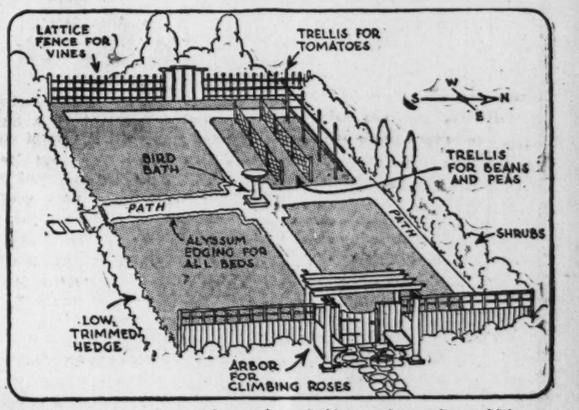

Street and No. .....

City ..... State .....

I am a reader of The Atlanta Constitution.

The Government Buys Shrubs

By W. ELBRIDGE FREEBORN.

Last week we quoted several paragraphs from a federal housing project specification sheet to show the care with which the federal government insists plants be handled. We felt that so much emphasis, so much talk, so many excuses have been made for not handling plants correctly that it is often completely overlooked or glossed over.

Today we are quoting again from these same specifications to show the kind of top soil, manure and fertilizer that shall be used and the quality plants that must be used on this federal housing project.

Personally, we have no opinion to offer as to the general housing plans, but we do have nothing but praise to offer any agency that insists upon quality. For the last few years all of us have found it necessary to curtail expenses in some way, and in doing this we have usually found it necessary to sacrifice some in quality.

In no lines of merchandise has this been carried to the extreme that it has in plants, and many of our landscaping projects show this only too well. After all, it is a simple problem: Can a plant that must be sold for $1 be grown, dug and transplanted with the same care as one to be sold for $3? The obvious answer is correct.

Therefore, we take great pleasure in quoting from these specifications that obviously show the quality of work that the federal housing administration now say they will have. The standards of quality in plants can not be left for long without affecting the beauty of our homes for a long period of years.

"All plant materials shall be free from diseases, scale, insects and other parasitic life. No plant shall be accepted when the ball of earth surrounding its roots has been cracked or broken by careless handling preparatory to or during the process of planting or after the burlap, staves, ropes and platform required in connection with its use have been removed or otherwise. No plant with an insufficient ball of earth incorporated about the roots shall be accepted, and any such plants offered will be rejected.

"All top soil shall be a light friable loam containing a liberal amount of humus free from heavy clay, coarse sand, stones, plants, roots, sticks or other foreign materials. The contractor shall inform the contracting officer as to the location from which he intends to obtain top soil for this work, and shall also inform the contracting officer what crops or plants have been growing in the soil during the past five years, and what fertilization the soil has had during that period.

"Manure shall be well rotted, at least six months old and not more than two years old, free from sawdust, shavings or refuse of any kind and containing not over 25 per cent of straw.

"A sample of the manure proposed to be used for this work shall be submitted to the contracting officer for approval before anything is done in respect to purchasing it. This sample shall be approximately one cubic foot in volume and shall be placed within a suitable metal container which can be sealed for shipment, and which is obtainable in stock.

"All fertilizer required shall be a commercial fertilizer meeting the following requirements:

"It shall contain in available form at least 12 per cent of phosphorus, 4 per cent nitrogen, and 4 per cent potash by weight. Seventy per cent of the total nitrogen shall be water soluble and 30 per cent water insoluble. The nitrogen from the inorganic ammoniates shall be derived equally from sulphate of ammonia and nitrogen compound with a calcium base. The nitrogen from the organic ammoniates shall be derived from tankage and cottonseed meal. The total cottonseed meal shall not be less than 100 pounds per ton. The potash shall be derived from muriate of potash. One hundred pounds of sulphate of magnesia shall be included in each ton of fertilizer.

"A sample of the fertilizer shall be submitted to the contracting officer for approval before the fertilizer is ordered. This sample shall be submitted in a glass jar of quart size, which shall be completely filled with fertilizer.

"General. Plant materials shall conform to the requirements of the planting list hereinafter given. Any plant not true to variety and color specified in the planting list shall be removed by the contractor and replaced with planting material of the variety and color specified at his own expense.'

WHAT TO DO IN MARCH.

MULCHING: This is the last chance for giving the rose and perennial bed a thorough mulching with peat moss and sheep manure. This mulch will hold moisture in the beds throughout the spring and summer and is of vital importance. A mixture of sheep manure, peat moss and woods earth is best.

FERTILIZING: A fairly heavy application of bone meal or sheep manure should be broadcast over the lawn, as well as around the shrubbery, perennials and roses. Use raw bone meal for bulbs and perennials.

PRUNING: March is the best month for pruning all kinds of bush roses. Err on the heavy side of pruning rather than on the light side. Most varieties of roses can be pruned from 8 to 12 inches from the ground. They should be given a thorough spraying with Bordeaux or Massey dust directly after this pruning.

SPRAYING: Now is the time for the last dormant spraying of fruit trees.

18 for 15¢ FLOWERING-SIZE GLADIOLUS

Three each of these six: Doroth

Announcing...

The Game of Movie-Titles

A New Contest Offered By The Atlanta Constitution With ---

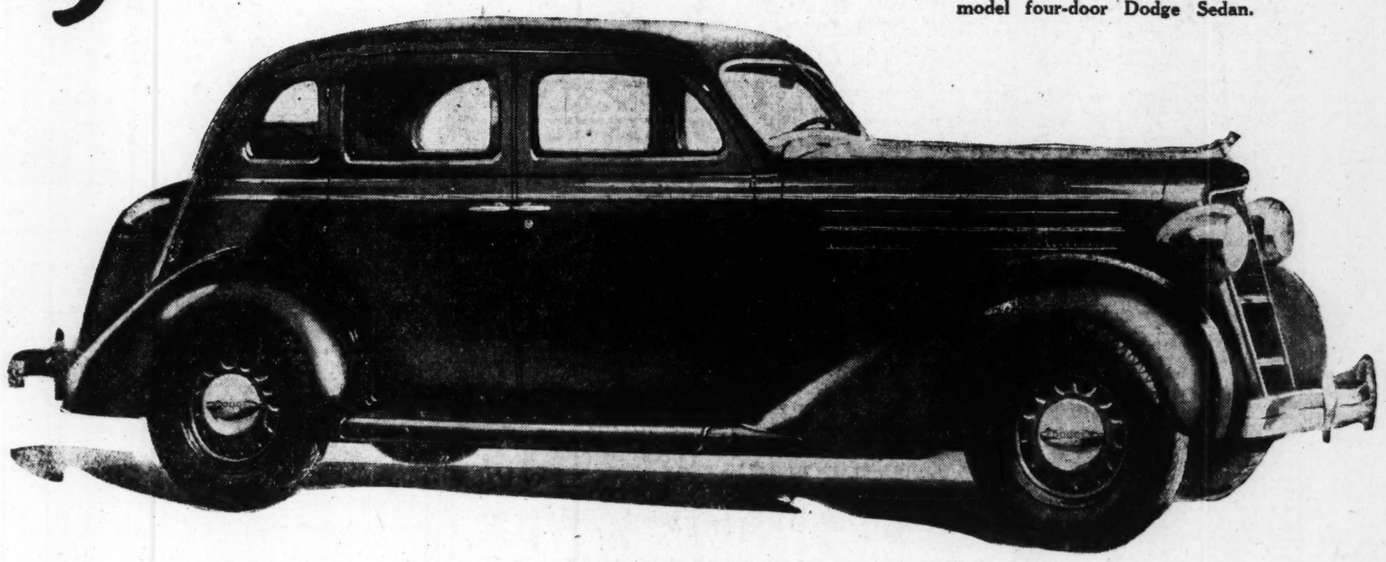

$2,500.00

IN CASH PRIZES

YOU CAN WIN $1,000.00

and...

... This fully equipped new 1935 model four-door Dodge Sedan.

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" "The Count of Monte Cristo"

"Little Man What Now"? "Lives of a Bengal Lancer"

Here's How You Win

Look at the cartoon printed at the left.

This cartoon represents the TITLE of a Movie. Select a suitable title from the list directly below the cartoon.

What is the correct title for this cartoon. Is it "Little Man What Now"?

This sample cartoon is printed merely to give you the IDEA of the contest.

Beginning soon, The Constitution will print one of the official 30 cartoons each day for 30 days. However, you do not need to wait each day for the cartoons to appear. If you would like to see all 30 cartoons beforehand, all you need to do is use the coupon in the lower right corner of this page, it will bring you all 30 cartoons.

MAIL THIS COUPON NOW

"Game of Movie-Titles" Editor:
The Atlanta Constitution,
Atlanta, Georgia.

Please send me without obligation all thirty cartoons and complete details of the "Game of Movie-Titles" to:

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

CITY ..... STATE .....

TELEPHONE NUMBER .....

WANT AD SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

WANT AD SECTION

VOL. LXVII., No. 264. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1935.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Information

CLOSING HOURS

Want Ads are accepted up to 9 p. m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One time.....30 cents
Three times.....17 cents
Seven times.....15 cents
Minimum, 2 lines (12 words).

In estimating the space to an ad figure six average words to a line.

Ads ordered for three or seven days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustments made at the rate earned.

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Constitution will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

All want ads are restricted to their proper classification and The Constitution reserves the right to revise or reject any advertisement.

Ads ordered by telephone are accepted from persons listed in the telephone or city directory on a memorandum charge only, in return for this courtesy the advertiser is expected to remit promptly.

To Phone An Ad

Call WAlnut 6565

Ask for an Ad-Taker

Railroad Schedules

Schedule Published as Information. (Central Standard Time.)

TERMINAL STATION

Arrives—	A. & W. P. R. R.	—Leaves
11:35 pm	New Orleans, Montgomery	6:10 am
4:20 pm	....Montgomery Local....	1:00 pm
7:20 am	New Orleans, Montgomery	4:30 pm
11:40 am	New Orleans, Montgomery	6:05 pm

Arrives—	G. OF GA. RY.	—Leaves
3:00 pm	.Griffin-Macon-Savannah	7:25 am
10:30 am	..... Columbus	7:45 am
5:55 pm	Macon-Albany and Florida	9:05 am
10:25 am	.... Griffin-Macon	4:00 pm
6:05 pm	..... Columbus	5:00 pm
6:30 am	Macon-Albany and Florida	7:30 pm
6:40 am	Macon-Albany and Florida	8:50 pm
5:58 am	Macon-Savannah-Albany	10:00 pm

Arrives—	SEABOARD AIR LINE	—Leaves
6:35 pm	..... Birmingham	7:20 am
	..... Memphis	7:20 am
8:20 pm	N.Y.-Wash.-Rich.-Norfolk	12:10 pm
11:58 am	..Birmingham-Memphis..	6:15 pm
7:10 am	N.Y.-Wash.-Rich.-Norfolk	6:55 pm
8:30 am	N.Y.-Wash.-Rich.-Norfolk	9:30 pm
8:30 am	..... Birmingham	11:45 pm

Arrives—	SOUTHERN RAILWAY	—Leaves
7:15 pm	..Valdosta-Brunswick ..	6:45 am
8:10 pm	.... Local-Greenville	7:00 am
8:20 pm	.. Detroit-Chi.-Cley. ...	7:05 am
8:55 pm	.. Birm-Kansas City	7:10 am
3:50 pm	.. Piedmont Limited ...	8:00 am
5:00 pm	..Anniston-Birmingham ..	9:10 am
5:28 pm	.. Jax-Miami-St. Pete ..	10:10 am
5:40 pm	.. Wash.-New York	12:01 pm
3:30 pm	.. Rich.-Wash.-N. Y. ...	12:10 pm
7:30 am	..... Rome-Chatt.	2:15 pm
11:40 am	Columbus-Warm Springs	4:15 pm
11:40 am	..Birmingham-Memphis .	4:15 pm
9:45 am	..... Fort Valley	5:15 pm
8:50 am	.... Rich.-Wash.-N. Y. ..	5:30 pm
10:00 am	..Cin.-L'ville-Chi.-Det. ..	6:00 pm
7:05 am	Columbia-G'nsboro.-Wash	7:30 pm
6:20 am	Jax-Brunswick-St. Pete	8:30 pm
6:55 am	.. Jacksonville-Miami ..	9:15 pm
5:55 am	..... Birmingham	11:30 pm
5:50 am	.... Wash.-N. Y.-Ashe. ..	11:55 pm

UNION PASSENGER STATION

Arrives—	A. B. & C. R. R.	—Leaves
7:10 pm	.. Cordele-Waycross ..	7:15 am
5:50 am	.. Waycross-Tift.-Thos. ..	9:15 pm

Arrives—	GEORGIA RAILROAD	—Leaves
5:35 pm	.. Augusta-Columbia ..	7:25 am
5:35 pm	.. Florence-Richmond ..	7:25 am
5:20 am	.. Augusta-Florence ..	9:00 pm
5:20 am	. Charleston-Wilmington .	9:00 pm

Arrives—	L. & N. R. R.	—Leaves
8:30 pm	.. Cin.-Chicago-L'ville. ..	7:40 am
4:45 am	Knoxville via Blue Ridge	7:15 am
12:08 pm	..Knoxville-Cin.-L'ville ..	3:25 pm
8:35 am	. Cin.-Detroit.-Cleveland .	6:25 pm

Arrives—	N., C. & St. L. RY.	—Leaves
7:05 pm	Chatt.-Nash.-Chi.-St. L. .	8:00 am
8:30 am	Chatt.-Chicago-St. Louis	6:30 pm
7:00 am	Chatt.-Nashville-St. Louis	9:15 pm

Announcements

Travel Opportunities 1

DRIVING Chicago in few days, heated sedan. Can take 2 or 3 passengers; very reasonable. Address O-235, Constitution.

LEAVING for New Orleans and Houston, take 3 pass., share expense. Address O-254, Constitution.

DRIVING New York via Washington soon. Can take 3. Address O-206, Constitution.

Truck Transportation 1-A

SUDDATH

ARE you planning to move? Our vans are going soon to New York, Washington, Jacksonville and Miami. Rates are very reasonable on connecting loads or part loads to or from any point en route. 990 Stewart Ave., Atlanta, Ga. RA. 3521.

WANTED—Return load from N. Y., Phila., Baltimore, Wash. Weathers, MA. 9478.

WANTED loads from Miami, Charlotte, New York, Chicago. WA. 2701.

EMPTY vans to, from, Va., Miss., South Ga., Tenn. White, MA. 1888.

Beauty Aids 2

Opening Special

$2.00 and $3.00

Permanent Waves complete, including hair trim, shampoo and set.

Shampoo and Finger Wave, dried, both for.....25c

Arcade Wave Salon

312-14 Peachtree Arcade Bldg. JA. 7136

"SPECIAL OFFER"

A Lovely Permanent Wave COMPLETE $1.45

Other Waves, $2 $3 $5. Haircut, Shampoo, Finger Wave, 75c.

Broom's Beauty Shop

214 Grand Bldg. JA. 8100.

AN UNUSUAL OFFER

A beautiful soft natural permanent with a head full of curls. Complete with trim, shampoo and set..... $2.00

Other Waves $3 and $5. Shampoo and Finger Wave 50c. All Work Guaranteed.

Hollywood Beauty Salon

414 GRAND THEATER BLDG. JA. 8880.

Mr. Daniel

Expert Child's Hair Cutting. (Formerly with the Boys' Shop.) CARNEGIE BEAUTY PARLOR DARLING SHOP.

190 Peachtree St. WA. 5457.

FREE HAIR CUTS AND MARCELS
PERMANENT WAVES, $1 AND UP

Artistic Beauty Institute

10½ Edgewood Ave.

MRS. SARAH CLARK FLEMMING, Mrs. C. C. Payton, Mrs. C. L. Holbrook and Miss Dorothy Gurley.

Decatur Beauty Salon

DE. 4692. 409 Church St.

ART & JERRY CROQUIGNOLE WAVES $3.00

Evening Appointments for Your Convenience. 146 Peachtree St. WA. 2170

Permanent Waves, $2.00

RYCKELEY'S

69½ Whitehall St. JA. 7037

$2.50 OIL CROQUIGNOLE WAVES COMPLETE

Macky's, 66½ Whitehall

Over Nisley Shoe Store. JA. 7089, WA. 6073

Peachtree at 11th St. HE. 3550

Announcements

Beauty Aids 2

$3 Oil Croquignole Waves

Dried finger waves 25c, with shampoo 45c.

624 LEE ST. LLOYD'S RA. 9142

CROQUIGNOLE WAVES

JACQUELINE BEAUTY SALON, 606 Grand Theater Bldg. WA. 7846

$1.45 Croquignole Waves

Hair Cuts, Shampoo, Finger Wave, 75c. BROOM'S, 214 Grand Bldg. JA. 8100.

Special $3 Croquignole Waves $2

Pansy's Beauty Salon

203 Connally Bldg. JA. 8372

$2 & $3 Waves complete, shampoo and finger wave dried, 25c; Guarantee Wave Salon, 614 Grand Bldg., JA. 8552

$1.50 Permanents, comp. Grace's Beauty Shop. 301 Silvey Bldg. JA. 9267.

$2, $3, $5 WAVES complete. Hollywood Beauty Shop. 414 Grand Bldg. JA. 8880.

$1.50 Permanents. Elson's Beauty Shop, 2nd floor Kessler's. JA. 8140.

Personal 8

CASH for old gold. We are paying the new high prices. Repairing of watches, clocks and jewelry a specialty.

E. A. Morgan Established 1906. 119 Hunter St., S. W.

EPILEPTICS—Anxious to tell sufferers from epileptic attacks how my husband found complete relief after specialists failed. Letters answered. Mrs. Geo. Dempster, Apt. A-5, 6900 Lafayette Blvd. West, Detroit, Mich.

HOME PAINTING PAPERING HOUSE RENOVATING REDECORATING HE. 7732

MOTORING to California. Will share expenses and promise to keep alert at the wheel by chewing Wrigley's Spearmint gum while driving. Wise Motorist.

CONNALLY Bldg. Shoe Rebuilders, now open in basement, Connally Bldg. WA. 8922.

Reduce Pine needle baths, manipulations, light treatments. General Health Clinic, 652 Blvd., S. E. MA. 1467.

GEORGIA Appeal Reports. What volumes have you? Cash proposition. Address O-110, Constitution.

MATERNITY hospital. Ethical, exclusive. Babies boarded. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 203 North Ave., N. E.

EXPERIENCED seamstress desires sewing, will come to home. 550 Angier Ave., N. E.

CURTAINS laundered, tinted, fluted call, delivered. WA. 1073.

PROFESSIONAL dressmaking, slip covers, drapes, etc. Expert work. HE. 8558-W.

FURS RESTYLED, LADIES' TAILORING. Est. in Atlanta 15 Yrs. HE. 6201.

BABIES BOARDED—Individual care, confidential. Reas. Nurse in charge. DE. 4495-J.

$1.50 Coats relined. Also dress-making, remodeling. Reas. WA. 7775.

Reduce for spring. Results guaranteed. Miss Manning, MA. 5879.

FURS REMODELED. LATEST TAILORING. MRS. FAIRBANKS, MA. 1786

DR. DUNCAN—Plates, $10; repairing, $1. Cleaning, $1. 135½ Whitehall St. MA. 4537.

Curtains Laundered. Called for and delivered. 807 Pryor. MA. 2780.

ARE YOU TENSE OR TIRED OR IN PAIN? SEE MRS. BUTLER, HE. 4416-W.

ELECTRIC and alcohol rubs. Men and women. Mrs. Myrtle Brown, HE. 5275-R.

ALCOHOL RUBS BY NURSE. MEN, WOMEN. MRS. SMITH, MA. 9975.

CURTAINS Laundered. reas., called, deliv. Mrs. Estes, DE. 4241

Lost and Found 10

LOST or strayed, 2804 Brentwood Dr., Garden Hills, male wire-haired Fox Terrier; brown ears, black saddle on back. Reward. CH. 1623.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN, RED FEMALE PUPPY FROM 214 MADISON AVE., DECATUR. REWARD. MA. 0266.

Automotive

Automobiles for Sale 11

BARGAINS IN NEW 1934 CHEVROLETS

WE have several new 1934 Chevrolet Sedans and Coaches left in stock. Also some 1934 Chevrolet ½-ton Pick-ups and ½-tone Panel Trucks. These cars and trucks are covered by our new car guarantee. We will make an attractive trade and terms with anyone who is interested.

"The Old Reliable"
JOHN SMITH CO.
Atlanta Chevrolet Dealers
HE. 0500
530-540 W. Peachtree St.

DEPENDABLE USED CARS AND TRUCKS
"The Old Reliable"
JOHN SMITH CO.

BOOMERSHINE MOTORS, INC.

Leads Atlanta in Used Car Values
425 Spring St. JA. 1921

"Atlanta's Oldest Ford Dealer"
Used Car Bargains—Specialty Service.
ERNEST G. BEAUDRY
168-174 Walton St., N. W. JA. 0446
169 Marietta St., N. W.

'33 DODGE De Luxe Sedan. New tires, safety glass and other special features. This car has been well cared for and is perfect throughout. Will trade for cheap car or make special price and terms. McGullian, WA. 0818.

WE OFFER ATLANTA'S GREATEST VALUE IN USED CARS.
CAPITAL AUTOMOBILE CO.
830 W. Peachtree St. HE. 5186

'34 HUDSON 4-dr. sedan; has been well cared for and is in very good condition every way. Will sell at bargain. Mr. Lee. HE. 9580.

PHONE Mr. Gibson, RA. 8663. 1931 Oldsmobile Patricia sedan. Mechanically perfect, never a car had better care. Original paint as clean as new. Don't fail to see this car. Phone Mr. Gibson, RA. 8663.

A. M. CHANDLER, INC.
Better Used Cars.
138 E. Ponce de Leon Ave.
Decatur, Ga. DE. 2771.

1934 PLYMOUTH DE LUXE COACH—In perfect mechanical condition, driven very little, like new car in every respect. Has radio, carries guarantee. Will accept small car in trade and easy terms. Phone Mr. Gibson, RA. 8663.

CLOSING OUT CAR AND TRUCK SALE
REO - SALES
449 W. Peachtree St. JA. 5821

LATE Pierce-Arrow, 12-cylinder, 4-pass., convertible de luxe roadster. Exceptionally low mileage and guaranteed perfect. A luxurious and distinctive car that cost $4,000. Will sell for $995 on terms or trade. Mr. Owens, HE. 5142.

1934 OLDSMOBILE "6" five-passenger touring coupe. Driven very little, has second set tires, paint and upholstery as clean as new car. Carries guarantee. Will accept trade. 18 months' terms if desired.

NEW USED CHEVROLETS
"Better Values Every Day."
EAST POINT CHEVROLET CO.
306-308 N. Main St. CA. 2166.

1933 DODGE 4-DR. SEDAN.

THIS car is in perfect condition. Looks and drives like new car. You must see and drive to appreciate. Phone Mr. Ross, Sunday. WA. 7691.

1932 Willys Knight light 6 sedan. Perfect every way; only $225. Terms.

W. E. McBRAYER MOTORS
262-64 Spring St. WA. 5115

'32 CHEVROLET coach. The cleanest in town. You must see this. I can't tell you how good it is here. Original paint and condition. Special price. Terms to suit or will trade. Mr. Towns, WA. 0818.

Automotive

Automobiles for Sale 11

MAIN 5000. MA. 5000.

Down Town Chevrolet Co.
Sales—Used Cars—Service.
329-331 Whitehall St., S. W.

1932 FRANKLIN 5-PASS. BROUGHAM $875
ATLANTA PACKARD MOTORS
The Best Place to Buy a Used Car.
370 PEACHTREE JA. 2727

'33 PLYMOUTH 4-dr. sedan. Splendid appearance. Good tires. Motor perfect. This is an unusually good car and will sell under the market for quick sale. A. T. HENRY, RA. 7483.

RELIABLE used cars at lowest prices. See us for real values.

J. W. GOLDSMITH, INC.
58 North Ave., N. E. HE. 9613.

1933 CHEVROLET business coupe. I have nice, clean Chevrolet to sell. This car is in perfect condition in every way. Will sell at a bargain. Mr. Ross, Sunday, WA. 7691.

SUPERBOND stationery, small lots, for the small user, at small cost; 500 letter heads, 500 envelopes, both for $4.75. Mail sample wording wanted and $1 cash deposit with order. Eiseman, Dept. 104, Jackson, Ga.

SOUTH'S LARGEST STOCK OF USED CARS
EVANS MOTORS OF GA., Inc.
Famous for Bargains
232 Peachtree St.

1933 BUICK sedan. Beautiful two-tone color, 6 wire wheels, 5-passenger, good rubber; in perfect mechanical condition and looks like new. Call Sunday, Mr. Ross, WA. 7691.

HARRY SOMMERS, INC.
GUARANTEED resale cars at lowest prices.
Peachtree at Forrest, Ja. 1834.

1929 Ford Coupe	$85
1928 Chrysler Coach	$60

Both cars are in good condition and real bargains. 20 Grumley St.

'31 FORD tudor sedan, new tires, reconditioned motor, $200 cash or $35 down, $18 month. McGee, MA. 0266.

1929 CHEVROLET COUPE, GOOD RUNNING CONDITION. WILL SACRIFICE FOR $85 CASH. 942 PEACHTREE, N. E.

1931 FORD TUDOR $165.
1929 FORD PICK-UP TRUCK $75.
882 MARIETTA ST.

1933 CHEVROLET coach, must sell. Bargain, $75 cash, terms arranged on balance. RA. 2634.

WILL exchange substantial equity in latest Chevrolet for notes. Miss Roles, Henry Grady Hotel.

1931 Studebaker Sedan. Perfect condition. $185. 442 Edgewood, WA. 5155.

1934 TERRAPLANE sport coupe, 4 months old, radio and extras. Give good trade on Model A Ford. MA. 7658.

'28 CHEVROLET COUPE; GOOD CONDITION; CASH; PRIVATE PARTY. CALL SUNDAY, 208 COLUMBIA DR., DECATUR.

MUST sell or trade for cheaper car, my 1934 Chevrolet coach, perfect throughout, radio. Terms arranged. JA. 8503.

'31 FORD De LUXE. 6 wheels, roadster, $225. 116 Spring St., S. W., opp. Sou. Ry. Bldg.

31 FORD De Luxe Spt. Roadster, A-1 condition, $225. Terms. 266 Peachtree.

1929 FORD CABRIOLET $125
SEIGEL MOTORS. CA. 1161

1934 Ford coach; good tires, rims, A-1, $375 cash. WA. 6945.

1931 FORD coach, good condition, $195. 136 EDGEWOOD AVE. MA. 6586.

Plymouth DEKALB MOTOR CO., Decatur. DE. 1568.

1934 CHEVROLET coach, $375. Campbell's, 212 Spring St., N. W. WA. 4684.

1928 CHEVROLET sedan, runs good, $45. 116 Spring St., S. W., opp. Sou. Ry. Bldg.

'33 CHEVROLET Spec'l Sed., 6 wire wheels. Heater equipped. Extra clean. WA. 4996.

1932 Chevrolet Coupe, clean, $295. Henn-Hatcher, 239 P'tree.

HIGHEST cash price for your car. Louis I. Cline, 262 Peachtree. WA. 1838.

USED auto parts shipped anywhere. Glasses installed. Crane Auto Parts, 268 Egewood.

1933 FORD standard coupe, $295. Campbell's, 212 Spring St., N. W. WA. 4684.

$35—Good 1927 Chevrolet landau sedan. Body good, new battery. RA. 5331.

FORDS—New and used. C. E. Freeman, Inc., 452 Peachtree St. WA. 5877.

1929 CHRYSLER "65" sedan, nice, $150. 116 Spring St., S. W., opp. Sou. Ry. Bldg.

FACTORY-BUILT trailer car. 219 Atlanta National Bldg.

1935 PLYMOUTH, DRIVEN 8 MILES, $100 DISCOUNT. DE. 2560-J.

1930 WILLYS-KNIGHT coupe with trailer. Apply 1034 Kirkwood Ave., S. E.

'27 BUICK sedan. Good running condition. 2 new tires, $75.

'33 FORD tudor sedan. Mechanically perfect. Gray. CA. 1792.

1934 FORD V-8 sedan, $425. 116 Spring St., S. W. Opp. Sou. Ry. Bldg.

Auto Trucks for Sale 11-A

TRUCK BARGAINS

'30 Dodge 1-ton stake	$125
'32 V-8 Ford ½-ton std. panel	325
'34 Chevrolet long-wheelbase, dual tires, 12-ft. stake	475
'33 G. M. C. 1½-ton 131-in. wb.	475
'33 G. M. C. 1½-ton 157-in. wb.	575
'30 A. B. Mack chassis and cab with winch	500

Demonstrated Trailers at Bargain Prices.

GENERAL MOTORS TRUCK COMPANY
231 IVY ST. WA. 7151.

1½-TON Ford 1931 dual wheels, stake body, perfect condition, truck for sale $250 cash. This truck is worth twice this amount but must be sold. Apply 925 Northern Ave., S. E., one block from Fair St.

1934 V-8 chassis, closed cab, 157-inch wheel base. Will take old truck in trade. WA. 9710. Mr. Holland.

1934 FORD de luxe panel delivery, 5,700 miles. Bargain. H. N. Wages, WA. 0663.

1929 Ford Sedan Delivery $145. Wade's Garage. 109 Piedmont. WA. 1118.

TWO 1934 Chevrolet long wheelbase trucks, bargain. Will trade. Edwards, WA. 9710.

USED TRUCK BARGAINS.
THE WHITE MOTOR CO. WA. 8242.

Cylinder Grinding 11-B

FORD "A" reground, $15; pistons, rings and pins included. Remanufactured Ford "A" motors exchanged, $29.50. McNEAL AUTOMOTIVE ENGINE WORKS. Since 1905, 330 Rawson, S. W. WA. 6407.

Auto Body and Top Repairs 13-A

WILL save you money on auto tops, seat covers, upholstery. Fender and body repairs. A. L. Quinn, 780 Gordon. RA. 9337.

Auto Painting

PUT YOUR CAR IN 1ST-CLASS CONDITION. EASY MONTHLY PAYMENTS.
Bannister Auto Service
595 W. Whitehall St., S. W., RA. 1913.

Wanted Automobiles 18

GET MONEY
on any model
AUTOMOBILE
99 Auburn Ave.
ED BRYANT
MA. 1244

CASH MONEY
AND a good price for a number Fords, Chevrolets, Plymouths, Terraplanes, '28, '29, '30, '31, '32, '33 and '34 models.
John S. Florence Motor Co.
230 Whitehall St., S. W. MA. 8362-3363.

Highest Cash Prices
for
Any Model Automobile
LOUIS I. CLINE
262 Peachtree WA. 1838

CASH for your car, or we will sell it for you on consignment. Call Mr. Davies.
CAUTHORN MOTOR CO.
505 W. Peachtree. HE. 8126

WANT 100 GOOD USED CARS. Will Pay Best Cash Prices.
D. C. BLACK, INC.
280 Peachtree. WA. 0372.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES
Any and All Makes Used Cars
ADAIR-LEVERT CO
265 Peachtree St. WA 4118

CASH FOR USED CARS. Campbell, 212 Spring St., N. W. WA. 4684.

Automotive

Wanted Automobiles 18

CASH FOR YOUR CAR.
NASH ATLANTA CO.,
Used Car Lot.
H. D. WAGER, Manager.
352 W. Peachtree. WA. 5454.

Pay Cash OR TRADE FOR EQUITY 1933 OR 1934 OLDS OR TERRAPLANE IMMEDIATELY. JA. 8302.

PAY CASH Late cars. Hall Motor Co., 7 Baker, N. W. WA. 2263.

LIGHT USED CAR FROM PRIVATE PARTY. WILL PAY CASH. JA. 8379.

HIGHEST cash price for your car. Louis I. Cline, 262 Peachtree. WA. 1838.

VACANT LOT on Briarcliff Rd., exchange for used car. Phone CHamblee 3751.

Business Service

Altering, Repairs, etc.

HOMES PAINTED, PAPERED, REPAIRED, FLOORS MADE NEW. HE. 7732.

Bed Renovating

$8.50 Inner spring mattress, made from your old mattress. IMPERIAL BEDDING CO. WA. 8611

$2.50 New ticking. Expert finishing. Gate City Mattress Co. JA. 3861.

OLD MATTRESSES made new with new tick, $2.25. 1ra St. Mat. Co. MA. 2773.

$2 ATLANTA'S oldest Mattress renovators. Trio Mattress Co. MA. 2983.

Building and Repairing

CARPENTERING, painting, calcimining, covering houses, $65 up. Best roofing. MA. 2040; BE. 1320-R.

BUILDING repairing: 20 years in Atlanta. Best refs. 177 Forrest Av., N.E. WA. 0253

Carpentering

ALL kinds repairing; guaranteed. Est. free. H. A. Kimbrell, 1025 Oak, S.W., RA. 1790.

Electrical Contracting

C. A. Puckett Prompt, reliable services. 18 Roswell Rd. CH. 3622

Floors

FLOORS Elec. Resurfaced—Refinished. Like new. HE. 7732.

Floor Finishing

New, Old Floors finished. White labor. 20 years exp. MA. 6157.

Furniture Repairing

WE UPHOLSTER furniture and clean upholstering, rugs. J. A. Jackson, RA. 7737.

Home Modernizing

SEE US for new home building under the Nat. hous. act. Ten Forsyth St. Rm. 231.

Moving and Storage

BLALOCK'S TRANSFER & STORAGE CO. WHITE LABOR. LOW RATES. DE. 1547.

DOKE BROS.—We move anything. Iron safes and machinery our specialty. WA. 8089.

Papering, Tinting, Painting

ROOMS tinted, $1.50, painting, plastering, word guaranteed. Brown, RA. 1004.

ROOMS tinted, $1.50 per room; plastering, paper cleaned. Elijah Webb, RA. 5090.

Piano Tuning

PIANO TECHNICIAN TUNING. M. D. HUMPHREY. WA. 1010.

EXPERT PIANO TUNING AT CABLE PIANO CO 84 BROAD ST. WA. 1041.

Pen and Pencil Repairing

EXCLUSIVE pen and pencil shop. Parker pens, $1.25 to $10. The Pen & Pencil Shop, 115 Peachtree Arcade.

Plumbing Supplies

WHOLESALE, retail; buy direct, 197 Central, S. W. Pickert Plumbing Supply Co.

Radio Repairing

REDFERN Radio Service. We repair all makes. Work guaranteed. MA. 1304.

RAME'S, Inc. WA. 5776. Repairs to all makes radios and victrolas

Special factory man will repair for small serv. chge. any make radio. JA 6600

Roofing

GA. ROOFING SUPPLY CO., 52 MANGUM. RELIABLE SERV. MA. 5429.

Roofing, Painting, Papering

Special Prices. Work guaranteed; 30 yrs. exp. W. S. Stroud. RA. 1292.

ROOFING, guttering, painting, chimney work; 12 yrs.' exp. Cofer RA 7286.

ROOFING, PAINTING. TERMS. COWART. MAIN 8679.

Roofing, General Repairing

ROOFS THAT WILL NOT LEAK NOR BLOW OFF. LOW PRICES. Phone K. M. TROWBRIDGE, DE. 4007-J

Upholstering, Refinishing

FURNITURE upholstered and refinished. Rugs cleaned $1 up. Guaranteed. Mr. Burts, MA. 0440.

Upholstering

$35 3-piece suite, reupholstered complete. Expert work. Mr. Bruce. WA. 9080.

Window Shade Cleaning

WINDOW SHADES cleaned. New shades furnished. Reasonable prices. CA. 9753.

Business Service

Wall Paper

WALLPAPERING Lower estimates. Water-fast paper prices begin at 6c. Call MA. 3100.

Wallpapering and Painting

If you are interested in papering, painting or repairing your home on easy terms, call U. S. Ingle, RA. 9479 or MA. 3100.

RELIABLE WALLPAPERING, PAINTING. LOW PRICES. BEST REFS. WA. 9520.

Educational

Dancing

HURST Dancing School. HE. 9226. 594½ Peachtree St. (Garber's).

PRIVATE and class lessons daily. REGULAR dances Tues., Thurs. and Sat. Admission, gentlemen, 50c; ladies 25c

Instruction

COMPLETE your high school education at home; all material furnished; diploma granted; positively meets university requirements. Come in or write, American School, 1221 Mortgage Guarantee Bldg.

Wanted STUDENTS DESIRING TO BECOME EXPERTS QUICKLY AT SHORTHAND, TYPEWRITING, BOOKKEEPING. MA. 7632.

Employment

Help Wanted—Female 32

TWELVE ladies wanted immediately to demonstrate actual samples snag-proofed hosiery to friends. Up to $22 weekly without canvassing. Samples free. Send hose size. American Hosiery Mills, Dept. 5822, Indianapolis.

MARRIED woman to give away free samples quality flavoring, approved by Good Housekeeping and make customers. No hard canvassing. Samples free. Send no money. Write Blair, Dept. FSW-2181, Lynchburg, Va.

$15 WEEKLY and your own dresses free for demonstrating latest lovely Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Write fully. Give size and color preference. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-8212, Cincinnati, Ohio.

WE WILL have two openings available March 10. Preference will be given to aplicants having experience in primary or grade teaching. Interview will be arranged by letter. Address O-248, Constitution.

HOSPITAL, Inst'l. positions practically order firms. Good pay. Experience unnecessary. No canvassing. Write, stamped envelope, United Advertising, 1114 DeKalb avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ADDRESS envelopes at home, spare time, $5 to $15 weekly. Experience unnecessary. Dignified work. Send stamp for particulars. Hawkins, Dept. 274, Box 75, Hammond, Ind.

LADIES—Earn money doing needlework at home. No canvassing. Stamped envelope brings particulars. Royal Novelty Co., Portsmouth, Ohio.

SECRETARIAL COURSE—Three months, individual instruction. Graduates placed Special rates. Marsh Business College, Grand Theater Bldg. WA. 8809.

SPECIAL work for mothers who need $22 weekly at once. No canvassing, experience or investment. Give dress size. Dept. 1825, Harford Frocks, Cincinnati, Ohio.

LADIES who seek steady employment, guaranteed salary, pleasant work, advertising new line. J. Boeninger, Robert Fulton Hotel, 9 to 12 and 2 to 4.

TYPISTS—Good money, pleasant work typing manuscripts spare time. For information, write Typists' Bureau, Ocala, Fla. Enclose stamp.

COSMETICIANS, established reputable line. Outside territory open. Car helpful. Nina Ross Cosmetiquen Co., 214-101 Marietta St. Bldg.

ADDRESSING—Mailing circulars at home, for mail dealers. Earn $15 weekly. Stamp brings particulars. Wilson Co., Tucson, Ariz.

EARN up to $25 dozen embroidering scarfs, home; everything furnished. Write Art Embroidery, 924 Bergen, Jersey City, N. J.

COLORED cooks, maids, Northside jobs on lots, $6 to $10. 513 Pulliam.

GIRL for office, telephone work in exchange for room, board. 513 Pulliam.

Help Wanted—Male 33

WANTED — Three men between ages 25 and 35 to go into three weeks' training for position with local concern. Only those with good, clean records need apply. Men selected who qualify will be paid salary and expenses. Apply between 2 and 4 Sunday. Mr. Painter, Robert Fulton hotel.

SALES ENGINEER
DRAWING ACCOUNT—EXCLUSIVE CONTRACT

NATIONALLY-KNOWN corporation, established nearly 25 years seeks a salesman with at least 3 years' experience selling power plant, boiler room and maintenance supplies. A diversified line of guaranteed specialties; constant repeat orders; protected territory; a new sales plan; generous advertising support. Auto necessary. Write fully for appointment. The North American Fibre Products Co., Cleveland, O.

UNIVERSITY professor, C. P. A.—now organizing class in bookkeeping, accounting. Greenleaf School of Business
All secretarial subjects, day, night, MA. 7800

THEATER TICKETS
FOR WANT AD USERS
TENTH ST. THEATER or EMPIRE THEATER
Two Guest Tickets with each Want Ad paid in advance today for three times or more.

NOW PLAYING
AT TWO OF ATLANTA'S FINEST COMMUNITY THEATRES.

10TH STREET
PEACHTREE AT TENTH
HEMLOCK 2323

EMPIRE
GA. AVE. AT CREW ST.
MAIN 8430

Business Service

Wall Paper

WALLPAPERING Lower estimates. Water-fast paper prices begin at 6c. Call MA. 3100.

Wallpapering and Painting

If you are interested in papering, painting or repairing your home on easy terms, call U. S. Ingle, RA. 9479 or MA. 3100.

RELIABLE WALLPAPERING, PAINTING. LOW PRICES. BEST REFS. WA. 9520.

Educational

Dancing

HURST Dancing School. HE. 9226. 594½ Peachtree St. (Garber's).

PRIVATE and class lessons daily. REGULAR dances Tues., Thurs. and Sat. Admission, gentlemen, 50c; ladies 25c

Instruction

COMPLETE your high school education at home; all material furnished; diploma granted; positively meets university requirements. Come in or write, American School, 1221 Mortgage Guarantee Bldg.

Wanted STUDENTS DESIRING TO BECOME EXPERTS QUICKLY AT SHORTHAND, TYPEWRITING, BOOKKEEPING. MA. 7632.

Employment

Help Wanted—Female 32

TWELVE ladies wanted immediately to demonstrate actual samples snag-proofed hosiery to friends. Up to $22 weekly without canvassing. Samples free. Send hose size. American Hosiery Mills, Dept. 5822, Indianapolis.

MARRIED woman to give away free samples quality flavoring, approved by Good Housekeeping and make customers. No hard canvassing. Samples free. Send no money. Write Blair, Dept. FSW-2181, Lynchburg, Va.

$15 WEEKLY and your own dresses free for demonstrating latest lovely Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Write fully. Give size and color preference. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-8212, Cincinnati, Ohio.

WE WILL have two openings available March 10. Preference will be given to aplicants having experience in primary or grade teaching. Interview will be arranged by letter. Address O-248, Constitution.

HOSPITAL, Inst'l. positions practically order firms. Good pay. Experience unnecessary. No canvassing. Write, stamped envelope, United Advertising, 1114 DeKalb avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ADDRESS envelopes at home, spare time, $5 to $15 weekly. Experience unnecessary. Dignified work. Send stamp for particulars. Hawkins, Dept. 274, Box 75, Hammond, Ind.

LADIES—Earn money doing needlework at home. No canvassing. Stamped envelope brings particulars. Royal Novelty Co., Portsmouth, Ohio.

SECRETARIAL COURSE—Three months, individual instruction. Graduates placed Special rates. Marsh Business College, Grand Theater Bldg. WA. 8809.

SPECIAL work for mothers who need $22 weekly at once. No canvassing, experience or investment. Give dress size. Dept. 1825, Harford Frocks, Cincinnati, Ohio.

LADIES who seek steady employment, guaranteed salary, pleasant work, advertising new line. J. Boeninger, Robert Fulton Hotel, 9 to 12 and 2 to 4.

TYPISTS—Good money, pleasant work typing manuscripts spare time. For information, write Typists' Bureau, Ocala, Fla. Enclose stamp.

COSMETICIANS, established reputable line. Outside territory open. Car helpful. Nina Ross Cosmetiquen Co., 214-101 Marietta St. Bldg.

ADDRESSING—Mailing circulars at home, for mail dealers. Earn $15 weekly. Stamp brings particulars. Wilson Co., Tucson, Ariz.

EARN up to $25 dozen embroidering scarfs, home; everything furnished. Write Art Embroidery, 924 Bergen, Jersey City, N. J.

COLORED cooks, maids, Northside jobs on lots, $6 to $10. 513 Pulliam.

GIRL for office, telephone work in exchange for room, board. 513 Pulliam.

Help Wanted—Male 33

WANTED — Three men between ages 25 and 35 to go into three weeks' training for position with local concern. Only those with good, clean records need apply. Men selected who qualify will be paid salary and expenses. Apply between 2 and 4 Sunday. Mr. Painter, Robert Fulton hotel.

SALES ENGINEER
DRAWING ACCOUNT—EXCLUSIVE CONTRACT

NATIONALLY-KNOWN corporation, established nearly 25 years seeks a salesman with at least 3 years' experience selling power plant, boiler room and maintenance supplies. A diversified line of guaranteed specialties; constant repeat orders; protected territory; a new sales plan; generous advertising support. Auto necessary. Write fully for appointment. The North American Fibre Products Co., Cleveland, O.

UNIVERSITY professor, C. P. A.—now organizing class in bookkeeping, accounting. Greenleaf School of Business
All secretarial subjects, day, night, MA. 7800

Employment

Help Wanted—Male 33

FOUR—MEN—FOUR AT ONCE

SELLING experience preferred, but not necessary. A real proposition, no canvassing. Apply promptly 9 a. m. Monday. Room 211, Red

Financial

Loans on Personal Property 40

So Says

MR. McCOLLUM

SUDDEN ACTION

THIS is the age of speed. Mile-a-minute automobiles, two-miles-a-minute trains and three-miles-a-minute airplanes, to say nothing of the speed of the present-day flapper.

Speed Speed Speed

WELL, there is nothing we can do about it but keep up with the pace. You set it and we will try to keep up with you.

NOW there is one thing you had better remember—while all of this commotion is going on, Please—Please—Please don't forget about keeping a good credit rating.

NOW here's where I come in. If the boys start pushing you—see me. I can give you SUDDEN ACTION. I've got money and a lot of ways of putting it out. One of them will suit your personal convenience. Come on up and see me at 311 William-Oliver Bldg. or call me at WAl. 5771 for appointment.

WHY Humiliate Yourself by

GETTING several of your friends, or relatives, to endorse your note when you need a hundred or two?

IF YOU have a sufficient income and a fair credit rating you can get the money from Master Loan Service on your OWN signature.

- No endorsers.
- No mortgages.
- No salary assignment.

ALL of this at no extra cost, and please remember that we make no investigation that would in any way embarrass you.

THE MASTER LOAN SERVICE
212 Healey Bldg.

PERSONAL LOANS
Georgia Finance Co.
WA. 1229.

CONFIDENTIAL LOANS ON DIAMONDS; ANY AMOUNT. 3 P'TREE ST. WA. 1910.

Loans on Automobiles 40-A

GET MONEY
on any model
AUTOMOBILE
99 Auburn Ave.
ED BRYANT
MA. 1244

Salaries Bought 41

Get the money you want without leaving our office.
POSITIVELY NO DELAY
NO RED TAPE
POPLAR FINANCE CO.
81 POPLAR ST.

Cash for Salaried People
$5 to $50
No Delay
NO MORTGAGES
No Endorsers
DAVIS FINANCE CO.
508 Haas Howell Bldg.
Entrance 75 Poplar St.

$5 CASH MONEY $50
Salaried Men and Women
Confidential—No Red Tape
Salary Finance Co., Inc.
219-20 Atlanta National Bank Bldg.

CLERKS AND STENOGRAPHERS.
$ MONEY $
Confidential—No Indorsers.
LIBERTY LOAN & INV. CO.
1012 Citizens & Southern Bank Bldg.

READY MONEY for salaried men and women. Prompt, courteous service.
Central Investment Co.
302 Silvey Bldg. 5 Edgewood Ave.

A NEW QUICK PLAN
$5 to $50—15-Minute Service
213 GRANT BUILDING

MONEY for salaried men and women same day applied for.
NATIONAL FINANCE CO.
503 Peters Bldg.

MONEY—SOU. PUR. CO.
313 Volunteer Bldg.

204 Peters Bldg. $5.00 to $50.00 NO DELAY
321 Grant Bldg. $5 to $50. City Trading Co.

Live Stock

Baby Chicks

BLUE Ribbon Chicks are good chicks. Personally pacillary diarrhoea antigen tested. Easier raised and makes you more month. Popular breeds $7.95 per hundred. Write or see us for special prices on larger or smaller quantities, 30,000 hatching weekly. Prepaid postage, 100 per cent arrivals. Blue Ribbon Hatchery, 215 Forsyth St., S. W., Atlanta, Ga.

DRUMM'S SOVEREIGN STRAINS. State tested 5 years. 100% free of white diarrhea. Approved by Purina research service. Trap-nesting under Miss. R. O. P. Southern champion layers World's Fair. Catalog free. Drumm Egg Farms, Hattiesburg, Miss.

SELECTED baby chicks, B. W. D. tested antigen. Ten years' hatching experience counts. Pays to buy the best. $7.95 hundred. Heavy assorted $7.45. $1 with order, balance C. O. D. Savannah Hatchery, Savannah, Ga.

HUSKY Barred Rocks, Reds, White Rocks, White Leghorns, 100—$7.95. Heavy mixed 100—$7.45. Prepaid; live delivery. Prompt shipments. Georgia State Hatchery, Athens, Ga.

QUALITY Baby Chicks, custom hatching. Wayne Feeds. Vesta Ave. Hatchery, 323 West Vesta Ave., East Point, Ga.

BABY chicks, brooders, supplies, feeds. Blue Ribbon Hatchery, 215 Forsyth, S. W.

BABY chicks; will hatch your eggs. Woodlawn Hatchery, 310 Piedmont. WA. 4095.

Canaries

FINE SINGERS—$4 EACH. 995 N. HIGHLAND, N. E. APT. 1.

Cows

FINE cow for sale. 224 Racine St., S. W. RA. 7651.

Chickens

S. C. WHITE Leghorn cockerels, 300-egg blood, $10 each. Contest and show winners. Breeder for 20 years. Eggs, $15 per 15. T. Julian Webb, 1194 Moreland Ave., S. E.

Dogs

MALE English beagle, registered outstanding blood of America, two years old, partly broken, price reasonable. B. F. O'Kelley, Marysville, Ga.

Poultry Feed

FREE CHICK FEEDER with purchase of 10 lbs. Pratt's Starting Mash. Reg. price.
Cottongim's, 93 Broad

Live Stock

Eggs

FRESH eggs daily from my yard. 35c doz. Also chicken manure, $1.50 hundred. Lake Ave. and Waddell St.

Horses

7-YEAR-old sorrel saddle horse. $125. 97 Tenth St., N. W.

Pets

LOVEBIRDS with cage, $5 pair; master singer canaries with cage, $5; wirehaired puppy, $7; black and tan puppy, $10; toy fox terrier, $5; guinea pigs, 25c and 50c each; pet monkey, $25. Mrs. L. P. Owen, 425 Ponce de Leon.

Puppies

GERMAN police puppies 6 weeks old, from Blue Ribbon mother, registered A. K. C. Sire close descendant from wonderful show dogs Rin-Tin-Tin and Strongheart. Females $5, male $10. WA. 8512.

$27.50 CHOW puppy, brilliant red, pedigreed, 2½ mo. Massive, big-boned specimen, from show parents. JA. 8503.

WIRE-HAIRED fox terriers, 7 months old. Litter registered. HE. 4538-W.

SCOTTIES. Registered Scottie puppies; best blood lines, well worth difference. DE.4431

MALE Fox Terrier puppy. Very reasonable. HEmlock 0011.

BEAUTIFUL red Chow puppy, 8 weeks old, $7.50. HE. 5148-J.

Seeds

WANNAMAKER-Cleveland and Wannamaker Dixie Triumph Cottonseed $2 per bushel; $6 for 100-lb. sack, check with order. We have been selling these seed for 28 years to satisfied customers. Order at once. Wannamker Seed Farm, St. Matthews, S. C.

Merchandise

Miscellaneous for Sale 51

BAME'S
ELECTRIC
REFRIGERATOR
SPECIALS

Leonard New floor model, 6½ cubic feet, large enough for 5 or 6 people; never been sold; all modern equipment; Now $149.50

Leonard New floor model, 4½ cubic feet, large enough for 3 or 4 people, fully guaranteed, NOW $89.50

Norge New floor model, 4½ cubic feet, fully guaranteed, large enough for 3 or 4 people. NOW $99.50

Good Used Ice Boxes, $2.50 and Up
Special Easy Terms May Be Arranged.

BAME'S, INC.
107 Peachtree St., Opposite Piedmont Hotel.

Odd New Pieces at Greatly Reduced Prices

Reg. 27.50 Chest Drawers, 7-drawer, mahogany, walnut and mahogany finish...14.95
Reg. 119.50 9-pc. Dining Room Suite, Duncan Phyfe..89.50
Reg. 37.50 Simmons Studio Couch, brown piped in ivory 29.75
Reg. 89.50 3-pc. Bedroom Suite mahog. veneered, Chippendale design.....69.50
Use your Rich charge account.
Rich's Bargain Furniture Annex
Across from main store

BIG VALUES

WESTINGHOUSE electric refrigerator, demonstrator model, ¾ cubic feet. Was $236.50, now.... $169.50
LEONARD de luxe electric refrigerator, new, 1934 model, 6 cubic feet. All the fixtures found in any electric refrigerator —PLUS. Was $239.50. Now $175.00
TERMS ARRANGED.
HIGH'S
Radio and Refrigerator Dept.
4th Floor WA. 8681

PIANOS

WE OFFER the following used pianos this week at drastically low prices:
7-Ft. Baldwin Grand.
5-Ft. 2-in. Baldwin Grand.
Two apt. size Grands, like new.
Six good practice pianos from $29 up.
Lanier-Billings & Batt
Exclusive Baldwin Dealers.
56 Pryor St., N. E. WA. 0386.
We Park Your Car Free.

OFFICE EQUIPMENT

8 22-Drawer, 4x6 Kardex, at $60.00
1 Complete Dictaphone outfit 90.00
New and used desks, as low as 25.00
Steel files, as low as 15.35
Chairs, as low as 2.50
Office Outfitters, Inc. MA. 8690
31 N. Pryor St., Next Door Chamber of Commerce.

Beautiful Living Room Pieces

Sofa and chair, mohair fringe $79.00
Old Virginia mahogany sofa 98.00
Down seat and back lounge 49.50
Full-up chair, Sheraton style 9.95
A STORE full of French, Duncan Phyfe, English and modern reproductions. Prices the lowest at—
Zaban's Quality Furniture
132 Whitehall St.

FURNITURE FROM GOOD HOME
3-PIECE mohair living room suite; 9-piece walnut dining suite; 6-piece walnut bedroom suite; 6-piece walnut dinette suite; 9x12 Axminster rugs; ball runner; gas stove; oil stove; refrigerator; 9-tube radio; odd beds, dressers, tables, chairs, spinet desk, mirrors, antique dresser, chest; dishes, chaise longue, bric-a-brac, at fraction of original cost. Hutchins Co., 165 Whitehall.

SOLID mahogany vanity, spool turned post bed, and chest—dustproof drawers; the best of construction.
Zaban's Quality Furniture
132 Whitehall St.

PAINT $1 Per Gallon
ROOFING ..... SPECIAL BARGAIN INCUBATORS.
KALSOMINE ..... 6c LB.
DOUBLE STRENGTH WINDOW GLASS
JACOBS SALES CO.
45-47 Decatur St., S. E. WA. 2576

VANITY, twin beds and chest in maple. This good value now $39.00.
CENTRAL AUCTION CO.
145-147 Mitchell St., S. W.

National Cash Registers

NEW registers as low as $75. Also rebuilt registers. Our guarantee: To make a better register at a lower price than any concern in the world.
NATIONAL CASH REG. CO., 376 P'tree St.

CLOTHING cases, hat and cap cases, lighting fixtures, showcases, large steel double-door safe, electric adding machine, marking machine, mirrors, children's barber chairs, window fixtures at sacrifice prices. The Boys' Shop, 164 Peachtree St., N. W.

MAJESTIC electric refrigerator, 1934 de luxe model, hermetically sealed unit, 7 cubic feet net; one year guarantee; like new. Sold originally for $224. This one, $125; easy terms.
Cable's Refrig. Dept., 84 Broad St., N. W.

STEWART-WARNER 1934 model, 5 cubic feet; floor demonstrator; sold originally for $156.50. One only, $115. Very easy terms.
Cable's Refrig. Dept., 84 Broad St., N. W.

NEW mahogany flat top desk, plate glass top, $25. O-252, Constitution.

Merchandise

Miscellaneous for Sale 51

PIANO Chickering Small Size Upright. Perfect Condition. This week, $150.
CARDER PIANO CO.
27 Pryor St., N. E.

BIRD'S-EYE maple dresser, chest of drawers, single bed, mahogany dressers, living and breakfast room suites, antique parlor suites, kitchen cabinet, etc. 118 W. Peachtree Place, N. W. JA. 3742-J.

SEVERAL repossessed refrigerators as low as $69.50 for a 5-cu. ft. cabinet. One all-steel 6-cubic ft. cabinet, 4 ice trays, perfect condition, $129.50. King Hardware Co., 58 Peachtree St. WA. 2090.

PIANOS Chickering, Baldwin, Lester, Ludden & Bates, Story & Clarke, Bennett. Priced $75 to $150. Terms like rent. Carder Piano Co., 27 Pryor St., N. E.

FISCHER HARPSICHORD—Modern grand piano in early American case design. First showing in Atlanta. Other new Fischer grands from $495. Cable Piano Company, 84 Broad, N. W.

SPINET GRAND Mathushek piano. First showing of these famous pianos here. Carder Piano Co., 27 Pryor Street, N. E.

Diamond platinum lady's watch .....$ 60.00
Diamond ring, platinum, blue white 145.00
Diamond bracelet, platinum, 42 dias. 85.00
Diamond scarf pin 125.00
Address O-146, Constitution.

PIANO Beautiful small Grand mahogany finish. Like new, $295.
LANIER-BILLINGS & BATT
56 Pryor St., N. E. WA. 0386

VICTOR 8-tube radio in combination with the famous Victor Electrola; sold originally for $350; one only, $79.50. Easy terms. CABLE'S RADIO DEPT., 84 Broad, N. W.

ONE LARGE MODEL, 7-FT. G. E. REFRIGERATOR, PERFECT CONDITION. MUST SELL. BARGAIN. FRANK, WA. 6312.

NEW PIANOS, $195. Midget and full-sized cases, mahogany or walnut. Standard guaranteed makes. Easy terms of payment. Buy at present low prices at Cable's, 84 Broad, N. W.

EARLY-BEARING papershell pecan, peach, pear, fig trees, berries, etc. New catalog free. Bass Pecan Company, Lumberton, Miss.

ESTEY GRAND PIANOS—Equipped with patented stabilizer; apartment and baby grand sizes, mahogany or walnut. Priced from $395. Cable's, 84 Broad, N. W.

GLORITONE, 7-tube radio, in handsome console cabinet. A real value, $15. Cable's Radio Dept. 84 Broad St., N. W.

Expert repairing cash registers, add machines, computing scales. Reas. J. E. Carroll. HE. 4195.

CHICKERING PARLOR GRAND PIANO—Used, but excellent condition; mahogany case. A sacrifice at $295. Cable's, 84 Broad, N. W.

WE Buy, Sell and Repair
SEWING MACHINE EXCHANGE
184 Mitchell, S. W. WA. 1310

Solitaire Blue white diamond, platinum mounting; cost $700. Great sacrifice, 207 Ga. Savings Bk. MA. 5348.

FINAL close-out 15 radios; all makes; all styles. Perfect condition, $6.95 up. Citizens' Loan Association, 193 Mitchell St.

RCA 7-tube radio, complete, A-1 condition. Was $170; one only, $10.
CABLE'S RADIO DEPT., 84 Broad, N. W.

699 Piedmont Cor. 3rd, rm. for couple, running hot, cold water; 2 or 3 excellent meals. WA. 6935.

GAS RANGE and oil range, cheap. Horseshoe Bend, off Roswell Rd., five miles from Buckhead. R. M. Potter.

ELEC NATL. CASH REGISTER, LESS THAN HALF PRICE. ADDRESS O-256, CONSTITUTION.

RECONDITIONED oak barrels and steel drums. MA. 4387. Steel Package Co., 530 Stewart Ave.

PIANO—ACCORDIONS, lowest prices reliable five-lesson beginners' course, $1. Ritter's, 54 Auburn Ave., Atlanta.

FIRST-CLASS UPHOLSTERING. TERMS CAN BE ARRANGED. MR. GUTHRIE, J. M. HIGH CO. WA. 8681.

COMPLETE set of drug store fixtures, including soda fountain, $300. Franklin's, 85 Whitehall.

MONDAY—$37.50 Axminster rugs, 9x12, $22.50. The Rug Shop, 137 Mitchell.

DRESSED LUMBER, $15 PER THOUSAND ON YARD. 300 HUNNICUTT. JA. 3536.

Bargains Used auto radios. All makes. United Motors Ser. 467 W.P'tree

MONDAY—$39.50 American oriental rugs, 9x12, $25. The Rug Shop, 137 Mitchell.

RUGS $1,000 RUGS—25c to $25
THE RUG SHOP, 137 Mitchell St.

HAYWARD WAKEFIELD baby carriage, splendid condition, $9. HE. 1873-J.

WE TRADE in old furniture for new. Rich's Annex, 51 Forsyth St., S. W.

MONDAY—9x12 rug cushions, $2.95. The Rug Shop, 137 Mitchell St.

GOAT WAGON AND HARNESS FOR SALE, REASONABLE. RA. 5783.

SINGER sewing machine, sews perfectly, $7.50. 859 Gordon St., Apt. 2.

MONDAY—$19.75 Belora rugs, 9x12, $10. The Rug Shop, 137 Mitchell.

85-PIECE antique Haviland dinner set. Sacrifice. HE. 1663-W.

BRAND-NEW BABY GRAND PIANO, $295. CABLE'S, 84 BROAD, N. W.

PRACTICALLY new Hoover for sale cheap. CA. 1013.

MONDAY—9x15 felt base rugs, $6.50. The Rug Shop, 137 Mitchell St.

Adding Machines 51-C

NEW MONARCH ADDING MACHINES Rented, 1 month, $5; 3 months, $12.50. AMERICAN WRITING MACHINE CO. 67 Forsyth St., N. W. Phone WA. 2860.

Typewriters & Office Equipment 54

STUDENTS' TYPEWRITERS
ALL MAKES standard and portable. Special rental rates and terms of sale. We will dust, oil machine, clean type, furnish and install new ribbon, $1.
SEE THE NEW O MODEL STANDARD ROYAL PORTABLE AT $49.50.
We Buy, Sell, Rent and Repair All Makes.
QUICK SERVICE TYPEWRITER CO.
16 Peachtree Arcade. Phone WA. 1618.

Typewriters Rented
Hundreds of machines to select from.
Only Late Models Rented
Initial term applied on purchase.
Quick Service and Delivery.
American Writing Machine Co.
67 Forsyth St., N.W. WA. 2860

TYPEWRITER BARGAINS.
ALL makes standard and portable. Special rental rates. We buy, sell, repair.
QUICK SERVICE TYPEWRITER CO.
16 Peachtree Arcade. WA. 1618.

WE BUY, sell and exchange. Office Outfitters, Inc., 31 N. Pryor St. MA. 8690.

Household Goods 59

3-PIECE rust living room suite, special $39.50.
E. C. GEORGE & CO.
75 Broad, S. W. WA. 3555

COMPLETE furnishings of efficiency apt., at sacrifice. Call JA. 0252-W before 2 p.m.

DINING ROOM, bedroom suites, daybed, ice box, gas stove. Sacrifice. HE. 7739-J.

MODERN bedroom and dining room set for sale, owner leaving city. DE. 4793-W.

SEE CATHCART for transfer and storage household goods. 134 Houston. WA. 7721.

Diamonds 59-B

DIAMOND platinum ring, seven stones, center stone approximately ¼ karat. Will sell at about half price. O-388, Constitution.

Diamonds Blue-white, perfect. Bargains. Terms. J. W. Boone, 117 Peachtree Arcade.

UNREDEEMED diamonds, all sizes, at reasonable prices. Provident Loan Corp., 14 Auburn Ave., N. E. WA. 2089.

Plants and Flowers 64

SIX different giant flowering, drought-resistant dahlia roots, $1, postpaid; 30 special offers; catalog. Kunzman, New Albany, Indiana.

ROSES, spireq, Jannary jasmine, altheas, winter-blooming honeysuckle. DE. 1742-J.

ENGLISH daisies, pansies, lots of 25, 25c; 40, 37½c. 419 Westlake Ave., N. W.

PANSIES, $1.50 hundred. Cox's Pansy Gardens, 109 Bryan Ave., E. Point. CA. 2860.

Wanted to Buy 66

GOOD USED FURNITURE AND RUGS BOUGHT FOR CASH. Call Us Before Selling.
CENTRAL AUCTION COMPANY.
132 Whitehall Street.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR good used furniture, pianos, radios and office furniture. RA. 1153.
MERCHANTS WHOLESALE USED FUR. CO. 525 Peters St., S. W. Cor. W'hall and Park.

CASH PAID FOR OLD U. S. AND CONFEDERATE POSTAGE STAMPS AND ENVELOPES. ARCADE STAMP CO. 242 ARCADE BLDG.

ASPARAGUS, our specialty, wanted by truck, express and car lots. Highest market prices paid. Cash when sold. Write us. Smith Produce Co., Baltimore, Md.

Merchandise

Wanted to Buy 66

USED OFFICE FURNITURE, SMALL SAFES, TYPEWRITERS, ADDING MACHINES. CALL MA. 8719.

GEORGIA appeal reports. What volumes have you? Cash proposition. O-110, Constitution.

WANTED—FURNISHINGS FOR 3-ROOM APT. MUST BE GOOD AND PRICED RIGHT. ACREE, WA. 7721.

ELEC. light cabinet, diathermy, infra-red and ultra-violet ray lamps, etc., in good condition. Address O-257, Constitution.

DIAMOND—About one carat, perfect; must be exceptional bargain. Address O-204, Constitution.

Highest cash prices for good used furn. Hurt Furniture Co, HE. 6380.

WILL buy any kind office or store fixtures, cash. Franklin's, 85 Whitehall. WA. 5872.

Cash for Furniture WAlnut 7415

WANTED—Used furniture, Little 5 Points Furniture Exchange, 1154 Euclid. JA. 9337.

CASH for old shoes, clothing. 309 Edgewood, 393 Mitchell, S. W., 236 Marietta.

WANTED best used oil stoves and kitchen cabinets. MA. 4222.

GOOD furniture wanted. We pay more. Hutchins Co., 165 Whitehall. WA. 4310.

Cash For old gold. Time Shop, 19 Broad near Peachtree Arcade.

SPOT CASH FOR USED FURNITURE. 157 WHITEHALL. MA. 3880.

BASS FURNITURE CO.—"We Buy It." MA. 5123.

Rooms and Board

Rooms With Board 67

180 14th, N. E. NEW MANAGEMENT. DESIRABLE VACANCY, SINGLE, DOUBLE RMS. ALSO VACANCY IN COTTAGE. HE. 7831.

812 Ponce de Leon Lovely rm. Private entrance, Conn. bath. Couple or business people. Excellent food. MA. 8678.

1384 W. Peachtree APT. D-6, PRI. R'MMATE LADY. ATTR. RM., HEAT. HE. 2204-R.

NICE WARM ROOM, CONVENIENT TO BATH, PRIVATE HOME, GOOD MEALS, GARAGE, 2 BUSINESS PEOPLE. RA. 7881.

221 Peachtree Circle. Rmmate, gentleman, twin beds. Adj. bath. Delicious meals. Garage. HE. 8557-J.

$4.50 WEEK. Owner's home, nicely cooked meals, hot water, walking distance. Gentlemen or bus. couple. 468 Pryor. JA. 6506.

Druid Hills Room, private bath in beautiful home; gentlemen preferred. DE. 1616. Night DE. 0951.

14th ST.—EAST PEACHTREE, SEMI-PRIV. HOME, FRONT ROOM, CONN. BATH, LADIES. HE. 1231.

1467 Peachtree LOVELY HOME, ROOM, TWIN BEDS, NICE MEALS. YOUNG LADY. HE. 6604.

Morningside Pri. hme., 2 or 3 rms., pri. bath, ent., porch, steam heat, meals opt. buss. people. HE. 2498-M.

724 Piedmont Ave., N. E. Attr. heated room, adj. bath. 2 in room, $30 ea. 3 in rm., $25 ea. Delicious meals. MA. 2516.

1662 Peachtree Large room and sleeping porch. Pri. bath, shower, twin beds; meals. HE. 7639.

206 Ponce de Leon Newly decorated, heated rooms, business peo., good meals, home environment

18 PEACHTREE PL.—Attractive front room. Excellent heat, meals, owner. HE. 1841-W.

113 6TH, near P'tree. Comfortable heated rooms. Meals. Bus. people. JA. 4998-M.

N. S.—Large, attractive corner rm., adj. bath, heat, excellent meals. HE. 2342-J.

88 Merritts Beautiful room, convs., suitable bus. people. WA. 3035.

FOR gentlemen, with ref., comfortable room, meals. Private home. Garage. HE. 3535-J.

Morningside Sect., pri. home, attr. fnt. room; bus. peo. HE. 8427-J

TENTH ST. SECTION—Good heat, good meals, private ent., twin beds. HE. 5636.

N. S. Lovely heated rms., private home, meals opt. Gentlemen. HE. 8010-J.

193 14th, N. E. Lovely rm., adj. bath. Reas. HE. 0421-R.

ATTRACTIVE room, pri. bath, excel. meals. Conveniences. Reas. 168 Ponce de Leon.

EXCLUSIVE North Side home, attrac. heated rm., bus. people, best meals. VE. 2315.

West End 3 or 4 boarders, 3 home-cooked meals, $5 week. RA. 1336.

675 LINWOOD, off P. de Leon. R'mate lady. Attractive rm.; excel. meals. HE. 8558-W.

1002 W. Peachtree. Heated cor. room. Also rmmate, lady, reas. HE 5344-J

LARGE room, bath, meals, also single room, bath, adults. 91 Fourteenth, N. E.

839 Park St., vacancy heated room, lavatory; business people. RA. 8917.

751 Piedmont. Double heated room, twin beds, adj. bath. WA. 9188.

$4 $5. Clean, heated rooms, good meals, private bath. 3—$22.50. 880 Juniper.

P. de Leon Sec. Roommate, lady. Good meals, reas. MA. 9630.

208 14th N. E., rmmate, lady, attrac. heated room. Convs. HE. 2676.

BUSINESS couple, business girls, board in private home, small family. RA. 1354.

Druid Hills Rm., adj. bath, shower, bus. peo. Exc. meals. DE. 4453-W.

867 P'TREE—Attrac. heated rm., couple or bus. people: 2 meals; convs. HE. 7358.

14th St. Room, conn. bath; also rmmate, young lady. Attr.rates.HE.6306-J

42 Peachtree Pl., rooms, conn. bath, private ent., gentlemen. HE. 4792.

BOARD in Druid Hills. Rates reas. DE. 2140. 1255 Ponce de Leon avenue.

845 OAK ST.—Attractive room, furnace heat, private bath, meals. RA. 0570.

Druid Hills Exclusive home, room, bath, garage, gentleman. DE. 1117.

915 CARMEL AVE.—Steam-htd. rms., conn. bath, 2 meals. MA. 0361.

FIRST-class location. Room, board 2 adults. Apply 91 14th St., N. E.

Hotels 67-A

ROOM and bath $15 to $30 mo. Hotel service. 644 N. Highland, N. E. HE. 9211.

Rooms For Rent

Rooms Furnished 68

1001 W. PEACHTREE ST.—Nice large room, private bath, suitable for two young ladies or men. HE. 1487-J.

27 The Prado Attr. heated rooms, business people. HE. 5435-M

900 PARKWAY DR.—Lovely heated room. Conn. bath, twin beds. RA. 4590.

ROOM and bath $15 to $30 mo. Hotel service. 644 N. Highland, N. E. HE. 9211.

INMAN PARK—Large, attractive room, heat, conn. bath, private home. WA. 4849.

MORNINGSIDE—Large corner room, heat, automat. hot water, light, phone. HE. 4671

N. S. Attr. bedrm., in apt., adj. bath, in steam-heated apt. Reas. MA. 4943.

N. SIDE—PRI. HOME, LOVELY HEATED RM., GENTLEMEN; REAS. HE. 1808-J.

VIRGINIA AVE., pri. home, attrac. room, semi-bath, gent. or bus. couple. HE.3491-J.

GIRLS share room, car line, heat, $1.25 week each. 870 Pryor St., S. W.

31 THIRD, N. E. Near Fox. Lovely room, adj. bath; garage. HE. 3133-W.

N. S. Large front room in private home. Private bath, HE. 5694-J.

1128 ST. AUGUSTINE PLACE — Lovely room for gentleman. HE. 5743.

W. E. Nice, heated front room, brick home. Car line. RA. 7487.

LARGE steam-heated room, 3 windows, adj. bath. 529 Blvd., N. E., Apt. 4.

Housekeeping Rooms Furnished 69

842 ST. CHARLES AVE. 2 or 3 rms., near Sears. Owner's home. Adults.

Classified Display

Employment

Rooms For Rent

Housekeeping Rooms Furnished 69

1124 UNCLE REMUS—Block Lawton and Gordon. Living, bedroom, kitchen, everything furnished.

NEW brick, 2 rms., use living room. Heat, gas, lights, garage, $5.50 wk. MA. 4761.

2 ROOMS—NEWLY FUR.; HEAT, LIGHTS, PHONE, WATER, GAR., $20. RA. 4323.

230 Glenn, S. W., 3 rms, $15; 2 rms, $10. WA. 2451, WA. 4952.

1003 GORDON, rm., business people, twin beds, excellent meals. Convs. RA. 5671.

LARGE, front room, complete housekeeping. Adults. $3 week. 179 Pine St., N. E.

434 Piedmont Ave., 1 or 2 nice, sunny rooms, kitchenette. Reasonable.

415 Euclid Ter. 2 rms., k'nette, heat, lights. Adults, $25. DE. 4875-R.

N. E. Private home, 2 lovely furn. rms., all convs. Couple. HE. 8351-R.

Housekeeping Rooms Unfur. 70

1157 WOODLAND, S. E.—2 rooms, private entrance; heat, lights, water; brick home. Couple, $15.

568 St. Charles, N. E. Large rm., k'nette, heat, gas, lights, phone. MA. 7918.

Gordon St. Small apt. in pri. home. Business lady or couple. RA. 8495.

N. S. Two lovely rooms in priv. home, priv. bath, gas stove,convs.HE.7596-J.

1657 Sylvan Rd. Two rooms, lights, water, fur. heat. RA. 9365

SYLVAN HILLS, 935 BURNS DR. 3 RMS. WITH OWNER. RA. 0872.

Fi'keeping Rooms Fur. orUnfur. 70-A

DECATUR—To couple, bedroom, k'nette, pri. bath, entrance; lights, heat, water; $25 furn., $20 unfurn. DE. 1607-W.

N. S. 2 or 3 nice heated rooms, priv. home, all conveniences. Reas. VE. 2404.

FIRST floor front room, also 2 or 3 rms. 2d floor, lights, water, phone. 936 P'tree.

ROOM hunters, 293 Rawson. 325-340 Orange. Nice places for good people.

Real Estate For Rent

Furnished Duplexes 73

905 BOULEVARD CR. Very modern, 3-rm. apt., duplex bungalow. Complete. Garage. Couple.

Unfurnished Duplexes 73-A

COLLEGE PARK—6-rooms, breakfast, steam heat, Frigidaire, garage, block cars. 207 East Virginia Ave. Phone CA. 2224.

971 White, 5 rms, bath, garage; 847 Westmont, 4 rms., pri. entrance. HE. 7339-W.

1433 McLendon Ave., upper duplex, five rooms, $30. All convs. MA. 0348.

466 N. HIGHLAND, N. E.—5-rm. triplex apt. Heat, water, garage, $35. JA. 5778.

MORNINGSIDE—New home, 2 bedrooms, 2 baths, steam heat, porch. HE. 2498-M.

Apartments Furnished 74

ITALIAN VILLA.
200 MONTGOMERY FERRY DRIVE.
Surrounded by Ansley Park Golf Course. On Morningside Bus Line.
STUDIO, artistically furnished, 3 rooms, 1st floor; private entrance; adults; $40. Refs. HE. 2050.

5 ROOMS, 2 BEDROOMS, LIVING ROOM, KITCHEN, BATH AND PORCH, $40. HE. 4040.

$30 PEACHTREE-Tenth section. Desirable 2-room, kitchenette, bath, efficiency, 952 Myrtle.

421 Blvd., N. E.—Very desirable, 3-rm. apt., modern, low mo. rate. Adults.

518 St. Charles, N. E., 2 attr. front apts., water, lights, gas, $4 each week.

E. 14th Attr. batchelor's suite, garage. See to appreciate. HE. 2915.

624 KENNESAW Ave., N. E. Private home. Room, kitchenette. Every convs. MA. 6571.

BEAUTIFULLY furnished 2 or 3-room apartment. Private bath and home. DE. 0562-W.

690 W. P'tree 2 large rooms, pri. bath, all convs. HE. 4123-W.

385 SINCLAIR AVE., N. E. Desirable 3 and 4-rm. apts. bath. Adults. WA. 3574.

COLLEGE PARK—3 rooms, private bath; newly decorated; $15. CA. 3498.

Apartments Unfurnished 74-A

Unfurnished Apartments

356 Ponce de Leon ave., 6 rooms ...$35.00
5 E. Wesley ave., 5 rooms 55.00
5 E. Wesley ave., 4 rooms 50.00
4 E. Wesley ave., 4 rooms 50.00
1073 W. Peachtree st., 4 rooms 32.50
685 Argonne ave., 4 rooms 32.50
633 Moreland ave., 4 rooms 42.50
484 N. Highland ave., 4 rooms 35.00
826 Peachtree st., 4 rooms 55.00
58 Lombardy way, 2 rooms 27.50
WE WILL be pleased to show these.
Adair Realty & Loan Co.

The Colonade Apts.
784-46 N. HIGHLAND AVENUE—Between St. Charles and Ponce de Leon. High type building. Exclusive personnel. Large 5 and 6-room apts., (full size dining room), 2 and 3 bedrooms (space of a bungalow). Large porches. Modern to the limit. Free refrigeration. Most convenient location in city. Splendid values at $55 and $47.50.
Call WA. 0636. Mr. Salmon.
Rankin-Whitten Realty Co.

FOR BEST APARTMENT VALUES CALL
National Realty Management Company, Inc.
Ground Floor, Candler Bldg. WA. 2226

SEE OR CALL
ADAMS-CATES CO.
for a complete list of desirable apartments and houses. WAlnut 5477.

FOUR-room apartment, 685 Argonne avenue, available March 15. See resident manager, apartment No. 5.
Adair Realty & Loan Co.

687 Kennesaw N. E., cor. Ponce de Leon—Desirable 6-rm. Apt. All convs. Reas. MA. 4846.

WEST END, 771 LEE ST.—FIVE ROOMS, SLEEPING PORCH, UPSTAIRS; PRIVATE ENTRANCE; REASONABLE.

942 PONCE DE LEON, Apt. 10. 5 rooms, 2 bedrooms, 3 exposures, G. E., sun parlor, garage, $50. HE. 8912-M.

450 HOPKINS—West End, near car stop. 2 rms., k'nette, pri. bath, porch. RA. 5691.

Peachtree Rd. Sect. Attr. bungalow duplex. CH. 2757 Mon.

DECATUR—4 and 5-room apts. New building. All conveniences. DE. 4677.

1251 VIRGINIA AVE., N. E.—4 rooms, $35. Samuel Rothberg. WA. 2253.

259 14th, N.E. 7 rms., 2 baths, modern convs., porches, gar.

DECATUR—4-rm. apt., heat, lights, water fur., near car. DE. 1554-J.

Classified Display

Shoe Repairing

SPECIAL 39c
Genuine Leather
HALF SOLES Ladies' Heels, 14c
ECONOMY SHOE SHOP
Cor. Broad and Alabama Streets
UNDER JACOBS

Wanted to Buy

GOLD SELL Gold Redeeming Company WA. 7764
Your discarded jewelry, old gold and dental gold and receive new highest cash prices with confidence, courtesy and privacy.
118 PEACHTREE ARCADE

Employment

WANTED

EXPERIENCED sales representative—to represent nationally known manufacturer of glove silk and rayon underwear; also highly styled line of silk and cotton print pajamas, for beach wear and sports wear. Applicant must have had at least five years' experience and be familiar with trade in Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, BOX F-194.

Real Estate For Rent

Apartments Unfurnished 74-A

1012 PIEDMONT at park, school and shopping district, 4 rooms, bath, very reas.

Apartments Fur. or Unfur. 75

PONCE DE LEON APTS.
COR. P'tree and Ponce de Leon, 1 and 2 rooms. Private bath. Furnished. 3 rooms—private bath. Unfurnished.
Call JA. 3481—desk or WA. 0636
Rankin-Whitten Realty Co.

WEST END—4-rm. apt., completely furn., electric refrig., adults only; also 4 and 5-rm. apts. unfurn., suitable families. RA. 4432

1223 ALBEMARLE AVE., two 4 or 5-rm. apts., lights, heat, phone. Private entrance and bath. DE. 2115-J.

865 N. Highland—3-rm. apt., porches and G. E., to adults. HE. 4512.

Houses for Rent, Furnished 77

MY HOME, 355 Mayson Ave., N. E.—Living room, dining room, breakfast room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms; electric refrigerator; garage. HE. 5753.

BEAUTIFULLY furnished home, 8 rooms, 2 baths; servant quarters; 3 garages. Wieuca Road. CH. 9132 for applicant.

895 PONCE DE LEON PL., N. E.—Will sacrifice for tenant moving in immediately.

Houses for Rent, Unfurnished 77-A

491 Sterling St., N. E., 6 rms.....$ 30.00
371 North Ave., N. E., 6 rms. 30.00
869 Courtenay Drive, N. E., 6 rms., and br. rm. 50.00
673 Elkmont Dr., N. E., 6 rms. and br. rm., 2 baths 55.00
963 Wms. Mill Road, N. E., 7 rms. 30.00
1083 W. Peachtree St., 7 rms..... 40.00
806 Vedado Way, N. E., 7 rms..... 40.00
1231 Briarcliff Rd., N. E., 7 rms... 45.00
659 Somerset Terrace, N. E., 7 rms. and br. rm. 45.00
1139 W. Peachtree St., 7 rms., 2 baths 65.00
15 Northwood Drive, N. E., 7 rms. and br. rm., 2 baths 75.00
521 Boulevard Pl., N. E., 8 rms., 2 baths 35.00
353 Argonne Drive., N. W., (on sublease) 8 rms. and br. rm., 2 baths 33.33
2117 N. Decatur Rd., N. E., 8 rms. and br. rm., 2 baths 35.00
101 Lafayette Dr., N. E., 8 rms. and br. rm., 2 baths 35.00
1284

Real Estate For Rent

Wanted to Rent 81

GENTLEMAN, expecting to be in Atlanta several months, desires neatly furnished private bath or small apartment. Must be reasonable. Address O-118, Constitution.

Real Estate For Sale

Business Property for Sale 82

BUSINESS home for sale. Two-story, brick building, good condition, north side corner, 8,000 square feet. Small down payment; balance like rent. Price $6,500. Mercer Poole, WA. 0100.

Farms and Lands for Sale 83

KENTUCKY

50 ACRES, equipped producer, $1,750; includes team, 2 cows, 50 poultry, wagon, harness, farming implements, some feed; on improved road, survey for state highway, only ½ mile small village; all tillable, 40 acres in cultivation, good loam soil for any crop, spring and branch watered pasture, woodlot, 30 apple trees, other fruit; good frame house, fireplace, well and spring water, good 40-foot barn, several outbuildings; independence, security and good living, $1,750, only $750 cash. Free March catalog. United Farm Agency, K-1198 Arcade Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

FOR SALE—Old estate of about 700 acres, 3½ miles from town. Mostly in original timber, estimated at from 3 to 4 million feet. Well watered; 175 to 200 acres in rich bottom land. State highway runs thru place with new survey for pavement. If interested see A. O. White, Villa Rica, Ga.

FORCED sale, 30 acres, dwelling, barn; graded road, spring, close to church, school. 24 acres cultivation. Possession now. $485 cash. D. S. Strickland, Douglasville, Ga.

96 ACRES, Dunwoody-Doraville Rd. Exchange. WA. 2534.

Houses for Sale 84

North Side.

BUILD YOUR HOME
GET THE HOME YOU WANT
WHERE YOU WANT IT

WE are in a position to not only build you the best home your money can possibly buy, but to offer you advantage of the very best financing plans to be had—including the GOVERNMENT INSURED LOAN PLAN.

IF you do not own a lot we will assist you in selecting one.

YOU know from the beginning just what the house will cost you and exactly what your monthly payments will be each month.

CALL MR. BACON

Nights HE. 1889-J; Office WA. 3465

I WILL take pleasure in calling in person (at your home or office), and explain all details.

PLANS drawn and specifications furnished without cost or obligation to you.

Dortch Construction Co.
315 Candler Bldg.

OPEN HOUSE TODAY
656 Rockmont Drive

TWO-STORY brick. Lot 80x295 feet. Four bedrooms, 2 baths. Very attractive first floor plan, including library. Steam heat. Practically new. Repossessed and will be sold for less than the original mortgage. If you fail to inspect this home it will be your loss. Terms less than rent can be arranged. Go Pelham Rd. to North Rock Springs, turn left to Rockmont Dr. Call H. F. Anderson for further details, HE. 6874 or WA. 3111.

Haas Howell & Dodd

PIEDMONT ROAD
Open Sunday

OPPOSITE Garden Hills, between Wesley Ave. and Pharr Road. A beautiful painted brick bungalow, 6 rooms, 2 baths. Tile kitchen and bath. Full daylight basement. Tile porch and terrace. Stone garage. Large lot. Just finished. Cash payment; balance monthly payments. Mr. Mincey, WA. 3465.

DORTCH REALTY CO.

GARDEN HILLS
TWO-STORY BRICK

$8,500—NO LOAN, terms arranged, large shady lot, two baths, four bedrooms, 2-car garage, this is an unusually good value, real estate is advancing; if you hesitate you will pay more. Call Mr. Woodward, HE. 3173-W or WA. 0636.

Rankin-Whitten Realty Co.

Classified Display

Automotive

Real Estate For Sale

Houses for Sale 84

North Side.

OPEN TODAY
591 E. Pace's Ferry Road

$4,950—6 AND br. room, cream brick. Drive out today, first house north of Piedmont Rd.; has 3 nice bedrooms, tile bath, tub and shower. Electric refrigerator goes with house. Concrete basement, side drive and garage. Pretty wooded lot, 2 blocks of Peachtree Rd. and R. L. Hope school. Call Mr. Crain, HE. 1274 or WA. 3111.

Haas Howell & Dodd

OPEN SUNDAY
126 THE PRADO

ONE of the loveliest two-story brick homes on the finest street in Ansley Park. Four bedrooms, two tile baths, automatic heat. Excellent landscaping. Absolutely perfect condition throughout. The owners are away and Mr. Nutting will be in charge from 2 to 6 p. m.

J. R. Nutting & Co. WA. 0156

IT'S YOUR CHANCE
"In Garden Hills"

BEAUTIFUL wooded lots, 70 to 100 ft. frontage, to be sold at unheard-of values. Apply protected building restrictions, all improvements, including sewerage and water, in and paid for. See them now and make your selection. Call Mr. Anderson for full details, HE. 6874 or WA. 3111.

Haas Howell & Dodd

Quick Profit
Speculation

WELL-BUILT six-room brick bungalow in very center of fastest-growing community store renter in North Side. Now rented. Can deliver on terms—$5,200. Property on either side nearly twice as high! G. W. Withers, WA. 3111 or HE. 6472-J.

Haas Howell & Dodd

1215 E. Rock Springs Rd.

DRIVE by and see the location of this attractive 7-room white brick bungalow; 3 delightful bedrooms, 2 baths, full basement with gas steam heat. I have a special price for quick sale. See the location today. For appointment to see interior, call B. F. White, HE. 7479-J, or

DRAPER-OWENS CO.
EXCLUSIVE.
GRANT BLDG. WA. 9511.

HERE IT IS, FOLKS,
TWO ALL-TILE BATHS

$6,500 buys this modern six-room brick home, servant's quarters. Lot is one-third of an acre, beautiful trees and running stream. If you have $1,500 cash, let's do business before this bargain is sold. Shown by appointment only. Mr. Pitts, HE. 5790.

Near Peachtree Road
and R. L. Hope School

$4,900—NO LOAN. Attractive 6-room brick bungalow on beautiful lot. Ideal location. Newly decorated like new; $500 cash, balance less than rent—why rent? Call Mr. Head, HE. 6231 or WA. 3111.

Haas Howell & Dodd

TWO-STORY, 9-room house; furnace heat; two baths, good roof. Lot 50x175, on North avenue, near Piedmont. Upstairs rented for $35 per month. Price, $3,950, including upstairs furniture. Will take some trade. Call Emerson Holleman.

The Holleman Realty Co.
21 Auburn Avenue. WA. 5513.

NEAR PEACHTREE

AND R. L. HOPE school a beautiful 2-story home in perfect condition and has every convenience on a lovely wooded lot, $7,500. J. W. Bedell, CH. 2950.

DRAPER-OWENS CO.
REALTORS.
521 GRANT BLDG. WA. 9511.

LOVELY brick home in the Peters Park subdivision, near Ga. Tech. If you want a good home in a desirable close-in section it will pay to investigate this. See Mr. Kincaid, Burdett Realty Company, 116 Candler Bldg., WA. 1011.

NEAR Pitree road and Hope school, 6-rm. brick, hardwood floors, furnace, nice basement. Well back from street on beautiful large wooded lot. Good location. Owner anxious to sell. WA. 7991.

Classified Display

Automotive

Real Estate For Sale

Houses for Sale 84

North Side.

OPEN SUNDAY

$5,000—At 916 Barnett place, facing Forrest road, in beautiful Linwood, a most artistic wide-spreading 7-room bungalow on lovely 100-foot lot. Open Sunday afternoon. Heated. No loan. WA. 0156. J. R. Nutting & Co.

376 PIEDMONT AVE.—Here's a good investment. Present tenant has lived in this house for 5 years, rental $30 monthly paid promptly. $2,000. Small cash payment and easy terms.

Samuel Rothberg WA. 2253

PETERS PARK
Atlanta's Near-In Home Section

NORTH of Ga. Tech and west of Biltmore hotel, 6, 7 and 8-room brick bungalows. WA. 2877.

SALES—RENTS—INSURANCE PROPERTY MANAGEMENT
Adair Realty & Loan Co.
HEALEY BLDG.

LOG CABIN—3-r., bath and sleeping porch, city water, electric lights. Beautiful building site, fronts 260 feet on Club drive, near Brookhaven golf course. $5,000, terms. Go Club drive to junction of Davidson Ave. See cabin on right. Geo. P. Moore, WA. 2326.

LESS than 10 miles out, right at grammar school, buses for high school, right by door. 50 acres, good five-room house, tenant house and outbuildings, one-horse crop open land rest in timber, 3 branches. Well worth price asked, H. S. Copeland, 116 Candler Bldg., WA. 1011.

ANDREWS DRIVE

CLOSE to Peachtree, fine value in 2-story brick, tile-roofed home, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, gas heat. Beautiful wooded lot 100x350 feet. Price $17,500. WA. 0156. J. R. Nutting & Co.

NORTH SIDE SPECIAL.

$4,350—2-story brick, 4 bedrooms; no loan; $500 cash, bal. easy. Mr. Head, HE. 6231 or WA. 3111. Haas, Howell & Dodd.

43 EMERY ST., N. W.—4-rm. frame, large lot, $800. $300 cash. Mr. Walthall, Sharp-Boylston Co. WA. 2930.

Decatur.

208 McKOY, cor. W. Benson, 2-story brick, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, oak floors, beautifully decorated. $450 cash, $40 month. Ready to move in. Call Mr. Paschall now. WA. 0636.

East Atlanta.

883 WINGFIELD AVE., S. E.—New house, 2 large lots, lights, water, $695; $175 cash, balance easy terms.

South Side.

LOOK! READ CAREFULLY

$300 Nice camp house, four large rooms, electric lights, good well of water, fine shade trees, new barn, flower pit. Some terms. Opportunity knocks. Go Lakewood Ave. or Pryor Road to Wilson's Tourist Camp. Turn right one block. See sign. Mr. Wheeler on premises. HE. 1211.

483 COOPER ST., S. W.

BETWEEN Fulton and Richardson Sts., good 6-room cottage on elevated lot, 50x168, east front; price $1,500.

Adams-Cates Co. WA. 5477

West End.

OPEN HOUSE
332 Inman St., S. W.
2 to 5:30 P. M.

SIX and breakfast room home, large daylight basement, furnace heat, tile bath. Attractively redecorated, like new, clear oak floors.

NO LOAN. $300 Cash, $25.00 monthly. No refinancing.

CONVENIENT to schools, car line, stores and park. A real value and you can move in this week. W. D. Hilley on premises, DE. 1378.

DRAPER-OWENS CO.
REALTORS.
521 Grant Bldg. WA. 9511.

Hapeville.

904 CENTRAL AVE.—This 5-rm. bungalow is in good condition. Owner lives in New York and authorizes us to sell at $2,000. Small cash payment, balance like rent. Samuel Rothberg, WA. 2253.

Lots for Sale 85

A BEAUTIFUL lot, one block of Peachtree road; close in; for less than $20 a foot; all improvements down and paid for. Mr. Minor, WA. 3111, Haas Howell & Dodd.

Classified Display

Automotive

Real Estate For Sale

Lots for Sale 85

PEACHTREE HEIGHTS PARK. Fine wooded lot, 200x300, only $3,000. WA. 0156.

MEMORIAL DRIVE lots, East Lake, 50x300 $225; $25 cash, $15 mo. WA. 2861.

Property for Colored 86

162 HAYGOOD AVE., S. E.—Duplex, rented for $16 monthly. $1,350. Easy terms.
167 HAYGOOD AVE., S. E. — Practically new 5-rm. bungalow, $1,250. Easy terms.
Samuel Rothberg, WA. 2253. 1305 Healey Bldg.

316 Holland St., near Greenaferry ...$ 750
703 Neal St., near Sunset Ave. 1,200
46 Raymond, N. W., near Hunter ... 1,250
973 Camilla St., near Ashby St. 1,400
EASY TERMS—NO LOAN.
M. & M. Bank. WA. 2944. Grant Bldg.

EZRA DR., ATLANTA'S NEWEST RESTRICTED COLORED SUBDIVISION. CHOICE LOTS. EASY TERMS. CH. 9060.

25 FRAME and brick bungalows, overlooking Washington High. No loan. Good terms. Bell & Arnold, JA. 4537.

$1,600—8-ROOM house, West Side, on terms. A. Graves, WA. 2772.

Suburban—For Sale 87

Small Acreage Tracts

$800—5 ACRES truck land, 3 acres bottom, spring and creek front; 3 miles Buckhead.
$500—200x340, TRUCK land, all in cultivation.
$200 CASH, $25 monthly, new 4-room house, electric lights, lot 200x325, half in cultivation. Price, $2,000; near Brookhaven Club and Dunwoody Road.
$1,000—5½ ACRES, High Point Road, 3 miles of Buckhead. Plenty pines for cabin.
$1,500—GLENRIDGE Drive, corner High Point Road. A perfect corner lot; 900 feet road frontage.
$1,000—A PERFECT corner lot, 150x300, one block of Brookhaven golf course, $150 cash, $15 monthly.
$1,000—WEST PEACHTREE Drive, 8 acres, spring branch, wooded.
$4,950—6½ ACRES High Point Road, spring and branch, modern 6-room brick bungalow.

Geo. P. Moore, WA. 2326
To 12 o'clock Sunday.

RIDGEWOOD ROAD

NEAR West Paces Ferry Road, 24.36 acres in this very choice location; price $6,000. Mr. Sibley.

Adams-Cates Co. WA. 5477

THIS is what I call a bargain. The house has 5 rooms, plastered walls, the lot has 3½ acres, electricity and street car for $1,700. $200 cash, $16 a month. Wilson, WA. 3465.

DANDY farm, 12 acres, good house, woods, water. See owner Sunday. J. J. Hemperley's farm. Chamblee-Tucker road.

To Exchange Real Estate 88

OWNER who has been transferred to Atlanta is interested in exchanging, well located Tampa, Fla., home for home in North East Atlanta. Call DE. 2149-J.

BY Owner, 12-unit apt. bldg., on North Boulevard, near North Ave. Monthly income, $330. Good condition. P. O. Box 178, Decatur, Ga.

MOVING to Atlanta, will trade my home and farms in south Georgia for Atlanta property. Box F-190, care Constitution.

Classified Display

Automotive

At 375
Peachtree St.
You'll Find Used Car BARGAINS!
Every Day in Great Numbers, Practically All Makes and Models.
Harry Sommers, Inc.
"Chrysler-Plymouth"
JA. 1834
LOWEST PRICES

Real Estate For Sale

To Exchange Real Estate 88

WANT to exchange a small house in Los Angeles for one in Atlanta or Augusta. Address O-253, Constitution.

Wanted—Real Estate 89

ATTENTION—We have clients to pay cash for north side homes, prices between $3,000 and $8,000. Call us immediately. Frank Martin, WA. 0100.

Adair Realty & Loan Co.

WE HAVE clients with cash for well-improved farms and close-in acreage. For quick returns on your acreage call Williams or Tomlinson, WA. 1511 or DE. 4397-W.

WE WANT LISTINGS.
APARTMENTS, HOMES, LOTS, ACREAGE.
SEE US IF YOU WANT TO BUY—SELL—OR EXCHANGE.
JOHN J. THOMPSON & CO., WA. 3935.

WANT to rent house, with privilege of buying later, in Ormewood Pk. or Grant Pk. section. Not over $17.50 mo. Address O-86, Constitution.

Classified Display

Automotive

Asbestos Deposit Found On Farm Near Elberton

ELBERTON, Ga., March 2.—A deposit of asbestos has been located on the farm of G. W. Morrow, a few miles from Elberton. There appears to be a considerable quantity of it, and samples have been sent to Washington for analysis.

Real Estate For Sale

Wanted—Real Estate 89

NOTICE!

WANT to buy suburban home with acre or more land or suburban acreage on car line with lights and water. Write to P. O. Box 262, Clayton, Ga.

5 OR 6-room house, North Side; near car line; will assume loan. O-250, Constitution.

WANTED LISTINGS. HOLLEMAN REALTY. WA. 5513.

Classified Display

Automotive

A BARGAIN AT Any PRICE!
. . . and the prices are LOW

Come and see for yourself the exceptional values and the low prices we are offering on our large stock of over 165 cars and trucks. Each one backed by John Smith Co.'s reputation of over 66 years of reliable service.

1927 Buick Coach	$39	1933 Chevrolet Coach	$395
1927 Chevrolet Sedan	$40	1933 Dodge Coach	$445
1928 Whippet Coach	$45	1934 Ford V-8 Coupe	$485
1928 Chevrolet Sedan	$65	1934 Mst. Chevrolet Coach	$565
1927 Studebaker Sedan	$65	1934 Mst. Chevrolet Sedan	$595
1928 Ford Coupe	$75
1927 Dodge Sedan	$75	TRUCKS
1928 Chevrolet Coach	$95	Model T Ford Canopy Express	$25
1929 Chevrolet Coach	$125	Model T Ford Truck	$35
1930 Chevrolet Coach	$149	1931 Ford ½-ton panel	$65
1930 Ford Tudor	$199	1929 Ford pick-up	$95
1931 Chevrolet Coach	$249	1931 Ford pick-up	$225
1932 Chevrolet Sedan	$295	1931 Ford 157-in. stake	$250
1932 Ford V-8 Tudor	$315	1933 Chevrolet Pick-up	$345
		1933 Chevrolet 157-in. Stake	$425

OVER 145 CARS TO SELECT FROM Liberal Trades Easy Terms

"The Old CHEVROLET Reliable"
JOHN SMITH CO
66 YEARS CHEVROLET IN ATLANTA
530 West Peachtree St. HE. 0500

Classified Display

Automotive

MONDAY SPECIALS

'34 Ford Tudor	$445	'34 Willys Coupe	$295
'34 Terraplane Coach	$495	'34 Willys Sedan	$365
'34 Studebaker Coupe	$495	'34 DeSoto Airflow Sedan	$795
'34 Austin Coupe	$445	'34 Buick Sport Coupe	$795

You will be able to find any number of cars in our showrooms to suit the most exacting taste, and to fit any size purse.
Plenty of Free Parking Space

BARGAINS EVERY DAY AT 394 PEACHTREE ST.

'32 CHEVROLET Coach, A-1		$325
'34 TERRAPLANE Coach, 15,000 miles		$495
'31 DODGE D. H. Sedan		$275
'29 NASH Coupe, extra clean		$150
'33 PONTIAC Touring Sedan		$495
'33 DE SOTO Sedan		$495
'33 FORD V-8 Coach		$385
'29 CHRYSLER 75 Sedan		$145
'30 BUICK 4-Dr. Sedan		$235
'33 DODGE Sedan, 9,000 miles	Special

TERMS TRADES

National Motors
Open Evenings
Cash for Your Car

NASH ATLANTA CO.

'34 NASH 1280 Sedan Demonstrator	Special
'31 FORD 4-Dr. Sedan	$225
'34 FORD Tudor	$475
'32 NASH 890 Sedan	$385
'33 PONTIAC Town Sedan	$475
'31 NASH Ambassador Sedan	$350
'30 FORD Tudor, clean	$215
'30 FORD Coupe	$195
'32 NASH Spt. Coupe	$375
'32 CHEVROLET Coach	$295
'29 NASH Sedan	$150
PAIGE Sedan, runs good	$45

USED CAR LOT
352 W. Peachtree
WA. 5454
H. D. WAGER, Mgr.
Cash for Your Car

ARE THESE BARGAINS?
We Ask You--

MOTOR TRUCKS

		Former Price	NOW
1932 G. M. C. 1½-Ton	Cab and Chassis. Looks like new	$375	$195
1933 Dodge 1½-Ton	Cab & stake body. Low mileage, perfect shape	$545	$395
1933 Chevrolet 1½-Ton	Cab and stake body. An exceptional value.	$495	$325
1934 Reo 1½-Ton	Cab and Chassis. Perfect throughout	$675	$445
1934 Chevrolet 1½-Ton	Cab and chassis. Good as new	$645	$400
1931 Ford 1½-Ton	Cab and chassis. A real bargain at	$275	$185
1933 Chevrolet 1½-Ton	Cab and chassis. This is a dandy	$450	$325
1932 Ford 1½-Ton	Cab and stake body. A real bargain at	$400	$275
1932 Chevrolet 1½-Ton	Cab and chassis. Tip-top shape	$450	$295
1931 Reo 1½-Ton	Cab and stake body. Mechanically O. K.	$400	$265
1934 Reo 2-Ton	Cab and stake body. Perfect, looks like new	$850	$550

This is a partial list of the many "Late Model" Trucks we are offering for sale at prices much below the market, and far below prices being asked elsewhere. Why not come right down and see for yourself what a wonderful motor truck you can buy for very little money.
This is a "Bonafide" Close-Out Sale. Every Used Car and Used Truck MUST BE SOLD—regardless of COST, PROFIT or SELLING EXPENSE.

DON'T Let anything keep you from seeing these wonderful values. If we have the truck you want—we'll take your present car or truck in as part payment—and take your personal note on the balance. NO RED TAPE.

Easy Monthly Payments to Suit Your Convenience.

REMEMBER—We are offering you late model motor trucks that are in tip-top shape mechanically. Dual and single wheels—good tires—helper springs—several different body types. Motor trucks that are ready to go out and work—Motor trucks that look good—some newly painted—Motor trucks that are dependable at QUICK SALE PRICES.

REO CLOSE-OUT SALE 449 West Peachtree REO

Classified Display

Automotive

CHEVROLET

1934	Chevrolet Standard Coach, paint and interior has appearance of new car.
1933	Chevrolet Coach	$395
1932	Chevrolet Coupe	$295
1931	Chevrolet Cabriolet	$265
1931	Chevrolet Spt. Coupe	$265
1931	Chevrolet Coach	$275
1930	Chevrolet Coach	$195
1931	Ford De Luxe Coach	$245
1930	Ford Sedan	$115
1929	Ford Coach	$125

Over 50 other passengers cars for your selection.

TRUCKS

1933	Chevrolet 1½-ton, 157 dual stake.
1933	Ford V-8 Pickup.
1931	Chevrolet Pickup.
1932	Chevrolet Sedan delivery.
1930	Ford 1½-ton Panel.
1933	1½-ton Dodge Panel.

BARRON'S DOWNTOWN CHEV. COMPANY
320 Whitehall MA. 5000

1934 TERRAPLANE COACH

EIGHT months old, original green and black finish with cream wheels. This car has low mileage and will give service equal to a new car. 30% discount.
TRADE TERMS
CAUTHORN MOTOR CO.
506 W. Peachtree St. HE. 3126

CHEVROLET

1934	CHEVROLET Sedan	$575
1933	CHEVROLET Sedan	$425
1933	CHEVROLET Coupe	$400
1933	CHEVROLET Sport Sedan	$325
1932	CHEVROLET Coach	$300
1931	CHEVROLET Coach	$300
1931	CHEVROLET Sedan	$250
1930	CHEVROLET Coaches and Coupes	$175
1933	FORD Coupe	$400
1931	FORD Sedan	$250
1931	FORD Sport Coach	$225
1929	FORD Coupe	$150
1929	FORD Sedan	$125
1928	FORD Coupe	$125
	FORD Sedan	$125

WE HAVE 75 other cars to select from. All types and models. Remember, our cars are steam-cleaned and thoroughly reconditioned.
TERMS TO SUIT YOUR NEEDS
EAST POINT CHEVROLET CO.
306 N. MAIN ST. CA. 2186

CAPITAL AUTOMOBILE COMPANY

THE cars listed below were selected from our stock as representing the best values offered on today's market. These cars are all re-conditioned where needed and are in the most perfect condition possible as to appearance and performance.

THESE, however, are only a small number of what we have. If you do not see the type car you need listed, come by either lot and make your selection.

TRADES	TERMS
'34 Plymouth De Luxe Coupe		$545
'34 Plymouth Coach, radio		$595
'33 Plymouth Sedan		$495
'34 Chevrolet Sedan, clean		$625
'34 Chevrolet Coupe, like new		$595
'33 Chevrolet Coupe		$395
'32 Chevrolet Coach		$295
'31 Chevrolet Roadster		$225
'34 Oldsmobile 8 Touring Sedan		$875
'34 Oldsmobile 8 Sedan		$875
'33 Oldsmobile 6 Sedan		$575
'33 Oldsmobile 8 Spt. Coupe		$575
'31 Oldsmobile 6 Sedan 6 Wheels		$365
'30 Oldsmobile 6 Sedan 6 Wheels		$275
'33 Buick Sedan 6 Wheels		$745
'32 Buick Sedan 6 Wheels		$465
'32 Buick Sport Coupe		$395
'31 Buick Sedan		$395
'30 Buick Sedan		$245
'32 Chrysler Sport Coupe		$425
'31 Cadillac Sedan		$545
'31 Cadillac Fleetwood Sedan		$645
'30 La Salle Sedan		$395
'29 La Salle Sedan, clean		$150
'29 Packard 5-Pass. Coupe		$295

OPEN EVENINGS
Cadillac — LaSalle
Oldsmobile — Dealers
H. A. HESSE, Mgr.

TWO LOTS
399 SPRING ST.
WA. 5226
830 West P'tree
HE. 5186

Classified Display

Automotive

Ford

1934 Ford Tudor	$445
1933 Ford Tudor	395
1932 Graham Sedan	245
1929 Graham Sedan	135
1930 Studebaker President Sedan, 6 W. W.	195
1929 Reo Sedan, 6 W. W.	135
1933 Plymouth Coach	395
1933 Dodge De Luxe Sed.	525

Stock of 60 For Your Selection
Terms and Trade
Trade in Decatur and Save Money

A. M. Chandler
INC.
DECATUR
DE. 2771 DE. 4390

PONTIAC RESALES

1934 Pontiac 4-Door Sedan Demonstrator	$695
1934 Pontiac 2-Dr. Touring Sedan	625
1932 Hupmobile De Luxe Sedan	495
1932 Studebaker Six Cylinder Sedan	375
1932 Studebaker Six Cylinder Sport Coupe	345
1931 Chevrolet Coupe	245
1931 Chrysler Sedan	375
1930 Franklin De Luxe Sedan, 6 W. W.	495

ABOVE CARS THOROUGHLY RE-CONDITIONED AS TO PAINT, TIRES AND MECHANICALLY.
WE HAVE SEVERAL OTHER CARS FROM $50.00 UP IN VERY GOOD RUNNING CONDITION.
TERMS—TRADES
FRANKLIN MOTOR CAR COMPANY
481 W. Peachtree St., N. E.
JAckson 4200

Adair - LeVert

'28 OAKLAND Sedan	$35
'29 FORD Roadster	$95
'30 CHEVROLET Roadster	$95
'34 TERRALANE 6 Coach	$545
'34 PLYMOUTH De Luxe Coach	$575
'34 PLYMOUTH De Luxe Sedan	$625
'34 FORD V-8 Coach	$495

106 Others to Select From
Ask Us About Our 60-Day Service Plan
OPEN NITES
265 Peachtree St. WA. 4116
367 Spring St. WA. 5638
810 Peachtree St. WA. 2113

Announcing the Opening of
"BANNISTER AUTO SERVICE"
595 W. WHITEHALL ST., S.W.
FORMERLY
Bannister & Bennett
555 W. Whitehall St., S. W.
"RELIABLE AUTO PAINTING AND REPAIR SHOP"

2
Unusually Clean Cars Special

1934 CHEVROLET Master De Luxe Sport Coupe, driven 11,000 miles; has radio and other extras. This car is as good as it ever was—in every way. '35 tags and ready at special price.

1933 FORD 4-Door De Luxe Sedan. Another one that is as clean as you can get one. If you can use either of these types—do not fail to see them. '35 tags. Special price and terms.

WE TRADE
YARBROUGH MOTOR CO.
W. Peachtree and Linden Sts.
HE. 5142

D.C. BLACK Inc.

'34 Ford Tudor	$495
'34 Ford 4-Dr. Sedan	550
'33 Ford Tudor	395
'33 Ford Tudor	385
'32 Ford Tudor	325
'32 Ford 4-Dr. Sedan	345
'33 Chevrolet Coach	395
'32 Chevrolet Coach	310
'31 Chevrolet Coach	265
'31 Chevrolet Coupe	235
'33 Plymouth Coach	395
'33 Plymouth P. D. 4-Dr. Sed.	445
'32 Plymouth 4-Dr. Sedan	325
'31 Ford De Luxe Roadster	265
'31 Ford Town Sedan	265
'31 Ford Tudor	245
'30 Ford Tudor	215
'29 Ford Tudor	125
'29 Ford Tudor	95
'29 Ford Roadster	65
'29 Buick 4-Dr. Sedan	85
'29 Buick Coupe	75
'31 Chevrolet Pickup	95

280 Peachtree St.
WA. 2490

USE CONSTITUTION WANT ADS

SLIGHT CHANGES SHOWN IN STOCKS

Daily Stock Summary.

(Copyright, 1935, Standard Statistics Co.)
(1926 average equals 100.)

	50	20	20	90
	Ind's.	RR's.	Ut's.	Total
Saturday	85.6	32.5	42.8	69.8
Previous day	85.5	32.7	43.0	69.8
Week ago	86.2	33.1	42.7	70.4
Month ago	87.2	34.6	48.2	72.2
Year ago	99.0	50.6	78.5	87.9
1935 high	91.8	38.7	51.3	76.0
1935 low	84.9	32.0	42.1	69.4
1934 high	105.0	54.3	90.3	93.8
1934 low	76.0	34.1	47.1	66.4
1933 high	102.1	58.0	113.7	96.9
1933 low	42.3	23.5	61.1	43.9

Dow-Jones Averages.

By THE UNITED PRESS.

STOCKS.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Chg.	Net
30 Ind.	103.36	103.67	102.92	103.22	—	.05
20 Rails	31.06	31.11	30.86	30.91	—	.19
20 Util.	15.95	15.98	15.86	15.88	—	.04

BONDS.

40 Bonds	96.67	+	.10
10 First rails	107.22	—	.11
10 Second rails	74.89	+	.32
10 Util.	103.65	+	.10
10 Ind.	101.31	—	.13

By FRANK MacMILLEN.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—In spite of the further 4-cent drop in sterling which was accompanied by sharply higher gold and silver prices in London, Wall Street securities markets coasted down the week's home stretch without excitement today.

With London gold at a new peak in terms of sterling, and silver at the highest price in seven years, Wall Street focused attention upon a fresh batch of currency discussions. One idea was that the British were taking deliberate steps to devalue the pound with the tacit approval of the United States in order that stabilization might soon be reached.

By most banking circles and foreign exchange experts this suggestion was scouted. Most observers fell back on their recent explanations of sterling weakness, namely that the London commodity collapse, slackened British trade, and English political agitations were at the bottom of the trouble.

Some pointed out that with huge financing operations directly ahead, the United States treasury would be in no mood for tampering with the gold content of the dollar in retaliation for the drop in the pound.

Changes Small.

How calmly markets viewed the situation was seen in the mild canter of most shares. In terms of the Associated Press average, stocks closed at 37.8, .1 lower, at about 125,000 shares an hour the trading pace was slightly slower than yesterday.

Fractions were added on top of the robust gains of yesterday.

In line with a custom of several months most industrial leaders did nothing but stand still. About the only issues to move off the doorstep were the preferreds, but for nearly everyone which stepped up there was one which stepped down.

Among the senior stocks gains of 1 to 2 points were scored by Bayuk, Consolidated Gas, Goodyear, Kendall, Newberry, Remington Rand 2nd, and Shell Union. Shares in this class which gave up from 1 to 5 points were Foster Wheeler, General Baking, Gotham Hosiery, Great Western Sugar, Hamilton Watch and International Printing Ink.

About the only ripple in the bond market was the mild slump of United Kingdom 4s and 5 1-2s, which backed down in sympathy with sterling.

Wheat Declines.

Wheat was 1-8 to 3-4 of a cent a bushel lower, while corn was 3-8 of a cent higher to 1-2 cent lower. Cotton was unchanged to 15 cents a bale lower.

Sterling finished the day at the bottom, $4.77 1-2, a loss of 4 cents. An advance of .01 5-8 of a cent made by the French franc was held. The other gold currencies finished a trifle lower.

Observers who reviewed the week found little to give markets cheer. The only major index to hold to its seasonal mark was that for carloadings. Electric Power & Steel operations declined while retail trade failed to budge in either direction.

About the only notable chip of corporate news was the declaration of quarterly divided of $2 on Coca-Cola common, which put the stock back on the $8 basis paid in 1931 and during three-quarters of 1932. In the interval the shares have been on a $6 basis, not including extras.

Brokers' Views

STOCK OPINIONS.

FENNER & BEANE—We look for continued firm tendencies of prices over the near term.

DOBBS & CO.—The market during the week has been much quieter and no further serious liquidation appears in sight, but on the other hand, no strong indication of an important rise are at hand and in the absence of unexpected news of consequence we would look for continued irregularity and dullness in the early part of the week.

COTTON OPINIONS.

FENNER & BEANE—We believe adherence to the constructive side will prove the best policy.

HUBBARD BROTHERS & CO. TO DOBBS & CO.—We still hear reports of pick up in the spot demand which would not seem surprising following recent apathy. As we have previously remarked, what the market needs is increased consuming demand and should this develop in any volume, it is unlikely that uncertainties in other directions would prevent at least a moderate demand.

Investment Trusts

NEW YORK, March 2.—(New York Security Dealers' Association.)

	Bid.	Asked.
British Type Inv	.32	.52
Bullock Fund	10.75	12.00
Corporate Trust A A	1.80	....
Corporate Trust Accum Ser	1.80	....
Depos Bk Sh N Y A	2.11	2.35
Depos Ins Shrs A	3.55	3.95
Diversified Tr B	6.75	....
Diversified Tr C	2.75	3.05
Diversified Tr D	4.25	4.75
Dividend Shrs	1.19	1.31
Huron Holding	.15	.30
Int Sec Ab 6½ pf	16.75	20.00
Mass Invest Tr	18.92	20.37
Nor Am Tr Sh 1955	2.12	....
Nor Am Tr Sh 1956	2.10	....
Quarterly Inc Shrs	1.21	1.32
Selected Am Sh Inc	1.07	1.17
Supervised Shrs	1.19	1.30
Trusteed Industry Shrs	1.08	1.19
20th Cent Fixed Tr	1.35	....

Carefully Selected

Stocks – Bonds

Complete
Investment Services

Helpful co-operation in the sound handling of investment funds. Information and Advisory Service available without charge. Ask us for current information and quotations.

GRANT & CO.

61-63 Forsyth St., N. W.

MAin 1181 ATLANTA, GA.

Complete New York Stock Exchange List

NEW YORK, March 2.—Following is the complete official list of today's stock transactions on the New York Stock Exchange:

STOCKS.

—A—

Sales (In 100s).	Div.	High.	Low.	Close.	Net Chg.
2 Adams Millis (2)	..	30½	30¼	30½	— ½
20 Addressog	..	11¼	10¾	11¼	+ ½
8 Affiliat Pr (.60)	..	7½	7½	7½	+ ½
2 Air Reduc (3)	..	112¾	112¼	112¾	— 1
22 Alaska Jun (2b)	..	17½	17½	17½	+ ½
7 Alleghany	..	1¼	1	1	+ ¼
23 Alleg pf $30 ww	..	18	17½	18	+ ½
3 Al Ch&Dye (6)	..	134½	134½	134½	— ½
4 AlphaPCem (1g)	..	16½	15½	15½	— ½
1 Amerada (2)	..	55¾	55¾	55¾	+ ½
8 Am Can (5b)	..	117½	117¼	117¼	— ¾
7 Am Chain	..	12¾	11¾	12¼	+ 1¼
2 Am Chicle (3½b)	..	74½	74½	74½	— ½
8 Am Crystal Sug	..	10¾	10¼	10¼	+ ½
3 Am Crys S pf	..	87	84½	87	+ 2½
6 Am&For Pow	..	2½	2½	2½
3 Am Ice	..	4½	4½	4½
2 Am Internat	..	5½	5½	5½	+ ½
4 Am Loco	..	13½	13	13	+ ½
2 Am Loco pf	..	39½	39	39
4 Am&Fdy (.80)	..	20½	20¼	20¼	+ ¼
4 Am Metal	..	16½	16	16½	+ ½
3 Am Pow & Lt	..	2¼	2¼	2¼
5 Am P&L$6 pf (1½)	..	13½	13½	13½	+ ½
5 Am P&L$5 pf (1½)	..	10¼	10¼	10¼	+ ½
24 Am Rad&St S	..	12¾	12¾	12¾
2 Am Roll Mill	..	19½	19½	19½	+ ½
30 Am Sm & R	..	37	36½	37	+ ½
2 Am Sm 2 pf (3k)	..	106	105¾	106	+ ¼
3 Am Sti Fdrs	..	14¾	14¾	14¾	— ½
17 Am Sug Ref (2)	..	69	68	68½	+ 1¼
13 Am Tel&Tel (9)	..	105½	105¼	105¼	— ¾
2 Am Teb (5)	..	79½	79½	79½
3 Am Tob B (5)	..	81	80¾	81	+ ½
3 Am Tob pf (6)	..	137½	137½	137½	— ½
3 AmWatWks (1)	..	10¼	10¼	10¼	+ ¼
5 Am Wool pf	..	38¾	38¾	38¾	+ ¼
3 Am Zinc L&S	..	3½	3¾	3½	— ¼
49 Anaconda	..	10½	10¼	10¼	+ ¼
6 ArchDanM (1½b)	..	40½	40	40¼	+ ¼
11 Arm Ill	..	5	4¾	5
3 Arm Ill pr pf (6)	..	68¾	68¾	68¾
4 Atch T&SF (2e)	..	41¾	41¾	41¾	— ½
2 Atchison pf (5)	..	79½	79½	79½	— ½
6 Atl Cst Line	..	26½	26	26
2 Atl Refin (1)	..	23½	23¼	23¾
5 Aviation Corp	..	3½	3¼	3¼

—B—

11 Baldwin Loc	..	2	1¾	1¾
2 Bald Loc pf	..	10½	10½	10¾	+ ¼
10 Balt & Ohio	..	10½	10¼	10¼	— ¼
5 Barnsdall	..	6¾	6½	6½
4 Beatrice Cr (4)	..	19	18¾	18¾	— ¼
2 Bendix Aviat	..	15½	15	15
2 BenIndLn (1¼)	..	16	15¾	16
3 Bethlehem Stl	..	27½	27¼	27½	— ¼
2 Blaw Knox	..	11¼	11¼	11¼	+ ¼
2 Boeing Airpl	..	7¾	7¾	7¾
7 Borden (1.60)	..	25	24¾	24¾	+ ¼
11 Borg Warn (1½)	..	33¾	32¾	32¾	— ¾
3 Botany C M A	..	4½	4½	4½
11 Briggs Mfg (1g)	..	29	28¾	29
3 Brigg&Strat (1g)	..	30½	30½	30¾
4 BklynManT (1g)	..	41¼	41¼	41¾	— ¼
3 Bucyrus Erie	..	5¾	5¾	5¾	+ ¼
2 Bucy E crt pf	..	11¼	11¼	11¼	+ ¼
5 Bullard Co	..	12	11¾	11¾	— ¼
1 Byers Co	..	15¾	15½	15¾	+ ¼

—C—

2 Callahan Z Ld	..	¼	¼	¼	+ ⅛
2 Calumet & Hec	..	3¾	3	3
8 CanDGAle (1)	..	10½	10½	10¾	— ¼
1 Cann Mills (2)	..	34¾	34¾	34¾	— ¼
16 Canad Pac	..	11¼	11	11¼	— ¼
5 Case J (3)	..	57	56½	56½
6 Caterpil Tract (1)	..	42¾	42¾	42¾
3 Celanese	..	29¾	29¾	29¾	— ¼
6 Cent Aguir (1½)	..	27	27	27	+ ¼
33 Cerro de Pas (2)	..	44¾	44¾	44¾	+ ¼
2 Certainteed	..	4½	4½	4½
8 Ches&Oh (2.80)	..	42¾	42¼	42¼	+ ¼
2 Chi & N W	..	3¾	3¾	3¾	— ¼
3 Chi M St P&P	..	2	2	2
2 Chi M St P&P pf	..	2¼	2¼	2¼
3 ChickCotOil (2)	..	28¾	28¾	28¾	+ ¼
70 Chrysler (1)	..	36¾	35¾	36	— ¾
4 City Ice&F (2)	..	21½	21½	21½
3 City Strs	..	1¼	1¼	1¼
6 Coca Cola (7b)	..	180	178¾	178¾	— 1¾
1 Coca Cola A (3)	..	56½	56½	56½	— ½
51 Colg Palm (4)	..	18	17½	18	+ ½
14 Colum G&El	..	4¼	4¼	4¼	— ¼
4 ColG&E pf A (6)	..	51	50	50	+ 1½
13 ColumPic vtc (1a)	..	44	42¾	43¾	— ½
14 Colum Carb (4)	..	79½	76½	79¼	+ 3½
4 Comml Credit (2)	..	47	46¾	47
2 ComlCredA (3)	..	57½	57	57
6 ComInvTr (2½b)	..	59½	59½	59½
10 Comml Solv (.85b)	..	21½	21	21
13 Comwl & Sou	..	1¼	1	1
6 Comw&Sou pf (2½)	..	36¾	35¾	35¾	— ¾
1.60 Cong Na (1.60)	..	31	30½	30½	— ½
6 Con Film pf (½)	..	20	19½	19½	+ ¼
23 Con Gas (1)	..	18¾	17½	17½	— ¾
3 Con Gas pf (5)	..	78	77½	78	+ 1
3 Con Oil (.42e)	..	7¾	7¾	7¾	+ ¼
2 Con Textile	..	4	4	4
3 Container B	..	4¼	4¼	4¼	— ¼
3 Cont Bak B	..	4	4	4
5 Cont Can (2.40)	..	72	71½	71¾	— ¼
1 Cont D Fib (.15g)	..	8¼	8¼	8¼	— ¼
2 Cont Mot	..	1	1	1
14 Cont O Del(1e)	..	17½	17½	17¾	+ ¼
4 Corn Prod (3)	..	65¾	64¾	64¾
4 Coty	..	5¾	5¼	5¼	+ ¼
2 Cream of W (2½b)	..	39½	39½	39½
2 Crosley Rad	..	14¾	14¾	14¾	+ ¼
2 Crown Cork (1)	..	26¾	26¾	26¾	+ ¼
2 Crown Zeller	..	4¼	4¼	4¼
2 Crucible Stl	..	19½	19	19
15 Cuban-Am Sug	..	7	6¾	7	+ ¼
2.30 Cuban-Am S pf	..	58	57½	58
2 Curtis P pf (3½)	..	98½	98	98	+ ½
9 Curtiss-Wright	..	2¾	2¾	2¾	+ ¼
2 Curtiss-Wr A	..	8	7¾	8	+ ¼

—D—

1 Deere & Copf(.80)	..	20½	20½	20½	+ ½
5 Del & Hud	..	30½	29½	29½	— ½
2 Den & R G Wpf	..	2	2	2	— ¼
2 Diamond Mat (4g)	..	28½	28	28	— ½
57 Dome Mines (2)	..	41½	40¾	41¼	+ ½
3 Douglas Airc	..	21¾	21	21	+ ½
11 Du P de N (2.80)	..	93	92¾	93	+ ¼
3 Du P deb (6)	..	128½	128½	128¼	— ¼

—E—

2 Eastman Kod (5)	..	122½	122	122	+ ½
5 Eaton Mfg (1)	..	18½	18	18	— ¼
6 El Auto L	..	24	24	24	— ¼
1.40 El Auto L pf(7)	..	109	108¾	109	+ ¼
4 El Pow & Lt	..	1½	1½	1½	— ¼
3 El P&L pf	..	6½	6	6
2 El Stor Bat (2)	..	46¾	46	46	+ ¼
1 Endicott-J (3)	..	59½	59¾	59½	+ 1½
1 Eng PS $5 pf	..	15½	15½	15½
1 Erie R R	..	10	10	10
1 Eureka V C (.80)	..	12	12	12
3 Evans Prod (1e)	..	22	21½	22

—F—

1 Firest T&R (.40)	..	15½	15½	15¾	— ¼
1 Firest T&R pf (6)	..	93¾	93¾	93¾	— ¼
3 Food Mach (4g)	..	28	27½	28	+ ¼
1 Foster Wheel	..	13¾	13¾	13¾	+ ¼
6 Fourth N I (.85e)	..	24	23½	24	+ ¼
.40 Frank Sim pf	..	36	36	36
8 Freeport Tex (1)	..	21¾	21	21¾	+ ¼

—G—

1 Gen Am Tr (1½)	..	35	35	35	+ ¼
2 Gen Asphalt	..	14¾	14¾	14¾
.10 Gen Bak pf (8)	..	124	124	124	— 1
1 Gen Bronze	..	6	6	6	— ¼
2 Gen Cable	..	2½	2½	2½	+ ¼
26 Gen Elec (.60)	..	23¾	23½	23¾	+ ¼
4 Gen Foods (1.80)	..	35	34½	35	+ ½
52 Gen Mot (1)	..	29¾	29¾	29¾	+ ¼
.10 Gen Pr Ink pf(6)	..	99½	99½	99½	+ 1
2 Gillette (1)	..	14¾	14¾	14¾	+ ¼
2 Gimbel pf (5½)	..	77½	77	77¾	— ¼
1 Glodd Co (1.30b)	..	26¼	26¼	26¾	— ¼
4 Gobel	..	4	3¾	4	+ ¼
1 Goody T 1 pf (4)	..	81	81	81	+ 1
3 Goth Silk H pf(7)	..	35	35½	35½	— 4½
2 Graham-Paige	..	2¼	2¼	2¼	— ¼
3 Granby Con M	..	6¼	6¼	6¼	+ ¼
1 Grand Union	..	3¾	3¾	3¾	— ¼
2 Grand Un pf(14)	..	17½	17½	17½	+ ¼
2 Grant (WT) (1½b)	..	31	31	31	— ¼
7 Gt N I O ctf(4g)	..	10	10	10	— ¼
9 Gt No Pr pf	..	13	12¾	12¾	— ¼
4 Gt W Sug (2.40)	..	31¾	31½	31½	+ ¼

—H—

6 Hahn Dept Strs	..	5	4¾	4¾	— ¼
2 Hahn D Strs pr	..	61¾	61¾	61¾	— ¼
3 Hall Print	..	5¾	5¼	5¼
2 Harb-Walker (4g)	..	18¾	18¾	18¾	+ ¼
1 Harland F	..	7¾	7¾	7¾	— ¼
2 Homestake M (16b)	..	350	350	350	+ 1
1 Hood-Her B	..	8	8	8
15 Howe Sound (3)	..	49½	48¾	49	+ ¼
7 Hudson Mot	..	9¼	9¼	9¼	— ¼
8 Hupp Mot	..	2¼	2¼	2¼	— ¼

—I—

5 Illinois Cent	..	12	11¾	11¾	— ¼
6 Indust Ray (1.68)	..	31½	31½	31½
2 Inland Stl (1)	..	52¾	52¼	52¼	— ¼
2 Inspirat Cop	..	2¾	2¾	2¾	— ¼
4 Intercont Rub	..	2¼	2¼	2¼	+ ¼
3 Int B Mach (6a)	..	160½	160½	160½	— ½
5 Int Cement (1g)	..	26¾	26¾	26¾	— ¼
2 Int Harvest (.60)	..	40	39½	39½	— ¼
3 Int Hydro-El A	..	1¼	1¼	1¼	— ¼
3 Int Mer Mar	..	2¼	2¼	2¼
32 Int N Can (.15g)	..	23¾	23¼	23½	— ¼
4 Int Pap & P pf	..	7¾	7	7¼	+ ¼
3 Int Pr Ink (4g)	..	24¼	24¼	24¼	— ¼
.50 Int Pr I pf (6)	..	100½	99¼	99½	— 1½
1 Int Silver	..	22¾	22¾	22¾	+ ¼
14 Int Tel & Tel	..	7¼	7	7	— ¼
1 Interst D Strs	..	11¾	11¾	11¾	+ ¼

—J—

1 Jewel Tea (3)	..	36¼	36¼	36¼
11 Johns-Manville	..	46¾	46¾	46¾	— ½
50 Johns-Man pf (7)	..	124	123	123	+ 1

—K—

1 Kan City Sou pf	..	9	9	9
8 Kaufm Dept(.20g)	..	9¼	8¾	9¼	+ ¼
5 Kelly-Spring	..	1¼	1¼	1¼
18 Kelvinator (.70b)	..	17¾	16¾	17¼	+ ¼
24 Kennecott (1.15g)	..	16¼	15¾	16	+ ¼
2 Kresge (8S)	..	21	20¾	20¾	— ¼
3 Kroger Groc(1.60)	..	23¼	23¼	23¼	+ ¼

—L—

4 Lehigh Val C	..	2	1¾	1¾
17 Lehigh V C pf	..	8	7	7¾	— ¼
2 Leh Val R R	..	7¼	7¼	7¼	— ¼
2 Lehn&Fink (1½)	..	16	15¾	16	+ ¼
6 Lib-O FGl (1.20)	..	26¼	26¼	26¼
2 Lig & Myers (5b)	..	10	10	10	+ ¼
4 Lig & Myr B (5b)	..	105½	105½	105¾	— 1
12 Loew's (2)	..	36¾	36	36
8 Lor'ld (P) (2.20b)	..	20½	20¼	20¼	— ¼
.50 Louis Oil pf	..	8¼	8¼	8¼	+ ¼
4 Louisv G&EA(1½)	..	15½	15½	15½

—M—

16 Mack Trks (1)	..	23	22½	22½	— ½
7 Macy (RH) (2)	..	37¾	37	37½	+ ¼
2 Magma Cop (2)	..	21½	20¾	21¼
.80 Manati Sug pf	..	5½	5	5¼	+ ¼
1 Maracaibo Oil	..	1	1	1
3 Maranchа Corp	..	5	4¾	4¾	— ¼
2 Marine Midl (.40)	..	6¼	6¼	6¼	+ ¼
2 Martin-Rock (2)	..	21¼	21¼	21¼	— ¼
3 Marsh Field	..	7¾	7¾	7¾
13 Math Alkali (1½)	..	27	26½	27	+ ¼
2 May Dpt St (1.60)	..	41¼	41	41¼	+ ¼
3 Maytag	..	6¼	6¼	6¼	+ ¼
1 McCrory Strs B	..	8¼	8¼	8¼	— ¼
2 McCrory Strs pf	..	64¼	64¼	64½	— 1¼
50 McInty Porc (2)	..	45¼	44¼	45¼	+ ¼
2 McK'spt T (4)	..	95¾	95¼	95¼
20 McKess & Rob	..	8	7¾	7¾	+ ¼
4 McKess & Rob pf	..	43¾	43¼	43¾	+ ¼
1 McLellan Strs	..	13½	13½	13¾	+ ¼
16 Mesta Mach (1½)	..	30¾	30	30¼	+ ¼
2 Mid-Cont Pet (1e)	..	11¼	11¼	11½	+ ¼
7 Minn & St L	..	¼	¼	¼
3 Minn-Mol Imp	..	4¼	4¼	4¼	+ ¼
1 Mo-Kan-T	..	3½	3½	3½
1 Mo-K-T pf	..	7¾	7¾	7¾	— ¼
6 Mo Pac pf	..	2¾	2½	2½	+ ¼
3 Montg Ward	..	25¾	25½	25¾	+ ¼
2 Mother Lode	..	¼	¼	¼
2 Motor Wheel	..	9	9	9	— ¼
4 Mullins Mfg	..	10	9¾	10	+ ¼
.30 Mullins pf	..	55½	55½	55¾	+ ¼
5 Murray Corp	..	6¼	6	6¼	+ ¼

—N—

4 Nash Mot (1)	..	14¼	14¼	14¼
24 Nat Biscuit (2)	..	26¾	26½	26½	— ¼
9 Nat Dry Pr(1.20)	..	17	16¾	16¾
3 Nat Dept Strs	..	1¼	1¼	1¼	— ¼
12 Nat Distill (1g)	..	27¼	26¾	27
4 Nat Pw&Lt (.80)	..	5¾	5¾	5¾
4 Nat Stl (1½b)	..	45	44¾	44¾
1 Neisner Brs (1½b)	..	24¼	24¼	24¼	+ ¼
2 Newb'y (JJ)(1.60)	..	51¼	51	51
16 N Y Central	..	16½	15¾	15¾	— ¼
3 N Y N H & H	..	4¼	4¼	4¼	— ¼
2 N Y N H & H pf	..	8¼	8¼	8¼	+ ¼
3 N Y Shpbldg (.40)	..	10	10	10
20 Noranda Mns (2e)	..	35¼	35¼	35¼	+ 1
6 No Am Aviat	..	2¼	2¼	2¼
10 North Am (1)	..	11¼	11¼	11¼	+ ¼
4 Northern Pac	..	16½	16	16

—O—

2 Ohio Oil (.45e)	..	9¼	9¼	9¼	+ ¼
1 Oppenheim (Sl)	..	6¾	6¾	6¾	— ¼
2 Owens-Ill Gl (4)	..	90	90	90	+ ¼

—P—

2 Pac G&El (1½)	..	13¾	13¾	13¾
3 Pac T&T (6)	..	72½	72½	72½	+ ½
3 Pac West O (.40e)	..	8¼	8¼	8¼	— ¼
15 Packard Mot	..	4	4	4	— ¼
55 Param Publix ctf	..	3½	3¼	3¼	+ ¼
6 Park Utah	..	3½	3¼	3¼	+ ¼
3 Pathe Exch	..	1	1	1
13 Pathe Exch A	..	16	15½	16	+ ¼
3 Pen'y (JC) (4b)	..	67¾	67¼	67¼	+ ¼
20 Penn RR (1g)	..	20½	20½	20½
10 Phelps Ddg (1e)	..	15¾	15¾	15¾	+ ¼
1 PhilaCoSs pf (3)	..	24½	24¼	24½	+ ¼
1 Phillip Morris (1)	..	39½	39¼	39½	+ ¼
13 Phillips Pet (1)	..	15	15	15	+ ¼
4 Pierce Ar	..	¼	¼	¼
2 Pierce Oil	..	¼	¼	¼	+ ⅛
2 Pills Flour (1.60)	..	33	33	33
3 Plymouth O (4g)	..	8¼	8	8¼
2 Poor & Co B	..	8¾	8½	8½	+ ¼
3 Postal T&C pf	..	12¼	11¾	12½	— ¼
18 Proc&Gam (1.70b)	..	49¼	49¼	49½	+ ¼
4 Pullman (3)	..	47¼	47¼	47¼	— ¼
8 Purity Bak (1)	..	9¼	9¼	9¼

—R—

17 Radio	..	5	4¾	5
15 Radio pf B	..	43¼	43	43¼	+ ¼
3 Radio pf (3½)	..	52¼	52¼	52½	— ¼
3 Radio-Keith-O	..	1¼	1¼	1¼
4 Rem Rand	..	9¼	9¼	9¼
3 Reo Mot	..	3¼	3	3
6 Repub Stl	..	12	11¾	12
1 Rey Stl cv pf	..	37¾	37¾	37¾	+ ¼
6 Rey Met (1)	..	22¼	22¼	22¼	+ ¼
6 Rey Toby B (3)	..	48	47¾	48	+ ¼

—S—

10 Safe St 7 pf (7)	..	112¼	112¼	112¼	+ ¼
6 St Jos L (.10g)	..	13¾	13¾	13¾
14 Schenley Distill	..	26	25¾	25¾	— ¼
7 Seaboard Air	..	¼	¼	¼
2 Seab Oil (.70b)	..	23¾	23¾	23¾	+ ¼
8 Sears Roeb	..	33¾	33	33	— ¼
3 Sec Nat Inv	..	1¼	1¼	1¼
36 Secrel	..	9	8¾	9	+ ¼
3 Shell Union	..	6¾	6¾	6¾
2 Shell Un pf	..	71	70	71	+ 1
13 Silv K C (.40)	..	10	9¾	10	+ ¼
3 Simmons	..	8	8	8
2 Simms P (1g)	..	15¾	15¾	15¾	— ¼
21 Socony V (.15g)	..	13¾	13	13¾	+ ¼
10 So PR Sug (2)	..	24¼	24	24
2 Sou Cal E (1½)	..	11¾	11¾	11¾	— ¼
18 Sou Pac	..	15¼	14¾	15¼	— ¼
18 Sou Ry	..	10	9¾	9¾	+ ¼
2 Sou Ry pf	..	12¾	12¾	12¾	+ ¼
14 Sperry Corp (1e)	..	8¾	8¾	8¾	— ¼
4 Spicer Mfg	..	10¼	10¼	10¼	+ ¼
2 Spiegel M St	..	68¾	68¾	68¾	+ ¼
15 Std Bds (1)	..	17¼

BEST GAINS SHOWN IN UTILITY BONDS

Daily Bond Averages.

(Copyright, 1935, Standard Statistics Co.)

	20 Ind's.	20 RR's.	60 Uts.	Total
Saturday	86.7	79.0	94.6r	86.8
Previous day	86.7	78.8	94.4	86.6
Week ago	86.9	81.8	94.4	87.7
Month ago	86.9	83.1	92.5	87.5
Year ago	79.9	86.2	86.5	84.2
1935 high	87.1	86.4	94.6	88.4
1935 low	86.1	78.3	89.5	86.3
1934 high	85.9	90.0	90.6	88.1
1934 low	72.6	74.1	77.2	74.8
1933 high	77.1	84.9	85.5	83.4
1933 low	57.3	57.0	74.1	63.6

x—New 1935 high.

By G. A. PHILLIPS.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—The bond market pursued a fairly even trend today with best gains recorded by utility issues. United States governments were a trifle irregular.

Ignoring the highly unsettled condition of foreign exchange markets, investment quarters paid close attention to developments having a direct bearing on securities, especially the statement of J. F. Fogarty, president of the North American Company, one of the largest public utility organizations in the country, that he believed pending federal legislation dealing with utilities would be defeated.

Quiet accumulation of some of the better situated utility bonds has been noted from time to time in the past month and a considerable amount of switching from secondary railroad obligations into this type of security was evident early this week when the carrier situation became more acute.

Advances ranging from 1-2 to more than a point were made by Utilities Power & Light 5 1-2s at 33 1-2, Utah Light & Traction 5s at 84 1-2, Columbia Gas & Electric 5s at 75 1-4, and North American Edison debenture 5s at 83 7-8. Among others selling higher were obligations of Detroit Edison, Laclede Gas, Metropolitan Edison and Portland General Electric. The Associated Press average of 10 utilities advanced .3 of a point to 88.7. The averages for 20 rails, 10 industrials and 10 low-yield bonds were .2 of a point lower to .2 of a point higher.

In other sections of the corporate list price changes were generally narrow.

Government loans were a trifle irregular, following the rapid upturn of the previous day. Liberty 3 1-2s were 5-32ds higher at 102.28 and treasury 23 1-4s 1944 were 3-32ds lower at 105.2. Home owners' loan issues, in which the heaviest trading occurred, showed extremely small changes.

Transfers aggregated $6,563,000, par value, compared with $8,480,000 last Saturday.

Tri-State Gangsters To Die in Chair

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., March 2.—(AP)—Roy Francis Wiley and Martin Farrell, "tri-state gangsters," tonight were convicted of murder, with a recommendation for death in the electric chair, for the kidnap-killing of William Weiss, Philadelphia night life character.

The Bucks county jury of ten men and two women returned the verdict at 8:20 p. m., three and a half hours after retiring to deliberate the fate of the two penitentiary convicts.

AMERICAN HITLER EPITHET HURLED AT SENATOR CLARK

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Irritated at having his testimony cut short, Arthur Kallet, of New York, today hurled the term "American Hitler" at Senator Clark, when he was refused permission to criticize Senator Copeland during a commerce subcommittee hearing on the latter's food and drug bill.

Kallet, secretary of Consumers' Research, Inc., of Washington, N. J., sought to put into the record, as he did in the last congress, an assertion that Copeland had given a radio talk advertising a medical commodity objected to by the youthful-looking pure food advocate.

"Your testimony is finished." Clark snapped, while a crowd of more than a hundred spectators stirred in their seats in the large caucus room of the senate office building.

"All right," Kallet retorted, rising from his seat, "if you intend to act the American prototype of Hitler, and leave thousands of Americans in jeopardy."

"If you do not conduct yourself in an orderly manner," Clark said, his voice rising and his face reddening, "you will be ejected from the hearing."

Kallet returned to his seat and soon left the room.

"I will state for the record," Clark concluded, "that the witness spoke for 50 minutes, more than twice as long as any other."

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR COTTON STATES

Georgia—Fair, slightly warmer Sunday; mostly cloudy.

Virginia — Fair with mild temperature Sunday, colder Sunday night; Monday cloudy and colder, probably followed by rain.

North Carolina — Fair with mild temperature Sunday; Monday cloudy and somewhat colder, possibly light rain in west portion.

South Carolina—Fair and slightly warmer Sunday; Monday mostly cloudy.

Florida — Fair Sunday and Monday; little change in temperature.

Louisiana — Cloudy, warmer in south and east portions Sunday; Monday cloudy and unsettled, probably showers in west portion.

Mississippi—Partly cloudy, warmer in south portion Sunday; Monday cloudy and unsettled, probably showers in northwest portion.

Alabama and Extreme Northwest Florida—Partly cloudy, warmer Sunday; Monday cloudy.

Arkansas — Increasing cloudiness Sunday; Monday unsettled; probably showers.

Oklahoma—Cloudy, probably showers Sunday and Monday; colder in west portion Monday.

East Texas—Cloudy Sunday; Monday unsettled, probably local showers.

West Texas—Cloudy, probably showers in north portion Sunday; Monday unsettled, probably showers in east portions, cooler in west and north portions.

Dividend Declared.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Directors of the Alabama Vicksburg Railway Company today declared a dividend of $2.75 a share on the capital stock, payable April 1 to stock of record March 8. Previously $3 semi-annually was paid. The road is leased to the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley Railroad Co., which is controlled by the Illinois Central.

Metals.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Tin barely steady; spot and nearby, 47.60; future, 47.30. Zinc firmer; East St. Louis spot and future, 3.90. Other metals nominally unchanged.

BOND DEALINGS ON NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, March 2.—Following are today's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond:

(U. S. government bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds.)

U. S. GOVERNMENT BONDS.

Liberty.

Sales (In $1,000).	High.	Low.	Close.
104 3½s 32-47	102.30	102.28	102.28
9 1st 4½s 32-47	102.18	102.12	102.12
5 4th 4½s 33-38	103.6	103.6	103.6
173 4th 4½s 33-38 cld.	101.18	101.18	101.18

Treasury.

6 4½s 47-52	116.2	116.2	116.2
256 3½s 43-45	105.4	105.2	105.4
2 4s 44-54	111.5	111.5	111.5
17 3½s 40-43 June	106.24	106.21	106.21
4 3½s 43-47	106.12	106.10	106.11
4 3½s 41-43 March	106.23	106.23	106.23
109 3½s 41	106.27	106.22	106.25
44 3½s 44-46	105.6	104.29	105.2
51 3½s 49-52	104.22	104.17	104.17
23 3s 46-48	103.19	103.17	103.17
39 3s 51-55	103.16	103.16	103.16
25 FdFrnMg 3s 47	102.	101.30	101.30
29 FdFrnMg 3s 49	102.1	101.28	101.30
14 FdFrnMg 3½s 64	103.25	103.20	103.25
9 HomeOnLn 4s 51	101.11	101.11	101.11
97 HomeOnLn 3sA52	102.2	101.28	102.
365 HoOnLn 2½s 39-49	100.7	100.1	100.5

CORPORATION BONDS.

—A—

Sales (In $1,000).	High.	Low.	Close.
3 Abr&Straus 5½ 43	105	105	105
3 Allegh&Ww 5s 44	70	70	70
1 Alleghany 5s 49	61½	61½	61½
2 Alleghany 5s 50	20	20	20
10 Alleghany 5s 50 ctf	20	20	20
4 Allis Chal 5s 37	101½	101½	101½
4 Am&For P 5s 2030	58½	58	58½
1 Am Chain 6s 38	101½	101½	101½
1 Am Ice 5s 53	82	82	82
2 AmIGChem 5½s 49	107	107	107
4 Am Int 5½s 49	88½	88½	88½
26 AmRollM 5s 38	107½	106½	106½
4 Am Smelt 5s 47	104½	104½	104½
17 Am T&T 5½s 43	113	112¾	112¾
3 Am T&T col 5s 46	109½	109½	109½
6 Am T&T 5s 60	112¼	112	112¼
14 Am T&T 5s 65	112¼	112	112
1 Am T&T 4½s 39	108	108	108
2 AmWW&E 5s 44	92¼	92¼	92¼
2 AmWriPap 6s 47	23	23	23
3 Arm Del 5½s 43	105½	105½	105½
23 Arm 4½s 39	103¾	103½	103½
7 Armstrong 5s 40	104¾	104¾	104¾
1 AT&SF cvt 4½s 48	108½	108½	108½
27 AT&SF 4s 95	111	110¾	111
1 AT&SF adj 4s 95	106	106	106
37 AT&SF adj 4s 95 st	106	106	106
1 AT&SF 4s 1905-55	104	104	104
1 AT&SF 4s 1909-55	103½	103½	103½
1 ATSSFTnM 5½ 58	109	109	109
6 Atl&Cha AL 5s 44	109	109	109
13 A C Line 1st 4s 52	102½	102½	102½
2 ACL cfc 4s 52	77¾	77¾	77¾
28 A C Line 4½s 64	88½	88½	88½
2 Atl&Dan 1st 4s 48	37	37	37

—B—

6 Bald Loc 5s 40	98	97¾	98
9 B&O rfg 6s 95	73¾	73¼	73¾
3 B&O 1st 5s 48	107½	107½	107½
16 B&O rfg 5s 95	63½	63½	63½
4 B&O 5s 96 F	63½	63	63½
2 B&O 5s 2000 D	62½	62½	62½
18 B&O cvt 4½s 60	46½	46½	46½
6 B&O 4s 48	102½	101½	101½
4 B&O 4s PLE&WV 41	98	98	98
2 B&O 5s SW 50	95½	95½	95½
1 B&O 4s T C 59	84	84	84
3 Bang&Aroo 4s 51	102½	102½	102½
2 Bang&Aroo cv 4s 51 stp	103½	103½	103½
3 Beech Creek 4s 36	101½	101½	101½
6 BellTPa 5s 48 B	118	117½	118
2 BellTPa 5s 60 C	122	122	122
3 Ben Ind L 6s 46	108½	108½	108½
1 Beth Stl rfg 5s 42	109	109	109
1 Beth Stl pm 5s 36	103½	103½	103½
15 Boston&Me 5s 67	68½	68	68
12 Boston&Me 5s 35	68½	68	68½
10 BrklynCityRR 5s 41	89	88½	89
7 Brklyn Ed 5s 52 E	100½	100½	100½
9 Brklyn M Tran 6s 68	105½	105½	105½
1 BrklynUnEl 1st 5s 50	102½	102½	102½
2 BrklynUnGas 6s 47	122	122	122
18 Brklyn U Gas 5s 45	117½	117½	117½
1 BrklynUGas 5s 57 B	110½	110½	110½
6 Buf R&P 4½s 57	62	60½	62
9 Bush Term 5s 55	42	41½	42
1 By Prod C 5½s 45	85½	85½	85½

—C—

10 Cal Pack 5s 40	104½	104½	104½
4 Cal Pet 5½s 38	108½	108½	108½
1 Cal Pet 5s 39	102½	102½	102½
1 Can Sou 5s 62	111¾	111¾	111¾
6 CanNatRy 4½s 54	103½	103½	103½
2 CanNatRy 4½s 57	111½	111	111
5 CanNatRy 4½s 68	104½	104½	104½
2 CanNat 5s 69 July	113¾	113¾	113¾
2 Can Nor 7s 40	106½	106½	106½
1 Can Pac 5s 44	111½	111½	111½
1 Can Pac 5s 54	104¼	104¼	104¼
1 Can Pac 4½s 46	100½	100½	100½
7 Can Pac 4½s 60	98	97½	97¾
18 Can Pac 4s perp	86½	86½	86½
8 Cen of Ga 5s 59 C	8½	8½	8½
1 Cen Ga Mobile 5s 46	20	20	20
1 Cen Hud Gas 5s 57	110½	110½	110½
4 Cen I E&G 5s 51	85	84½	85
8 Cen Pac 5s 60	76	75¾	76
1 Cen Pac 1st 4s 49	101	101	101
6 Certainteed 5½s 48	70½	70¼	70¼
27 Chesap Corp 5s 47	105¾	105½	105¾
11 Chesap Corp cv 5s 44	104¾	104½	104¾
8 C&Ohio con 5s 39	112½	112½	112½
2 C&O gen 4½s 92	110½	110½	110½
1 C&O Ry 4½s 93 A	110½	110½	110½
2 C&O rfg 4½s 95 B	110¼	110¼	110¼
2 Chi & Alton 3s 49	45	45	45
3 CR&Q 4s 111 49	109½	109	109
4 CR&Q 3½s 111 49	105½	105½	105½
1 Cen & R Ill 5s 51	7	7	7
2 Chi&EIII 5s 51 ct	6½	6½	6½
1 ChiGL&Ck 5s 37	105	105	105
3 ChiGtWest 4s 59	24¼	24	24
9 ChiGtW 4s 59 sta	23¾	23¾	23¾
10 Chi I&L 6s 66	7¾	7¾	7¾
3 Chi I&L 4s 47	19	18	19
9 Chi I&L 5s 66	8	7	8
8 CM&SP 4½s 89 C	49	48½	48½
4 CM&SP gen 4s 89	45½	45½	45½
20 CMSP&Pac 5s 75	18½	18	18½
30 CMSP&Pac ad 5s 2000	4½	4½	4½
7 Chi&NW 6½s 36	59	57½	57½
10 Chi&NW 5s 87 sta	50	48½	50
8 Chi&NW cv 4½s 49	16	15½	15½
9 Chi&NW 4½ 2037 C	20½	19½	20½
2 Chi&NW 4½s 2037 D	20	20	20
1 Chi&NW 4s 87	42	42	42
12 CRI&P cvt 4½s 60	7	6¾	6¾
12 CRI&P 4s 88	41	40½	40½
2 CRI&P rfg 4s 34	13½	13	13
9 CTH&SE 5s 60	47¾	47¼	47¾
9 CTH&SE inc 5s 60	26¾	26	26¾
2 ChiUnSta 5s 63 B	109	109	109
12 Ch&W Ind 5½s 62	104	103½	103½
20 Ch&W Ind 4s 52	98½	98½	98½
3 Chile Co 5s 43	60½	59½	60½
8 Chile Cop 5s 47	84½	84½	84½
8 Cinn Gas&E 4s 68	106½	106	106
10 CinUnTerm 5s 57 C	113	112¾	112¾
7 CCC&StL 4½s 77 E	62½	62½	62½
5 CCC&StL 4s 90 StL	93¼	93¼	93¼
9 CCC&StL gen 4s 93	100	100	100
9 ClevUnTerm 5½s 72	99½	98½	99½
17 ClevUnTerm 5s 73	93	93	93
5 ClevUnTerm 4½s 77 C	88	88	88
1 Colon Oil 6s 38	47¼	47¼	47¼
10 Colo&So 1st 4½s 35	92¼	92	92¼
16 Columbia G 5s 52 May	77	75¾	76½
11 Columbia G 5s 61	75¼	74¼	75¼
14 ComInvTr 5½s 49	111¾	111¾	111¾
1 Con Coal 5s 50 ct	33¾	33¾	33¾
22 ConGasNY 5½s 45	106¼	106	106¼
10 ConGasNY 5s 57	105½	105	105½
10 ConGasNY 4½s 51	103½	103½	103½
4 ConsumGasChi 5s 36	104¼	104¼	104¼
18 Crown Will 6s 51	103	102½	102½
20 CubaNoRy 5½s 42	47	46	46½
2 Cuba R R 5s 52	37	36½	37
8 Cub Cane Pr 6s 50	8	8	8

—D—

1 Del&Hud 5½s 37	96	96	96
1 Del&Hud rfg 4s 43	85½	85½	85½
8 D&RG 4s 36	30½	29½	30½
5 D Pac col tr 4s 40	108½	108½	108½
15 Det Ed 5s 52	110½	110½	110½
14 Det Ed 4½s 61	111½	111¾	111½
3 Dodge Bros 6s 40	106½	106½	106½
5 Duque Lt 4½s 57 B	112½	112½	112½

—E—

3 EastCubSug 7½s 37	8½	8½	8½
3 Erie rf 5s 67	64	64	64
34 Erie rf 5s 75	63½	63	63¼
27 Erie pr ln 4s 96	102	101¾	102
1 Erie gen lien 4s 96	75½	75½	75½

—F—

7 Fed Lt & T 5s 42	88½	88	88½
5 Fla E Cst 4½s 59	60	60	60
4 Francis Sug 7½s 42	31	30½	31

—G—

1 Gannett 6s 43	103½	103½	103½
2 Gen Am Inv 5s 52	101	101	101
1 Gen Stl Cast 5½s 49	83¼	83¼	83¼
8 Goodrich 6½s 47	108½	108½	108½
8 Goodrich 6s 45	96½	96½	96½
28 Goodyr T&R 5s 57	105	104½	105
2 Gr Tk Ry Can 7s 40	105½	105½	105½
5 Gr Tk Ry Can 6s 36	106½	106½	106½
15 Gt Nor Ry 7s 36	88½	88	88
6 Gt Nor Ry 5½s 52	86½	86½	86½
7 Gt Nor 4½s 76 D	73½	73¼	73½
2 Gt Nor 1st 4½s 61	103	102½	103

—H—

10 Hackens Wat 4s 52	107½	107½	107½
31 Harlem Riv&P 4s 54	93½	93	93½
1 Hav Elec 5½s 51	5½	5½	5½
3 Housatonic 5s 37	80	80	80
10 Hudson Coal 5s 62 A	42	41	42
6 Hud & Man rfg 5s 57	89½	89½	89½
5 Hud & Man inc 5s 57	38½	38½	38½

—I—

2 Ill Cen 4½s 66	53½	53½	53½
3 Ill Cen rfg 4s 55	81	80½	81
3 IC&CSLANO 5s 63 A	67½	66½	66½
2 IC&CSLANO 4½s 63	64½	64½	64½
3 Ill Steel 4½s 40	107½	107½	107½
1 Inland St 4½s 78 A	104½	104½	104½
10 Inland St 4½s 81 B	105	104½	105
7 Interb R Tr 7s 32	87½	87½	87½
6 Interb A Tr 6s 32	60½	60	60½
38 Interb R Tr rfg 5s 66	86½	85½	86
1 Interlake Iron 5s 51	77	77	77
9 Int Cement 5s 48	101	101	101
1 Int Gt Nor adj 6s 52	7¾	7¾	7¾
38 Int Hydro El 6s 44	38½	36½	38½
1 Int Mer Mar 6s 41	53	53	53
3 Int Paper 6s 55	50½	48	48½
18 Int Paper 5s 47	73½	72	72
4 Int T&T cv 4½s 39	67	67	67
6 Int T&T 4½s 52	57½	57	57½
1 Int T&T deb 5s 55	63	63	63
20 Iowa Cen rfg 4s 51	1½	1½	1½
2 Iowa Cen 5s 38 ct	9	9	9

—J—

9 James F&Clea 4s 59	82	82	82

—K—

2 KC FtS&Mem 4s 36 ct	34½	34½	34½
1 KC Pow&Lt 4½s 57 B	105½	105½	105½
8 K C Pow &Lt 4½s 61	113	113	113
9 K C South 5s 50	62	61½	61½
7 K C South 3s 50	77	76½	77
10 K C Term 4s 60	108½	108½	108½
10 Kans G & E 4½s 80	103½	103½	103½
5 Keith B F 6s4 6	68	68	68
8 Kendall 5½s 48 A	103½	103	103
5 Ky Ind Tr 4½s 61	86	86	86

Sales (In $1,000.) High. Low. Close.

6 Kings Co Elev 4s 49	99½	99½	99½
15 Kresg Found 6s 36	102½	102½	102½

—L—

3 Lac Gas 5½s 53	63	62	63
6 Lac Gas 5½s 60 D	61½	61½	61½
15 Lac Gas 5s 39	100½	100½	100½
2 LE&West 1st 5s 37	102	102	102
5 LS&MS 3½s 97	100½	100½	100½
6 Lautaro Nit 6s 54	8	8	8
1 Leh Val 4s 2003	39½	39½	39½
2 Lorillard Co 7s 44	126½	126½	126½
1 Lorillard Co 5s 51	115¼	115¼	115¼
2 Lou Gas & El 5s 52	111	111	111
1 Lou & N 5½s 2003	106¼	106¼	106¼
3 Lou&N 5s 2003 B	106	106	106
9 Lou & N 4½s 2003 N	102½	102½	102½
12 Louis & N 4s 40	106¼	106¼	106¼

—M—

22 Manhat Ry 4s 90	55	54½	55
2 Market St Ry 7s 40	65	65	65
5 McCrory 5½s 41 filed	85	84	84
4 McKes&Rob 5½s 50	99½	99	99½
2 Mead Corp 6s 45 A	84½	84	84½
4 Met Ed 4½s 68	102	102	102
1 Mich Cen 3½s 52	102	102	102
20 Mich Cen 4s 40	104½	104½	104½
7 Midvale Stl 5s 36	103½	103½	103½
9 MilRR&L 5s 61 B	93¼	93	93¼
8 Mil El Ry&L 5s 71	93½	92½	93
8 M-K-Tex 5s 62 A	59½	58½	58½
3 M-K-Tex adj 5s 67	18	17	17
5 M-K-Tex 4s 62 B	49	48½	48½
1 Mo Pac 5s 65 A	26	26	26
6 Mo Pac 5s 77 F	23½	23½	23½
9 Mo Pac gen 4s 75	8½	8½	8½
10 Mo Pac 5s 81 I	26	26	26
2 Mont Cen 6s 37	102	102	102
11 Mont Pw rfg 5s 43	102½	102½	102½
9 Mont Pw 5s 62	81	80	81
1 Mor & Essex 4½s 55	94	94	94
1 Mor&Essex 3½s 2000	94½	94½	94½
1 Mutual Fuel G 5s 47	107½	107½	107½

—N—

3 Nassau El 4s 51	56½	56	56
11 Nat Dairy 5½s 48	104½	104½	104½
6 Natl Steel 5s 5 6	107½	107½	107½
3 New Eng T&T 5s 52	119½	119½	119½
15 N Eng T&T 4½s 61 B	117½	117½	117½
11 NJ Pow&L 4½s 60	101	101	101
1 NO Gt Nor 5s 83	59	59	59
3 NO Pub Sv 5s 55 B	67	66½	67
5 N Orl Term 4s 53	84	83½	83½
1 NY&Harl 3½s 2000	101	101	101
8 NYC deb 6s 35	98½	98	98½
31 NYC cvt 6s 44	106½	106	106
33 NYC rf 5s 2013	59	58	59
17 NYC 4½s 2013 A	54½	54	54½
18 N Y C con 4s 98	83	81½	83
1 NYC&HR 4½s 2013	54½	54½	54½
3 NYC&HR 3½s 97	97½	97½	97½
12 NYC La Sh 3½s 98	88½	88½	88½
2 NY Chi&StL 6s 35	61½	61½	61½
4 NY Chi&StL 5½s 74 A	67½	67½	67½
17 NY Chi&StL 4½s 78	59	58	58½
10 N Y Dock So 4s 51	65½	65	65½
1 N Y Edis 5s 44 B	108½	108½	108½
4 NY GEI&P 5s 48	121	120½	121
2 NYNH&H cvt 6s 48	37	37	37
1 NYNH&H 4½s 67	31½	31½	31½
5 NYNH&H 4s 56	30½	30½	30½
3 NYNH&H 4s 57	24	23½	23½
5 NYNH&H 3½s 54	30	29½	30
1 NYNH&H 3½s 56	30	30	30
1 NY O&W rfg 4s 92	50½	50½	50½
8 NY Tel 4½s 39	110½	110½	110½
1 NY Trap Rock 6s 46	60	60	60
9 NY W&Bost 4½s 46	23½	23½	23½
1 NL&O Pow 5s 55 A	107½	107½	107½
2 Niagara Sh 5½s 50	71	71	71
2 Norfolk & Sou 5s 41	41	41	41
16 Norf & W 4s 96	114¼	114¼	114¼
15 Norf & W div 4s 44	108½	108½	108½
2 N & W 4s Poc 41	106½	106½	106½
11 Nor Am Co 5s 61	85½	85	85½
10 Nor Am Ed 5½s 63	88	88	88
2 Nor Am Ed 5s 57 A	83½	83½	83½
9 Nor Am Ed 5s 60 C	84	82½	82½

—O—

15 Oh Pub Svc 7½s 46	111½	111½	111½
1 Ohio Pub Svc 5½s 47	110½	110½	110½
2 Ont Pw N Fall 5s 43	110½	110½	110½
9 Or-Wash RR&N 4s 61	104½	104½	104½
2 Otis Steel 6s 41	81½	81	81

—P—

6 Pac T&T 5s 37	106½	106½	106½
1 Pac T&T rfg 5s 52	112½	112½	112½
4 Para Bway 5½s 51	50	49½	50
11 Para Bway 5½s 51 ctf	50	49½	50
40 Para-F-Las 6s 47 filed	75	72	75
34 Par-F-Las 6s 47 ct	73½	71½	73½
73 Par Pub 5½s 50 filed	75	72	75
63 Par Pub 5½s 50 ct	75	72	75½
34 Pathe Ex 7s 37	104	103½	104
5 Penn Dix 6s 41 A	77½	77	77
2 Pen Oh&Det 4½s 77	105	105	105
38 Pen P&Lt 4½s 81	103½	103½	103½
10 Pen Co 4½s 63	105½	105½	105½
19 Pen RR 6½s 36	105	105	105
9 Pen RR gen 5s 68	114½	114½	114½
3 Pen RR 5s 64	106½	106½	106½
3 Pen RR con 4½s 60	119½	119	119½
3 Pen RR gen 4½s 65	108	108	108
33 Pen RR gen 4½s 81	104½	104½	104½
48 Pen RR 4½s 84 E	104½	104½	104½
10 Pen RR 4½s 70	95	94½	95
5 Pen RR 4s 48 sta	110½	110½	110½
1 Peo GL&C Chi 6s 43	112½	112½	112½
5 Peo GL&C Chi 5s 47	104	104	104
1 Pere Marq 5s 56	82	82	82
3 Phil B&W 4½s 81 D	110½	110½	110½
4 Phila Co 5s 67	83½	83½	83½
2 Phil Elec 4½s 67	109½	109	109
6 Phil Elec 4s 71	107½	107	107
10 Phil Read C&I 6s 49	48½	48	48½
4 Pit Read C&I 5s 73	73	72½	73
6 Phillip Pet 5½s 39	102½	102½	102½
2 Pillsbury Fl M 6s 43	107½	107½	107½
1 PCC & SL 5s 70 A	116	116	116
2 PCC & SL 5s 73 B	116	115½	116
5 PCC & St L 4½s 77	107½	107½	107½
1 PCC & S L 4½s 40 A	110	110	110
1 Portl Gen El 5s 35	101½	101½	101½
9 Portl Gen E 4½s 60	57	56½	57
19 Portl Gen E 4½s 60 ssd	56½	56½	56½
14 Postal Tel&C 5s 53	46½	45¾	46½
1 Pub Ser E&G 4½s 70	108½	108½	108½
3 Pub Ser E&G 4s 71	107½	107½	107½
3 Pure Oil 5½s 40	102	101½	101½
11 Purity Bak 5s 48	89½	89	89½

—R—

41 Rdg Jer Cen 4s 51	99½	99	99½
4 Rem Rand 5s 47	103	102½	102½
10 Rep Ir & St 5½s 53	96½	96½	96½
4 Richfield Oil 6s 44	28	27½	27½
20 Richfld Oil 6s 44 A ct	28	27½	28
1 Rio Gr West 1st 4s 39	74½	74½	74½
1 Rio Gr W col 4s 49	30	30	30
22 Roch G&E 5s 62 E	108½	108½	108½
2 R I Ark&La 4½s 34	10½	10½	10½
2 Rutland Can 4s 49	34	34	34

—S—

1 St J&G Isl 4s 47	105	105	105
5 St Jos Ry LH&P 5s 37	100	100	100
1 StLIM&S 4s R&G 33	64¾	64¾	64¾
1 St LSF 5

Green Pastures' 'Lawd' Suffers Heart Attack

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Richard B. Harrison, negro actor, playing the role of "De Lawd" in "The Green Pastures," collapsed from a heart attack in his dressing room this afternoon. He was rushed to the Fifth Avenue hospital. Harrison is 70 years old.

Without missing any of almost 2,000 performances until today, Harrison has played the role continuously, in New York and on tour since February 26, 1931. The show reopened in New York on the fifth anniversary of its premiere. At that time it was announced that the return engagement would be limited to three weeks because Harrison had complained of weariness.

The matinee performance went on this afternoon with Charles Winter Wood in the role of "De Lawd." Wood is a former member of the Tuskegee faculty.

At the hospital it was said the veteran Harrison might be able to return to the cast by Monday night. He has been worn down, the doctors said, by the long run and the 40,000 miles of travel.

I don't mind writing letters any more—

Even with today's speedy transportation, which enables us to see our friends oftener and more quickly, personal letters are still a charming and intimate custom, especially between friends far removed from each other.

"I'm sorry, but I'm the worst correspondent in the world" and "Oh, how I hate to write letters!" are apologies seldom heard from members of a family blessed with adequate lighting—enough light in enough places for writing, reading and all other household seeing tasks.

* * * *

To put up with whatever sort of lighting may exist in your home is a habit quite easily acquired. But modern lighting can provide so much comfort and cheer within your home, for your friends as well as your family, that depriving yourself of good home lighting is as regrettable as it is unnecessary.

Your secretary, or writing desk, for instance, may be well lighted and at the same time attractively lighted. Adequate lighting doesn't mean the sacrifice of artistic lighting. It all depends on whether you want light for beauty alone—or whether the important job is seeing. Take the dining room. Often a man says, "I like plenty of light, but my wife insists on candles." Which is right? It's hard to say. Dining is easy on the eyes. You need only enough light to distinguish forks from spoons or sweet potatoes from carrots. But how about the many times when the dining room or the dining table is used for sewing, studying or reading? Then, it's plain to see, the eyes need more light.

How much light do you need in the hall? On the porch? In the bedroom? For the cellar stairs?

Obviously, no general rules can be laid down for these lighting jobs. It depends on the individual home. But our home lighting specialists have studied these problems and, with their experience, can be of assistance in helping you solve yours.

Now it's possible to be SURE about your lighting. You can do it easily, too. Simply by mailing the coupon below. Read the coupon carefully—check either (1) or (2) or both. Paste the coupon on a post card and mail it today.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

The Sight Meter

Held under the light, this little instrument shows exactly how much light you have and also tells you how much is needed for reading, sewing, etc. A Sight Meter is included in the standard equipment of each of our lighting specialists. you will be interested in seeing it and especially in seeing it work.

BETTER LIGHT BETTER SIGHT

P.S. Mail this today

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY,
75 Marietta Street,
Atlanta, Georgia.

(Check one or both)

(1) [ ] Please have one of your lighting specialists call at my home with a Sight Meter to measure my lights and assist me in getting proper light in my home.

(2) [ ] Please mail me a copy of the new illustrated booklet, "The New Story of Seeing."

I understand there is no cost or obligation involved in either of these services.

Name_____

Address_____

City_____

Kidnap Band Suspect Is Found in Prison

CHICAGO, March 2.—(AP)—Another of the men accused in Edward G. Bremer's $200,000 kidnaping—federal agents have been rounding up suspects for months—was accounted for today. He is already in prison, serving time for a half-million-dollar diamond robbery.

Oliver Berg, accused of being one of the principal agents of the kidnaping syndicate in handling the "hot" $200,000 paid by the St. Paul banker, it was learned today, was captured last August. Shortly after the arrest of John J. "Boss" McLaughlin, Chicago politician. He is now in Joliet, Ill., penitentiary.

Berg was sentenced to prison in 1926 at Champaign, Ill., for robbing three jewelry salesmen, aboard an Illinois Central train, of a rich stock of stones. He escaped in March, 1932, when released to appear in court. The government, in the indictment covering the Bremer abduction, alleges he had a hand in that crime during his recess from prison.

Auto Workers Silent On Vote Progress

DETROIT, Mich., March 2.—(AP)—The National Council of United Autobile Workers adjourned a week's session this afternoon without further comment on the "secret" strike vote it has ordered among the 176 American Federation of Labor locals in the motor car industry.

At federation headquarters here it was said the council would not meet again until definite returns had been received from most of the locals.

The statement of Francis J. Dillon, A. F. of L. organizer, and other union officials, that the call for the strike vote "did not necessarily mean a strike would be called," was as near as any authority would come to admitting the action was taken primarily as a test of federation strength in the industry. Figures tabulated by the national automobile labor board so far on collective bargaining committee elections in automotive plants showed the federation represented only a fraction of the 200,000 workers.

Negro Woman Sues Mae West for Song

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Frankie Baker, suing as the original Frankie of "Frankie and Johnny" fame, is seeking $100,000 damages from Mae West and Paramount Productions, Inc.

The 59-year-old negro woman, a resident of Portland, Ore., charges that they did her wrong in the motion picture, "She Done Him Wrong." Papers in the case were served yesterday.

Miss West chuckled when informed in Hollywood of the suit. Louis Phillips, the picture company's trial counsel, said in New York it was "ridiculous."

But it wasn't funny to the woman who runs a tiny shoe shining parlor in Portland.

"All these writing fellows and such have been writing about me for years," Frankie complained. "One man made $25,000 on a book about Frankie and Johnny and I never got a quarter for writing me up that way, not fi' cents.

"I'm sore. They've got to pay me from now on."

SAMUEL SACHS DIES AT NEW YORK HOME

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Samuel Sachs, senior partner in the banking firm of Goldman, Sachs & Company prior to his retirement from active business, died at his home today after a short illness. He was 84 years old.

HELEN G. RYAN.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP)—Miss Helen G. Ryan, 45, socially prominent in Washington for a number of years, died suddenly at her home here early today after complaining of indigestion.

ARTHUR M. MOODY.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 2.—(UP)—Arthur M. Moody, 64, president of the Alemite Company of New England, died at his home here today of a heart attack.

ROGERS H. BULLARD.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Roger H. Bullard, architect noted for his designs of small homes, the mansions of millionaires and the government buildings of Cuba, died at his home in Plandome, Long Island, of pneumonia today. He was 50 years old.

SUSPENDED JUDGE IS ORDERED TO TRIAL

MIAMI, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—Suspended Criminal Court Judge E. C. Collins today was ordered to trial next Monday on charges of bribe taking, embezzlement and malpractice.

In denying a defense motion to quash, Circuit Judge Jefferson B. Browne held that the information, based on grand jury indictments, contained sufficient evidence to warrant the cases going before a jury.

Collins, who was suspended from office by Governor Dave Sholtz following his indictment, is the immediate past president of the Florida Baptist Association.

NOTICE.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Atlanta & West Point Railroad Company will be held in Room No. 202, No. 4 Hunter street, S. E., Atlanta, Georgia, on Tuesday, April 16, 1935, at ten o'clock a. m.
W. H. BRUCE, Secretary.

PRIVATE LOANS
On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
4TH FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

COMPLETE BAKERY OUTFIT FOR SALE.

Will be sold on March 5th, before the Court House in Covington, Ga., all the machinery and accessories for a complete bakery, now in full operation, to satisfy an execution in favor of Bank of Covington & Trust Co. It will pay you to investigate.
C. C. KING, Attorney,
Covington, Ga.

NATIONAL DEFENSE IS 'RACKET,' SAYS NYE

OBERLIN, March 2.—(AP)—National defense is a "racket" between governments and munitions makers, United States Senator Gerald P. Nye declared today in an address before an anti-war conference at Oberlin College.

"These international racketeers bribe public officials, share the profits from their business, divide the world into territories for themselves and fight disarmament by maintaining lobbies," Senator Nye said.

Eighteen colleges and universities of Ohio were represented in the conference.

Resolutions adopted included one calling for a student strike in Ohio at 11 a. m., April 12, as a protest against war.

Court of Appeals of Ga.

Judgments Affirmed.

Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York vs. Burson; from Hart superior court—Judge Moseley. Bryan, Middlebrooks & Carter, B. B. Zellard, Robert L. Russell, for plaintiff in error. J. H. & Emmett Skelton, A. S. Skelton, Carey Skelton, contra.

Hall vs. Norton; from Murray superior court—Judge Pittman. H. H. Anderson, for plaintiff in error.

American Mutual Liability Insurance Company et al, vs. Wilson; from Hart superior court—Judge Moseley. McDaniel, Neely & Marshall, Harry L. Greene, for plaintiffs in error. John B. Morris, contra.

Hurst vs. Federal Life Insurance Company; Fulton superior court—Judge Moore. George P. Whitman, E. Harold Sheats, for plaintiff. Bryan, Middlebrooks & Carter, Dillon, Calhoun & Dillon, for defendant.

Van Ormer vs. Moise et al.; from Fulton superior court—Judge Thomas. George G. Finch, for plaintiff. Colquitt, Parker, Troutman & Arkwright, for defendants.

Ragsdale vs. Love (two cases); from Fulton superior court—Judge Pomeroy. James N. Frazer, Sidney Smith, for plaintiffs in error. W. S. Northcutt, contra.

Dowdell vs. Central of Georgia Railway Company; from Macon superior court—Judge Harper. Jesse J. Bull, Jared I. Bull, for plaintiff. B. F. Neal, H. A. Wilkinson, Henry Wilkinson, for defendant.

Southern Railway Company vs. Thacker; from Whitfield superior court—Judge Pittman. Oliver R. Hardin, Sapp & Maddox, Maddox, Matthews & Owens, for plaintiff in error. Mitchell & Mitchell, contra.

Judgments Reversed.

Malone vs. Floyd; from Gordon superior court—Judge Pittman. J. H. Paschall, H. L. Barnett, for plaintiff. Y. A. Henderson, for defendant.

Mayor and Council of Monroe vs. Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland et al.; from Walton superior court—Judge Fortson. A. M. Kelly, C. N. Davie, J. F. Kemp, for plaintiff. H. C. Cox, Little, Powell, Reid & Goldstein, for defendants.

Rogers vs. Echols; from Gwinnett superior court—Judge Stark. G. Fred Kelley, for plaintiff in error. John C. Houston, contra.

Dismissed.

Athearn vs. Armour & Company; from Atlanta city court—Judge Dorsey. Walter A. Sims, Sidney Holderness, Judson Andrews, for plaintiff. Haas, Gambrell & Gardner, for defendant.

Rehearing Denied.

Bridges et al. vs. Ramsey Sign Service Company; from Richmond.

Goldin et al. vs. Federal Interstate Credit Bank; from Haralson.

Cleveland-Oconee Lumber Company vs. Anderson; from Washington.

Hammontree vs. Southern Railway Company; from Whitfield.

Hoover vs. Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company; from Fulton.

Loveady et al. vs. Moss; from Cherokee.

Peake, administratrix, vs. Stovall et al.; from Morgan.

Houston vs. Taylor; from Richmond.

Southern Railway Company vs. Lunsford, administratrix; from Haralson.

City Council of Augusta vs. Butler; from Richmond.

Brawner vs. Russell; from Cobb.

National Fire Insurance Company vs. Shuman; from Bulloch.

Athearn vs. Armour & Company; from Fulton.

Supreme Court of Georgia

Judgment Reversed.

Ellis, administrator, vs. Hibernia Savings, Building & Loan Association et al.; from Fulton superior court—Judge Humphries. Walter G. Cooper Jr., Robert P. McLarty, for plaintiff; Clarke & Clarke, H. W. McLarty, for defendants.

On Rehearing.

McGinty vs. Pickering et al.; from Murray. Judgment reversed.

Peacock vs. Larsen; from Laurens. Judgment affirmed.

Peake, administrator, vs. Stovall et al.; from Morgan. Motion denied.

First National Bank of Atlanta, executor, vs. Brooks et al.; from Fulton. Judgment reversed on cross-bill of exceptions.

Charles Broadway Rauss, Incorporated, vs. First National Bank of Columbus et al. Adhered to on rehearing.

City of Macon vs. Ries, executrix, et al.; from Bibb. Rehearing denied.

Liberty Mutual Insurance Company vs. Clay; from Polk. Denied.

MORTUARY

MRS. A. S. ROBINSON.

Rites for Mrs. A. S. Robinson, 61, of 10 Lakewood avenue, who died Friday, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Lakewood Heights Baptist church, the Rev. L. N. Hartsfield and the Rev. A. L. Flury officiating. Burial will be in Crest Lawn cemetery with the J. Austin Dillon Company in charge.

MRS. KATE ELIZABETH GRESHAM.

Tribute to Mrs. Kate Elizabeth Gresham, 51, of 16 Grand View avenue, who died unexpectedly Friday night, will be paid at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church, of which she was a member. The Rev. Ryland Knight and the Rev. W. F. Burdett will officiate and burial will be in the Sardis cemetery. A. S. Turner is in charge.

FRANK STOKES.

The funeral of Frank Stokes, who died in Kansas, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Sardis Methodist church. The Rev. W. S. Pruitt and the Rev. S. A. Wagoner will conduct the services and interment will be in the Sardis cemetery with the West Side Funeral Home in charge.

EMMETT LEE BROCK.

Emmett Lee Brock, 46-year-old veteran of the World War, died Saturday morning at the United States Base Hospital No. 48. He resided at 1156 Woodlawn avenue, S. E. Besides his wife, he is survived by a son, Forrest Richardson, his father, F. M. Brock, of Carrollton; two sisters, Mrs. Tom Kennedy, of Douglasville, and Mrs. J. C. Grison, of Boston, Ga., and three brothers, H. N. Brock, of Pelham; C. D. Brock, of Gulfport, Miss., and J. M. Brock, of Columbus, Ga. Last rites are to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the First Methodist Church of Carrollton, and burial will be in the Carrollton city cemetery with H. M. Patterson & Son in charge.

GEORGE W. BATTLES.

George W. Battles, 42, of 972 Bankhead avenue, died Saturday at an Atlanta hospital. Surviving are his wife; a son, George W. Battles Jr.; a daughter, Miss Millie Battles; a brother, M. Battles, and two sisters, Mrs. L. P. Stephens and Mrs. Jim Boswell. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Blanchard Brothers.

MRS. M. A. HALL.

Mrs. M. A. Hall, 75, of 548 Ira street, S. W., died Saturday afternoon at her residence. She is survived by five daughters, Mrs. W. E. Landrum, of Lafayette, Ala.; Mrs. Thomas Spencer, of Brookhaven; Mrs. Bessie Bell, of Atlanta; Mrs. H. D. Lunsford, of East Point, and Mrs. G. W. Atkinson, of Atlanta, and four sons, C. B. Hall, of Atlanta; J. T. Hall, of Laredo, Texas; W. D. Hall, of Camp Hill, Ala., and E. C. Hall, of Macon. She was a member of the Richardson Street Baptist church. The body will be taken to Lafayette, Ala., by H. M. Patterson & Son for funeral services at the Antioch Baptist church at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be in the churchyard.

W. EARL LAND.

W. Earl Land, 67, former Atlanta contractor and builder, died at an Atlanta hospital Saturday morning. He resided on Spring street in Carey Park. Services will be conducted by Elder J. A. Monsees at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes, and interment will be in Magnolia cemetery. In addition to his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Miss Katie Lee Land; a son, R. W. Land, of Miami; a sister, Mrs. R. H. Calhoun, of Atlanta, and two brothers, G. T. Land, of Atlanta, and Asbury Land, of Clinton, S. C.

J. W. PLANT.

J. W. Plant, 70, died Saturday at his residence at 910 North Central avenue, Hapeville. He is survived by his wife; four daughters, Mrs. C. I. Hammett, Mrs. E. L. Mote, Mrs. J. M. Jackson and Mrs. A. H. Warner, and five sons, J. H., L. R., J. B., O. E. and J. T. Plant, of Atlanta. Arrangements for the funeral are to be announced by Howard L. Carmichael.

RICHARD V. DOUGHERTY.

Last rites will be conducted at St. Anthony's church at 10 o'clock Monday morning for Richard V. Dougherty, well-known Atlanta retired businessman, who died Friday. The Rev. Father P. J. O'Connor will officiate and interment will be in West View cemetery with Sam Greenberg & Company in charge. He resided at 1381 Lee street, S. W.

MRS. C. H. PITTS.

The funeral of Mrs. C. H. Pitts, of 567 Highland avenue, N. E., who died Friday, is to be held at 9 o'clock this morning at the chapel of the West Side Funeral Home. The Rev. W. N. Pruitt will officiate and burial will be in the Grantville, Ga., cemetery.

MRS. D. HUNGERFORD.

Mrs. D. Hungerford, 80, formerly of Memphis, died Saturday afternoon at a private hospital. She resided at 37 Shadowlawn avenue, N. E., and is survived by her husband, and four sons, E. V. Hungerford, of Atlanta; K. C. Hungerford, of Knoxville, Tenn.; R. A. Hungerford, of Havre de Grace, Md., and S. U. Hungerford, of Memphis. Last tribute will be paid her at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the graveside in East View cemetery, and the Rev. Robert W. Burns will officiate. A. S. Turner is in charge.

Funeral Notices

RUSSELL—Mr. Harry Russell, age 29, died instantly on Bolton road Saturday morning. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Earl Barrett.

PLANT—Mr. J. W. Plant, of 910 North Central avenue, Hapeville, died Saturday night at the residence in his 70th year. He is survived by his wife; four daughters, Mrs. C. I. Hammett, Mrs. E. L. Mote, Mrs. J. M. Jackson and Mrs. A. H. Warner; five sons, Messrs. J. H., L. B., J. B., O. E. and J. T. Plant. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Howard L. Carmichael.

LAND—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl Land, Miss Katie Lee Land, Mr. R. W. Land, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. R. B. Calhoun, Mr. G. T. Land, Mr. Asbury Land, Clinton, S. C., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. W. Earl Land this (Sunday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes. Elder J. A. Monsees will officiate. Pallbearers selected please assemble at the chapel. Interment Magnolia cemetery.

ALLS—Friends and relatives of Mrs. G. A. Alls; Mrs. K. E. McMullen, of Jonesboro, Ga.; Mrs. C. L. Powell, of Rex, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Alls, of McDonough, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mitchell, of Hampton, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. G. A. Alls this (Sunday) afternoon at 3 o'clock from Mount Carmel church, Rev. Watkins and Rev. Cowan officiating. Interment in churchyard. G. P. McMullen in charge.

HUNGERFORD—Mrs. D. Hungerford, of 37 East Shadowlawn avenue, N. E., died Saturday evening at a private sanitarium in her 81st year. She is survived by her husband and four sons, Mr. E. V. Hungerford, Atlanta; Mr. K. C. Hungerford, Knoxville, Tenn.; Mr. R. A. Hungerford, Havre de Grace, Md., and Mr. S. U. Hungerford, Memphis, Tenn. Private funeral services will be conducted this (Sunday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the graveside in East View cemetery. Rev. Robert W. Burns will officiate. A. S. Turner, funeral director.

Funeral Notices

LITTLE—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Little and family are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Elmer Little tomorrow (Monday) morning at 10 o'clock from the Lowry Town Baptist church. Rev. Van Stuart will officiate. Interment, Hollywood cemetery. Harry G. Poole, funeral director.

QUARLES—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Quarles, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Quarles, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Quarles, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Quarles, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Thompson, of Ball Ground; Mr. J. R. Quarles, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Keith, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pettit, Mrs. T. D. Quarles, of Canton, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. J. M. Quarles Sunday, March 3, 1935, from the Sharp Mountain Baptist church, Rev. J. L. Wyatt officiating. C. H. Peacock, funeral director.

ROBINSON—The friends and relatives of Mrs. Louisa Jane Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Robinson, Mr. Roy Robinson, Mr. John Robinson and Miss Lizzie Robinson, of Austell, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Roberson and Mr. E. E. Robinson, of Crafton, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ellison, of Tulsa, Okla., are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Louisa Jane Robinson this (Sunday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Austell Presbyterian church. Rev. Fritz Rauschenberg will officiate. Interment Rose Hill cemetery. Pallbearers selected will please meet at the residence at 3:15 o'clock. Cliff Collins, funeral director.

CHENEY—The friends and relatives of Mrs. Sarah Dennis Cheney, Mrs. Sarah C. Odum, Mr. and Mrs. Tom A. Cheney, New Orleans, La.; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Cheney, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. C. A. Redding, Macon, Ga., and the grandchildren are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Sarah Dennis Cheney this (Sunday) afternoon, March 3, 1935, at 2:30 o'clock at Spring Hill. Dr. Louie D. Newton will officiate. Interment, West View. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and please meet at Spring Hill at 2:15 o'clock: Mr. C. W. Curry, Mr. C. G. Clark, Mr. Sydney Braswell, Mr. Lamar Braswell, Mr. Reed Cheney and Mr. J. C. Pye. H. M. Patterson & Son.

ROBINSON—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Robinson, Miss Etheline Robinson, Mr. W. G. Keith, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carter and Mrs. D. G. Whelchel are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. A. S. Robinson this (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from Lakewood Heights Baptist church. Rev. L. N. Hartsfield and Rev. A. L. Fluery will officiate. Interment Crest Lawn. The following gentlemen will please serve as pallbearers and meet at the residence, 10 Lakewood terrace, at 1:30 p. m.: Mr. C. E. Manning, Mr. Wylie Robinson, Mr. L. W. Smith, Mr. H. L. Davis, Mr. Grover Clark and Mr. Lonie W. Poss. J. Austin Dillon Co., funeral directors.

McCAIN—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCain, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Camp, all of Austell, Ga; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCain, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Laura Hambrick, of Villa Rica, Ga.; Mrs. Allene McCain, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCain, Mr. A. D. McCain and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. McCain, of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. R. N. Clay, of Nashville, Tenn., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. John A. McCain this (Sunday) morning at 11 o'clock at the Austell Methodist church. Rev. S. A. F. Wagner and Rev. A. T. Hind will officiate. Interment Rose Hill cemetery. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and meet at the residence at 10:45 o'clock: Messrs. H. McLendon, Frank Aiken, R. C. Cousins, Frank Smith, Claude Perkerson and Ernest Perkerson. Latham Lodge No. 12, F. & A. M., will have charge of services at the grave. Cliff Collins, funeral director.

Funeral Notices

BATTLES—Mr. George W. Battles passed away at a private sanitarium Saturday morning, March 2, 1935. The remains are resting at the residence, No. 972 Bankhead avenue. Funeral arrangements and interment will be announced later. Blanchard Bros. Funeral Home, 1088 Peachtree street, N. E.

DICKSON—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. James Loyd Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dickson, Mr. Clarence Dickson, all of Luella, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dickson, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Ida Parham, of Hampton, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. James Loyd Dickson this (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Locust Grove Baptist church. Colvin Funeral Home in charge.

DOUGHERTY—The friends of Mr. Richard V. Dougherty, Miss Elizabeth Dougherty, Mrs. Annie Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Dougherty, Mr. J. C. Dougherty are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Richard V. Dougherty tomorrow (Monday) morning at 10 o'clock from the St. Anthony church, Rev. Father P. J. O'Connor officiating. Interment West View. The following gentlemen will please serve as pallbearers and meet at the chapel of Sam Greenberg & Co., at 9:15 a. m.: Messrs. William Green, O. C. Fincher, Ben Burton, Howard Jenkins, W. Y. Carter, Ashley Carter, Raymond Bloomfield in charge.

HALL—The friends and relatives of Mrs. M. A. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Landrum, LaFayette, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Spencer, Brookhaven, Ga.; Mrs. Bessie Bell, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Lunsford, East Point, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Atkinson, Mr. J. T. Hall, Laredo, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hall, Camp Hill, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hall, Macon, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. M. A. Hall this (Sunday) afternoon, March 3, 1935, at 2 o'clock at the Antioch Baptist church, LaFayette, Ala. Rev. Shoemaker will officiate. Interment, churchyard. Grandsons will act as pallbearers and please meet at the church at 1:45 o'clock. H. M. Patterson & Son.

SULLIVAN—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sullivan Sr., Miss Frances Sullivan, Mr. J. J. Sullivan Jr., Mr. Roger Sullivan, Mrs. Katherine Burns, Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Harriett Goughey, Chicago, Ill., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. J. J. Sullivan Sr. tomorrow (Monday) morning, March 4, 1935, at 10 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church. Father Edward P. McGrath will officiate. Interment, West View. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and please meet at the residence, 2489 Dellwood drive, at 9:15 o'clock: Mr. P. A. Murray, Mr. E. A. Hibbett, Mr. J. P. Anderson, Mr. A. B. Hargrave, Mr. J. H. Carman and Mr. G. P. Nall, Nashville, Tenn., and Cincinnati, Ohio, papers please copy. H. M. Patterson & Son.

GRESHAM—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. James Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gresham, Mr. W. A. Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Camp, Mrs. Willie Peavy, W. F. Camp Jr., Jimmie Camp, Miss Betty Gresham and Miss Nancy Ruth Gresham are invited to attend the funeral services of Mrs. J. M. Gresham this (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church. Rev. Ryland Knight and Rev. W. F. Burdette will officiate. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and meet at the residence, 16 Grand View avenue, N. E., at 1:30 o'clock: Mr. W. D. Camp, Mr. E. L. Cunningham, Mr. R. L. Wilson, Mr. J. B. Weldon, Mr. Ed Eidson and Mr. J. Almand Gresham. Interment in Sardis cemetery. A. S. Turner, funeral director.

Brandon-Bond-Condon
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
PEACHTREE CHAPEL
AMBULANCE HEmlock 6001

(COLORED.)

BEASLEY—The funeral of Lillie Beasley announced later. Hill Funeral Home.

JONES—Mrs. Fannie Mae Jones passed away recently at a local sanitarium. The funeral will be announced later. Hanley Co.

JAMES—Mr. Lawson James passed away at a local hospital March 1. Funeral announced later. Cox Bros. Co.

DALLIS—Mr. Arthur Dallis died recently. The remains are lying in our parlors awaiting funeral arrangements. Hanley Co.

HEAD—Funeral services for Mr. John Head, of near Lithonia, Ga., are to be announced later. Hanley Company.

SANFORD—The funeral of Mr. Richard Sanford, of No. 3 Perkins alley, will be held today at 12:30 p. m. from our chapel. Interment, Lincoln cemetery. Hanley Company.

LUCAS—The funeral of Mr. Ed Lucas will be held today at 2 o'clock from Piney Grove Baptist church. Rev. Gates will officiate. Interment churchyard. David T. Howard & Co.

TAYLOR—The friends and relatives of Mrs. Christine Taylor are invited to attend her funeral today (Sunday) at 1 p. m. from Edgeville Baptist church, Fayetteville, Ga., Rev. D. D. Crawford and others officiating. Interment Fayetteville cemetery. Cox Bros. Co.

MARTIN—Friends and relatives of Mrs. Margaret Martin and children, of 79 Wesley avenue, are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Margaret Martin today (Sunday) at 12:30 p. m. at Walnut Grove, near Covington, Ga., Rev. Martin, Rev. G. Clarke officiating. Haugabrooks.

HILL—Friends and relatives of Mrs. Louise Porter Hill, of Clarkston, Ga.; Mrs. Fredonia Porter, of Clarkston, Ga.; Mr. John S. Porter, of Clarkston, Ga., and Mr. Ozie Porter, of Clarkston, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Louise Porter Hill this (Sunday) afternoon at 1 o'clock from the First Baptist church, Clarkston, Ga. Rev. R. J. Williams and Rev. H. H. Woodson will officiate. Interment Clarkston, Ga., cemetery. David T. Howard & Co.

PADEN—Relatives and friends of Mrs. Mary Paden, of the rear 42 Yonge street, S. E.; Mrs. Frances Brown, Mrs. Susie Perry, Mr. Robert Perry, Miss Lula Perry, Mr. George Perry, Mr. Dave Brown, of Greenwood, S. C.; Mrs. Lizzie Canday, of Greenwood, S. C., and Mrs. Fannie Devland, of Abbeville, S. C., are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mary Paden today (Sunday) at 2 p. m. from our chapel. Rev. Newson will officiate. Interment, South View. Hanley Co.

(COLORED.)

THOMAS—The funeral of Master Willie Thomas will be announced later. R. C. Tompkins.

DILLARD—Mr. James Dillard passed away recently. Funeral announced later. Hanley Co.

JACKSON—Mrs. Miami Jackson passed away at her residence in Ben Hill, Ga., March 2. Funeral announced later. Cox Bros. Co.

BLAKLEY—Funeral services for Mr. John Blakley, of 888 Buchanan street, will be held in Washington, Ga., today. Hanley Company.

SAPPINGTON—The remains of Mrs. Allie Sappington, of 4 Lads alley, will be sent to Conyers, Ga., this morning for funeral and interment. Hanley Company.

SHEPHERD—The funeral of Mr. Owens Shepherd will be held this (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from our chapel, Rev. Manning officiating. Interment South View. R. C. Tompkins.

LESTER—Funeral rites for little Willie Edward Lester, of 32 Boulevard, will be held today at 2 p. m. from our chapel. Interment in Mt. Moriah cemetery, Decatur, Ga. Hanley Co.

WILLINGHAM—The friends and relatives of Mrs. Lula Willingham, the daughter of Mrs. Fannie Tate, are invited to attend her funeral tomorrow (Monday) at 2 p. m. from our chapel, Rev. D. T. Babcock officiating. Interment South View. Cox Bros. Co.

BRYANT—Friends and relatives of Mrs. Amanda Bryant are invited to attend her funeral today at 11 a. m. from Center Hill Baptist church, Stewart avenue. Rev. Henderson will officiate. Interment Gilbert cemetery. David T. Howard & Co.

WYNN—The relatives and friends of Mr. Waymon Wynn, Mrs. Cillar Wynn, Miss Beulah Wynn, Mr. Eugene Wynn, Mrs. Missie Hall, Mrs. Sallie Wright, of New York city and Mr. Clifford Wynn are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Waymon Wynn today at 1:30 p. m. from Mt. Moriah Baptist church, corner Chapel and Humphries streets. Interment, Chestnut Hill cemetery. Hanley Co.

CLARK—Friends and relatives of Rev. C. A. Clark, Mrs. Kittie White, Greenwood, S. C.; Rev. James White and family, Mrs. Hattie White and family, Mrs. Mattie Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Morris White, Mrs. Louise Gresson, of Atlanta, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Rev. C. A. Clark today (Sunday) at 3 p. m. from Big Bethel A. M. E. church. Rev. D. T. Babcock officiating. Flower ladies and pallbearers will meet at the residence, 167 Howell street, at 2:15 p. m. Interment, South View. Ivey Bros., morticians.

(COLORED.)

MARION—Mrs. Millie Marion passed March 2 in Decatur, Ga. Funeral announcements later. Hanley Co.

CARTER—The funeral of Mr. Barton Carter will be announced later. Hanley Co.

DENNIS—Mr. Charlie Dennis passed away at a local hospital March 2. Funeral announced later. Cox Bros. Co.

THOMAS—Died, Mr. Jim Thomas, at a local sanitarium, March 2. Funeral announcements later. Hanley Company.

ELLISON—The friends and relatives of Mr. J. M. Ellison are invited to attend his funeral today (Sunday) at 2:30 o'clock from Ariel Bowen M. E. church, Rev. P. L. Inmin officiating. Interment Lincoln cemetery. Sellers Bros.

GUNN—Funeral services for Mrs. Adeline Gunn, of 1117 Hood drive, S. W., will be held today at 2:30 p. m. from Shady Grove Baptist church (Ft. McPherson). Interment, Gilbert cemetery. Hanley Co.

JOHNSON—Friends and relatives of Mr. Albert Johnson are invited to attend his funeral today at Newnan, Ga. Cortege will leave the funeral home at 12 o'clock. Ivey Bros., morticians.

GILBERT—Funeral services for Mrs. Lula Gilbert of the rear 291 Boulevard, N. E., will be observed tomorrow (Monday) at 1 p. m. from our chapel. Interment, Lincoln cemetery. Hanley Co.

WARREN—The friends and relatives of Mr. Jessie Warren are invited to attend his funeral tomorrow (Monday) at 11 a. m. from our chapel. Interment Chestnut Hill. Cox Bros. Co.

MAYFIELD—The funeral of Ernest Mayfield will be held at Rice's Memorial Presbyterian church this (Sunday), March 3, at 1:30 p. m. The body will lie in state from 12:30 to 1 p. m. Pastor Rev. G. W. Gideon will officiate, assisted by Rev. H. Persall. George H. Hill, funeral director.

WHITE—The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Floree White, of 395 Newport street, N. W.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Rutledge, Miss Grace White, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Strickland, Mr. John Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. George Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace, Mr. Norman Rutledge, Mr. Raymond Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perryman and family, Mr. Ralph Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley DeVaughns, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haskel are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Floree White this Sunday at 2 p. m. from Centenary Memorial M. E. church (Simpson, near Ashby). Rev. G. F. Garrison will officiate. Interment, Lincoln cemetery. Hanley Co.

$10 (ONE WEEK ONLY) GUARANTEED PLATES $3.50 Each

HECOLITE PLATE $7.50 EACH

NEW SYSTEM DENTISTS

37½ WHITEHALL ST., COR. ALABAMA
OVER BAKER'S SHOE STORE

REPAIRS—$1.00

FOR SALE
Flat Newsprint PAPER
P. O. BOX 4357
Atlanta, Georg

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LXVII., No. 264. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1935.

RICH'S

Last Great Day!

Peach Festival SALE!

Ordinarily 39.50 and 49.50 Peach Festival Sale Brings

Beautifully Furred Spring Coats

at savings of 6.50 to 16.50 or . . . only

$33

Naturally there's a dramatic story behind the fact that we can present such drastic savings! The story of scooping New York markets . . . of concessions by a fine manufacturer! For, make no mistake—these are gorgeous coats—looking luxury—quality—elegance! Fabrics are exquisite—tailoring superlatively fine—and the Furs lustrously beautiful!

And the group includes exact adaptations of truly expensive Coats. For instance—Capes, Jabots, new versions of the Ripple fronts—features after famous Paris couturiers—found only in Coats of exclusive styling.

COAT SALON THIRD FLOOR

Specialty Shop's last day sensation

Dressmaker Costumes and Tailored Suits

the two-star fashions of Spring rarely priced below 29.50, 39.50

$24

THE DRESSMAKER SUIT . . . the smartest costume a woman can wear comes in Print and Wool combinations —including a complete dress and a long or short coat to match. Exquisite dressmaker details add to their beauty and complete a costume that is the last word in fashion.

THE TAILORED SUITS . . . looking like Vogue and Harper's Bazar with their novelty weave woolens, their new fitted or loose back cuts.

SPECIALTY SHOP THIRD FLOOR

It's a thrilling day in a thrilling Sale that brings

SubDeb Suits of such thoroughbred smartness and actual 25.00 to 29.50 values . . . . . at

$17.95

One of the most superb buys in a Sale of superb buys! The cleverest, smartest, town-and-countryish suits for dashing young SubDebs! Novelty stripe weaves—beautiful conventional fabrics! With dash and swank sewed into every line of their youthful chic! The kind of Suits that look in the money—that make other women invariably exclaim —"Where did you get that knockout suit?"

For instance—one clever model comes in monotone greyed beige and has an extra skirt in dashing checks! Another in brown and white striped weave—features the Russian influence. Dozens of other perfectly charming styles. Sizes 11 to 17.

SUBDEB SHOP THIRD FLOOR

Thriftstyle's Grand Climax!

to Rich's Peach Festival Sale

400 new Dresses

$6

Regularly priced 7.95
Tomorrow's price

Choice of

Navy Sheer Suits—a dress with adorable Jacket!

Light ground Prints . . . in smart Jackets and 1-Pc. styles.

Afternoon Frocks in Beige, Powder Blue and Dusty Rose!

Every type — every size in every type—choice unlimited!

Sizes 12 to 20—38 to 44 ½ sizes

Sale Starts 9 A. M. Monday in

THRIFTSTYLE SHOP
THIRD FLOOR

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED

BANKS—MOORE.
Mrs. Henry Banks announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Adelaide, to Panchen Moore, the marriage to be solemnized in April.

WARNER—HARBIN.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacques Warner, of Rome, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Coghill, to Dr. William Pickens Harbin Jr., of Rome, the marriage to take place the latter part of April.

LASSETER—SMITH.
Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Lasseter, of Rochelle, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Lasseter, of Atlanta, to William Spencer Smith, of Atlanta, the marriage to take place at an early date.

ANDREWS—WILLIAMS.
ANDREWS—ROLLERY.
Mr. and Mrs. Grady Andrews, of West End, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Robert Williams, and of their daughter, Thelma, to Arthur J. Rollery Jr., the double wedding to take place in June.

RAGSDALE—AUSTIN.
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ragsdale, of East Point, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janie Florine, to Dorris W. Austin, of Hapeville, the marriage to take place in April.

BOWLES—HUFFSTUTLER.
Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bowles announce the engagement of their daughter, Edith, to Dr. Paul Huffstutler, of Birmingham, Ala., the marriage to take place in the early spring.

HUDSON—WILSON.
Dr. and Mrs. Waddy Hampton Hudson, of China and Columbia, S. C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Maude Chapin Hudson, to Alva Shattuck Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor Wilson, of Boston, Mass., the wedding to be solemnized in the early spring.

PITMAN—JAY.
Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pitman, of Newnan, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Hazel, to Jerome Kenneth Jay, of Greenville, S. C., formerly of Madison, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized in April.

BICKLEY—PULLIAM.
Mrs. Duncan Bickley, of Meigs, announces the engagement of her daughter, Sara Adele, to Alex Morris Pulliam, also of Meigs, formerly of Winterville, the marriage to be solemnized in the early summer.

TREADAWAY—HAMMOND.
Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Treadaway, of Temple, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Bernice Louise, to Henry Edward Hammond, of Philadelphia, formerly of Middleton.

COE—ALLGOOD.
Mrs. Luther H. Coe, of Toccoa, Ga., announces the engagement of her granddaughter, Juanita Catherine Coe, of Charlotte, N. C., formerly of Toccoa, to Mason G. Allgood, of Charlotte, formerly of Greensboro, the wedding to take place at an early date.

ESTES—SMITH.
Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Estes, of Hartwell, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Louise, to Amos McRae Smith, of Atlanta, formerly of Elberton, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

SHEATS—CAMP.
Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Sheats, of East Point, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to James Marvin Camp, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

SHAEFFER—MALONE.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller Shaeffer, of Bainbridge, announce the engagement of their daughter, Harriet Elizabeth, to John Stillwell Malone, of Miami, Fla., and Monticello, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized on March 30.

HOLCOMBE—McKEE.
Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Holcombe announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Virginia, to John Windsor McKee, the marriage to take place at an early date.

RICHARDSON—McCOMMONS.
Mr. and Mrs. John Marion Richardson, of College Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lina Belle, to Rollin Merritt McCommons, of Greensboro, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

Miss Carr Honors Weinman - Latimer Wedding Party

Among dinner parties given Saturday evening at the Piedmont Driving Club was that at which Miss Mary Ann Carr was hostess in honor of Miss Frances Weinman and Carroll Latimer, whose marriage takes place on Tuesday, March 5. Covers were placed for members of the bridal party and a few other close friends, including Misses Louisa Robert, Anne Alston, Octavia Riley, Constance Adams, Frances Latimer, Flossie Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dellinger, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Meincke, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Weinman, Pete Latimer, Thomas Clarke, Thomas Holland, Alton Irby Jr., Leonard Richardson, Thomas Willingham, of Rome; John Wiley, of Savannah, and Thomas Jerdine. Seated at a table near that of Miss Carr's were Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell Sr., Mr. and Mrs. William J. Weinman, Mrs. Carroll Latimer, Mrs. James L. Riley and Alex Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter were hosts to a group of friends including Mr. and Mrs. John E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Allen, Howard Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hastings.

Dr. and Mrs. Green Dodd Warren entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Broyles, Mr. and Mrs. William Healey, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bird, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Thornwell, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Cocke, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper Jr., Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Warren Jr., Thomas C. Hinman and Frank Owens.

LaGrange Weddings Of Social Interest.

LAGRANGE, Ga., March 2.—The marriage of Miss Thelma Norris and Warren Smith was solemnized Saturday, February 23, in Lanett, Ala., with Judge W. C. Batson performing the ceremony. The bride was becomingly gowned in a navy blue crepe model and wore a navy blue hat and matching accessories.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Norris. Miss Ruth Norris is her sister and Roy and Edgar Floyd are her brothers. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are making their home at present with Mrs. Blondell Shepherd on Miller street.

Miss Mary George Burgess and W. E. Pittman Jr. were married on Saturday, February 23, at 4 o'clock at the bride's home on Callaway avenue, with Rev. J. H. Dollar, pastor of the United Church of Christ, performing the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

The bride wore a spring model of blue crepe with white accessories, her hat of matching blue straw. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Burgess and is a sister of Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. Bradley Farr, Misses Edna, Sara and Lena Mae Burgess, and Monrow Burgess, all of LaGrange.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pittman. Mrs. Wilson Garner and Miss Dorothy Pittman are his sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Pittman are making their home with Mr. Pittman's parents on Elm street.

Benefit Program.

Circle No. 1 of Martha Brown Memorial church W. M. S. and Whitefoord Avenue School P.-T. A. will entertain jointly with a benefit program and a one-act play "Crazy to Reduce," Tuesday avening, at 7:30 o'clock in the Educational building at the church, corner of South Moreland and Metropolitan avenue in East Atlanta. Admission is 15 and 10 cents.

Betrothals of Sisters Are Announced Today

Left, Miss Thelma Andrews, whose betrothal is announced to Arthur J. Rollery Jr. Right, Miss Dorothy Andrews, whose engagement is announced to Robert Williams. These two attractive sisters are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Andrews, of West End, and their double wedding will take place in June.

Miss Louise Butt Will Become Bride of Mr. Lindholm March 23

The wedding of Miss Louise Butt, of College Park, and Alex Lindholm, of Atlanta, will take place March 23, at 8:30 o'clock at the St. John's Episcopal church in College Park.

The bridesmaids will be Misses Kathryn Johnson, Helen Tucker and Maynita Swan and the maid of honor will be Miss Rebecca Butt, sister of the bride. The bridegroom will have for his best man Dewey Bass, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and the groomsmen will be Jimmy McLeod, Terrell Nichols and Jerry Wing.

The bride-to-be is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Butt, of College Park, and her beauty and charm have endeared her to a host of friends. After her graduation from Russell High school, Miss Butt completed her education at the Georgia State College for Women. She has since been connected with the finance office at Fort McPherson. Her mother was Miss Annie Marshall, of Middletown, Ohio.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. and the late Mr. David Lindholm, and his only brother is Oscar Lindholm, of Charleston, S. C. Mrs. Lindholm was the former Miss Ava Awtry, of Atlanta. Mr. Lindholm attended Tech evening school and upon graduation has been employed with the Fulton National bank.

Many lovely parties have been planned for the young couple, among them being showers given by Misses Jewel Burnett, Kathryn Johnson and Maynita Swan; a dance, at which Miss Helen Tucker will be hostess, and a dinner given at the home of Mrs. Stacy Thornton.

Thompson—Burton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Thompson, of Forsyth, Ga., and Biloxi, Miss., announce the marriage of their daughter, Nettie Pearl, to Albert Sidney Burton, of Forsyth, Ga., the ceremony being solemnized on December 2, 1933.

Jackson—Wigg.

Mrs. R. G. Jackson, of Thomasville, Ga., announces the marriage of her daughter, Jo Jackson, of Atlanta, to Sam Patterson Wigg, of Atlanta and Norfolk, Va., the marriage having taken place in Douglasville on February 25.

Fifth District Garden Division.

Dr. Fred L. Glisson, pastor of the Park Street Methodist church, spoke at the meeting of fifth district garden division held recently at the Hapeville Woman's Club. Dr. Glisson had as his subject, "Birds, Bees and Bouquets." The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Chester Martin, garden chairman for the hostess club. Mrs. John Boyd, talented Atlanta reader, gave "The Garden," "Daffodil Walk" and a humorous selection. The program was arranged by Mrs. Don K. Johnston, program chairman for the garden division. A welcome was extended the garden division by Mrs. Roger Williams, president of the Hapeville Woman's Club, Mrs. Chester Martin, chairman of the garden division of the Hapeville Woman's Club, and by little Miss Augusta Arnold, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Quincy Arnold, Hapeville, who is mascot of the Hapeville Woman's Club. Mrs. J. H. Phagan, chairman of the fifth district garden division, presided over the business session.

It was voted by the division to enter the city-wide flower show to be sponsored in the early spring rather than to sponsor a fifth district show. The next meeting will be held March 22 at Sterchi's tea room, with the Oakland City Garden Club, Mrs. Clifford Lowery, president, as the hostess club. Clubs represented were: Atkins Park, Atlanta Woman's Club, Brookhaven, College Park Woman's Club, Cheshire Bridge Club, Decatur Woman's Club, East Point Woman's Club, Grant Park Woman's Club, Hapeville Woman's Club, Home-Makers, Kirkwood Civic League, Mayflower Garden Club, St. Charles Garden Club, Narcissus Garden Club, West End Woman's Club, Whitefoord Garden Club and others.

Mr. Unger Is Feted.

Thursday Morning Music Club, Miss Mary Douglas, president, will hold a reception at the home of Mrs. Bonita Crowe, 965 Myrtle street, N. E., honoring Oscar Unger, young South Carolina pianist, following his recital at the Atlanta Woman's Club on Sunday afternoon, March 3. Mr. Unger is a young pianist with a brilliant future and his appearance here is being anticipated with interest.

Wooddall—Schroeder.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Wooddall, of Fairburn, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruby Annette, to Hubert Chadwick Schroeder, of Atlanta on February 16.

ENGRAVED
Wedding Announcements
Invitations
At Homes
Visiting Cards
Monogrammed
STATIONERY
The NAME
J. P. STEVENS
Engraving Co.
IS A TRADITION
for QUALITY
103 PEACHTREE STREET, ATLANTA

Miss Wallace Weds James A. Nolan.

RUTLEDGE, Ga., March 2.—Cordial interest centers in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Ladie Sue Wallace, of Rutledge, and James Alonzo Nolan, of Drexel. The ceremony was read by Rev. Walter C. Ivey at the home of the bride this morning. Owing to recent bereavement the wedding was a quiet one, with only the immediate family present.

Mrs. Nolan is the daughter of the late Senator and Mrs. W. P. Wallace, prominent citizens of Morgan county. She received her A. B. degree from Agnes Scott College and has traveled extensively in Europe and this country. Mr. Nolan is a graduate of the University of Georgia and has large farming interests at Drexel. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nolan.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Rutledge.

Recent Bride Feted.

Mrs. Ralph T. Holtsclaw, a recent bride, was honor guest at a luncheon Saturday at Rich's tea room, given by Miss Sara Brook. Invited were Misses Rosalie Gibbs, Sue Morris, Christine Brook, Annette Barry, Evelyn Benton, Esther Jackson. Mesdames W. E. Hicks, B. H. Williams, J. T. Hutcheson.

WILLIAMS—WILLIAMS.
Mrs. G. H. Williams, of Hamilton, announces the engagement of her daughter, Rebecca, to Ramsey R. Williams, of Hamilton, the marriage to be solemnized in March. No cards.

BURCH—BUCHANAN.
Mr. and Mrs. James Benjamin Burch, of Athens, announce the engagement of their daughter, Laura Williams, to Ballard Lee Buchanan, the marriage to be solemnized in the early spring.

SISSON—STEED.
Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sisson, of East Point, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred Alice, to Frank Eugene Steed, of Palmetto, the marriage to take place at an early date.

BRAGG—SMITH.
Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick Bragg announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ellen, to Donald M. Smith, the marriage to take place at an early date. No cards.

BARKER—LINDSEY.
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barker, of Bowdon, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Delaine, to Jack Lindsey, of Canton, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

LOGAN—REA.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde S. Logan, of Albany, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Thomas Edward Rea Jr., of Charlotte, N. C., the marriage to be solemnized Monday, April 8, in Albany.

STORY—MAYNARD.
Mrs. D. W. Story, of Concord, Ga., announces the enagement of her daughter, Mary Ruth, to William Walter Maynard, of Atlanta, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized in April.

CREA—YARBROUGH.
Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Harry Bowers Crea, of Fort Benning, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemary, to Lieutenant Samuel Knox Yarbrough Jr., field artillery, who is stationed at Fort Benning. Lieutenant Yarbrough is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Knox Yarbrough, of Guntersville, Ala. He is a graduate of the United States Military Academy of the class of 1934.

WALTON—HALE.
Mr. and Mrs. E. Bruce Walton, of Macon, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bertha, to Roy Warren Hale, the wedding to be solemnized early in April.

Peachtree Garden Club Sponsors Annual Flower Show May 9-10

The garden center, located at Rich's, Inc., announces plans for the second annual flower show to take place May 9 and 10. The show is sponsored by the Peachtree Garden Club, of which Mrs. Albert Thornton is president, in collaboration with the Atlanta Garden Clubs, and Mrs. James Floyd will be general chairman. Atlanta Garden Clubs which have joined this undertaking are the Iris, Primrose, Perennial, Habersham, Cherokee, Lullwater, Mimosa, Rose, Piedmont, and many others.

There will be an open class in which any one may exhibit specimen blooms. There will be no entrance fee. Gardeners from various parts of Georgia have already made reservations for exhibits of specimen flowers, which is open to garden clubs and their members and to the public at large. Garden clubs all over the state are invited to exhibit in this class. The second flower show is perhaps the largest event of its kind ever before taking place in the south.

Mrs. Georgiana Browne Harbeson's exhibition of needle work pictures, at the High Museum, sponsored by the Piedmont Garden Club, will open Wednesday, March 6, from 11 o'clock to 5 o'clock. March 6 and 7 all of the garden clubs in the city and all garden lovers are invited to attend gratis. After March 7 the exhibition is open to the public and will be kept at the museum until March 24. This is the first time an exhibit of this kind has ever been brought to Atlanta. They were recently shown in the Metropolitan museum in New York and in the Chicago museum.

Mrs. L. G. Daingerfield's classes in miniature gardens will begin on March 5 at 11 o'clock at the center. All who wish to join the class should be at the center for the first lesson. There is no charge for the lessons but the material will have to be bought.

Chairmen for the week at the center are, Monday, Crepe Myrtle Garden Club, Mrs. J. L. Denton and her committee; West End Woman's Club, Mesdames W. C. Messer, J. C. Brown, E. W. Newnan, Charles B. Fife, T. S. Cathcart Sr., and S. L. Grant; Tuesday, Iris Club, Mrs. Robert Martin and committee; Wednesday, Peony Garden Club, Mrs. W. W. Alexander and Mrs. B. F. Holtzendorf; Thursday, Decatur Garden Club, Mesdames Bruce Hall, David O'Neal and Guy Hudson; Friday, Lullwater Garden Club, Mesdames H. H. Askew, H. G. Estes, Steve Garrett and A. T. Phillips; Saturday, Mrs. Edward Cauthorn and her committee, Primrose Garden Club.

Special Introductory Price on a lovely new pattern in STERLING
"Corsage" Repousse
—26-Pc. Set—
In Silk Moire Case

For March Only!

- A modified Repousse pattern
- Made by Steiff of Baltimore
- Permanent pattern - Steiff never discontinues a pattern
- Heavier weight than the usual standard pattern

—and think of a sterling silver teaspoon nowadays for just 75c!

6 Medium Knives, 6 Medium Forks, 6 Teaspoons, 6 Salad Forks, 1 Butter Knife, 1 Sugar Spoon and a felt-lined case that prevents tarnishing

Special Introductory Prices for March on Single Pieces:

$2.00 Cream Soup Spoons ... $1.50	$1.50 Ice Cream Forks ... $1.13	$2.50 Butter Knife $1.88
$3.00 Dinner Forks $2.25	$2.00 Iced Tea Spoons ... $1.50	$5.00 Cold Meat Fork, med. .. $3.75
$3.00 Dinner Knives ... $2.25	$1.50 Orange Spoons ... $1.13	$3.25 Cream Ladle $2.44
$1.50 Bouillon Spoons ... $1.13	$1.25 Oyster Forks .94	$5.00 Fruit Spoon, small ... $3.75
$1.50 Butter Spreads ... $1.13	$1.50 Salad Forks $1.13	$3.75 Gravy Ladle $2.81
$1.00 Coffee Spoons ... .75	$6.00 Game Set ... $4.50 5½-in. blade without guards	$1.75 Sugar Spoon $1.31

Convenient Terms May Be Arranged

EXCLUSIVELY IN ATLANTA AT MAIER & BERKELE

Mail Orders Filled Promptly —Postage Prepaid

Maier & Berkele
INC
★ JEWELERS TO THE SOUTH SINCE 1887

Shall it be a versatile swagger suit, combining a plaid jacket or skirt with plain fabrics, giving you a chance to "mix it yourself" and make several suits out of the one—or shall it be a strictly tailored model that gives you a suave, sophisticated appearance—or a more dressy suit of pastel with matching fur? Fashion gives you a "carte blanche" choice, so take yours plain, fancy, or mixed—but be sure the label is Leon's, to be sure of authentic fashion and best quality.

The price list is not prohibitive at Leon's. Suits .....$19.75 to $159.75

Leon Frohsin
225-27 PEACHTREE

Marguerite Junior Garden Club Named

A group of sixth grade girls, who are members of the Inman Junior Garden Club of the Samuel Inman school have voted to call their group the Marguerite Junior Garden Club, also selecting this flower as their club flower and pink and white as club colors. This action was taken due to the fact that soon these girls would graduate into junior high school and wished to continue their junior garden club activities.

The club was organized a year ago under the leadership of Mrs. L. G. Fulton, present counselor, with a three-fold purpose: First, to interest young people in the art of garden making and flower growing; second, to lead them into a greater consciousness and appreciation of the great and beautiful plant life of our city and state, and third, to awaken in them a greater pride in home and civic planting. In accord with this objective a definite program of activities has been followed, which include flower knowledge (both cultivated and wild plant life), garden planning, flower arrangements, sharing garden pleasures, civic endeavor, garden handicraft, individual garden scrapbooks, birds and other subjects interesting to juniors.

A great deal of progress has been made in civic endeavor projects and the individual garden scrapbooks. Each scrapbook is attractive and valuable with information carefully selected and assembled according to the individual ideas of its owner. These books have been shown in two scrapbook exhibits. In the exhibit at the Atlanta Woman's Club last fall Alice Violante won a blue ribbon on her book, Mary Anne Linnane won red ribbon, and Cammille Litton won white. Recently at the garden center in an exhibit the winners were Alice Violante, blue; Joy Bennett, red, and Bessie Astin, white. The club scrapbook won a blue ribbon also. This club book will be presented to the Inman school library at the close of the term.

Early in November the group took part in a junior conservation program at the garden center at Rich's, sponsored by the Mayflower Garden Club during the state-wide conservation week, at which time Mrs. Julian Wingo, of Savannah, gave a beautiful illustrated lecture on bird life and junior gardening.

Later in November they attended with their counselor, a lecture on "Lilies," by Floyd Bralliar. Also in November they helped to sponsor a tulip shower in the school, the result being the planting of more than 500 red Darwin tulips and pansies in front of the school shrubbery for spring blooming. At this time plans were also made for planting three-dozen Radiance roses in the school garden.

In December, club activities centered around the subject of indoor gardening and Christmas. Officers of the club are Eva Spence, president; Bessie Astin, vice president; Joy Bennett, secretary; Mary Anne Linnane, treasurer. Other members are Peggy Ward, Anne Barrilli, Alice Violante, Jean Bigham, Camille Litton, Anne Shields, Lila Longley, Carol Lathem and Harriet Kuniasky, and others.

Phi Mu Anniversary.

The Atlanta Phi Mu Alumnae Association will hold the annual Founders' Day services Tuesday, March 5, at the home of Mrs. John Turner, 157 East 17th street, at 3 o'clock. The occasion will celebrate the 83rd anniversary of the founding of the fraternity at Wesleyn College.

Miss Mary Hazel Pitman To Wed Jerome Kenneth Jay, of Greenville

Photo by Elliott's.

MISS MARY HAZEL PITMAN.

Of cordial interest to friends in Georgia and South Carolina is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pitman, of Newnan, of the engagement of their daughter, Mary Hazel Pitman, to Jerome Kenneth Jay, of Greenville, S. C. The bride-elect, of the brunette type of beauty, is the only daughter of her parents. Her brother is R. D. Pitman, of Greenville, S. C. She graduated from the Newnan High school and later attended the Georgia State College for Women in Milledgeville.

Mr. Jay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Jay, of Greenville, S. C. He attended Madison A. & M. and in 1934 graduated from Furman University with a B. A. and B. S. degree. During his senior year he was president of the Furman student body and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. This past year he was the assistant freshman football coach at Furman.

The marriage will be solemnized in April and after their marriage the young couple will make their home in Greenville, where the bridegroom-elect is prominently identified in business.

Pioneer Women Meet Wednesday.

Atlanta Pioneer Women meet Wednesday, March 6, at 3 o'clock, in the conference room at Rich's, on the fifth floor. Guests of honor will be Miss Marian Smith (Bill Arp's daughter); Miss Sally Brown, daughfer of the late Governor Joseph E. Brown, and Mrs. George M. Brown, formerly Miss Corrie Hoyt, who will tell of the Butterfly Club, which was composed of many of the women in the Pioneer Society, which was founded on February 4, 1909, by Mrs. Joseph Morgan.

Reminiscent papers will be read by Mrs. Evans Cook and Mrs. John A. Cowles, members of the society. Mrs. Lola Walker Clement will preside and Miss Sarah Huff, historian, will have on exhibition some of her beautiful books.

Mrs. Sewell Fetes Garden Clubs

Mrs. Wayne P. Sewell, of the Ponce de Leon apartments, was hostess Monday to a group of garden clubs of the state at her country estate, the "Hettie Jane Dunaway Gardens," located near Newnan, when she presented Robert S. Sturdivant, of Boston, noted landscape architect, in a lecture, "Effects in the Garden."

The lecture was given in the Patchwork Barn, in a miniature theater located near the beautiful rock gardens of the estate. Mr. Sturdivant is an outstanding lecturer and authority on landscaping. He has an A. B. degree from Harvard University and a Master's degree from the Harvard School of Landscape Architecture. He has been editor of the Bulletin of the American Iris Society since its initial issue in October, 1920, and was with Armstead Brothers, landscape architects, from the time he finished school until he joined the army.

Following the war, he became director of the Lowthorp School of Landscape Architecture in Boston, and is now an instructor at the Harvard School of Architecture and Landscaping in the university extension, and also conducts classes at Smith and Simmons College.

The lecture sponsored by Mrs. Sewell was given complimentary to the Newnan Garden Club, and members of the garden clubs from neighboring towns, including in all about 500 members from clubs located in Atlanta, College Park, Fairburn, Palmetto, Carrollton, LaGrange, Bremen, Columbus and Opelika, Ala.

Following the lecture, the guests were taken through the Hettie Jane Dunaway Gardens, which are being prepared for a mammoth opening in May.

Habersham D.A.R. To Sponsor Benefit

Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., will sponsor a benefit bridge party on Friday afternoon, March 8, at 2:30 o'clock at Habersham hall, 270 Fifteenth street, N. E. Mrs. J. H. Mullin, general chairman; Mrs. E. A. Cronheim, co-chairman, will be assisted by a large committee. Decorations will carry out the idea of St. Patrick's day.

Mrs. W. F. Dykes will preside at the punch bowl and four young girls wearing St, Patrick costumes, will serve home-made candies gratis to each table. There will be an individual prize for every table and a number of attractive articles have been secured for other prizes, among which are several home-made cakes.

Tickets are 50 cents each and may be secured from Mrs. T. J. Ripley, chairman, Hemlock 1773-J, or at the door. This benefit is for the purpose of raising funds to help liquidate the debt on Constitution hall, Washington, D. C. Mrs. C. J. Sheehan, regent, extends an invitation to all friends of the chapter to be present. Players are requested to bring cards and pencils.

Evan P. Howell U.C.V.

Camp Evan P. Howell U. C. V. No. 1825, met February 22 at the Confederate Soldiers' Home. Reverend George McLarty from the North Atlanta Baptist church was the speaker. Following the meeting Jimmie Kilpatrick, popular pianist and impersonator of radio and stage gave an enjoyable program, and Danny Yarbrough rendered several patriotic piano numbers. There are 18 veterans in the home and church and club units are welcome at any time.

Miss Anderson Weds Mr. Crouch At Quiet Rites in Barnesville, Ga.

BARNESVILLE, Ga., March 2.—Announcement is made today by Mrs. John Martin Anderson of the marriage of her daughter, Miss Estelle Donalson Anderson, to John William Crouch, formerly of Greenville, now of Atlanta.

The marriage was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's mother on Thomaston street here Friday afternoon, March 1, at 4 o'clock. Only the immediate families of the young couple witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Mr. Richard Simpson, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Barnesville.

For her wedding the bride was attired in a becoming costume of navy triple sheer, with jacket of quilted silk. Her accessories were of blue, and she wore a shoulder spray of orchids and valley lilies.

Mrs. Crouch is the daughter of the late Dr. John Martin Anderson and Mrs. Anderson, who was before her marriage Miss Estelle Donalson, of Donalsonville. The bride is the sister of Mrs. George P. Rankin Jr., of Macon; Miss Agnes Anderson, of Albany, and John Anderson, a student of the University of Georgia medical school in Augusta.

After her graduation from Gordon Institute in Barnesville, Mrs. Crouch attended Queens College in Charlotte, N. C., later continuing her studies at Wesleyan Conservatory in Macon. She is at present a member of the faculty of Gordon grammar school.

Mr. Crouch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Crouch, of Meriwether county, near Luthersville. Mrs. Crouch was before her marriage Miss Marjorie Malcolm, also of Meriwether county. Mr. Crouch is the brother of Miss Evelyn Crouch, of the dean. He is now staff auditor of the emergency relief administration of Georgia.

MRS. JOHN WILLIAM CROUCH

Woodbury; Terrell Crouch, Lanier Crouch and Robert Crouch, all of Atlanta.

Mr. Crouch is a graduate of Greenville High school and of Oglethorpe University, where he was assistant to

Following a short wedding trip this popular young couple will make their home with the bride's mother in Barnesville for the present.

Literature Group Meets Thursday

Literature department of the Atlanta Woman's Club meets Thursday afternoon, March 7, at 3 o'clock with the chairman, Mrs. W. F. Melton, presiding. Miss Jessie Hopkins gave a resume of some of the recent novels at the Carnegie library. Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin will read a number of Stanton's poems and Mrs. Peter Harrower will play a number of piano solos.

Announcement is made that the fine arts department short story contest is now in progress and that all entries must be submitted to Mrs. Melton not later than March 25. Stories must not be more than 2,500 words in length nor less than 1,000, while poems must be not less than 12 lines nor more than 20. All members of the Atlanta Woman's Club and of the Junior Atlanta Woman's Club are eligible to enter this contest.

LeZah Club.

LeZah Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Everett Millican on Dill avenue. Garments were mended for the Scottish Rite hospital. A social hour was enjoyed.

Those present were Misses Hazel Dennard, Evelyn Silverman, Selma Adair, Mesdames Bernice Williams, LaVert Mitchell, Ann Bolen, Mary Jones, Rubye Bethea, Aline Haskins, Bee Millican, Mrs. Brown, Sue Dennard, Della Ashton, Miss Dorothy McDonald, Ralph Mitchell, L. B. Jones and J. F. Williams. Mrs. Ralph Mitchell will entertain at the March meeting.

New Model
Summer Weight
VASSARETTES

Whether its a simple tailleur or a sophisticated evening gown . . . whether you are a slight young thing, or not so slight, and not so young . . . there's a Vassarette Foundation that is utterly right for your costume and your figure. These new model, summer weight Vassarettes hold the diaphragm, without ANY extra bulkiness. The specially processed lastex they are made of stretches only one way in the front and holds tightly . . . in the back it stretches both ways.

At right is the all-in-one girdle by Vassarette $10
Below, left, is the girdle without the bandeau by Vassarette $7.50
Below, right, the Girdle Pantie with detachable supporters $5.00

Third Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
'The Store All Women Know'

the NAVY WINS!

With an early rushing attack . . . the Navy wins the Spring Fashion Classic! The Navy scores early in the season with many fashion successes in all departments! Navy is first in dresses, coats, suits, hats, bags, gloves, and shoes!

A Winning DRESS in Navy Blue

Smart jabot and cuffs of navy blue lace dress up this Navy winner. Simple enough for street wear any time, but with that soft feminine touch. There are many other navy dresses at Allen's equally winsome!

$25

Second Floor

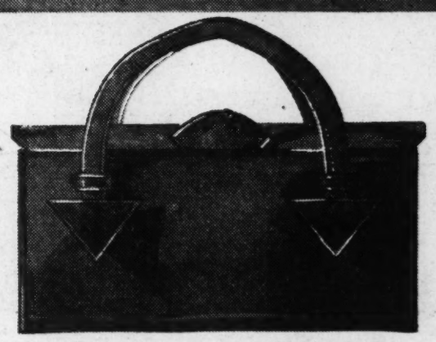

Rough Straw SAILOR in Navy Blue by De Marinis

Naturally a sailor belongs in the navy, and naturally when in its element, it is a success! This one, sketched above, has a bandeau back, and a two-tone ribbon trim, with white and red anchor ornament.

$20.00

Third Floor

Navy Blue BAGS

Bag sketched is of navy calf with two handles and flap opening. It is fitted with coin purse, comb, mirror and two utility pockets. Beautifully lined . . . $7.50. Others from $1.98 to $10.75.

Navy Blue HOSE

to match your navy accessories in beautiful sheer chiffons. Priced at $1.00, $1.15, $1.25.

Navy Blue GLOVES

in pigskin, plain and fancy kids, doeskin, and a large selection of fabrics. $1.00 to $5.98.

the Newport PUMP in Navy Blue by Andrew Geller

Shoes for Spring predominate in navy, and this one sketched above is one of the winners of the blue . . . Blue patent, braided in fabric to match. Many other smart models in navy.

$12.50

Street Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
'The Store All Women Know'

Beta Theta Pis Will Entertain Pledges, Alumni This Evening

Beta Theta Pi of Georgia Tech will entertain this evening at the annual initiation ceremony and banquet at the chapter house on Fowler street. The entertainment will assemble the active members of the chapter, the pledges and the Atlanta alumni of the fraternity.

Fred Hollaway is president of the Georgia Tech chapter and De Witt Worrell is secretary. Claude Cotton is the vice president and Delos Spring, the treasurer. Robert Stevens is the alumni secretary.

Dr. Dunbar Roy is president of the Atlanta alumni and N. E. Harrison is the secretary. Willis M. Everett Jr. is clerk of district 13 of the national fraternity. Among the members of the association are Dean W. B. Skiles, Dr. A. A. Armstrong, Dr. Steven G. Branch, J. W. Leh, Rembert Marshall and Dr. T. E. Van De Veer. The alumni have a special invitation to attend the banquet.

Candidates for initiation into the Georgia Tech chapter include Victor Cooper, Allen Lieber, Guy Waite, Ray Chamberlain, Hugh Sanders, Harry Beck, John Boatwright, Ed Emmons, Bill Hunt, Bobbie Burks, Joe Fly and Bill Bliss.

Society Graduation.

Atlanta Psychoanalytical Society will hold its grad ation exercises at Dr. Kahn's farm Sunday afternoon, March 3, the members leaving 131 Forrest avenue, 2 p. m. Subject for discussion in next weekly meeting will be "Analysis and the Problem Child." The time and place will be announced later.

Events at Sterchi's.

Events for the week at Sterchi's are as follows: Tuesday and Wednesday the Martha chapter of the O. E. S. will hold a benefit luncheon, 11:30 to 2 o'clock. Hostess, Mrs. E. G. Pope, 436 Langhorn street; Thursday, the regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta P.-T. A. council, 10 o'clock followed by a luncheon for the presidents. Friday, benefit bridge given by the Lee Roosevelt Auxiliary of Spanish-American War Veterans, 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. R. C. Irwin, 1479 Lee street, hostess, in charge of arrangements. Saturday, benefit bridge given by New Era Study Club, 2 o'clock. Mrs. E. H. West, 872 Arlington place, in charge of arrangements.

RICH'S Peach Festival SALE!

Would You Like to Take a Walk?

Spring Shoes definitely new in design.

Patent, blue, black or brown kid. Also white or black faille.

Brown fabric with white kid trim.

Blue, black, brown or white kid.

Blue, black or brown kid.

Color and material combinations entrancingly individual.

Blue or brown kid with white kid trim.

White buck or white with brown trim, leather heel.

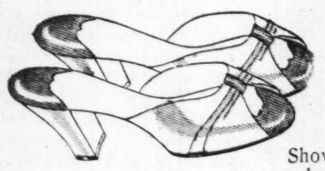

White bucko, brown calf trim, leather heel.

Brown kid with white kid. Reversible quarter.

Luxurious Mules

White Satin gold trim. Red or black velvet gold trim.

Black or White Satin Mule.

$2.98

VALUES TO $6

Showing two of the styles from a beautiful collection of lounging slippers. BUT—NOT EVERY SIZE IN EVERY STYLE.

$1.98

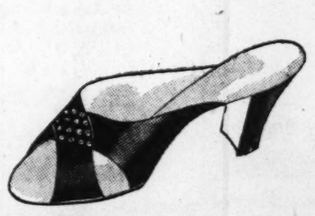

Black or White Satin D'Orsay. Also blue or black kid.

Amazingly Priced

Jeweled gold or silver kid.

Black or White Satin Rhinestone trim.

Narrow and wide widths

MAIL SERVICE STREET FLOOR

Women Voters' Board Meets Tuesday

Board of Atlanta League of Women Voters meets at League headquarters Tuesday, March 5, at 10 o'clock. The regular business for the month will be conducted and at the conclusion a review of the work of the Georgia legislature will be given.

The final meeting of the class called "The Consumers' Stake in the New Deal" will be held Tuesday, March 5, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Charles Hurt, director of the class, and Mrs. Ronald Pentecost, study leader, have expressed satisfaction that the class has been a success and that much valuable information has been given on vital subjects of interest to all women who do any purchasing.

Mrs. Robert Church Jr., director of the department of international cooperation, announces that the class will meet Thursday, March 7, at 10:30 o'clock, at League headquarters, 74 Whitehall street. An interesting program has been arranged. There will be three formal papers. Mrs. Harold Jordan will speak on "Munitions Investigation," Mrs. W. Moore on "All Europe With Particular Stress on Austria" and Mrs. DuPont Murphy on "Land Control Under the AAA." Following this there will be a round-table discussion of world current events.

A. A. Sisterhood Plans Meeting for Monday.

The A. A. Sisterhood will dedicate the coming meeting to the Sunday school of the A. A. congregation, its leader, Rabbi H. H. Epstein, and the loyal group of teachers. This meeting, which will be in the form of a parent-teacher affair, will be held on Monday afternoon, March 4, at 3 o'clock. Rabbi H. H. Epstein will give a brief resume of the curriculum of the school. This will prove of great interest to the mothers, and it is therefore urged that mothers of children attending the A. A. Sunday school be present. This invitation is most cordially extended to both members and non-members of the sisterhood.

The other features of the program will be a short talk entitled, "The Relationship of Parent and Teacher," by Miss Eva Boss, teacher of the graduating class. Little Miss Betty Kuniansky will render a musical number; Petty Bregman will give several vocal selection in Hebrew. Miss Mitzi Hirsch, of the eighth grade, will give her own impressions of Sunday school. Miss Boss is offering a prize to the class who has the most mothers present at this meeting.

The following constitute the staff of the A. A. Sunday school: Mesdames L. Piassick, Louis Silver, D. N. Meyer, L. Rosenbaum, Miss Bess Goldstein and Simon Wender, Ed Vajda, Herman Mechlowitz, Miss Eva Boss, Mrs. Uram and Miss Ida Mae Goldstein, secretary.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting and those present are urged to stay.

Sponsors School.

A cooking school sponsored by the Covenant Presbyterian church, and Circle 6 of Peachtree Road Methodist church, will be taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Stanfield at the Covenant church March 5, 6 and 7 from 10:30 to 12 o'clock. Tickets cost 50 cents. A cookbook will be given every student. Prizes will be given each day.

Attractive Bride-Elect of Spring

Miss Edith Bowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bowles, whose engagement to Dr. Paul Huffstutler, of Birmingham, Ala., is announced today by her parents. The wedding of this popular young couple will be solemnized in the spring.

Kappa Alpha Costume Ball Marks Social Program at University

ATHENS, Ga., March 2.—A masked costume ball was given Friday evening in Woodruff hall by members of Gamma chapter of the Kappa Alpha fraternity. A number of Georgia belles, including co-eds of the university, attended. Members and pledges of the fraternity took part in the lead-out, which was headed by Bob Stephens, Atlanta, head of the Georgia chapter, and Miss Grace Winston, Athens. A floor show under the direction of John Dekle, Savannah, was featured. Following the dance members of the chapter, pledges and their dates were entertained at a breakfast.

Members of the dancing classes of the university will give their annual dance Tuesday evening at the physical education building under the direction of Miss Frances E. Graham, a member of the staff. This is, according to Mrs. M. E. L. Soule, head of the physical education division, one of the major student activities for women of the year.

The first of a series of dances to be given by women students of the coordinate college is scheduled for Saturday evening under the direction of Miss Dot Marshall, Dawson. Proceeds from these dances will be used to establish a scholarship for a deserving freshman next fall.

Members of the local chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity will entertain with a house dance Saturday evening. Co-eds will attend and chaperons will include Mr. and Mrs. Abit Nix, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Gunn and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ritchie.

Following a custom of eight years, that the loser shall entertain the victor with a dance, members of the Chi Phi fraternity, who were defeated in the football tournament by the Kappa Sigmas, will give a dance in honor of the Kappa Sigmas at their chapter house Saturday evening. Before the dance the Kappa Sigma fraternity will honor the Chi Phi members with a stag smoker to take place at the former's house. A number of co-eds have been invited to the dance.

Making its first appearance out of the state and its initial one for the present school year, the Girls' Glee Club will present a series of concerts at Clemson, S. C. Saturday and Sunday. Members of the club will be guests of the college over the week-end. The club is under the direction of Miss Jeannie Belle Smith and consists of 25 members. Miss Nola Mae Dunaway, Athens, is accompanist.

Civic Club Aids Tallulah School

Civic Club of West End is the only club in the state to meet all the requirements of the silver jubilee year of the Tallulah Falls school. Mrs. P. D. Johnson, chairman of the committee, planned a pilgrimage to the school in the early fall, when 25 members of the club saw what the clubwomen of Georgia are doing for children in the mountains; presented a Tallulah Falls program at one of the club meetings, featuring "The Light of the Mountains," paid $25 to the maintenance fund and made a special silver jubilee gift of $25. As a fitting close of these activities, Mrs. Otis Witherspoon, president of the club, and Mrs. P. D. Johnson, Tallulah Falls chairman, were guests of honor at the meeting and dinner of the board of trustees of Tallulah Falls school.

Mrs. P. J. McGovern, president of the Fifth District Federation of Women's Clubs, was the principal speaker at the meeting Wednesday afternoon, and inspired her audience in her talk on international relations, emphasizing the importance of clubwomen informing themselves concerning all issues involving the home and good citizenship. Mrs. Murray Howard gave a book review on "The Green Light," by Lloyd Douglas.

Mrs. Lon Livingston, music chairman, presented Mrs. Troy Roper, soprano soloist of Druid Hills Presbyterian church, in a group of selections from Shubert. Mrs. Roper was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Livingston. Mrs. Otis Witherspoon, president, presided over the meeting, and Mrs. L. A. Hollingsworth and Mrs. Hinton Blackshear, hostesses for the afternoon, served tea.

Bridge Club Hostess.

Mrs. James T. Clark entertained the members of her bridge club Saturday at her home on Whitney avenue in Hapeville. High score was won by Mrs. Robert L. Stocks; low score was made by Mrs. C. S. Carter and Mrs. L. C. Crawford drew consolation.

Those present were Misses Clifford Greer, Catherine Carter, Sarah Smith, Mesdames L. D. Greer, C. S. Carter, Paul Charles, L. C. Crawford, John B. King, Marjorie Head, Robert L. Stocks, Miss Catherine Ray and Mrs. James T. Clark. The members absent were Miss Mary Hill and Miss Vera Mae Moon.

Mrs. Clark was assisted in entertaining by Miss Catherine Carter. The next meeting will be held March 23 at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Stocks, 940 Woodland avenue, S. E.

RICH'S Peach Festival SALE!

Three marvelously Low Introductory Prices on 10,000 pairs beautiful Ringless

DEXDALE HOSIERY

Sold Exclusively at Rich's in Atlanta

Regularly 1.00 values

81c

3-thread sheer chiffons and 4-thread semi-chiffons—sheer and expensive looking, silk-sealed to give a sheerer look and greater protection against snags and runs. Short, medium, long.

1.35 48-gauge Sheer Chiffons, silk from top to toe, beautiful and sheer. 1.00

1.65 Sheerest-of-sheer Chiffons, woven for gossamer beauty and good wear. 1.35

Choose from 8 fashionable spring shades.

Gazelle
Stroller
Eclipse
Sun Tan
Beach Tan
Symphony
Indian Skin
Georgia Peach

Ask for any size from 8½ to 10½ in your correct length—

Short 29-in. Medium 30-in. Long 31-in.

- Every pair with WONDERFOOT—a new foot construction that gives 52% more wear by actual test.
- Every pair super-inspected and packed in single packs to insure your getting perfect hose that have not been handled.

RICH'S FAMOUS HOSIERY DEPARTMENT STREET FLOOR

Society Assumes Serious Mien In Preparation for Lenten Season

By Sally Forth.

FORTIFIED by gay memories of a brilliant season, society is beginning to turn its thoughts to more serious subjects with the coming of Lent. In view of the 40 penitential days, there has been a concentration of social activities for the few remaining days before Ash Wednesday. In fact, Sally has heard of one surprise wedding that has been rushed up to take place before Wednesday, but the pretty bride-to-be, a debutante of two seasons ago, denies the rumor. However, Sally will keep her eyes and ears open and let you know if the wedding bells ring, for the romance will intrigue your interest just as it did hers.

Doubtless the coming of the Lenten period influenced the choice of Shrove Tuesday as the wedding date for lovely Frances Weinman and Carroll Latimer. Canon William S. Turner, who is affectionately known as "Bill Turner" by the bride-elect and his contemporaries, will read the marriage service at a beautiful afternoon ceremony at the quaint little Church of Our Savior in Cartersville, and Atlanta society will have one more opportunity of donning its best bib and tucker before committing it to moth balls. And there's another wedding set for Tuesday, but Sally has given her word not to divulge the news—that is, not just yet.

The Debutante Club, which has chosen March 15 as the date for its elaborate fashion show, is licensed to interrupt the penitential fast, of course, for the event will be staged for sweet charity's sake. The revue will take place at the Biltmore and the proceeds will be devoted to caring for those appealing little children at the Cornelia Moore Day Nursery. And, quite naturally, you will be forgiven if you peek from your sack-cloth and ashes to see that gorgeous parade of youthful beauty displaying the latest spring modes in feminine apparel.

TONES of orchid invariably suggest Frances Weinman, once you have seen her Titian beauty enhanced by a gown of the lovely shade. Not that just any color of the spectrum doesn't look well on Frances, but in addition to being a perfect complement for her coloring, orchid happens to be her favorite shade. In fact, so fond is she of lavender tints that she has chosen them as the color motif for her marriage to Carroll Latimer on Tuesday afternoon, when half of Atlanta will be motoring to Cartersville to see her as a bride.

Knowing full well her best friend's preference of the color chart, Mary Ann Carr, who will be Frances' maid of honor, chose an orchid decorative scheme for the beautifully appointed dinner she gave for the bridal couple last night at the driving club. And just wait until you hear how clever and attractive everything was!

In the center of the table Mary Ann put a tiny clapboard house, all painted in soft lavender, with twinkling lights shining through the little windows and suggesting the warmest hospitality within. You could just fancy Frances living in that little house! Outside were real grass terraces surrounded by a tiny white picket fence. At one side was a miniature rock garden where flowers bloomed in a riot of color, and would you believe it, from an orchid crystal fountain came a sparkling spray of water, which Sally could not persuade herself was not orchid-tinted too.

Of course the latch string hung on the outside of the tiny lavender door, and the small orchid cellophane wrapped boxes at the guests' places held tiny silver keys, signifying the royal welcome awaiting the friends of the young Carroll Latimers.

The handmade place cards formed a veritable bridal procession around the table for they were miniature bridesmaid figures, wearing duplicates of the lovely orchid taffeta frocks that the real bridesmaids will don on Tuesday afternoon.

A TINY locket which graced the party attire of Charlotte King during her kindergarten days found a place in her handsome wedding ensemble when she became the bride of Erroll Baldwin Hay Jr. at an impressive service taking place on Saturday afternoon at St. Luke's Episcopal church.

Of blue enamel, the treasured keepsake formed just the necessary bit of blue to comply with the age-old tradition of something borrowed, something blue, and so on. Tucked into the finger of her glove, the tiny trinket served to insure the happiness of the Titian-haired bride and the lucky bridegroom.

For something borrowed there was the handsome wedding gown of soft ivory satin which was loaned to Charlotte by her matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Autrey, of Moultrie, the former Liza Tway, who wore it at her own recent wedding.

Then, to add something old, Charlotte carried an exquisite little lace and cambric handkerchief, once the property of her late grandmother, Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie. Brought from abroad by a close friend of Mrs. Wylie's, the handkerchief was carefully saved to grace the bridal attire of her granddaughters. Charlotte's cousins, Hart Wylie, Laura and Susan Smith, will include the heirloom in their accessories when they tread the orange blossom trail.

CAROL and Elizabeth Hopkins returned from Florida on Saturday. This is good news to their friends, for these popular young girls have been greatly missed in social circles. They left Atlanta in January to visit J. Carroll Payne, their grandfather. They are sun-tanned from sun and surf baths and enjoyed the pleasures attendant upon a trip to the seashore.

Mrs. Howell Peeples, the former Nan Payne, of Washington, D. C., flew to Miami the same day that Carroll and Elizabeth departed. She will visit her uncle, Mr. Payne, at his Miami Beach home.

You will recall that Mrs. Payne was injured in an automobile accident while en route to Florida to join her husband. She remained for several weeks in a local hospital, but is convalescing at her Peachtree road residence. Her granddaughters, Carol and Elizabeth, and their mother, Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins, went to Miami to watch over Mr. Payne, who may be seen these sunny days out in the patio basking in the sunlight.

OTHER Atlantans glimpsed in Miami on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loridans, who boarded "The Clipper" to fly to Havana for a week-end visit to the Pearl of the Antilles. They will stop at the National while in Havana, and will engage an automobile for the time they are there. Sight-seeing in Havana and trips to rural Cuba will engage their attention and interest. Mr. and Mrs. Loridans made a leisurely motor trip to Florida in their car and expect to spend several weeks in the Land of Flowers.

They were noted among the spectators at Deauville the other evening, going there to hear the incomparable Lucienne Boyer put on her act. Seats are at a premium at this particular night club on Miami Beach, but when Mr. Loridans engaged his table, using his native tongue, French, he was told he could get one that evening. Lucienne Boyer visited their table to converse in French with Mr. Loridans. She is a charming brunet creature who dresses in blue velvet and a blue spotlight shines directly upon her slight, petite form when she is performing.

When lovely titian-haired Pearl Fort becomes the bride of Dudley Fort at an impressive April ceremony, the "something borrowed" so frequently referred to in bridal finery will be doubly featured. Pearl will wear the satin Princess style wedding gown which her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Rufus E. Fort, of Nashville, Tenn., wore as a bride.

As a fitting complement to the ensemble, the pretty April bride will wear a veil of tulle belonging to her cousin, Mrs. Stuart Colley, of Grantville, Ga., the former Mary Dudley Fort. The veil will be a becoming frame for her pretty face and lustrous eyes as she keeps time to "Lohengrin" up the aisle at the church to meet Dudley. The latter, we have heard, has decided to follow in the footsteps of his pretty bride-to-be and "borrow" too. Of course this is not a definite fact, but the same bird that whispered to Sally about Pearl told her that Dudley will wear his future father-in-law's (Dr. Arthur G. Fort) coat in the wedding.

Better Films Group.

Atlanta Better Films Committee met in Davison's tea room Thursday and reports from all chairmen showed splendid work accomplished. James W. Setze Jr. spoke on "Education of Parents Whose Children Attend Theaters." She said any child under 8 years of age should see only such pictures as are recommended for junior matinees.

Mr. Setze gave astonishing facts and figures concerning the expense of operating a theater and the task of selecting pictures, etc. The president, Mrs. Alva G. Maxwell, presided. Dr. W. H. Faust gave the invocation. Two new members were introduced: Mrs. Max Hall and Mrs. T. B. Woodhouse. Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. Sterrett, of Bangor, Me., and their daughter, Mrs. Mathewson.

Weinberger Window Is Artistic Delight On Peachtree Street

With the chill of winter still in the air, and drab thoughts waiting to be dispelled by summer's welcome harbingers, pedestrians along Peachtree street will come to a pleasant halt at sight on the display window of Weinberg's gown shop at No. 244.

Here the merchant not only displays his wares, but he gives gratis to the beholder, whether prospective customer or penniless beggar, a rare treat for the eyes. And one stops and gazes until the picture is well fixed in the mind, to be looked at again in retrospect when one has passed by. Exquisite simplicity marks the keynote of the permanent background which has been installed at the shop, and the ensemble is strongly reflective of the spirit of the great boulevards of commerce.

Theatrical producers have long recognized the value of the stairway setting for scenic effect and as a true means of enhancing feminine grace. In this window treatment the stairway dais, with stately pilasters on each side, forms the pedestal for the single gown display shown. Done in Georgia's famous pink marble from the Tate quarries, the steps, pilasters and floor reflect a lovely sheen in delightful contrast to cream-colored walls.

Atop each pilaster is a gracefully-curved cornucopia holding a purple breath of spring, and two well-chosen paintings relieve the mural area. The present gown display is a nasturtium dinner gown, with flowing lines, blending perfectly in color harmony with the general theme.

As something new in artistic achievement, and presenting as a whole a picture which should be worthy of salon placing if produced on canvas, this display reflects professional artistic credit to its designer, not merely as a commercial venture, but as a permanent link in the effort to make Atlanta a true city beautiful.

Woman's Club Plans Bridge Party, Dance

Plans are being completed for the mammoth pre-Lenten bridge party and dance to be given at the Atlanta Woman's Club on Tuesday evening, March 5, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Max E. Land, president, has named Mrs. Louise Taylor Fraser as general chairman in charge of arrangements. The entire clubhouse will be used for the party and bridge tables will be arranged throughout the living rooms, while dancing will be enjoyed in the banquet hall, where one of Atlanta's most popular orchestras will play.

Refreshments will be served during the evening. Attractive prizes will be given the bridge players. Many reservations have already been made and others may be made by telephoning the club at Hemlock 4636, or Mrs. E. L. Rowe at Dearborn 3588-W. Admission will be 50 cents per person and will entitle the guest either to play bridge or dance.

Lebanon O. E. S. Observes Anniversary.

Lebanon chapter, O. E. S., will observe its 21st birthday anniversary at the meeting of the chapter Thursday evening, March 7, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Capitol View Masonic temple, corner of Stewart and Dill avenues.

Miss Ethel Jackson, past grand matron, Grand Chapter of Georgia; Mrs. Marcia Jewett, grand associate matron, Grand Chapter of Georgia; Mrs. Pauline Dillon, grand conductress, Grand Chapter of Georgia, and the past matrons and past patrons of Lebanon chapter will be honor guests. An interesting program has been arranged, including a drill by the girls in the Rainbow Assembly of Atlanta.

Miss Rosser Weds Norman H. Fudge.

Mrs. E. M. Rosser announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Mattie Lou Rosser, to Norman Hughey Fudge, Saturday, March 2. The ceremoney was performed by Dr. Louie D. Newton in his study at Druid Hills Baptist church and was attended by members of the respective families.

Mr. and Mrs. Fudge left on a motor trip through Florida and upon their return will reside at 935 Beecher street, S. W., in West End.

O. E. S. Benefit Dance.

Center Hill Chapter No. 235, O. E. S., will sponsor a benefit dance Saturday evening, March 9, at Hurst hall, 594 1-2 Peachtree street, N. E., from 9 to 12 o'clock. Admission will be 50 cents for gentlemen and ladies 25 cents. The public is invited to attend.

Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle To Hold State Convention Here

MRS. CLARA B. CASSIDY.

The state convention of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle meets at the Ansley hotel here on March 7, 8 and 9. The meetings will be held on the roof garden of the hotel.

The convention open at 10 o'clock on Thursday, March 7. Mayor James L. Key will welcome the convention to Atlanta. National President Dora Alexander Talley will address the convention. Other speakers will be National Treasurer Ethel Holiway; Mrs. Nora Wilson, member of the national advisory committee, of Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Belle Bond, Atlanta, Georgia international president, Pilot Club of America; H. C. Fabian, state manager, W. O. W., of Georgia; Mrs. Sarah F. Greene, state president, W. C., Americus, Ga.

State manager, Mrs. Clara B. Cassidy, will preside over the opening meeting. About 300 delegates, members and visitors will attend. The afternoon meeting on March 7 will be devoted to the reports of the state officers and delegates to the convention. A memorial will be held on the evening of March 7. The Dora Alexander Talley Guards of Maple Grove No. 86, Atlanta, directed by State Captain Myrtle Hardy will officiate. State Manager Cassidy will preside.

The Friday morning session of March 8 will be devoted to the election of officers. Friday afternoon the convention class of 100 members will be initiated; the national president and state manager will conduct the initiation, assisted by all state officers and the drill team from Cedartown, Ga., directed by Captain Elizabeth McWaters. Seating of officers will be by Valdosta team, directed by Captain Nancy Bennett; presentation of flag by Dora Fleming Guards, of Savannah, directed by District Captain Julia McGouldrick. A pageant and dance will be held at the Shrine mosque on Friday evening and State Captain Hardy will direct the pageant. National President Talley will make an address and this meeting will be presided over by State Manager Clara B. Cassidy.

Saturday morning, March 9, a junior meeting of Emma Brooks and Junior Circle will be held on the Ansley hotel roof garden. State Junior Supervisor Blanche Schofield will have charge. Little Miss Sarah O'Keeffe will preside over the meeting. A special drill by the Marietta Juniors will be a feature of this meeting. A luncheon will be held at the Ansley hotel on Saturday, when State President Sarah F. Greene will preside. The feature of the luncheon will be the talk on the home by National President Talley. There will be 250 members and visitors present at this luncheon.

Saturday afternoon the competitive drill work will be held on the roof garden of the Ansley with the following teams participating: Dora Alexander Talley Guards, Maple Grove No. 6, Atlanta, Juanita Graden, captain; Elizabeth McWaters Guards, Cedar Grove No. 19, Cedartown, Elizabeth McWaters, captain; Dora Fleming Guards, Mistletoe Grove No. 6, Savannah, Julia McGouldrick, captain; Valdosta Guards, Mitchell Grove No. 18, Valdosta, Nancy Bennett, captain; Mary E. La Rocca Guards, Mary E. La Rocca Grove No. 264, East Point, Maye Ola Odom, captain.

Bible Study Class.

Hapeville Wesley Fellowship will have a Bible Study Class beginning Sunday evening at 6:30. Mrs. W. F. Wells, well-known Bible teacher, will teach "The Pauline Letters," and the class will extend for six weeks on Sunday evening only. The class was arranged by Miss Bessie Lee. The public is invited.

Home-coming Banquet.

Business Woman's Bible Class of Capitol View Baptist church will hold a "home-coming" banquet Friday, March 8, at 7 o'clock, at Corowanna Lodge, Donnelly avenue, S. W. All present and former members are invited. Plates will be 50 cents. Call Mrs. Crespo, Raymond 7906, for reservation.

Good Morning. Weather Today: Fair and warmer. Monday: Continued fair and warmer.

the fashion urge for Spring is

Navy BLUE

Seen in *Jacqueline Modes . . . and emphasized by striking beauty . . . hand-like construction . . . and minute detail.

*Jacqueline Modes

Smart simplicity . . . many rows of unusual stitching on dull kidskin.

6.50

Spring's newest leather . . . basket weave Grenele, with smooth kidskin.

Also in brown.

*Sponsored by Vogue and Harper's Bazar

Regensteins Peachtree Store Atlanta

In the spirit of the South

Popularity Shop . . . Presents

Cotton Dresses

$2.98 AND $3.98

MONDAY we give you—your first glimpse of the finest cottons . . . picked for the south — as an opening special we present 400 eyelet batistes in ten distinctly different styles—perfect for wear in the house now and out of doors later — navy, brown, carioca, metal blue, maize, tea rose, black. Sizes 14 to 44 ..... 2.98

Note—Sketch

THERE are also a group of famous "Dutch Art" Ginghams in a wide variety of plaids, checks and stripes—included in this group are seersuckers and "soiree muslins" 2.98

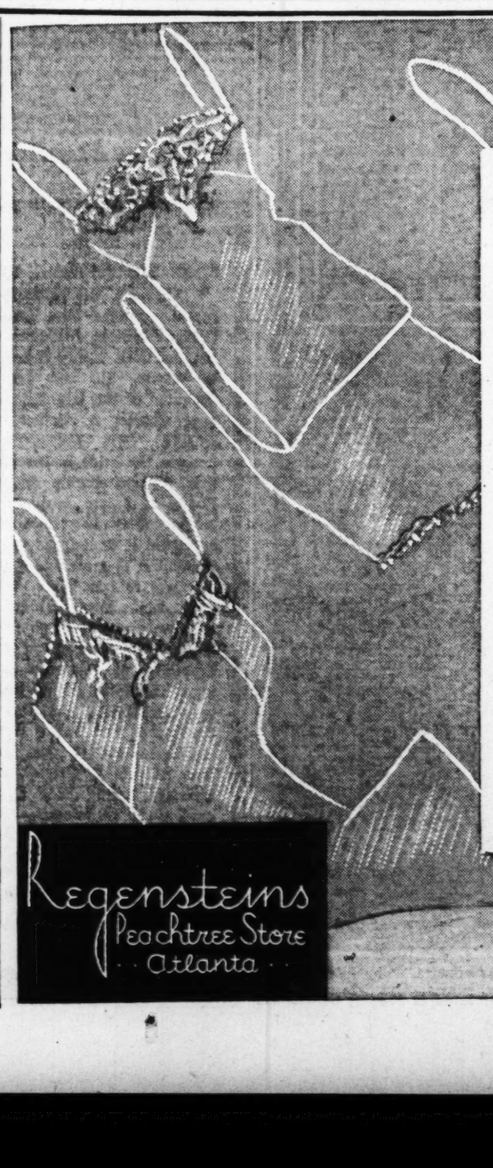

THE most exquisite of cottons are the very exceptional sports and tailored models that are perfect examples of the new in the wash. See them and have them 3.98

Buy a Season's Supply While They're Here!

3rd floor

Popularity Shop

Regensteins Peachtree Store Atlanta

Underwear—First Floor

You never get enough..

SATISFY that hunger for the beautiful — stock up on silken underthings of a luscious blossom crepe or satin corde — the strain-proof seams and expert finishings, along with perfected fitting allow these lace trimmed or tailored gowns and slips to be a Regenstein sensation at—

1.98

Tones: Tea Rose, Dusty and Blue.

Crepe slips are shadow-proof.

These are reproductions of better garments.

Regensteins Peachtree Store Atlanta

SOCIETY

Banks-Moore Betrothal Is Of Interest

Social interest centers today in the announcement made by Mrs. Henry Banks of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary Adelaide Banks, to Panchen Moore, the marriage to be solemnized in April.

The lovely bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Banks and the late Henry Banks, prominent in insurance circles. Her mother was the former Miss Rosa Tomlinson, of LaGrange. Henry Banks is her only brother. Miss Banks' maternal grandparents are the late J. M. Tomlinson, a prominent portrait painter, and Mrs. Adelaide Bull Tomlinson.

Her parternal grandparents are the late Henry Banks Sr. and Mrs. Martha Thomas Thornton Banks. Miss Banks' family has been prominently identified with the cultural growth of the south and east. She lists among her ancestors representative citizens of Georgia, South Carolina, Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

Her great-grandfather, Judge Orville Augustus Bull, was one of the most able jurists of his time. He was a member of the Reese family of Columbia, S. C. The bride-elect was graduated from Girls' High school and attended Ward-Belmont College in Nashville, Tenn. She completed her education at Oglethorpe University, where she was a member of the Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Moore is the only son of Mrs. Harry Thomas Moore, who before her marriage was Miss Grace Panchen, of Rome, Ga., and Harry Thomas Moore, who was traffic manager of the Atlanta freight bureau. His sister is Mrs. John J. Conoley.

Mr. Moore's maternal grandparents were John Seymour Panchen and Gertrude Butler Panchen, of Rome. His paternal grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Moore, of Maryland.

Mr. Moore graduated from the Georgia School of Technology in the class of 1925 and is now associated with the Atlanta Stove Works.

Miss Lassiter And Mr. Smith To Wed Soon

Social interest throughout the state is centered in the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lasseter, of Rochelle, Ga., of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Lasseter, of Atlanta, to William Spencer Smith, of Atlanta, their marriage to be an interesting event of an early date.

Miss Lasseter is a graduate of Bessie Tift, where she was a leader in campus activities. She combines a patrician beauty of the striking brunette type with a charming personality which has won her many friends during her residence here. Her home was formerly in Rochelle, Ga., and she enjoys a wide acquaintance throughout south Georgia.

Mrs. Lasseter, her mother, is the former Miss Ava Sutton, daughter of the late Daniel T. Sutton and Mrs. Georgia Royal Sutton the forbears of whom were pioneer families prominent in the development of the Carolinas and Georgia. On her paternal side she is the granddaughter of Gideon I. Lasseter, who received personal commendation from General Robert E. Lee for outstanding bravery during the Civil War, and Mrs. Sarah Smith Lasseter.

Mr. Smith attended the University of Georgia, and Georgia Tech and received his B. S. degree from Georgia Tech Evening School of Commerce, where he was named the most outstanding senior and was president of the senior class. He formerly resided in Ocilla, Brunswick and Statesboro, Ga., and also enjoys a wide acquaintance throughout the state. He is connected with the compliance division of the national recovery administration.

Golden Wedding.

VARNVILLE, S. C., March 2.—Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Tanner, for many years residents of Tennille but who are now living here, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. C. P. Newlin, in Varnville. An interesting feature of the occasion was a reunion of the family with their six children, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren present.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Tanner were reared in Washington county, Georgia. Mrs. Tanner was formerly Miss Addie Tanner, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John D. Tanner, and her husband is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Tanner.

Mrs. John Dudley Clemens, of Joliet, Ill.

Miss Dorothy Lasseter

Miss Elizabeth Warner, of Rome

Miss Anne Brantley

Mrs. Thomas Earle Cox Jr.

THE beautiful bride, Mrs. Clemens, was before her recent marriage Miss Louise Collier Stanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stanton, of Wayne, Ill., and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Collier, of Atlanta. Miss Warner will become the bride of Dr. William Pickens Harbin Jr., of Rome, at a late April ceremony. Miss Lasseter's engagement is announced today to William Spencer Smith, the marriage to take place at an early date. Miss Brantley is the lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pomeroy Brantley and a popular senior at the North Avenue Presbyterian school. Mrs. Cox is the former Miss Evelyn Wrigley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Wrigley, her marriage having been a recent event of interest. Photos of Miss Warner and Miss Brantley by Bascom Biggers; photo of Miss Lasseter by Thurston Hatcher, and photograph of Mrs. Cox by Lewis studio.

Miss Charlotte King Weds Erroll Hay Jr. At Afternoon Ceremony at St. Luke's

Miss Charlotte King, beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preston King, became the bride of Erroll Baldwin Hay Jr., of Atlanta, formerly of Philadelphia, Pa., at an impressive marriage service taking place on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Luke's Episcopal church on Peachtree street. The Rev. John Moore Walker, rector of St. Luke's church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a representative gathering of southern and eastern society.

Stately Easter lilies adorned the altar, being effectively arranged before a rich green background of palms and ferns and garlands of southern smilax. Flanking the altar were palms and ferns and arising from the greenery were seven-branched cathedral candelabra holding slender white tapers. Masses of palms and ferns graced the chancel and Easter lilies combined with cathedral candelabra added interest to the decorations. Satin ribbons holding clusters of lilies marked the pews reserved for the members of the families.

Nuptial Music.

Hugh Hodgson, talented organist, rendered a program of exquisite nuptial music preceding the ceremony. His program included "Liebestraume No. 3," by Liszt; "Traumerai," by Schumann; "Ave Maria," by Schubert; "Romance," by Rubenstein; "Carnzonetta," by Armstrong;

Continued in Page 7, Column 5.

Miss Warner Will Be Bride Of Dr. Harbin

Widespread social interest throughout the south is centered in the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacques Warner, of Rome, of the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Coghill, to Dr. William Pickens Harbin Jr., of Rome.

Miss Warner's father has for many years been prominently connected with the First National Bank of Rome and is the son of the late Charles Jacques Warner, of Rome, and Mrs. Elizabeth Coghill Warner, formerly of Essex county, Virginia. Miss Warner's mother was before her marriage Miss Ledra Edmundson, daughter of the late John Dow and Mrs. Anne Phillips Edmundson, of LaGrange, who were prominent in social and civic affairs. The bride-elect is a representative of pioneer families who have figured prominently in the social and cultural life of the south.

The bride-elect received her education at Shorter College in Rome, where she was active in college affairs and was a member of the Kid Club. She later studied in New York. She is a member of the Junior Service League, and is admired for her sweetness of disposition and fine traits of character and her most gracious manner. Charles Jacques Warner Jr., of Rome, is her only brother. She is a niece of Miss Lula Warner, of Rome; Mrs. James Beall Ridley, of Atlanta; Mrs. Hatton Lovejoy, of LaGrange, and Mrs. Edward G. Warner, of Atlanta.

Dr. Harbin is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William Pickens Harbin, of Rome. Dr. Harbin Sr. has been a prominent physician for many years and with his brother, Dr. Robert Maxwell Harbin, founded Harbin hospital. The groom-elect's paternal grandparents were the late Dr. Wylie Rei and Mary Shelor Harbin, of Calhoun. His mother was before her marriage Miss Edith Lester. He has been closely associated with the musical circles of Rome for many years. His maternal grandparents were Bannister Smith and Mary McNulty Lester, pioneer citizens of Rome, moving from South Carolina shortly after the War Between the States. His sister is Miss Mary Harbin and his brothers are Dr. Lester Harbin and Thomas Harbin.

The groom-elect attended Darlington, in Rome, where he graduated with honors and was graduated from Emory Medical school with first honors. Since his internship at Presbyterian hospital, in Chicago, he has been associated with the Harbin hospital in Rome. He is a member of the Chi Phi fraternity, the A. K. K. medical fraternity, Caduceus and Asklepias honor societies, Nine O'Clock Cotillion Club, and the Coosa Country Club. The wedding will take place the latter part of April.

Miss Marchmont, Mr. Castleberry Wed at Home

Creating widespread and sincere social interest is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Marchmont of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Peggy Marchmont, to Willis Walter Castleberry, of Florence, Ala., which was a quiet event taking place Thursday at the home of the bride's parents on Montclair drive. Dr. Ryland Knight performed the ceremony in the presence of only members of the immediate family.

The bride's lovely brunet beauty was offset by her traveling ensemble of dull red tweed, fashioned as a swagger suit. She wore a small brown felt hat with matching accessories, and completing her costume was a bouquet of orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. Castleberry and his bride left for their wedding trip to Jacksonville and other interesting points along the Florida east coast. They will make their home in Orlando, Fla.

Miss Gardner Weds Albert Finlayson

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawson Gardner, of Decatur, Ga., announce the marriage of their daughter, Emily Glenn, to Edward Albert Finlayson, of Washington, D. C., the marriage was solemnized Saturday, February 23, at St. Peter's Episcopal church, in Charlotte, N. C., with Dr. Willys Clark officiating.

The popular bride-elect resided in Decatur, where she has a host of friends. She graduated from the Decatur High school, later taking special work for two years. She is the younger daughter of her parents. Her only sister is Mrs. Arthur Branch Baker, of Decatur.

On her paternal side Mrs. Finlayson is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Burton Edward Gardner, of Atlanta. On her maternal side she is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John D. Brown, of Decatur.

Mr. Finlayson is the son of T. H. Finlayson and the late Mrs. Finlayson. His sisters are Mrs. Colver Stockdale, Mrs. Frank Eisinger and his only brother is Douglas Finlayson, all of Washington, D. C.

Mr. Finlayson is a graduate of George Washington University and a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. After a short wedding trip Mr. Finlayson and his bride will make their home in Washington.

Sigma Tau Deltas of Girls' High Will Sponsor Dance in Decatur

Sigma Tau Delta sorority of the Girls' High school in Decatur will sponsor a scrip dance at Hotel Candler, Thursday evening, March 7, with a well-known orchestra in charge of the music.

The chaperons will include Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Turk, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walker, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Elkin Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kirkpatrick.

The members of the sorority are: Misses Kitty and Miriam Allen, Jane Turk, Kathleen Elkin, Lillie Shepherd Davis, Alyce Walker, Lorene Kirkman, Ann Ansley, Olive Morgan, Phebe Young, Helen Kirkpatrick, Mary Phaup, Lois Summerour, Mary Brooks Folger, Ann Kirkland, Ruby Steele.

Mr. and Mrs. Chase Van Valkenburg were hosts Saturday evening to the members of their bridge club.

Mrs. Sykes Young will entertain her sewing club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Clairmont.

Mrs. Charles L. Weekes was hostess at a bridge-luncheon Friday at her home on Clairmont avenue.

The guests included Mesdames C. E. Gregory, Roy G. Jones, Lawrence Everhart, Russell Leonard, A. E. Mix, Leon O'Neal, John Montgomery, Kate Hellams, W. S. Elkin, Paul C. Smith, C. A. Murphey, William Calhoun, W. S. Young, George S. Watts, W. S. Calhoun, Roy S. Richardson, Frank Ansley, Hamilton Weekes.

Mrs. W. F. Mitchell, of Shelby, N. C., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Brice.

Jimmie Paine, young son of Mrs. Eliza Paine is improving from an appendix operation.

Mrs. M. S. Franks entertained at a bridge-luncheon at her home on McDonough street, Wednesday, when her guests included Mesdames Ray Camp, Cadesman Pope, J. E. Nunnally, L. W. Traylor, Marvin Dodson, Henry A. Robinson, L. E. Gillespie, Frank Shaw, J. C. Tart, A. S. Van Gruver, J. M. Mabry, Henry Newton.

Mrs. Earl Sanders entertained the members of her luncheon-bridge club Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack Norris were hosts to the members of their bridge-supper club Saturday evening.

Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Guild Plans Annual Meeting for March 6

Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Guild will hold its annual meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the sixth floor of Davison-Paxon's, with Mrs. Jeff Hutchings, chairman, presiding, assisted by Mrs. Murray Hubbard, honorary chairman; Mrs. Dan Plaster, vice chairman; Mrs. Roy Merry, treasurer; Mrs. A. M. Anderson, recording secretary, and Mrs. W. F. Minnich, corresponding secretary.

Reports will be made by officers and various chairmen. Group leaders are urged to attend and bring the members of their groups. Among the important issues to be discussed will be the enlargement of the group idea and the prospect for new members.

At the last November meeting it was voted to change the annual meeting from November to March. By this change, the guild's year conforms with the financial year of the school, which ends in April.

The purpose of the guild is to raise $1,000 each year, which goes to the support and maintenance of the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee school, in north Georgia. To secure this fund, the guild depends on memberships, entertainments and gifts. Although a membership drive was conducted last fall, all memberships are not in, and an appeal is made to members who have not paid their dues of this year to do so at the annual meeting next Wednesday.

Rabun Gap-Nacoochee school is situated in the Blue Ridge mountains of north Georgia, with an enrollment of 595 students, of which 121 represent members of the individual farm families. The unique plan for the five-year education of entire farm families has proved a complete success. From the big 1,500-acre farm, all of the school's needs for food are supplied, except for sugar and coffee.

The location of the school is ideal and the idea for development is perfect. All Rabun Gap-Nacoochee needs for the desired growth is support and interest. The guild is one of many contributing organizations to Nacoochee.

The Guild entertained at a tea on Friday at High's Museum in honor of the director and new members of the Guild. Mrs. Jeff Hutchings, president, introduced Dr. Anderson Scruggs who read a group of his poems. The group included "The Caretaker's Lodge," "The Covered Bridge," "Golden Seed," "Oaks," "Mountain Valley by Winter," "Lament for Passing Winter," "Cedars," "White Woman," "Before Sunrise Mountain Lake," "Turning a Radio Dial," "Old Man of the Dusk" and "Approach of Winter."

Tea was served by the Junior Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Guild. Misses Bright Bickerstaf, Anne Scott Harmon, Marion Yundt, Mary Dean and Marjorie Carmichael served. Mrs. George J. Yundt poured tea, assisted by Mesdames A. N. Anderson, W. F. Minnich and Jeff Hutchings.

Parent Education Class

Parent Education class of John B. Gordon met Tuesday at the school. The leaders were Mrs. Charles Center, Mrs. Frances Long and Rev. W. E. Crane. Luncheon was served.

CORRECTIVE SHOE THAT YOU LOVE TO WEAR

8.50

Special Pattern by Drew
In White, Blue and Black
Shoes That Breathe.

DR. PARKER'S
HEALTH SHOES
216 PEACHTREE
Authorized Agent for Wizard Adjustable Arch Supports

"the whole town's a-talking"

● about this love of a Hat just landed in Rich's Hat Shop—an original creation from The Design Studio.

● A tiny (and adorable) close-fitting hat it is with bumper edge and a clever fitted doo-dad in the back to hold it snugly on your head.

● Comes in Petersham-black with a red velvet bow—or in navy felt with light blue. It's too heavenly—and exclusive—in Atlanta with Rich's.

15.00

RICH'S HAT SALON
THIRD FLOOR

RICH'S

East Point Bride-Elect

Miss Janie Florine Ragsdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ragsdale, of East Point, whose engagement is announced to Dorris W. Austin, of Hapeville, the marriage to be solemnized in April. Photograph by the Little Studio.

Daughters of the American Revolution

State regent, Mrs. John W. Daniel, of Savannah; first vice regent, Mrs. W. E. Mann, of Dalton; second vice regent, Mrs. J. S. Adams, of Dublin; recording secretary, Mrs. Harrison Hightower, of Thomaston; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. T. Wood, of Savannah; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Mell, of Atlanta; auditor, Mrs. J. D. Cromer, of Atlanta; consulting organizing secretary, Mrs. T. O. Tabor Jr., of Elberton; librarian, Mrs. Sidney Smith, of Gainesville; consulting registrar, Mrs. J. M. Simmons, of Bainbridge; reporter to Smithsonian Institution, Mrs. A. N. Murray, of Columbus; curator, Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, of Madison; genealogist, Mrs. Stewart Colley, of Grantville; editor, Mrs. John Dorsey, of Marietta; assistant editor, Mrs. Hazel Pope Henderson, of Albany; state chaplain, Mrs. Julia Bacon Osborne, of Albany, and historian, Mrs. J. L. Beeson, of Milledgeville.

Mrs. Stewart Colley, State D.A.R. Genealogist, Issues Message

By MRS. JOHN T. DORSEY,
Of Marietta, Ga., D. A. R. Editor.

Mrs. Stewart Colley, state genealogist, sends message to chapter regents: Please write me if you have secured any data of real genealogical value. This could consist of tombstone records copied directly from the tombstones, Bible records from any American family (not necessarily a D. A. R. family). These Bible records must be copied verbatim and the date and place of the publication of the Bible noted; also, the address of the original and the present owner of the Bible. If you will please write me at once about the work that your chapter has done along this line it will be gratefully appreciated. This is my second appeal and I do hope that you will not delay.

Mrs. John S. Adams, state chairman of national defense, asks that all chapter regents and chapter chairman on national defense please find the questionnaire they are to fill out (and mail to her at once) in the last issue of National Defense News.

Mrs. J. L. Walker, with Mrs. Frank McDonald Jr. entertained the Lyman Hall Chapter, of Waycross, in observance of Georgia Day, but especially to honor Caroline Miller, Waycross author. Mrs. J. I. Brogdon extended cordial greetings to Mrs. Miller, who expressed briefly sincere appreciation. Featuring the program was a sketch of "Caroline Miller" by Mrs. John King, another author of note, whom Waycross is proud to claim as its own. Mrs. King's talk was a fitting tribute from one writer to another, and she sketched the meteroic career of her subject. Mrs. Dan Lott presented Mrs. Miller a corsage.

Colonel William Few Chapter, of Eastman, met with Mrs. W. L. Jessup, with Mrs. Alice Harrell as joint hostess. Mrs. Charles Rice, of Atlanta, chairman of time and place, accepted by letter the invitation of the Colonel William Few Chapter to hold the board meeting in Eastman in October. The program was a paper on states that have honored George Washington by naming colleges and universities for him by Miss Fanny Kate Persons; Mrs. O. A. Gentry read a paper on Georgia. The meeting was closed by the chapter singing Georgia Land.

Committee personnel for the state D. A. R. conference to be held in Athens March 20, 21 and 22 was announced at a meeting held at the home of Miss Annie Crawford, regent of the Elijah Clarke Chapter, of Athens. The meeting, which celebrates the birthday of George Washington and that of Elijah Clarke Chapter, is always held at the home of the regent. Following the ritual and officers' reports, Mrs. M. R. Redwine, chairman of the executive committee, discussed in detail the conference program which will be published later. Names of the conference committees were read by Mrs. D. F. Miller, the secretary. They are: General chairman, Miss Annie Crawford; arrangements, Mrs. J. H. Rucker, Mrs. Julius Talmadge, Mrs. D. F. Miller; program, Mesdames M. R. Redwine, Julian McCurry, Julius Talmadge; credentials, Mesdames J. T. Dudley, H. B. Ritchie, Thomas Mell (state treasurer), Peter Brown, E. L. Griggs, D. F. Miller and Henry West; hospitality, Mesdames H. B. Ritchie, S. V. Sanford, Joel Wier, Alex Rhodes, Lamar Rucker and Julian McCurry; pages, Mrs. Henry Reid and Mrs. Henry West, co-chairman; hostess, Miss Annie Crawford, Mesdames J. Y. Carithers, James White, E. L. Griggs, J. L. Sexton, Billups Phinizy, H. J. Rowe, Harry Erwin, S. V. Sandford, Misses Emma Long, Mona Michael, Lucile Linton, Linda Fain and Annie Linton; decorations, Miss Frances Talmadge, Mesdames L. S. Watson, Upshaw Bentley, J. Y. Carithers, Louise Kroner, Wedford Brown, Henry Reid and E. C. Westbrook; transportation, Mrs. Mildred Rhodes, Miss Mary Hunnicutte, assistant chairman; C. A. R., Mesdames Henry Reid, I. D. Reid, Margaret Stockton, C. A. Daniels, Janie Robson, Oscar McRae and Hugh Huggins; pageant, Misses Marian Talmadge, Lucy Lampkin, Lois Lampkin, Sarah Matthews, Mrs. M. R. Redwine; tickets, Mesdames D. F. Miller, Lamar Rucker, Carlton Jester, Paul Morrow, W. A. Capps, Fred Burman, Arthur Gannon; music, Mrs. J. W. Bailey, Mrs. Howard Abney, Miss Ethel Brown. At the close of the business meeting, Miss Annie Crawford presented Judge Henry Hammond, of Augusta, who delivered an address. Following the program tea was served by Mrs. Julian McCurry and Mrs. M. R. Redwine poured coffee.

Governor Treutlen Chapter, of Fort Valley, met at the home of Mrs. W. G. Brisendine on February 13. Miss Wilma Orr, regent, presided. Mrs. J. D. Kendrick, chairman for the day, welcomed the five members of the Stephen Hopkins Chapter, of Marshallville, who presented the program, and Miss Willie Rice, regent. Mrs. Joe Clark, accompanied by Miss Rice, sang two songs composed by Georgia writers. Miss Rice spoke of the pride which Marshallville feels in one of her own daughters, the widely-known artist, Miss Kate Edwards. Mrs. D. B. Fredwick read a sketch of Miss Edwards' life and works. Miss Edwards is not only famous portrait painter but has written a number of poems, some of which were read by Mrs. John S. Murphy. Mrs. John D. Wade, Miss Edwards' first art teacher, told of her former pupil's early and really serious interest in art.

Bainbridge Chapter met at "Steam Mill," the home of Mrs. J. J. Cummings. The regent, Mrs. P. S. Cummings, presided. Reports were made by Mrs. W. O. Gaines, treasurer, and Mrs. O. L. Hooper, historian. The chapter will be on the state honor roll again this year. Two papers have been sent to the state chairman for filing and lending. Three patriotic days were mentioned by Mrs. Cummings, regent. These days were recorded in the calendar for the year to be observed this month. The paper of the afternoon was "Creek Treaty at Indian Springs," by Mrs. W. O. Gaines.

Special exercises celebrating Georgia Day and entertaining the U. D. C. local chapter were held at the home of Miss Claud Wiley, regent, by the John Clark Chapter of Social Circle. Singing of "Georgia Land" by the chapter was followed by the usual ritual. The welcome address was given by Mrs. Claude Wiley and the response by Mrs. H. O. Godwin, president of the U. D. C. Mrs. Robert Sweeny, of Atlanta, the first regent of the chapter, gave a talk on the resources and glories of Georgia. Mrs. Sweeny and Mrs. Howard McCall organized the John Clark Chapter in 1917. Miss Dorothy Sweeny contributed several musical numbers. Mrs. Mell Knox, chairman of the state press committee, spoke particularly of the work that had been done for the schools, also paying tribute to Georgia. The program was concluded with a chorus by Mesdames A. N. Allen, N. D. C. Chapman, M. A. Godwin, William Porter and John Wiley.

Elizabeth Marlow Chapter met at the home of Mrs. D. N. Harvey, Mrs. W. E. Ballard, Elizabeth Moseley and Miss Kate Akin as co-hostesses. Mrs. Ezell Goolsby, the regent, presided. An article by Mrs. William A. Becker, "Unity of Purpose," on National Defense was read by the regent. Chapter members were asked to place a copy of the American Creed in the various schools in the county and urge school children to learn it from memory. They were also asked to conduct a patriotic song service in the county schools. The chapter has offered a medal to the Boy Scout troup for the best essay on Good Citizenship. Memorial resolutions were read for Mrs. Agnes Webb Powell by Mrs. Jim Pittard. Mrs. O. E. Lancaster will write her representative and senator to help secure a larger appropriation for the state department of archives and history at Rhodes Memorial hall. Delegates and alternates elected to the state conference in March were: Mrs. Ezell Goolsby, delegate; Mesdames O. E. Lancaster, Parks Harvey, Dann Gunn, Jim Pittard, A. H. Jordan, Ray Persons, W. H. Key, Miss Kate Akin and Miss Bessie Thompson.

Miss Charlotte King Weds Erroll Hay Jr.

Continued From Page Six.

"Adagio," by Beethoven, and "Andantino," by Gluck, and "Evening Star," by Wagner.

Emerson Gardner, Jack Tway, James D. Campbell, Francis M. Bird, Robert Autrey and James Chafee, of Augusta, acted as ushers and groomsmen. H. H. Crawley was selected by the bridegroom as his best man.

Mrs. Robert Autrey, of Moultrie, was the matron of honor, and Miss Hart Wylie Smith, of Athens, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. The attractive bevy of bridesmaids included Miss Laura Smith, of Athens, cousin of the bride; Miss Margaret Hay, of Philadelphia, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. F. M. Bird, Miss Constance Adams, Miss Jean Lucas and Mrs. James D. Campbell.

Hyacinth blue marquisette posed over taffeta slips of a matching color tone fashioned the gowns worn by the bride's attendants. The sheer graceful gowns featured huge puffed sleeves caught with taffeta cuffs below the elbow and narrow taffeta collars. The skirts achieved a slight train, and the attendants wore taffeta sashes forming wide bows in the back. Their hats were made of blue horse hair trimmed with taffeta bows, and they carried sheaths of snapdragons in delicate peach and yellow tones tied with yellow satin ribbons.

Beautiful Bride.

The beautiful Titian-haired bride entered with her father, Charles Preston King, by whom she was given in marriage. Her handsome wedding gown, fashioned of white satin in princess style, fitted closely her slender, graceful figure. The soft-draped neckline featured the bodice and a row of tiny satin-covered buttons with tiny satin loops caught the sleeves from wrist to below the elbow. Her tulle veil was worn cap fashion and ornamented with a spray of orange blossoms. She wore a face veil of tulle and her flowers were calla lilies.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preston King entertained informally at the Piedmont Driving Club for the wedding party, relatives and guests from a distance. The hosts were assisted in receiving the guests by the bride and bridegroom, members of the wedding party, and by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Erroll Baldwin Hay, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. King was attired in powder blue lace fashioned with a short cape. She wore a blue lace hat and a shoulder spray of deep purple orchids completed her costume.

Mrs. Hay wore a handsome gown of dove gray lace with a hat of black lace and her flowers were mauve-throated orchids.

Mrs. E. I. Smith Jr., of Athens, aunt of the bride, wore a crepe gown in a becoming shade of dusty pink with a matching coat trimmed in blue fox. She wore a brown straw hat and a shoulder spray of gardenias.

Miss Susan Smith, of Athens, young cousin of the bride, wore a pale blue taffeta frock, fashioned along simple lines, and a shoulder spray of rosebuds.

Mrs. Edgar Adamson, of Pasadena, aunt of the bridegroom, chose a black lace gown with a becoming black hat and her flowers were orchids.

Mrs. Wyle Wilson, of Philadelphia, aunt of the bridegroom, wore black chiffon with a black hat and gardenias.

Mrs. Sam S. Cooley, of New York, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in violet crepe with a becoming hat and a shoulder spray of gardenias.

Mrs. Thomas Bradley Jr., aunt of the bridegroom, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Clearwater, Fla., wore a wisteria-shaded crepe gown with a small black hat. Miss Janette Bradley, cousin of the bridegroom, chose black velvet with a black hat and orchids.

The receiving line was formed before an arch garlanded with southern smilax and placed before a rich green background of palms and ferns. The bride's bouquet was caught to the center of the arch, flanked by those of the bridesmaids, forming a floral archway.

Pale yellow roses and snapdragons, combined with white hyacinths and narcissi, were effectively arranged in plateau effect in the center of the bride's table. Arising from the floral decoration was a crystal vase holding yellow roses and snapdragons, hyacinths and narcissi. Handsome five-branch silver candelabra holding tall yellow tapers were placed at either end of the table.

Mr. Hay and his bride left for a wedding trip to Florida and upon their return will be with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. King, at their Brighton road residence in Brookwood Hills. The bride wore for traveling a gray light-weight woolen ensemble which featured a becoming three-quarter length coat. A flame-shaded leather belt and a flame feather in her gray felt hat added touches of color. Her accessories were black.

Out-of-Town Guests.

Listed among the interesting out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Erroll Hay, of Philadelphia, mother of the bridegroom, and his sister, Miss Margaret Hay; Mrs. Edgar Adamson, of Pasadena, Cal., and Mrs. Wyle Wilson, of Philadelphia, aunts of the bridegroom; Mrs. Samuel S. Cooley, of New York, sister of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Smith, of Athens, uncle and aunt of the bride; Misses Laura and Hart Wylie Smith and Susan Smith, of Athens, cousins of the bride; Mrs. Robert Autrey, of Monroe, Ga.; Mrs. Thomas Bradley Jr., Miss Janette Bradley, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Mann, of Chicago, Ill.

Weds at Quiet Ceremony

Mrs. T. E. White, who before her marriage, which was quietly solemnized Saturday, was Miss Anna Mae Russell, attractive young daughter of Mrs. J. F. Russell and the late Mr. Russell, of Fort Smith, Ark. Mrs. White is a graduate of Saint Edwards hospital and Draughton's Business College, of Fort Smith. Mr. White is associated with Cities Service Company in Atlanta, where he and his bride will reside.

West End Woman's Club Names Group for Nominating Officers

Mrs. W. C. Griffith was elected chairman of the nominating committee for the West End Woman's Club at the meeting of the club on Wednesday. Others elected to serve with Mrs. Griffith are Mesdames W. C. Messer, B. D. Manston, J. H. Phagan and Miss Bessie J. Cook. This committee will announce their selection of officers at the first meeting of the club in March and the election will be held the fourth Wednesday in March.

Mrs. S. L. Grant, telephone chairman, reported 300 calls made by her committee. Mrs. J. C. Cowden, house chairman, reported $92.75 collected from the rental of the clubhouse. Mrs. A. B. Thompson, public welfare chairman, reported 100 magazines taken to the patients at Battle Hill sanitarium. Fifteen baskets of groceries, one-half bushel of apples and one-half bushel of oranges and two truck loads of toys taken to the needy at Christmas; 10 gallons of milk, bed linens, shirts, dresses, shoes and other articles of clothing taken to families being cared for by this committee. A vote of thanks was tendered by the club to A. B. Thompson for assistance he gave this committee in its work. Mrs. J. H. Phagan, chairman of the work at Hospital No. 48, announced a program to be sponsored by the club at the hospital the last Friday in March. Miss Bessie J. Cook was welcomed back to the club after a long absence. Miss Cook, hospital chairman, reported six visits made to Steiner clinic and told of a patient that she was caring for at that institution. The club had five tables at the recent benefit sponsored by the Steiner clinic auxiliary. Mrs. W. N. Ponder reported checker boards, fruits and candies taken to the children at Battle Hill sanitarium. Mrs. W. G. Baskin, chairman of decorations, was given a vote of appreciation by the club for the attractive way in which the club had been decorated for all social affairs. Twelve hospital visits, 65 visits to the sick, 17 phone calls, 10 cards, 2 trays and 12 sick members remembered with flowers was reported by Mrs. R. L. Grant Sr., chairman of the sick and visitation committee. Mrs. Oster Thomas reported she had taken 267 magazines and distributed them among patients at Battle Hill sanitarium.

Others reporting were Mesdames W. C. Messer, W. Williamson, L. M. Ahern, E. L. McCrorey and B. D. Manston. Mrs. Charles B. Fife, president of the club, presided and Mrs. J. W. Simmons, first vice president, presided at the executive board session.

Meetings

Atlanta Truth Center meets Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the Biltmore hotel, mezzanine floor, and the evening class meets at 6 o'clock at the Open Door, 205 Mortgage Guarantee building. The Thursday evening class meets at 8 o'clock at the Open door. Classes are held each Monday and Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mary E. La Rocca Grove No. 264, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, meets Monday evening, March 4, at 7:30 o'clock in the club rooms of the Woodman hall in East Point.

Inman Chapter No. 112, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple at Inman Yards. There will be work in the degrees.

Center Hill Chapter No. 235, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, March 5, at 7:30 o'clock in Masonic hall. Hostesses will be Mrs. Frances Riggins and Mrs. Eleanor Smith. A program has been arranged.

Lakewood Chapter No. 162, O. E. S., meets Thursday evening, March 7, at 7:30 o'clock in Masonic temple, Lakewood Heights.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold the fifth district meeting Thursday, March 7, at Park Street M. E. church at 10:30 o'clock.

Perennial Garden Club meets at the High Museum March 5 at 10:30 o'clock. There will be an illustrated lecture "The Big Bug Hunt in the Garden." The program has been arranged by the president, Mrs. George L. Pratt.

Atlanta Smith College Club meets at 3 o'clock Tuesday, March 5, with Mrs. G. C. Kaulbach, at 66 Park circle, N. W.

Center Hill Chapter No. 235, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening at Center Hill Masonic temple on Bankhead highway at 7:30 o'clock.

Grant Park Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its regular meeting, Thursday evening, March 7, 1935 in Grant Park Masonic Temple. All members are urged to be present.

Hebrew Orphans' Aid, meets Tuesday, March 5, at the Standard Club on Ponce de Leon avenue at 10:15 o'clock. Pauline S. Katz will preside.

John R. Wilkinson O. E. S. meets Monday evening in the chapter room, corner Bankhead avenue and Ashby street.

Mrs. M. E. Williams will be hostess at a luncheon to the Friendly Ten Wednesday, March 6, at her home on East Ponce de Leon in Decatur.

Circle No. 4 of Atlanta Childs' Home meets with Mrs. D. B. Kendrick, 128 Eighth street, at 2:45 on Tuesday, March 5.

The College Park Woman's Club meets Wednesday, March 6, at 3 o'clock at the clubhouse. Mrs. R. L. Proctor and Mrs. Katherine Weathersby, co-chairmen, have arranged a program on legislation. R. L. Ramsey, representative from Fulton county, will be the speaker. Mrs. C. W. Wall, chairman of music, will present Mrs. J. B. Smith in a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Wall.

Win-One Women's Bible class of Peachtree Road Methodist church meets Monday, March 4, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. T. P. Branch, 570 Martina drive. The ladies of Group No. 6, Mrs. W. R. Bentley, chairman, will be the hostesses.

The 1932 Matrons' Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Annie Mae Jacks, 352 Eighth street, N. E., on Wednesday evening, March 6, at 8 o'clock.

T. E. L. class of Grant Park Baptist church meets Thursday, 10:30 o'clock, in the assembly room of the adult department.

The Patrons' Club of Fulton and DeKalb counties, O. E. S., meets Wednesday evening, March 6, at 7:30 o'clock in room 419, Fulton county courthouse.

Atlanta Lodge No. 230, Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, holds its regular meeting Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock at the Red Men's wigwam.

Martha Chapter No. 128, O. E. S., sponsors a luncheon at Sterchi's tea room on March 5 and 6, from 11 until 2:30. The charge will be 35 cents per plate. All members and friends of the chapter are invited to attend.

The Wednesday Morning Study Club meets with Mrs. Norman T. Pool, 493 Peeples street, S. W., on Wednesday, March 6, at 10:30 o'clock.

Atlanta Chapter No. 57, O. E. S., meets Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Joseph C. Greenfield Masonic temple on Moreland avenue at Little Five Points. There will be a cake walk after the meeting.

The Swifts Jewels Club meets at the home of Mrs. P. H. Lambert, 256 Winn street, Decatur, Thursday, March 7, at 2:30 o'clock.

Board of management of Joseph Habersham Chapter D. A. R. meets Thursday morning, March 7, at 10 o'clock at Habersham Hall, 270 Fifteenth street, N. E. Miss Juanita Chisholm, chairman of the board, will preside.

Board of city missions meets at the Gas Company's auditorium on Tuesday, March 5, at 10:30 o'clock.

Fulton Rebekah Lodge No. 14 meets Tuesday evening, March 5, at 7:30 o'clock in Red Men's wigwam. The captain of the degree team urges all members of the staff to be present.

Rose Garden Club will meet at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday, March 6, at the home of Mrs. W. Henry Smith on Woodward way, with Mrs. Chauncey Middlebrooks and Mrs. Grover Middlebrooks serving as co-hostesses.

North Side Embroidery Club will meet at 1 o'clock Wednesday with Mrs. R. J. Hudson, 744 Sherwood road.

Veterans' Auxiliary Plans Benefit Bridge.

Plans for a benefit bridge to be given in Sterchi's tea room on March 8, were discussed at the meeting of Lee-Roosevelt Auxiliary No. 13, United Spanish War Veterans, held Tuesday in the home service room of the Georgia Power Company. An instructive lecture on the proper lighting of the home was delivered by Miss Rush, of the home service department.

The proceeds of the bridge party at Sterchi's will be used partly to furnish needed comforts for families of sick veterans at Base Hospital No. 48. Anyone desiring to help may secure tables by phoning Raymond 3744.

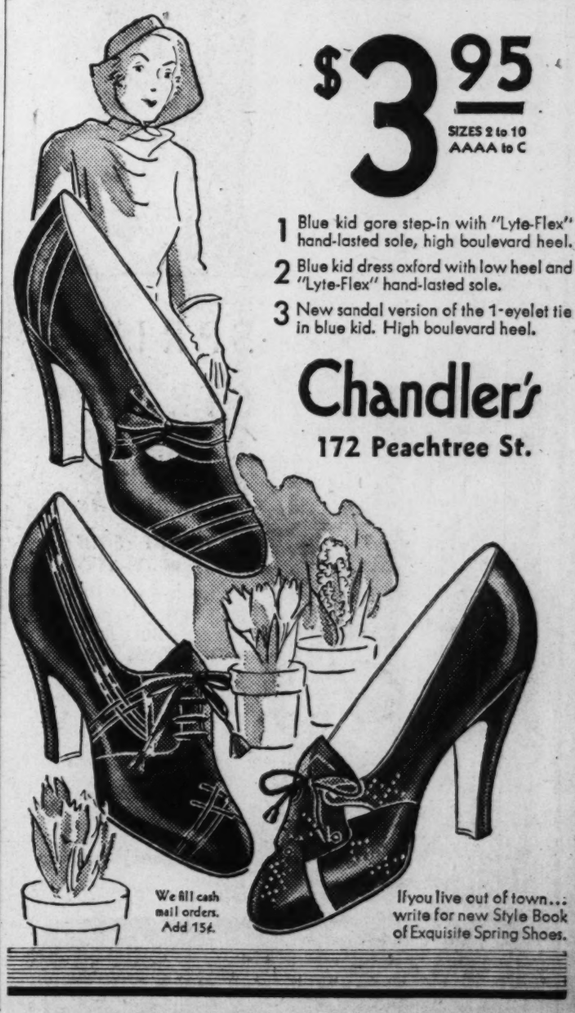

Cooking School.

There will be a cooking school at Faith school for the Faith School P.-T. A., conducted by Mrs. A. P. Boardman, March 5 through March 8, at 2 p. m., each day. Prizes will be given.

Cooking School.

Sylvan Hills P.-T. A. will sponsor a cooking school to be conducted by Miss Daisy Harris at 1354 Sylvan road from March 5-8 from 10 a. m. to 12 p. m. Tickets will be 15 cents a day or 50 cents for four days. The public is invited.

Chandler's has the
NAVY BLUES!

$3.95
SIZES 2 to 10
AAAA to C

1 Blue kid gore step-in with "Lyte-Flex" hand-lasted sole, high boulevard heel.
2 Blue kid dress oxford with low heel and "Lyte-Flex" hand-lasted sole.
3 New sandal version of the 1-eyelet tie in blue kid. High boulevard heel.

Chandler's
172 Peachtree St.

We fill cash mail orders. Add 15¢.

If you live out of town... write for new Style Book of Exquisite Spring Shoes.

Georgia Division Daughters of the Confederacy

President, Mrs. T. W. Reed, of Athens; first vice president, Mrs. Frank Dennis, of Eatonton; second vice president, Mrs. Frank E. Matthews, 939 Drewry street, Atlanta; recording secretary, Miss Mary Lizzie Wright, of Elberton; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Lou Wier, 149 Cobb street, Athens; treasurer, Mrs. C. Robert Walker, Macon Road, Griffin; registrar, Mrs. W. P. Smith, 319 Church street, Decatur; historian, Mrs. Kirby Smith Anderson, of Madison; recorder of crosses of honor, Miss Rebecka Black Dupont, 241 Abercorn street, Savannah; recorder of crosses of military service, Mrs. Otis L. Chivers, of Dublin; auditor, Mrs. Ivey C. Melton, of Dawson; editor, Mrs. J. Lawrence McCord, 517 Ridgecrest Road, Atlanta; poet laureate, Mrs. Herbert M. Franklin, of Tennille.

Honorary Presidents—Mrs. Walter S. Coleman, of Atlanta; Mrs. L. D. T. Quinby, of Atlanta; Mrs. Eugenia Long Harper, of College Park; Mrs. Horace M. Holden, of Atlanta.

Georgia Day Program Features J.E.B.Stuart Chapter U.D.C.Meet

By MRS. D. M. HOLSENBECK, Assistant Editor of the Georgia Division, U. D. C.

Observation of Georgia Day by the J. E. B. Stuart Chapter, U. D. C., is presented in the following article from Commerce:

"Georgia Day was fittingly observed by the J. E. B. Stuart Chapter, U. D. C., in connection with the celebration of the 90th birthday of Mrs. L. H. Gober. The meeting was in the nature of a surprise party for Mrs. Gober, who is the only surviving widow of a veteran of the Civil War in this community.

"Mrs. A. B. Deadwyler, president of the chapter, acted as master of ceremonies. She spoke on 'Great Georgians Born in February Who Have Figured in History.' She paid loving tribute to the one whom we had met to honor, and presented a beautiful basket of flowers as a token of the love and esteem in which Mrs. Gober is held by the U. D. C. 'Auld Lang Syne' was sung by Mrs. Charles O'Rear, accompanied by Mrs. O. E. Shankle. A tribute to 'Grandma Gober' was given by little Henrietta Gunter.

"Mrs. Gober was the recipient of a number of gifts. Following the program tea was served by the daughters to the 30 or more guests."

The Gainesville Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, celebrated the birthdays of Generals Lee and Jackson at the beautiful colonial home of Mrs. Sidney O. Smith. The house was decorated in the red and white colors of the Confederacy. The program was in charge of Mrs. Swann. Miss Betty McDermeld read "The Sword of Lee." 'Address to Lee" was presented by Dr. Heywood Pearce Jr., noted historian and teacher of Brenau College. He divided Lee's life into three phases or acts as he described them.

Musical numbers by Mrs. Carl Romberg and Mrs. George Ashford were enjoyed. A violin solo by Mrs. John Woodcock was rendered.

Tea was served in the dining room. The table was centered with a large bowl of red and white flowers. Special guests included the officers and members of various social and literary clubs of the city in addition to the regular members of the U. D. C.

The chapter held an interesting attic show with many relics and curios on display. The scraphook containing clippings of historical events was displayed.

Lunches were served and cakes and cookies were sold throughout the day and a nice sum was added to the treasury. The committee in charge were Mesdames R. J. Ramsey, A. B. C. Dorsey and Cleveland Purcell.

Cedartown Chapter, U. D. C., No. 491, observed Georgia Day February 12 in an enjoyable manner. In the morning the chapter visited the Brewster school. A program rendered by these splendid boys and girls was encouraging and an inspiration.

In the afternoon chapter members and friends met at the home of Mrs. Will Barr, where a program was presented on Georgia. Music, readings, sketches and varied subjects were presented. Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostesses, Mesdames Danie Roberts, Gus Duke and Eva Embry.

Two other flags were presented on Georgia Day to rural schools by U. D. C. Chapter No. 491.

Quitman Chapter, U. D. C., held its February meeting at the beautiful suburban home of Miss Annie Shiver, Mrs. John Duncan co-hostess. Reports of officers showed keen interest in all phases of work. The chapter historian has placed in every school in the county literature on subject for essay contest, "General J. E. B. Stuart." Cash prizes are offered in every high school in Brooks county for best historical work. The chapter is co-operating with the state in securing old relics of war period, letters, pictures, sheet music, and is making alphabetical list of Confederate soldiers' graves. Two interesting pictures of the "First Memorial Day" will be sent with these relics to be placed in Rhodes Memorial. Rev. M. M. Marshall, pastor of M. E. church, will deliver the address on Memorial Day, when crosses of honor will be bestowed.

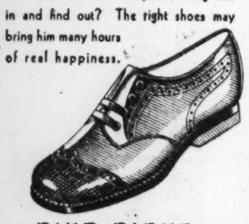

This chapter voted to contribute $5 toward the entertainment of Confederate veterans' reunion; $2 toward purchase of picture of "Lee," to be placed in library at Fort Benning; $2 contributed to the Helen Plain educational fund. A bronze plate to be placed on World War memorial in center of town has been ordered and will be placed with proper ceremonies.

The program chairman, Mrs. Albert Tidwell, announced that Mrs. C. T. Tillman would talk on the highlights of the state and national U. D. C. At the request of the historian Mrs. Tidwell read a beautiful sketch of Alexander Hamilton Stephens, written by George B. Boswell. Tea was served.

DOES YOUR BOY mope THRU RECESS?

Does your boy mope while the others are happily playing their games? Maybe it's all because he isn't wearing the proper kind of footwear. Why not bring him in and find out? The right shoes may bring him many hours of real happiness.

PIED PIPER Juvenile Health SHOES

MUSE'S

Fourth Floor

HIGH'S ANNOUNCES Fashionable Fives $5

SPRING STRAWS are leaning toward the rough side

So it's a scoop to find the smartest shapes and newest colors in Fashionable Fives . . . just where you can always expect to find the most brand-newness at $5!

- Profile Brims
- Breton Sailors
- Off-face Flares
- Regency Bonnets

MILLINERY—SECOND FLOOR

J.M. HIGH CO.

Tau Beta Phi Officers At Anniversary Dance

Shown above are officers of the Tau Beta Phi Sorority at the dinner-dance given Wednesday evening at the Druid Hills Golf Club in celebration of the fifth anniversary of the sorority. Seated, left to right, are Miss Louise Frix, corresponding secretary; Miss Irene Boyd, recording secretary; Mrs. Ralph H. Allen, social service chairman, and Mrs. Royce Collins, president. Standing, left to right, are Miss Dorsia Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Charlton Roberts, sergeant-at-arms; Miss Thelma Firestone, chaplain, and Mrs. Mira Howard, vice president. Staff photo by Turner Hiers.

Personals

Miss Suzanne Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzhugh Knox, is convalescing at her home on Piedmont avenue, following a recent illness.

***

Mrs. Frank A. Moore, Mrs. Mabell C. Miller, St. Josephs, Mo.; Mrs. C. G. Bard, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Miss Mary Goodrum, Mrs. A. M. Norris, Newnan, Ga.; Mrs. Pearl Gay, Atlanta, are at the Hotel Georgian Terrace.

***

Mrs. C. B. Buchanan, of Larchmont, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. J. B. Francis Herreshoff at her home on Myrtle street.

***

Mrs. Alto Patterson and daughter, Mrs. Howard Shirley, left yesterday for New Orleans, La., to visit Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hemingway Jr.

***

Mrs. W. B. Schick is convalescing at St. Joseph's hospital from a serious operation.

***

Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Barrett, of Alexandria, Va., spent the week-end with their sister, Mrs. C. V. Hohenstein, on Sixth street en route to Mexico. Dr. Roberts is a noted traveler and was recently honored by the Royal Geographical Society of London.

***

Miss Alma King left Saturday for Mobile, Ala., where she will attend the Mardi Gras festivities as the guest of Mrs. Jessie Baughman and Mrs. Sherman Payne.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Hubert Jr. announce the birth of a daughter, on February 18, at St. Joseph's infirmary, who has been named Patsy Anita. Mrs. Hubert was, prior to her marriage, Miss Florence Evans. The baby's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Evans, of Rome, and her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Hubert.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ernest Williams Jr. announce the birth of a son, at the Piedmont hospital, on February 27, who has been given the name of Theodore Martin. Mrs. Williams is the former Miss Lucile Schenck.

***

Joseph Reynolds Mitchell is the name given the son born Wednesday at St. Joseph's hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Stephens Mitchell. The baby is named for his maternal grandfather, Joseph Reynolds, of Augusta. Mrs. Mitchell is the former Miss Carrie Lou Reynolds.

***

Colonel B. M. Bailey left a few days ago for Miami, Fla., where he will spend several weeks.

***

Mrs. Edward Shapperd, of Madison, Ga., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Reynolds at their home on Park drive.

***

Thomas J. Cooper continues seriously ill at his home in West End.

***

Mrs. Fred C. Rice has returned to her home in West End after spending the past few months in Florida.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Claude S. Spratlin, of Roanoke, Va., are visiting their mother, Mrs. W. M. Spratlin on Blue Ridge avenue.

***

E. T. Forrest Sr. is ill with pneumonia at his home on Westwood avenue in West End.

***

Mrs. Robert Groves has returned to her home in Savannah after a visit with relatives in the city.

***

Little Barbara Dorward is recovering from pneumonia at her home on North avenue.

***

Mrs. Thomas E. Ragland continues illat her home on North avenue.

***

Guy D. Settle has recovered from influenza at his home in West End.

***

James Belle Isle, who is recovering from injuries received in a recent accident, is able to see his friends at his home on Penn avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William V. Norton and Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Dana Jr. motored to Charlotte, N. C., to spend the week-end with their sister, Mrs. William M. Webb.

***

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morrison have returned from a motor trip to Sweetwater, Tenn., where they visited their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Donaldson. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, accompanied by Mrs. Donaldson, visited friends in Knoxville.

***

Miss Isabel Myers, of Cleveland, leaves Tuesday after visiting friends in the city.

***

Miss Eleanor Smith, of Cordele, is visiting relatives in Atlanta.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hook have returned from a trip to Miami and other points in Florida. They joined Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crenshaw for a fishing trip.

***

John W. Millsaps returned to the city Saturday from Asheville, N. C., where he was a guest at Grove Park Inn for several days. W. D. Flanders, one of the directors for the federal housing administration, was entertained while visiting at the inn by Mr. Millsaps.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Healey joined their mother, Mrs. William T. Healey, at Sea Island Beach for the week-end.

***

Miss Patricia H. Collins, who was recently appointed to an important position in Washington, has registered at the Mayflower hotel there. During the past week Miss Collins was honored at several interesting farewell parties. She makes her permanent home in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Fambro Observe Golden Wedding in Rockmart

ROCKMART, Ga., March 2.—Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Fambro, pioneer citizens and prominent in the business, social and religious life of Rockmart for more than half a century, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, February 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Fambro were married in the First Presbyterian church of Rockmart on February 25, 1885, the Rev. E. K. Aiken officiating. Mr. Fambro is the son of the late Urban C. Fambro and Sarah J. Fambro, pioneer citizens of Monroe county. Mrs. Fambro is the daughter of Captain and Mrs. R. S. Phillips, representatives of families in Polk and Bartow counties.

Their children are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford L. Fambro and Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Fambro, all of Rockmart. Grandchildren include Martha, Jean, Betty Rose and William Paul Fambro.

Mr. Fambro came with his parents and family from Monroe county in 1883 and engaged in the hardware business in Rockmart under the name of Fambro Hardware Company. In 1910 he established the firm of Fambro Furniture Company, which is still active under the management of his son, C. L. Fambro. Mr. Fambro has been a reader of The Atlanta Constitution for more than 50 years.

The honor guest was Mrs. E. A. Heard, of Rome, maternal aunt of Mrs. Fambro, who was present at their marriage in 1885.

Mr. and Mrs. Fambro received their guests in the living room. Mrs. Fambro wore a handsome gown of navy blue crepe with the fashionable lattice work set in the sleeves. Her flowers were valley lilies and pink rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fambro and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Fambro assisted in receiving the guests.

Mrs. C. L. Fambro wore a becoming gown of crepe in the wisteria shades, with clips of gold and amethyst. Her shoulder spray was of sweet-peas in the pastel shades. Mrs. H. P. Fambro's gown was fashioned of crepe in a deep blue, with silver trimmings. Her corsage was of pink and white sweet peas.

Mrs. Clarabess Fambrough, of Atlanta, was handsome in mulberry velvet with a rope of pearls. Mrs. Claude Fambrough wore peacock blue with rhinestone clips.

The table was overlaid with a handsome lace cover and centered with a silver bowl filled with clusters of white snapragons, fern and Mrs. Roosevelt roses in a deep shade of yellow. Silver candlesticks held yellow tapers.

Miss Martha Fambro, eldest granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fambro, presided over the guest book. A local orchestra composed of Misses Laura Lane, Elinor Waits, Ruth Nichols and Forrest Hutchings, with Miss Catherine Martin as soloist, furnished music. The ensemble included "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "When You and I Were Young Maggie," "Down By the Old Mill Stream" and "Long, Long Ago," songs reminiscent of an earlier day.

Friends assisting in the reception and entertainment of guests were Mesdames B. T. Morgan, Minnie Mundy, M. P. Lane Sr., Lenora Allgood, Gordon Powell, D. B. Simon, A. S. Williamson, G. M. White, Roy Reece, E. W. Carlton, S. J. Nichols, Agnese Mundy and Misses Crabbe and Nelle Cochran.

The out-of-town guests included Mrs. Clarabess Fambrough, Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Fambrough, Mrs. Mamie Wall and daughter, Miss Mary Heard West, of Atlanta; Mrs. F. G. Webb Jr., of College Park; Mrs. E. A. Heard, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Richard West, of Rome; Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Hogg, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brumby and Miss Anne Brumby, of Cedartown.

Numerous gifts and flowers as well as cards, letters and telegrams of congratulations were received throughout the anniversary by Mr. and Mrs. Fambro.

1¢ A SLEEP HOUR Pays for this New Quilted Mattress

ENTIRELY NEW! DIFFERENT! RED ⊕ CROSS

PALMER Comfortable Mattress

We have no hesitancy in telling you that this mattress is the greatest mattress of the time—instead of tufted it is quilted and covered with two gorgeous comforts of shimmering charmeuse sateen. Here for the first time is a marvelous sleep invention so extraordinary that it makes sleep the relaxing rebuilder of energy that nature intended it to be. See this unusual mattress tomorrow and learn about our amazing PENNY PAYMENT PLAN.

NO TUFTS

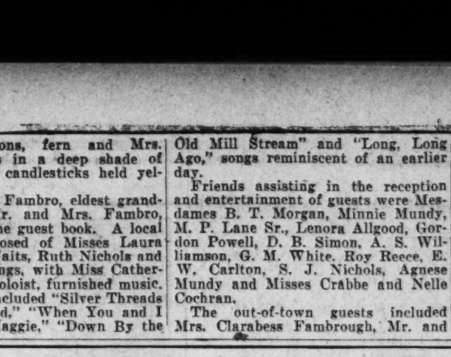

HAVERTY furniture COMPANY

Corner Edgewood Ave. and Pryor St.

(Just a Few Steps from 5 Points)

For the 50th YEAR HAVERTY'S Marches into Spring

SPRING FESTIVAL

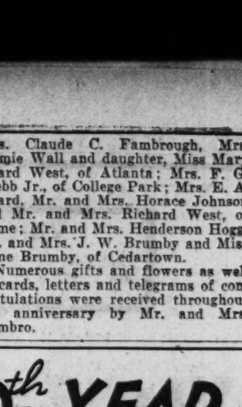

- 9x12 Oriental Reproductions
- Two Throw Rugs
- Cushions
- Carpet Sweeper

Haverty's greatest Rug Sale in this 5-piece rug group, consisting of beautiful highlighted Oriental reproduction rug, luxurious woven-in sheen, soft 9x12 rug cushion—two beautiful fringed throw rugs in charming colorful combinations and a Haverty "Hygeno" carpet sweeper, all five pieces included in this Spring Sale price.

$39

Terms: $1.00 Cash, $1.00 Weekly

50-pc. KITCHEN GROUP

$29.95

$1 Delivers

- Kitchen Cabinet
- 42-Pc. Dinner Set
- Felt-Base Rug
- 6-Pc. Glassware Set

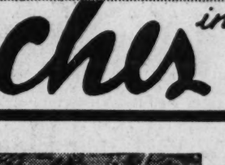

Newest KROEHLER SOFA BEDS

$39.50

$1 Delivers

- Stylish—Practical
- Space Saving—Comfortable
- Bedding Compartment Underneath
- In Choice of Tapestry Upholstering

Standard Wave STEWART-WARNER

$26.50

$1 Delivers

- Walnut Table Model
- Large Power Unit
- 11 9-16 inches High
- Standard Wave
- Tone Quality Equal to Larger Sets

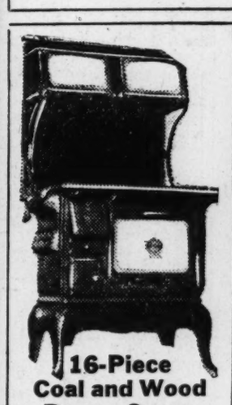

16-pc. OIL RANGE GROUP

$49.50

$1 Delivers

- 3-Burner Oil Range
- Aluminum Drip-o-Later
- Aluminum Tea Kettle
- Aluminum Colander
- Aluminum Double Boiler
- 3 Aluminum Saucepans.

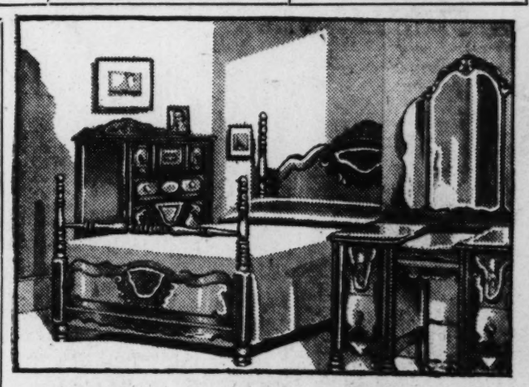

16-Piece Coal and Wood Range Group

$49.50

$1 Delivers

- Coal and Wood Range
- Aluminum Kettle
- Aluminum Drip-o-Later
- 3 Aluminum Saucepans
- Aluminum Double Boiler
- Aluminum Colander

Gorgeous! Massive! Poster Bed 8-Piece Walnut Bedroom Group

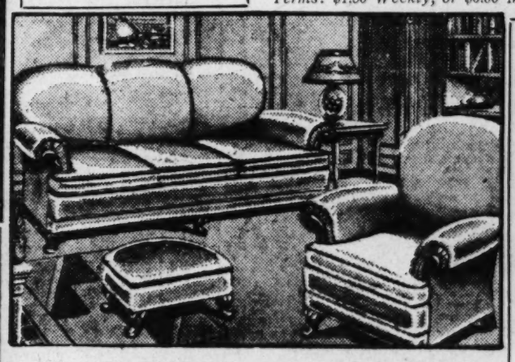

Haverty marches into spring featuring this sensational value in this marvelously designed bedroom group—three pieces, massive in construction—walnut highlighted overlays.

THE EIGHT LOVELY PIECES INCLUDE

- Vanity
- Chest of Drawers
- Heavy Poster Bed
- Coil Spring
- Mattress
- Pair Pillows
- Bed Lamp

$69

Terms: $1.50 Weekly, or $6.00 Monthly

A Value! Sumptuous! New 8-Piece Living Room Group—Mohair or Tapestry

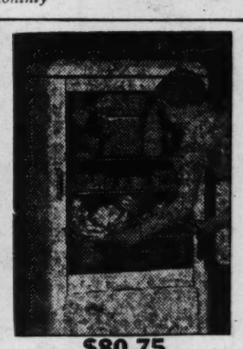

A most dominant SPRING SALE feature from our Living Room Department. All pieces carefully selected. Sofa and Chair, similar to illustration, in choice of tapestry or mohair in the season's newest colors.

THE EIGHT LOVELY PIECES INCLUDE

- Sofa
- Club Chair
- Foot Stool
- Coffee Table
- 2 Table Lamps
- 2 End Tables

$69

Terms: $1.50 Weekly or $6 Monthly

$80.75 ALLOWANCE for your OLD ICE BOX on the purchase of a De Luxe STEWART-WARNER New 1935 Standard Models—

$129.50 And Up

HAVERTY FURNITURE CO.

Corner Edgewood Ave. and Pryor St.

Just a Few Steps From 5 Points

Visit High's LUGGAGE DEPT.
Complete line of good-looking, well-made luggage—at prices that are consistently low!
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

J. M. HIGH CO.

Year-Round TOY DEPARTMENT
Full to the brim with gifts and toys for birthdays and occasions! Drop in—choose—prices are low!
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

We Say Prices Talk!

Look! Suede Finish All-Silk

59c Flat Crepes

All 39 In. Wide!

46c Yard

Of course—to give you something to talk about—we had to do the EXTRAORDINARY—and here it is! Bolt after bolt of gorgeous ALL-SILK weighted flat crepe—in rainbow pastels and deep jewel tones—in white, black, navy, brown—brought out—marked at a miraculous price—and offered for your choosing Monday! Hurry!
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Sparklingly New! 79c-98c

Spring Silks

58c Yard

ALL-SILK PRINTS
ACETATE CORDS
NEW BARK CREPES
NEW ROUGH CREPES
ALL-SILK SEERSUCKERS
PURE DYE CROWNELLA PRINTS

There's a crisp, fresh look about these new weaves, patterns and colors that make them unbeatable for spring! Widely spaced florals or neat, meticulous posies! Stripes, plaids, checks—solids whose glory is the fascinating weave! Sew to save—you'll find material here for a dream wardrobe all season!
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Boudoir Chair and Lounge

For leisure moments—the perfect pair! Covered in your choice of dainty and colorful patterns—well made—and oh, so comfortable! Dress up your guest rooms—your own boudoir—with these "heavenly twins" for real value!

$13.95 CHAISE LOUNGE, full sized, gracefully proportioned and built for sturdy service as well as beauty. A rare buy at just..... $8.95

$6.95 CHAIR, in soft colors to match the lounge—equally attractive as a separate piece. Special at $3.98

FURNITURE, HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

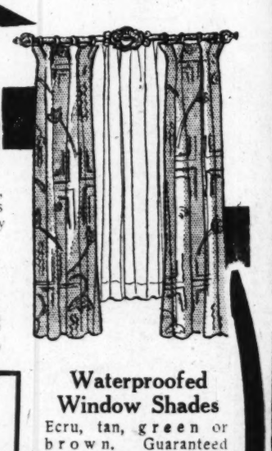

Free Labor

On Curtains and Drapes—For Limited Time! Get Your Home Ready with Spring-Freshness!

A new season—and how your windows need the tonic of crisp, fluttery curtains—gay, colorful drapes—after the drab sootiness of winter! We measure, make and hang them for you—you pay for materials only!

CURTAIN materials in assorted kinds. Yd. ..... 29c and up

DRAPERY materials — rayons, damask, chintz, cretonnes. Yd. ..... 49c and up

"Sure-Fit" Chair Covers
For club, wing and English chairs—jaspe cloth. Bound edges. Ea... $1.79

Davenport "Sure-Fit" Covers
Tailored of jaspe cloth — for standard or English type. Ea..... $2.79

Waterproofed Window Shades
Ecru, tan, green or brown. Guaranteed rollers. 3x6 ft. Ea.... 39c

$8 Felt Base Rugs

... Made by the famous Congoleum Co.! Size 9x12 Ft.!

Varnish Finish! $5.88

A new background for your rooms—at a saving for your budget. Block, tile and floral patterns in rich colors. Built for hard wear.
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

A Sensation! Why? Because of the Huge Quantity! Because They're Brand-New Styles in "Georgiana" and "Marie Dressler"

SPRING WASH FROCKS

LAWNS
SPORTS SEERSUCKERS
BROADCLOTH
NORMANDIE VOILES
SCATTER DOT VOILES
PIC PON CORDS
FLOCK DOTS

$1.98 and $2.98

Included are The Smart "Shirtwaist" Style in All Sizes!

A glorious triumph of 1935 spring cottons—a High's THIRD FLOOR triumph! Just unpacked—fresh as spring flowers with touches of hand-embroidery—fagoting—ruffles—buttons—kick and box pleats!

Styles new as tomorrow! Prints, checks, stripes, plaids, dots—in colors that rival the rainbow! Some strictly tailored—some in frilly feminine styles—ALL what you want to wear all day—EVERY day, for spring and summer.

"Georgiana" Sizes: 14 to 20—36 to 46 48 to 54

"Marie Dressler" Sizes 37½ to 51½—Short 38½ to 52½—Tall

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Lacy Eyelet Frocks

Be the first to wear them—for spring beauty! Tailored shirtwaist styles—"coachman" models—ruffles! Surplice necklines. Brown, navy, blue, turquoise, peach, maize, pink. Sizes 14 to 46. $2.98

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Monday! One Day Only Prices!

"Nancy Hart" $1.98 Yarns

Knit or crochet your very swankiest spring things! New colors in this group. Pound cones, 2,000 yards to cone. Each $1.59

"Nancy Hart" Angora Boucle
Lovely spring colors in 2-ounce skeins. Ea. 59c

25c "Lily" Cotton
Mercerized knitting and crochet cotton. 350-yard balls 19c

75c "Utopia" Wool Yarns
Four-fold—3 3-4 oz. to skein. White, colors 49c

"Nancy Hart" Crochet Cotton
Boil-fast colors—250 yards to the ball. Ball 19c

- "UTOPIA" SHETLAND FLOSS, two-fold, 1-oz. skeins. Soft, dainty colors. Skein 19c
- WOODEN BAG FRAMES, to knit your own bags on! Special! ..... 49c to 69c

FREE Lessons
in the latest knitting and crocheting stitches! Our instructress will show you—every day from 10 A. M. to 4:30 P. M.

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Dinner Sets

... of Genuine Noritake China

Complete Service for TWELVE Persons!

For gracious tables—nothing quite so lovely as this Noritake china service! Heirloom quality—beautiful floral patterns on clear white body china. Rare values at— $39.95

"Lanare" "Acacia" "Tiffany" "Gloria" Patterns in Dinner Sets!

"Patrician," by Heisey!

Crystal Stemware

Exquisite—with the dignity and charm of candlelit elegance! Clear, plain challice with beautifully cut stems. Goblets, wines, ice-teas, sherbets, champagnes and cocktails. $6 Doz.

Prism Candelabra

3-Candle Style As Shown $9.98 Ea.

Gifts the spring bride will treasure with lovely care—and stunning table decors for your own use! Clear crystal—with gleaming, pendant prisms.

1-Light Candelabra. Ea...$2.75
2-Light Candelabra. Ea...$7.50
4-Light Candelabra. Ea...$12.50

HIGH'S FOURTH FLOOR

This Page Has Been for a Quarter of a Century the Official Organ of the Georgia Federation

GEORGIA STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Organized in 1896—Membership 30,000—Joined General Federation in 1896—Motto: "Wisdom, Justice Moderation"—Club Flower: Cherokee Rose

PRESIDENT, Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, of Athens; first vice president, Mrs. Albert Hill, of Greenville; second vice president, Mrs. A. B. Conger Jr., of Bainbridge; recording secretary, Mrs. Morris Bryan, of Jefferson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rufus Turner, of Athens; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Butler, of Dallas; parliamentarian, Mrs. Howard McCall, of Atlanta; editor, Mrs. Bessie Shaw Stafford; General Federation director of Georgia, Mrs. J. W. Gholston, of Comer; Georgia Federation headquarters, Parlor E, Henry Grady hotel, Atlanta, Telephone MAin 2173; national headquarters, 1734 N street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

DISTRICT PRESIDENTS—First, Mrs. G. M. Barnes, of Midville; second, Mrs. O. E. Glausier, of Quitman; third, Mrs. Ivey Melton, of Dawson; fourth, Mrs. J. A. Corry, of Barnesville; fifth, Mrs. P. J. McGovern, Avondale Estates; sixth, Mrs. L. I. Waxelbaum, of Macon; seventh, Mrs. W. A. Hill, of Calhoun; eighth, Mrs. C. A. Tyler, of Broxton; ninth, Mrs. John O. Braselton, of Braselton; tenth, Mrs. T. O. Tabor Jr., of Elberton; Mrs. Harvie Jordan, state publicity chairman, Parlor E, Henry Grady hotel.

District Appointments of Interest To Federated Women of Georgia

On February 10 recently appointed chairmen in the 10 districts of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs were named. The list continues with the department of fine arts: First, Mrs. W. C. Somers, Vidalia; second, Mrs. G. M. Baggs, Camilla; third, Mrs. G. E. Ricker, Fitzgerald; fourth, Mrs. W. D. Howell, Zebulon; fifth, Mrs. James R. Little, 2472 Peachtree road, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. H. M. Franklin, Tennille; seventh, Miss Etta Davis, Eton; eighth, Mrs. Paul Killian, Brunswick; ninth, Mrs. Claude Montgomery, Commerce; tenth, Mrs. Orrin Roberts, Monroe. Art: First, Mrs. A. L. Mosley, Lyons; second, Mrs. J. W. Simmons, Bainbidge; fourth, Miss Ellie Matthews, Meansville; fifth, Mrs. George Hinman, 923 Piedmont avenue, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. N. A. Williams, Bartow; seventh, Mrs. Hal Hutchins, Dallas; ninth, Mrs. T. M. Bonner, Helen; tenth, Mrs. Lucie Boyd Rivers, Thompson. Art programs: First, Miss Elsie Kuck, Savannah; third, Mrs. John M. Flournoy, Columbus; fifth, Mrs. Lavonia Miller, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. R. E. Lester, Wadley; seventh, Miss Estelle Wright, Calhoun; tenth, Mrs. T. J. Jackson, Hartwell. Industrial and school art: First, Mrs. Andrew Sparks, Millen; fourth, Mrs. C. C. Persons, Manchester; sixth, Mrs. J. D. Polhill, Louisville; seventh, Mrs. Doris Crutchfield, Calhoun; ninth, Mrs. Pope Yow, Martin; tenth, Mrs. Alva Wallace, Rutledge. Penny art fund: First, Mrs. R. C. Poole, Guyton; fourth, Mrs. C. C. Persons, Manchester; sixth, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Cochran; ninth, Mrs. Mildred Pledger, Winder; tenth, Mrs. Brantley Little, Carnesville.

American pottery: First, Mrs. J. B. Thurman, Midville; fourth, Miss Edna Brooks, Molena; fifth, Mrs. John H. Mullin, 1084 St. Augustine place, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. R. G. Jennigan, Sparta; seventh, Miss Estelle Wright, Calhoun; ninth, Mrs. Pike Hutchins, Statham; tenth, Mrs. C. E. Adams, Danielsville. Literature: First, Miss Jane Judge, Savannah; second, Mrs. E. T. Bailey, Colquitt; third, Mrs. Maxwell Murray, Fort Valley; fourth, Mrs. F. L. Adams, Zebulon; fifth, Mrs. W. F. Melton, 1205 Emory drive, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. W. B. Smith, Tennille; seventh, Mrs. H. E. Huggins, Marietta; eighth, Mrs. A. G. Williams, Jesup; ninth, Mrs. T. C. Hardman, Commerce; tenth, Mrs. Moses Slusky, Walton way, Augusta. Bible: First, Mrs. R. M. Murphree, Midville; third, Mrs. J. W. Braswell, Fort Valley; ninth, Mrs. W. W. Stark, Commerce; tenth, Mrs. W. F. Wilhoit, Warrenton, drama: First, Mrs. R. L. Winburn, Midville; third, Mrs. R. R. Jones, Dawson; fifth, Mrs. Charles Loridans, 150 Fifteenth street, Atlanta; seventh, Mrs. C. M. Hollingsworth, Dalton; ninth, Miss Myrtle Brown, Martin; tenth, Mrs. H. C. Stanard, Washington.

Georgia writers: First, Mrs. W. D. Drew, Midville; second, Mrs. C. H. Strangward, Sylvester; third, Mrs. Dupont Kirven, Columbus; fourth, Mrs. W. D. Bennett, Molena; fifth, Mrs. Willis Westmoreland, 417 Tenth street, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. W. C. Little, Tennille; seventh, Mrs. John Boston, Marietta; eighth, Mrs. J. E. Penland, Waycross; ninth, Mrs. J. B. Parham, Canton; tenth, Miss Mary Teasley, Bowman.

Poetry: First, Mrs. H. T. Wilson, Savannah; third, Mrs. T. C. Hudson, Columbus; sixth, Mrs. Frank Dennis, Eatonton; tenth, Mrs. Adrian Cohen, 2312 Walton way, Augusta.

Music: First, Mrs. L. B. Frye, Millen; second, Mrs. O. D. Culpepper, Albany; third, Mrs. H. I. Shingler, Ashburn; fourth, Mrs. R. C. Johnson, Zebulon; fifth, Miss Ardis Colby, 3 Villa drive, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. W. D. Evans, Wadley; seventh, Miss Kate Harlan, Dalton; eighth, Mrs. W. G. Townsend, Waycross; ninth, Mrs. P. F. Brown, Gainesville; tenth, Mrs. Starks Ginn, Royston.

American music: First, Mrs. Jack DeLoach, Lyons; third, Mrs. Rollo Brown, Columbus; fourth, Mrs. E. B. Estes, Gay; sixth, Mrs. Roy Smith, Tennille; seventh, Mrs. J. H. Paschall, Calhoun; ninth, Miss Martha Galt, Canton; tenth, Mrs. Frank Kidd, Hartwell.

Community music: First, Mrs. R. M. Girardeau, Claxton; third, Mrs. J. E. Whatley, Reynolds; fourth, Mrs. E. B. Estes, Gay; sixth, Mrs. C. H. Jones, Macon; ninth, Mrs. Billie Pitman, Maysville; tenth, Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Elberton.

Legislation: First, Mrs. L. B. Godbee, Vidalia; second, Mrs. A. D. Greene, Pavo; third, Mrs. R. Huckabee, Ashburn; fourth, Mrs. Ellison Cook, West Point; fifth, Mrs. W. P. Dunn, 31 The Prado, and Mrs. Catheroine Connerat, 165 East Fourteenth street, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. W. J. Fulghum, Macon; seventh, Mrs. S. E. Berry, Austell; ninth, Mrs. R. W. Smith, Ellijay; tenth, Mrs. G. A. Barron, Lexington.

Radio: First, Mrs. R. M. McCall, Lyons; fifth, Mrs. Walter Sims, 3648 Peachtree road, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. George Franklin, Tennille; tenth, Mrs. J. W. Bailey Athens.

The Clubwoman GFWC: First, Mrs. O. L. Gresham, Waynesboro; third, Mrs. R. A. Hinton, Reynolds; fourth, Mrs. A. J. Perryman, Talbotton; fifth, Mrs. John F. MacDougald, 1308 Peachtree, Atlanta; seventh, Mrs. Frank Durham, Acworth; eighth, Mrs. Oscar Hammock, Willocoochee; ninth, Mrs. Fred Hayes, Toccoa; tenth, Mrs. Hamilton McWhorter, Lexington.

Public welfare: First, Mrs. Frank McIntire, Savannah; second Mrs. C. S. Hodges, Cyrene; third, Mrs. J. T. Fletcher, Columbus; fourth, Mrs. Grady Dumas, Red Bone district, Barnesville; fifth, Mrs. W. N. Ponder, 1198 Cascade road, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. J. A. Middleton, Dublin; seventh, Mrs. Harry Trumbo, Cedartown; ninth, Mrs. W. W. Puett, Norcross; tenth, Mrs. Mel Blanchard, Crawford.

Child welfare: First, Mrs. J. L. Parish, Midville; second, Mrs. W. R. Adams, Newton; third, Mrs. Frank Titus, Fort Valley; fourth, Mrs. F. L. Chatfield, The Rock; fifth, Mrs. Joseph Yampolsky, 746 Brookridge drive, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. Lovic Lingo, Macon; eighth, Mrs. Ruth Dyal, Baxley; ninth, Mrs. R. D. Medlock, Duluth; tenth, Mrs. Morgan Rice, Bowman.

Community service: First, Mrs. B. M. Dixon, Girard; third, Mrs. C. L. McLendon, Fort Gaines; fourth, Mrs. J. W. Carriker, Barnesville; fifth, Mrs. H. R. Adams, Alpharetta; sixth, Mrs. M. C. Exans, Bartow; seventh, Miss Mary Pierce, Tallapoosa; eighth, Mrs. Walter Williams, Valdosta; ninth, Mrs. A. G. Mickel, Robertstown; tenth, Mrs. Byron Minter, Elberton.

Co-operation: First, Miss Helen Nugent, Savannah; sixth, Mrs. John H. Gantt, Jewell; ninth, Mrs. Fred Stowe, Toccoa; tenth, Miss Ann Saucken, 2836 Lombardy court, Augusta.

Correction: First, Mrs. Harvey Fell, Savannah; fourth, Mrs. W. E. H. Searcy, Griffin; fifth, Mrs. Howard McCutcheon, 915 Crew street, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. Leonard Booth, Macon; seventh, Mrs. Hi Moseley, Marietta; tenth, Mrs. R. M. Jetton, Comer.

Indian welfare: First, Mrs. F. L. Layton, Midville; third, Mrs. Jones Perryman, Columbus; fourth, Miss Pauline Mallett, Jackson; fifth, Mrs. W. O. Mitchell, 111 Howard street, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. Mugh Cason, Jewell; ninth, Miss Susan Lumsden, Sautee; tenth, Mrs. Clem Sutton, Washington.

Problems in Industry: First, Miss Eugenia Johnson, Savannah; second, Mrs. G. V. Cate, Brunswick; fourth, Miss Louise Ellis, Griffin; fifth, Miss Eula Lang, 827 Cumberland road, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. R. G. Price, Louisville; seventh, Mrs. C. W. Smith Jr., Cedartown; tenth, Mrs. L. S. Moody, 2138 McDowell street, Augusta. Health: First, Mrs. J. P. McNatt, Lyons; second, Mrs. H. H. Williams, Pavo; third, Mrs. E. B. Davis, Byronville; fourth, Mrs. A. D. Williams, Yatesville; fifth, Mrs. Lillian Alexander, city hall, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. J. A. Wren, Wrens; seventh, Miss Emma Crabb, Rockmart; ninth, Mrs. Ralph Freeman, Hoschton; tenth, Mrs. Stewart Brown, Royston. Right Use of Leisure: First, Mrs. W. C. Perkins, Millen; third, Mrs. Tom Huston, Columbus; fourth, Mrs. M. A. Bush, Barnesville; fifth, Mrs. Charles Davidson, Lithonia; sixth, Mrs. E. J. Smith, Wadley; seventh, Mrs. O. R. Hardin, Dalton; tenth, Mrs. Hubert Dyar, Carnesville. Social Service: First, Mrs. Dess Gray, Lyons; third, Miss Ada Powell, Vienna; fourth, Miss Julia Bush, Barnesville; fifth, Mrs. Sue Paille, Henry Grady hotel, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. J. M. LaFaver, Avera; seventh, Mrs. C. W. Smith Jr., Cedartown; ninth, Mrs. Bunyon Miller, Nacoochee; tenth, Mrs. Charlie Crawford, Lexington. Street and Highway Safety: First, Mrs. M. A. Smith, Lyons; second, Mrs. H. H. Wind, Cairo; fourth, Mrs. Gordon Steed, Barnesville; fifth, Mrs. L. M. Ahern, 329 Holderness, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. D. P. Lee, Gordon; seevnth, Mrs. A. B. Howe, Tallapoosa; tenth, Mrs. C. L. Duvall, 931 Russell street, Augusta.

Vital Statistics: First, Mrs. A. J. Brigham, Girard; fifth, Miss Daisy Blackwell, 17 Third street, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. W. D. Couplon, Cochron; ninth, Mrs. John Holder, Jefferson. Club Institute: First, Mrs. R. M. Girardeau, Claxton; fourth, Mrs. A. H. English, Barnesville; fifth, Mrs. L. O. Freeman, College Park; eighth, Mrs. M. D. Dickerson, Douglas; ninth, Mrs. C. H. Fowler, Braselton; tenth, Mrs. S. V. Sanford, Athens. Agricultural Co-operation: First, Mrs. C. C. Moseley, Lyons; third, Miss Laura Edenfield, Vienna; fourth, Mrs. Cora Hergiz, Hogansville; sixth, Mrs. V. S. Bryant, Bartow; eighth, Mrs. William Story, Nashville; ninth, Mrs. John White, Maysville, Tenn.; tenth, Mrs. R. L. Hadaway, Thomson. County Federations: Fourth, Mrs. William Keith, West Point; sixth, Mrs. J. S. Gladdin, Sandersville; tenth, Mrs. Roy Wallace, Rutledge. Motion Pictures: First, Miss Phoebe Elliott, Savannah; second, Mrs. Ira Carlisle, Cairo; third, Mrs. R. H. Saunders, Montezuma; fifth, Mrs. Laurence Westerdahl, 9 Exeter road, Avondale Estates; sixth, Mrs. Leo Browning, Cochran; eighth, Mrs. J. T. Hotch, Brunswick; ninth, Mrs. E. R. Harris, Winder; tenth, Mrs. W. D. Tutt, Elberton.

War Veterans: First, Mrs. J. H. Burke, Guyton; third, Mrs. J. A. Happ, Montezuma; fourth, Mrs. E. T. Smith, Barnesville; fifth, Mrs. H. M. Nicholes, 3649 Peachtree road, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. R. P. Avera, Wrens; seventh, Mrs. Russell Irwin, Cedartown; ninth, Mrs. M. C. Rhodes, Norcross; tenth, Mrs. J. A. Dyar, Royston. Tallulah Jubilee: Third, Mrs. A. M. Solomon, Fort Valley; fourth, Mrs. Ray Cole, Newnan; sixth, Mrs. S. G. Lang, Sandersville. Scrap Book: First, Mrs. Alex Bower, Millen; third, Mrs. C. H. Sammons, Fort Valley; fourth, Mrs. O. A. Nunnally, Griffin; fifth, Miss Julia Sparks, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. L. M. Overstreet, Wadley; eighth Mrs. J. M. Hall, Douglas, ninth, Mrs. Stanley Kesler, Jefferson; tenth, Mrs. A. E. Caldwell, Monroe. In order that the district directories may be completed, presidents should be prompt in sending additional appointments to the secretary of federation headquarters, Mrs. Harvie Jordan, Henry Grady hotel, Atlanta.

Albany Woman's Club Presents Patriotic Program

The February literary and luncheon meeting of the Albany Woman's Club was held in the Valencia room of the New Albany hotel Thursday. In observance of the 203rd birthday of George Washington, the table decorations and menu were in the patriotic colors. Members of the executive board were dressed in colonial costumes. Mrs. H. T. McIntosh representing Martha Washington and Mrs. Earl Fowler, George Washington.

A short business session was held, the president, Mrs. H. T. McIntosh, presiding. Reports from department chairmen were given. The welfare department, of which Mrs. J. W. Reynolds and Mrs. C. T. Baldwin are chairmen, reported that 12 layettes were completed and ready for distribution. Mrs. McIntosh reported that she and a committee, selected from the club members, were successful in securing advertisements from the local merchants, in connection with last Friday's edition of the Herald, announcing the activities of the Elks and Merchants exposition, and had realized a substantial amount of money to be added to the treasury of the club.

Miss Helen Parker, district home supervisor of the Georgia Power Company, was present and gave an outline of the course to be given at the "Food for Thought Cooking school" to be held at the Federated clubhouse, March 12, 13 and 14.

The following program was presented by the program chairman, Mrs. Earl Fowler: Assembly singing, "America"; talk on international relations, H. T. McIntosh; talk on "Books," Mrs. Earl Fowler, who also paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Corra Harris; solo, "Star Spangled Banner," Mrs. C. C. Gregorie, accompanied by Mrs. A. H. Thompkins; dance, the minuet, by pupils of Alta deVane Malone, dressed in colonial costumes, Helen Eggert, Jean Watkins, Henrietta Tarver, Mary Brown Malone, Ann and Jane Sinclair, Dorothy Sue Owens, Joyce Freeman, Millicent Leader and Jean Gunnels, accompanied by Miss Robbie McCamy.

The vistors were Mrs. A. P. Coles, past president Atlanta Woman's Club and the Atlanta Federation; Mrs. A. E. Gillmore, of Tennille, president of the Tennille Woman's Club; Mrs. Jasper Knight, of Hayneville, Ala.; Mrs. J. J. West, Mrs. Roy Sleep, Mrs. Gregorie and Mrs. Thompkins.

Canton Clubs Hold Meetings.

Canton Woman's Club met February 8, when Mrs. Claude McCay, of Blue Ridge, district supervisor of social service of the FERA was the principal speaker. The program topic was the American home and included readings by Mary Foute Jones. Three new members welcomed were Mrs. E. J. Holcombe, Mrs. Bob Lathem and Mrs. Dickson.

Members of the Canton Junior Woman's Club paid tribute to Georgia in their program of February 12, which met in the home of Miss Mary Jones. The vice president and program chairman, Miss Marie Gay, presented a Georgia program which included a talk by Miss Frances Rudasill on "Interesting Facts About Georgia;" poems by Georgia poets, read by Misses Edith Bowers and Sara Groves. The president, Miss Helen Hensley, presided over the business session.

Mrs. Nicholes Presents Report As Chairman of War Veterans

Mrs. H. M. Nicholes, chairman on war veterans for the G. F. W. C., makes an appeal and presents an opportunity for a unique and much needed service for the disabled veterans of Georgia.

A. L. Henson, director of the veterans' service office of Georgia, reported to Mrs. Nicholes that there was much suffering from diabetes and pernicious anemia among the veterans of Georgia, and great need for a supply of insulin and liver extract for the treatment of men suffering from these diseases. This service is not supplied to patients outside of the United States hospitals, and the appeal is made for this medicine to be supplied by the federated clubwomen of Georgia. Mr. Henson enclosed a list of patients in various districts of the state.

Mrs. Nicholes took the matter up with John M. Slaton Jr., manager, veterans' administration, Atlanta, and was invited to attend a conference with him and his medical staff at United States Hospital No. 48. As a result of this conference she received a letter from Mr. Slaton, which reads in part, as follows:

"This is to confirm our interview this morning on the subject of supplying insulin and liver extract to veterans suffering from diabetes and anemia, who are not entitled to receive this medication from the United States government.

"War veterans are not entitled, under existing law, to out-patient medical treatment for disabilities not the result of their military service. We, from time to time, have in this hospital men who are entitled to hospital treatment while suffering from anemia and diabetes, to progress to the point where they could be discharged, and could carry on reasonably successfully on the outside, if they were able to supply themselves with the needed medication. Since the government cannot, under the existing laws, furnish this medication after discharge, the failure to receive it results in a breaking down of health again, and the return of the patient to the hospital. We have some six such cases actually before us now.

Plan for Medicines.

"As I understand you plan with the approval of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs to furnish through your district chairmen insulin and liver extract to war veterans who meet government rules for hospitalization, but who, after discharge, are unable to personally buy these commodities. For you to do this it would be necessary that you be furnished the names and addresses of those veterans concerned. We propose, therefore, to have the veteran, in each instance where our doctors here feel necessary, to apply to you for this aid. This application will then be forwarded to you, as state chairman, with the approval of either our chief medical officer or myself.

"It is my further understanding that on receipt of this application you will transmit it to the proper district chairman, who will make the necessary arrangements. It will be appreciated if you will advise me of the names of each district chairman, in order that we can also notify the veterans of the name and address of the chairman who is to get in touch with him."

After receiving this letter from Mr. Slaton, Mrs. Nicholes consulted Sharp & Dohme, prominent manufacturing chemists, about the cost of insulin and liver extract. Dr. J. O. Freeman, representative of this company, came to see her. He stated that for this appealing case, his company would furnish these drugs much below the wholesale price, and even below the actual cost of manufacturing them. They propose to furnish insulin at 1-2 cent a unit. The usual dose is 10 units a day, so that the average cost would be 5 cents a day for each patient. They propose to furnish liver extract at $1.90 per 100 capsules. The average dose is four capsules a day, which would be 7.6 cents per day for each patient. Of course, the doses would vary according to the condition of the patient, and the medicine would be administered under the direction of the hospital staff in cooperation with the local physician attending the patient.

Makes Appeal.

In furtherance of this laudable undertaking, Mrs. Nicholes makes this stirring appeal to the club women of Georgia: "Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, our brilliant and forward-look president, in her address before the executive board recently, selected for her subject the slogan taken from Nehemiah in that great crisis of Israel's history, "Let us rise up and build!' Shall we follow her leadership in this humanitarian service for our suffering and worthy veterans? In restoring the health of these heroes who were physically sacrificed in the great World War, we are building for God and country. No greater challenge can come to the women of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. In building the health and strength of these men we are building the foundations of happy homes. We are contributing to the safety and security of little children, in whose hearts love and peace should dwell and who have a right to ask for a fair chance in life."

Mrs. H. B. Graybill, chairman of committee on war veterans for the General Federation of Women's Clubs, expresses her appreciation of the service for war veterans in Georgia. In a letter to Mrs. H. M. Nicholes, as follows:

"It seems so inadequate for me to say just 'thank you' for all the time and effort you give so gladly to the cause of our ex-service men. I would that I could say more, yet can I add anything to the meaning of those words as they come to you . . . from ex-service men and their grateful families, realizing that you have contributed much toward their happiness and security. From that great army of disabled men who have found new faith and hope through your effors? From those youngsters who would be without a chance were it not for your devotion and that of others like you?

"I know that you feel something of the appreciation of these . . . something of the satisfaction with a task well done. And I know, too, that your work has added something to your life, as it has to mine, in greater understanding and closeness to our fellow men.

"And so for all you have given, I can only say again . . . 'Thank You.'"

Mrs. Graybill's committee on war veterans awarded to Mrs. Nicholes the prize in a national contest for the best paper published in News Flashes on suggestions for relief of war veterans. The prize consisted of a beautiful picture of Washington scenery in water colors by Mrs. Graybill herself.

Macon Woman's Club Celebrates 24th Anniversary of Founding

The Macon Woman's Club celebrated the 24th anniversary of the founding of the organization with a birthday party February 13 at the clubhouse in Baconsfield, having for guests all the charter members now in Macon. Mrs. Bruce Carr Jones, a charter member and one of the leading figures in the life of the club since its founding in 1911, read a delightful history which gave the details or the organizing and first four years' growth. Officers for 1911 were Mrs. S. C. Moore, president; Mrs. Milton Legg, first vice president; Mrs. Eli Elkan, second vice president; Mrs. Jack Nyhan, recording secretary; Mrs. George Wing Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. B. Van Houten, treasurer.

The opening story read: "Club life among the women of Macon has quickened into one big sisterhood; a great variety of aims and ideas prevailing and a mentality to suit every taste is included in what the community has and is to have. Running through the entire movement is a general aim to do the community and its people good. The new spirit is widespread and deep seated. A new organization to which every clubwoman will belong, no matter what the motive of the members may be, so it is good, has been formed. There is a great confidence in its need and of its ultimate good."

Mrs. Moore is quoted as saying: "The principal aim will be to control more scholarships and educate more girls, also to provide for the unemployed. Among the first ambitions of the club, as brought out by Mrs. Jones, was to own a clubhouse and having met that objective is self-evident. Baconsfield clubhouse is the realization of the dream of years. A telegram was read from Mrs. S. C. Moore congratulating the club upon its growth and achievements.

Mrs. Walter Lamar read an article from Good Housekeeping of July, 1934, by Vera Connelly, of Tallulah Falls school. During the business session over which the president, Mrs. Lewis I. Waxelbaum, presided, $25 was voted as a birthday gift to Tallulah school. Mrs. Waxelbaum announced an invitaton to attend the civic dinner March 5, sponsored by Mercer University. Mrs. Jerome Herman was made chairman for this affair.

The "Party," which was the social feature, was in charge of Mrs. Henry Muecke and Mrs. J. H. Pate, with Mrs. Robert Nussbaum, a charter member, as hostess. The tea table lace covered, was centered with a two-tier birthday cake in pastel shades. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Edward Swinson, Mrs. Martin Heath and Louise and Mary Pate. Charter members present were Mrs. Bruce Carr Jones, Mrs. Walter Lamar, Mrs. J. A. Selden, Mrs. Robert Nussbaum and Miss Estelle Newman.

Fort Valley Club Hears Dr. Hutchings.

Dr. Lee M. Hutchings, head of the bureau of plant industry at the United States government laboratory here, was the speaker at the first meeting of the Fort Valley Garden Club, held at the home of the president, Mrs. W. G. Brisendine, on Thursday.

Miss Wilma Orr, program chairman, presented Dr. Hutchings in a talk on "Prolonged Dormancy in Flowering Trees and Shrubs." Dr. Hutchings gave concrete examples in the exhibition of laboratory experimentations on various stages of dormancy, using peach tree buds. Other features of the program included a reading, "Colorature," by Mrs. John Allen and a group of songs by Mrs. Glenmore Green, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. H. Hollingsworth.

The Kell silver cup that is given to keep until it is won by another member of the club was won by Mrs. Albert J. Evans for an artistic arrangement of yard flowers made up of spirea, japonica and vibernum. During a social hour attendance prizes given by the hostess were awarded to Mrs. William Lilpfert. Mrs. John Allen and Mrs. A. M. Soloman.

Acworth Juniors.

Miss Miriam Gordon was hostess to the Junior Woman's Club of Acworth Tuesday evening at her apartment.

"The Eve of St. Agnes" was given by Miss Elizabeth Wilde. After the program bridge was played and tea was served.

Broxton Club.

Broxton Woman's Club met last week at the home of Mrs. J. H. Millollin Jr.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. L. L. Denton. Reports from committees were read, essays written on life insurance, and the nickle campaign being sponsored. The proceeds will go to the clubhouse building committee. Two new members were enrolled.

The citizenship and legislation committee, Mrs. Blanche Persons, chairman, presented the program. Among the numbers were "A Ship A-Sailing," by Miss Nola Newbern, and an article on "Citizenship," by Mrs. Dan Newbern. Mrs. W. S. Slade conducted the parliamentary drill.

The hostesses were Mrs. J. H. Millollin Jr., Mrs. A. R. Lewis, Mrs. Jeff Byrd and Mrs. Jesse Newbern.

Unicoi Woman's Club.

Mrs. Donald Johnson entertained the Unicoi Woman's Club at the Mountain Ranch hotel on February 22. Members of the club answered roll call with famous sayings of George Washington. At the business session a new member, Mrs. Dorothy Parsons, was welcomed into the club. Mrs. Parsons was appointed to formulate plans for a benefit social to be given soon for Helen public school. The club decided to give a benefit each month for the school project now underway.

After the business session, Mrs. Donald Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Palmour, Mrs. Caroline Greer, Mrs. Lawrence Vandiver and Mrs. A. G. Mickle presented an interesting Washington birthday program.

Mrs. Boston Submits Fine Arts Program

Clubwomen interested in the fine arts department of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs will welcome the outline submitted by Mrs. John H. Boston, state chairman, and adopted by the executive board on February 21 for future club activities. It is the objective of this department to instill the culture of the fine arts into the communities and for this Mrs. Boston stresses six vital projects: 1. Bring to the attention of the nation the wealth of creative ability Georgia had in the past and possesses in the present.

2. Have each district make an exhaustive research and record every form of art. In this way we will write the history of our state in cultural arts. 3. Encourage contests, bringing local and state artistic ability into recognition. 4. Co-operate with schools in establishing all forms of artistic appreciation; emphasizing the fine arts of Tallulah Falls school. 5. Pledge the co-operation of the fine arts department in the effort to place the bust of Sidney Lanier, the world's greatest flutist and the south's most beloved and celebrated poet, in the nation's hall of fame. 6. Work with libraries to place on their shelves the best in literature, so that young minds may be filled with the best thoughts of outstanding writers.

Mrs. Doggett Directs Athens Institute

According to announcement made by the Club Institute committee of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Josephine J. Doggsett, of Washington, D. C., will direct the twelfth annual institute to be held in Athens in July. Mrs. Doggett is one of the best known and best loved representative of the general federation, as she is director of research and club service at headquarters. Possibly no member of this great organization knows and understands the varied activities of federated club work as does Mrs. Doggett and Georgia clubwomen will be afforded an unusual opportunity to become better acquainted with much that they need to know. The institute will again be held in connection with the summer school of the University of Georgia and will be in charge of the able committee composed of Mrs. Lamar Rucker, Mrs. E. D. Pusey and Mrs. S. V. Sanford, all of Athens.

Pottery Exhibit Available April 20.

Information has come from General Federation of Women's Clubs' headquarters in Washington, D. C., that the loan pottery exhibit will be available for Georgia clubwomen from April 20 as long as it may be used. Clubs desiring to study this exhibit are asked to notify the state chairman of American pottery, Mrs. Guyton Abney, of Macon, who will arrange the schedules.

The only charge in securing the exhibit is that each club must pay shipping charges from the town where the display was previously shown. Fine arts chairmen should present this opportunity to their clubs and notify Mrs. Abney when the exhibit is desired.

Clubs are urged to include in their spring work some study of American pottery. Such study will lead to more appreciation of native products which are fast becoming as lovely as any produced in the world. No better method of furthering knowledge of this subject can be adopted than showing and studying this pottery exhibit.

Lavonia Juniors Honor Royston Club.

Lavonia Junior Woman's Club entertained the Royston Junior Club on February 5 at the library. Lavonia Club chairman, Mrs. L. D. Singleton, introduced the visitors who presented the interesting program.

Welcome was extended by Janet Pruitt, of Lavonia, to which Jane Turner responded. Eugenia Ridgway gave the junior pledge and Imogene Starr told "Why I Am a Junior?" Mary Blanche Johnson told the "Activities of Our Club." Musical numbers were rendered by Ida Pearl Sexton, Sarah Frances Osborne, Anita Edberg and Jean Wilder.

Mrs. Stewart Brown, state vice chairman of juniors, brought an inspiring message. Mrs. Brown is sponsor of the Royston Juniors. Julia Chappelear furnished music while refreshments were served by Amanda Mason, Taska Thomas and Jane Weldon.

Paintings Discussed By Gainesville Club.

The topic of famous paintings was discussed at a meeting of the Gainesville Arts Study Club Tuesday at the apartment of Mrs. Arthur Butts on East Spring street.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Lenton Carter and Mrs. W. E. DeWitt, who gave a resume of the outstanding schools and their artists. A beautiful collection of print from the best known works of the masters were exhibited, the collection being the property of Miss Gertrude R. Brigham, professor of history of arts at Brenau.

Present were Mesdames Milton Hardy, Oscar Lilly, Perry Whatley, Hayne Palmour Jr., Ray Knickerbocker, Harold Brewer, Harry Purvis, Tom Purvis, Ivey Newman, Bob Bradberry, of Athens; Hartwell Joiner, Anne Porter, Tom Paris, president of the club. Misses Matilda Waterman and Margaret Palmour.

Jesup Club Meets.

The Jesup Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. W. M. Hawkins, with Mrs. Bill Murphy and Mrs. W. E. Roberson as co-hostesses. Mrs. J. T. Colvin presided and after a short opening program, including invocation, club collect, and pledge to the flag, interesting reports were given by the various departments.

The club is making every effort to become more familiar with the rules and regulations of the Federation of Women's Clubs by studying, under the able guidance of Mrs. A. G. Williams, a few of the rules at each meeting.

Mrs. Colvin announced the project for the month of March to be a money making one. The club divided into three groups, with Mesdames A. G. Williams, C. O. Williams, and L. R. Bennett leaders, and will have three projects for obtaining funds.

The department of American home was in charge of the program. Miss Mary Posey, home economics teacher, discussed "The American Home."

GEORGIA WOMAN'S Christian Temperance Union

Honorary presidents, Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, Commerce; Mrs. T. B. Patterson, Newnan; Mrs. Leila A. Dillard, Cochran. President, Mrs. Mary Scott Russell, 1436 N. Highland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. Marvin Williams, Marietta; vice president and counselor to president, corresponding secretary and counselor to local presidents, Mrs. R. L. Miller, Waynesboro; recording secretary and counselor to district presidents, Mrs. R. H. McDougall Jr., 1430 N. Highland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; treasurer and counselor to local treasurers, Mrs. Wilbur Brown, 508 W. Solomon street, Griffin; editor of the Georgia W. C. T. U. Bulletin, Mrs. August Burghard, 341 Hardeman avenue, Macon; Mrs. Florence Ewell Atkins, Milledgeville, field secretary; Mrs. Leila A. Dillard, Cochran, membership director; Mrs. Annie Laurie Cunyus, Carterville, director of music; Mrs. Byrd Lovett, Sandersville, Union Signal promoter.

W. C. T. U. Editor Reviews Observance Of Annual Narcotic Education Week

By M. FRANCES MEADORS BURGHARD, of Macon, State W. C. T. U. Editor.

Another claim repealists made—that prohibition had caused more drug addicts—was exploded the past week when February 21-28 was the ninth annual observance of Narcotic Education Week. In recent weeks the press has had much to say about the drive by the narcotic division of the treasury department to rid the nation of some of the illicit traffic in drugs which has been going on so freely. Within the first few days after the commencement of the drive, more than 800 alleged dealers and peddlers were arrested on charges of violation of the anti-narcotics laws. This when prohibition had been repealed a year and liquor legally obtainable. A worthwhile comment by the Christian Science Monitor on the situation said: "During the repeal drive against the eighteenth amendment one of the arguments used was that suppression of liquor had given impetus to the illicit drug traffic and to drug addiction. Now, one full year after legalized liquor has been made freely available, conditions are disclosed which those who have seen the evidence describe as revolting. Indications are that the 'dope' peddlers are plying their trade and their search for victims as vigorously as ever. All of which raises the question, are vicious conditions ever actually removed by any other method than by opposing them?"

This is another of the numerous claims made in favor of repeal that has failed to materialize—all have been utter failures.

Points Emphasized.

The seven points emphasized on the observance of Narcotic Education Week were: 1. Passage of uniform state narcotic act by legislature in session in 1935. 2. War against the illicit drug traffic and the crime wave. 3. The growing menace of the use of marihuana and necessity for protective legislation—state and federal. 4. Manufacturing restrictions on kerosin, morphine, cocaine, etc., by ratification of narcotics limitation convention of 1931. 5. Agricultural restrictions on the raw narcotic products—poppy plant, coco shrub, Indian hemp (marihuana), etc. 6. More thorough instruction in educational institutions against the narcotic evil. 7. Necessity for segregation and rehabilitation of drug addicts.

Included in its educational program, especially its health department, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, "organized mother love" continues to go forth with a warning to youth and a message of helpfulness to those victimized by the ravages of drugs and drink; always in its teaching laying stress on the wisdom of prevention rather than cure. Only an intelligent and aroused public opinion will preserve these safeguards.

The following reasons are given why the United States is one of the outstanding drug victims of the world: 1. Because some nations do not effectively restrict their narcotic products to medical and scientific requirements, thus allowing large quantities to leak into the illicit traffic, whence they are smuggled into America. 2. Because many of our states neither have strong, uniform narcotic laws nor efficient enforcement and do not co-operate sufficiently with our federal enforcement officers. 3. Because, with the exception of California and a few other states, the segregation and rehabilitation of drug addicts has been sadly neglected. 4. Because our youth, in so many educational institutions, have not been intelligently instructed concerning the narcotic problem. 5. Because, among the public at large, there has been a shameful ignorance and indifference toward the narcotic menace. 6. Because there is enormous wealth in the United States and the illicit drug traffic has marked America as a most fertile field for its ignoble profits. In the illicit traffic many drugs sell for over 12 times as much as on legal prescription.

7.

FEDERATED CHURCH WOMEN OF GEORGIA

"Laborers Together With God"—1 Cor. 3:9. Founded by the Late Mrs. Albert Braswell.

OFFICERS: Mrs. T. L. Lewis, honorary president, 397 Fourth street, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. C. R. Stauffer, president, 857 Virginia avenue, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Mary Randolph Kent, first vice president, 455 N. Highland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. L. O. Freeman, second vice president, 302 West Rugby street, College Park; Mrs. Arthur Hale, recording secretary, 1050 Gordon street, S. W., Atlanta; Mrs. F. R. Graham, corresponding secretary, 1228 Spring street, Atlanta; Mrs. A. V. Koebley, treasurer, 116 King's Highway, Decatur, Ga.; Mrs. Edgar Craighead, auditor, 1739 N. Decatur road, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. Thomas Morgan, chaplain, 947 Peachtree street, N. E., Atlanta.

STATE EDITOR, Miss E. Elizabeth Sawtell, 256 Richardson street, S. W., Atlanta, Ga. Associate Editors: Baptist, Mrs. S. L. Astin, 1141 Hudson drive, and Mrs. S. R. Reams, 1259 Druid place, N. E.; Christian, Mrs. Chester Martin, P. O. Box 294 Hapeville; Methodist, Mrs. E. L. Edwards, 699 Cascade avenue, S. W.; Lutheran, Mrs. Julian A. Schoen, Box 1733, Atlanta; Episcopal, Mrs. Allan V. Gray, 2744 Peachtree road, and Mrs. Woolsey E. Couch, 955 Rosedale drive, N. E.; Presbyterian, Mrs. E. Elizabeth Sawtell, 256 Richardson street, S. W.; Congregational Christian, Mrs. Walter Van Nostrand, 339 Leland Terrace, N. E.

Methodist Societies Present Interesting Missionary Programs

Circle No. 5 of the W. M. S. of Inman Park Methodist church, Mrs. John Hurt, chairman, met February 19 at the home of Mrs. R. E. Williams, Mrs. J. L. Mayo assisted in entertaining. Sixteen members were present, three of whom were new. The devotional was led by Mrs. Hurt who stressed "Our Needs for New Understandings." Mrs. J. K. Williams reported nine accredited members at the mission study school at Saint Mark church which was the city's largest representation. The next meeting of the circle will be held at the home of Mrs. R. C. Bostwick, 211 Hurt street, N. E.

Grant Park W. M. S. met at the church recently. The program was sponsored by the Sara Williams Circle, Mrs. J. W. Rountree, chairman. The pageant "Wells Our Fathers Digged" was presented by Mesdames A. C. DeLamara, A. Lewis, T. H. Berry, J. L. Yancy, W. A. Berry, M. E. Bowdoin, B. A. Anchors, C. M. Dodd, C. L. Chosewood Sr., W. P. Loftis, A. C. Garner, J. P. Walls, J. C. Childrey and Miss Sara Williams. Mrs. Walls read "The House by the Side of the Road." Mrs. Anchors gave a musical reading and Mrs. Childrey sang. Fifty members were present, and nine visitors.

Circle No. 1 of Trinity W. M. S. met Tuesday with Mrs. Charles E. Johnson with Mrs. Charles Graham, co-chairman, presiding. Miss Willie Lyons spoke on "Christ Feeding the Multitude" and presented a new plan of Bible study as advanced by the Moody Bible Institute, of Chicago. The circle will sponsor the Battle Hill sanitarium for the year. Guests were Mrs. Trippe, mother of the hostess; Mrs. Jarvis, and Mrs. E. A. Hartsock, president of Trinity auxiliary.

Circle No. 2 of Trinity Methodist church, Mrs. W. A. Gregg, chairman, met recently at the home of Mrs. W. C. Wimbish, co-chairman. The theme of the devotional, led by Mrs. M. D. Hope, was "The Blessedness of God's Service."

Circle No. 2 of the W. M. S. of the Stewart Avenue Methodist church met recently at the home of Mrs. W. H. Alford, with the chairman, Mrs. Carl Ellington, presiding. Special stress was laid on renewal of subscription to World Outlook, the missionary magazine. The year's plan for spiritual, social and financial program was announced. The Bible lesson was presented by Mrs. T. A. Hinson.

Circle No. 1 of the W. M. S. of Stewart Avenue Methodist church met recently with Mrs. W. E. Vaughn. Mrs. A. W. Callaway, chairman, presided. Mrs. A. A. Flury gave the devotional. Mrs. A. V. Dodd presented a plan for finances for the year. March meeting will be with Mrs. B. E. Cook.

Tucker W. M. S.

W. M. S. of Tucker Methodist church met recently with Mrs. W. W. Andrews. Mrs. C. A. Mooney presided. Plans were made for a candy pulling and oyster stew to be held March 9, and a sewing party to complete a quilt for the orphanage in Decatur. One quilt was completed at Mrs. Russel's on February 12.

Mrs. F. H. Dennington was elected delegate to the annual convention in Gainesville April 2, 3, 4. A short program was presented by Miss Watson. Miss Alice Burns gave a reading. Luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Carter Speaks.

Mrs. Colquitt Carter Jr. will speak to St. Michael's chapter of the Parish Council of the Cathedral of St. Philip Monday at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. P. W. Smith, 2219 Peachtree road, N. E. Mrs. D. Bieman Alexander will be co-hostess. Mrs. Carter will speak about St. Margaret's school, Tokyo.

Disciples of Christ Societies To Welcome Ambassadors of Cheer

A plan has been launched by which every missionary society of the Disciples of Christ (Christian) is to be visited during March by some one who is not a member of that group, an ambassador bringing a message of cheer and friendliness.

Through the efficient setup of state secretaries, district secretaries and other volunteer workers, this plan has been successfully accomplished in the states with many societies and also in those with only a few. The purpose of the visitation is to fulfill a consciousness in each missionary organization that the members are partners in a great fellowship, linked up with other groups in like service and with the same purpose for the one cause, the spread of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Mrs. L. O. Turner, secretary of the W. M. S. of Georgia, is conducting the visitation throughout this state. She will be assisted by the district secretaries, Mrs. H. P. Tucker, of Deepstep; Mrs. W. T. Baird, of Griffin; Mrs. D. M. Joiner, of Watkinsville; Mrs. J. W. Epler, of Savannah; Mrs. Harry Wilson, of Waycross, and Mrs. Chester Martin, of Hapeville.

Mrs. Martin, of the Atlanta district, reports her volunteers as follows: Mrs. Dean King and Mrs. Myner Franks, of Decatur Christian, will speak at the Woman's council of the First Christian church; Mrs. Ida D. Yewell, Mrs. E. D. Alsobrook, and Mrs. Raymond O'Kelley, of the Peachtree Christian church, will speak at the Woman's Missionary Society of the Decatur Christian church; Mrs. J. A. Greer, Mrs. C. C. Lee and Mrs. B. L. Almand, of the West End Christian church, will speak at the woman's council of the Peachtree Christian church; Mrs. Newton Fowler, Mrs. H. C. Phipps and Mrs. L. W. Austin, of the First Christian church, will speak at woman's council of the West End Christian church; Mrs. E. B. Quick and Mrs. Chester Martin, of the First Christian church, will speak at the Missionary Society of the Rome Christian church.

Church Meetings

Christian.

Groups of the Woman's Council of the West End Christian meet as follows: Group No. 1, Monday, with Mrs. Cora Tarvin, 232 Racine street, at 2:30 o'clock; group No. 2, Wednesday, with Mrs. George Thurman, at 12 o'clock; group No. 3, Wednesday, with Mrs. J. McWilliams, 511 Ontario avenue, at 12 o'clock.

Woman's Council of the East Point Christian church meets Monday at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

W. M. S. of the Central Christian church meets Monday at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Council of the Peachtree Christian church meets Monday at the church at 10:30 o'clock. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock.

W. M. S. of the Grove Park Christian church meets Monday at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

W. M. S. of the Grant Park Christian church meets Thursday at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

W. M. S. of the Capitol View Christian church meets Wednesday at the church at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. C. E. Westbrook, president, will preside.

Woman's Council of the East Atlanta Christian church meets Wednesday at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Ladies' Aid Society of the College Park Christian church meets Monday at the church at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Roy Martin, president, will preside.

W. M. S. of the Longley Avenue Christian church meets Wednesday at the church at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. J. B. Lawson, president, will preside.

Executive board of the Woman's Council of the First Christian church meets Wednesday at the church at 3 o'clock.

Groups of the Woman's Council of the First Christian church meet Tuesday as follows: Group No. 1, with Mrs. Otis Witherspoon, 992 Oglethorpe avenue, S. W., at 2:30; group No. 2, with Mrs. Fleming Ragsdale, 1480 Sylvan road, at 2:30 o'clock; group No. 3, at the church at 6:15 o'clock; group No. 4, with Mrs. C. B. Still, 361 Ormond street, S. E., at 2:30 o'clock; group No. 5, with Mrs. Newton Fowler, 1048 Woodland avenue, at 10:30 o'clock; group No. 6, with Miss Annie Downing, 303 Candler street, at 2:30 o'clock; group No. 7, with Mrs. Phoebe Lewis, 291 Elmira place, at 10:30 o'clock; group No. 8, with Mrs. Glenn Williams, 1130 Piedmont avenue, at 2:30 o'clock; group No. 10, with Mrs. R. K. Lynch, 590 Martina street, N. E., at 10:30 o'clock.

Methodist.

W. M. S. of First Methodist church meets Monday at 3 o'clock at the church.

W. M. S. of St. John's Methodist church meets Monday at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. W. T. Goodwin, 162 Georgia avenue.

W. M. S. of Ben Hill Methodist church meets with Mrs. T. L. Wheeler, Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. G. D. Stone will lead the devotional.

Business session of the East Point W. M. S. meets Monday, March 4, at 2:30 o'clock, in the church annex.

W. M. S. of the Inman Park Methodist church meets Monday at the church at 10 o'clock. Circle No. 7, Mrs. J. M. McDowell, chairman, will have charge of the program.

Group No. 3 of the Mothers' Class of Park Street Methodist church meets Wednesday at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. T. J. Jones, chairman 1280 Gordon street.

Haygood Memorial W. M. S. meets Monday at 10:30 o'clock at the church.

Baptist.

W. M. S. of the First Baptist church meets Wednesday at 3 o'clock at the church. Mrs. B. L. Bugg is president.

Willie T. Dawson Y. W. A. of the Capitol View Baptist W. M. U., meets Friday at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Burke is leader.

Cooper Street Baptist Sunbeams meet Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

Executive board, Druid Hills Baptist T. E. L. class meets at the church, Tuesday at 10:30 o'clock. Luncheon will be served by Mrs. W. M. Turner's group.

Druid Hills Baptist Sunbeams meet at the church Monday at 3 o'clock. All children of Sunbeam age are invited to attend. Mrs. Q. S. Quigley is leader.

Druid Hills Baptist R. A.'s meet at the church Tuesday at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Sydney Reaves is leader.

Y. W. A., of Druid Hills Baptist church, meets at the church, Tuesday at 6:30 o'clock. Supper will be served by circle No. 8. Mrs. Floyd C. Evans, chairman. Miss Manola Trice is in charge of the program.

Circles of Druid Hills Baptist W. M. S. meet Monday as follows: Circle No. 1, Mrs. R. A. Johnston, chairman, with Mrs. Alvin Smith 132 Geneva street, Decatur; circle No. 3, Mrs. R. E. Drennon, chairman, with Mrs. C. W. Sharman, 587 Seminole avenue; circle No. 5, Mrs. W. B. Sudeth, chairman, with Mrs C. E. Lawrence, 194 Feld avenue, Decatur; circle No. 6, with the chairman, Mrs. Edwards, 995 Courtney drive; circle No. 7, Mrs. W. C. Teel, chairman, in the Woman's Bible classroom; circle No. 8, Mrs. Floyd C. Evans, chairman, in the Young Matrons' room; circle No. 15, Mrs. M. L. Duggan, chairman, with Mrs. Ben I. Simpson, 114 East Seventeenth street, Mrs. Charles West, co-hostess. The following circles will meet at 11 o'clock: Circle No. 10, Mrs. C. R. Summers, with Mrs. W. G. England, 1018 St. Charles avenue; circle No. 11, Mrs. J. H. Bennett, chairman, with Mrs. H. McKinney, 880 Oakdale road; circle No. 12, Mrs. C. S. Burgess, chairman, with Mrs. I. W. Harrell, 748 Ponce de Leon avenue; circle No. 14, Mrs. H. M. Gammage, chairman, with Mrs. D. O. Buessee, 847 Barnett street; circle No. 16, Mrs. S. A. Stone, chairman, with Mrs. L. D. Newton, 1011 Oakdale road; circle No. 18, with Mrs. M. E. Coleman, chairman, at the church; circle No. 19, Mrs. W. T. Johnson, chairman, with Mrs. Johnson, 1374 Lanier boulevard. The following circles meet at 2:30 o'clock: Circle No. 2, Mrs. John Boyle, chairman, with Mrs. B. N. Jordan, 1212 Clifton road; circle No. 4, Mrs. Walton Reeves, chairman, with Mrs. C. C. Sheffield, 1183 Clifton road; circle No. 9, Mrs. O. Sheppard, chairman, with Mrs. J. J. Wallace, 608 Linwood avenue; circle No. 13, Mrs. W. P. Sewell, chairman, with Mrs. G. W. Gifford, 1236 Springdale road. At 3 o'clock: Circle No. 17, Mrs. J. F. Townsend, chairman, with Mrs. D. C. Lacy, 848 Durant place.

Adair Circle of Capitol View Baptist W. M. S. meets Monday at 1:45 o'clock with Mrs. Solon Johnson, 705 Elliott street, and go to the home of Mrs. J. L. Hendon,, 430 East Columbia avenue, College Park.

Circles of the Avondale Baptist W. M. U. meets as follows: Circle 1, with Mrs. B. W. Ford, 794 East College avenue, Monday, at 2:30 o'clock; Circle 2, with Mrs. J. H. Sassamon, Stone Mountain road, Tuesday, at 2:30 o'clock.

Circles of the Oakland City Baptist W. M. S. meets as follows: Circle 1, with Mrs. L. W. Murphy, 1259 Epworth street, Wednesday, 2 o'clock; Circle 2, with Mrs. W. D. DeFoor, 1236 Avon avenue, Monday, at 2 o'clock; Circle 3, with Mrs. T. M. Howard, 1177 Avon avenue, Monday, at 3 o'clock; Circle 4, with Mrs. Roscoe Speer, 1043 Lee street, Monday, at 2 o'clock; Circle 5, with Mrs. L. L. Leatherwood, 42 Astor avenue, Tuesday, at 2 o'clock.

R. A. of the Capitol View Baptist W. M. U. meets Friday at 3 o'clock at the church.

Doris Knight, G. A. of the Capitol View Baptist W. M. U. meets Friday, at 3 o'clock at the church. Mrs. T. E. Eason is leader.

W. M. S. of Decatur First Baptist church will observe day of prayer for home missions Friday beginning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence speaks at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. H. C. Walker, missionary program chairman, will present the program. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock.

R. A.'s, Junior G. A.'s, and Sunbeams of the First Baptist church, Decatur, meet Monday. These organizations are having the home mission program for the Annie W. Armstrong offering.

St. Mary's chapter of the parish council of Woman's Auxiliary of the Cathedral of St. Philip meets Monday at 3 o'clock at the chapter house.

Executive board of the parish council of the Cathedral of St. Philip meets Monday at 2 o'clock in the chapter house.

St. Michael's chapter of the parish council of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Cathedral of St. Philip meets Monday at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. P. W. Smith, 2219 Peachtree road.

Episcopal.

St. Cecelia's chapter and the Mother's chapter of the parish council of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Cathedral of St. Philip meets Wednesday at 3 o'clock at the chapter house.

Daughters of the King of the Cathedral of St. Philip meets at 2 o'clock Wednesday at the Cathedral of St. Philip.

Woman's Auxiliary of St. Timothy's church, Kirkwood, meets Tuesday at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. H. Shrader, 63 East Lake drive, N. E.

Study class of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Timothy's church, Kirkwood, meets at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. M. Flanigen, 155 East Lake drive, S. E.

Bishop's branch and Evening branch of the auxiliary will meet at the Y. W. C. A. on Auburn avenue Friday evening at 6 o'clock for study.

Board meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of Holy Trinity, Decatur, meets at 9 o'clock Tuesday. This will be followed by a general meeting of all the circles of the auxiliary at 10 o'clock in the parish house.

Henrietta Mikell Jones branch of the Auxiliary-Guild of All Saints church meets Monday at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Thomas Crenshaw Jr., at 1819 Wycliff road, N. E.

Business Women's chapter of the Auxiliary-Guild meets Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock for supper, to be followed by a meeting in the parish house of All Saints church.

World Day of Prayer Friday, March 8, at 2:30 o'clock at All Saints church.

Executive board of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's church meets Wednesday, immediately following the 11 o'clock service.

Auxiliary-Guild of St. John's church, College Park, meets at 3 o'clock Thursday in the parish house.

Auxiliary-Guild of the Church of Our Savior meets Monday at 2:30 o'clock in the parish rooms of the church.

Mrs. Alexander's circle of the Auxiliary-Guild of Epiphany meets Friday at 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Bissner, 1329 Highland avenue, N. E.

Congregational.

Ladies' guild of Central Congregational church meets Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock in the guild room of the church. Mrs. James B. Allen will have charge of the devotional service. Reports of the conventions attended during the month will be given.

Church Women Plan World Day of Prayer.

World Day of Prayer, sponsored by the Federated Churchwomen of Georgia, will be held Friday at 2:30 o'clock, at All Saints Episcopal church, 634 West Peachtree street.

On this day women of all faiths throughout the world will gather in the churches for meditation and prayer. The women of Atlanta and vicinity are cordially invited to join in this world-wide prayer.

MRS. C. R. STAUFFER,
President Georgia Council of Federated Church Women.

Deafened Listeners Thrilled With New Hearing Aid

A great majority of people who are hard of hearing have nothing wrong with the auditory nerves, said an executive of A. K. Hawkes Co., 67 Whitehall street, Atlanta, where the new Amplified Acousticon is being demonstrated to many whose hearing is seriously impaired.

Most cases of deafness, he said, are due to defects in the sound conducting apparatus of the ear drum and middle ear mechanism. The Acousticon detours this area of the ear, transmitting sound vibrations to the auditory nerves in much the same way that the ear drum normally transmits sound.

The new Acousticon affords genuine and permanent relief to many who suffer from the strain that deafness imposes. Others who could hear indistinctly and only at close range, are enabled to hear from all angles and at greater distance with the new aid, he declared.

The Hawkes Company gladly demonstrate this powerful new hearing device in their private consulting rooms free to any deafened person. If unable to come in person for a test, descriptive literature will be mailed on request.—(adv.)

Interesting Speakers To Feature Meeting Of Ga. B. W. M. U.

Miss Kathleen Mallory, corresponding secretary-treasurer of W. M. U. of the Southern convention, will be one of the principal speakers at the Georgia Baptist W. M. U. which meets March 12, 13, 14 at Bessie Tift College, Forsyth. Miss Mallory is one of the outstanding Baptist women of this generation. She will be heard in an address Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence, of Kansas City, Mo., southwide mission study chairman, will present the cause of home missions in a stirring message Tuesday evening. Mrs. Lawrence is probably more familiar with actual conditions on the home mission fields than any other southern Baptist worker.

Dr. James W. Merritt, executive secretary-treasurer Georgia Baptist convention, will be a welcome speaker, Dr. Frank Tripp, of St. Joseph, Mo., S. B. C., chairman of the Baptist 100,000 Club, who will be heard in an address on this subject. Miss Blanche S. White, corresponding secretary-treasurer of the Virginia W. M. U., will present important phases of the work of the foreign mission board. Mr. T. F. Callaway, president Georgia Baptist convention, will speak on Thursday morning in the closing address of the convention. Missionaries at home on furlough and distinguished pastors from over the state will attend the meeting.

Briefly Told

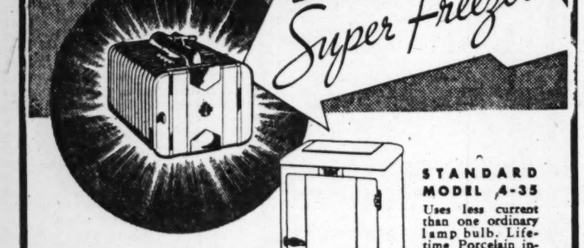

Mrs. L. A. Bailey, president of the auxiliary-guild of the Church of Our Saviour, is in New Orleans attending the Mardi Gras.

Miss Louise Schilling, of Marietta, Ga., who is relieving one of the Episcopal missionaries while on a furlough, will remain at St. Luke's hospital, Shanghai, China, until June. Her plans to leave China in February have been indefinitely postponed.

Bishop H. J. Mikell will conduct a weekly Bible class, the subject to be announced later, every Friday during Lent at St. Luke's church at 11 o'clock, beginning March 15.

Mrs. Marshall Ellis is calling a meeting of the executive board of the Woman's Auxiliary of the diocese of Atlanta at her home in Macon for Monday, March 4, at 11 o'clock. Mrs. J. F. Heard, of Atlanta, will motor to Macon with Mrs. W. Castleberry, of Gainesville.

EVERY FRIGIDAIRE '35 HAS THE FAMOUS Super Freezer

EVERY MODEL GIVES A COMPLETE REFRIGERATION SERVICE

The Super Freezer provides the right kinds of cold for every purpose—all in the same cabinet. There's fast freezing for making ice cubes and desserts; frozen storage for meats and ice cream; extra-cold storage for keeping a reserve supply of ice cubes; moist storage for vegetables and fruits; and normal storage below 50° for foods requiring dry, frosty cold. It's more economical, too. See it today.

STANDARD MODEL A-35 Uses less current than one ordinary lamp bulb. Lifetime Porcelain interior. Equipped with Super Freezer. Interior light. Automatic reset defrosting. Automatic ice tray release. Hydrator.

Model 435 $121.50 CASH (Small carrying charge if purchased on monthly payment plan.)

SMALL DOWN PAYMENT—EASY TERMS

ELECTRICAL REFRIGERATORS—FOURTH FLOOR

J. M. High Co.

TOILETRIES, STREET FLOOR

J. M. High Co.

FAT WENT QUICKLY —feels so full of pep!

I was so fat people laughed behind my back. I tried everything I had ever heard of to reduce... diet, exercise, purgatives... but nothing helped. Purgatives weakened me. Exercise left me exhausted. And I lacked the will power to diet when all my friends were eating the rich, sweet foods I adored.

Then, when I'd almost given up hope, I learned about a simple corrective for abnormal obesity, known and prescribed by physicians the world over... a corrective that would change the food I ate into energy instead of excess fat. I found out that this simple corrective was put up, in convenient tablets containing the right quantity, by one of the best-known medical laboratories in America.

And so I took Marmola—4 tablets a day—and quickly my excess fat began to disappear. What delighted me even more was the way I felt as a result of taking it—so mentally alert, so full of pep!

Now I'm down to normal—and never again will I let myself put on that deadening load of useless fat. Whenever I start to gain again, I take Marmola. It keeps my weight exactly right.

That in brief is what thousands who have reduced the Marmola way might well tell you. Since 1907, more than 20,000,000 packages of Marmola have been purchased. Could you ask for any better recommendation than that?

Today—buy a package of Marmola, and start at once. You will soon experience Marmola's benefits. When you have gone far enough, stop taking Marmola. And you will bless the day you first discovered this marvelous reducing agent.

Marmola is on sale by dealers everywhere—from coast to coast.

Smartest Shades for Spring and Summer!

HOSIERY AS YOU LIKE IT

Every woman knows that the success of her ensemble depends on the accessories. "AS YOU LIKE IT" is offering a series of lovely new shades that will bring perfection to any Spring outfit. $1

No. 300. Semi-Service are full fashioned with lisle hem and foot. Pr.....$1

No. 787. Genuine Ringless Chiffon Hose in Dultone. Full fashioned and Picot edge. Pr. $1

No. 676. Three-Thread Genuine Ringless Chiffon—very sheer and clear. Have all silk foot, picot edge. All new spring shades. Pr. $1

OUTSIZE SERVICE WEIGHT

No. X44. "As You Like It"—seven-thread service weight in outsize with lisle welt plaited foot. Full fashioned. Pr. $1.25

HOSIERY, STREET FLOOR

J. M. High Co.

Monday Specials! HIGH'S BARGAIN BASEMENT The Economy Center of Atlanta Monday Specials!

Imagine This! $5.95 Tweed SPRING COATS $3.95

Dashing styles for your every spring need! Grey or tan mixtures—attractively styled! All fully lined—and what "buys" for you who wear sizes 14 to 20!

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Regular $2.95-$3.95 SILK DRESSES $1.50

Only 100 in Group!

Prints and solids in rayon and silk crepes—styles for every spring occasion—and values supreme for thrift-wise women! All sizes, 14 to 38 included! Hurry!

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Women's New Spring Sweater Blouses

Wear them with your suit or skirt! Eggshell or novelty patterns in light shades. All sizes, 34 to 40. $1

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Full Fashioned Silk Hose

Irregulars and seconds of $1 quality—new spring shades. Chiffon and service weight—8½ to 10½. 39c

HIGH'S BASEMENT

'Fruit of the Loom' Broadcloth Cotton Slips

Tearose! White! Sizes 34 to 44! 69c

Bias cut—Vee top! Silhouette style with bodice or built-up shoulders!

SLIPS, sizes 46 to 52. Each....79c

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Women's Flannel $1.59 Skirts

Cut full and long! Sizes 26 to 32! $1

Swanky flannels and light colored tweeds—well-tailored for swagger fit and good looks. Buy now—to wear with your suit as a different costume!

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Published Every Sunday

News of Interest From Atlanta's Public Schools

Boisfeuillet Jones, Editor

GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL HONOR ROLL HAS 125

With boundless regret and pride, Girl's High sends the beloved Miss Allie B. Mann, head of the science department, to Grant Park school. The well-known educator is taking the position of principal, succeeding Mrs. W. P. Davis, who recently retired.

Miss Mann is president of the Georgia Educational Association, and she is former president of the Atlanta Public School Teacher's Association. While at G. H. S. she taught history, Latin, English, zoology, and physiology.

Last semester's honor roll was made up of the names of 125 girls of the Girl's High student body. Girls in the senior class and the freshman class making the necessary average of 80 per cent in each subject numbered 45; the junior class, 25; and the sophomore class, 10.

G. H. A. A. has the dates for the annual basketball tournament for April 2-3. The school head of basketball, Mary Jean Ivey, and the class heads, Elinor Williams, senior; Mary Calloway, junior; Elizabeth Cagle, sophomore, and Lenora Dunn, freshman, have sponsored practices every Monday and Thursday for the past eight weeks. Mrs. Harvey Parry, sponsor of the Girl's High Athletic Association, has continuously coached the girls attending. The approaching inter-class contest will undoubtedly be more than exciting!

ALICE CHEESEMAN.

MURPHY PUPILS SEE LIQUID AIR EXHIBITS

Two recent assemblies were much enjoyed and appreciated by Murphy students, on Friday, February 22, the entire student body met for the first time since the new Low-7's were added to Murphy. Clarice McGraw, president of the student body, presided. Two members of the American Legion spoke on the value of citizenship and urged every boy and girl to enter the contest upon this subject. A medal is to be awarded for the best essay.

Another assembly, for the eigth and ninth grades, was held Monday morning. We were honored in seeing many interesting experiments with liquid air, performed by Mr. Sloan.

The regular P.-T. A. meeting was held Wednesday, February 27, in the school auditorium. A special Founders' Day program was presented. Rev. W. A. Shelton, pastor of Grace Methodist church, talked on the subject, "Home, the Basis for Civic Social, and Moral Uplift." This meeting also commemorated the anniversary of the founding of Murphy school.

—MARY JANE ALLEN.

HOKE SMITH ENJOYS TALK ON CITIZENSHIP

At an assembly held Friday, February 22, Mr. Guy W. Moore, tax collector of Fulton county, gave a very interesting and straight-forward speech on "Loyalty to Our Country" to the boys and girls of Hoke Smith. Representing the citizenship committee, of the American Legion Post No. 1, he told of an essay contest in which all students in the high schools of Atlanta may compete. The subject is "Good Citizenship In 1935."

Hoke Smith has a lovely exhibit of triptychs in the art cabinet. These triptychs were made by the elective art classes last term, and are in the style of the popular Italian triptychs. The elective art classes are now doing original compositions in wide-stroke crayon. Some of them will soon begin linoleum block prints. Others will begin soap carving. The seventh grades are drawing animals.

MARY RUTH CANTRELL.

KEY PUPILS OBSERVE FEBRUARY BIRTHDAYS

Many of our upper grade boys enjoyed the swimming contests held at the Y. M. C. A. last week. Clarence Evans was the school champion in the 120-foot free-stlye race. George Bendure was the champion of the breast stroke and Lamar Kriger, champion of the 60-foot free-style race. George was not only school champion but city champion in the breast stroke.

High-6-2 observed the birthday of Washington with a program for all famous people born in February. They were glad to have Mr. Louis Geffen, Mrs. James Cerniglia, and Miss Hanes as honor guests, besides their mothers.

High-5-2 are enjoying the study of fractions. Twenty children had perfect papers on their weekly test.

Low-5 made plays and wrote poems for their Washington program.

High-4-1 won the Sunday school banner.

High-4-2 had an average of 100 per cent in spelling las week.

Low-4 have 20 girls and boys with perfect attendance records. Charles Bernath has a set of "The Book of Knowledge." He shares them with his class.

High-3-1 are interested in their library chart. A gold star is given for each book read and reported on.

High-3-2 have made some attractive Dutch rag dolls.

High-2-3 and Low-2-2 enjoyed their study of Washington. They are very proud of their new Indian pictures and story books they won as a prize. They are glad they are improving in spelling.

Low-2 gave a play on Washington's birthday.

High-1-2 have organized a library club. They are reading on community life. Herbert Gershon, Pauline Hope, Betty Lou Patterson, and Jimmy Dyer have read one of the new books.

Charlotte Silverman, Lawrence McGill, Morris Beck, James Tuttles, and Harold Ramos won prizes in the reading contest in High-1.

SIDNEY MENDEL.

COUCH CHILDREN SEE BIRD SONG RECORDER

Charles Underwood, Lee Little, Luther Zachry, Ossie Elsberry and Cecil Reeves from High 6 had the privilege of going to Piedmont park Friday morning to examine the apparatus for recording bird songs, belonging to Dr. Allen, of Cornell University.

Low 1 have been getting their garden ready for spring planting.

High 4 have been planting Iceland poppies in their garden.

John Henry McNiel made a very pretty Indian rug in Low 5.

Marion Brown made a pioneer cap out of furs she cured herself in High 5.

High 2 are glad to have Dorothy Goodman back. They are working on a play that they are going to give to the primary grades.

DOROTHY ELLERS.

Zoo at West School

Pupils of Anne E. West school are working hard to be the first school to be 100 per cent in dime contributions for buildings to house the Candler zoo. Low 1 class pupils have built a zoo, shown above, in their classroom, which has created interest in the dime campaign. The children in the picture are, left to right, Jane Orr, Esca Hollis, and Ian Black. Miss Irene Dover is teacher of the class. Photo by George Cornett, staff photographer.

GRANT PARK CHILDREN HAVE NEW PRINCIPAL

When we so lately were forced to relinquish our claim on our dear Mrs. Davis, whom we had loved for so long, we didn't know what might happen to us. We were sad, anxious, and uneasy, but now we feel differently. When we learned we were going to have Miss Allie Mann as our principal, we knew we were in capable hands. We feel highly honored in having Miss Mann sent to us. Surely of all boys and girls and teachers we are the most fortunate.

High 6-1 has finished a Georgia project. This included a log cabin scene with the negroes and a cotton patch, and a living picture show in play form.

Low 6-1 has organized a beauty seekers' club.

Low 6-2 and Low 5-2 combination are sorry to lose Harold Lockwood, but are glad to welcome a new pupil, Charles Shropshire. We are very busy going to different places in Europe to see how people live now and how they lived during the Middle Ages.

High 5-1 are very busy working out their reading graphs.

High 4-2 welcomed Harriet Morris from Greenwood, S. C., and Heulon Lancey from Portsmouth, Va.

High 5-2 enjoyed making George Washington hats as favors for the Junior Red Cross.

Low 5-2 are enjoying their new history work.

Girls of combination-1 are working on a health program.

The kindergarten children enjoyed their preparation for a George Washington party. They made caps, flags, and hatchets.

LILLIAN BRATCHER.

JONES CLASSES LEARN ABOUT FOREIGN LANDS

Jerome Jones was honored by a visit from Mrs. Branyan February 26, who talked to the children about the new zoo for Grant park.

The kindergarten children made attractive hats for Washington's birthday.

The first grade made George Washington hats. They had a parade and wore their hats.

Low 2 are planning a program about the Eskimos.

High 2 enjoyed having Buddie Kendrick from Samuel Inman school spend last Thursday with them.

Low 3 have been making camel color charts to go with their old Testament stories.

High 3 had a most delightful visit from Miss Hassell, who told them many interesting things about Japan.

Fourth grade have a border about Egypt on their board. They enjoyed having Miss Hellersoerger from Agnes Scott talk to them about Africa last Thursday.

Miss Nelle Allison gave Low 5 an interesting talk on China February 21.

High 5 have finished some pretty friezes for their room. They enjoyed Miss Marie Wagner from the Philippines on last Thursday.

Miss Laura Coit visited the sixth grade last week and the class would have stayed after school to hear her talk some more.

CHARLES EARWOOD,
ALBERT FELDMAN.

SPRING CHILDREN SEE SMALL RADIO STATION

The kindergarten children have a money box for the zoo. Bill Bowman brought $1 for it.

High 1 children made George Washington hats and wore them home last week.

High 2 are interested in the study of the Indians of Alaska.

High 4 enjoyed their visit to the radio station at Rich's Friday. Several of our class sang over it.

Low 4 and Low 5 are enjoying their library books. They are all hoping to win ribbons for reading.

High 4 are planning a program in honor of Longfellow.

Low 6 are proud of Jerry Morris, who won a bronze button in the 60-foot, free-style swim contest, and Grady Black, a button for the backstroke.

High 6 are proud of Edward Adams who won a bronze button in the 120-foot, free-style swim for Spring Street school.

ELINOR SAULS.

PEEPLES PUPILS WIN IN SWIMMING CONTEST

Low-1 are very interested in getting the new zoo for Grant Park.

High-1 are also interested in the zoo, and have brought 39 dimes.

Low-2 are making paper animals for their class room zoo.

High-2 are reading "Chiwee" and enjoying it very much.

High-3 have a lot of post-cards of Holland scenes. Their teacher, Miss Price, brought them back from Europe when she was abroad several years ago.

High-4-2 won the attendance banner last week.

Low-5 have some new fish to put in their aquarium.

High-5-1 are very proud of Albert Gray, who won first prize in the swimming contest at the Y. M. C. A.

High-5-2 have 18 on the honor roll. They have been very interested in getting the Candler zoo. They have collected $4.05.

In Low-6, there are five children who got on the honor roll. They are: Miriam Cooper, Kathleen Ivey, Christine Kahrs, Rachel Cowart, and Mary Margaret Blue.

In High-6-1, James Hall won the second prize in the swimming contest at the Y. M. C. A.

High-6-2 are studying the lives of many people who celebrated their birthdays in February.

JOYCE GILLELAND.

HIGHLAND PUPILS WIN AWARDS IN SWIMMING

Cuthbert Hill, of Low-6, won over other Highland contestants in the 120-foot swimming contest held at the Y. M. C. A. building this past week, and Richard Schreeder won in the 60-foot contest. We are proud that Cuthbert came second in the city swimming meet, thereby winning a silver Y. M. C. A. button.

High-5-2 have finished their new curtains for their stage and enjoy the block prints.

The boys and girls in the superior group in fifth grade reading dramatized their second play this week.

Low-5 are improving in their spelling graphs.

High-4 are sorry to lose Ruth Shaffer who has gone to Low-5, but they welcome Anne Moscowitz who has come to them from Low-4.

Low-4 have enjoyed painting and coloring maps.

Low-3 are studying shepherd life.

High-2 enjoyed making George Washington favors.

Miss Corley's High and Low-2 are glad to have Lena Keith back after a long absence.

David Howard brought a cocoon to kindergarten last week.

PATSY ELOSOR.

ADAIR SIXTH GRADERS SEE FOREIGN STAMPS

Martha Thompson and Irma Garrett have finished a lovely health chart for High 6-2.

Marion Ward, of Low 6, has brought some postage stamps from China, Japan, Russia, Indo-China and Ceylon for the class to see. He also brought a Chinese Christmas card to show the children.

Thirty-seven children of High 5-2 made maps of flour and salt. Some of them made the continent of North America and the others made just the United States.

Low 4 liked to go to the auditorium to dance the Klappdans Folk Dance.

High 2 are very sorry their teacher, Miss Jones, is absent on account of illness. They are enjoying having Mrs. Johnson teach them, however.

RUTH HAWKINS,
HILDRED McCLURE.

RIVERS SCHOOL CLASS ENTERTAINS TEACHER

Miss Merrill McMichael, one of the seventh grade teachers, was entertained at a birthday party by her class last Friday. They gave her a flower shower and a number of gifts. They enjoyed cake and ice cream.

Arthur Burdett, from Miss Michael's room, was absent Friday, due to the death of his grandfather, Mr. B. F. Burdett.

MARY JANE CAMPBELL,
MARY CARTER.

Superintendent's Message

My dear Boys and Girls:

Each of us thoroughly enjoys our association with older people. Many of us have grandmothers and grandfathers, and some of us have even been fortunate enough to have great grandmothers and great-grandfathers. Old age has been honored, respected and loved throughout all the years.

I have thought that possibly one of the greatest things that our boys and girls could do would be to honor, respect and assist the old people in their community. Wouldn't it be a fine thing if each school should seek out all the people of the community who are past 60 or 70 years of age and would make them special objects of their love and affections? It would be a fine thing for our young people to visit these older people and to gain from them the knowledge which they have garnered through all the years.

Many of our greatest institutions are very anxious to use the experience of old age. The church, in all ages, has looked to people who have lived 50, 60, 70 and 80 years for guidance in the great movement of religion. The great life insurance companies have an age limit; even our federal government puts an age limit under which no man can become president of the United States. So it does seem to me that we should greatly honor old age wherever we find it, and try to make old people very happy.

Always your friend,
WILLIS A. SUTTON, Superintendent of Schools.

NIGHT SCHOOL PLANS DEBATE FOR MONDAY

One of the most interesting events of the Central Night school, was the meeting of the Alumni Association, which was held on Thursday night, February 28, in the school auditorium. A very interesting program was planned and was enjoyed by all who attended. The meeting was presided over by Carl E. Pruett, president of last year's senior class.

Another event was that of the Hi-Y and the Tri-Hi-Y Clubs. They had their annual social, which was a wiener roast on Stone mountain, Thursday night, February 28, and that too was enjoyed by all.

The fourth debate of the two Literary Societies will be held in the school auditorium, on March 4. The public is invited. There are usually five debates during the year, and the one who wins either three or four out of five debates wins the Claude S. Bennett cup.

The student body of Central Night is very glad to have back among their midst, the president of student council, Ray Hartwell, who was critically ill with ptomaine poison.

The last issue of the ModernKnight carried the announcement of the resignation of the editor-in-chief, Lennis L. Jackson, who was forced to take this leave of absence on account of ill health. Arthur Cooper will take his place. —FLORENCE COLVIN.

THREE NEW CHILDREN WELCOMED AT WEST

We were glad to have Mrs. Branyon, of the Georgia, visit our school and talk to us about the zoo.

The Kindergarten children made badges and head bands for George Washington's birthday, and enjoyed joining in a parade with the Low and High first graders.

High 1 are so sorry that Harry Cornett has broken his ankle.

Low 2 are enjoying reading "The Eskimo Twins."

Oh, how glad High 2 are to welcome three new girls: Dorothy and Eleanor Cornwall and Jeanett Hodge.

Low 3 celebrated Washington's birthday by cutting down the cherry tree. They are making an Arabian sand table.

My, what a time the pupils of Low 4 are having on their cruise on the Mediterranean sea. They are making a special study of the Phoenicians.

Six girls in High 4 are looking forward to taking swimming lessons at the Y. W. C. A.

Low 5 are looking forward to their visit to the capitol.

High 5 are so proud of their room. It has just been painted.

RUTH BANKS,
MARY ANN JOHNSON.

LEE FOURTH GRADERS MAKE STANTON SLIDES

Low-1 have decorated a box with elephants in which to keep their money for the zoo.

High-1 have their money box for the zoo in their "Little Theater" like shows up town.

Low-2 completed their study of Eskimos this week.

Low-3 have health charts on the black board.

High-3 have been getting up a "Dutch Doll Dance" for four little girls who are going to be in the doll show. These children are Joyce Vass, Patricia Paris, Jeane Andrews and Helen Landrum.

Low-4 have had a very enjoyable week with the memories of George Washington and Frank L. Stanton. Mrs. Shaw had been to Stanton's home and made kodak pictures of the house. The class reproduced the pictures on slides for the picture machine.

High-4 have decorated their windows with scenes from Viking life.

Low-5 have had the banking banner for the past three weeks.

High-6 had a candy pulling Friday. Mary won the attendance prize at P. T. A. Tuesday.

MARY LOUISE HARRIS.

PUPILS AT KIRKWOOD BUILD A DUTCH FARM

High 5-2 are studying Holland and they are making a Dutch farm on their table.

In connection with George Washington program invited Miss Sutton's grade mothers to see it.

Our class are trying to collect as many as possible for Candler zoo.

Those who entered the final swimming meet were Marion Sutton, Gordon Kelly and Richard Rankin.

High 5-2 made a board border of George Washington and are studying his life.

Low 6-1 and Low 6-2 have been enjoying playing their new game, batball.

We are glad to say that Miss Jackson, teacher of Low 6-2, who has been ill in the hospital, returned home yesterday and is much better. During her absence, Mrs. Kane has taught the class and the children have become very fond of her.

MARGARET MILAM.

FAITH SECOND GRADE SEES INDIAN WIGWAM

High 6 were proud of W. B. Cannon and Johnnie Daniel who won buttons for swimming at the Y. M. C. A.

High 3 have brought in $2.50 for the Candler zoo and Carl Jones and Mary Jane Shepard are ahead in bringing in dimes.

High 4 are sorry that Viola Laughter has been out with the mumps.

In High 2, Billy Scoggins brought a wigwam to help us in our study about the Indians.

High 5-2 are glad to have a map of stars.

High 4-2 have been making silhouette booklets of George Washington.

High 2 are planting their seeds for spring flowers.

A "baby turtle" is in low kindergarten. They enjoyed the Little Red Hen and other pictures Monday. They are glad to have Billie Wright back at school.

LAURA ELLEN WOODALL.

GOLDSMITH COLLECTS DIMES TO HOUSE ZOO

Goldsmith children are so happy to have the workmen paint their rooms in bright fresh colors.

Everyone in the school is interested in helping the zoo. Most of the children have brought dimes to help shelter the lovely gifts Mr. Candler has given us.

We were so glad to have Joseph D. Smith, Jasper Smith and James Bratcher represent our school in the Y. M. C. A. swimming meet. None of them won in the final meet, but Joseph won in the first trial and lost out in the second. All of them had a very good showing for Goldsmith and we are proud of them.

ISABELLE WHITAKER.

OPPORTUNITY SCHOOL FOURTEEN YEARS OLD

The fourteenth birthday of the Atlanta Opportunity school was observed in a short assembly program on February 21, by the students and the faculty.

Highlights in the history of the school were brought to the attention of the group by C. H. Kicklighter, principal. He presented Mrs. Lota W. Orr, the first teacher of the school in 1921. Mrs. Orr is a member of the faculty at the present time after having served as organizer of other opportunity schools in Georgia over a period of years.

Another interesting fact mentioned was that the school is not only a part of the Atlanta public school system, but is a part of the national and state vocational education program. This is made possible through the Smith-Hughes fund, which is directed in the state by J. F. Cannon, state supervisor of trade and industrial education.

From its small beginning in the Commercial High school building, the school now located at Spring and Baker streets, occupies two floors, and has grown steadily year by year in numbers. The enrollment for the present year has exceeded 2,000. Many enter for a short time course and others continue during the whole year.

As an adult school with training offered in trades, industries and business, the school represents a new and interesting type of vocational education in Georgia. MARIE DUNBAR.

COMMERCIAL SCHOOL HOST TO RED CROSS

The first county-wide convention of faculty sponsors and student representatives of the Red Cross organization was entertained on January 20, by Commercial. Sixty-five city and county schools were represented at this convention.

Miss Eleanor Wheeler, secretary of the Junior Red Cross Chapter, of Atlanta, arranged the meeting, which was sponsored by the Atlanta Junior Associates Club. The invitations and flags of 10 nations were made by students of Bass Junior High.

Thirty of the schools which were represented participated in the program. David Macarov, of Commercial, who attended the National Red Cross convention at Washington, D. C., last year, had charge of the program.

A delegation from the DeKalb County Red Cross Chapter, attended the meeting. Mr. James A. Reeves, chairman of the Atlanta Red Cross Chapter, was the guest speaker.

TRILBY STEIN.

JOE BROWN SENIORS CHOOSE CLASS HEAD

Bill Simmons, 9-H-1, is the winner in the race for senior president at Joe Brown Junior High school. Bill won over the field of 10 candidates. Bill Simmons, Lacy Taylor, Carl Meadows, Harold Whiteman, Jack Wilder, Doris Tilly, William Moore, Wallace White, James Crowley and Nell Simmons. Bill's managers were Frances Ellenburgh and Alvin Brown, also of 9-H-1.

The contest for "Miss Joe Brown," began the week of February 25. A candidate will come from each 9-H homeroom. Candidates will be selected on the triple basis of scholarship, citizenship and health. The judges invited to help select "Miss Joe Brown" will co-operate with Mrs. J. R. Hunt, of the health department, and Mrs. H. M. Pittman, of the physical education department.

JERYLIE HENDRIX.

TENTH CLASS STUDIES STARS BY TELESCOPE

High 6-J enjoyed very much the visit to Judge Humphries' home Friday evening, where they looked at the stars through a large telescope and listened to a most interesting lecture on stars.

High 6-C will begin a "sky study" in our nature period. We hope to learn much about the stars.

Low 6 have formed a "home room" club, as suggested by Dr. Sutton, and are expecting a decided improvement in citizenship by living as well as by discussing desirable traits of character.

High 5-P are sorry that Mrs. Pennington is sick and they hope she will soon be back.

High 5-T have enjoyed making a pioneer border of black and white on their blackboard.

Low 5 are enjoying their study of colonial life. They are drawing pictures and writing poems about great leaders who settled our own country.

High 4-A have completed their blackboard border. Each panel shows an interesting event about Viking life.

High 4-C are building the coast line of Norway on their sandtable.

Low 4 are collecting foods that are made from wheat.

High 3 are making an imaginary trip around the world.

Mrs. Akin's class are finishing up their Eskimo unit of work.

Mrs. Tupper's class are working hard on their spelling. They enjoyed stories about George Washington. They like to go to the library.

Low 2 are busy working on an Eskimo sandtable.

Miss Berman's class had perfect attendance Monday. They are 100 per cent in dental certificates.

Mrs. Hardman's class are building a safety city.

Low 1 are proud to welcome three new pupils to their class. They are getting ready for their next assembly.

High and low kindergarten are 100 per cent in health certificates and high kindergarten are 100 per cent in dental and health certificates.

BETTY LAMONS.

MORNINGSIDE CHILDREN VISIT EMORY MUSEUM

Our school was glad to have Miss Slocumb visit us on Monday.

The boys of Morningside who went to the Y. M. C. A. to enter the swimming contest had a good time. Dudley Pennington, Sam Hadnett, and Billy Daniels, won buttons.

High-1 enjoyed their trip to the fire station very much.

Low-3 are glad to have Jean Swenly back at school.

Low-4 enjoyed their visit to Emory museum very much.

High-4 are sorry to lose Tommy Lackland who is going to Albany to live.

High-5 had their first spring painting lesson, Friday.

Willoughby Lathem and Rhyne Andrews of High-6 enjoyed the trip to Emory Museum very much with the fourth grade.

—HELEN HUBBARD.

Two of Nation's Most Popular Symphonies Will Give Broadcasts Over WGST Today

JOSE ITURBI.

Networks Tonight

NBC-WEAF.

BASIC—East: WEAF WLW WEEI WTIC WJAR WTAG WCSH KYW WHIO WFBR WRC WGY WREN WCAE WTAM WWJ WSAI. Midwest: KSD WMAQ WCFL WHO WOW WDAF WKBF.

SOUTH—WRVA WPTF WWNC WIS WJAX WFLA-WSUN WIOD WSM WMC WSB WAPI WJDX WSMB KVOO WKY WFAA WSAP KPRC WOAI KTBS KTHS WSOC WAVE WTAR.

6:00—Kay Seven, spy dramas.
6:30—Sigurd Nilssen, basso.
6:45—Wendell Hall and Ukulele.
7:00—The Opera Guild—also coast.
8:00—Merry Go 'Round—coast to coast.
8:30—Revue in Music—coast to coast.
9:00—Jane Froman and orchestra—coast to coast.
9:30—One Man's Family, serial.
10:00—Henry King orchestra—east; Wendell Hall—repeat for the west.
10:30—Press-Radio News period.
10:35—J. Cherniavsky orchestra.
11:00—Abe Lyman and orchestra.
11:30—Don Pedro and orchestra.

CBS-WABC.

BASIC—East: WABC WADC WOKO WCAO WAAB WNAC WGR WKBW WKRC WHK CKLW WDRC WCAU WJAS WEAN WFBL WSPD WJSV WBNS. Midwest: WBBM WFBM KMBC KMOX WOWO WHAS KFAB.

DIXIE—WGST WSFA WBRC WQAM WDOD KLRA WREC WLAC WDSU WTOC KRLD WRR KTRH KTSA WACO KOMA WDAY WFAA WBIG WDBJ WWVA WMBG WSJS WMBR WALA KTUL KGKO WCOA WDNC WNOX KWKH.

6:00—Alexander Woollcott—basic; Around the Console—Dixie.
6:30—Charles Winninger—basic; Chicago Concert orchestra—midwest.
7:00—Eddie Cantor and His Show.
7:30—Club Romance, musicale.
8:00—Detroit Symphony—coast to coast.
9:00—Wayne King orchestra—to coast.
9:30—William A. Brady, talk.
9:45—To be announced.
10:15—Press-Radio News period.
10:20—Little J. Little orchestra.
10:30—Leon Belasco's orchestra.
11:00—Cab Calloway's orchestra.
11:15—Gus Arnheim and orchestra.
11:30—Joe Haymes and orchestra.

NBC-WJZ.

BASIC—East: WJZ WBZ-WBZA WBAL WHAM KDKA WGAR WJR WLW WSYR WMAL WFIL. Midwest: WCKY WENR WLS KWK KWCR KOIL WREN WMAQ KSO WKBF.

SOUTH—WRVA WPTF WWNC WIS WJAX WFLA-WSUN WIOD WSM WMC WSB WAPI WJDX WSMB KVOO WKY WFAA WRAP KPRC WOAI KTBS KTHS WSOC WAVE.

6:00—Jack Benny and His Cast.
6:30—Joe Penner's Radio Show.
7:00—Sunday Symphony hour.
8:00—Charles Previn's orchestra.
8:30—Walter Wiechell's Column.
8:45—Sherlock Holmes Stories.
9:15—Songs by Shirley Howard.
9:30—American Fireside, talks.
10:00—Jesters Male Vocal trio.
10:10—Press-Radio News period.
10:15—Jesse Crawford, organ—east; Walter Winchell—west repeat.
10:30—Emil Coleman orchestra.
11:00—Freddie Berrens' orchestra.
11:30—Stan Myers and orchestra.

Shortwave

(The following listings, subject to change without notice, are daily except where noted. The Constitution will present them once a month, corrected to the day of issue. Shortwave listeners will find the schedule of daily value if clipped.)

Central Standard (Atlanta) Time.

Mega.	Meter	Station	Time
6.00—50.00—	RV49,	Moscow	3-5 pm
6.02—49.83—	DJC,	Berlin	2-10:30 pm
6.05—49.59—	GSA,	London	2:45-5:45; 6-8 pm
9.51—31.55—	GSB,	London	11 am—5:45 pm
9.56—31.38—	DJA,	London	8-11 am; 5:15-7:30 pm
9.58—31.30—	GSC,	London	6-8 pm
9.85—30.43—	EAQ,	Madrid	5:30-8 pm
11.70—25.64—	FYA,	Paris	3-6 pm; 6:15-12
11.75—25.53—	GSD,	London	1:15-3:15 am; 1:15-2:45 pm 2-4:30
11.76—25.51—	DJD,	Berlin	pm; 9-12
11.81—25.40—	12RO,	Rome	Daily schedule.
11.86—25.29—	GSE,	London	9 am-1 pm
15.24—25.21—	FYA,	Paris	11:15 am-2:15 pm
15.12—19.84—	HVJ,	Vatican	5-5:15 am
17.77—19.82—	GSG,	London	7-11 am
15.20—19.74—	DJB,	Berlin	7:30-11:30 am
11.90—19.70—	FYA,	Paris	8-11 am
15.14—16.90—	GSF,	London	7-8:30 am

Most United States short-wave stations may be found on the 19, 25, 31 and 49-meter bands, amateur phones of 20, 75 and 160 meters, police transmitters on 120 and 175 meters and airplane dispatchers on 0 (day) and 120 (night) meters. These bands are interspersed with other stations of various classifications.

PUPILS AT HOME PARK ENJOY HUMANE TALKS

Mr. Joe McGrath, president of the Atlanta Humane Society, and Mr. Julian Boehm, vice president, gave the upper grades a very interesting and instructive talk last Monday on "Humane Education."

The high kindergarten children are very busy making scrap books.

Low-1 are planting a miniature garden in their sand box. They have Irish potatoes, onions, lettuce, and radishes growing nicely. They expect to enjoy a good vegetable dinner later on.

Low-2 are glad to have Floyd Watson from Jackson, Tenn., enter their class.

Low-3 are enjoying the study of wool.

High-3-1 have started on their trip to Japan.

Low-4 elected the following officers: Betty Gable, president; Gerald Paller, vice president; Lois Pruitt, secretary; Ferd Jamison, treasurer.

High-5 are very glad to welcome a new pupil, Charles Adams.

High-6 are very proud of their record in spelling on Friday. Twenty-five members of the class made 100.

JACK ROOKS.

Just Souvenirs.

PITTSBURG—Mrs. William Turner, wife of the postmaster, has a two $1 money orders which she probably won't cash. Her husband noticed that the postoffice had reached the end of a million orders of a single series. So he took out No. 1,000,000 himself and mailed it home. Then for good measure he took out No. 1 of the new Druid Hills Quartet and Gulf Headliners Also Will Be Heard.

Jose Iturbi, brilliant young Spanish pianist, will be guest soloist with the Ford Symphony Orchestra and Chorus, under the direction of Victor Kolar, over WGST, from 8 to 9 o'clock, tonight.

Vera Van, the velvet blue songstress, will be heard with Donald Novis and Freddie Martin's orchestra on the "Open House" program over WGST at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The Philharmonic-Symphony Society of New York, conducted by Hans Lange, will commemorate the 250th anniversary of the birth of Johann Sebastian Bach with a special program featuring works by Bach and R. Vaughan Williams over WGST at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Another priceless old gem from his hoard of tear-jerking ballads of bygone days, sung in Charlie Winninger's heart-rending manner, will feature the Gulf show tonight at 6:30 to 5 o'clock over WGST.

The "National Amateur Night" broadcast will be heard over WGST at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Eddie Cantor will headline another program of fast-moving comedy, in which he will be supported by Harry Einstein as "Parkyakakas" and by Ted Husing over WGST from 7 to 7:30 o'clock tonight.

FORD HOUR.

Jose Iturbi, brilliant young Spanish master of the piano, will be guest artist with the Ford Symphony orchestra, under Victor Kolar, during the Ford Symphony Evening hour broadcast tonight. The program, in which the 44-voice Ford chorus will be heard, is presented from 8 to 9 o'clock over WGST tonight.

Mr. Iturbi is without doubt one of the most brilliant of the world's younger generation of pianists. He is of Basque descent, but was born in Valencia, Spain. At seven, he was a child prodigy, not only startling Spanish critics with his concert performances, but also giving lessons to pupils three and four times his age. He began his studies in the Valencia Conservatory, and then in Barcelona. Then, such was the pride of his fellow citizens in him that a public collection was taken up in Valencia to finance his course in the Paris Conservatory.

Since his graduation from that institution, Iturbi's career has been brief but brilliant. Little more than a boy, he was offered and accepted the position of head of the piano faculty at the Geneva Conservatory, a position once held by the immortal Liszt. After four years in Geneva, he began his world-wide concert career, which, in a short space of time, has established him as one of the truly "greats" of music. His first tour of this country was in 1929, since when he has returned regularly. In his first tour, he played 27 concerts from coast to coast in a little more than three months, a record which has been exceeded in this country only by the great Paderewski.

DRUID HILLS QUARTET.

Dr. Louie D. Newton will speak on "The Vision of the Valley" Sunday morning during the Druid Hills hour over WGST at 9:15 o'clock. A group of old hymns will be sung by the Druid Hills quartet, composed of Mrs. Gerald Mitchell, soprano; Mrs. Luther Byrd, contralto; T. Stanley Perry, tenor, and Raymond Nixon, baritone. Mrs. John B. Felder will accompany the quartet on the organ of the Druid Hills Baptist church. This program is broadcast by remote control every Sunday morning over WGST and has established a wide audience throughout the southeast.

NEW YORK PHILHARMONIC.

A special program commemorating the 250th anniversary of the birth of Johann Sebastian Bach and featuring the Philharmonic-Symphony Society of New York, conducted by Hans Lange, will be broadcast over WGST from 2 to 4 o'clock this afternoon. Remo Bolognini, violinist, will be the guest soloist playing the G minor concerto with orchestra.

The highlights of the concert, broadcast from Carnegie Hall, New York city, will offer the radio premieres of Eliot Wheaton's transcriptions of two Choral-Preludes originally written by Bach for the organ. These include the transcription for small orchestra of the choral-prelude titled "Erbarm dich Mein, O Herre Gott," and a transcription for full orchestra of "Aus Tiefer Noth Schrei' ich zu Dir." These two works will be followed by the Bach choral-prelude "Eine Feste Burg Ist Unser Gott," transcribed for full orchestra by Walter Damrosch.

The first half of the program conducted by Lange will be devoted to "A London Symphony," by R. Vaughan Williams, last performed in New York by the Symphony Society under Walter Damrosch. It consists of a series of vivid moods inspired by impression of various parts of London. Albert Coates, the eminent conductor, first introduced the work to America in 1920.

The Bach portion of the program also will include the Brandenburg Concerto No. 3 in G major, for strings. Although there is some confusion about the exact date of Bach's birth, it is commonly accepted that the noted organist and composer was born on March 21, 1685, at Eisenach. He died at Leipzig in 1750.

GULF HEADLINERS.

Charles Winninger as the "Captain" will guide his crew of "Gulf Headliners" over the airwaves of WGST tonight from 6:30 to 7 o'clock. Winninger will feature an old-time ballad with accompanying sound effects; and in the role of master-of-ceremonies will introduce the Pickens Sisters, who will sing "Winter Wonderland;" Frank Parker, tenor, offering "Autumn in New York," from the new musical production, "Thumbs Up," and the famous quartet, the "Revellers," presenting their version of "Little Red Drum." Special orchestrations of "Music Makes Me," from the popular production of several years ago, "Flying Down to Rio," and "Bambalina," will be featured by Frank Tours' orchestra. The ensemble will conclude with a medley of tunes from "The Band Wagon."

NATIONAL AMATEUR NIGHT.

Miss Louise Cirillo, 24-year-old vocal student, has a substantial lead over her nearest competitor in the audience vote based on a recent "National Amateur Night" broadcast and probably will be featured in the amateur broadcast over WGST this afternoon, from 5 to 5:30 o'clock. For this appearance she will be paid a professional salary.

Under the guidance of Arnold Johnson, conductor, and Ray Perkins, master-of-ceremonies, Miss Cirillo will head a group of amateur artists, all except herself to be presented to a nation-wide audience for the first time. Even though the vote is not final, Miss Cirillo already has signified that she wishes to sing an aria from "La Traviata" in her second microphone appearance. She sang "Giannina Mia" in her initial broadcast.

EDDIE CANTOR.

A salute to the memory of John Philip Sousa, famous bandmaster and march composer, will be a musical highlight of Eddie Cantor's program over WGST from 7 to 7:30 o'clock tonight. Sousa, whose ability as a composer of marches won him the title of "The March King," was bandmaster of the United States Marine band from 1890 to 1892, and since then until his death in 1932 was director of Sousa's band, one of America's best-known musical organizations.

Rubinoff will direct his orchestra in a medley of Sousa's outstanding band compositions, "Memories of John Philip Sousa," including the selections, "Washington Post March," "The White Man," "The Thunderer," "Semper Fidelis," "Hands Across the Sea," "El Capitan," "The Black Man," "The Red Man," and "Stars and Stripes Forever." Other orchestral selections will include the popular favorites, "June in January," and "Fare Thee Well, Annabelle," and Rubinoff and his violin will be featured in the solo, "In My Solitude."

VERA VAN.

336.9 Meters — WGST — 890 Kilocycles

7:00 A. M.—World Revue.
7:30—Lyric Serenade, CBS.
7:45—Sidney Raphael, pianist, CBS.
8:00—Sunday Morning at Aunt Susan's, Children's Program, CBS.
9:00—News.
9:15—Druid Hills Hour.
9:45—Radio church, Dr. Witherspoon Dodge.
10:00—Reflections, Instrumental with Vocal Duets, CBS.
10:30—Salt Lake City Tabernacle Choir, CBS.
11:00—Druid Hills Baptist Church Services.
12:30 P. M.—Modes in Music.
12:45—Celia Adler and Co., CBS.
1:00—Lazy Dan, the Minstrel Man, CBS.
1:30—Hammerstein's Music Hall of the Air, Ted Hammerstein with Guest Stars, CBS.
2:00—The Philharmonic Symphony Society of New York, CBS.
4:00—"Open House," with Donald Novis, Vera Van and Freddie Martin's orchestra, CBS.
4:30—Metropolitan Moods.
5:00—National Amateur Night, Ray Perkins, M. C.; Arnold Johnson's orchestra, Amateur Talent, CBS.
5:30—Distinctive Dramas.
5:45—Judge Rutherford.
6:00—Around the Console, CBS.
6:15—Modes in Music.
6:30—Gulf Headliners, Charles Winninger and Frank Tour's orchestra, CBS.
7:00—Eddie Cantor, CBS.
7:30—Club Romance, Conrad Thibault, baritone; Lois Bennett, soprano, and Don Voorhee's orchestra, CBS.
8:00—The Ford Sunday Evenin gHour, CBS.
9:00—Symphony of Life.
9:30—William A. Brady, Behind the Scenes, CBS.
9:45—Fray and Braggiotti, CBS.
10:00—Press-Radio News, CBS.
10:05

THE CONSTITUTION'S PARENT-TEACHER PAGE

Edited by MAINER LEE TOLER

OFFICERS OF GEORGIA CONGRESS OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS—President, Mrs. Charles Center, College Park; first vice president, Mrs. M. H. Coleman, Marietta; second vice president, Mrs. Otto Kolb; third vice president, Mrs. Cooper Campbell, Columbus; fourth vice president, Mrs. D. D. Smith, Swainsboro; fifth vice president, Mrs. Frank David, Columbus; sixth vice president, Mrs. J. W. Sibert, Augusta; seventh vice president, Mrs. W. E. Monts, Washington; recording secretary, Mrs. Bruce Carr Jones, Macon; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. A. Long, Atlanta; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Scanling, Atlanta; historian, Mrs. Joe Dan Miller, Atlanta; parliamentarian, Mrs. J. Nunnally Johnson.

OFFICERS OF ATLANTA COUNCIL OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS—Mrs. D. R. Longino, president; Mrs. Ralph McClelland, vice president; Mrs. A. C. Spinks, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. D. Thomas, recording secretary; Mrs. C. S. Knight, treasurer.

Decatur Parent-Teacher Council Features Recreational Program

Professor Lamar Ferguson spoke on the recreational program for Decatur at the meeting of the Decatur P.-T. A. council, held Wednesday in the auditorium of the Girls' High school of Decatur, at which Mrs. Max Flynt, first vice president, presided, in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. H. Dougherty.

Mrs. C. B. Owens, president of the Boys' High P.-T. A., also made an enlightening talk on the progress of the community recreational center, which is being widely discussed at present.

Presidents of local parent-teacher organizations gave reports of the progress of their organizations, and during the year, some of the most outstanding accomplishments of these being the family service work, and the interest created in the various study groups which meet each month for parent education; the building of the new fire escapes at each school building; the recreational program, and the addition of music in the school work which begins next fall. The presidents who made these reports were: Mrs. William Keller, Glenwood P.-T. A.; Mrs. Clay Penick, Ponce de Leon P.-T. A.; Mrs. William Bang, Winona P.-T. A.; Mrs. Charles L. Chase, Fifth Avenue P.-T. A.; Mrs. R. S. Radford, Oakhurst P.-T. A.; Mrs. C. B. Owens, Boys' High P.-T. A., and Mrs. W. S. Elkin, Junior Girls' High P.-T. A.

Directors of the different departments also gave yearly reports. These departments and their directors are: Education, Professor Lamar Ferguson; organization, Mrs. Max Flynt; extension, Mrs. R. J. Scott; home service, Mrs. Arthur Blake; health, Mrs. Joe Little; public welfare, Mrs. J. H. Dougherty. Each local parent-teacher organization made the superior standard, including the state seal. The following officers have been nominated to serve during the forthcoming year: Mrs. Max Flynt, president; Mrs. M. W. Cowan, first vice president; Mrs. R. J. Scott, second vice president; Mrs. Roy Amsler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. M. Barker, recording secretary; Mrs. B. F. Denning, treasurer, and Mrs. T. M. Griffin, historian.

P.-T. A. Correspondence Courses Offer Valuable Information, Training

By MRS. WHEELER TOLBERT, Director of Publicity, Georgia P.-T. A.

Mrs. M. W. Cowan, of Decatur, state chairman of national correspondence courses in the Georgia Parent-Teacher department of extension, of which Mrs. Cooper Campbell is the director, urges the wide use of the correspondence courses by all organizations in the Georgia branch as a means of securing valuable information and inspiration and for training in leadership. Mrs. Cowan writes as follows:

"Your chairman of national correspondence courses extends to each member of our Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers a hearty and sincere wish that this year shall mean much to you in fruitful service and happiness in your work. Happiness in our work implies knowing what to do and how to do it, and the auswer to that is in our parent-teacher work is — our national correspondence courses.

"Just ahead of us is the selection of our leaders for the 1935-1936 school year and possibly the present boards—local, council, etc., could make no greater contribution to the next year's work than to have a class right away before the election of officers on this leadership course, "A-B," which is on organization and committee work.

"These eight simple courses are so designed that any group anywhere may avail themselves of this means to develop trained leaders and workers and to learn the easiest and most progressive and effective methods of procedure in any parent-teacher work.

"Also let me tell you how easy and simple thees courses are. We also suggest that course "A-B" be made the foundation of your course work. With your board as a nucleus and drawing in every potential leader in your association, would not such a study of course "A-B" insure to your organization a group of informed trained workers which would mean a larger participating membership for information breeds inspiration. "To know is to grow. Knowing, growing, glowing, going on." Is this a challenge? Will you accept it?"

Mrs. Katherine Weathersbee, of College Park, who has done so much to further the work in humane education among the children of Georgia, announces the credo of the Georgia congress concerning humane education and urges that reports of the work accomplished be sent to her as state chairman and to council and district chairmen. Mrs. Weathersbee's message follows:

"The supreme test of an education is one's appreciation of the feeling of other living things. The Georgia branch of the Congress of Parents and Teachers is interested in humane education in home, school and community and has adopted the following credo:

"'We believe it is—

"'Right to train every child to think and act humanely.

"'Easier to cultivate good habits than to remove bad ones.

"'Cheaper to prevent crimes than to cure criminals.

"'Wiser to form character than to reform it.'

"All local associations in Georgia have been urged this year to work as never before in the training for nobility of character. This work has been done in the majority of associations in the state. The time is drawing near for our fiscal year to come to a close. In order to measure our progress we must report the work we have done; therefore, as state chairman of humane education, I request that all associations answer the following questions and send a copy to their council, district and state chairmen not later than this week.

"All associations are requested to answer the following questions: Have you a humane education chairman in your association? Have you distributed humane education leaflets among your classroom teachers? Is your local sponsoring humane education posters? Will your school be represented at the convention? Have you a humane education scrapbook? Will you send scrapbook to convention? Is your local sponsoring 'Be Kind to Animals Week' in April? Did your local sponsor one or more programs in humane education, either by an informed speaker or by a 10-minute play by the children? How many bands of mercy or kindness clubs has your school?"

A crystallization of the collective thinking of the great group of national Parent-Teacher workers is expressed in the following resolution adopted: "The wise use of leisure demands good quality library service for all people, rural as well as urban; public parks making available outdoor recreation; civic recreational centers in schools or other semi-public buildings, under well-trained leadership or supervision. We approve a local board to provide and administer leisure time opportunities, publicly supported and publicly supervised.

Our local associations are expected to use our congress resolutions for programs, discussions and publicity. In Georgia we have already in working organization the nucleus for emphasis of the above resolution. In making plans for summer endeavors, excellence in the organization of which is awarded each year by the Mattie Talmadge award. Reports of work done last summer, including any aid toward the organization of a library in or out of school, provision of books for community reading; children's reading groups; adult reading groups fostered by P.-T. A.; recreation work done in summer; health checkup or accomplishment in the summer. All of this should be reported on the blanks for the purpose and forwarded to the state chairman of each endeavor or to Mrs. M. H. Coleman, Marietta, Ga., as soon as possible.

P.-T. A. Council Plans Meetings.

Executive board of Atlanta Council of Parents and Teachers meets Monday morning, March 4, at 10 o'clock in Rich's conference room. The Atlanta Council of Parents and Teachers meets Thursday morning, March 7, at 10 o'clock in Sterchi's clubroom.

Parents and Teachers Continue To Honor Founders of Organization

In tribute to Mrs. Alice McClelland McBurney, Mrs. Percy Rich, a member of the Atlanta executive board of the P.-T. A. and membership chairman of the state board, quoted a poem closing with the following:

"The taper that I lighted then with prayer
Has now become the soft illuminant glow
Of myriad candles lighting up the world."

Mrs. Rich spoke on the founding of the P.-T. A., which has grown from the first Mothers' Congress meeting in Washington, D. C., on February 17, 1897, with the aim "of making the child the watchword and ward of the day and the hour" to include one and a half million members in the United States and abroad.

In honor of Founders' Day all the past presidents of Mary Lin Association were invited. Mrs. R. F. Wells, president, introduced the following: Mesdames F. I. McDonald, George Powell, Guy Friddell and J. E. Biggs. Those unable to be present were Mesdames Antilotti, Frank McCormick, Frank Kopf, B. E. Walker and J. R. Gresham.

Mrs. E. E. Barrie, program chairman, announced a daddies' meeting in March with Dr. David Marx as speaker. Mesdames H. W. Mason, H. C. This, S. C. Griffin, Miss Mary Lin and Mrs. Carl Langford, were named on the committee to nominate officers for the coming year.

A parent education class will be held Thursday, March 13, from 9 to 10:30 o'clock, followed by a pre-school meeting from 10:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

Under direction of Mrs. J. C. Carter, a chorus composed of Mesdames Rex Edmondson, A. W. Cook, G. O. Guest, Leon Bridges, C. A. Webster, W. J. Davis, W. H. Adamson, B. P. West and her daughter, Miss Sarah Sue West, gave several songs. Miss Rosalind Shepherd's Low 6 and Miss Margaret Mackie's Low 3 were awarded grade prizes.

Highland Reports.

"Acting is life," declared Mrs. Richard Battle, who spoke to Highland P.-T. A. members, Tuesday, on "Why We Teach Dramatics." "If you want to be a power in the world, learn to speak. Every one needs poise, not brazen impudence," she stated. Mrs. J. C. Malone, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Battle.

Founders' Day was observed in a unique manner by a "Highland broadcast" given by Mary Manning Peters, Amy Lou Bishop, Estelle Anderson, and Anne Perry Nowell, of Mrs. Marion Merritt's High 5 class. Important events in the history of the congress and teachers were featured. Mrs. Francis Evans, president, read a tribute to the parent-teacher founders, Mrs. Alice McClellan Birney and Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst.

A nominating committee of the following members was elected: Mesdames J. C. Malone, A. N. Anderson, H. W. James, V. T. Blacknall and Marion Merritt. The project of the association for the year is to furnish a piano for the fifth and sixth grades. The committee, with Mrs. Percy Rich, chairman, was authorized to make the purchase.

Attendance prizes were awarded Mrs. Merritt and Miss McWhorter. Refreshments were served and a social half-hour enjoyed.

Samuel R. Young P.-T. A.

Samuel R. Young P.-T. A. paid tribute to the ideal of parent-teacher founders, Mrs. Alice Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, at the meeting held Tuesday. Important events in the history of the congress of parents and teachers were given by the following mothers: National, Mrs. J. E. Escott; state, Mrs. W. J. Lane; district, Mrs. H. V. Carlton; council, Mrs. H. R. Dailey; local, Mrs. W. R. Clark. Mrs. Charles Trowbridge, fifth district president, had charge of the program, and presented Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, an outstanding P.-T. A. leader, who gave a talk on the origin of the P.-T. A. Her message was instructive and her tribute to Mrs. Birney and Mrs. Hearst as the original founders of P.-T. A. was splendid.

The national president's message was read by Mrs. McLaughlin, the president. Important events on the school and P.-T. A. calendar are: Operetta by the elementary grades, March 15; costume party, March 29. Attendance prizes were won by the third grade, Miss Hobgood, teacher, and the fifth grade, Miss Bolton, teacher.

Lena H. Cox P.-T. A.

Lena H. Cox P.-T. A. paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst and Mrs. McClellan Birney, Wednesday. It was February 17, 1897, when the first mothers' congress was held in Washington, D. C. From this mothers' congress the great P.-T. A. movement was started. The past presidents took part in the Founders' Day program. Mrs. E. A. Mathis, president, introduced Dr. C. L. Crawford, who spoke on the "Care of Pre-school Children."

Mrs. Lena H. Cox, treasurer, gave a splendid report on finances of P.-T. A. and announced an exhibit of fine art prints March 8. The grade chairmen will sponsor "The Deestrick Skule" March 28. Mrs. Guy B. Hudgins, chairman of pre-school circle, and pre-school mothers acted as hostesses.

Gordon P.-T. A.

Founder's Day was observed Tuesday by John B. Gordon P.-T. A. with a candle-lighting ceremony, candles being lighted in honor of Mrs. Alice McLellan Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, founders of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The president, Mrs. S. H. Griffin, presided.

A play, "Reminiscences," was presented by the Mothers' chorus. Those taking part were Mesdames W. B. Walker, W. F. Jones, J. M. Floyd and H. G. Lanford.

A nominating committee was named including Mesdames J. C. Murphy, H. G. Lanford and A. B. Valentine. Attendance prizes were awarded Miss Tatum for the higher grades and Miss Swan for the lower grades.

Slaton P.-T. A.

Mrs. Charles Center told the history of the origin of the P.-T. A. at the meeting of the W. F. Slaton P.-T. A. on Tuesday.

The following were elected to serve on the nominating committee: Mrs. Cola Spears, Miss Georgia Cheely, Mesdames Fed Thomas, J. W. Williamson and C. V. Cunningham. Attendance prizes were won by Mrs. Coffee's fourth grade and Miss Cheely's Kindergarten.

Legion Auxiliary Officers

Miss Mattie Kate Bagley, Columbus, president; Miss Helen Estes, Gainesville, first vice president; Mrs. W. B. Bennett, Cordele, second vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Young, Eatonton, historian; Mrs. T. Hunter Henderson, Savannah, chaplain; Mrs. P. I. Dixon, Thomasville, national committeewoman; Mrs. J. O. Minton, of Thomasville, alternate national committeewoman; Miss Latimer Watson, of Columbus, director of publicity; secretary, Mrs. Robert McNulty, of Columbus.

Miss Mattie Kate Bagley, Legion Auxiliary Head, Sends Message

By Latimer Watson, Director of Publicity, Georgia Department, American Legion Auxiliary.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 2.—Miss Mattie Bagby, president, sends the following message:

"We shall do much in the years to come,

But what have we done today?

At both the executive board meeting and the conference of unit presidents and secretaries in Macon on February 20, on the occasion of the official visit of the national president, Mrs. A. C. Carlson, the above lines, spoken at department presidents' and secretaries' conference in Indianapolis, flashed through my mind. I know that members, working through their chairmen, have done much, and are planning for still greater things in the years to come. It is only through effort that the great humanitarian purposes of the American Legion Auxiliary will be accomplished.

"And so—I returned from Macon with an even greater determination to measure up to the challenge to our courage to carry on in the interests of our fine organization." I wish that each and every member might have been present to hear the most inspiring talk of our national president, as she outlined the work of the auxiliary, to hear the address of Commander DeLacey Allen, of Adjutant Stanley Jones, and of our "Poppy Lady," Miss Moina Michael, all of whom are so materially contributing to the success of the auxiliary. To those of you who could not be there, I am hoping you will read the official report of the meeting, and hear the reports of your representatives, who will tell of the issues discussed at the conference.

Issues Named.

"Four of these issues I would like to bring to your attention. First, the establishment of a veterans' hospital for women in Georgia. Several domiciliary buildings for women veterans will probably be built by the government, one of which may be in the southeast on account of the mild winter climate and other considerations. At the suggestion of Mrs. Boyce Ficklen Jr., the executive board voted, on the motion of Mrs. P. I. Dixon, that a committee be appointed to take active steps toward having one of the hospitals brought to Georgia. Mrs. J. M. Sigman, Macon; Mrs. J. B. Calhoun Jr., Perry, and Miss Ethel Worsham, Forsyth, were named. There is a real need for such a hospital in Georgia. In Augusta some 30 women are patients in the veterans' hospital there. These women need the care and attention, the comforts and privileges that can come from a separate institution only.

"Second, in speaking of the work of the auxiliary, Mrs. Carlson stressed the fact that the auxiliary was organized solely for the purpose of aiding the work of the Legion. This year the Legion is uniting in its efforts toward the passage of a bill providing for the immediate payment of the adjusted compensation certificates at their maturity value. We stand staunchly behind the Legion in its support of this bill. Third, a history of the Georgia department of the American Legion is being compiled this year which will include a history of the auxiliary. This history will carry records and pictures of members of the American Legion and auxiliary, and will be invaluable in the years to come. Fourth, the month of March is given to community service and unit activities. Our program of community service should link one hand with child welfare and the other with Americanism. Our contribution to good citizenship under our child welfare and "True Americanism" programs alone justify our existence. Ours is a great work, and worthy of our best efforts."

National Broadcast on Membership.

Mrs. W. B. Bennet, membership chairman, says: "Calling all units! Calling all units! All units in the Georgia department are asked to put forth a special effort now on membership work, and report the results of your campaign to headquarters by March 10. On March 16, a national radio broadcast will announce the membership standing of the states, and we all want to hear Georgia announced 100 per cent. Following is the plan of the national membership committee which our department is using also: The year's work is divided into four objectives. The first objective was pased on December 31. The second ends March 16 with the radio broadcast. The third is the spring round-up of members, ending May 1, and the fourth will be the finals, ending 30 days prior to national convention.

"The states are divided into five groups, combined according to 1934 membership. Georgia is in Group 3, one of 12 states. States compete for prizes only with others in the group. Cash prizes are awarded at the close of each objective for the largest percentage of quota gained during that objective. The amount offered Group 3 is $15. A grand prize will be offered at the end of the year to the department making the largest percentage of gain over quota during the entire year.

"Georgia's quota for 1934-35 is 3,484. At the beginning of the present objective, January 1, our percentage was only 23.11 per cent. On February 20, it was around 70 per cent. Let's make it 100 per cent by the end of this objective, March 16. Department gain depends on individual unit efforts. It is teamwork that wins. May I suggest that each unit plan a systematic campaign. In planning a membership campaign the following points are essential: 1. An exhaustive and accurate list, 2. Good committee and team organization. 3. Appropriate and well-timed publicity. 4. Development of spirit of contest among competing workers, 5. Personal solicitation of of prospects. Further information concerning planning of campaigns may be found in your handbook. Your department is counting on you to work. Altogether we will win."

Miss Woodward, of Quincy, Fla., To Become Bride of Mr. Bledsoe

QUINCY, Fla., March 2.—Mr. and Mrs. John Williams Woodward announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Betty, to Leroy Chandler Bledsoe, of Cullman, Ala.

The marriage will be solemnized at the First Presbyterian church in Quincy March 23. Miss Woodward, the only daughter of her parents, is a charming and popular member of Quincy's younger set. She received her education in the Quincy schools, being a member of the class of Gadsden County High school, class 1932, and at Converse College, at Spartanburg, S. C., where she was a member of the Kappa Kappa Club. Her father is the Florida manager of the American Sumatra Tobacco Company of New York city.

Mr. Bledsoe is the only son of Dr. and Mrs. George William Bledsoe, of Cullman, Ala. He attended college at Washington and Lee University and the University of Alabama. He is now a member of the senior class at the Southern Dental College in Atlanta. Upon receiving his D. D. S. degree in May he will return to Cullman to practice his profession. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon and Psi Omega fraternities.

MISS BETTY WOODWARD.

P.-T. A. Meetings

Dean Raimundo de Ovies will speak at the daddies' night meeting to be held by Tenth Street P.-T. A. Tuesday evening, March 5, at 7:30 o'clock.

Perkerson P.-T. A. meets Friday, March 8, at 2:30 o'clock at the school. All friends and members are urged to attend.

Druid Hills Elementary P.-T. A. meets Wednesday, March 6, at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Clyde L. King Jr., first vice president, presiding.

Pryor Street P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, March 5, at 2:30 o'clock. Election of officers will take place.

Girls' High P.-T. A. executive board meets at the school Tuesday afternoon, March 5, at 2:30 o'clock.

Sylvan Hills Pre-school Association meets Tuesday, March 5, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Crocker is teacher.

Executive board of Bass Junior High P.-T. A. meets at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, March 6, at the school.

Executive board of Joseph W. Humphries P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, March 5, at 2:15 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Joseph W. Humphries P.-T. A. meets Friday, March 8, at 2:30 o'clock.

Bolton P.-T. A. meets Friday, March 8. The electric cooker will be given away at this time. Every member is urged to be present.

O'Keefe P.-T. A. executive board meets Wednesday, March 6, at 10 o'clock, in the model apartment. Plans for the P.T. A. exhibit in the Hobby Fair, to be held March 15, and several additional important matters are to be considered.

Decatur Boys' High P.-T. A. meets Wednesday, March 6, at 3 o'clock. Dr. D. P. McGeachy will speak on "Temperance." Two groups of pupils of Mrs. Mary Belle Woodruff Darsey will give dance numbers.

Executive board of Commercial High P.-T. A. meets at the school March 5 at 2 o'clock.

FARR'S FOR GRAY HAIR

Specially priced $1.27

Mail Orders Promptly Filled

LET MRS. BLACKBURN

(Special consultant for FARR'S)

Show You How to Restore Lovely Natural Color to Gray Hair

By the simple home application of Farr's for Gray Hair, you can bring back youthful lustre and color to gray, dull, faded hair. Mrs. Blackburn will give you a personal interview and explain the use of this colorless, liquid preparation that has been famous for years.

Consult her this week at

Jacobs

Broad and Alabama Store Only

ANNOUNCING

The NEW LOCATION

GUSSIE RANDALL

631 Peachtree St., N. E.

AT PONCE DE LEON

Dresses Personally Selected for You

Now Have a New Skin

It Begins to Appear

IN 3 DAYS!

This New Easy Way

Pimples, Blackheads, Freckles, Blotches, Coarse Pores, Ugly Acne Pustules, Old Blemishes and Wrinkled Dry Surface Scales in Outer Skin Soon Disappear!

Girls . . . young men . . . women . . . get ready to say goodbye to your blemished, thin, outer skin . . . and have a NEW, clear, youth-like, alluring skin and complexion. An amazing new discovery called "PHANTOM SKIN REMOVER" now does what you thought impossible. It actually removes your blemished, rough outer layer of skin. Makes anyone look more beautiful and many years younger. Unlike liquid skin peels that often cause red, swollen faces, PHANTOM SKIN REMOVER is absolutely harmless, does not contain a drop of acid and is used nights as you would a cold cream. Your old, blemished, thin outer skin falls away in almost invisible particles—like a Phantom, cannot be seen. It works while you sleep. Yet, look in your mirror the third morning after using it three nights, when lo, and behold! You see the new, fresh, unblemished, youth-like skin beginning to appear.

Millions who have been held back in life's race for jobs and success in business, love and society because of their poor complexions, blemishes and signs of aging, will jump with joy when they see the new, clear, youthful skin and attractive complexion this amazing discovery produces. It seems almost too good to be true . . . YET A SINGLE JAR will prove this good news to be true, or you can get back the little it costs.

Five dollars would not be asking too much for PHANTOM SKIN REMOVER. But, as thousands will be clamoring for it when users start telling and showing others the astonishing results it produces, the introductory price of a jar and directions has been made only 95c. Send for a jar NOW and soon surprise friends and enemies with your blushing, clear NEW skin. Successful results are guaranteed in every case OR MONEY BACK! Send no money unless you wish. Clip and mail C. O. D. Coupon below.

MAIL THIS COUPON

Scientific Cosmetic Chemists Co., Dept. 9, 1851 Washington Ave., New York, N. Y.

Please send immediately a jar of your PHANTOM SKIN REMOVER and directions in plain wrapper postpaid and I will pay postman the 95c, plus few cents C. O. D. fee on arrival. You guarantee my money back if not more than satisfied.

Name .....

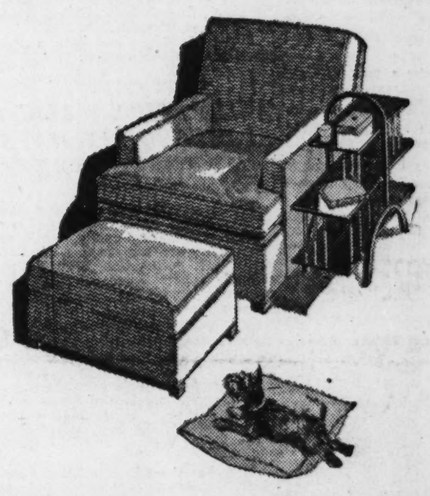

Address .....

.....

Write with pen plainly to avoid errors.

One-of-a-Kind Clearance

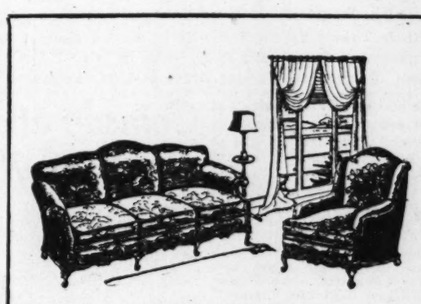

Odd Suites and Individual Units Remaining from February Sale

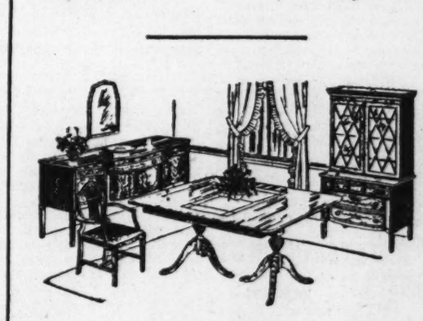

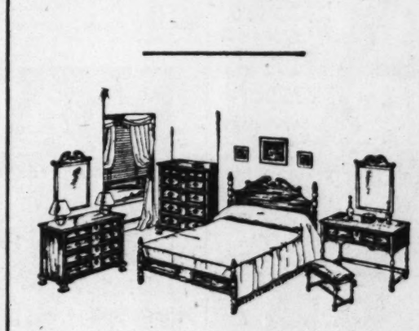

Duffee-Freeman

FURNITURE of CHARACTER

Marked for Quick Clearance

SPECIAL: A large selection of Occasional Chairs, Lounge Chairs, Occasional Tables and Coffee Tables will be continued for a short time at February Sale prices.

As usual, following a brisk sale, we have numerous suites and odd pieces left over. In order to clear them out quickly they are re-marked at most interesting prices. Usual terms.

295.00 Karpen 2-piece hand-carved mahogany living room suite, rust frieze cover 197.50

239.00 Duncan Phyfe Sofa, solid carved mahogany frame with green frieze cover. 159.00

195.00 Chippendale Sofa, solid carved mahogany, covered with fine blue frieze. . 98.50

149.00 2-Piece Living Room Suite, Charles of London style, green frieze cover. 98.50

450.00 10-Piece Mahogany Dining Suite, inlaid with maple and ebony — 18th Century reproduction 259.00

249.00 9-Piece Dining Suite, English style, solid oak with refectory table. 189.00

175.00 9-Piece Colonial Mahogany Dining Suite with Duncan Phyfe table — all large pieces 98.50

119.00 Beautiful 9-piece English design walnut dining suite—very effective. 89.50

965.00 Very fine elaborately hand-carved decorated walnut Bedroom Suite with floor length vanity mirror—extra special 379.50

349.00 6-Piece modern decorated Aspen twin-bed suite—very smart, new style ensemble 197.50

249.50 6-Piece Twin Bed Suite, decorated Satinwood. Very handsome. Remarkable value 179.50

195.00 4-Piece handsome solid maple Early American Bedroom Suite—very best quality and construction 129.00

Also, many other suites and single pieces priced in like manner.

★ Duffee-Freeman Furniture Company, Broad, at Hunter Street ★

NEWS of STAGE and SCREEN

EDITED by RALPH T. JONES

'The Whole Town's Talking' Held Another Week at Rialto

"The Whole Town's Talking," which audiences and critics alike have classed as the best piece of screen entertainment ever made by Columbia, is now running well in its second week at the Rialto thater. The audience acclaim for this film and the honors they have heaped upon it do not place it in second place even to "It Happened One Night," Columbia production that won the highest award for 1934 and that gave both its stars rank as the finest players on the screen.

Edward G. Robinson, star of "The Whole Town's Talking," turns in a performance that should qualify him for the same honor in 1935. He plays a dual role of characters as dissimilar as imaginable and makes them stand out as two clear cut and distinct personalities without the aid of a bit of artificial make-up. Such work is nothing short of genius.

The picture tells an astonismhing story that constitutes probably the most enthralling thriller seen here in months. Yet it is so funny that there has been more laughter in the Rialto this past week than has been heard there in two years and at the same time its love story charms every audienc and sends every woman, old or young, away from the theater delighted with Jean Arthur as the clever, modern heroine.

Robinson's two roles are those of a shy, repressed and timid clerk and of "Killer Mannion" worst of gangsters and "Public Enemy No. 1." His resemblance as the clerk to the notorious gangster gets him into excruciating trouble with the police and, finally, the Killer himself decides to make use of his double.

It is when Mannion schemes to get the clerk, Jones, killed so he can get away from the police in safety, that the suspense begins and it mounts in a tumbling crescendo of excitement to the splendid finale.

Manager W. T. Murray knows that many Atlantans who should have seen this picture the first week were unable to arrange their engagements to get to his theater, hence his decision to hold it over for a second week.

In addition to the delightful feature there is a screen symphony in color that is one of the best, titled "The Shoemaker and the Elves," as well as other short subjects.

Rudy Vallee at Paramount In New Musical, 'Sweet Music'

Crowds thronging the Paramount this week for the premiere showing in this city of Rudy Vallee's musical spectacle, "Sweet Music," leave in a jovial mood, humming and whistling the catchy airs and giving evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Again Warner Brothers have turned out a hit in their latest musical, a type of picture for which the company is famous. The picture has a well-knit plot, based on an original story by Jerry Wald. There is a fascinating romance with dramatic moments, plenty of hilarious comedy, clever dancing, gorgeous spectacles and fine dancing.

The story concerns a young college boy who has organized his own band and who croons his way to a tremendous success in de luxe night clubs and on the radio. He falls in love with a beautiful dancing girl and is instrumental in promoting her to success, although she is led to believe her manager, the band leader, is jealous of her and trying to belittle her act.

Vallee has appeared in pictures before, but never has he been given the opportunity to portray a real role, as well as sing, that is furnished him in "Sweet Music." In this picture he proves himself a consummate actor as well as crooner.

A new Ann Dvorak is discovered in the picture. Since she made a distinct hit in "Scarface," with Paul Muni, she has been cast only in dramatic roles, Hollywood seemingly having forgotten that she first achieved success as a dancer and singer. She gives a fine performance in her role opposite Vallee. She also demonstrates over again her talent as a dancer as she leads a chorus of 40 dancing beauties. She also has an unusually pleasing voice, singing with Vallee in three songs.

Helen Morgan, noted torch singer, adds to the musical entertainment with catchy songs. Rudy Vallee's Connecticut Yankees appear with their red-hot rhythm, as also does the Frank and Milt Britton orchestra in their comical stunts of smashing musical instruments while they make merry music.

Scores of beautiful girls appear in the dances and ensembles which were staged by Bobby Connolly.

There is an unusually large cast of clever players in support of Vallee, including Ned Sparks, the dead-pan comedian; Allen Jenkins, as a publicity man for Vallee; Alice White, as the dumb chorus girl; Joseph Cawthorn and Al Shean, the latter famous in the team of Gallagher and Shean; Robert Armstrong, William B. Davidson, Russel Hicks, Phillip Reed, and Addison Richards.

Alfred E. Green has done a fine piece of work in direction.

'FLIRTATION WALK' IS BILLED SIX DAYS AT TENTH STREET

Bringing with it the enchantment of Hawaiian nights, the spirit of the United States army and the thrill of West Point and the romance of glorious youth, "Flirtation Walk," first military musical screened, will begin a six-day run at the Tenth Street theater today.

Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler, the nation's most popular screen lovers, and Pat O'Brien head an all-star cast, which includes, in addition to a score of Hollywood's best actors, the entire cadet corps of the United States Military Academy at West Point, a portion of the Pacific fleet, and detachment of the regular army at Honolulu.

Dick has the role of a private stationed in Hawaii who is assigned as chauffeur to a visiting general's daughter, a part played by Ruby Keeler. Falling in love with the islands, the girl leads her handsome chauffeur through a series of adventures which culminate at the love festival where the spell of the native dances and songs, and the magic of the scenery and the moonlight draw the young couple instinctively into each other's arms.

Pat O'Brien has the role of Dick's hard-boiled top sergeant in the army. Ross Alexander is his pal at the academy. Henry O'Neill has the role of Ruby Keeler's father.

"Strictly Dynamite" is the picture for Saturday, starring Jimmy Durante and Lupe Velez. This is full of laughs and thrills.

CAPITOL CALLS OFF PLAN OF CONTESTS FOR RURAL BANDS

Because not enough hill-billy bands were available for competition the Capitol theater management has decided, for the time being, to cancel plans which would have placed contests of this kind on the stage.

However, more thought will be given to the weekly amateur contests which are held every Friday night, at 9 o'clock, and another call his been sounded for those who would like to go on the stage by entering one of these contests.

These amateur contests have been held at the Capitol for several monthe and have proved very popular with audiences.

The Capitol management is especially desirous of securing talent that has not as yet appeared in one of these contests. Those who are interested may enter simply by registering their names with the doorman. Contestants who are already registered, but have not as yet been used, should not register again.

Screen Offerings in Local Theaters This Week

Upper left, Wallace Ford, Jean Arthur and Edward G. Robinson, in "The Whole Town's Talking," now in its second week at the Rialto. Upper right, Ann Dvorak and Rudy Vallee in "Sweet Music," at the Paramount. Center, left, George Arliss as Lord Wellington in "The Iron Duke," at the Fox. Center, right, Pat O'Brien, Ann Dvorak and Claire Dodd in "I Sell Anything," now at the Georgia. Lower left, W. C. Fields in a scene from "It's a Gift," on the screen at the Capitol and, lower right, Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery in "Vanessa," at Loew's Grand.

Comedy and Romance Combine In 'I Sell Anything' at Georgia

Rollicking laughter greeted the first showing of the comedy romance, "I Sell Anything," which had its opening at the Georgia theater Saturday. The picture has human, as well as humorous, qualities which pleased theater patrons here. Although primarily a comedy, the production, which is based on the story by Albert J. Cohen and Robert T. Shannon, carries an unusual triangular love affair that not only is highly amusing, but touches the heart.

Pat O'Brien, Ann Dvorak and Claire Dodd form the triangle of which Pat is the magnetic, but egotistical lover, whom Miss Dvorak loves for what she knows is the man underneoth his pretenses while Miss Dodd, as the adventuress, plays him for a sucker.

As the rapid fire, fast thinking and fast talking auctioneer of Second avenue, New York, Pat is right in his element and gives what is probably the best performance of his career.

Miss Dvorak is most attractive as the waif of the streets, who staggers into the fake auction rooms, almost dead from hunger and weary from loss of sleep and pulls a nose dive which lands her a job as a "come on" with Pat's women patrons. Ann lives her character, as usual, and is most pleasing in this romantic role, in which while consumed with jealousy, she bides her time until she gets her man.

Claire Dodd is delightful as the blonde adventuress who knows her Benvenuto Cellinis when she sees them, buys them for a song and sells them at a fabulous price. She is an accomplished actress, and her drawing room style of vamping is quite charming, despite, or mayhap because of, her wicked and designing heart.

There is an unusually talented cast besides the three principals, all of whom do excellent work.

Beginning Monday, tragedy and

Continued in Next Theater Page.

Helen Hayes, Bob Montgomery In 'Vanessa' at Loew's Grand

A great love story, magnificently produced against the wild scenic background of northern England and the contrastingly smart, costly interiors of fashionable London, has been created from Hugh Walpole's novel, "Vanessa: Her Love Story," now at Loew's Grand theater. In the cast are such brilliant players as Helen Hayes, Robert Montgomery, May Robson, Violet Kemble-Cooper, Lewis Stone, Henry Stephenson and Otto Kruger. It is a film of unusual quality, dignity and beauty.

"Vanessa: Her Love Story" is the tale of two ardent people—descendants of the almost fabulous Rogue Herries. A century before, Rogue Herries roamed the mountains along the border between England and Scotland, roistering, fighting, daring fate and challenging all opponents. He married a wilful Gypsy girl, untamable and tempestuous. Their descendants have come to London, grown rich, married people of more staid temperaments, so that, today, only occasionally the characteristics of Rogue Herries and his Gypsy bride appear.

The film opens on the 100th birthday of Rogue's youngest daughter, Judith Paris (May Robson). To the celebration come all the members of the Herries family. Most conspicuous among them is Judith's lovely young granddaughter, Vanessa (Helen Hayes). Vanessa is in love with a black sheep of the Herries family, Benjy Herries (Robert Montgomery), restless, daring, like old Rogue Herries himself.

Judith Paris perceives the tie between Vanessa and Benjy. She is resolved to bring them together. But chance, and fate, play queer tricks on these two, who are without guile, without pretense, without illusion about themselves. When Benjy warns Vanessa their marriage is not likely to bring them happiness, Vanessa boldly replies that happiness is for dull people, that Benjy is a part of her, essential to her life.

"Vanessa: Her Love Story" follows the events which bring the lovers together, only to tear them apart, cruelly, time and again. Their final triumph is all the more dramatic for this and a story of great beauty is created. The production is one of emphatic charm and beauty, containing many historic English scenes and backgrounds of rich loveliness in the wild woodland of the north country, where Benjy and Vanessa find their happiness.

George Arliss as Wellington Scores in 'The Iron Duke' at Fox

Fresh from its screen triumph overseas and the patronage of royalty, as represented by the Prince of Wales, and by its late successful premiere at New York's famed Radio City Music Hall, "The Iron Duke," George Arliss' latest starring vehicle, is duplicating its brilliant London success at the Fox theater.

Metropolitan critics have been unanimous in their praise of the picture's fidelity to historical detail, its dramatic power and the superb acting of Mr. Arliss in the role of Wellington. That they did not err in their verdict was conclusively proven by the enthusiastic audience at its local debut.

Produced on a vast scale, under the expert direction of Victor Saville, the feature's far-flung sphere of activity includes in its range the battlefield of Waterloo; the brilliant, restless, feverish social life of Paris in court, palace, drawing room and opera, during the occupation of the French capital by the allied armies in 1815, and the English house of lords, where Mr. Arliss, as the grimly determined Duke of Wellington, hurls back stately defiance at his critics on the government opposition benches in a speech that brings the film to a splendidly dramatic climax. The plot extends through the Hundred Days, when Napoleon, returning from exile in Elba in defiance of the concert of European powers, landed in France reassembled an army, marched on Paris, and with King Louis and the latter's Bourbon relatives fleeing for safety, once again proclaimed himself emperor of the French.

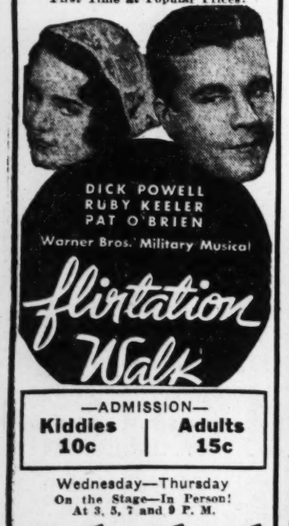

A defeat of Blucher's Prussian brigades at Ligny by Bonaparte, and a repulse of the French forces under Marshal Ney at Quatre Bras by Wellington followed, to culminate in the crowning battle-test of Waterloo, where, in the graphic scenes of the picture we see the indomitable British squares steadily dwindling, but still holding on under storms of shot and shell and shock of charging cavalry. Over all presides Mr. George Arliss as Wellington, icily cool in the face of apparently impending disaster, watching with eagle eye the ebb and flow of conflict.

It will be long before any spectator of this film will forget those amazing Waterloo sequences, so prolific in fiery action and thrilling suspense. When Arliss' voice rings out in the historically famous order—"Up guards and at them," the British lines roll like a human avalanche on the foe, nad the Scots Greys gallop forward in a furious heart-shaking charge, each horseman with a Highland comrade afoot, clinging to the stirrup, the massed effect is nothing short of terrific in its sensational appeal. There are many other tense, exciting episodes.

On this same program will be seen an entertaining short titled, "Stranger Than Fiction," and a musical novelty titled, "Million Dollar Notes."

Ponce de Leon
The New Remodeled Ponce de Leon. The Theatre Exquisite.
TODAY (SUNDAY) ONLY
"Havana Widows"
JOAN BLONDELL—LYLE TALBOT
MONDAY AND TUESDAY
"The Private Life of Henry VIII"
CHARLES LAUGHTON
WEDNESDAY (ONLY)
"Mandalay"
KAY FRANCIS—RICARDO CORTEZ
THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
"The Bowery"
JACKIE COOPER—WALLACE BEERY
SATURDAY ONLY
"Massacre"
RICHARD BARTHELMESS

BUCKHEAD
Today (SUNDAY)
"Dude Ranger"
George O'Brien
Monday—Tuesday—Wednesday
"The Last Gentleman"
George Arliss
Thursday
"Here Comes the Groom"
Jack Haley—Patricia Ellis
Friday—Saturday
"Haunted Gold"
John Wayne
10c—Always—15c

EMPIRE
Ga. Ave. at Crew St. MA. 8430
Sunday—Monday—Tuesday
First Time at Popular Prices!

DICK POWELL
RUBY KEELER
PAT O'BRIEN
Warner Bros. Military Musical flirtation Walk
—ADMISSION—
Kiddies 10c | Adults 15c
Wednesday—Thursday
On the Stage—In Person!
At 3, 5, 7 and 9 P. M.
AMAZING THRILLING NOVEL
FAMOUS AMERICAN SIAMESE TWINS
The HILTON SISTERS
AND THEIR ORCHESTRA
JOINED TOGETHER AT BIRTH
TALENTED CHARMING ADORABLE BEAUTIFUL
On the Screen—Lionel Barrymore
"THIS SIDE OF HEAVEN"
—ADMISSION—
Kiddies 10c | Adults 25c

RIALTO
POSITIVELY LAST WEEK

Columbia Pictures presents
EDWARD G. ROBINSON
in the best picture he ever made
THE WHOLE TOWN'S TALKING
A JOHN FORD PRODUCTION
MICKEY MOUSE CARTOON

RIALTO
STARTS FRIDAY CARNIVAL
IT'S GOT EVERYTHING!
THRILLS! Lee Tracy as the wise cracker who loved 'em and left 'em!
ROMANCE! Sally Eilers as the girl who just couldn't help lovin' that man!
LAUGHTER! Jimmy Durante as the answer to a maiden's night mare!
It's Got Everything!
Story and screen play by Robert Riskin
Directed by Walter Lang
LEE TRACY
SALLY EILERS
JIMMY DURANTE
A COLUMBIA PICTURE

Starts MONDAY All Week
ATLANTA Theatre
PHONE WA. 6056
HELD OVER By Popular Demand For Her Second and Final Week this Season
Midnite JAMBOREE Every SATURDAY NIGHT
Smackie WOODS
In Chuck Gregory's Production
SPICE and SPARKLE
with Mickie DENNIS Violet DIXON TAMARA and these POPULAR COMICS HARRY MYERS and CLAUDE MATHIS

NOW Lucas & Jenkins Theatres
WHERE HAPPINESS COSTS SO LITTLE
FOX THE SOUTH'S FINEST
NAPOLEON'S MASTER . . . With the Troops . . . With the Ladies ! ! !

GEORGE ARLISS in "THE IRON DUKE"
More heart interest—more human interest—more drama—more action . . . than any picture ever made by George Arliss.
NEXT WEEK MYRNA LOY—CARY GRANT "WINGS IN THE DARK"

NOW Paramount

RUDY Vallee in "SWEET MUSIC" with ANN DVORAK
Directed by Alfred E. Green
—STARTING FRIDAY—
PAUL MUNI BETTE DAVIS IN "Bordertown"

25c GEORGIA 25c
HE'S GOD'S GIFT-OF-GAB TO WOMEN!
The great laugh star of "Here Comes the Navy" at his fastest and funniest in
"I Sell ANYTHING"
With Pat O'Brien
ANN DVORAK • CLAIRE DODD
Starts Wed. "Murder on the Blackboard"

ON THE SCREEN CAPITOL STARTS TODAY!
California Or Bust! And What They Don't Bust, They Practically Wreck, Just As They'll Wreck You With Laughter And Rock You With Glee!
W. C. FIELDS
BABY LeROY
IN "IT'S A GIFT"
On the Stage
"MONTMARTRE NIGHTS"
20—Stage Stars—20
8 BIG ACTS VAUDEVILLE
AND
Apache Music Masters
10-Piece Stage Band—10

BALCONY 25¢ ANYTIME

NEWS OF STAGE AND SCREEN

Fields Stars In 'It's a Gift' At Capitol

FIELDS STARS—1 COL ..1

Capitol theater has booked another entertaining variety program for its patrons, starting today, with the offering on the screen of the special comedy feature, "It's a Gift," starring W. C. Fields and Baby LeRoy, who talks for the first time in his young career before the cameras, in this production. On the stage will be the vaudeville revue, "Montmartre Nights," featuring a cast of well-known vaudeville stars.

The cast of the stage show includes Tom and Babe Gordon, comedy team, who can also sing and dance; Joe Howard, doing his famous "leg-o-mania" act; Bill Orcherton, trumpet soloist; Martin and Marvel, a specialty act; Clyde Jewell, contortionist extraordinary; the Dancing Midinettes, special line of girls, and the Apache Music Masters, a 10-piece stage band, which when augmented with the regular Capitol musicians will offer a 15-piece stage band for the week.

"It's a Gift," the Capitol's screen feature, opens up in a small grocery store in New Jersey. If it were not for the customers, the boss, played by Fields, could loaf all day. One of his chief worries is Baby LeRoy, who can't resist the tendency to destroy everything he sees.

However, Fields' problems are practically solved when he inherits an orange grove in California. Anyway, he thinks, he will have more room in which to loaf. So he packs the family in his broken-down automobile for a 3,000-mile jaunt to the coast, only to learn his orange grove is just a huge lemon.

The manner in which Fields, through dumb luck, brings wealth to his family and himself, furnishes the comedy climax of the film.

Besides Baby LeRoy, the comedian is supported by Kathleen Howard, Jean Rouverol, Julian Madison, Tammany Young and many others.

Added screen subjects for the week, with the exception of Sunday, includes a Laurel and Hardy comedy with a Paramount Pictorial. The Pathe News events are shown for the entire week, including Sunday.

DELTA SIGMA PI HOLDS INITIATION ON SUNDAY

Kappa chapter of the international fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi will hold its first initiation of the year at the Henry Grady hotel this evening at 4 o'clock. The initiation will be followed by the initiation banquet.

Those to be initiated are James H. Brown, Charles E. Elrod, James H. Griffith, Roy C. Sasser, Harry T. Wells Jr., and Garnette O. Wood. Kappa chapter is located at the University System of Georgia evening school.

HILAN
Atlanta's Finest Community Theatre
TODAY (SUNDAY) ONLY
"Ladies Should Listen"
CARY GRANT—FRANCES DRAKE
MONDAY AND TUESDAY
"Pursuit of Happiness"
Francis Lederer—Joan Bennett
WEDNESDAY (ONLY)
"Crime Without Passion"
CLAUDE RAINS
THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
"The Count of Monte Cristo"
ROBERT DONAT—ELISSA LANDI
SATURDAY ONLY
"Have a Heart"
JEAN PARKER—JAMES DUNN
10c AND ANY TIME 15c

צילי אדלער
„שר א טראגעדיע"
CELIA ADLER
WORLD-FAMOUS YIDDISH ACTRESS
in
"ALMOST A TRAGEDY"
ERLANGER
Sun. Eve., $1, 75c, 50c plus tax
Tickets on Sale Erlanger Box Office

Loew's GRAND
Hugh Walpole's most glorious Love Story!
Helen Hayes
Robert Montgomery
in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's
"Vanessa"
Her Love Story
WITH OTTO KRUGER
MAY ROBSON
LEWIS STONE
Walt DISNEY'S
"TORTOISE and the HARE"
CHOSEN AS YEAR'S BEST SILLY SYMPHONY
LAUREL and HARDY
in a M.G.M. Comedy

SENSATIONAL IN PERSON! Combined ROAD SHOW TOUR OF THREE Outstanding STAGE, SCREEN & RADIO STARS
Ole Chic Gene
OLSEN & JOHNSON-AUSTIN
IN THE ROBERT KERR-JOSEPH GRIFFIN NEW YORK PRODUCTION
GOIN' PLACES
21 SCENES A STAGE FULL OF STARS
The Entire Original Cast Absolutely Intact
LYRICS BY OLSEN & JOHNSON-MUSIC BY GENE AUSTIN
FAMOUS "HOT CHA" BEAUTIES
CHARLIE STRONG'S ADMIRALS ORCHESTRA
AMERICA'S ONLY MUSICAL PLAYING MATINEE & NIGHT SHOWS DAILY
ERLANGER—TUESDAY MAR. 5 3:00 8:30
PRICES: MATINEE $1.10 TO 40c NIGHT $1.65 TO 55c (Including Tax)
SEAT SALE NOW!
BOX OFFICE OPENS 10 A. M. PHONE WALNUT 9797

Olsen and Johnson, Gene Austin Star 'Goin' Places' at Erlanger

Ottilie George, with Olsen and Johnson and Gene Austin.

Laughter will reign supreme when Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson arrive in town, accompanied by the popular singer, Gene Austin, in the Kerr-Griffin musical revue, "Goin' Places."

Olsen and Johnson, kings of funmaking on stage, screen and radio, have an unusual style of lunatical comedy that has won fame throughout the country, including 52 weeks on the Fleischman hour and then Swift program.

Their part in the show is a riot of girls and monkey business, with the more than 50 persons in the revue providing gales of laughter in what critics already have hailed as the best musical comedy revue of the season.

Gene Austin is featured in the songs which entertained the movie stars at the Cocoanut Grove, their favorite rendezvous in Hollywood and which he recorded for the Victor Company. Gene has just completed a four times extended contract at the Cocoanut Grove.

With Gene on this tour are Candy and Coco, these two rascals of rhythm that he picked up down in New Orleans. Candy and Coco play the guitar and string bass, and Gene himself plays the piano in that free and easy style of his. Since the recording days, Gene has evolved a new style, as the radio fans and those who heard him last season in "Broadway Rhapsody" know. Gene never uses a white note on the keyboard, hitting only the more difficult black ones, and changing the harmony every time he plays a number. And Candy and Coco are right with him.

For the newest, yet most liked music in the world, a visit to hear Gene Austin in person singing his latest compositions "In a Little Rendevous" and "Out of the Blue," and some of his old ones, including "Lonesome Road" and "Riding Around in the Rain," will fill the bill to perfection.

Robert Kerr and Joseph Griffin, who are sending "Goin' Places" to the Erlanger Tuesday, take a bow for inducing the RKO Radio studio to release Don and Audrey El Mere for this tour. This famous brother and sister startled Hollywood and the universe with the dance creations, including "The Carioca" and "The Continental."

Charlie Strong and his Twelve Admirals head a strong supporting cast headed by Cliff Crane, star of "Keep Moving," and Ruth Faber, who appeared in "As Thousaands Cheer," with others well-known to radio and stage fans also featured in the company.

HILAN TO OFFER GROUP OF GREAT FILMS THIS WEEK

Today the Hilan theater will run "Ladies Should Listen," starring Cary Grant and Frances Drake. It is an exciting story of a man and his financial troubles and a switchboard operator who delighted in listening to his conversations. She listened one time, though, and heard a plot to rob him of everything he possessed, so there was nothing left for him to do but forgive her.

"Bundling" is the essence of "The Pursuit of Happiness," the attraction for Monday and Tuesday, featuring Joan Bennett, Francis Lederer and Charlie Ruggles. "Bundling," according to this halarious comedy-drama, is an old American custom. Many laugus are provided as the picture turns out one funny situation after another against a background of the American Revolution.

Wednesday, "Crime Without Passion," written by the author of "Scarface," will bring "The Invisible Man," Claude Rains, and others in a daring story of a man who had studied law and crime for a long time and decided to use his knowledge to ruin the woman he had once loved. Its startling reality will provide many thrills as he commits a crime that seems to defy solution.

Thursday and Friday Robert Denat and Elissa Landi will be together in one of the most important motion pictures of the year. It is "The Count of Monte Cristo." Its dramatic theme concerns a man who was sent to prison for life for a crime he had not committed. For 20 years he worked day and night to make his escape and finally did so and confronted the unscrupulous men who had caused his imprisonment.

Saturday only, the Hilan will offer "Have a Heart," with the pretty little darling of the screen, Jean Parker, as the leading star, ably supported by handsome, Irish, James Dunne. It is a gay, stirring story of young love which is stronger than anything else. This picture will please children and their parents with its clean, simple story of two young people and their trials and mishaps.

POSITIVELY FINAL WEEK AT ATLANTA OF SNOOKIE WOODS

Snookie Woods is appearing at the Atlanta theater this week in positively her final, farewell, once and for all, appearance of the season. She has a new dance she wants her Atlanta friends to see and, after the final curtain on the Satruday midnight jamboree next Saturday, we won't see her again anyway until next year.

The show that Producer McGregory has created this week is entitled "Spice and Sparkle" and reports from dress rehearsals declare the title fits exactly. It is full of just those two ingredients, spice and sparkle.

Costumes are exceptionally good and some extra effort on scenery and lights has produced extraordinarily attractive stage sets for many of the numbers. There is one especially intrigued song in which all the girls dance on big bas drums to a stirring military tap.

Mickie Dennis, Violet Dixon and Tamara have good-featured spots, while Jackie Wilson with her husky contralto and Dennis Sullivan with his haunting Irish tenor take care of the covalizing in excellent style.

The comedy is again in the hands of Harry Myers and Claude Mathis.

Conductor Lave Love has expended unusual pains this week on his overture and the music throughout is far above the average.

There will be the usual two performances daily at 2:30 and 8:30, with the Saturday night "get-together" jamboree at 11:30. And the box office opens daily at 11 a. m. for the sale of reserved seats for any performance.

ZANE GREY FILM TODAY'S FEATURE AT THE BUCKHEAD

The Buckhead, Atlanta's de luxe suburban house, offers its patrons some very splendid entertainment this week.

For today only the attraction is "Dude Ranger," starring George O'Brien. The plot was adapted from a story by Zane Grey, and lovers of stirring outdoor action will find this picture one of the best. Irene Harvey, Roy Masog, Sid Saylor and others are in the cast.

"The Last Gentleman," starring George Arliss, will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. In the development of the plot, Arliss, who had called his family together, including his daughter-in-law, whom he had not seen for 16 years because of a quarrel, is surprised to find Charlotte Henry, his granddaughter, and her mother charming. He is determined to leave his fortune to the granddaughter but wants her to preserve the family name. He brings about a romance between Charlotte and Frank Albertson, his sister's adopted son, his only request being that the boy change his name to Barr, the family name. A worthless son, attempting to get the fortune for himself, brings unusual complications into the story. The picture is up to the high standard of all Arliss' screen portrayals and is entertainment of the very highest order.

"Here Comes the Groom," with Jack Haley, Mary Boland and Patricia Ellis, is the picture for Thursday. It is a good comedy, highly entertaining, with many amusing and mirth-provoking highlights. Others in the cast are Lawrence Gray, Sidney Toler and E. H. Calvert.

"Haunted Gold," a Warner Brothers' production, starring John Wayne, is the offering for Friday and Saturday. There is fast action and a delightful romance in this picture. There is a negro character in the story which causes much mirth and at times provokes hearty laughter by his fear of ghosts, particularly in the situations where he thinks he is confronted by one of them.

Each day comedies, cartoons, newsreels and other carefully selected short subjects will be shown.

Hilton Twins, Daisy and Violet, At Empire Wednesday, Thursday

Daisy and Violet Hilton, famous "Siamese Twins" of America.

Bringing their own orchestra of 13 artists, Violet and Daisy Hilton, America's "Siamese twins," will be the stage attraction at the Empire theater, corner of Georgia avenue and Crew street, Wednesday and Thursday, with performances at 3, 5 7 and 9 o'clock.

High school graduates, talented musicians and accomplished entertainers, Daisy and Violet, although born joined together, each has individual likes and dislikes, especially with the choice of dress. Whereas most twins like to dress alike, it's another thing with the San Antonio duo. Violet loves blue, while Daisy loves pink. But since they must wear one dress, and since it would look funny for a dress to be half pink and half blue, they just have to take turns on the colors. They make up for their sacrifices by having more pretty clothes than most twins who don't have to face life eternally together.

This appearance of the world-famed twins at the Empire on Wednesday and Thursday will be their only one in this city. Patrons will see these charming girls sing, dance and play, incidentally, witnessing an unforgetable demonstration of talent.

"Flirtation Walk," with Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler will be shown at the Empire theater, corner of Georgia avenue and Crew street, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Friday's feature will be that thrilling, vivid drama of gold-rush days, "Helldorado," with Richard Arlen, Madge Evans, Ralph Bellamy, James Gleason, Henry B. Walthall and that comical darky, Stepin Fetchit.

Amateur night will be an added feature on the stage at 8 o'clock in the evening, with a large group of contestants competing for the three big cash prizes. As usual Manager Alpha Fowler will be master of ceremonies.

Comedy Team on Capitol Stage

Tom and Babe Gordon, comedy team with "Montmartre Nights," stage show at the Capitol theater this week.

'Folies Bergere' Coming to Grand

Maurie Chevalier and Ann Sothern in "Folies Bergere," which has been booked Loew's Grand, starting next Friday.

LAUGH SENSATION SCHEDULED TODAY AT PONCE DE LEON

The new remodeled Ponce de Leon theater will present one of the greatest laugh sensations of the season today. It is "Havana Widows," with Joan Blondell, Lyle Talbot, and Guy Kibbee. Its fast-moving story concerns two pretty gold-diggers who go to Havana in search of a wealthy playboy that they can dig for the luxuries of life.

Monday and Tuesday, Charles Laughton will be starred in "The Private Life of Henry VIII." This unusual picture tells the story of a king who had eight queens—blondes, redheads and brunettes, who fell for him—under the axe. Charles Laughton was awarded the motion picture award for the finest performance of the year because of his excellent acting in this masterpiece.

Wednesday only, the Ponce de Leon will present "Mandalay," featuring Kay Francis, Ricardo Cortez and Lyle Talbot. It is a dramatic story of the love-enchanted east with one of the screen's most beautiful feminine stars playing a role that only she could. Her role as one beautiful woman alone in a land of desperate men, where the governor paid her to leave, provides many thrilling moments of entertainment.

"The Bowery," with Wallace Beery, George Raft, Jackie Cooper, Fay Wray and Pert Kelton will be the offering for Thursday and Friday. It is a heart-touching story of the Bowery days and of a man who was a boy at heart, palling around with a young boy who was a real little man. Its human story and splendid action is something to remember.

Saturday only, Richard Barthelmess will be shown in "Massacre," a thrillng adventure story with the old west as its background. Barthelmess has the part of an Indian and gives an excellent idea of the many hardships and trials the Indians had to go through with when trying to bargain with the unscrupulous whites.

TRACY, DURANTE HEAD RARE CAST FOR RIALTO FILM

Lee Tracy, Sally Eilers, Jimmy Durante, Florence Rice and three-year-old Dickie Walters are to be seen in "Carnival," new Columbia production which is to open at the Rialto theater next Friday, following the two-week showing of "The Whole Town's Talking."

This story of a carnival concessionaire, of his baby and his fight to keep him, is thoroughly human, with plenty of suspense adding punch to its hilarious comedy. Lee Tracy is the concessionaire and Sally Eilers is his assistant and the girl who, unrealized by him until the end of the story, is the ideal girl to mother the youngster and to be wife to him.

Jimmy Durante has the role of a carnival piano player who is an adept pickpocket on the side. The part gives Jimmy a chance to show just what he can do with a piano and to sing some of his famous songs.

Walter Lang directed the picture while the story and screen play were written by Robert Riskin who last week was awarded the Motion Picture Academy honor for the best dialogue for a picture in 1934—"It Happened One Night."

The picture will play the Rialto for the full week and certainly should not be missed.

YIDDISH ACTRESS APPEARS TONIGHT AT THE ERLANGER

Atlanta will be given a taste of real Yiddish art when Celia Adler, famous actress, appears Sunday evening at the Erlanger theater at 8:30 o'clock, in "Almost a Tragedy," a three-act Yiddish comedy, by David Pinski, noted playwright.

CELIA ADLER.

Never during the last decade or more has a Yiddish actress of Miss Adler's caliber appeared on an Atlanta stage and the performance here Sunday evening will give local lovers of the Yiddish theater a rare treat. Miss Adler comes from a family of distinguished actors that has often been called the "Barrymores of the Yiddish stage." She is the daughter of the late Jacob P. Adler and Mme. Diana Feinman, who enriched the Yiddish stage. Her sister, Stella, is now appearing with an English group theater, and her brother has a prominent role in "Street Scene."

For her first appearance in Atlanta Miss Adler has the role of a noble, idealistic Jewish woman, pleading for an ideal. Tickets for her performance here may be purchased at the Erlanger box office.

"I SELL ANYTHING" NOW AT GEORGIA

Continued From First Theater Page.

mirth blend in an absorbing story revealed against a school room setting in "Murder on the Blackboard," RKO-Radio's sequel to "The Penguin Pool Murder," with Edna Mae Oliver and James Gleason.

The problem in this picturization of Stuart Palmer's popular novel is created by the mysterious death of a beautiful school teacher. Miss Oliver and Gleason in their characterizations of the spinster schoolmarm sleuth and the smart-aleck police inspector respectively carry on an entertaining and suspenseful hunt amid eerie settings and fas moving scenes. The detectives find four suspects involved by the confusing clues, but Hildegarde's brilliant trap nabs the real killer.

'BEHOLD MY WIFE' DEKALB FEATURE MONDAY, TUESDAY

"Behold My Wife," a touching and dramatic picture of the conflict of races and social ideals, co-starring Sylvia Sidney and Gene Raymond, will be the feature of the DeKalb theater Monday and Tuesday.

A fact action comedy-romance, featuring Herbert Mundin and "Pat" Peterson, "Call It Luck," is the attraction of the DeKalb Wednesday. "The St. Louis Kid," starring James Cagney with Patricia Ellis, Allen Jenkins featured will be at the DeKalb Thursday and Friday.

Zane Grey's "Home on the Range," with Jackie Coogan, Randolph Scott and Evelyn Brent, will be the feature.

Retail Milk Producers' Report

Report for Atlanta, Ga., For February, 1935.

Name of Dairy:	Analys. of Butter Fat.	Samples Off'l. P. Cnt.
CERTIFIED DAIRIES.
Irvindale Dairy	4.1	2,500
W. F. Cox	5.0	3,000
R. L. Mathis	4.2	6,000
W. O. Pierce	4.4	6,000
Above certified by Fulton County Medical Commission.
VITAMIN D MILK.
Aristocrat Dairy	4.6	4,000
GOAT MILK.
Westwyndes Goat Dairy	5.3	1,500
GRADE "A" RAW.
Creatwood Farm Dairy	5.2	1,000
Mrs. Anna Meers	4.6	1,000
Brownlee & Lively	4.7	1,500
C. Y. Donaldson	4.7	1,500
Meadowbrook Dairy Farm	4.2	1,500
P. W. Medlock	4.4	1,500
Rainbow Farms	5.0	1,500
Roxvue Dairy	4.0	1,500
Shannon's Dairy	4.2	1,500
C. C. Tuggle	4.4	1,500
P. A. Wade	4.5	1,500
C. D. Chatham	4.2	2,000
County Line Dairy	4.9	2,000
L. J. Crowe	4.7	2,000
Dunagan Bros.	4.8	2,000
Eastlake Dairy	4.6	2,000
Ferncrest Dairy	4.3	2,000
Gaymont Dairy	4.8	2,000
E. Gladden	4.7	2,000
C. C. Johnson	4.6	2,000
J. W. Key	4.2	2,000
Keystone Dairy	4.7	2,000
A. M. Medlock	4.4	2,000
L. D. Nalley	4.4	2,000
P. E. Pierce	5.2	2,000
J. W. Stubbs	4.9	2,000
Sunnycrest Dairy	4.5	2,000
G. W. Abercrombie	4.3	2,500
T. W. Barton	4.6	2,500
Briarwood Farm	5.3	2,500
J. L. Cheek	3.7	2,500
Mrs. E. J. Fratticher	5.1	2,500
N. H. Maddox	5.3	2,500
John L. Porter	4.2	2,500
J. E. Rosser	4.7	2,500
W. H. Stanford	4.0	2,500
G. D. Adams	4.3	3,000
Alpine Dairy	4.7	3,000
Brown's Dairy Farm	4.1	3,000
V. C. Burks	4.2	3,000
H. G. Burns	5.1	3,000
J. R. Crowe	5.1	3,000
J. W. Donaldson	5.1	3,000
W. L. Donehoo	4.9	3,000
J. W. Fields	5.0	3,000
C. H. Giles	4.8	3,000
Glen Holcomb	4.7	3,000
O. T. Howse	4.3	3,000
F. W. Loudermilk	4.5	3,000
J. W. Martin	4.6	3,000
W. C. Morris	3.7	3,000
W. H. Morris	4.3	3,000
J. G. Nash	4.3	3,000
Oakhurst Dairy	4.4	3,000
O. O. Roberts & Son	5.0	3,000
V. H. Shelnutt	3.5	3,000
A. J. Stone	4.6	3,000
C. S. Webb	4.8	3,000
M. C. & C. C. White	5.3	3,000
Alderdale Dairy	4.3	3,500
A. Alexander	4.9	3,500
J. O. Bates	4.3	3,500
J. W. Brown	4.0	3,500
C. S. Bryan	5.1	3,500
W. F. Cox	4.9	3,500
J. W. Craft	5.2	3,500
W. T. Daniel	4.3	3,500
A. D. Elzey	4.4	3,500
Mrs. Harry G. Hall	4.2	3,500
R. E. Hutchins	4.5	3,500
J. P. Johnson	4.6	3,500
Kirby's Dairy Farm	5.3	3,500
Northcutt Dairy	4.3	3,500
Ponce de Leon Dairy Farm	4.8	3,500
W. G. Presley	5.0	3,500
Rose Terrace Dairy	4.4	3,500
C. J. Ross	4.8	3,500
Mrs. C. E. Scott	4.7	3,500
Shadygrove Dairy	4.7	3,500
M. B. Sprayberry	4.5	3,500
J. W. Stamps	5.1	3,500
Vellodrome Dairy	3.7	3,500
J. E. Wade	5.0	3,500
Winslett Dairy	4.3	3,500
James A. Adamson	4.7	4,000
L. Clay	4.8	4,000
E. F. Crowe	4.6	4,000
I. T. Davis	4.8	4,000
J. H. Davis	5.0	4,000
J. W. Dunn	4.4	4,000
E. A. Greer	5.2	4,000
F. L. Gunter	4.5	4,000
G. W. Hudgins	4.6	4,000
Irvingdale Dairy	4.1	4,000
O. E. Johnston	4.8	4,000
J. T. Lambert	4.2	4,000
John Lewis & Son	4.1	4,000
Mrs. John Linder	4.3	4,000
J. H. McGee	4.1	4,000
T. D. Moore	4.4	4,000
Rockhill Dairy	4.3	4,000
H. L. Scott	4.2	4,000
J. C. Shirley	4.3	4,000
S. E. Smith	4.1	4,000
W. B. Tidwell	4.9	4,000
J. F. Wright	4.5	4,000
Avondale Dairy	4.2	4,500
Bobboshells Dairy	4.1	4,500
Burton Bros.	4.7	4,500
P. T. Coggins	5.3	4,500
Ideal Dairy	4.5	4,500
W. H. Jones	4.3	4,500
H. A. Knight	4.4	4,500
Mapleleaf Dairy	4.9	4,500
Oakland Dairy	4.1	4,500
O. R. Parker	4.4	4,500
Mrs. M. N. Parks	4.5	4,500
B. L. Pittard	4.2	4,500
J. J. Richardson	4.5	4,500
Fred Scherer	4.6	4,500
Suits Us Dairy	4.5	4,500
R. S. Tuggle	4.1	4,500
B. L. Wade	4.1	4,500
Blue Ribbon Dairy	4.8	5,000
Brookfield Dairy	4.8	5,000
Brookhill Dairy	5.2	5,000
Cochran Bros.	4.2	5,000
Mrs. O. R. Collins	4.4	5,000
C. G. Cook	3.8	5,000
J. J. Crowe	4.8	5,000
Druid Hills Dairy	4.7	5,000
T. J. Duren	4.7	5,000
R. E. Guffin	4.6	5,000
J. C. Hardin	4.9	5,000
High Point Dairy	4.2	5,000
B. F. Hudgins	4.6	5,000
C. D. Kelley	4.7	5,000
Lavista Farm	4.3	5,000
Linwood Farms	4.3	5,000
R. L. Mathis	3.8	5,000
E. C. Miller	4.7	5,000
C. L. Redd	4.8	5,000
T. Q. Sullivan	4.4	5,000
Sunrise Dairy	4.9	5,000
Suwanee River Dairy	4.2	5,000
H. D. Thames	4.4	5,000
Edgar Wallace	4.6	5,000
J. C. Watson	5.2	5,000
Wayside Dairy	4.8	5,000
D. E. Austin	4.6	6,000
F. C. Brand	5.2	6,000
J. B. Bryant	4.6	6,000
S. A. Carroll	4.3	6,000
J. R. Cole & Sons	4.6	6,000
J. W. Copeland	5.2	6,000
P. R. Cowan	4.4	6,000
Dandy Dairy, Inc.	4.2	6,000
East Lake F. & D. Co.	4.7	6,000
Eastwood Dairy	4.4	6,000
C. J. Gary	4.9	6,000
G. A. Hammond	4.5	6,000
O. T. Harbin	5.1	6,000
V. J. Harbin	5.1	6,000
Henry Grady Dairy	4.1	6,000
J. B. Honea	4.7	6,000
L. M. House	4.5	6,000
Kilpatrick's Dairy	4.5	6,000
W. A. Lamb	4.1	6,000
Lauderdale Dairy	4.5	6,000
M. L. Nalley	5.2	6,000
I. W. Parker	4.4	6,000
M. L. Parks	4.6	6,000
S. Pass	4.3	6,000
D. A. Pirkle	4.8	6,000
Powell's Dairy	4.1	6,000
H. J. Rutledge	4.6	6,000
S. E. Scott	4.7	6,000
W. C. Shumate	4.7	6,000
C. O. & F. O. Smith	4.5	6,000
Springlake Dairy	4.4	6,000
M. F. Stanley	4.3	6,000
T. C. Terry	4.2	6,000
Willowbrook Farm	4.3	6,000
J. A. Wood	5.1	6,000
H. C. Yarbray	4.6	6,000
H. H. Bankston	4.4	7,000
Camp Gordon Dairy	4.3	7,000
Cardell's Dairy	4.2	7,000
George N. Crane Dairy	4.1	7,000
E. L. Crowe	4.1	7,000
N. M. Davis	4.5	7,000
J. L. Dodson	4.6	7,000
Hillcrest Dairy	4.1	7,000
T. O. McKown	4.1	7,000
O. Nichols	4.4	7,000
T. B. Pair	5.0	7,000
Parker & Porter	4.7	7,000
Stone Edge Dairy	5.2	7,000
R. C. Turner	4.9	7,000
J. H. Wages	4.9	7,000
H. D. Adamson	4.6	8,000
W. H. Bonds	5.4	8,000
J. P. Carroll	4.3	8,000
H. W. Dodson	4.7	8,000
J. H. Nelms & Son	4.7	8,000
Tucker Brothers	4.3	8,000
R. M. Bargeron	4.3	9,000
Candler Road Dairy	4.9	9,000
C. M. Caudell	4.5	9,000
J. W. Clarke	3.8	9,000
Panthersville Dairy	5.0	9,000
Parker's Dairy	4.6	9,000
Walnut Grove Dairy	4.4	9,000
Willow Slope Dairy	4.5	9,000
Zinnia Dairy	3.7	9,000
J. C. Chaffin	4.7	10,000
Cherokee Farms Prod Co.	4.6	10,000
E. Clarke	3.6	10,000
Daffodil Dairy	4.6	10,000
E. C. Dodson	4.7	10,000
W. R. House	4.5	10,000
W. B. Merrill	4.4	10,000
R. O. Miller	4.3	10,000
Oaklawn Dairy	4.5	10,000
W. O. Pierce	3.5	10,000
Red Oak Dairy	4.9	10,000
Seminole Dairy	3.8	10,000
J. A. Simpson	5.1	10,000
R. L. Dobbs	4.4	15,000
Willie Lowe	4.8	15,000
R. J. Rogers	4.5	15,000
Russell Dairy	4.5	15,000
W. F. Smith	4.5	15,000
P. A. Thames	4.0	15,000
O. White	4.5	15,000
Whitestar Dairy	4.8	15,000
L. W. Harris	4.2	20,000
J. G. Leitch	4.0	20,000
Upshaw Dairies	5.3	20,000
D. M. Wright	5.0	20,000
R. H. Davis	4.5	25,000
O. G. Warren	4.1	25,000
C. W. Lance	4.6	30,000
Britt's Dairy	4.4	40,000
PASTEURIZING PLANTS.
Aristocrat Dairy Pro. Co.	4.3	3,000
J. U. Carroll	4.4	3,000
Cloverdale Dairy	4.4	3,000
Ponce de Leon Dairy	4.6	3,000
Clairmont Dairy	4.3	3,500
Atlanta Dairies	4.1	5,000
Peachtree Dairy	4.4	6,000
Foremost Dairy, Inc.	4.2	10,000
Mod. Milk & Ice C. Co.	4.6	10,000
Tenth Street Dairy	4.4	10,000
B. A. Dairy	4.3	15,000
Cloverdale Dairy	4.6	15,000

URBAN LEAGUE WEEKLY BULLETIN

The conditions under which the deaf and dumb negro children live at Cave Springs, Ga., where the two state institutions for white and colored are located, should receive immediate consideration on the part of the state legislature and the board of control. There are some 56 negro children there—22 boys and 34 girls, ranging in ages from 6 to 20 years. All of them are totally deaf. There are four teachers in charge. The institution is some 53 years old and is housed in a building said to be 100 years old.

On a recent visit there we had a chance to talk with the general superintendent, Mr. Harris. Mr. Harris was for 24 years superintendent of school at Rome, Ga. He has held his present position for upwards of a quarter of a century. In an interview with him in his office, we learned that the board of control never goes up on the hill, a short distance from the white institute, to inspect the buildings and grounds occupied by the negro school preliminary to making up their recommendations for the state budget committee. Mr. Harris seemed very much interested in the conduct of both institutions.

The failure of the board of control to visit the school undoubtedly accounts for the unsanitary conditions and the lack of normal comfort and conveniences for these unfortunate children. Almost nothing that one could call classroom equipment in terms of desks, chairs, blackboards, is provided. They must depend for water upon pressure from two tanks. The second story of the building is an altitude as high as the tank, so that the water pressure frequently isn't strong enough to properly flush the boys' and girls' lavatories, so water has to be brought in from the streets for this purpose. This causes an unsanitary condition and an odor that make the building unlivable at times.

I am sure it would be the wish of the governor of the state and the legislature assembled, to have the board of control make a thorough inspection of this institute that has existed there at state expense, even though inadequate, for more than a half century, so that some relief may be given this acute situation based upon scientific intelligence.

Work Among Boys.

The Georgia state council for work among boys has launched into its second year's work. The council includes all boys' work agencies in the state, representing 129,466 negro boys in the state from 10 to 19 years of age. After it was discovered that a very few of these were being reached by any of the regular boys' programs, Dr. Hope issued a call out of which grew the Georgia state council for work among negro boys. The executive committee is composed of Dr. John Hope, president of Atlanta University, president; Dr. Frank S. Horne, acting principal, N. & I. school, Fort Valley, vice president; J. M. Chiles, secretary, Atlanta Y. M. C. A., secretary; W. A. Robinson, principal, Atlanta University laboratory high school, treasurer; Ralph W. Bullock, national council, Y. M. C. A., field worker, and the following representatives: Y. M. C. A., H. W. Rohrer; 4-H Clubs, Alexander Hurse; Future Farmers of Georgia, Alva Tabor; Allen Life Guards, McQuillian; Boy Scouts, Reginald A. Johnson; Boys' Clubs of America, Frank Callan. The state council plans to draw up articles of incorporation to operate under charter from the state of Georgia.

The general purpose of the council is to call the attention of the various communities of the state to the needs of negro boys and to further the effectiveness of the existing agencies now working among boys and to establish programs among boys in communities where no such agencies now exist. Beginning its work in March, 1933, the plans of the council were carried out by R. W. Bullock, national council of the Y. M. C. A. Bullock prepared a leaflet for the use of the various communities: "Brief Suggestions for Organizing Work Among Negro Boys in Local Communities on a Volunteeer Basis" and a program paper "Fundamental Needs of Negro Boys and Young Men."

An investigation has shown that, of the 129,466 negro boys in Georgia between the ages of 10 and 19 years, only 6,000 of them were being touched by any of the present boys' work organiztions, including the Y. M. C. A., 4-H Clubs, Boys' Clubs of America, Boy Scouts and Allen Life Guards. With the co-operation of the state council and the national Y. M. C. A. councils have been organized in Albany, Brunswick, Columbus, Cuthbert, Fort Valley, LaGrange, Macon, Monticello Savannah, Statesboro, Thomasville and Valdosta. Other communities touched include Americus, Athens, Bainbridge, Bronwood, Cordele, Irwinton, Parrott, Waycross and West Point. Approximately 800 boys are following program under the direct supervision of these councils. In addition, the present organizations carrying on work among negro boys have been stimulated to the extent they report a present enrollment of over 11,470 boys, an increase of almost 100 per cent over last year.

WASHER BUYING WAVE SEEN SWEEPING U. S.

Washers and ironers never have been adopted by American housewives as rapidly as they are being installed just now, according to M. W. Edwards, of Dixie Radio Distributors, Inc. There is

YOUNG AMERICA CLUB

EDITED BY MARGARET MONTAGUE

Letters From Our Friends Who Live Across the Seas

I am Sandy MacDonald, and I live in Scotland across the Atlantic ocean from you.

Golf is the national game of Scotland, and is played by both young and old people here. Some say that the game originated with the shepherds in the olden times. As the story goes, they would take a small round stone and knock it about with their "crooks" as they walked behind their flocks over the moors and along the seashore. Certainly the game has been played in Scotland for a long, long time and that's all anybody really knows about it.

Our favorite boys' game is "boules" or the button-game; which is played very much like your game of marbles, in the United States. We throw our buttons toward a hole scooped out in the ground next to a fence or a wall. All sorts of buttons are used, each variety having a different value. For instance, a button off a soldier's coat is worth ten times as much as an ordinary button, and a colored button is worth more than a plain white one. We Scotch boys carry our pockets full of buttons and trade with our playmates to get the kinds we like. There is nothing that pleases us more in the way of a present than a long string of buttons.

Children in Scotland eat four meals a day and the one we like best of all is "tea" at half-past 4 in the afternoon. My, what good things we have to eat then; shortbread, a sort of crisp cake which simply melts in your mouth, hot buttered scones, "layer cake" and nice little round cakes, all fluted around the edge. Then there is jam, and preserved ginger, and always plenty of marmalade. Our mothers take great pride in making their own jam and marmalade and would not think of buying it already put up.

The schools and colleges in Scotland are famous all over the world and every Scotchman prizes a good education above all else. Many a "lad" (as we are generally called in Scotland) who has not enough money will go through all sorts of hardships and live on a little porridge and milk, in order to save enough to go through one of our four great universities.

Scotch children do not celebrate Christmas as lavishly as you do, but they make much more of New Year's Day or "Hogmanay" as we call it. On "Hogamany" Eve everybody stays up all night to welcome the first day of the new year, and there are games and of course lots of good things to eat. All during the frolics we children are wondering who will make the "first-footing," for the very first person who enters the house, after the stroke of midnight makes the "first-footing" and it is customary for that person to bring a cake of shortbread with him which means that he wishes everybody in the household health and happiness during the coming year. Exactly at 12 o'clock all the bells ring, horns blow and people join hands and sing, "Auld Lang Syne," that well-known song of Robert Burns, Scotland's great poet:

Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And niver brought to mind?
We'll drink a cup of kindness yet,
For the days of Auld Lang Syne.

Visitors to Edinburgh castle are always much interested in seeing the highland regiment which is on guard there. Perhaps the most interesting of all the uniforms is that worn by the piper of the regiment. His "kilt" (skirt) and long woolen stockings are made of the tartan which shows the clan to which he belongs. Many, many years ago, long before Scotland was a part of the British empire, the great families banded themselves and their followers into clans, which were really little kingdoms. The piper's plaid, which is a sort of shawl, is pinned on his shoulder with a big silver brooch, set with a "cairngorm" stone; which you know as the yellow stone called topaz; and this stone is found in such great quantities in Scotland that it might almost be called our national stone.

A very great event for Scotch children is the hearing of "royal proclamation" which is a message from the king, and is always read at Mercat Cross in Edinburgh. First come the heralds of the king, very colorful in their blue, red and gold costumes, then there's an escort from the highland regiment at the castle, and the band plays as the procession moves toward the cross. When all is in readiness, a great fanfare of trumpets is heard, and then the king's message is read out to the multitude assembled there. Following the proclamtion, another fanfare is given by the trumpeters and then the band plays "God Save the King" and all the people take off their hats.

When you come to Scotland you must not fail to visit Abbotsford, Sir Walter Scott's home, and Melrose abbey, which he visited so often. Melrose is not far from the English boundary line, or "border," as we call it in Scotland.

Walter Scott was himself related to most of the border clansmen and he has written much about their deeds of bravery and daring. His "Waverley Novels" are read and loved, all over the world.

Indeed "The Land of the Purple Heather" as Scotland is sometimes called is so rich in historic and scenic charms that I am sure you cannot but wish that some day you may visit us. Yours—SANDY MAC.

Nature Notes

Have you ever been taken 'coon hunting? There's a real experience; for this diminutive member of the bear family is apt to trick you into many embarrassing situations before the chase is done. Raccoon hunting sounds as easy as it does interesting, for all you need is a good 'coon dog, a lantern, old clothes and good heavy, water-tight shoes or boots. But ask your dad or uncle to tell you about his 'coon hunting days—nearly everyone has done it some time or other.

Just let us describe this sly little fellow so you'll know him if you ever go a-hunting. Look closely at his handforepaws, which are capable of doing anything the human hand can perform. He uses these forepaws much like the monkey uses his, especially when climbing about in trees, where he spends much of his time. On the ground, Mr. Racoon is not so graceful, his movements resembling the shambling gait of the bear.

Hollow Tree For Nest.

The raccoon uses a hollow tree for a nest. Here in this cavity the baby raccoons, varying in number from three to six, are born about the first of April, and there they remain until the corn is ripe and they are able to climb down from their nest and feed upon the corn-milk, which is a favorite food. A little later their diet consists of nuts, frogs, fish, mollusks, turtles and poultry, in addition to corn.

Raccoons do most of their prowling at night, sleeping the day away in some hollow tree-trunk or secluded rock ledge. Young 'coons are often caught in the country and kept as pets. When treated kindly, they show considerable affection for their masters, and their skillful manner in using their paws and the intelligent expression of their faces endear them to all who make their acquaintance.

A local shop assistant was showing a gentleman some braces.

"Yes, these are splendid braces, sir—last you a lifetime."

"I'll take a pair."

"Why not two pairs, sir?" asked the smart assistant.—(London Daily News.)

Camp Fire Girls

History and Purpose.

The purpose of the Camp Fire Girls organization is to provide a program of creative, purposeful leisure-time activities for young girls.

"How shall I spend my time?" Many boys and girls are seeking an answer to that question. Some answer it by "killing time" in amusements harmless enough in themselves, but without any value. Some are busily demonstrating the age-old adage that "Satan finds some mischief still, for idle hands to do." Camp Fire Girls believe, as do the Boy Scouts, in giving boys and girls a chance to have a good time with youngsters of their own age, and a choice of activities which will not only captivate their interest but enrich their experience. For this reason a group of well known educators, men and women who had successfully and with deep interest, worked with boys and girls in school, camp and home, planned the Camp Fire program in 1912.

The program is built on the natural interests of adolescent girls, affording them an outlet for their enthusiasms and an opportunity to discover and develop their particular skills. The seven crafts: home, health, hand craft, nature lore, camping, business and citizenship, permit a wide choice of activities.

Program Stimulating.

The program is planned to stimulate the interest of the girls in their homes; to give them an opportunity to discover and develop their skill in handicrafts; to encourage them to form health habits; to enable them to become at home out of doors, resourceful in new situations, and appreciative of nature; to encourage them to form habits of punctuality and thrift, and to help them to realize their place in and responsibility towards their community.

The plan of earning "honors" (recognition of accomplishment) in these various crafts, and advancement in the three Camp Fire ranks, has been devised to give continuity to the interests of the girls, and to direct their varied activities to a purposeful goal.

The girls meet together in small groups under the leadership of an adult friend known as the guardian of the Camp Fire. In this way they find satisfaction for their natural desire to belong to some "club" or special group of friends. They have plenty of opportunity to show leadership and initiative, in planning and carrying out their Camp Fire's activities, and at the same time they have to learn the important lesson of working togeher for the success and happiness of their Camp Fire and all its members. Best of all, the Camp Fire program operates through enthusiasm—not "must," but "want to," so that the girls who are fortunate enough to belong to this organization find themselves having a remarkably good time in a wholesome way, doing things which continually challenge them to worthwhile accomplishments.

Since the organization of Camp Fire Girls in 1912, the membership has grown to 200,000 with about 10,000 groups and leaders.

Club Plans Draw Many New Names

Naturally enough, it has required a lot of time and effort to get the Young America Club off to the flying start it has taken. Members are enrolling in the club from all over Georgia in such numbers that it is requiring an extra force of stenographers and secretaries to make out the proper enrollment blanks, fill in the membership cards and mail cards and emblems promptly to all new members.

If you have not received your membership card yet, be patient for a few days before writing a reminder. We are gradually catching up.

In spite of the rush, we have completed plans for our first meeting and theater party. Charter members of the Young America Club will be honored by having special seats at the first meeting. "Charter members" are those boys and girls who are most prompt in sending in their membership applications. Charter membership certificates will be sent to those entitled to them just as fast as the secretaries can mail them out.

You may become a charter member by filling in properly and mailing immediately the application blank shown at the very bottom of today's page to the secretary, Young America Club, The Atlanta Constitution. Your membership card and badge will be sent to you as quickly as possible. Don't wait to join until too late to attend the first meeting on March 16 at the Fox theater.

The MAIL BOX

Lawrenceville, Ga.

Dear Secretary:

I find your club page in The Constitution very interesting. For the past few years I have been deprived of the privilege of attending school, as arthritis has made me a shut-in.

I am enclosing a membership card to your club; also a story for the picture "Saved."

I shall look forward each week, with much pleasure, for the club page, for it gives me something to do and think about. It will help me to pass many lonely hours.

NELL FLANIGAN.

Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Secretary:

I am making a book of the Young America Club things that are interesting. I have a page for our creed, our emblem, and a page for art and other things.

I am eight years old and am in High 3 at Morningside school. I certainly do enjoy the club page.

JOANNE RAY.

Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Secretary:

I hope to become an active member of the Young America Club, because I think it has fine ideals towards making better citizens of all us boys and girls.

ARGENIA GORDON.

Union Point, Ga.

Dear Secretary:

I was at once attracted by the Young America Club, so I'm enclosing my membership blank. As I live about 100 miles from Atlanta, I will not be able to attend the meetings there except when I'm visiting in the city; but I shall try to be an ardent member.

I am also enclosing in this letter a theme on the picture "Saved," by Sir Edwin Landseer. I dearly love to write themes and short stories. I shall try my skill on writing for you until I win, or have them published, then I'll try some more. So you see you'll be hearing from me quite often.

Here's hoping the Y. A.'s much success.

FRANCES CORRY.

Cartersville, Ga.

Dear Secretary:

Enclosed you will find our applications for membership to your club. We liked your page very much yesterday and can hardly wait till next Sunday for it again. We think it's a shame we cannot have it in the daily, but maybe we are just a little selfish.

We will be looking each day to receive our membership cards and buttons. Thanking you for giving us the chance to have this lovely club and page each Sunday, we are, faithfully yours,

ANNE McBREEN,
BILLY TERRY, JR.

Dear Secretary:

I, as a Camp Fire Girl, would like to see our news in the paper.

CAROLYN EPLAN.

Canton, Ga.

Dear Young American.

I saw your page in The Constitution and was deeply impressed with the Young America Club. I am not sure that you will receive rural members or not, but I wanted to write and find out. If so I didn't want to miss the opportunity.

I don't suppose that I will be able to attend all club meetings, but I think I would receive much pleasure through the club's other features. I think you have a mighty good creed and emblem. Although I am already trying to develop into a good, honest, law-abiding citizen, I think that by wearing your emblem it will remind me to do better. So if you will accept my application for membership, it will please me very much; also help me much.

WESLEY THOMAS.

Flovilla, Ga.

Dear Secretary:

I should like very much to be a member of your club. But is this for Atlanta young people only, or for all young people of Georgia?

I read The Constitution every day and I surely do enjoy it! Please let me know about this at once.

RUTH BROWNING.

The Atlanta Constitution

Dear Wesley and Ruth:

The Young America Club is open to all boys and girls who read The Constitution, no matter what city, county or state they happen to live in. We are very happy to have you as members in Canton and Flovilla, and hope you will sign up your friends in school there.

MARGARET MONTAGUE.

Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Secretary:

I saw your page in The Constitution and was very interested in it. I think the creed of the club is a very wise creed. I am especially interested in stamps. Your "Nature Note" will be good to put in my nature book. At school we have a special interest period. The facts in the "Worth Knowing" column will be good for that. In English period, our teacher will let us write a story about the picture.

I am sure that your page shall be read in every classroom in S. M. Inman school.

ALICE MARIE VIOLANTE.

Douglasville, Ga.

Dear Secretary:

I would like to communicate with any other person in another state.

JEAN MORRIS.

Senoia, Ga.

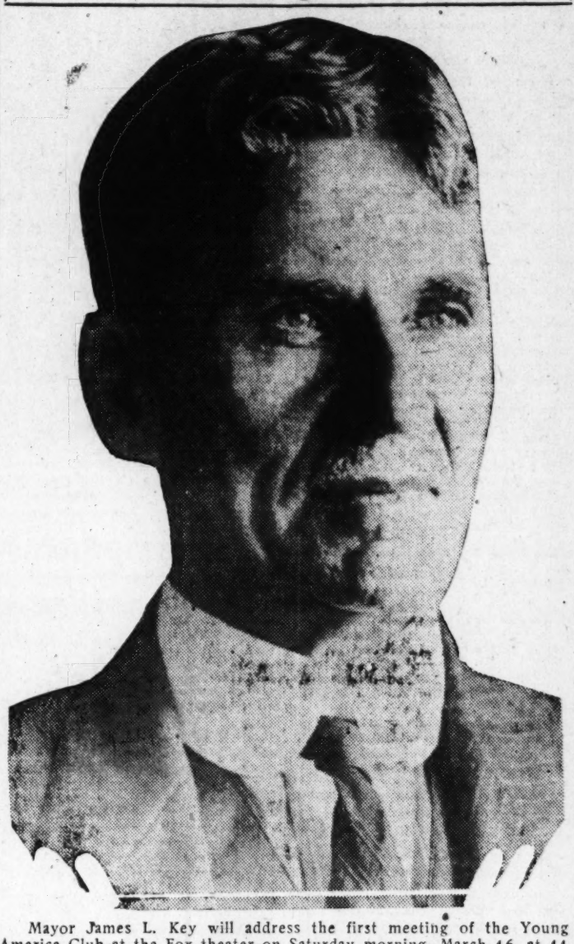

Dear Members:

With this letter I am making an application for membership to your club. I am enclosing my version of the picture "Saved" and I sincerely hope to win a prize.

I will be glad to answer all letters written to me and am inviting all correspondence.

MARY JOHNSON.

Mayor Key Will Speak To Young America Club

Mayor James L. Key will address the first meeting of the Young America Club at the Fox theater on Saturday morning, March 16, at 11 o'clock. Mayor Key is keenly interested in the activities of the club, and because of this interest has consented to take a few minutes from his busy desk to say a few words of welcome: "I heartily indorse the principles for which the Young America Club stands," said the mayor, "and will be delighted to welcome the club members at their organization meeting. Young America Club members of today are the citizens of tomorrow in whose hands will rest the future good government and welfare of our city and state. I am keenly interested in the club's activities."

First Successful Aeroplane Flight

At Kitty Hawk, a lonely life-saving station on the coast of North Carolina, in the month of December, 1903, Orville and Wilbur Wright launched their first successful flying machine, sailed it a short distance and brought it safely to earth.

Just like all other boys, the Wright brothers had coasted on sleds and bicycles, or earth-gliders, they had rowed boats, or water-gliders, and they had sailed their kites, or air-gliders. At times they had even been pulled off their feet when they had sent up a big kite in a strong wind. One time they attached a big kite to their sled, and started down a steep snowy hillside to see what would happen. What did happen, the Wright boys remembered for a long time to come, the wind took hold of the wing of the kite, lifted them into the air a few feet, sailed a short distance, then dropped—hard.

"I'll tell you what, Buddy," said Orville, when the two boys had dug themselves out of a snow bank, "If we'd had an engine in it, we'd kept on going!"

Used Bicycle Shop.

The Wright brothers had a little bicycle shop in Dayton, Ohio, where they experimented in their spare time, with all sorts of gliders, which as you know, are nothing more than motorless areoplanes. They spent many years in developing a pair of wings that would sustain flight and keep their flying machine suspended in the air. Many of their models resemble the fascinating gliders which boys and girls make themselves, or buy today.

If you would have some real sport, get a crowd of your playmates together who have gliders and hold a glider race, seeing whose glider will sail the furtherest before falling to earth.

After the Wright brothers had succeeded in perfecting their glider they turned to find a means of giving power to their wings. This, of course, was the most difficult task of all, but we have only to look into the skies almost any time nowadays to see the results of the Wright boys' experiments. They were the first men in the whole world to successfully fly, and immediately took their place among the other great American inventors, Watt, Fulton and Edison.

Cachet Calendar

On April 3, 1935, a special printed bi-colored cachet will be sponsored commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the first pony express from St. Joseph, Mo. This cachet will be very attractive, and the closing date is March 22, so mail your covers immediately. Send all covers 6 3-4 size, no postages due, with 1 cent per cover forwarding postage to Louis Bernstein, 2 Lafayette street, New York city. Commemoratives will be appreciated.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The first edition of our Young America page was fine, wasn't it? Loads of people said they read it and were looking for this Sunday's issue.

Last Sunday one little girl read some of the things Girl Scouts like to do and followed the advice given. She didn't have a troop in her neighborhood and so she told an attractive (and such an attractive) young woman who has already begun to learn the ways of being a Girl Scout leader. You will hear interesting things from this new troop.

The title of this paragraph might be "What Girl Scouts Like to Eat." Did you ever eat a barbecued chicken—and did you ever barbecue one yourself? One group of Girl Scout leaders made a very quiet trip to Civitania for the week-end. They wanted to experiment and didn't want any publicity on their first attempt at barbecue. It evidently was a huge success since the honor guest said she'd never be satisfied with her hotel fare again.

Troop 1, a downtown troop of older girls, are going to camp for a week-end soon, and since the writer is to be a guest, she hopes they will try it, too.

Troop 14 at the Presbyterian church on Highland avenue had their daddies for supper and showed them that Girl Scouts can really cook steaks. They have been invited to repeat the performance. This is an excellent way for Girl Scouts to prove to their parents that the fun they have in their troops is useful as well.

BoyScout News

Troop 13.

Troop 13 had a very good meeting Friday night. Several visitors were at the meeting, among them C. Frank Dunn, the southwest field commissioner. The speaker of the evening was A. P. Francis, who also gave instruction on observation. The game period was given by the Panther Patrol. The mothers' auxiliary is having a turkey dinner at Sterchi's lunch room on Friday, March 1.

Troop 72.

On Friday night we had a total of 18 Scouts present at our meeting. Some of the Scouts passed tests and then we started making plans for our wiener roast. Several boys passed the tracking test over the week-end at the Scoutmaster's home. We are planning on going on a hike next Saturday.

Troop 50.

Troop 50, sponsored by the Druid Hills Presbyterian church, has registered for the year with a total of 38 Scouts, under the leadership of Scoutmaster C. Harold Westin, and two assistant Scoutmasters, William L. Brady Jr., and John S. Hill. The troop committee is composed of Messrs. R. G. Stephens, James C. Howard Jr., and P. E. Lineback. Out of the 38 Scouts, 36 subscribed to Boys' Life, the official magazine of the Boy Scouts of America.

Troop 1, College Park.

Troop 1, College Park, is heading for the top. The troop received an awful shock last week. "Shaker" (Thomas) Straw passed a merit badge! Also several light shocks were felt because John Jergason, Forbes Stakely, and Edwin Worley passed some merit badge tests. Saturday, February 23, the troop went on an 18-mile hike (no riding). There were 21 on the hike and they all had a swell time. The troop is getting a New Deal and things are surely happening. We are carving totem poles now and that's plenty of fun. We invite anyone and everyone to come to meetings any Friday night at the Scout hut on East Hawthorne avenue.

News flash!!! Ed Greer is no sissy—come watch him buzz.

First Meeting of Young America To Be at Fox Theater, March 16

The Fox theater will be the scene of the Young America Club's first get-together a week from next Saturday, March 16, at 11 o'clock in the morning. E. E. Whitaker, manager of the Fox, will be our host. Immediately following a short business session, the program will be in charge of Mr. Whitaker who promises to club members a show they will long remember.

Club members must present their membership cards at the theater door in order to be admitted, so don't forget to bring them along. Parents, when accompanied by their children, also will be admitted to the meeting. Begin now making plans to come, and get mother and dad to come with you!

Interesting March Dates

March 1—Nebraska admitted to the Union, 1867. "One by one the stones of the mighty structure are carved from the wilderness by the devotion of men and women."

March 2—Congress authorized Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to receive foreign decorations, 1928.

March 3—Maine and Florida admitted to the Union, 1820-1845. "From Canada to the gulf, the flag waves its welcome to men of good will."

March 4—Originally recognized as inauguration day, the day upon which, once in four years, the presidents of the United States took the oath of office. Now changed to January 20 by the "lame duck" amendment.

March 5—Boston massacre, 1770.

March 6—Siege of the Alamo, San Antonio, Texas, 1836. "For eleven terrible days, 145 American heroes, under such men as Travis, Bowie, Crockett, held off an army of 5,000 Mexican troops. All perished fighting in the final assault of the Mexicans, whose dead numbered more than 1,200."

March 7—First telephone patent issued Alexander G. Bell, 1876.

March 8—William Howard Taft, 27th president of the United States and tenth chief justice, died, 1330.

March 9—Confederate government called for 11,000 volunteers from Alabama, 1861.

March 10—U. S. Grant made commander-in-chief of the Union army, 1864.

March 10—First words spoken over telephone, 1876.

March 11—United States navy founded, 1794. "Paul Jones, Farragut, Dewey, Simms; clean fighters all, and in clean causes."

March 11—Georgia ratified a new constitution, 1868.

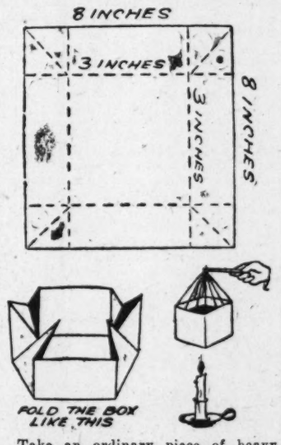

March 11—Tunnel under the Hudson river completed, 1904.

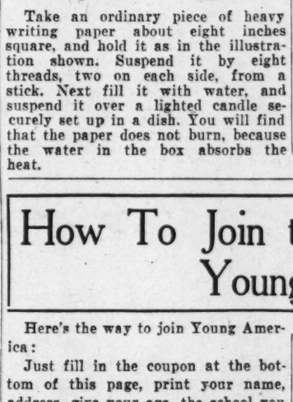

March 12—General postoffice established by congress, 1789.

BLACK MAGIC

by MAHMED

Do you remember that I promised to tell you how to boil water in a paper box without burning the paper? Here is a trick that really isn't "magic" at all, it can be so easily done. The success of the trick is based upon a commonly known scientific fact, and that is that water absorbs heat.

Take an ordinary piece of heavy writing paper about eight inches square, and hold it as in the illustration shown. Suspend it by eight threads, two on each side, from a stick. Next fill it with water, and suspend it over a lighted candle securely set up in a dish. You will find that the paper does not burn, because the water in the box absorbs the heat.

Our Creed

First—Because the honor and glory of our country depends on the honor and loyalty of each one of us; every young American will do all in his power at all times to uphold the ideals of America.

Second—Every young American will strive with all his strength to seek growth in honesty, sympathy, courtesy, industry, courage, self-reliance, reverence, a sacred regard for truthfulness, a right respect for authority, and an absolute obedience to law.

Third—Every young American is faithful, he will not betray his trust.

Fourth—Every young American is courteous, for he repreesnts his nation.

Fifth—Every young American is brave, he resists that he may win his aim.

Sixth—Every young American is truthful, for he knows that truth alone is strong enough to support him in trial.

Seventh—Every young American is unselfish, serving not for his own advancement, but as every good citizen serves, for the sake of serving his country and the welfare of its people.

Eighth—Every young American is industrious, he wants his work to make his country richer and happier. He wishes to leave his country better for his having served her.

Ninth—Every young American is loyal to the oath he pledges: "I will never bring disgrace to my country by any act of dishonesty, or cowardice, nor ever desert my comrades. I will uphold the sacred ideals of my country, obey and revire her laws, and will do my best to incite a like respect and a like reverence in others."

Note—It is not intended that membership in the Young America Club be limited to Atlanta. The club welcomes members from all over Georgia; in fact, from the entire territory served by The Sunday Constitution.

BOOK NOOK

One of the most thrilling stories of the early days in the far west is that of the Pony Express, which carried the first mails. It was in the year 1860 that the service was begun. Over 500 ponies were used, many of them the wiry Indian pony type, and there were 200 men who acted as riders. Each rider took with him mail in saddlebags; the limit of weight carried was about 20 pounds. There were stations all along the way where the rider changed horses and transferred the saddlebags of mail, and they had things so well worked out that it only took two minutes to transfer. You have all heard of one of these pony express mail riders; he was William F. Cody, nicknamed Buffalo Bill. The fastest trip ever made was when Lincoln's inaugural address was carried a distance of 1,900 miles in seven days and 17 hours. Now, of course, airplanes carry mail from New York to San Francisco in less time than pony riders once needed to cross the state of Nevada!

You may wonder whether Indians gave any trouble to the riders. Sometimes they did. One story is told of an Indian who killed a rider, but his horse galloped on to the next station, and the mail remained safe in the saddlebags.

If you like to read stories about the history of our country when it was Young America then you will like "Advancing the Frontier," by Ramon Coffman (F. A. Owen Publishing Company, Dansville, N. Y., 72 cents postpaid).

Have You Read

"Jean La Fitte, Gentleman Smuggler," by Mitchell V. Charnley (Viking Press, 1934), illustrated by Jay Van Everen? Here for the first time this colorful figure lives in a book written for boys and girls. From the little blacksmith shop in New Orleans where La Fitte and his brother Pierre began their careers, through the colony of smugglers at Grande Terre, to Jean's death in Mexico, this entertaining biography moves as swiftly as any good story. The author is better known to boys as a writer on athletics. This book may be borrowed from the department for boys and girls of the Carnegie library or its branches. There are many other good books to be found here no matter what your taste.

Note to Young Americans—If you will send in your review of a book you have recently read, it may be published with your name next week.

How To Join the Young America Club

Here's the way to join Young America:

Just fill in the coupon at the bottom of this page, print your name, address, give your age, the school you attend and your birth date.

Then mail to Young America Club, care of The Constitution, Atlanta, Georgia.

By return mail you will receive your membership card, filled in with your name, and a beautiful button bearing the emblem of the club. It may be worn by either boys or girls in good standing.

Be sure to take your membership card to all club gatherings. It is valuable, and you will find it will be worth lots to you in fun and good times.

Young America has great things in store for you—games, contests, the best of stories, puzzles, nature studies, exchange of letters with boys and girls, a book corner with an opportunity for you to review latest works of well-known authors; handcraft projects and, well—so much that it all cannot be told here.

After you join, just watch The Constitution for the Young America page, which will appear each Sunday with all club news, names of members, photographs and a host of good things.

Let's all join Young America and have a better time and be better young citizens!

Application for Membership

YOUNG AMERICA CLUB

Please enroll me as a member of the YOUNG AMERICA CLUB. I agree to abide by all rules of membership and to conduct myself always according to the principles of good citizenship.

Name .....

Address ..... City .....

School ..... Grade .....

Age ..... Birthday .....

Mail this coupon to Secretary Young America Club, care The Constitution, Atlanta Georgia, with a stamped, self-addressed envelope enclosed.

The Parents' Forum

By MARGARET MONTAGUE.

The other day I was horrified to see the little boy who lives next door crouching in my side yard, aiming at a poor little robin who was about to partake of some crumbs which I had placed on the window ledge for him to eat. I raised the window and almost got shot by the BB gun myself, but fortunately he missed the bird!

"What do you mean by trying to kill that harmless little bird, you naughty boy?" I asked him indignantly.

"Why, I've got to shoot something with my birthday present, haven't I?" he retorted, equally indignant.

And there you have it. How can school teachers ever hope to teach children to express kindness and thoughtfulness toward pets, birds, squirrels and even other children, when parents place toys like this gun in their hands? It is only natural that they should want to go out and scare and shoot up the whole world; what is a toy cannon or gun for, if not to shoot with?

I don't believe that parents actually wish to encourage an attitude of domineering, eruelty and killing, when they give toys that generate these desires. It is just that most of us simply follow tradition when we choose toys for boys and girls—fathers remember how they played with toy soldiers, toy pistols and popguns, and they buy the same things for their own sons. Mothers go into toy apartments and try to remember what brought them the most pleasure when they were little Nancy's age, and just buy that.

Toys Have Influence.

Modern educators, however, are fully aware of the tremendous influence toys play in a child's development, and they advise us to consider carefully what traits we wish to emphasize in our children before selecting their toys. There are toys that will teach Billy fair play, and toys which will help Joan to overcome tantrums by giving her a means of expressing herself in another way.

Toys should be chosen according to age groups and most children reach certain normal kinds of interests at the same age level. The infant, before he can walk, will want soft, durable toys—mostly animals and dolls. All should be washable (for he is sure to put them into his mouth), and they should not be of the soft pinks and baby blues that we have so long associated with babies' toys, but of colors that the child can see easily, such as yellow, red, green and bright blue.

After a baby can walk he finds the most pleasure in the push-and-pull toys; he feels so proud of himself when he can make something travel over the floor behind him. At this age blocks are a source of great satisfaction to him, and the most fun comes when he can push them all over! After a child is past three, he likes the more elaborate block-building, with other easy construction sets, which can be more complicated as he grows older.

About the ages of five and 6 comes the dramatic play period; little boys like to play with trains and dump carts, and little girls to keep house, in imitation of the grown-up life around them. Electric trains, airplanes, magnets and toys of that nature are most appreciated by boys of eight and up. I remember one proud papa who bought his little son an electric train with yards and yards of track when the boy was only two! Of course Billy spent his entire time playing with the quacking duck, and left his father to amuse himself with the train.

Little girls of this age enjoy grown-up housekeeping equipment such as ironing boards and electric irons that really work, stoves that cook, small tubs and washing machines with tiny wringers, and clotheslines. Handicraft supplies and suitable games should also be included in the list of gifts for the boys and girls of eight and up.

Construction sets and blocks, balls and tools (really good ones, not the flimsy little things that break up at the first touch) are excellent for development of skill and strength. Later on, boys and girls should have roller skates, tennis rackets and materials for active play. Children should be taught to play together, and the same toys that are good for dramatic and imitative play encourage the social instinct, too—puppets and toy theaters, Noah's Arks, farm sets, boats, dump carts, fancy dress costumes, and circuses.

Miss Ethel Kawin, author of the book, "The Wise Choice of Toys," says that too often children are given mechanical toys that they simply watch run, and their own abilities are not developed. "Drawing materials," says Miss Kawin, "should be good ones—large in size, of course, when the child is as young as two. Let him draw his own way, and do not discourage his natural efforts by drawing something for him. The very young child draws what he knows, not what he sees. If legs show through the trousers let them stay that way; Bobby knows they are there. Many a child has had his natural love of drawing and his confidence in his own art ability discouraged by mentally comparing his crude efforts with the finished adult work that his mother or father has done for him. Molding clay, with a smock and supply of newspapers or oilcloth to protect the room and give the child the sense of freedom he needs, is a fine handicraft toy. Simple looms, sewing materials with bright yarns, supplies from which boys can fashion something interesting and beautiful—these are immensely valuable in a child's developement.

There are many fine musical instruments on the market today on which a child may gain his first musical knowledge, and get the thrill of becoming a channel for beauty of sound. There are tubular chimes, mouth organs, xylophones, fifes, ukuleles, banjos, small saxophones and clarinets and even small violins. Many parents hesitate to give their young children a fine instrument for fear that they will not take care of it or because the adults do not want the noise of practicing. For my part, I think a child should be given at least one real treasure when he is young, and taught to take care of it.

More and more literature is being written on the subject of meeting the need for toys chosen on this educational basis. Parent-Teacher associations are doing much to spread information concerning the importance of choosing toys wisely.

"SAVED" PICTURE CONTEST NOTE

Because of the great number of stories submitted by members in the Art Gallery Story Competition, the names of the five winners cannot be published this week. Watch next Sunday's page for the announcement of the winners.

MAGAZINE SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

MAGAZINE SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1935.

Great Loves of Literature

RUTH and BOAZ

THE sun-parched grain fields of Palestine, dozens of generations ago, gave the world one of its greatest heroines of romance in the person of Ruth.

Ruth lived in the land of Moab. As a girl she married a young man named Mahlon, who had moved to Moab with his mother, Naomi, from Bethlehem, when that region was swept by a famine. After some years Mahlon died, and Naomi prepared to move back to Bethlehem.

Now there had sprung up between Ruth and her mother-in-law one of the most beautiful bits of filial affection in all recorded history; and when Naomi returned Ruth insisted on going with her, voicing her determination in the famous words—"thy people shall be my people and thy God my God; and where thou diest I will die and there will I be buried."

So the two women returned to Bethlehem to make their home together.

Times were hard. To obtain food, Ruth went out to the harvest fields to glean after the harvesters—that is, to seek stray bits of grain dropped or overlooked by the men who had gone out to reap. The field, as it happened, belonged to Boaz, a young land-owner who was one of the richest men in the community. He was also a relative of Naomi's dead husband, Elimelech.

Boaz saw Ruth gleaning in the field and was struck by her beauty. He invited her to come daily and get grain from his field, showing her a shady bower where she could take her mid-day lunch, and telling his reapers to be sure to leave an extra allowance of grain behind them so that she could get plenty.

So Ruth replied gratefully: "Let me find favor in thy sight, my lord, for that thou has comforted me and for that thou hast spoken friendly unto thine handmaid."

That night Ruth told Naomi what had happened. And Naomi saw to it that Ruth was bathed and anointed and arrayed in her best when next she went to the field; and Boaz, more struck than ever with her loveliness, fell deeply in love with her, and a little later made her his wife.

And from their union descended the long line of the kings of Israel, beginning with the great King David.

C. THEL RAY

© 1935.

When ANCIENT GREECE had a NEW DEAL much like AMERICA'S

Solon, who gave Greece a "new deal" 25 centuries before Roosevelt.

By Willis Thornton

THE Greeks had a word for it. A word for a New Deal.

It was Eunomia.

Solon coined the name 2500 years ago when he was giving Athens a New Deal. And it was a New Deal that was very like the one Americans are having today. So much like it, in fact, that you are tempted to remember the cynical crack of the Preacher in Ecclesiastes who said: "Is there anything whereof it may be said, See, this is new? It hath been already of old time, which was before us."

Solon was the boss of Athens 2500 years ago, and he concocted a set of laws which were so progressive and generally streamlined that his name has become a byword. He's the gent you mean when you laughingly refer to a member of the state legislature as a "solon."

Here's how Solon got that reputation; see if quite a bit of it doesn't sound 1935-ish:

Nearly 600 years before Christ, the small country of Greece was having pretty much of a boom. The Homeric War (the one fought against Troy because Paris ran off with Helen, King Menelaus' frau) was long over. The Allies had beaten down the Trojan menace in a war that lasted 10 years, not four.

And when the boys came home everything was all set for a trade boom. The Greeks were a young, up-and-coming people, ready to experiment, especially with a curious idea recently imported from Lydia, called "money." It seems that, according to this idea, instead of making a reasonable exchange of, say, two oxen for a pretty wife, you "bought" things with a weight of gold stamped with the government mark to assure its correct weight.

The Athenians took to this idea like a hog to a mud-wallow, and trade expanded, for you could trade much better with little gold pieces of "money" than by driving oxen about. The Greeks expanded, and opened up colonies along the Mediterranean shores, like Syracuse (Sicily, not New York), Marseilles (same one that's in France now), and Sybaris, Italy (which became so rich that it gave us our word sybaritic, meaning "pretty soft").

As this trade flourished men began to go in debt, borrowing this new "money." And when men borrow money, there are creditors. All values began to be based on money, and money was what men really sought, rather than more substantial wealth. Taxes and profits poured in from the colonies, and in tribute from states which preferred to invest in money tribute rather than armies and navies. The Athenian goose hung high.

The government established a sort of central bank in the Acropolis where was kept some $5,000,000 in gold, with an additional $2,500,000 in gold plate on the statue of Pallas Athene which stood there. This was important money in those Greek days, 2500 years ago.

In those days a stone pillar was set up on a man's farm when he mortgaged it, and the amount, date and terms of the mortgage cut in the stone.

Farmers, eager to acquire land, or buy more, cheerfully mortgaged their own bodies on loans—to go into slavery if they did not pay. In those days a stone pillar was set up on a man's farm when he mortgaged it, and the amount, date and terms of the mortgage cut in the stone. Greece was dotted with them.

THE opening up of the Italian and Egyptian grain fields suddenly made a good deal of the rocky Greek land "submarginal." Farmers weren't getting "cost of production" for their grain because cost of production was lower abroad, even after shipping to Greece. Foreclosures kept getting more and more frequent, and many a farmer was sold into slavery as the price of not paying his debt. They were plenty sore about that, and the "farm problem" was getting acute.

History is not clear on whether there were farm holiday associations, but it is clear that there was likely to be some sort of a revolution if something wasn't done about farm debts and foreclosures.

In 594 B. C. the better-balanced elements of all parties put up Solon for archon, or head man. Solon was a man descended from the nobility, but he had democratic beliefs. He was a poet, and because his family had lost most of their money, had spent his early years in trade.

So Solon was voted in as archon, and given extraordinary powers for his Eunomia, or New Deal, to face the emergency and head off the impending revolution.

All parties combined to elect Solon. Plutarch says of the general confidence in him ". . . Solon was the only one not implicated in the troubles; he had not joined in the exactions of the rich, and was not involved in the necessities of the poor," so they "pressed him to succor the commonwealth and compose the differences."

So Solon was voted in as archon and given extraordinary powers to head off the impending revolution.

IN ordering his "New Deal," Solon appears to have been the very ideal of a democratic leader, for Plutarch says "he did not show himself mean and submissive to the powerful, nor make his laws to pleasure those that chose him."

The first thing Solon did was to declare a set of laws which he called the Seisachtheia, which means the "Easing of Burdens." They tore down the stone mortgage pillars in all cases where the land or the farmers' freedom had been pledged on the loan. Drastic restrictions were placed on further debt, and no more mortgages with men's freedom as security were allowed.

Then, in order further to lighten the burden of debt, Solon devalued the drachma, or regular unit of coinage. The mina (the gold dollar of its day), which had been worth only 73 drachmae, was declared to be worth 100 drachmae. In other words, a given weight of gold was worth more drachmae—which is devaluation.

This did just what 2500 years later the devaluation of the American dollar to 59 cents was to do; made more dollars to a given weight of gold, so that old fixed-sum debts could be more easily paid.

Interest rates were reduced, and limits were made on the amount of land a man could own. Solon "drove the money-changers from the temple," and gave Athens' "forgotten man" a break.

Then he proceeded to democratize the government. He pardoned all the political prisoners of former days. He compelled each father to teach his son a useful trade; he forbade brides to bring any property to their husbands except three changes of clothes and a little light furniture.

He went into agricultural adjustment; regulated the drilling of wells, bee-culture, the cutting and planting of olive trees. He forbade the export of any farm products except olive oil, of which there was a surplus.

HE gave political rights to many classes who had had none. The government of Athens had always been in the hands of an oligarchy, or "best minds." He democratized it, and while he never approached today's idea of everybody being equal in voting power, he did give at least some rights to all classes.

Now all this "Easing of Burdens" was at first very popular with Greece's "forgotten men." But a little later they wanted not only to be forgiven their debts. They wanted not only to be given a chance to earn land. They wanted land handed to them on a silver platter. So in spite of all they had been given, they were dissatisfied.

And the bankers—were they dissatisfied? We'll tell the ancient world they were. Their howls could be heard from Babylon to Brindisi. Their business was ruined. So between the element which had been benefited but which wanted more, and the element which had paid the freight, Solon wasn't nearly as popular as he might have wished.

Nobody knows now just why, but Solon decided to get out of there after only one year as archon. Swearing all the public officials to enforce and stick by his laws, Solon went abroad and stayed for 10 years. Meanwhile, internal trouble and wrangling increased. There were times when the people couldn't even get together well enough to elect an archon (the term anarchia, meaning no archon elected, is where we get our modern word anarchy).

THERE was another bright young man rising in Greece, one Peisistratus, a distant relative of Solon. He became popular with the people of his own section, and got into politics. Once, claiming that his life was in danger, he got permission to have a bodyguard. Then he increased it and used it to seize the Acropolis, but was thrown out. Solon, though personally a friend of Peisistratus, made a public appeal against him.

Later, however, Peisistratus returned and really seized power in the state, becoming a "tyrant," or dictator. The Greek word wasn't quite as bad as we think it today, meaning only one who seized single power to himself, regardless of whether he exercised it in what we today would call a tyrannical manner.

Now the interesting thing is that Peisistratus was smart enough to keep all the laws of Solon in force, and even to extend them. He parceled out free land to many of the men who had been given freedom by Solon, but he made them pay back to the state one-twentieth of their produce. He kept the peace with foreign nations and promoted trade.

Solon, now an old man, became a sort of "brain-truster" to Peisistratus, who enforced Solon's laws and even added new ones along the same lines. One of these was that "the maimed in the wars should be maintained at public charge." So you may see that the veteran problem was just as lively 2500 years ago as it is today.

New Deal? Well, the Greeks not only had a word for it. They had a New Deal of their own—2500 years ago.

2500 years ago the Greeks, after enjoying a fat boom, were plunged into depression, and their head man, Solon, met it with measures that seem amazingly similar to those that were launched in 1933

If you are planning a St. Patrick's Day party, let your Washington Information Bureau suggest entertainment and menus. Send five cents for handling, to The Information Bureau of The Atlanta Constitution, 1322 New York Avenue, Washington, D. C.

Warning to Wives: STOP "HOUSEKEEPING" YOUR HUSBAND

A little lecture from a well known woman writer to her own sex---the subject being how to get along with hubby

By Olive Roberts Barton

"IF he had been your friend instead of mine it would have been different," said Mark.

Bette looked her coldest. "My friend!" she exclaimed. "Old Jake my friend! That old reprobate. A dirty tramp. I wouldn't show him the baby and I won't let him touch her."

Mark was too angry to smoke. He tossed his cigaret in the fire.

"His grog isn't any worse and a darn sight better than the stuff we mix up for our friends right here in this house. And he isn't dirty. He's as clean as a shin-bone, or a stone. He lives out doors and he hasn't a germ on him. How about those 10-year-old dress suits that come here and never see the inside of a cleaner's? You let them go in and wake the baby and carry her all over the house."

"So what?"

Mark looked at her, coldly.

"So I am going out and find the poor old codger and try to fix it up with him. We're old friends. Everybody around here knows that. He was my pal from the time I was creeping. Used to be Dad's gardener."

Mark got his hat and departed. He saw Jake and "fixed up" the snub. Then he stopped at Ed's. He didn't want to go home. Pool would soothe him.

At Ed's were Don Rodgers and Dean Price.

"Ship ahoy," Don greeted him. Then he winked at Dean. "A little cloud no bigger than a man's hand," he drawled. "We got bawled out too."

Mark tossed his hat on a hook and reached for a cue. He didn't answer. "Oh, I know," grinned Don. "Blanche and I don't quarrel either. But here I am and here's Dean. Here we all are. I'll drown mine in beer. Three beers, Ed."

The three young husbands seem to be regaining their egos, so if you'll come along, girls, let's Hawkshaw it over to the talkative Don's and see how Blanche is taking it.

She isn't. She is giving the whole story to her mother over the telephone.

"He is so touchy I can't say a word any more. You haven't any idea how Don's changed," she is saying. "And so unreasonable I don't know where to turn. He knows I want another coach and he insists on a coupe this time. We've always had a coach or something with two seats.

"He says he's tired running a bus line. He says I just fill it up with women to run around to parties. He says he's tired standing up all the way home from town and he is going to take it to work. At least three days a week. He wouldn't have dared to talk to me that way a year ago."

IT is not polite to eavesdrop too long but, since we are in the gum-shoe business we might cross lots to Rose's, Dean's wife, and observe the room with the long French windows.

Rose is listening to a symphony orchestra.

Rose's Peke is snoring on a pillow.

Rose's magazines are on the table. Digests. National weeklies. House, garden and fashion journals. In the fireplace still smolders the red detective magazine that her husband brought home—the reason he is now over at Ed's.

The piano-rack displays a Beethoven sonata. The walls, gray, trickle with a few anemic etchings. White roses in a white vase near a white lamp withdraw life still further from Rose's sensitive nerves.

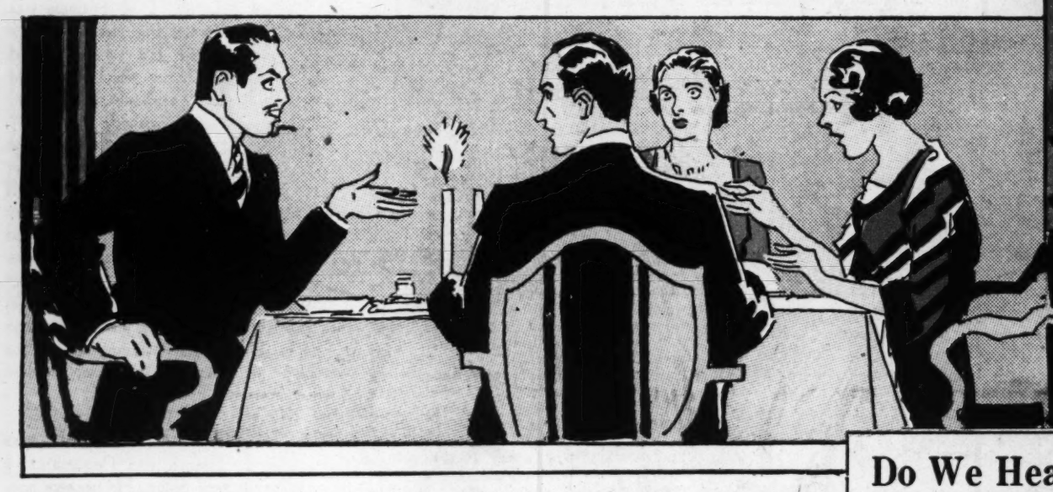

We hear the radio orchestra playing something sadly familiar. Mimi's song of despair from "La Boheme." It comforts Rose, who feels that Mimi is singing to her. "All men are brutes. Women are their playthings," she murmurs.

We cannot see upstairs, but I will tell you what part of the trouble was about with Dean. He ran into a line of wet silks in the bathroom for the forty-first time. That and the gusty, hearty magazine in which the law got after men who killed their wives, were responsible for the rift tonight.

Rose had been afraid the Larimores were coming over and Dr. L. was dean of literature at the University. Had Rose known it he was, at the moment, reading Edgar Wallace's last murder story. Had she known it, indeed, her husband's story-book would have been treated with reverence.

Mark was too angry to smoke. He tossed his cigaret in the fire. . . . "I am going out and find the poor old codger and try to fix it up with him. We're old friends."

We might look over the scenery of our homes and admit that there are dozens of things we insist upon that our husbands dislike most heartily. There are table candles. Many men hate them—but have to put up with them just the same.

WE have our material, so if it is all right with you we can retire with our fudge and knitting and have a quiet little symposium of our own on the wrongs of us girls after we are married.

We have to be very, very honest, however, and watch those scales of justice on the table. They must not go up or down.

The subject of the evening—"Are we housekeeping our husbands?"

The baby episode, the new car, the magazine and sundry all come under that head, you see. Because housekeeping is not altogether a matter of clean sheets and hard sauce, good taste and order, but a state of mind. A state of mind that begins with the feeling of the new bride about her snowy dish-towels and the color of the parlor rug, and gradually enlarges until it comes to include not only the things in her home but the people living there. And her husband, too, very often.

It is natural, of course. She does not start out with the idea that her home is her castle, all hers, not in most cases at least. Quite the contrary. Her first reaction to the new responsibility is, "Will I do it right? What will people think of me? I must be very careful to keep things nice and my husband looking well."

This very feeling of over-responsibility, however, is to be blamed for the fact that in time she is in danger of becoming obsessed with the idea that no one in the house but herself has a vote. Or much to say about their own rights and wishes without her approval. She hasn't exactly wished for this state of affairs. It has in a measure been thrust on her. It is not her fault entirely that she loses perspective and grows blind spots where her husband is concerned.

ANOTHER thing we must give her credit for is that it is not personal selfishness that motivates it. Or not always, at least.

The wife and mother actually does know more about the ways of the world than men. She knows what standards her family is judged by. She tries to save them in spite of themselves. She is constantly training. It is not for herself but for the good of the whole that she sets down law and keeps things nice and orderly and clean.

Do We Hear The Men Applaud?

"They say that men don't understand women. It is truer that women don't understand men. If we understood our men we would know, for instance, that when they have to conform to too many rules at home they conform to pressure outside. They lose the will to fight. Self confidence and pride are necessary dynamos to success."

That this very discipline can become tyrannical and interfere with the right to live and have a say-so, too few of us realize.

This is only one side of the question. We often fight a losing battle. Frequently it is a lone battle without any co-operation from the other half of the family. It would be foolish to say that all men submit to regimentation or even the remotest approach to it.

But here are three illustrations of what can happen when wives gradually assume the role of dictators and will not admit co-operation on any terms but their own.

Men don't understand women. So they say. Funny that no man has thought to reverse that motto. It is truer that women don't understand men.

If we understood our men we would know, for instance, that when men have to conform to too many rules at home they conform to pressure outside. They lose the will to fight. It is a sapping process. Self confidence and pride are necessary dynamos to success.

When men lack certain freedom to exercise hobbies or their peculiar recreations, whatever they are, in time they develop an apathy and feeling of restless frustration. When these restless ones seek sanctuary out of the house and relief in play, be well assured, my sisters, it will be pretty hard play of one kind or another. And something we will probably disapprove much more bitterly than their lapses we fussed about formerly.

MEN, or at least many of them, cannot lose individual identity in home life as women can. Almost always there is a corner of their souls that cannot be gratified by domesticity.

They like to retain some friends that are

(Copyright, 1935,

The guest towel is another item that is often well up on the list of things that make husbands mad.

theirs alone. Perhaps it is the last stand of the male to defy complete surrender, or perhaps it is a real heart hunger for the cronies that understood him and still understand him. Whatever it is we would be wise to recognize certain peregrinations that do not include us—the hunting or fishing trip, or just a night out with the boys is to be expected and not regarded as selfishness or criminal.

Still another fact we might write down with the rest of our notes is the truth that men cannot stand too much criticism. Women as a rule are less easily hurt in their vanity than our consorts. It is a fact that most men are very sensitive although they do not show it.

To be reminded daily that they have no taste, that they slip up on the king's English, that they have low habits, or that they don't know anything, cuts like a knife.

Before we leave this fascinating subject of peculiar males there is one more matter that bears mention. And in a way it is the most important of all.

Gentlemen are annoyed by little things much more than by big ones. Let a man find a certain shirt done up without starch, or his book put away in the wrong shelf, or the faucet in the shower broken and he takes it as a personal offense.

WHAT is it you wish to say, Mrs. Brown? Oh, that husbands don't know how hard housekeeping is, that they are mussy and inconsiderate? That they won't get up at night with the baby and won't help with the children? And if you remind them of their legitimate shortcomings they get peevish?

I see everyone agrees with you at this meeting so let's make it unanimous. I agree. Thoroughly. And it is just about the hardest thing to swallow that we girls have to down. I am not defending men as perfect beings.

What are we going to do about it? Can't we do a job without having sympathy? As it happens our men don't get any too much sympathy in the work they do day by day either. The business world is the coldest thing on earth.

Your hand up, Mrs. Smith. You have the floor. Your John won't let you dust his desk? And he keeps a regular carpenter-shop in the garage? And he has some old canvases in the attic you don't dare move?

Well, he is versatile. But what if he has 10 hobbies? Maybe you have 10 hobbies also. Only yours are not so mussy, let us say, as his. Bridge, movies, luncheons, knitting. Not many women's recreations take up room or get dusty or have to be all over the place. Saddles and fishing tackle and so on are indeed hard to live with. But it can be done.

We women, I think, might look over the scenery of our homes and admit that there are dozens of things we insist upon that our husbands dislike most heartily. There are table candles. Many men hate them. There are guest towels. And nasty little chairs. And creamed things. There's the pink shade over his chiffonier that envelops it in perpetual gloom.

These boys of ours want to have a say-so. They don't want to be "house-kept" all the time. They want some freedom. And above all they want to keep their self respect.

"MAIDEN VOYAGE" --- THRILLING LOVE STORY --- By Kathleen Norris

Tony Taft was an expert in the newspaper world, but she couldn't manage her own love. Watch for this modern love story in the daily Constitution.

Around the World Before and After the Famous Wanderwell Yacht Tragedy

By the Fabulous, Beautiful Young Widow of the Daring Globetrotter, Murdered in the Fog; How She Met and Married This Man, Whose High Adventure Sped Him to Disaster; Their Romances, Thrills, Perils and Hair-Raising Escapes Across All Continents and All Seas

BEFORE DANGER THREATENED—an Unpublished Photo From Aloha Wanderwell's Collection, Showing Her and the Captain With Their Battered Around-the-World Car and Their Pet Monkey. When Detectives Aroused Mrs. Wanderwell and Rushed Her to the Long Beach Police Headquarters, She Saw This Monkey Tied to a Desk and KNEW Something Tragic Had Happened, Although the Detectives Refused to Enlighten Her.

BARBARIC OMEN
A Snapshot of Aloha Wanderwell, Taken Near Peiping, With the Great Savage God of War-and-Death Behind Her. The Picture Was Taken Long Before She Dreamed of the Way Sudden Death Would Wreck Her Own Life.

At Right, a Pensive Portrait Study of the Famous Captain Wanderwell's Widow, Taken Recently in New York City.

THE murder of Walter Wanderwell has remained a mystery since he was found shot to death on his yacht at Long Beach, California. In earlier chapters Captain Wanderwell's beautiful young widow has told of her around-the-world adventures and romance with the intrepid young globe-trotter; in this instalment she recounts the events that preceded the yacht killing.

The last chapter ended as Captain and Mrs. Wanderwell, their African trek ended, faced danger in Cairo. Late one evening they had penetrated the redlight district of the Egyptian city when Mrs. Wanderwell became separated from her husband. A hand reached out from a tiny window and seized her by the shoulder.

By ALOHA WANDERWELL

ALTHOUGH I had been too frightened to scream during that first moment as the scrawny hand reached from a tiny window and yanked me against the wall, I soon found my tongue, My cry brought Captain Wanderwell leaping back to my side; he seized the hand and forced my release just as a face appeared at the window. It was an old woman, chattering volubly.

We couldn't tell whether she was angry or merely excited. We afterwards decided that plain curiosity had made her grab me, just a desire to touch a foreigner. But at the moment the purpose seemed more sinister, especially against that mysterious background of Cairo's redlight district. A crowd had gathered; suddenly Captain Wanderwell threw his arm around me, swung me about and, holding me close to him, began to push his way back in the direction whence we had come.

The Captain had his right hand upon his gun and the crowd gave way. Within five minutes we had left those fascinating, badly lighted, smelly lanes of old Cairo behind. We had moved into the part of the city that was safe, and that adventure was over.

After our African trek we returned to the United States with the most interesting films we had ever taken. We scored considerable success exhibiting our pictures, our expedition became greatly enlarged, and for the first time in our lives we were really making some money. But Captain Wanderwell couldn't be satisfied long in any one place, so the early part of 1932 found us headed south for the Argentine.

Then came the beginning of the story I promised last week to tell you, the dark sequence of events that ended with the Captain Wanderwell yacht tragedy at Long Beach, California. It's a story I've never told before

I want it understood that I am accusing no one of that crime; I am merely setting forth facts and describing the effects of those facts upon myself. . . When Captain Wanderwell and I reached Buenos Aires we were alone; we had no expedition. I had learned to drive an airplane and we were planning for me to make a solo flight to the United States. We advertised for a girl secretary to aid me.

Then something happened. We learned that another woman was planning a similar flight. She was a young Argentine matron, rich and beautiful, and she called her airplane "The Lark." She started upon a preliminary flight around the Argentine provinces, cracked up her ship and was killed. The nation was shocked by the tragedy; her adoring husband covered her casket with white orchids and had five hundred white doves released above her funeral procession. And the Argentine government issued an edict prohibiting international solo flying by women.

This edict spoiled my flight. I had made my preparations, my girl secretary was engaged and I didn't know what to do with her. Captain Wanderwell and I didn't want to let her go when she thought her job was secure so —we organized another expedition. That girl secretary was the nucleus of it; if it hadn't been for her, certain unfortunate things would not have happened. But of course she was in no way to blame.

We planned the expedition in our usual way, advertising for new members, and soon we had eighteen applicants who seemed acceptable to us. Some were Europeans, some natives of the Argentine. We planned to head north and west, traveling up the west coast of South America toward the United States. The new girl members were to travel first-class but the men were to camp in a steel box car which the Argentine government loaned us.

Two days before we were to leave Buenos Aires a man and a girl came to our hotel and inquired for me. They were young, married, good-looking. The girl was British, tall, beautifully proportioned. She had been a model and a champion swimmer in London. The man spoke with a rather odd accent that suggested Australian, but he said he was a naturalized American citizen. These people had no money and no jobs. Our expedition membership was filled. so we turned them down.

But they returned and explained how anxious they were to get away. The husband said that he had seaman's papers and would soon be able to find work on a ship and so reach the United States. If only we would take his wife along their problem would be settled. So we relented, helped to fit the girl out in a Wanderwell uniform. When we left Buenos Aires the girl was with us and her young husband remained behind to catch a ship. He promised to meet her in the United States.

So the new Wanderwell South American expedition headed northward. But when we reached the Bolivian frontier something else happened. The British girl's young husband suddenly appeared —in uniform. He had had the uniform made. We didn't want him, he was one too many, but at that stage we felt that we couldn't turn him back. As we headed toward Peru we weren't sorry that this persistent new member had joined. His name was William James Guy, he spoke Spanish, he was resourceful and fitted into our plans very well. So did his wife. Before long they were both assistant leaders, he with the men she with the girls.

We Wanderwells crossed the Andes in an open flat car and we were almost frozen to death. But we finally landed safely in Peruvian territory. We worked our way to the coast, boarded a ship to Lima, then transferred to a French steamer which was to take us to Panama.

At our first frontier after leaving the Argentine we noticed that Mr. Guy had presented a British passport although he had said he was a naturalized American citizen. When we boarded the French steamer and were bound for Panama, Captain Wanderwell began to assemble all papers for landing at the Canal Zone He called all men to my cabin for a conference. The girls of our expedition occupied the cabins while the men slept on deck under tents. The Captain had paid $800 passage money for our entire outfit.

At the conference Captain Wanderwell asked to see Guy's American passport. Guy took a red booklet from his pocket, just flashed it, then put it away. He explained that he had never been to the United States and that the American passport he now held had been acquired from a boy who had died. Guy said that if he could reach the United States the dead boy's family would accept him as the owner of the passport.

Captain Wanderwell's whole attitude changed. He sternly ordered Guy not to use the passport and not to pass himself off as an American citizen while a member of our expedition. Guy said nothing, but he was angry. Next day he amazed Captain Wanderwell by presenting him with a petition written in Spanish. The petition stated that Guy and certain other members refused to do any more work for the expedition. The majority of the members had signed the petition.

I suppose those members had found our discipline too exacting; some of the girls had protested strongly at Lima when Captain Wanderwell had refused to let them see the city. But a revolution was in progress and he didn't think it safe. Now the Captain explained that he had spent $800 for passage money, that Panama was a military zone and that it would be necessary for members of the expedition to present a united front in landing. As soon as the landing was made, however, he agreed to dissolve the expedition. Guy agreed to that, too.

When we landed in Panama, Captain Wanderwell held all passports, as he was responsible to the authorities for our members. But soon after we landed Guy protested to the immigration authorities, so all passports were returned to their owners and the Captain and I became relieved of all responsibilities. We two headed for the United States by car. We afterward learned that Guy's wife had gone to England, while he had shipped as a sailor upon Vincent Astor's yacht.

We were several months on the way, we traveled by car, boat and train, passing through San Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico, and reaching California in May. We had almost forgotten Guy. As we looked back upon the episode we decided that Guy had got up his petition because he was afraid Captain Wanderwell might turn him over to the authorities because of passport troubles. The Captain had had no such intention.

In Los Angeles we saw the Olympic games; we were living in an apartment on Wilshire Boulevard. The Captain and I had one apartment and an adjoining apartment was occupied by two young men who had been members of our early expeditions. One day as I entered my own apartment I heard a frantic call for help from the adjoining one. It was the Captain's voice. I ran to the next apartment and banged upon the door.

The door was opened by a stranger, a dark-haired, well-dressed man. Furniture was overturned, Captain Wanderwell stood there in the middle of the room with his tie rumpled and his hair disarranged. Presently a man stepped from an adjoining room and I saw that it was Guy. Everyone was talking; someone said that Guy had demanded money that the Captain owed him. I heard the Captain say: "You can't blackmail me; you can't choke money from me that I don't owe. If you wish to go to the newspapers, I am willing."

Finally Guy and his dark-haired friend went away. I knew that Captain Wanderwell hadn't owed him any money and I wanted the Captain to go to the immigration authorities and tell them of Guy's presence in this country. The Captain told me that Guy had demanded the petition written in Spanish that he had presented on shipboard, but that the Captain had refused to give it up.

Now my husband shook his head, refused to go to the authorities. He explained: "Guy's a young fellow, he's hot-headed and later he'll realize his mistake. If he is in the country illegally he will be caught sooner or later."

We discussed the episode for a while, but it soon passed out of our minds. At that time I was editing in a Hollywood film laboratory the motion picture we had made in South America and Captain Wanderwell was searching for a yacht. We had about $12,000, more money than we had ever had before and the Captain was determined to realize a certain dream. He wanted to buy a yacht and take an expedition upon a South Sea cruise. We had chartered yachts before, but this one would be his own boat, his first boat.

He searched and searched and finally we bought the yacht, the famous Carma. After certain things happened people called it a jinx-ship, but it really wasn't. It was just a slim white ship that had been used in the rum-running trade, had been seized by the government, and sold at auction. We paid $2,200 for it and we loved it from the first day. We thought it would give us the happiest days of our lives.

The Carma carried twenty-four people and one car, each cabin was decorated in the style of a different country. We began planning our itinerary and signing up new members. Everything was splendid, our members were a congenial group, the trip carried all sorts of promises for success. The Carma was tied up at a pier in Long Beach, we were all ready to lift anchor, a sailing date had been set. This sailing date was published in the newspapers and I mention it here because I believe that the killer saw it and struck deliberately one foggy night.

But before that I had rented an apartment in Hollywood so I could be near the film laboratory and facilitate my work of editing our picture. My sister Miki, who had been with me upon our African trip, was staying with me; I had caught the flu and I couldn't seem to throw it off. Everything seemed to move slowly during those last days before sailing and I longed to be heading toward the South Seas.

On Sunday Captain Wanderwell came over to see me in Hollywood; we talked of how soon the ship could leave. That night, after he left, I was vaguely uneasy and I cried before I went to sleep. I suppose it was the weakness from influenza, but at four o'clock that morning I was startled into wakefulness by a terrific banging upon the front door.

My sister went to the door and admitted two detectives. They said there was "trouble" at the boat and that I must dress and hurry to the Long Beach police station. They didn't tell me what the trouble was and they evaded answering my direct questions.

I dressed, my fingers trembling, then I stepped into the police car with those two plainclothes men and was whisked across the Los Angeles countryside to the Long Beach police headquarters. As I went up the steps toward the night chief's office, I saw my pet monkey chained to a desk. I knew something was terribly wrong but what could it be? Then I entered the night chief's office and sat facing him.

"Mrs. Wanderwell," he asked, "can you recall anyone who might have a grudge against your husband?"

I leaped to my feet. "What has happened to him?" I cried. "Don't keep me in suspense—tell me!"

NEXT WEEK—Aloha Wanderwell Concludes Her Thrilling Narrative. It Ends With Her Husband's Tragedy and Her Explanation of the Mysterious Happenings on the Yacht, Carma.

A BIG CAVALCADE FOR SOUTH AMERICA
Cars of the Last Big Wanderwell Expedition Drawn Up in the Streets of New York. There Were 23 Cars. This Photo Was Taken Just Before the Mysterious South American Trip Described on This Page.

AFRICAN INTERLUDE
While Aloha Wanderwell Rested Beside a Giant Ant-Hill in the African Jungles, the Captain Took This Candid Camera Shot.

Copyright, 1935.

MYSTERY—ROMANCE—THRILLING ADVENTURE—SUSPENSE—SURPRISE

All these are combined in the compelling new TARZAN picture-serial—"TARZAN AND THE FIRE GODS." A mysterious white tribe, worshippers of dreadful and bloodthirsty gods—a beautiful English girl—an American geologist—a valiant soldier of fortune—and the mighty TARZAN. These are the elements combined in this most exciting of TARZAN stories, appearing daily in THE CONSTITUTION.

Mystery of the Keen-Eyed Woman Artist Who Exposed The Newest and Rawest Art Faker

"He's a Genius!" Shouted the Critics of Dashing Young Stephen Bransgrove—But the Picture Bubble Burst When a Feminine Tattle-TaleTold the Academy, "He's Only a Copy Cat!"

EASY MONEY
This Is a Photograph of the Canvas Which Stephen Bransgrove Named "Easy Heights" and Entered in the 1934 Exhibition of the American National Academy of Design. Compare It With the Canvas at Right, Discovery of Which Caused the Tempest.

"On the Moors," Painted in 1925 by H. Septimus Power of Australia. This Was Clearly the Original in Point of Time, and Officials Refused to Believe Bransgrove, an Australian, Had Reproduced It In America Purely by Coincidence.

BANISHED
This Study of Stephen Bransgrove Was Made In Oils by Artist Henry Rittenberg When Bransgrove Was Being Welcomed as a Genius Into an Academy Membership. Then a Mystery Woman Exposed the Australian Faker and This Portrait Was Sent to the Warehouse.

ORIGINAL?
This Photograph of a Young Schoolgirl Working With Modeling Clay Was Printed in the Rotogravure Section of a Pittsburgh Newspaper. Now Observe the Portrait at Left.

COPY?
"Plastic Youth," Painted by Ralph Bowman, Pittsburgh Radio Mechanic and Amateur Artist. He Denied Copying the Photograph, Said "Coincidence" Accounted for the Similarity.

NOT FOOLED
Louise Pershing, Comely Pittsburgh Artist. Keen-Eyed. She Called Attention to an Artistic "Coincidence."

DOES stage-hand Stephen Bransgrove know the mysterious woman who exposed him as an arch art faker and caused his expulsion from the American National Academy of Design, whose distinguished palette patriarchs he had hoaxed so merrily?

It took a pair of bright feminine eyes to send Bransgrove, hailed as a sensational artistic "find," down the chute into the bottomless pit which righteous academicians reserve for plagiarists. She "reported" Bransgrove, saying she'd seen "his" prize-winning painting before. So the grotesque fake was exposed.

The National Academy has done everything possible to keep the girl-artist's identity a secret. Embarrassed no little in the first place by the realization they had admitted to membership a man who was not even a mediocre artist, heads of the Academy talk no more about it.

The woman—whoever she is—has dropped out of sight completely. Her mission was accomplished when she pointed out to Academy officials that Bransgrove's much-admired canvas "Easy Heights," entered in the Academy's 1934 exhibition, was in reality a copy of "On the Moors," painted by H. Septimus Power and exhibited in the National Art Galley of Sydney, Australia.

If the mystery woman set out to ruin the handsome young fraud she has accomplished her purpose. Investigation in Australia, whence he returned triumphantly after winning the coveted Speyer prize for the best portrait of 1933, resulted in the exposure of still more faking there. Recent advices from Sydney pictured Bransgrove as "in terror of being jailed," and added that "he may be yet."

Now that Bransgrove stands exposed, the wonder in the minds of many artists and laymen alike is that his racket was not detected earlier.

It consisted simply of copying Australian paintings for exhibition and sale in America and of copying American paintings for exhibition and sale in Australia.

He did this apparently on the theory that America and Australia, separated by nearly half the world's circumference, were practically two separate worlds of art.

With a background as an assistant stage manager in several Australian theaters, Bransgrove arrived in New York in 1928 to work backstage of musical comedies for the Shuberts. This was work at which he was proficient, but he brought with him other assets also.

These were a colored smock, a confident smile and a smarter scheme than the art world had encountered. He also had a real familiarity with painting, having studied under Lester Lister and George Lambert in Sydney.

Bransgrove spent two years with the musical comedy companies before launching his campaign for recognition as an artist. He was associated with "The Student Prince" and "The Cat and the Fiddle."

In 1930 he unostentatiously submitted a picture, "Clydesdales," for exhibition at the National Academy of Design. It was accepted for exhibition.

Representatives of the Carnegie Institute saw it and selected it, among others, for exhibition all over America. Bransgrove modestly pointed out he was an Australian and therefore could not qualify his work as representative of American art. The Carnegie Institute, however, overruled the objection and the painting went into the Institute's exhibit. Critics were enthusiastic.

The name of Stephen Bransgrove became one to conjure with in the art world. Veterans of the craft welcomed his society.

Soon, however, he was to realize an even greater triumph.

For the 1933 exhibit of the National Academy, Bransgrove submitted a work which was immediately singled out for distinction. The canvas, "Clydesdales," depicted an Australian pastoral scene.

Central figures were three powerful stallions with flowing manes and fetlocks. Completing the picture were the figures of a workman and a dog sitting at the feet of the heroic-sized horses.

There was no doubt that this canvas was the outstanding work of the year and there was equally no doubt that young Bransgrove painted it. His hesitancy about having his work photographed was set down as creditable modesty and added to his desirability in the eyes of those who worship at the feet of young genius.

With acclaim, Artist Bransgrove was awarded the Ellin P. Speyer prize. This prize amounts to only three hundred dollars in cash, but usually can be talk art pretty well but thought hauteur counted on to bear fruit for its winner in many other ways.

All Bransgrove had to do—he could was more dignified—was to sit still and look wise.

Two of New York's most famous artists, Eugene Higgins and the late John Noble, insisted he permit them to nominate him for an Academy membership. Higgins and Noble easily secured the required seven signatures and Bransgrove's election followed. This gave him the privilege (this one was eagerly accepted) of adding the initials "A. N. A." after his signature.

The money began to roll in. Without seeming to devote an extraordinary amount of time to his work Bransgrove turned out a score of paintings in a few months. He sold them all—to museums of fine arts in New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

Finally Stephen Bransgrove, A. N. A., turned out a canvas entitled "Easy Heights," entered it in the 1934 Spring exhibition of the National Academy, and left for his beloved Australia.

"Easy Heights," like the 1933 prize winning "Clydesdales," early became the most-looked-at painting in the gallery. Treatment of the subjects and setting was similar to that in "Clydesdales." It was obvious the two masterpieces were produced by the same artist.

At this point the mystery woman appeared. She showed the appalled academy officials a painting reproduced in a 1927 issue of "Table Talk," an English magazine. The reproduced painting was "On the Moors," by H. Septimus Power of Australia, and it was similar in virtually every detail to the Bransgrove canvas, "Easy Heights!"

Reluctant to believe evil of the dashing young darling of the American art world, Academy officials investigated. They learned Power had not only painted "On the Moors" in 1925, eight years before the subject supposedly flowed from Bransgrove's brush, but that Power, outstanding artist of the Antipodes, had also painted "Clydesdales," the virile canvas for which Bransgrove had been awarded the Speyer prize. Power's title for the prize-winning "Clydesdales" was "Noon Day Rest."

Stunned, humiliated and furious, President Jonas Lie of the National Academy wrote to J. S. MacDonald, director of the National Art Gallery in Sydney, Australia, requesting an investigation of Bransgrove's ethical standards.

When the investigation "down under" began, it was found Bransgrove had four paintings on exhibit in the current show of the Royal Art Society. This certainly was not damning evidence against a painter still youthfully energetic, but the lid blew off when the Australian investigators began inquiring into the antecedents of Bransgrove's Australian exhibit.

One of them, entitled "Heading South"—on sale at the Sydney Art Gallery for eighty guineas—was discovered to be identical with a painting executed for an American coffee advertisement in May, 1929, by Artist Haddon Sundblom.

Another—"Winter Morning"—was discovered to be identical with a painting by Walter Koeniger, in the possession of the Robert C. Voss Galleries in Boston and reproduced as a cover by the Literary Digest.

Another—"New England Homestead"—was discovered to be identical with another painting reproduced on a Digest cover—the original being "New England Autumn," by Antonio Cirino.

Confronted with these discoveries, Bransgrove informed his interrogators that "there must have been a mix-up" and withdrew his paintings from the Royal Art show. Director MacDonald of the Sydney Art Gallery wrote in part to President Lie of the National Academy in New York:

Dear Mr. Lie:

Your letter concerning Stephen Bransgrove to hand. This man has just been doing here what he already has done in New York.

I do not think he made the copies himself, but hired some one to do them for him. He is now in terror of being jailed and may be yet. I shall see the Consul General for U. S. A. about the whole matter.

However, as it now stands, Bransgrove has shown in New York copies of the work of H. Septimus Power—and in this city has shown copies of work done by American painters. None of the work shown is original.

Yours faithfully,
J. S. MacDonald.

Bransgrove was notified to appear before the National Academy in New York for trial, and when he failed to answer the summons was unanimously expelled. As a final gesture, the portrait painted of him for the Academy by Henry Rittenberg was yanked from the Academy wall and sent away to accumulate dust in a West Side warehouse. Academy officials sat down to draw stricter membership requirements and boldly said:

"This Bransgrove must be horribly remembered as the last of the fakers!"

If art would keep itself free of fakers, past experience teaches it would do well to place a feminine fraud-hawk in the seat of vigilance. Male geniuses generally have short memories. A woman trapped Stephen Bransgrove. Likewise a pretty girl artist raised the hue and cry upon a Pittsburgh artist, after he had beaten a field of recognized Allegheny artists to a first prize award in 1933.

This artist's canvas, a portrait of a lovely girl, was hauntingly similar to Sir James Shannon's canvas depicting an eminent British noblewoman in her extreme youth.

Hair, dress, facial expression and even the position of the hands were virtually identical, but the artist insisted it was "just coincidence." Another similar "coincidence" was discovered in connection with another painting hung in the exhibit. The judges compared this canvas with a photograph which had appeared in the rotogravure section of a Pittsburgh newspaper a few months before the show, and then asked the artist to return his prize money. He asked them please not to be so silly, and there the matter dropped.

Copyright, 1935

"HOW I KEEP MY FIGURE"—BY 24 OF THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Their own secrets for keeping feminine curves within bounds, will be revealed during the coming week by Marion Davies, Norma Shearer, Janet Gaynor, Claire Trevor, Maureen O'Sullivan and Madge Evans. Follow this series of articles appearing daily on the woman's page of THE CONSTITUTION, and heed the suggestions of your screen favorite.

JUSTICE VS. HAUPTMANN

Did Kidnaper Intend to Kill Child? Riddle Remains In Trial Aftermath

By PETER LEVINS.

ONE question will always remain in the minds of those who have followed the Lindbergh case, and that is: Did the kidnaper intend to kill the child?

The state of New Jersey, in its prosecution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, never attempted to prove that the murder was premeditated. It did not have to prove it. All the state held was that the child was killed, and that Charles Lindbergh Jr., probably breathed his last within a hundred yards of the house.

But the prosecution could not prove definitely just how, where, and when the infant died. Because of the nature of the charge, the state was forced to contend that the child was killed when the ladder broke under the weight of the kidnaper and his burden, that the kidnaper dropped the child, and that the impact was fatal. To any one who has seen 20-month-old children fall on their craniums without sustaining any particular damage, it was not altogether credible that this baby sustained a fractured skull falling on soft earth.

Beyond the fact that the ladder broke, supposedly while the kidnaper was carrying the child down from the nursery, the only other piece of evidence in this connection was the thumb-guard, identified as Baby Lindbergh's, which servants found on the grounds several weeks after the crime. This indicated that the kidnaper ripped the infant's sleeping garment off the still-warm body almost within the shadow of the white house on Sourland mountain.

But did he intende from the first to murder the child, or did he plan to hold it and return it in exchange for the $50,000 ransom?

It is possible to speculate on that point indefinitely. We know that the kidnaping was well planned—lots of people say that the criminal was exceedingly lucky to have been able to invade the house, snatch the child from its crib, and get away without being detected—but still it seems to have been well planned. And yet with all the preliminary spying that must have been required, and all the forethought that must have gone into the deed, why was the body tossed into the woods three miles from the house?

That may be a slight exaggeration. The body was found in a "shallow grave," so there may have been a very hasty attempt to bury it. A very hasty attempt, indeed.

What does this indicate? Various explanations have been advanced. One was that the kidnaper suddenly discovered the child was dead, either because of the alleged fall from the ladder, or because (as has happened) the abductor held his hand over the nose and mouth of his captive several minutes too long, and that he became panic-stricken and decided to get rid of the corpse immediately.

Another explanation is that the kidnaper planned to carry the deliberately murdered child to a spot where discovery would be unlikely—a body of water, perhaps—and dispose of it when he saw the light flash on in the nursery a few minutes after the crime.

This latter theory seems logical, for Mount Rose, where the body was found, commanded a view of the Lindbergh home.

But this conclusion does not follow logically from the testimony in the case. Remember it was at 9:15 p. m., that blustery March night in 1932, that the father, reading downstairs below the nursery, heard the cracking sound now believed to have been the breaking of the ladder, and it was at 10 p. m. that the lights flashed on in the nursery, and the crime was discovered.

In other words, 45 minutes had elapsed. Surely the kidnaper could have driven more than three miles in 45 minutes!

Are we to conclude that he deliberately waited on Mount Rose? It is difficult to believe that even the most iron-nerved criminal would remain in the neighborhood to observe through his night glasses just what would happen when the crime was discovered, but on the other hand one may believe anything possible in such a monstrous crime.

If he studied the routine of the Lindbergh houshold—and he most certainly must have — then he must have known that Nurse Betty Gow or the mother always visited the nursery at 10 p. m. before retiring. Indeed, we would expect him to know where everyone in the house would be at all times from before dinner until the last light blinked out.

Did He Know Of 10 P. M. Visit?

Can we conclude that he waited? If we do conclude that, then we might also conclude that the child was still alive at 10 o'clock, and that he killed and concealed young Charles when he realized the danger of keeping him.

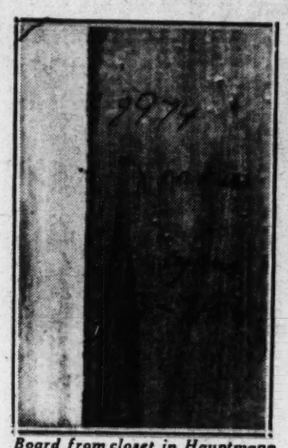

But how could he know that the father had given the alarm? Surely he would have not waited until he saw the police arrive?

There remains the possibility that the kidnaper did not know about the 10 p. m. nightly visit to the nursery. He might have studied the routine of the household from the time the child was put to bed until well after dinner time, when he knew the family and servants to be downstairs. In other words, he may have left the region, on previous nocturnal visits, well before 10 o'clock.

Thus we get back more or less to where we started. Did he intend to kill the child? Where did the child die—at or near the house, or on Mount Rose at 10 o'clock?

***

Returning to the much-discussed luck and foolhardiness of the kidnaper in entering a house in which there were five adults wide awake, as well as a dog who was not so wide awake—

Board from closet in Hauptmann home, on which had been written Dr. Condon's address and telephone number.

To police officers such a criminal feat is nothing much to marvel at. Second-story workers, as they are called, specialize in exactly that type of crime, stealing jewels and such valuables instead of babies. This sort of criminal much prefers to enter a house when everyone is wide awake.

Some of the smartest crooks in the business have been second-story workers. The most notable pair within recent years was Boston Billy Williams and Arthur Barry. Time and again they performed criminal feats similar in routine or pattern to the snatching of the Lindbergh baby from his crib. These thieves invariably studied the movements of each member of the household, and usually made their entrance while the family was at dinner, and while all the servants were also downstairs, either at dinner or performing their evening chores.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in Flemington, N. J., on his 33d birthday.

Another angle that may need straightening out in the minds of newspaper readers concerns Dr. John F. Condon, the intermediary, who paid the $50,000 ransom to the kidnaper, and who was the State's star witness at the trial. Since the ransom hoax was made public, legends have sprung up about Dr. Condon and his temperament, and these have persisted despite his impressive exhibition on the witness stand.

Bronxites—oldsters who knew him as a ball player and the younger gererations who have known him since he was a public school principal stepping along at the head of his students on Borough Day parades—never fail to get a laugh out of stories which attack his honesty or his mentality. They agree that he has always been a great one for display, but more than that—they laugh.

"People who say such things just don't know Jack Condon," is the stock response.

The intermediary was, of course, a most powerful witness for the prosecution. His identification of Hauptmann was positive and unshaken. And it was bound to carry weight, since he had seen and talked with the kidnaper on two occasions, the first time for some forty-five minutes. It is very rare in a kidnaping case that an intermediary has such an opportunity to study the features, voice and gestures of a ransom negotiator.

Undoubtedly this was a mistake on the part of the kidnaper. Very likely, when he first talked with Dr. Condon on the other side of the fence in Woodlawn cemetery, the kidnaper believed that he would be able to finish the conversation in a minute or so. But he did not reckon with Jafsie's ability to handle young men, an ability backed by a half a century of experience.

May Have Expected Ransom That Night.

It is even possible that the kidnaper, in that first meeting, expected the intermediary to be on hand with the ransom—criminals are not very intelligent people as a general rule.

Dr. Condon and the kidnaper had exchanged only a few words, in the darkness of the cemetery, when a cemetery guard hove into view, you will remember, and the kidnaper leaped the fence and dashed into Van Cortlandt Park, with the massive Dr. Condon lumbering after him.

It was then they sat and talked for forty-five minutes. Condon insisting that "John" must prove he represented the right people, and pleading with his German-sounding companion that he be taken to the child.

In the two-and-a-half years between the finding of the body and the arrest of Bruno Hauptmann, Dr. Condon examined many thousands of rogues' gallery pictures, and viewed hundreds of possible suspects in the flesh, yet never once did he make an identification. This fact naturally strengthened his identification of the defendant as the man with whom he talked and to whom he paid the ransom.

Colonel Lindbergh's identification of the voice he heard call, "Hey, Doktor!" at the St. Raymond's cemetery the night of April 2, when the kidnaper received the $50,000, as the voice of Hauptmann, was not near so convincing to newspaper readers. It was a subject of debate all during the trial.

The belief that Hauptmann was a principal in the kidnaping, whether or not he actually took the child from its crib, grew out of the discoveries after his arrest. Once $14,600 in ransom money was announcd as having been found secreted in his garage near his home in the Bronx, that circumstance called for considerable explaining on the part of Mr. Hauptmann. His explanations were never very logical.

Chain of Events Entangled Him.

Indeed, the whole chain of events and discoveries seemed to damn him from the start.

***

We begin with nothing more than an automobile license number on a Lindbergh ransom note and what do we find?

We find that the automobile is similar to one seen near the Lindbergh home before the day of the crime, as well as on the day of the crime.

We find that the owner of the car is a German.

We find that he has a criminal record in Germany—that in Germany he was a burglar and holdup man.

We find that he is a carpenter.

We find that he worked before the ransom money was paid, but not after it was paid.

We find Dr. Condon's address and telephone number on a board in a closet in the suspect's home.

We find that his handwriting bears a striking resemblance to the handwriting of the ransom notes.

And we find thousands of dollars of ransom money secreted in his garage.

Was it any wonder that the general public believed that this man was a principal in the crime? Not in years has there been such an impressive case of circumstantial evidence backed up by at least one (Condon's) very strong identification, built up against a defendant. And with unlimited money to spend, the State was able to hire the best experts in the land to fill in the picture.

Defense Accused Others of Crime.

Against the array of witnesses by the state—such unshakeable witnesses as the Lindberghs, Dr. Condon, Miss Gow, Osborne, the handwriting expert, and Koehler, the wood expert—the defense could make little headway, and had to fall back upon the strategy of casting suspicion on other persons, most of them dead.

But Defense Attorney Reilly knew what he was about. He was following the old, old practice of court lawyers: If you have a strong case make it simple, but if you have a weak case make it complicated. Mr. Reilly did his best to make it complicated, striving always to implant in the minds of the jury that reasonable doubt which has saved many a murder defendent.

Early in the trial he repeatedly attempted to make the late Oliver Whateley, the butler chauffeur of the Lindberghs at the time of the crime, into a suspicious character who might have crept into the nursery and handed the baby out the back door to a confederate. Reilly probed for a link between Whateley and Violet Sharpe, the Morrow maid who killed herself during the investigation.

But that was only the beginning of the defense campaign to divert suspicion from Hauptmann.

Reilly insinuated, in the hope of influencing the jury, that Henry (Red) Johnson, who was Miss Gow's boyfriend at the time of the tragedy, might have had a hand in the conspiracy; that Miss Sharpe certainly had a hand in it; that Dr. Condon had not been the noble, honest friend the Lindberghs had believed him to be; and finally the defense forces continually pounded away at the theory that the late Isidor Fisch kidnaped the child and collected the ransom.

Had to Stick To His Story.

Hauptmann you will remember, declared after he was arrested that Fisch had given him the money, and consequently the defense was compelled to stick more or less closely to this original story.

Hauptmann said that Fisch gave him a package to keep—something in a shoe box—and that he did not know all that money was in the box until water leaked into a broom closet one day—after Fisch had died in Germany. It was in moving the water-soaked box that he made the discovery, he said.

The Fisch story defense presented rather a problem for Mr. Reilly and his associates, for there was no evidense that Isador Fisch had ever possessed a large sum of money, and no evidence that he had ever been in partnership with Hauptmann. The defendant's own story on the witness stand of his financial dealings with Fisch was a most fantastic one, indeed. But he stuck to it, no matter how his testimony might conflict with the known circumstances.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz scored heavily with his rebuttal witnesses, as he was expected to, for everyone following the case knew most of the answers to the arguments advanced by the defense.

Rebuttal testimony indicated that Fisch had arrived in his native Germany with very little money and that he had died penniless. And the defense contention that Violet Sharpe took some actual part in the crime on the night it happened seemed disposed of via the testimony of persons who met her at the gate of the Morrow home in Englewood that evening and who delivered her back there at 11 o'clock.

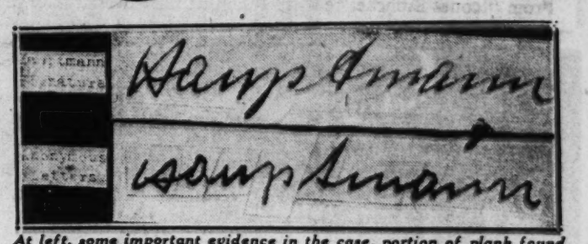

The State rested at a psychological moment, after Mrs. Dwight Morrow, grandmother of the blue-eyed, golden-haired victim, herself testified as to the time when Miss Sharpe left the house and returned.

Mr. Reilly refrained from another of his insinuating cross-examinations, saving his amunition for his final argument to the eight men and four women on the jury.

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

An unexplained mystery of the Lindbergh case—why was the body hastily disposed of at this spot on Mount Rose, three miles from the house?

At left, some important evidence in the case, portion of plank found in Hauptmann's garage, containing holes in which gun and ransom money were hidden. Above, the defendant's signature, and his name assembled from letters found in the ransom notes.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann grins into camera in court near the end of his long trial for the murder of Charles Lindbergh Jr. His explanation for possession of the ransom money gave the defense a difficult task.

Predicting the Future Day by Day

By BERNICE DENTON PIERSON

Bernice Denton Pierson, eminent astrologer, has prepared this forecast in brief for a handy reference convenient to Constitution readers. This guide will give you the answer to any business, social or domestic question that may interest you.

MARCH 3—SUNDAY: The influences previous to 12:31 p. m. (C. T. S.) tend to delays, disappointments and dissatisfaction. Between 12:31 p. m. and 9:22 p. m., the moon makes good aspects favorable for pleasure and health exercises, and matters of a metaphysical or humanitarian nature. After 9:22 p. m. and throughout the evening, the influences will have a disturbing effect upon health and the mind, causing misjudgment and danger of accidents.

MARCH 4 — MONDAY: The combined influences of the day may be considered unfavorable for important undertakings, plans, decisions, changes or risky ventures. The influences are especially unfavorable for matters relating to liquids, chemicals, oils, drugs, beverages, agreements and communications so as to avoid confusion, misunderstanding or deception. It would be better to attend only to ordinary and usual duties today.

MARCH 5—TUESDAY: Previous to 12 noon, may be considered favorable for domestic, personal and business interests; also for matters of pleasure, comfort, health and education. Between noon and 7:22 p. m. will be an auspicious period for matters relating to music, art, beauty, adornment, sociability and domestic affairs. The moon and Uranus are in slightly good aspect until 9 p. m., which is favorable for fraternal, metaphysical and community good. The evening hours are slightly good for practical interests.

MARCH 6—WEDNESDAY: Caution should be observed in matters of health and travel during the period previous to 8:12 a. m. Between 8:12 a. m. and 4:25 p. m. favors, matters of domestic, personal and social interests, as well as artistic, beautifying and pleasurable affairs. This period is good for shopping, sociability and financial interests, but moderation is necessary to avoid extravagance. Conditions change after 4:25 p. m. until 11:27 p. m. making this period inauspicious for important undertakings, decisions, or risky ventures. Be cautious in travel and pay attention to the health.

MARCH 7—THURSDAY: The period previous to 2 p. m. inclines towards rashness, hasty and careless action, so moderation and caefulness should be used in all matters. These same influences continue through 10:03 p. m. with the additional cautions necessary in dealings with electrical affairs, vehicles and risky ventures. However this period may be well used for those who have attained poise along metaphysical activities.

MARCH 8—FRIDAY: The entire day through 5:37 p. m. may be considered friendly for personal, domestic and business activities. Also, this period is favorable for social welfare, mechanical and industrial interests, as well as dealings with those engaged in professional pursuits or holding high office in the business or social world. The evening hours favor social functions and amusements.

MARCH 9—SATURDAY: The combination of vibrations through 4:07 p. m. make the preceeding hours unfavorable for financial affairs, literary matters, correspondence, communications, promises or agreements. Caution should be used in dealing with wholesalers, shippers and large commercial concerns. The vibrations today incline to excessiveness, extremes and miscalculations. After 4:07 p. m. these vibrations gradually diminish in strength.

If you wish an astrological chart covering your sign of the Zodiac, Bernice Denton Pierson will be glad to send it to you. State your birth month and date (year unnecessary). Write your name and address plainly. Accompany this with 10 cents in stamps or currency to cover clerical expense, together with self-addressed stamped envelope. Address: Bernice Denton Pierson, care Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Chart will be sent promptly.

Get prompt relief from pains with quick-acting "Ben-Gay"...it penetrates

Stop that pain! Rub on "Ben-Gay," the original Baume Analgesique. It goes right to the spot of the pain—through skin, flesh, muscle—and stays in the area of the pain and banishes it...And that's done almost in a flash...Be sure you get the original "Ben-Gay" (there are hundreds of imitations). Only "Ben-Gay" has that remarkable hyposensitizing (pain-relieving) action, quick pain-routing ability!

RUB PAIN AWAY WITH BAUME "BEN-GAY"
IT P-E-N-E-T-R-A-T-E-S

He Hates Whiskey Now

Golden Treatment Helped Faithful Wife to Save Husband When All Else Failed

By John's Wife

I'm the happiest little woman
In all this little town;
And my merry laugh and singing
Takes the place of sigh and frown.
For JOHN HAS QUIT HIS DRINKING
And is like himself once more,
And the world is just a paradise
With such happiness in store!

Home Treatment for Drunkards

Odorless and Tasteless When Used as Directed —Any Lady Can Give It Secretly at Home in Tea, Coffee or Food

Costs Nothing to Try

If you have a husband, son, brother, father or friend who is a victim of liquor, send your name and address on the coupon below. You may be thankful as long as you live that you did it. What it has done for others is an example of what it should do for you.

Free Treatment Coupon

Fill in your name and address on blank lines below. Then cut out this coupon and mail it to Dr. J. W. Haines Co., 211 Glenn Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio. You will receive a trial package of the Golden Treatment as described above in a plain, sealed wrapper, absolutely FREE.

Name .....
St. Address
or R. F. D. .....
City ..... State .....

AUNT HET

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

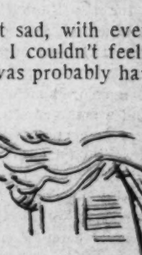

"Tom's funeral was right sad, with ever'body cryin' during' the sermon, but I couldn't feel bad about it. I kept thinkin' that he was probably havin' a good ti-

"He was the kind o' fellow that hated bein' tied down, and this was the first time in twelve years that he'd got to go anyplace without takin' his wife along."

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

FREE
Luck Charm

Sent with every order for our Lucky Dream Book, 40,000 words. Gives "lucky" numbers and days. Describes every method of fortune telling. Secrets, Tricks, Crystal Gazing, Hypnotism, Magic, etc. Sent sealed. Send 25c, coin or stamps to KEYSTONE SERVICE, Box 4026, Phila., Pa., Dept. D-32.

LIQUOR HABIT
HELP HIM QUIT Send for FREE TRIAL of Noxalco, a guaranteed harmless home treatment. Can be given secretly in food or drink to anyone who drinks or craves Whiskey, Beer, Gin, Home Brew, Wine, Moonshine, etc. Your request for Free Trial brings trial supply by return mail and full $2.00 treatment which you may try under a 30 day refund guarantee. Try Noxalco at our risk. Write, ARLEE CO. Dept. 24 BALTIMORE, MD.

"The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures"

From "Icones Biblicae," Swiss Etcher Matthew Merian's Chronological Story of the Bible, Published in 1625, in Germany

No. 164—"The Three Wise Men Follow the Star to Bethlehem."—"Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, Saying, Where is He that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen His star in the east, and are come to worship Him. When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet, And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel. Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found Him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship Him also. When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary His mother, and fell down, and worshipped Him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. And being warned by God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way. And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and His mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy Him. When he arose, he took the young child and His mother by night, and departed into Egypt: And was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son." Matthew ii, 1-15.

No. 165—"Jesus Baptized by John the Baptist."—"Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men." Matthew ii, 16. After the massacre of the innocents, and the death of Herod, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in Egypt and told him to take Mary and the child, Jesus, into Israel. "And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene." Matthew ii, 23. "And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him." Luke ii, 40. When Jesus was twelve years old He went up to Jerusalem with His parents. And when they departed Jesus tarried behind. "And it came to pass, that after three days they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. And all that heard Him were astonished at His understanding and answers. And when they saw Him, they were amazed: and His mother said unto Him, Son, why hast Thou thus dealt with us? behold, Thy father and I have sought Thee sorrowing. And He said unto them, How is it that ye sought Me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? And they understood not the saying which He spake unto them. And He went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but His mother kept all these sayings in her heart. And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man." Luke ii, 46-52. All four Gospels record the ministry of John the Baptist, who preached in the wilderness of Judea, "Saying, Repent ye: for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." Matthew iii, 2. Matthew, Mark and Luke record that baptisms were made by the evangelist, and describe the baptism of Jesus. "Now when all the people were baptized, it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened, And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon Him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son; in Thee I am well pleased." Luke iii, 21-22.

No. 166—"Jesus Tempted by the Devil."—"Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. And when He had fasted forty days and forty nights, He was afterward a hungered. And when the tempter came to Him, he said, If Thou be the son of God, command that these stones be made bread. But He answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. Then the devil taketh Him up into the holy city, and setteth Him on a pinnacle of the temple. And saith unto Him, If Thou be the Son of God, cast Thyself down: for it is written, He shall give His angels charge concerning Thee: and in their hands they shall bear Thee up, lest at any time Thou dash Thy foot against a stone. Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. Again, the devil taketh Him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth Him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; And saith unto Him, All these things will I give Thee, if Thou wilt fall down and worship me. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve. Then the devil leaveth Him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto Him. Matthew iv, 1-11. A similar account is given in Luke iv, 1-13, and a brief mention is found in Mark i, 12-13.

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

Weekly Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS

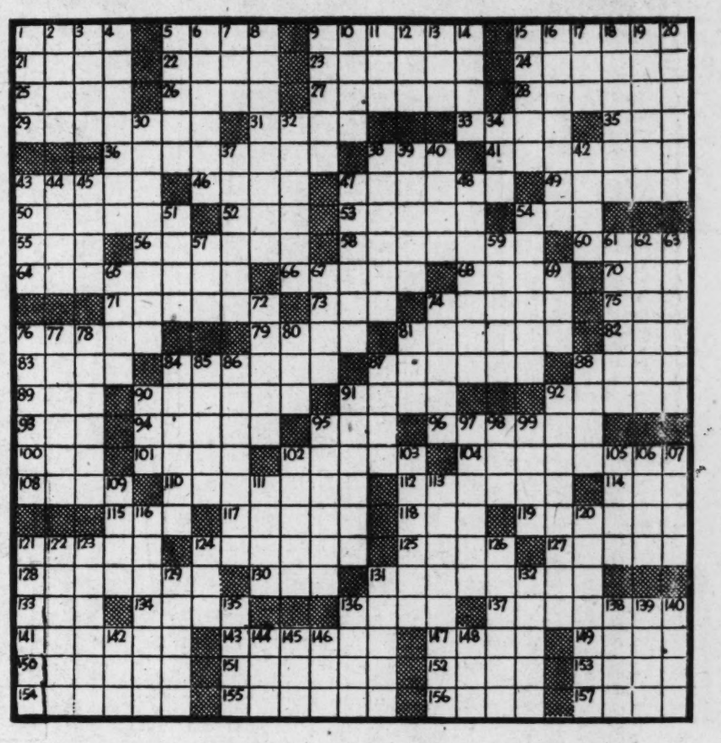

1 Poet.
2 Snare.
9 Shark's adherent.
15 Cord.
21 Intermittent fever.
22 Roster.
23 Punk.
24 Public speaker.
25 Prong.
26 Affirm.
27 Kindling material
28 Envoy.
29 Religious inn.
31 Imitator.
33 Periods of time.
35 Prevaricate.
36 Mezzanine.
38 Strike smartly.
41 Confine.
43 Pay out.
46 Slender.
47 Man of learning.
49 Ties with cords and eyelets.
50 Rented.
52 Greek letter.
53 Striped chalcedony.
54 Lock opener.
55 Go astray.
56 Dared.
58 Sparkle.
60 Petty quarrel.
64 Tending to enlarge.
66 Potential energy.
68 Correct.
70 Fermented beverage.
71 Be contingent.
73 Japanese coin.
74 Resplendence.
75 Household god.
76 Ten-armed cuttlefish.
79 Exclamation.
81 Sewing instrument.
82 Exist.
83 Kick a football.
84 Beast.
87 Washes lightly.
88 Short furry tail.
89 Male sheep.
90 Malicious intention.
91 Gown.
92 Topic.
93 Self.
94 In activity.
95 Stitch.
96 Color the skin indelibly.
100 Time past.
101 Sales place.
102 Stop.
104 Lodgers who take meals.
108 Short javelin.
110 Instructor.
112 Have recourse.
114 Obese.
115 Metallic rock.
117 Figure of speech
118 Simian.
119 Tortoise.
121 Frighten.
124 Was afraid of.
125 Iniquities.
127 Place again.
128 Waist of a woman's dress.
130 Marry.
131 Remains.
133 Exclamation.
134 Surrender.
136 Portion.
137 Injuries.
141 Remission.
143 Glad tidings.
147 Body of water.
149 A small drink.
150 Amounts asked.
151 Lubricating solid.
152 Female sheep.
153 Edge of a roof.
154 Withdraw.
155 Begins.
156 Dispatched.
157 Killed.

DOWN

1 Immersion.
2 Money exchange.
3 Moves swiftly.
4 Lowers in tone.
5 Religious treatise.
6 Wanderers.
7 Dined.
8 One living off another.
9 African badger-like animal.
10 Arabian ruler.
11 Human being.
12 Uneven.
13 Fish eggs.
14 Subtle emanation.
15 Shoe bottoms.
16 Bridge of braced framework.
17 Tatter.
18 Slanting type.
19 Observe.
20 Welcomes.
30 Under obligation.
32 Perfumed ointment.
34 High-banked channel.
37 Number under twelve.
38 Loose overcoat.
39 Benefit.
40 Strikes gently.
42 Threads of light.
43 Snow vehicle.
44 Persian fairy.
45 Rank of nobility.
47 Drooped.
48 Stinging plants.
51 Fall in drops.
54 Knobs.
57 A salutation.
59 Wear away.
61 Sovereign's residence.
62 Contrivance for rousing persons; poet.
63 Cylindrical in transverse section.
65 Mine passage.
67 Old English coin.
69 Organ of sight.
72 Take exception.
74 Civetlike animal.
76 Expanded.
77 Zebralike animal.
78 Untie a ship.
80 Aeriform fluid.
81 Pen point.
84 Handle-shaped.
85 Saltpeter.
86 Copy.
87 Propels with oars.
88 Having shoes.
90 Dutch liquid measure.
91 Raised.
92 Torments.
95 Percolated.
97 Not present.
98 Also.
99 Sour.
102 Odd job.
103 Obliterater.
105 Newts.
106 Noise in lung.
107 Let it stand!
109 Rocky pinnacles.
111 Bird's crop.
113 Letters.
116 Responded.
120 Dwells.
121 Cuts down vertically.
122 Stick together.
123 Pertaining to a certain Asian peninsula.
124 Gave food to.
126 Pertaining to certain lustrous cloth.
129 Domestic fowls.
131 Depressions between hills.
132 Alluvial matter.
135 Ova.
136 Nuisance.
138 Verbal.
139 Part of a church.
140 A small merganser.
142 One-spot.
144 Worthless leaving.
145 Ocean.
146 Equality.
148 Solemn wonder.

Solution of Last Week's Puzzle

:-: Culbertson on Contract :-:

THE OPENING LEAD.

BY ELY CULBERTSON.

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

THE opening lead is one of the most important moves in contract bridge. Upon that play may depend the fate of declarer; upon that card may hang your victory. Speed is just as necessary in the development of winning cards for the defenders as for declarer and the race is usually to the swift. But this does not always hold. To lead out all your high cards may give declarer his contract. Frequently, we must slow down and use a move or tempo not for immediate but for possible future gain.

When there are no trumps, suit establishment means everything. Declarer has not the advantage of a long string of trumps for ruffing. His honors are his stoppers and when these have been forced out, your low cards become trick takers.

Thus the old rule, established when first bridge came into vogue, provided that a card from the longest and strongest suit should be the opening lead. This is still a good rule, in general, but in common with all rules, will produce great loss, if followed blindly. It is futile to establish winners one cannot use.

Today, the longest and strongest suit is not the first consideration. Its time valuation is the important thing. We must know we have time to establish the suit and having established it, be able to use the winning cards.

The opening lead gives us an advantage in timing. We can count the number of tempos necessary to establish a suit and know the number of entries we possess. For every time we must lose a lead and then regain it, we will need one additional entry. Of course, the opening lead is always regarded as an entry because you are already in your hand.

This time valuation is the basis of the much-discussed X-plus-1 rule as outlined in my Red Book on Play, which reads, "The number of entries you will need is the number of estimated losing tricks of the suit (X) plus 1."

For example:

Spades	K Q J 10 9
Hearts	8 4 3
Diamonds	A 6 2
Clubs	10 7

With this holding, you must choose a lead against a contract of three no-trump. It will require one tempo to set up the suit of spades and produce four winners. Your lead is one entry. The diamond ace is another. The obvious lead is the spade king.

Solid or sequential suits rarely call for a difficult decision even if the hand does not conform to the formula. With

Spades	J 10 9 7 5
Hearts	8 4 3
Diamonds	A 6 2
Clubs	10 7

the spade jack must be led, although it may reuire three tempos to establish the suit. Of course, this should not be done blindly. The bidding should be taken into consideration. If partner has indicated a suit lead, that should be our first consideration with such a holding.

Then again, with

Spades	J 10 9 5
Hearts	Q J 10 8
Diamonds	A 6 2
lubs	A 7

the X-plus-1 rule decides for you the choice of lead. Here you have two sequential suits. It will require three tempos to set up the spade suit to produce possibly one winner. With the lead you have only three entries, and not sufficient time to create that possible winner. On the other hand, the heart suit requires but two tempos to set it and as already stated you have three - X (losing tricks) plus 1.

This new rule applies to the defense of all contracts. Recently, a declarer made four hearts when Senior held

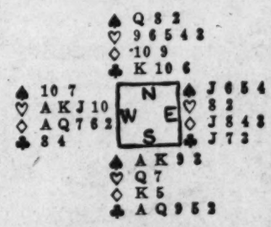

Spades	A 9 4 3
Hearts	6 2
Diamonds	A K 7
Clubs	Q J 10 6

The opening lead was the king of diamonds. Declarer had a losing club, which he later discarded upon the queen of diamonds in dummy. Had Senior applied the rule of X-plus-1, the club queen would have been led and the contract defeated.

APPARENTLY LOST.

South's cause looked pretty hopeless on the hand below. However, he boldly played for his only chance and suddenly found himself fulfilling his contract.

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.
North-South 60 on score.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♣	1♡	Pass	Pass
1♠	3◇	3♠	Pass
Pass	3◇	Pass	Pass
4♣	Dbl.	Pass	Pass
Pass

THE PLAY.

West opened the heart king and continued the suit. He then shifted to a trump, leading the eight-spot. The ten was played from dummy, East played the jack and South won the trick with the queen. At first glance it appeared to South he had two almost certain diamond losers and a possible spade loser. However, if the seven of clubs would drop on the next round of that suit, the dummy would then have a sufficient number of entries to permit a long heart to be set up. South consequently led a low club from his hand, winning with the king, but he found out to his sorrow that the club seven still was outstanding.

South had only one chance left and he boldly played for it. He laid down the ace of spades and then continued with a low spade to dummy's queen, West's ten dropping. The last spade was played from dummy and when East played low, the nine was played from dummy and when East played low, the nine was finessed. South did not know how the spade suit was divided, but he knew that unless it were divided in a certain way, the contract could not be fulfilled. The player with the remaining trump had to have four spades. South's spade nine did hold the trick, the ace was played and a diamond discarded from dummy, West discarding helplessly. South then carefully laid down the king of diamonds from his own hand. He chose the king rather than a low one to make every effort to keep the East player with the remaining trump, out of the lead.

This plan succeeded. West had to win the trick with the diamond ace but could not remove dummy's last trump. He continued with a heart, which South ruffed in his own hand, and then played out his losing diamond and trumped with the club six in dummy. The last two tricks were won with trumps in South's hand, East's seven being picked up without difficulty.

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

Mr. Culbertson will be very glad to answer questions on bridge. Please enclose a stamped (3-cent), self-addressed envelope and address your question to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

ENJOY LIFE

Men-Women-Don't act old. Feel young again, full of pep, energy and youthful ambition — better than 20 years ago! Free your system from poisons that slow you up. "Step out" and "do things." Take genuine Para-Mata. Harmless, no injurious drugs or dope. A natural aid. Excites muscular vigor and activity. "Step" you right up. Used by thousands. Endorsed by Doctors and Scientists. Send $1.00 for 60 day supply of Para-Mata and Vita-Tabs, postpaid, with Brochure of Personal Facts. C.O.D. if wanted. Quick, sure results or money back.

KATONE CO., DEPT. 32, BALTIMORE, MD.

Help Kidneys

Don't Take Drastic Drugs

You have nine million tiny tubes or filters in your Kidneys which may be endangered by using drastic, irritating drugs. Be careful. If poorly functioning Kidneys or Bladder make you suffer from Getting Up Nights, Leg Pains, Nervousness, Stiffness, Burning, Smarting, Acidity, Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, Lumbago or Loss of Vitality, don't waste a minute. Try the Doctor's prescription called Cystex (pronounced Sis-tex). Formula in every package. Starts work in 15 minutes. Soothes and tones raw, irritated tissues. It is helping millions of sufferers and is guaranteed to fix you up to your satisfaction or money back on return of empty package. Cystex is only 75c at all druggists. (adv.)

MAGAZINE SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

MAGAZINE SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1935.

Shorter Skirts and Tailleurs for Evening

PARIS PRESENTS—New Adaptations in Ensembles and Frocks for Early Spring

GAY color combinations and shorter skirts are two of the noteworthy features which mark the new Spring ensembles and which invite the enthusiasm of the smart woman.

Spring is essentially the season for suits and this year the couturieres have outdone themselves in assembling an array which dazzles the eye with warmth of color and smartness of line

Browns and greens have a definite predominance in the Spring parade of fashion which is equalled only by the perennial favorite, black and white.

Skirts are slightly shorter, but by no means do they even approach the awkward shortness of several seasons back. Rather, they are of a length which most women will find infinitely desirable—about fourteen or fifteen inches from the floor, just long enough to be graceful and short enough to provide comfort in walking and for general street wear.

Details which accentuate the chic of the new ensembles and frocks are wide belts, large buttons, wide revers and shorter jackets.

Evening gowns are classic in line and the trend toward the tailleur for formal wear becomes more and more pronounced.

MAGGY ROUFF

THE MILITARY Influence Is Seen in Maggy Rouff's Ensemble of Beige Wool Alpaca Lined and Trimmed With Dark Brown Jersey. The Interesting Cape Is Split at the Sides With a Large Brown Button Appearing at the Front and Back.

CHIC INDEED Is the Alpaca Frock When the Cape Is Removed. The Brown Angular Trimmings on Blouse and Pockets, Together With the Matching Buckles and Suede Belt, Provide an Interesting Color Note

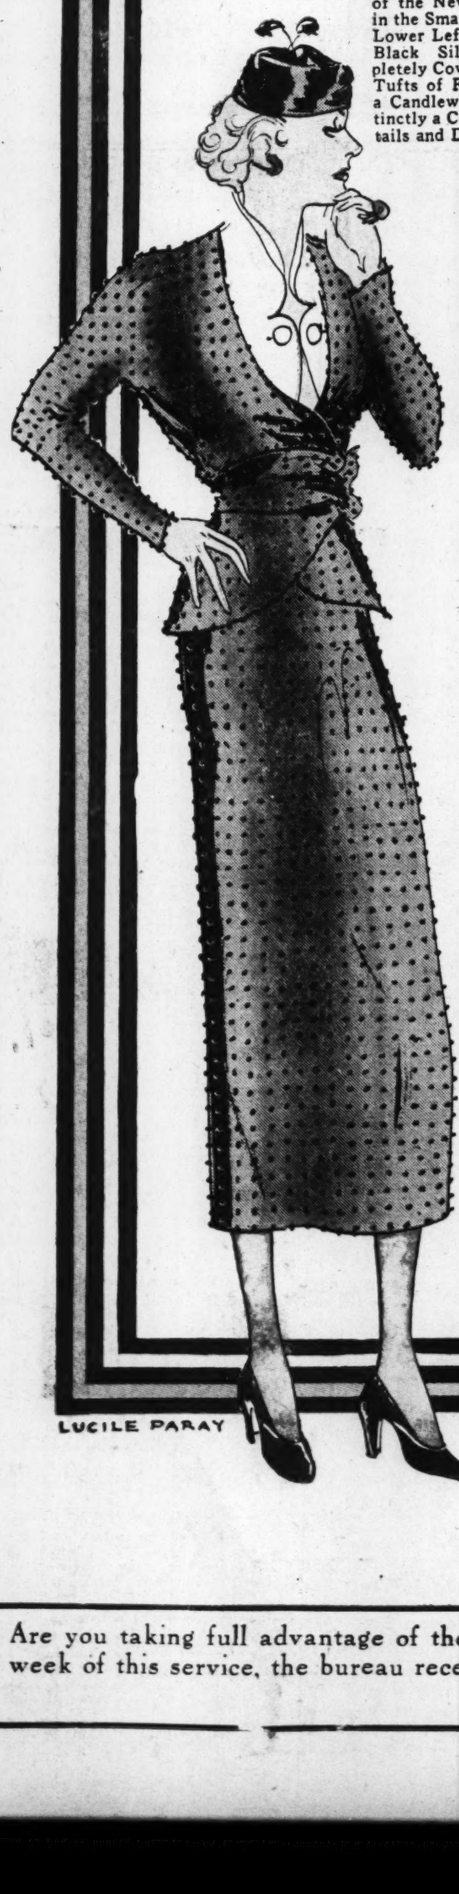

JEAN PATOU

IDEAL FOR SPRING Is the Sports Suit at the Left, of Pea Green and Brown Plaid Wool Jersey. Note the Wide Antelope Belt and Large Buttons Which Match the Smart Brown Flannel Blouse and Monogrammed Ascot Tie.

SATIN AND JERSEY Are Combined In This All-Day Frock. The Frock Itself Is of Black Jersey With the Lower Half of the Sleeves and the Belt of Satin. White Pique Is Used as a Trimming, Both for the Cuffs and the Tiny Bow at the Neckline.

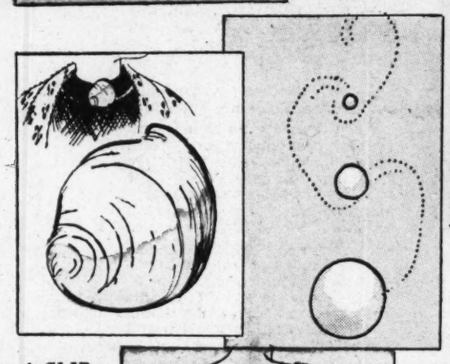

A REAR VIEW of the Gay Little Hat Worn With Patou's Black All-Day Frock. Of Black Felt, It Is Made in Three Flat Discs With the Pert Scarlet Quill Thrust Through a Slit in Felt.

BOUCLETTE Is the Name of the New Material Used in the Smart Tailleur at the Lower Left. It Is Really a Black Silk Faille Completely Covered With Little Tufts of Floss Resembling a Candlewick Spread. Distinctly a Costume for Cocktails and Dinner.

A GLOVE of Gray - Green Antelope for Evening With a Velvet Bow and Soft Shirring. Below: the Newest in Pearl Earrings Ranging From the Tiny Stud to an Inch in Diameter.

A CLIP Formed of a Large Pearl Snail Shell (Above) Provides a Delightful Touch on the Collar of a Simple Black Dress Which Was Worn With a Leopard Cape.

SMART FOR SPRING Is the Black Ribbed Wool Suit Shown Above. The Wide Revers, With Little Gold Rings Run Through Them Are Particularly Interesting. A Deep Yellow Blouse With Matching Felt Hat Makes This an Exciting Ensemble. At Left Rear View of Maggy Rouff's Taffeta Evening Gown.

PATOU Designed the Blouse of Brown Flannel at the Left to Wear With the Brown and Green Plaid Suit Shown at the Top of the Page. Full-Sleeved, It Is Gathered Tightly in at the Wrist.

LUCILE PARAY

DELIGHTFULLY SIMPLE in Line Is the Maggy Rouff Evening Gown Shown Below (at Left) of a Soft Golden-Gray Taffeta, Giving the Effect of Gold and Silver Sheen. Its Sole Trimming Lies in the Rows of Stitching at the Hem and Decolletage in Which Nestle Two Large Yellow Roses. Classic in Line Is the Mainbocher Gown at Right. Of Dull Green Crepe Satin, It Is the Perfect Gown for Informal Dinner Wear or for Entertaining at Home. The Interesting Sleeves, Skirt Slit at the Left Side and Buckle of Seed Pearls Are Noteworthy Features.

MAGGY ROUFF

MAINBOCHER

Copyright, 1935.

Are you taking full advantage of the service offered you by the WASHINGTON INFORMATION BUREAU of THE CONSTITUTION? During the first week of this service, the bureau received requests for 1,390 bulletins, in addition to innumerable questions which CONSTITUTION readers wished answered. Watch for daily offer of free bulletins.

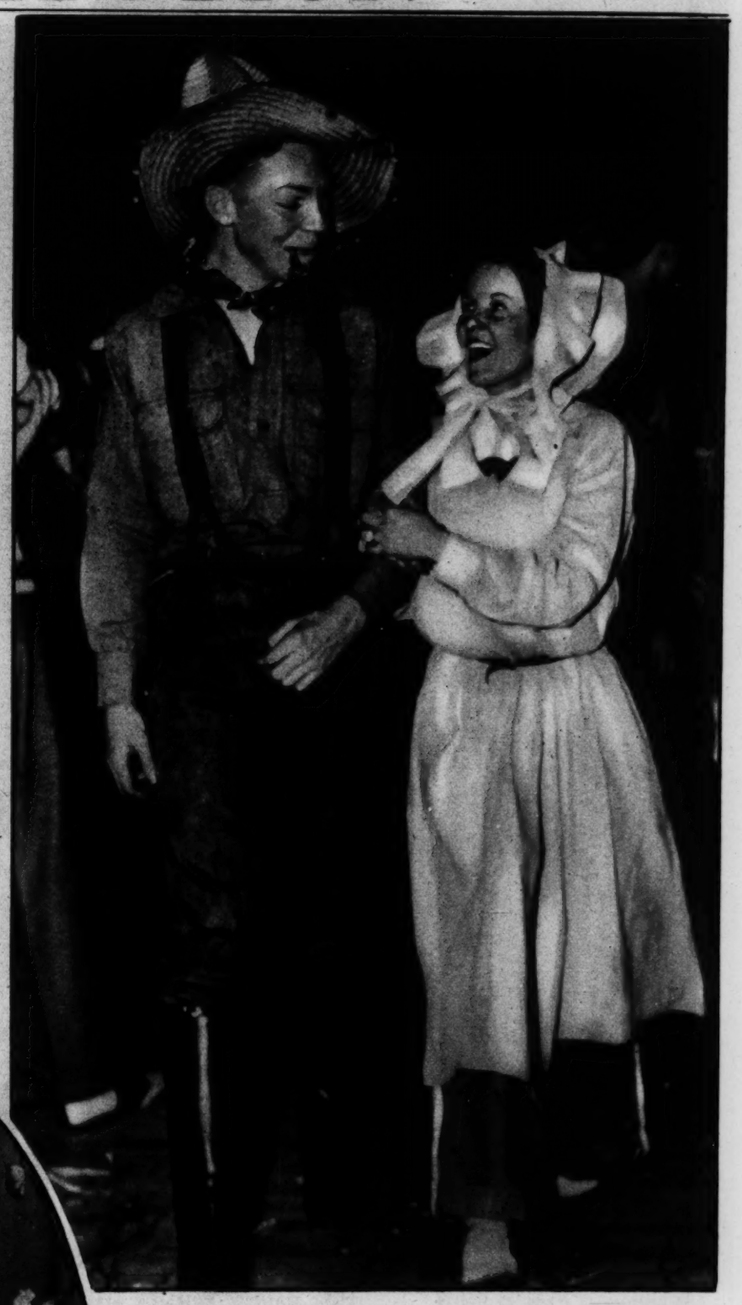

GRAVURE PICTORIAL SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1935.

PEACH TREES BLOOM IN FULTON COUNTY—The unusually warm weather during the month of February brought out the beautiful pink blossoms, which are being gathered here by Mrs. Howard McGill of Atlanta. (George Cornett.)

"BUMPKINS" ON PARADE—Miss Edwana Eby and Anthony O'Donnell caught by the camera while promenading at the recent Phi Pi barn dance held in Atlanta. (Turner Hiers.)

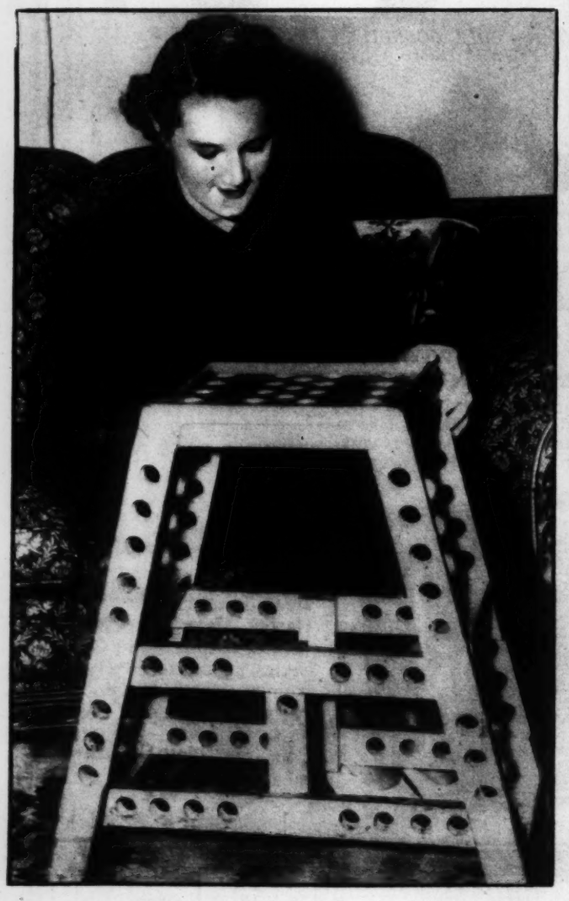

RECEIVING LINE at the sixth annual military ball of the fifth congressional district chapter, Reserve Officers' Association of the United States held in Atlanta recently. Left to right, Captain Harold L. Fuller, A. D. C.; Lieutenant Colonel Alexander G. Conoley, president Atlanta Chapter, R. O. A.; Mrs. Conoley, Governor Eugene Talmadge, Mrs. Talmadge, General George Van Horn Moseley, Miss Betty Hanson, General Lindley Camp and Mrs. Harold L. Fuller. (Turner Hier.)

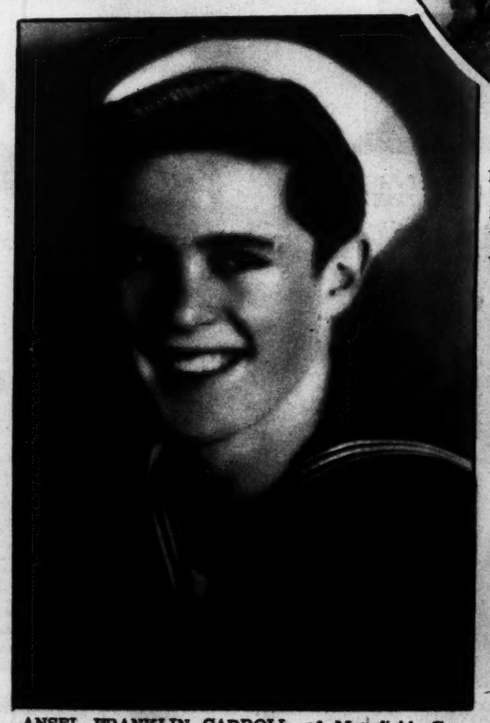

MISS PATRICIA COLLINS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip H. Collins, of Atlanta, who has been appointed special attorney in the anti-trust division of the United States department of justice in Washington. The appointment, made by the attorney-general of the United States, is a high compliment to the legal ability of this young Atlanta attorney. (Kenneth Rogers.)

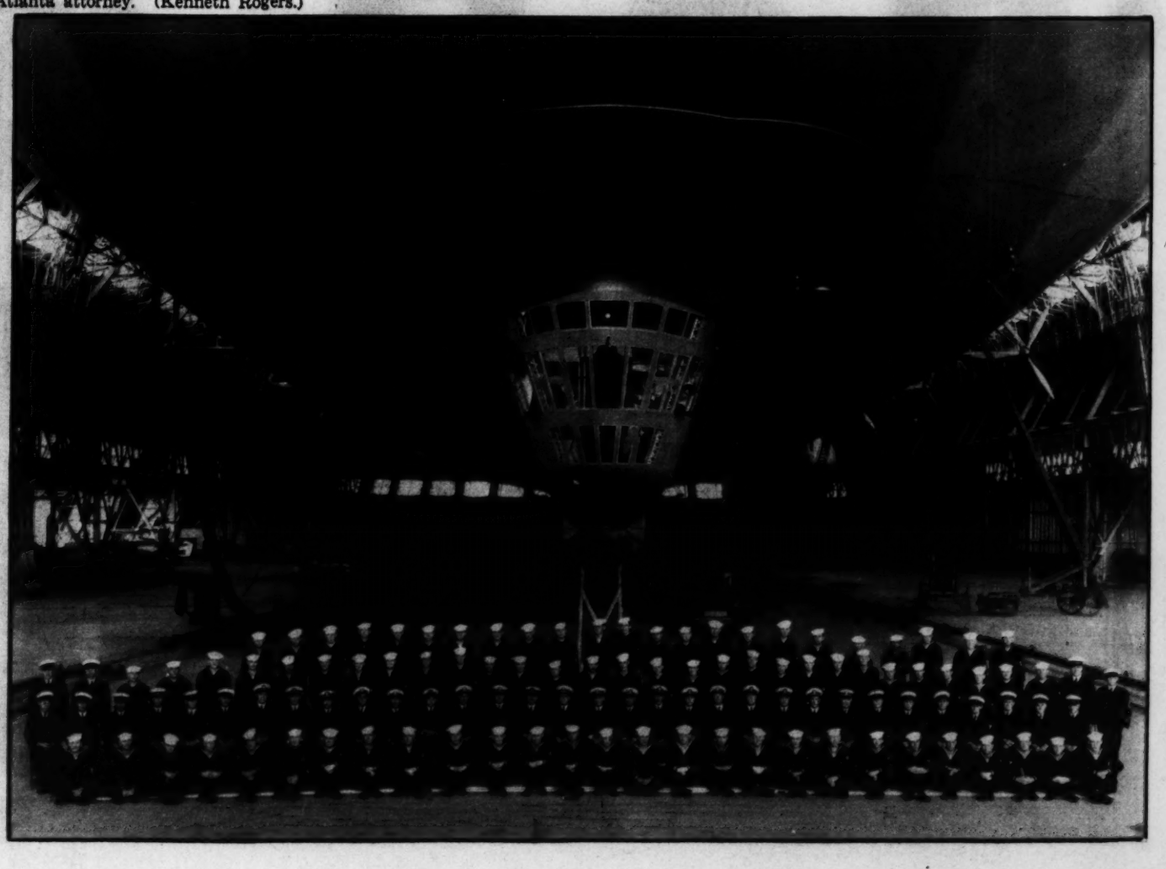

PRIZE WINNERS at the Phi Pi barn dance held recently in Atlanta. Left to right, Marion Moody, Miss Constance Knowles, George Yundt and Miss Ethel Erwin. (Turner Hiers.)

(Left)
ALL THAT'S LEFT OF THE "MACON"—Miss Lucille Clement, of Oakland, Cal., is the proud possessor of a stool, salvaged by a battleship during the rescue of survivors of the ill-fated Macon.

ANSEL FRANKLIN CARROLL, of Mansfield, Ga., and formerly of Atlanta, who was on board the dirigible Macon when the great airship sank in the Pacific ocean. Carroll, with all the crew except two, was saved.

(Right)
CREW of the ill-fated dirigible Macon, taken in the hangar at Moffett field, California, on May 29, last. Fifth from the left in third row is Ansel Franklin Carroll, former Atlanta boy, and whose home is now in Mansfield, Ga., who was on board when the ship sank in the Pacific recently. Eleventh from left in rear row, directly in center is the radioman, Dailey, and fifth from right, rear row, is the Philipino messboy. Dailey and the Philipino were the only two to lose their lives in the disaster.

THE THING FOR SPRING!

THIS SPORT FROCK for town and country is made of Crelda crepe, a high style intricately corded knit of Du Pont rayon, which is in deep peacock, with white pique trim and buttons in the self-fabric.

(Right)
THIS DAINTY SUMMER evening frock worn by Dorothy Libaire, the actress, is created in lipstick red and white mousseline and has a sash of red velvet.

A SCOTCH PLAID is used in this smart top coat—part of an unusual sports ensemble. The dress is of oyster white sheer wool with matching hat; the belt is red and the pumps are white and tan.

(Right)
FOR THE WEEK-END—This swagger coat of beige, brown and yellow plaid, trimmed in natural badger, and one of the newest off-the-face hats in beige felt, was selected by Joan Bennett for her spring wardrobe.

HARPER HAT MANUFACTURING CO.

DESIGNERS, IMPORTERS AND MANUFACTURERS OF LADIES' HATS

WHOLESALE ONLY—WE NEVER SELL AT RETAIL

137-139 PRYOR STREET, S. W. ATLANTA, GEORGIA

THE HARPER LABEL is a standard of excellence in Hats and is the mark of reliability. Back of our Label are years of Reputation that is a history of sustained effort and fidelity to our customers.

OUR BUYING FACILITIES are such that enable us to reach the markets of the World for the newest and best materials. The Trade can buy Harper Hats with the knowledge of always receiving Honest Values in Quick-Selling Millinery.

THE TRADE IS INVITED TO ATTEND THE OPENING OF OUR LARGE NEW DISPLAY ROOMS AND SPRING SHOWING OF THE NEWEST IN MILLINERY—MARCH 4TH TO MARCH 9TH.

MRS. ALVENA HARPER
Stylist

J. E. (GENE) BOOZER
President

FRANK M. BOOZER
Secretary-Treasurer

MRS. ALCINE BROWN
Stylist

LOUIS N. REID
Sales Representative
So. Georgia and Florida

JOS. N. BOOZER
House Salesman

W. G. BIGGERS
Sales Representative
Central and N. Georgia

W. C. BENTON, JR.
Sales Representative
Ala., Tenn., N. C., & S. C.

TED H. SCHMIDT
Sales Representative
Miss., La. and Arkansas

DARRELL ARGO
Superintendent Mfg. Dept.

NO. 257—OFF-FACE, FLOWER TRIM

NO. 239—OFF-FACE, RIBBON TRIM

NO. 245—POLK BONNET, FLOWER TRIM

NO. 201—TURBAN, WHEEL TRIM

HARPER BUILDING, WHERE "THE NEWEST IN HATS" ARE DESIGNED AND MANUFACTURED.

NO. 255—CREASED-CROWN, RIBBON AND ORNAMENT TRIM

NO. 286—PEAK-CROWN, FRUIT TRIM

THE NEWEST IN SPRING HATS

Illustrated are a few of our latest creations. The Harper Line is designed to meet every requirement in Style and Price.

NO. 274—SISOL BANDEAUX, FLOWER TRIM

Service

to the Harper Hat Manufacturing Company is not merely a word, but means a personal, individual service rendered to each customer in giving Quality Millinery, Quick Deliveries and the Best Possible Prices.

PARTIAL VIEW OF BLOCKING DEPARTMENT

ONE OF OUR SEWING AND TRIMMING ROOMS

A SECTION OF DISPLAY ROOM AND IMMEDIATE DELIVERY DEPARTMENT.

Increased Profits

The Trade is assured of increased profits in featuring Harper Hats; they have that Eye-Appeal and Chic Styles attractive to every woman—they Sell Quickly and Bring Repeat Business. Mail, wire or phone your special orders—Immediate Deliveries.

PERSONAL PHOTOS BY LEONARD & CO.

THE CHAMPION—"Nero," prize canary, being held by Miss Evelyn Gunne after he was awarded the championship cup at the international canary singing contest in Chicago.

CROWDS OF WORKERS who couldn't get to their offices, shown outside a building in New York when elevator operators walked out during a "test" before the general elevator strike called there recently.

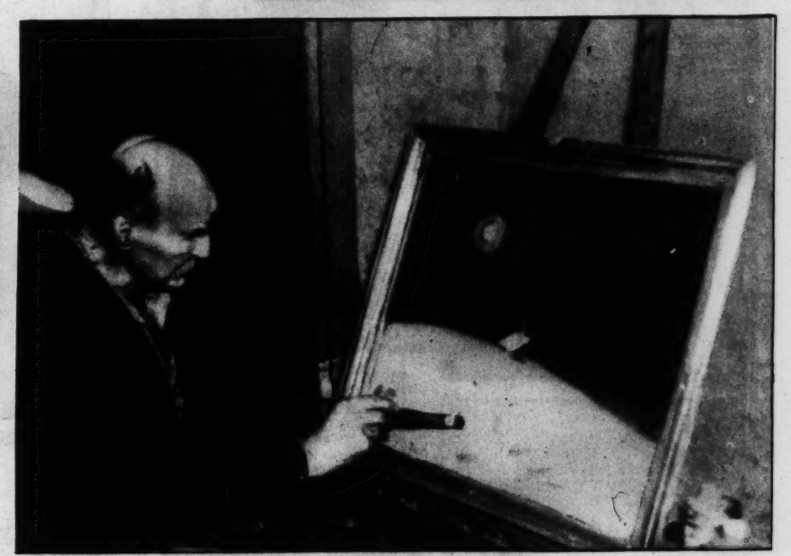

THE SMILE THAT WILL INVITE THE WORLD TO SAN DIEGO—Senorita Florenz Kelton, chosen as the perfect type to represent the California Pacific International Exposition. Her smile will adorn the posters announcing America's 1935 world fair.

MISS MARY MALONE HICKS, who was elected "Miss Dooly" county at a recent beauty contest held in Vienna.

MICHAEL O'BRIEN, 82, an old-time hod carrier, who has "picked up" oil painting by himself, is shown with one of the landscapes which have won him the Denver Artists' Guild award for 1934.

MR. AND MRS. BASCOM BIGGERS, photographed with their guests at the Avondale Community Club, when they entertained with a costume dance, celebrating their 14th wedding anniversary.

BREAKS FIVE RECORDS IN 23 MINUTES! — Paul Grossman, who set a new record for the 1,500-meter mark and broke four others en route during the recent Cleveland meet. He never took part in a competition until two years ago.

TWO CHICAGO POLICEMEN were injured when this squad car in which they were pursuing armed terrorists in a union strike crashed into a house.

THE MOST HUMANE INVENTION of the year is this specially built piano which can be played by invalids. The keyboard may be adjusted to any angle so that the invalid may play without strain.

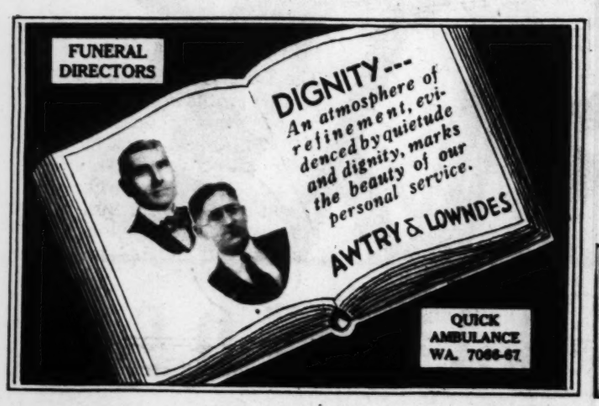

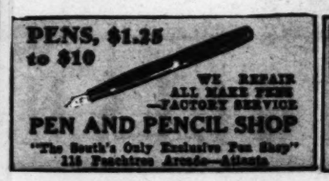

CARL L. FIELDER, candidate for commissioner of Chicago Heights, found himself the subject of a whispering campaign in which he was accused of hiding something behind the whiskers; so he had enough shaved off to show what was underneath.

SOMETHING NEW IN STRAW HATS—Mrs. Hal Roach, of Los Angeles, wearing the latest thing in straw hats.

CADET OFFICERS of the University of Georgia and their dates, when they took part in the grand march at the annual military ball held in Athens

Jasper N. Dorsey, Ben W. Turner, Hal B. Hatcher, Sam Dykes, Hammond Dean, William I. Ray, E. M. Patillo, J. T. Collier, J. C. Tillman, H. C. Seaton, Ludwell Pierce, Byron Mitchell Jr., Jack Proctor, Dan Searcy, L. W. Honeycutt, R. B. Fort, W. A. Abercrombie, Callender Weltner, Margaret Dance, Jane McClelland, Margaret Pidcock, Sarah Erwin, Celeste Moore, Adeline Hall, Marguerite McKay, Frances McDonald, Martha Neal, Meta Shaw, Minnie Dunlap, Celeste Smith, Martha O'Neal, Frances Mobley, Elizabeth Pollard, Jeanette Youmans.

FRAU PAULINE HAUPTMANN in Kamenz, Saxony, reading reports of the trial of her son, Bruno, who was convicted and sentenced to death in the electric chair as the kidnap-killer of the Lindbergh baby. Note the "Victory Cross" being worn by Mrs. Hauptmann—presented to her by the German government because two of her sons were killed in the World War.

BLANCHE SWEET—REMEMBER HER? Star of many a silent film, in her dressing room in a New York theater where she is appearing. "The stage is grand," she said. "I haven't been so happy since I first went into pictures as a great, big, elegant extra.

MISS HENRY KATE FARDNER, of Camilla, president of the student government, who was voted most versatile, and right, Miss Eleanor Bailey, of Douglas, voted most representative, at the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta.

BON ART SPECIAL

One 5x7 Beautifully Finished Studio Portrait

In Beautiful Gold Finish Metal Frame $1.95

(Guaranteed Not To Tarnish) With Velvet Back

Four Proofs to Select From

Satisfaction Guaranteed

NO COPIES ACCEPTED

Bon Art Studios, Inc.

401 Rhodes-Haverty Bldg.
WAlnut 2327
"Where Photography Is a Fine Art"

"THE MORE THEY COME THE WORSE THEY GET."—Here is the latest brainstorm to appear in the Florida beach fashion parade. It consists of an India print skirt, raffia hat and anklets, and woven straw brassiere.

The fairest flowers of England know only 3 beauty charms

Queen Alexandra's Day—celebrated in London by debutantes whose petal-perfect skins outrival her flower, the wild rose

OLD TRADITIONS—young complexions! One of England's gay spring fête days finds them in dazzling contrast from Piccadilly to the Mall. Flower-faces, exquisite as the wild-rose petals. One can scarcely tell the buds from the flowers they present to one—or from their freshly youthful, radiant chaperones! Have they then some alchemy of beauty, these Englishwomen . . . some secret of climate or nurture to keep them always young and fair? Perhaps the answer lies rather in one of their most cherished traditions . . . the use of Yardley's three complexion guardians.

Exquisite cleanliness is their first important secret; Yardley's Soap their first complexion aid. No speck of modern grime or marring impurity is allowed to linger.

But travel, keen sport, late hours take toll of freshness also. And modern skins need softening, whitening, lubricating care. Yardley's snowy English Complexion Cream guards the modern English élégante against tiny lines and aging, insidious dryness always!

It's used again beneath her Yardley Powder—and until you've used that you can't imagine what an aid a powder can be. It's so freshly, delicately blended it spreads an imperceptible, lasting veil of loveliness.

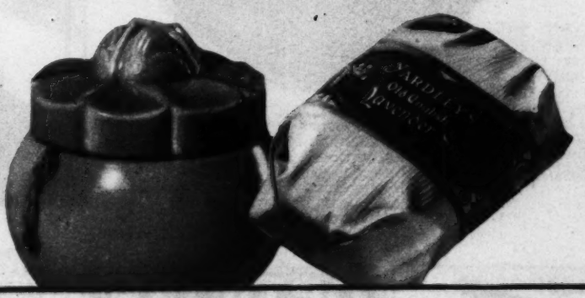

And now Yardley has placed these exquisite products in America at your own shopping center. Find for yourself how radiant Yardley-cared-for skin can be!

Yardley & Co., Ltd., 620 Fifth Avenue (Rockefeller Center), New York City; 33, Old Bond Street, London; and also in Paris, Toronto and Sydney.

Yardley's English Lavender Powder in 7 shades, including English Peach (with a delicate glow) and Gipsy (a radiant sun-tan shade), $1.10 a box. Yardley's English Complexion Cream, $1.10. Yardley's English Lavender Soap, 35c a tablet ($1 for a box of 3). Yardley's Cream Rouge, 85c a jar. Yardley's new Indelible Lipstick, $1.10. Yardley's new Triple Compact, with one lipstick, $3.30 (loose powder style, $3.60); with two lipsticks for day and evening, $3.95 (loose powder style, $4.25). Yardley's English Lavender in smart containers, from $1.10 to $13.20.

BY APPOINTMENT TO HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN OF ENGLAND

YARDLEY'S ENGLISH LAVENDER

ALCO-GRAVURE, INC. New York Chicago Baltimore Kansas City Atlanta

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

1st COMIC SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

1st COMIC SECTION

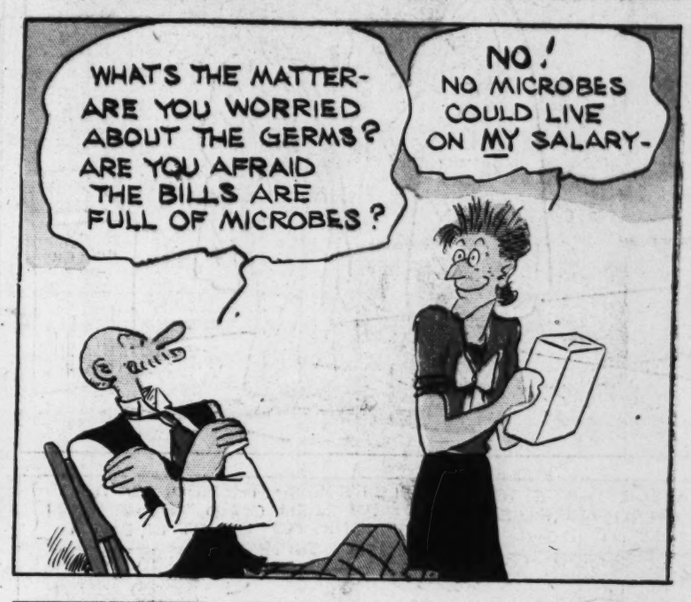

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1935.

THE GUMPS

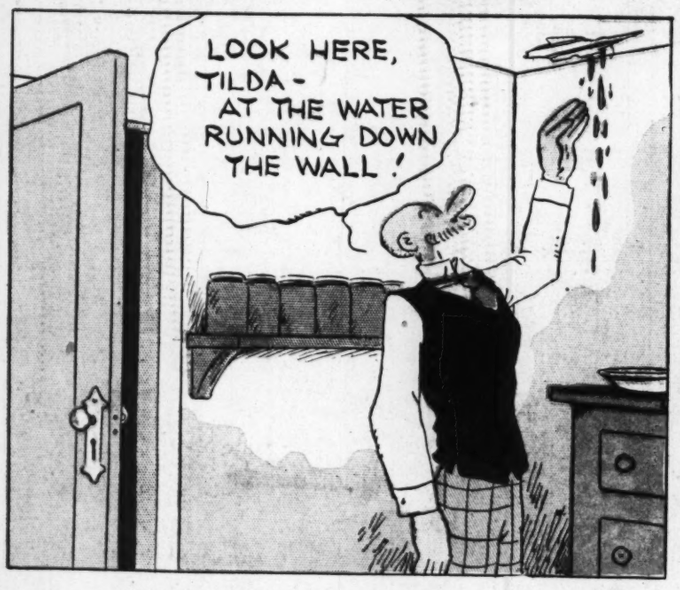

Why Fret Over Today's Dessert?

Just phone LANE for some delicious

Southern Dairies Ice Cream

Everybody Loves the Rich Delicious Flavors. ● Pt. Pkg. 20c Two for 35c

"Always the Best"

LANE

● DRUG STORES ●

IT'S BRAND-NEW!

Evening In Paris Combination

Now includes the face powder — perfume — and the new cream rouge. ALL FOR 1.10

Shop at LANE

Mr. and Mrs.-

THERE GOES THE TRIP WE DIDN'T TAKE, HENRY.

NOW, YOU DO JUST AS I'M TELLING YOU, JOE, AND YOU WON'T HAVE A BIT OF TROUBLE. GET 'EM IN GOOD HUMOR--- THAT'S THE SECRET

I DUNNO, HENRY. I SURE WOULD LIKE TO TAKE THAT LITTLE TRIP WITH YOU, BUT---

PAPER

WELL, I'LL GIVE IT A TRY-OUT OVER SUNDAY AND LET YOU KNOW MONDAY HOW IT WORKED OUT.

THAT'S THE TALK, JOE. CHEERIO!

I WISH YOU'D PUT SOME NEW ELECTRIC LIGHT BULBS AROUND THE HOUSE. SO MANY OF THE OLD ONES ARE BURNT OUT

SURE! GLAD TO. GET RIGHT AT IT

WELL, THAT'S THAT. ANYTHING ELSE YOU WANT DONE?

LET'S SEE. THERE WAS THAT NEW SASH CORD YOU'VE BEEN PROMISING TO PUT IN, BUT I DON'T SUPPOSE---

DO IT AT ONCE. NO TROUBLE AT ALL

HEAVENS, BUT THIS IS TOO MUCH! I FEEL FAINT. WHAT'S COME OVER YOU?

NOW, DO YOU KNOW WHAT? I THINK I'LL GET A HAMMER AND SOME OF THOSE BIG TACKS AND FASTEN DOWN THE EDGES OF THE DINING-ROOM RUG. YOU ALMOST TRIPPED OVER IT THE OTHER MORNING

YES, BUT--- AREN'T YOU TIRED? YOU'VE BEEN JUMPING FROM ONE JOB TO ANOTHER

GUESS THAT'LL STAY DOWN. NOW YOU NEEDN'T BE AFRAID OF BREAKING YOUR NECK.

NO,--- OR A TRAY FULL OF DISHES

WHAT ARE YOU DOING NOW? I NEVER SAW SUCH A DYNAMO OF A MAN. YOU'LL BE A WRECK

NOT A CHANCE. YOU'VE BEEN AT ME FOR SIX MONTHS TO STRAIGHTEN UP THIS CATCH-ALL CLOSET. TIME I GOT AT IT

THERE! ISN'T THAT AN IMPROVEMENT? IT'S TAKEN ME TWO HOURS BUT-- BY GEORGE--IT WAS WORTH IT!

IT LOOKS WONDERFUL. NOW I WON'T BE ASHAMED TO OPEN THAT CLOSET DOOR WHEN ANY COMPANY IS HERE

WELL, I JUST EMPTIED ALL THE WASTE BASKETS. IF THERE'S ANY OTHER LITTLE JOB YOU--

JOE, HERE'S A PHONE CALL FOR YOU. SOME FRIEND OF YOURS

JOE, I'M SORRY, BUT THAT TRIP NEXT WEEK--- YOU KNOW--- IS ALL OFF. MY---ER--WIFE ISN'T FEELING SO VERY WELL AND ---ER---I'M AFRAID IT WOULDN'T BE JUST THE RIGHT THING TO LEAVE HER. YOU UNDERSTAND---

BUT THE THING THAT HAS ME GUESSING IS WHAT IN THE WORLD GOT INTO YOU! YOU DID MORE AROUND THIS HOUSE TODAY THAN ANY DAY SINCE WE'VED LIVED HERE. YOU WERE ACTUALLY LOOKING FOR WORK --AND YOU WERE CHEERFUL ABOUT IT!

HUMPH-H-H-H-H-H!

Are you reading Aloha Wanderwell's amazing story of her life around the globe, now running in The CONSTITUTION'S SUNDAY MAGAZINE? In today's issue, she tells "What Happened in the Cairo Street," and her narrative moves swiftly to South Africa, approaching the last phase of the mysterious yacht murder of her husband.

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

2nd COMIC SECTION

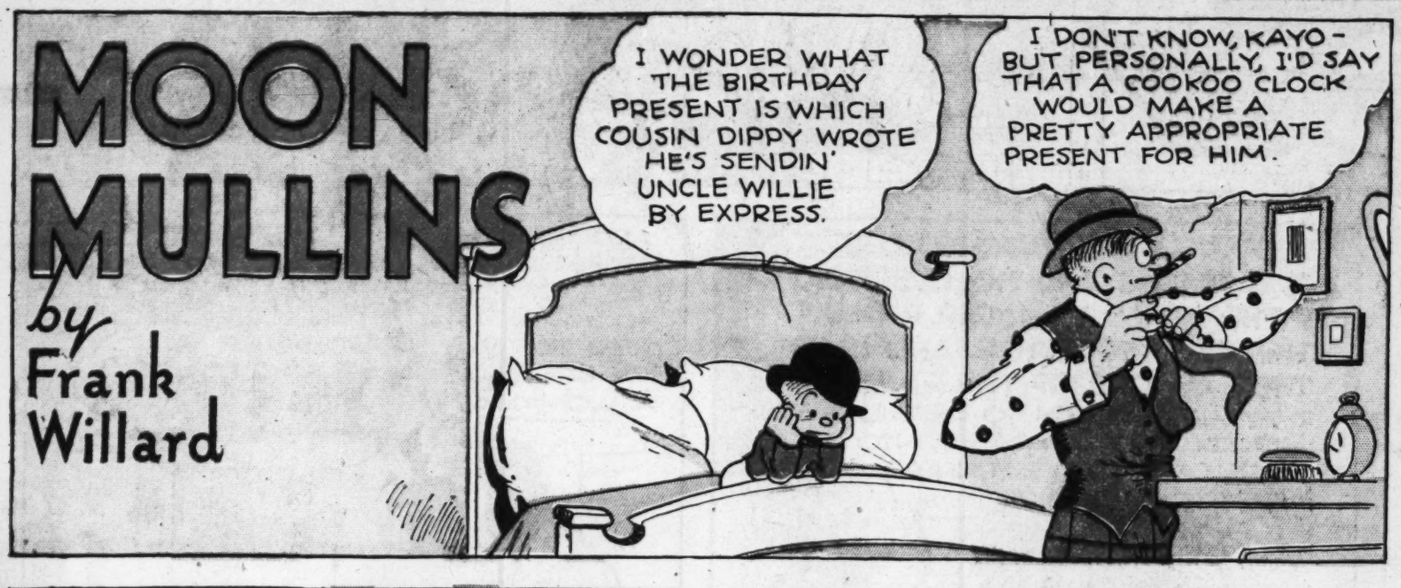

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

2nd COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1935.

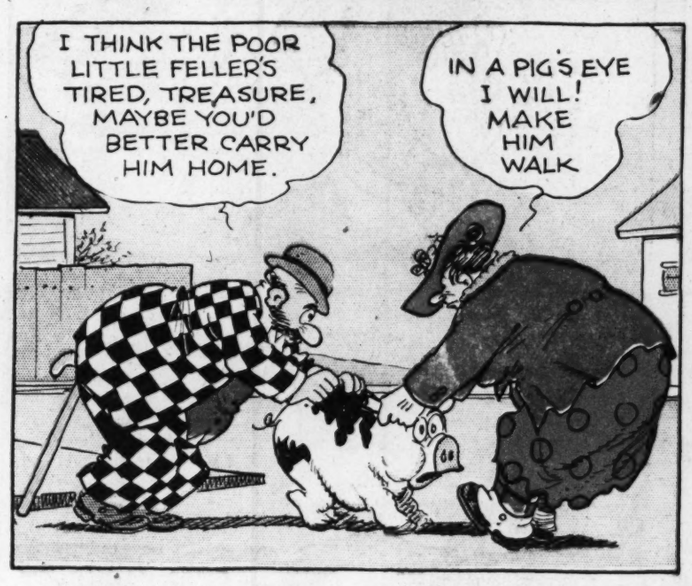

MOON MULLINS

by Frank Willard

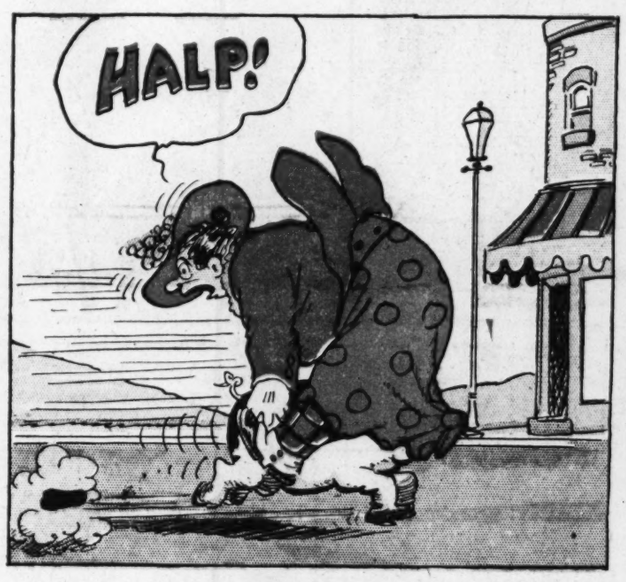

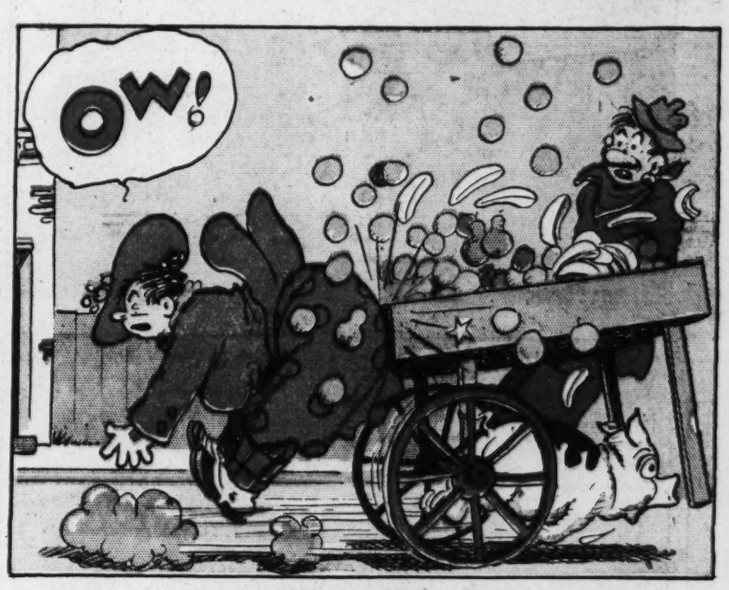

KITTY HIGGINS

"THE DEBUNKER," by John Harvey Furbay, Ph. D., now appearing on the daily feature page of THE CONSTITUTION, says that "rabbits should not be lifted by their ears," "the human heart is in the middle—not on the left side," "whisky is not an antidote for snake-bite." "THE DEBUNKER" will prove you wrong on a number of your beliefs.

DICK TRACY

CHESTER GOULD

RETURNING TO THE HOTEL ROOM TO REJOIN HIS MOTHER WHILE DICK TRACY AND THE POLICE PURSUE THE FLEEING ZORA ARSON, JUNIOR RELATES THE HARROWING EXPERIENCES TO HIS MOTHER..

BUT HOW DID TRACY PREVENT THE ELECTRIC TRUCK THAT WAS SPEEDING TOWARD YOU IN THE UNDERGROUND TUNNEL FROM RUNNING YOU DOWN?

WELL, YOU SEE THE TRUCK WAS COMING TOO FAST FOR US TO OUTRUN IT-AND THE TUNNEL WAS TOO NARROW FOR US TO STEP ASIDE AND LET THE CAR PASS—

SO TRACY SNATCHED OFF HIS OVERCOAT AND THE OVERCOAT OF THE HOTEL MANAGER-FOLDED THEM BOTH TOGETHER-AND LAID THEM ON ONE OF THE RAILS. THAT WAS ENOUGH TO DERAIL THE TRUCK, AND IT BUMPED INTO THE SIDE OF THE TUNNEL.

AND YOU SAW THAT PERSON THAT BROKE INTO OUR ROOM, AND TRIED TO TAKE MY LIFE IS A WOMAN?

ABSOLUTELY! WE SAW HER HAIR WHEN HER HAT FELL OFF. TRACY'S AFTER HER NOW, AND HE SAID FOR US TO STAY HERE TILL HE CALLS FOR US.

MEANWHILE THE CHASE AFTER ZORA ARSON HAS LED FROM THE UNDERGROUND FREIGHT RAILWAY BELOW THE CITY STREETS UP ONTO THE BOULEVARDS AND INTO THE PARK.....

SHE'S GIVEN US THE SLIP, TRACY! WE'RE LICKED!

LOOKS LIKE IT, MEN! WE'VE COMBED THIS PARK FROM END TO END-WE LOST TRACE OF HER RIGHT AT THIS LAGOON.

'COURSE SHE COULD HAVE JUMPED INTO THE WATER AND DROWNED HERSELF. HA! I CAN IMAGINE HER DOING THAT- OH! OH! LOOK AT THE SAIL BOAT!

YEAH! SOME KID'S LOST HIS SAIL-BOAT JUST LIKE WE'VE LOST OUR QUARRY. H'M!

IF TRACY ONLY KNEW WHAT STRANGE PART THAT LITTLE SAILBOAT IS PLAYING!

A FIGURE CARRYING IN HER ARMS A HUGE STONE TO KEEP HER BODY SUBMERGED.. WALKS SLOWLY BENEATH THE WATER- MAKING A DESPERATE STROKE FOR FREEDOM....

FOLLOWING THE SHORE LINE SHE ROUNDS A POINT IN THE LAGOON, REACHES SHALLOW WATER NEAR SOME BUSHES AND EMERGES...

FASTENING THIS HOLLOW WATER REED THAT WAS GROWING AT THE EDGE OF THE LAGOON TO THAT LITTLE SAILBOAT MADE A PERFECT SET-UP FOR BREATHING UNDER WATER!

WAW WAW

THOSE SCREAMS! SOUNDS LIKE A KID!

LET'S TAKE A LOOK.

A WOMAN TOOK MY SAILBOAT AWAY FROM ME, THEN TIPPED THIS BASKET OVER ON ME AND RAN AWAY. I WANT MY SAILBOAT!

HIS SAILBOAT?

THAT NIGHT BORIS ARSON RECEIVES A SPECIAL DELIVERY LETTER...

HM! IT'S FROM SIS..... IT SAYS.."HAVE COURAGE-WE'RE FOR YOU". LET'S SEE, IN OUR SECRET CODE THAT MEANS "GAVE THE COPS THE SLIP-AM O.K."

ZORA ARSON'S CUNNING HAS SAVED HER NECK AGAIN! BUT HOW LONG CAN SHE OUTWIT DICK TRACY??

Copyright, 1935, by

WHAT A NIGHT. THE ICEMAN'S BALL DIDN'T BREAK UP TILL 3 A.M.-THIS 20 POUNDS FEELS LIKE A TON.

MR. HOULIHAN, LOOKS LIKE THAT BALL LAST NIGHT WORE YOU OUT. THIS OUGHT TO SET YOU UP.

MISS O'GALLAGHER- YOU'RE THE COOK WHO KNOWS WHAT IT TAKES

WHAT A CHANGE! WHAT A CHANGE! I JUST WASN'T MYSELF UNTIL I DRANK THAT ICE-COLD COCA-COLA.

BE YOURSELF
BOUNCE BACK TO NORMAL

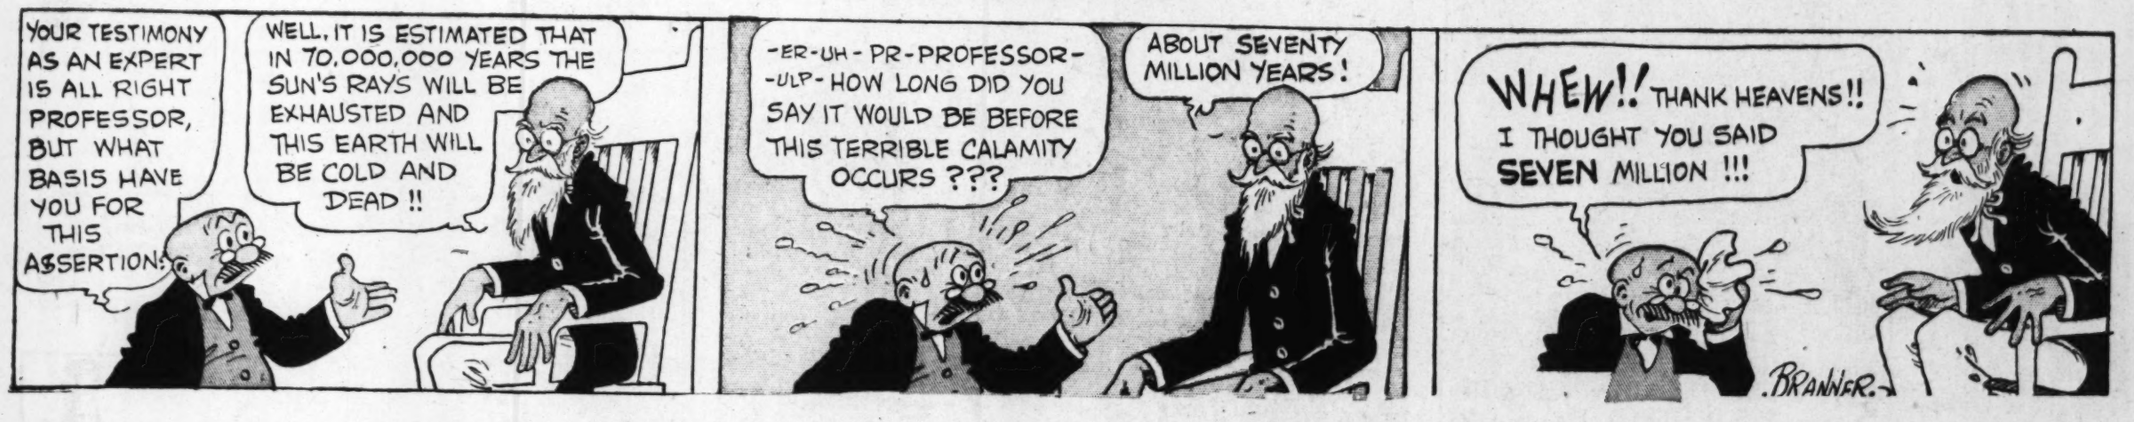

Get this handy family package at your dealer's. Keep the bottles cold; ready to serve in your refrigerator.

COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
ATLANTA, GA. JA. 1507

WINNIE WINKLE
The Breadwinner

LOOIE

On Page 3 of today's CONSTITUTION MAGAZINE a well-known woman writer presents a little lecture to her own sex—the subject being "How To Get Along With Your Hubby."

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

COMIC SECTION THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA. SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1935

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

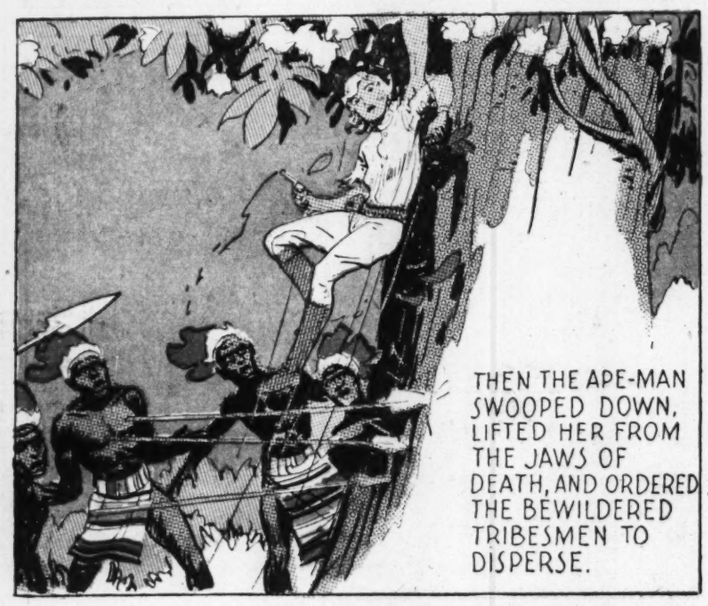

© 1935, Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc.—Tm. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

The cover page of today's CONSTITUTION MAGAZINE carries the beautiful love story of RUTH and BOAZ, in text and striking color illustration.

Little Orphan Annie

THIS SURE IS A SPOOKY LOOKIN' WHISTLE THAT PUNJAB, THE GIANT, GAVE ME-

HE SAID TO BLOW ONE NOTE ON THIS WHISTLE AND HE'D APPEAR, NO MATTER WHERE I MIGHT BE- HUH! HE MAY BE A GIANT, BUT HE CAN'T FOOL ME- HERE WE ARE, WAY OUT IN A FIELD, WHERE WE CAN SEE IN EVERY DIRECTION-

NO HOUSES, NO TREES, NOTHIN' FOR HIM TO HIDE BEHIND- IF HE'S SUCH A SMART GUY, LET HIM SHOW UP NOW, WHEN I TOOT THIS THING- HA! HA! EVEN IF HE WERE HIDING 'WAY OVER THERE IN THOSE BUSHES, HE'D NOT BE ABLE TO HEAR THIS WHISTLE SO FAR AWAY-

E-E-E-E-E

WELL- HERE GOES-

AHEM-

YEOW!

YI!

HA! HA! GEE- YOU S-S-SURE G-G-GAVE ME A S-S-START- I DIDN'T REALLY WANT YOU- I WAS JUST PRETENDING- HA! HA!

ONE NOTE ON THE TINY WHISTLE AND PUNJAB WILL ALWAYS APPEAR, WHEREVER YOU MAY BE-

WHEN THE LITTLE PRINCESS NO LONGER DESIRES PUNJAB'S PRESENCE, SHE SHALL CLAP HER HANDS- SO- AND SAY- "LEAVE ME- I WISH TO BE ALONE"

(I DIDN'T SEE HOW HE SNEAKED UP ON ME, BUT I'LL SURE SEE WHERE HE GOES-) ALL RIGHT, PUNJAB- LEAVE ME- I WISH TO BE ALONE---- HUH! WHAT ARE YOU POINTING AT?

LEAPIN' LIZARDS! GONE- POUFF- JUST LIKE THAT- HE MUST BE A MAGICIAN-

BUT I ALWAYS THOUGHT MAGICIANS DID IT WITH WIRES AND MIRRORS- HOW DID HE DO IT, SANDY? WHERE DID HE GO? WHY DIDN'T YOU WATCH HIM? BR-R-R-- I'VE GOT A CHILL-

HEY! WAIT FOR ME, SANDY--- DON'T LEAVE ME OUT HERE ALONE- I'M SCARED!

OW-W-W!

HAROLD GRAY

Maw Green

AH, THERE'S TH' POST MAN AT ME DOOR NOW- IT MUST BE THAT LETTER I'VE BEEN EXPECTIN' FROM TH' AULD COUNTRY-

AH, IT'S A FOINE FAT ONE- NOW TO GET ME SPECS AND HAVE A CLOSER LOOK-

PHUT! ONLY A AD FOR A FIRE SALE- BAH! TOO BAD TH' STORE AND ALL IN IT WASN'T BURNED UP ENTIRELY-

OH, WELL- THAT'S LIFE, AND BETTER SO, THAN IF ALL OUR IXPECTATIONS CAME TRUE, NO DOUBT- SUPPOSIN' WE GOT IVERY WISH GRANTED---

AND SUPPOSIN' WE KNEW TOO JUST WHIN WE'D GET IT AND THAT THERE'D NIVER BE ANY DELAYS OR SLIPS OF ANY KIND- WHAT FUN WOULD THERE BE IN LIVIN' AT ALL?

HAROLD GRAY

THE ETERNAL QUESTION—How to keep those feminine curves within bounds! Twenty-four glamorous screen stars are revealing the secrets of their beauty to CONSTITUTION readers. Follow the series being published in the daily CONSTITUTION—then heed the suggestions of your favorite. Don't miss a single one of the "HOW I KEEP MY FIGURE" articles.

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

COMIC SECTION · THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION · COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1935.

HERBY

Peggy Lux in Sylmania . . . SHE SAVES FIFI'S MARRIAGE

DIXIE AND FLOSSIE—Flossie Strikes a Snag

